From The President

My will shall shape the future. Whether I fail or succeed shall be no man's doing but my own. I am the force; I can clear any obstacle before me or I can be lost in the maze.

*My choice; my responsibility; win or lose,
Only I hold the key to my destiny.*

... Elaine Maxwell

Dear Students,

There is a famous saying which perhaps you might have heard that "Life is not a bed of roses." To what extent it is true depends on one's individual experience. It is not a bed of thorns also. But we have to accept the fact that roses have thorns with them. If we take life as bed of roses, sometimes we may feel the prick of thorns also.

Life is a mixture of happy and sad moments; success and failures. Nobody can be sure of success all through his life. Success and failures are two realities of life. A man is always happy with his success and feels saddened on his failure. Failure can come in any venture. A person who loses heart after failure, is a lost soul but a person who takes failure in its own stride and continues his efforts for success, ultimately succeeds. Even the luckiest of people do not have a perfectly ordained life devoid of personal upheavals.

The foundation of success becomes stronger only when it passes through many failures or obstacles. Sometimes we wish we could just breeze through life without any obstacles. But a life without obstacles is, indeed like going to school without learning anything. Failures no doubt are unpleasant things. But they point the way to success. When we fail once, we have the experience of failure. We learn by experience in second attempt. Our experience makes us wiser and bolder. There are many examples in the history to prove that failures are the pillars of success. Robert Bruce, King of Scotland fought many battles, but was defeated every time. He took his failure as an inspiration and finally succeeded. The road to success of any kind leads inevitably through detours of failure-surviving and learning from failure are keys to reaching your life goals.

I would like to congratulate those of you who have been declared successful in December 2008 examinations. I equally feel concerned for those of you who have not been able to get through the examinations this time. My advise to such students is not to feel discouraged. As stated above, success and failures are just like the two sides of a coin. You must be optimistic in life. What is past is over and done with. There is no way we can step into a time machine to go back in time to correct things. Take the failure as an inspiration, like Robert Bruce, the King of Scotland and reactivate yourself. Accept the challenge with determination and bravery. Think positive. This will help you capture your positive spirit again. Identify the causes of your failure, concentrate on the deficiencies, work hard and prepare earnestly to clear the next examination successfully.

You must feel proud that you have chosen the CS profession which has touched greater heights in the changing global competitive environment. So while pursuing your CS Course, your endeavour should be to aim for excellence. The task is not easy. It requires diligence, in-depth study followed by constant updation of your knowledge. While preparing for the examination, apart from reading Study Material, Bare Acts and References, you should also read Chartered Secretary, Student Company Secretary Bulletin, Economic Dailies and other Professional Journals to supplement your knowledge and keep yourselves abreast of the latest developments. Reference to questions asked in the previous examinations would also be beneficial. Guideline Answers and Suggested Answers published by the Institute will certainly help you to have an idea as to how the answers are to be presented to the questions.

Besides, as you are aware, the Institute has set up oral coaching centers at almost all important cities /towns of our country to provide classroom teaching facilities. I advise you to join oral coaching classes to supplement your home study programme. Further, attending oral coaching classes will provide you an opportunity to interact with the faculties and help you to improve your communication skills through interactive learning. Furthermore, you should also avail of the library facilities provided at the Regional Councils and at the Chapters of the Institute.

From The President

To supplement your study, enroll yourself for e-learning facilities being provided by your Institute, and for details log on to <http://elearning.icsi.edu>. You will definitely feel the change in your level of confidence in study.

SMTP is being organized by the Regional Councils and A Grade Chapters from time to time for the students who have passed their final examination and completed all other training requirements. I advise you to join the SMTP and have the privilege of becoming a Member of the Institute. As informed to you earlier, the Institute is organizing 26th Residential Secretarial Modular Training Programme (RSMTP) commencing from March 21- April 05, 2009 at CCRT Navi Mumbai. I advise you to avail of this unique opportunity. Attending Residential SMTP at CCRT will be an experience by itself for you as it provides all the facilities enabling students to interact with the expert faculty, senior academics and corporate leaders.

That apart, the role of training is crucial in shaping the professional career of the students. Training enhances knowledge and skills of the students so that they can effectively handle various organizational positions in their professional career. Training is necessary not only for doing the present job but also for acquiring the desirable extra skill or knowledge for filing higher jobs. The compulsory Training Orientation Programme (TOP) based on Guru Shishya Parampara has been devised with an objective to aid the students in the methodology of training.

I conclude by stating that success is an art of achieving things against odds. To grapple with odds that come in the way, the first step is to face the challenge. While meeting the challenge, you will definitely be overwhelmed by the challenge in the initial changes and as you gain experience and the confidence over a period, you will know the trick of getting over the problems. That is why we say failures are the stepping stones for success.

