Webinar on Opportunities for a Company Secretary in Banking Sector

Dear Sir/Madam

Greetings from ICSI

Banking sector plays a vital role in the development of the economy of a country. The ambitious Jan Dhan Yojna launched by the Government of India last year resulted in opening up of bank accounts of 1.5 crore people. The face of Banking has changed over the last two decades. There will be a growing demand for qualified professionals for the banking and finance sector in the coming years on account of expansion of volume of business and growth of the economy fuelled by increasing demand from consumers.

Good governance of the affairs of any organization, particularly in the banking sector is of paramount importance. The role of a Company Secretary, being a Principal Officer of the organization, is crucial, since he acts as a facilitator in the entire corporate management process, to ensure that the corporate entity is run on sound management principles and practices. Company secretaries with the help of their inddepth knowledge in multifarious corporate and related laws, as well as finance and management disciplines and their professional training, are entrusted with several key functions in an organisation.

The Institute is aligning its efforts in organizing a webinar on opportunities for a Company Secretary in the Banking sector which will be addressed by CS Manoj Sharma, Practising Company Secretary, on Tuesday the 2 August, 2016 from 2:00 p.m. to 4:00 p.m.

It would be of interest to you to note that the Institute has launched the e-learning Module on Banking Terminologies. The e-learning Module comprises 17 sessions of 8 hours total duration supported by user friendly, practical oriented rich reading material. The same will be available on e-cart at ICSI Website shortly.

We request all the Members and Students to attend the webinar by visiting the weblink http://webcast.vouchpro.in/icsi020816/
