Chairman's Message

The Companies Act, 2013 has enhanced the role of Company Secretaries in the Corporate Sector and catapulted them as ‘Governance Professionals'. Governance has occupied the centre stage in our society and economy. In order to build a niche cadre of professionals who can shoulder the responsibilities assigned to them in an evolving business environment and ensure governance in true letter and spirit, CCGRT is offering this three year Integrated Company Secretary Course.

This Course would be delivered at CCGRT, Belapur, Navi Mumbai through Academia, Industry Experts and Practitioners and would have an appropriate mix of theory and practice, including industry visits, interactions, training and internship. This would not only prepare the students to complete the Company Secretary course, thereby making them eligible to be the members of the Institute of Company Secretaries of India but also build their leadership qualities and develop soft skills enabling them to be the governance leaders of tomorrow.

Director's Message

The only constant thing in today's economic environment is change. One who do not embrace it will perish. Constant innovation, moving towards better governance, focusing on the interests of stakeholders, especially, the three critical Ps’, People; Planet and Profit are of utmost importance. Moreover, various economic crisis that have hit the globe at different times, whether in the form of Asian Financial Crisis, Global Economic Turmoil and Eurozone Crisis etc. have taught us clearly that a robust business model is a necessity and not a choice. In view of this, it becomes necessary to ponder over certain key points: Who will be the framers of the robust business model? What points needed to be borne in mind while formulating a robust business model? Risk factors to be considered; Feasibility of the model and so on and so forth. Now whatever may be the industry, it is the 'Governance Professional', that is Company Secretaries, who are going to play a pivotal role in ensuring smooth functioning of the organization, thereby taking it on a growth trajectory.

Today, a Company Secretary holds an important position in corporate, as his contours of responsibilities have enlarged. Apart from acting as a bridge between the Board and the various stakeholders, he take care of various other essential duties, like, endorsing legal requirements, responding to board correspondences, communicating with various officials etc. Keeping in view the soaring significance of Company Secretary, ICSI-CCGRT has started with Integrated Company Secretary Course to groom the 'Governance Professionals in Making', for tomorrow's business challenges and ever changing economic environment by adopting a holistic learning approach.

I welcome the young, energetic and creative minds to our course and wish that everyone attains excellence in their endeavors.
The Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) is a national professional body established by an Act of Parliament (the Company Secretaries Act, 1980) to develop and regulate the profession of Company Secretaries. It offers Company Secretary Course on completion of which one becomes a member of the Institute. A member of the Institute occupies statutory and regulatory positions in governance, secretarial and compliance functions. The law requires membership of the Institute as eligibility for appointment to key positions. Companies of certain sizes are required to have members of the Institute as Company Secretaries. Most members of the Institute are, therefore, employed as Company Secretaries in companies and also in capacities supporting Company Secretaries in those companies. They are also employed in government, companies and NGOs in positions which are not earmarked for Company Secretaries. Quite a good number of members of the Institute are in public practice as independent professionals. They have recognitions under various laws relating to income tax, securities, foreign exchange, competition, etc. and also to provide representation services before various authorities and tribunals. Some members of the Institute, who have other professional qualifications such as law or accountancy, are engaged in other professions.

Brief about the Profession of Company Secretaries

The Companies Act, 2013 has substantially strengthened the position, role and responsibility of a Company Secretary both in employment and in practice. The duties of a company secretary are now statutorily prescribed under the Companies Act, 2013. He is now bracketed as key managerial personnel (KMP). He not only reports to the Board on compliance with the laws applicable to the company but also ensures compliance with the applicable secretarial standards. He assists and advises the Board in ensuring good corporate governance and in complying with the corporate governance requirements and best practices. He assists the Board in the conduct of the affairs of the company and provides to the directors, such guidance as they may require, with regard to their duties, responsibilities and powers.

The Companies Act, 2013 has assigned substantial second order state functions to Company Secretaries in practice. Listed companies and other companies as may be prescribed by the rules thereunder are required to annex to the Board's Report, a Secretarial Audit Report from a Practicing Company Secretary and any qualification/observation in the said report needs to be explained in the Board's Report. Similarly, listed companies and other companies having paid up share capital and turnover as may be prescribed shall get Annual Returns certified by a Practicing Company Secretary. A Practicing Company Secretary may be appointed as an Internal Auditor or a registered valuer or a company liquidator. A Company Secretary is also authorized to represent before the National Company Law Tribunal, Appellate Tribunal and various Tribunals and quasi-judicial bodies constituted under other legislations. He is also eligible to become a Technical Member of the Tribunals.
I ABIDE BY THE LAW. SO DOES MY COMPANY.

Over one million companies in the country are custodians of huge resources of the society and public. They drive the growth of the economy. It is, therefore, imperative that their operations should be so carried out that they exist forever to contribute in prosperity of the society and the economy even as they balance the interests of various stake holders. This requires care for an adherence to law and justice, ethics, compliance, governance, risk management, conflict resolution etc. A Company Secretary, who is a regulated professional ensures just that.

I am a member of ICSI.
Only I do what I do.