With best wishes,

Yours sincerely,

Hyderabad

ACADEMIC GUIDANCE

GENERAL AND COMMERCIAL LAWS

WRIT OF MANDAMUS¹

The literal meaning of the word 'mandamus' is to command. Mandamus is a judicial remedy in the form of a command/ order from the Supreme Court or a High Court to any constitutional, statutory or a non-statutory agency- to do or to forbear from doing some specific act which that agency is obliged to do or refrain from doing under the law and which is in the nature of a public duty or a statutory duty.

English writers trace the development of the writ from the Norman Conquest; however it was only in the early part of the eighteen century that the writ came to be frequently used in the public law to compel the performance of the public duties. In Halsbury's Laws of England, writ of mandamus has been defined as follows: The writ of mandamus is a writ of most extensive remedial nature and is, in form, a command issuing from the High Court of Justice directed to any person, corporation, or inferior tribunal, requiring him or them to do some particular thing therein specified which appertains to his or their office and is in the nature of a public duty. Its purpose is to remedy defects of justice; and accordingly it will issue to the end that justice may be done, in all cases where there is a specific legal right and no specific legal remedy for enforcing that right; and it may issue in cases where, although there is an alternative remedy, yet that mode of redress is less convenient beneficial and effectual.

The following conditions must exist in order to grant the writ of mandamus:

There must be performance of public duties. A public duty is one which is created either by a statute, the Constitution or by some rule of common law. Mention should be made that a duty private in nature and arising out of a contract was not enforceable through this writ. It was in the case of Gujarat State Financial Corporation v. Lotus Hotel, the Supreme Court issued a writ of mandamus for the specific performance of a contract to advance money. However, mandamus does not lie where the duty is ministerial in nature. A ministerial duty is one where the authority has to act on the instructions of his superior. Likewise, mandamus cannot be issued to enforce administrative directions which do not have the force of law. Hence it is discretionary with the authority to accept it or to reject it. But if the administrative instructions are binding, mandamus would lie to enforce it.

The Supreme Court in Shiv Shankar Dal Mills v. State of Haryana, AIR 1969 SC 1306 has held that the expression 'public duty' does not imply that the person or body whose duty it is must be a public official or an official body. Therefore, mandamus would lie against a company constituted under a statute for the purpose of compelling it to fulfill its public responsibilities.

There must be a specific demand and refusal: Before mandamus can be granted, there must be a specific demand for the fulfillment of duty and there must be specific refusal by the authority. Express demand and refusal is not necessary. In fact it can be inferred from the circumstances of the case.

There must be a clear right to enforce the duty: Mandamus can not be issued unless there is in the applicant a right to compel the performance of some duty cast on the authority. The right to enforce a duty must subsist till the date of the petition. If the right has been lawfully terminated before filing the petition mandamus can not be issued.

Before a mandamus is issued to compel the authorities to do something, it must be shown that there is a statute which imposes a legal duty and the aggrieved party has the legal right under the statute to enforce its performance. No mandamus will lie where the duty sought to be enforced is of a discretionary nature nor will it lie to compel performance of an act contrary to law.

1. Prepared by Archana Kaul, Assistant Director, The ICSI.

Grounds:

Mandamus can be issued on all those grounds on which certiorari and prohibition can be issued. Therefore, mandamus can be issued for lack of jurisdiction, excess of jurisdiction, abuse of jurisdiction, for violation of principles of natural justice and an error of law apparent on the face of record. Mandamus may be issued not only to compel the authority to do something but also to restrain it from doing something. Therefore, it is both negative and positive and hence can do the work of all other writs. Recently the Madras High Court has held that a writ of mandamus for listing of shares cannot be issued in a matter like the listing of shares as it involves complicated questions of fact which is the exclusive jurisdiction of the concerned authorities. (viz: SEBI, SAT). The High Court cannot decide such issues as it does not have the expertise. [Eonour Technologies Ltd.v. Madhya Pradesh Stock Exchange (2005)124 Comp cas,122].

Under the Constitution of India, such power of writ jurisdiction is vested with the Supreme Court under Article 32 and with the High Courts under Article 226. The writ of mandamus would not lie against the President of India, Governor of a State, private individual or private body except where the State is in collusion with such private party in the matter of contravention of any provision of the Constitution of a statute. In view of the provisions of the Article 122(2) and 212 (2) of the Constitution, mandamus will not also lie against any officer or member of Parliament or State legislature in whom powers are vested for regulating procedure or the conduct of the business of for maintaining orders.

It is a discretionary remedy and the High Court may refuse to issue writ of mandamus if alternative remedy exists except in case of infringement of a fundamental right.

