Introduction

All businesses have a duty to act lawfully, but there are more practical reasons why compliance with competition law is particularly important. On a broader level, the main basic purpose of competition law is to ensure that markets remain competitive. Compliance ensures that this aim is achieved to the benefit of both businesses and consumers. At an individual level, businesses that comply with the law could avoid the various consequences of non-compliance.

The need for Compliance of Competition Law becomes more pressing where the risk of infringement is high. In addition, Compliance with competition law is more than just good corporate governance, as it reduces the risk of the company being subjected to an investigation by the Competition authorities. In the event of violation of Competition Law, business can face significant financial penalties, third party actions and loss of reputation and goodwill. Compliance with competition law ensures that markets remain healthy and competitive.

In an era of global competition, voluntary compliance with competition law is becoming a global standard led by the world's most prominent international corporations. This is due to the growing recognition that breach of competition law brings about managerial burdens rather than market benefits to individual companies. Corporations are thus obliged to firmly build up a business philosophy of abiding by established rules of fair market competition. In recognition of these facts, it becomes essential that all companies strive for voluntary observance of fair market discipline, and in the process help lay a cornerstone for a mature culture of corporate compliance.

In this backdrop, the Institute of Company Secretaries of India, BSE Ltd. and National Institute of Securities Markets (NISM) are organizing a National Conference on "Competition Compliance for listed Companies" on Monday, June 29, 2015 from 09:30 am to 02:00 pm at BSE's International Convention Hall, Phiroze Jeejeebhoy Towers, Dalal Street, Mumbai 400 001.
