As you are aware, the Companies Act, 2013 and The Companies Rules, 2014 (collectively referred to as “the new law”) have been made effective from 1st April 2014. Putting the new law in to practice is a challenging task for the Company Secretaries and that requires complete overhauling of existing secretarial practices. The provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 have been in the blood of Company Secretaries and advent of the new law has necessitated the Company Secretaries to relearn and unlearn for positioning themselves in the new era of Corporate Governance through new company law.

The provisions of new company law are couched with vagueness in some areas complexity and also stricter in terms of penalties and prosecutions, and therefore, s CS’ Community need to understand the new law in its proper perspective. With that intent that it is felt that holistic approach in studying the new company law will go long way in understanding the contours of the new company law.