It is a discretionary remedy and the High Court may refuse to issue writ of mandamus if alternative remedy exists except in case of infringement of a fundamental right. While hearing the petition for mandamus, the court does not sit as a court of appeal. The court will not examine the correctness or otherwise of the decision on merits. It cannot substitute its own wisdom for the discretion vested in the authority unless the exercise of discretion is illegal. This is true for other writs also.

SECURITIES LAWS & COMPLIANCES

I. Amendments to SEBI (Disclosure and Investor Protection) Guidelines, 2000³

SEBI has amended the SEBI (Disclosure and Investor Protection) Guidelines, 2000 on February 24, 2009. The salient features of the amendments are given in brief as under:

- (i) Validity period of observations
 - a) The validity period of the observations issued by SEBI has been enhanced from the existing period of three months to twelve months.
 - b) Before opening of the issue, every issuer shall be required to file an updated offer document with SEBI, highlighting all changes made in the document.
 - c) Where updation include significant changes in the offer document, such an updated Red herring prospectus/prospectus or letter of offer shall be filed with SEBI at least one month before filing the same with Registrar of Companies or with Designated Stock Exchange as the case may be. SEBI would specify the procedure for submitting such updated documents including what will constitute "significant changes", "additional fees" separately.
- (ii) Timelines for bonus issues

At present, in terms of the SEBI (DIP) Guidelines, a listed company is required to complete a bonus issue within a maximum period of six months from the date of approval of the issue by the board of directors of the company. The amendment reduces the timeline for completion of bonus issues. Accordingly, where no shareholders' approval is required as per the Articles of Association of the issuer, the bonus issue shall be completed within fifteen days from the date of the approval by the board of directors of the issuer in this regard. However, where shareholders' approval is required for capitalization of profits or reserves as per the Articles of Association of the issuer, the bonus issue shall be completed within 2 months from the date of the meeting of board of directors where-in bonus was announced subject to shareholders' approval.

(iii) Price Band

At present, the floor price or price band in an initial public offer through the book building process is required to be disclosed in the Red Herring Prospectus registered with the Registrar of Companies, before the issue opening date. The amended DIP Guidelines permit the issuer making an initial public offer to announce the floor price or price band after the date of registration of the Red Herring Prospectus with the Registrar of Companies, atleast two working days before the issue opening date.

Further, where the floor price or price band is announced after the date of registration of the Red Herring Prospectus with the Registrar of Companies, every issuer making a public issue, whether initial public offer or further public offer, shall ensure wide dissemination of the floor price or price band through various means, including newspaper advertisement. While announcing the floor price or price band, the issuer shall also disclose details of the relevant financial ratios used for justification of the floor price or price band. In case of a price band, such financial ratios shall be calculated for both upper and lower end of the price band.

(iv) Preferential Allotment

- a) At present, the SEBI (DIP) Guidelines provide that warrants can be allotted on preferential basis, subject to the allottees paying upfront, an amount equivalent to at least 10% of the price fixed, at the time of allotment of warrants. It has now been decided to enhance the upfront amount payable from 10% to 25%.
 - b) Certain clarifications regarding lock-in requirements of instruments allotted on preferential basis have also been made.
 - c) It has been decided that an issuer, which has been granted relaxation by the Board in terms of regulation 29A of the SEBI (Substantial Acquisitions of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 1997, shall be exempted from certain provisions of Chapter XIII of DIP Guidelines, subject to the condition that in the explanatory statement to the notice for the general meeting of the shareholders, the issuer gives adequate disclosures about the details of the plan including the process proposed to be followed by it for identification of the allottees in addition to the disclosures required in other applicable laws.
- (v) Policy on relaxation from strict enforcement of rule 19(2)(b) of the SCR Rules, 1957

At present, the SEBI (DIP) Guidelines provides for the policy regarding considering the requests for relaxation of the strict enforcement of requirements of rule 19(2)(b) of the SCRR where an unlisted company intends to list its shares issued to the shareholders of a listed company pursuant to a scheme of arrangement approved by a High Court, without making an initial public offer.

The DIP Guidelines have now been amended to provide for the policy for considering relaxation from strict enforcement of requirements of rule 19(2)(b) of SCRR in case of proposal for listing of following securities by a listed issuer :-

- (i) Equity shares with differential rights as to dividend, voting or otherwise, offered through rights or bonus issue.
- (ii) Warrants issued along with Non Convertible Debentures through Qualified Institutions Placement.

II. Mandatory disclosures of details of shares pledged by the promoters

To enhance the disclosure requirements, SEBI has made it mandatory on the part of promoters (including promoter group) to disclose the details of pledge of shares held by them in listed entities promoted by them. Such disclosures shall be made as and when the shares are pledged i.e. event based disclosure as well as by way of periodic disclosures.

Details of pledge of shares and release/ sale of "pledged shares" shall be made to the company and the company shall in turn inform the same to the public through the Stock Exchanges.

IV. Review of External Commercial Borrowings (ECB) policy

ECB policy has been reviewed to keep it in tune with the evolving macroeconomic situation, changing market conditions, sectoral requirements, the external sector and lessons of experience. Various aspects of ECB policy such as USD 500 million limit per company per year under the Automatic Route, eligible borrower, recognised lender, end-use, average maturity period, prepayment, refinancing of existing ECB and reporting arrangements remain unchanged. The following aspects of the policy have been modified:

(i) All-in-cost ceilings on ECB

Till date all-in-cost ceilings for ECBs, in respect of both automatic as well as approval routes, for average maturity period of 3-5 years and more than 5 years are 6 month Libor+300 bps and 6 month Libor+500 bps respectively. The requirement of all-in-cost ceilings on ECB has been dispensed with until June 30, 2009. Eligible borrowers proposing to avail of ECB beyond the permissible all-in-cost ceilings may approach the Reserve Bank of India under the approval route.

(ii) Development of integrated township

In May 2007, RBI had withdrawn the exemption accorded to the 'development of integrated township' as a permissible end-use of ECB. It has now been decided to permit corporates engaged in the development of integrated township to avail of ECB under the Approval Route.

(iii) NBFCs exclusively engaged in financing of the infrastructure sector

At present NBFCs are permitted to avail of ECB for a minimum maturity period of five years to finance import of infrastructure equipments for leasing to infrastructure projects in India. It has now been decided to allow NBFCs, which are exclusively involved in financing of the infrastructure sector, to avail of ECBs from multilateral/regional financial institutions and government owned development financial institutions under the approval route. While considering the applications, RBI will take into account the aggregate commitment of these lenders directly to infrastructure projects in India. The direct lending portfolio of the above lenders vis-a-vis their total ECB lending to NBFCs, at any point of time should not be less than 3:1.

(iv) Services sector

At present entities in the services sector namely Hotels, Hospitals and Software sector are allowed to avail of ECB up to USD 100 million per financial year for import of capital goods under the approval route. It has now been decided to permit the corporates in the Hotels, Hospitals and Software sectors to avail ECB up to USD 100 million per year for both foreign currency and / or Rupee capital expenditure for permissible end use, other than for land acquisition, under the Automatic Route.

(v) Limit for FIIs' investment in corporate debt

FIIs have been permitted to invest up to USD 15 billion in corporate debt as against the current limit of USD 6 billion.

CORPORATE RESTRUCTURING AND INSOLVENCY

FINAL COURSE/PROFESSIONAL PROGRAMME

Corporate Restructuring Strategies - Hiving off⁴

One of the purposes of corporate restructuring is to have an optimum business portfolio, by deciding whether to retain, divest or diversify the business. Business portfolio restructuring can be done in a variety of ways like amalgamation, merger, demerger, slump sale, takeover, disinvestment, joint venture, foreign franchises, strategic alliances, hiving off, etc.

The ultimate choice of strategy by the organization would depend upon its growth objectives, attitude towards risk, the present nature of business and technology in use, resources at its command, its own internal strengths and weaknesses, Government policy, etc.

Presently, many organizations are resorting to hiving off. Hiving off has the inherent merit of lightening up the company, meaning thereby reducing the complexities of the company. Many companies resort to this type of strategy so that they can concentrate on their core business.

Meaning - hiving off

According to World Web Online, the term 'hiving off' means to remove from a group and separate. For example - a unit is hived off from its parent company, meaning thereby, the unit is separated from its parent company.

Advantages of hiving off

Some of the advantages of hiving off are as below:

- Faster growth - The division of the unit from its company would help the group to grow faster as it can concentrate on its core business and consequently more value addition can be given to the hived off unit.
- Better utilization of resources - After the hiving off, the line of authority becomes clear as the decision making is more focused. This enables better utilization of material and human resources.
- Upgradation of skills and technology - Hiving off also helps to upgrade the management skills and technology of the parent company as well as the hived off company.
- Beneficial for the whole company - the hiving off sometimes prove beneficial to both the parent and the separated company as they can concentrate on their respective businesses.

We can take the example of pharma industry. As the industry is becoming more and more competitive, Indian pharmaceutical companies are aggressively planning strategies to de-risk their business and are resorting to hiving off their R & D units. This is meant to reduce risk in the core generics business and to focus on improved and innovative investment in R & D, serving the dual purpose of achieving faster growth in the new chemical entity (NCE) business and value addition in the core generics business.

Legal Aspects of hiving off:

- Memorandum of Association of the transferor company should have a provision to sell or dispose off the whole or part of the undertaking.
- The object clause of Transferee Company should provide for the object of carrying out the business which it is acquiring through hiving off.

Some recent examples of hiving off

Recently, Mahindra & Mahindra (M&M) has hived off two of its defence businesses in a move expected to attract more foreign investments. The company has transferred Land Systems business and Naval Systems business of Mahindra Defence Systems Division to separate corporate bodies or companies.

Moser Baer, India's largest maker of optical disks has spun off its entertainment business into a new company valued at Rs 250 crore.

Apollo Hospitals has also decided to hive off its pharma retailing into a separate company.

Difference between Demerger and hiving off

There is a general mis-conception that demerger and hiving off have the same meaning. However, there are some minor differences between the two terms which are discussed as below:

1. In Hiving-off, the payment is made by way of a lump sum consideration in case of transfer of an undertaking.

In demerger, the resulting Company (the company which is acquiring the demerged company) issues, in consideration of the demerger, its shares to the shareholder of the demerged Company on a proportionate basis.

2. In Hiving - off, values are not assigned to individual assets and liabilities of the company.

In case of demerger, the assets and liabilities of the demerged Company are transferred at the value appearing at the books of accounts immediately before the demerger to the resulting Company.

3. In Hiving- off, unabsorbed depreciation/loss can be carried forward only by a transferor Company (demerged company).

In the case of demerger, the resulting Company (acquirer company) avails the benefit of such depreciation/loss.

4. In a hiving off, to determine the actual cost of assets transferred, the lump sum consideration received is apportioned in fair and reasonable manner among the assets.

In the case of demerger, the assets are valued at the book value as appearing in the books of transferor.

K.R.SUBRAMANIAN v. OFFICIAL LIQUIDATOR, HIGH COURT OF KERALA [(2009) 147 Comp Cas 213(Ker)], J.B.Koshy & K.P.Balachandran JJ. [Decided on 15.10.2008]

Companies Act, 1956 - Section 454 - Statement of affairs - Failure to file - Liability of managing director - Liability of erstwhile director - managing director showed reasonable cause - OL did not obtain the orders from the Court to direct the erstwhile directors to file statement of affairs - Company court convicted the MD and erstwhile directors - Whether correct - Held, No.

Brief Facts: Upon failure of the company to file the statement of affairs within the stipulated time, complaints were filed against the erstwhile managing director and some erstwhile directors of the company in liquidation. The official liquidator contended that even though some of the accused were not directors at the time of winding up, they could be issued notice and that the board resolution showed that after they resigned from the company they had not handed over the documents, and therefore notice issued to them was in order. The notices issued to the directors were held valid and the erstwhile managing director and the erstwhile directors were convicted and sentenced. They appealed to the High Court.

Decision: Appealed allowed.

Reasons: The official liquidator can demand a statement of affairs from the officers or erstwhile officers of the company in liquidation as mentioned in clauses (a) to (d) of section 454(2) of the Companies Act, 1956, only by getting orders from the court. By mere non-filing of statement of affairs as required, it cannot be deemed that it was not filed without any reasonable excuse.

The appellants had ceased to be directors about three years before the relevant date and therefore they could not be directed to file the statement of affairs without directions from the court. Notices issued to the erstwhile directors were illegal and their conviction and sentence on the basis of the notices were liable to be set aside.

The official liquidator could demand filing of the statement of affairs from the appellant who was the managing director on the relevant date. However, mere default in filing could not attract automatic punishment. In order to cast liability on the erstwhile directors, the official liquidator had adduced evidence to show that they had not handed over any document to the appellant, the managing director. The managing director had adduced evidence to show that immediately on receipt of notice he had apprised the official liquidator that he did not have any documents and was unable to file the statement of affairs. The official liquidator failed to show that the appellant-managing director did not file the statement of affairs for a reasonable cause. The appellant was entitled to be acquitted and his conviction and sentence were to be set aside.

[However the Court clarified that the acquittals were not a bar in the proceedings of winding up and that the official liquidator was free to take action for misfeasance or malfeasance of any other law.]

YEHUDA SILBERBERG LTD. v. PREMIER POLYWEAVES P. LTD. [(2009) 147 Comp Cas 360 (Mad)], Mrs.Chitra Venkataraman J. [Decided on 27.08.2008]

Section 433 of the Companies Act, 1956 read with section 13(c) of the CPC - Winding up - Petitioner obtained decree against respondent from Israel court - Winding up petition filed on the basis of this foreign decree - Company was a going concern - Bonafide disputes as to the enforceability of the decree were raised - whether the petition should be admitted - Held, No.

Brief Facts: The petitioner sought winding up of the respondent-company on the basis of a decree obtained from a court in Israel and upon failure of the respondent to satisfy the decree. The respondent countered the claim of the petitioner and inter alia, submitted that under sections 13(c) and 44A of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, Israel was not a reciprocal State and a decree of a court in Israel did not have the binding effect of a foreign decree and therefore was not a "debt".

Decision: Petition dismissed.

Reason: Even assuming for a moment that the decision of the court in Israel created a decretal debt as held in the decision of the Apex court in Madhusudan Gordhandas and Co v. Madhu Woollen Industries P. Ltd (1972) 42 Comp Cas 125, the jurisdiction of this court may still refuse to order winding up so long as the articles of association still has relevance to have the company a going company. Hence, on the strength of the very law declared by the Apex court, I do not find any justification to order winding up in this matter.

There are other reasons to reject this petition, namely, bona fides of the defence. As rightly pointed out, serious disputes are raised as regards the binding nature of the decision of the court in Israel by placing reliance on sections 13(c) and 44A of the Code of Civil Procedure. A reading of section 13(c) of the Code of Civil Procedure shows that the foreign judgment shall be conclusive except as regards the instances referred to under section 13(a) to (f). Learned senior counsel for the respondent pointed out that where a decision rested on an incorrect view of the international law or a refusal to recognize the law of India in cases in which such law is applicable, there is no conclusiveness attached to the foreign judgment. Learned senior counsel for the respondent pointed out that the petitioner had not filed any suit within three years as provided for under article 101 of the Limitation Act, 1963. Referring to sections 73 and 74 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, learned senior counsel pointed out that in the absence of specific material to quantify the damage and loss suffered, the judgment under that head is not maintainable. In the face of the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, the theory of closest and most real connection would have relevance for the purposes of deciding the issue. When the respondent is entitled to have a defence placed under section 73 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 the reasoning of the court in Israel is open for challenge. In this regard, the claim made by the respondent on the strength of sections 13 (c) and 44A is a substantial defence taken by the respondent. Admittedly, Israel is not one of those reciprocating States recognized in terms of section 44A of the Civil Procedure Code.

Considering the defence made, which cannot be rejected as lacking in bona fides, the criteria for ordering winding up not thus satisfied, I do not find any justification in ordering winding up of the respondent-company.

TAMILNADU ELECTRICITY BOARD v. RASIPURAM TEXTILE P. LTD. [(2009) 147 Comp Cas 315 (SC)], S.B.Sinha & Cryiac Joseph JJ. [Decided on 25.11.2009]

Indian Electricity Act, 1910 - Sections 39(1) and 44(1)(c) - Theft of electricity - Liability of directors - no averments in the complaint that the directors were in charge of and responsible to the affairs of the company - No proof produced - Whether complaint maintainable - Held, No.

Brief Facts: Criminal prosecution was lodged against the respondent company, its managing director and other directors for theft of electrical energy under sections 39(1) and 44(1) (c) of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910. The trial judge convicted the accused holding that all the persons responsible for the administration of a company were liable for the offence committed by the company and that the onus was upon the person who disowned the liability to prove it. On appeal, the Additional District and Sessions Judge set aside the conviction holding that the prosecution had not alleged that the directors were in charge of and were responsible to the mill for the conduct of the business of the mill and the records of investigation also did not show that the accused were the directors of the company and which would not be sufficient to fasten criminal liability on them. The High Court affirmed this. The appellant appealed to the Supreme Court.

Decision: Appeal dismissed.

Reasons: In terms of section 49A of the Indian Electricity Act, 1910, it was obligatory on the part of the complainant not only to make requisite averments in the complaint petition but also to prove that any of the directors who was being prosecuted for alleged commission of the offence was in charge of and was otherwise responsible for the conduct of the affairs of the company. Only in the event such an averment was made and sufficient and cogent evidence was brought on record to prove the allegations, would the proviso appended to section 49A be attracted; meaning thereby only in the event it is proved that a director or a group of directors of the company were in charge of and/or were responsible for the conduct of the business of the company, would the burden shift on the accused to establish the ingredients contained in the proviso appended to section 49A of the Act. In the absence of any averment made in the complaint petition as also in the absence of any evidence brought on record by the complainant to satisfy the requirements of section 49A of the Act, the respondents could not have been convicted.

VIJAY INDUSTRIES v. NATL TECHNOLOGIES LTD [JT 2009 (2) SC 41] S.B.Sinha & Cyriac Joseph, JJ. [Decided on 17.12.2008]

Companies Act, 1956 - Section 433 - Winding up petition - Debt due - Whether the entire debt due must be certain - Held, No.

Brief Facts: Transactions took place between the appellant and the respondent and bills were raised. Payments made were first adjusted against the interest and then balance towards the principal amount. Company failed to pay the final demand and a winding up petition was filed. Certainty as to the debt due was raised. The main question involved was whether for the purposes of winding up petition the entire debt has to be certain.

Decision: Appeal dismissed.

Reasons: In a meeting held on 25.11.2003, promises were made to square up the old outstanding dues and bring it into the system for the purpose of rotation. The agreement spoke of payment of compensation to the appellant for the delay in payment on account of earlier supplies after clearing the entire old dues. There cannot be any doubt whatsoever that when, in principle, the respondent had agreed to compensate the appellant for the delay in payment, the same must be by way of interest payable on the principal amount or otherwise.

Respondent never denied the demand of interest as such, but in its reply dated 30.12.2003 merely stated that a sum of Rs.16, 80,468(sic for Rs.15, 18,460) was due. Section 433 of the Companies Act does not state that the debt must be precisely a definite sum. It has not been disputed before us that failure to pay agreed interest or the statutory interest would come within the purview of the word 'debt.'

On the date of filing of the application, dues in respect of at least a part of the debt which was more than the amount specified in Section 433 of the Companies Act was not denied. It is not a requirement of the law that the entire debt must be definite and certain. The findings of the High Court, with respect, are not correct for more than one reason; firstly, because the Division Bench did not hold that the invoices were not proved by cogent evidence; secondly, question of leading evidence; secondly, question of leading evidence would arise only after the company petition is admitted and, thirdly, issuance of invoices and signature of the respondent thereon is not disputed.

LW(S) 17.03.2009

M.ABDUL HAQUE & ORS.v. BIRLA YAMAHA LIMITED [156(2009) DLT 460], Kailash Gambhir, J. [Decided on 3.11.2008]

Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881 - Section 142 - Cheque

dishonour - Liability of partners - Partner issued cheque from his personal account - whether liable for the offence - Held, No.

Brief Facts: The petitioner had issued cheque from his personal account against the liability of the firm towards the respondent. The said cheque was dishonoured and the Respondent prosecuted the firm and the partners. The trial court took cognizance of the offence. The petitioner moved the High Court seeking quashing of the summons on the ground that he had not issued the cheque from the firm's account.

Decision: Petition allowed.

Reasons: The mandate of the section clearly indicates that the firm is liable for prosecution when a cheque is issued on its behalf and bounced on presentation of such cheque. The intendment of the section is not to give scope to individuals to escape by issuing cheques in the name of the firm. Therefore, when cheques are issued in the name of the company, the company is invariably liable for prosecution for the offence under Section 138 of the Act. Thus, when the drawer of the cheque who falls within the ambit of Section 138 of the Act is a human being or a body corporate or even firm, prosecution proceedings can be initiated against such drawer. It is settled law that drawer of the cheque can be prosecuted under Section 138 of the Negotiable Instruments Act on the cheque dishonoured.

In the instant case, the situation is little different. In the case at hand, the cheque has been issued from the personal account and in the personal capacity by one of the partners of the partnership firm, Mr.P.Mohanakrishnan. Where the Cheques in question are issued by a person in his individual capacity and not as partner of any firm, the firm is not an accused in this case anymore, and the remaining partners other than the said person cannot be summoned to stand trial as persons responsible to the firm for conduct of its business. Unlike in the case of a cheque drawn by a person in his individual capacity, in the case of cheque drawn by a person in charge of and responsible to the firm, criminal liability is fastened not only as the defacto drawer of the cheque but also on the firm as well as any partner, manager, secretary or other officer of the firm, provided that such person is guilty of act or omission referred to in Section 141(2) of the Act. What then emerges is that in a case where the offence is committed by a firm, the criminal liability is not confined to the signatory of the cheque alone but also to non-signatories also provided the other conditions in this regard are satisfied. In other words, in a case of this nature it may not be permissible to draw a distinction between signatories and non-signatories qua the cheque in question.

AVINASH KUMAR CHAUHAN v. VIJAY KRISHNA MISHRA [JT 2009 (1) SC 656], S.B.Sinha & Cyriac Joseph, JJ. [Decided on 17.12.2008]

Indian Stamp Act, 1899 - Sections 33 and 35 - Sale of land - Agreement not stamped - suit filed for recovery relying on the agreement - Trial court dismissed the suit refusing to consider the agreement as evidence - High Court agreed with the Trial Court - Whether correct - Held, Yes.

Brief Facts: The appellant purchased a land under an agreement and consideration was paid. Respondent did not convey the land to the appellant and the appellant sued him for the recovery of the consideration paid by him, relying on the agreement. The agreement was not stamped and registered. The trial court dismissed the suit and the High Court confirmed the ruling. Against the judgment of the High Court the appellant appealed to the Supreme Court contending that the agreement could be relied for collateral purposes.

Decision: Appeal dismissed.

Reasons: Section 33 casts a duty upon every person who has authority to receive evidence and every person in charge of a public office before whom the instrument is produced, if it appears to him that the same is not duly stamped, to impound the same.

The Parliament has, in Section 35 of the Act, advisedly used the word "for any purpose whatsoever". The purpose for which a document is sought to be admitted in evidence or the extent thereof would not be a relevant factor for not invoking Sections 35 and 38.

Although ordinarily an agreement to sell would not be subject to payment of stamp duty which is payable on a sale deed, but having regard to the purpose and object it seeks to achieve the legislature thought it necessary to levy stamp duty on an instrument whereby possession has been transferred. The unregistered deed of sale was an instrument which required payment of the stamp duty applicable to a deed of conveyance. Adequate stamp duty admittedly was not paid. The court, therefore, was empowered to pass an order in terms of Section 35 of the Act.

The contention of learned counsel for the appellant that the document was admissible for collateral purpose, in our opinion, is not correct. Section 35 of the Act, categorically provided that a document of this nature shall not be admitted for any purpose whatsoever. If all purposes for which the document is sought to be brought in evidence are excluded, the document would not be admissible for collateral purposes.

CONSUMER PROTECTION

LW(S) 19.03.2009

COX AND KINGS (I) LTD.v. RAJ KUMAR MITTAL & ANR.[156 (2009) DLT 467], Shiv Narayan Dhingra, J. [Decided on 10.12.2008]

Consumer Protection Act, 1986 read with Article 227 of the Constitution of India - Consumer complaint filed against the petitioner - District forum awarded compensation - Appeal to the State Commission dismissed - Petitioner moved the High court under writ - Whether maintainable - Held, No.

Brief Facts: The petitioner is a company carrying on business of arranging travels and tours within India as well as abroad. The respondents had booked tours with the petitioners. Finding that the petitioner committed multifarious deficiencies due to which their pleasure trip had turned into a misery trip, they made complaints before the District Forum. The District Forum after considering the entire facts and material awarded compensation to each of the respondents for causing harassment to the respondents on account of deficiency of service, plus cost of litigation. Aggrieved by the order of District Forum, the petitioner preferred appeals before the State Commission who dismissed the same in limini and passed the impugned orders. Hence these petitions.

Decision: Petition dismissed.

Reasons: It is apparent that the Consumer Protection Act has provided an inbuilt mechanism for redressal of grievance of the parties at three levels; one at the consumer Forum, second at State Commission level and the third at National Commission level. The National Commission has been given powers to call for the records of the State Commission and if it comes to a conclusion that the State Commission has failed to exercise jurisdiction so vested in it or has acted in excess of its jurisdiction, or has acted with material irregularity, the same can be rectified by the National Commission. The powers vested in the National Commission are rather vast in nature than the powers to be exercised by this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India. I consider that when an alternate remedy is available to the petitioner, the petitioner's approaching this Court under Article 227 of the Constitution of India is not justified.

There is no doubt that this Court has supervisory jurisdiction over all Tribunals subordinate to it but it must be kept in mind that these supervisory powers should not be exercised in a manner so as to render the legislative measures as infructuous. The Legislature had intended that the disputes regarding consumers must be settled by separate Forum of Tribunals and a three-tier consumer redressal mechanism has been provided by the Legislature in the form of District Forum, State Commission and National Commission under the Act to see that the principles of natural justice are followed in its true spirit and nobody goes unheard and the Tribunals subordinate to National Commission act within their jurisdiction. Once a specialized body and Tribunals have been provided, it is not fit for the High Court to assume jurisdiction even where an alternative remedy is provided by the Legislature and burden itself with the work of other Tribunals as well. The whole purpose of creation of Tribunals stand defeated if the High Court usurps jurisdiction of other Tribunals while exercising powers under Article 227. In view of the above discussion, these petitions deserve dismissal and are hereby dismissed as such.

Referring to the program schedule of 15 days he said that this training is an ideal platform for academic development for the participants and they will feel comfortable with the working arena. Referring to the program schedule as a profound curriculum, he said that the participants should update their knowledge at regular intervals, so that they can excel in their professional career. Narasimhan expressed his concerns about the Corporate Governance and said that the new generation should really act as a change agent. Narasimhan advised the participants to set always high objectives; but should not get dejected by any case if they could not reach the pinnacle. He said that happiness derived upon the employment should be primary, subsequently one can think of reaching the heights. While talking on promotions in employment he said qualifications are only the route and not the destination and to reach the destination one has to be more practical, open to new ideas and initiatives. He opined that resistance to change will always be a stumbling block and it will hinder the career graph. The Guest of Honour distributed the course completion certificates to the participants, the Best Presenter Certificate, Best Project Certificates and the Best Participant Certificate.
