Hon'ble Mr. Justice Siddharth Mridhul, Judge, Delhi High Court in his CONVOCATION ADDRESS, said that we all recognize the critical role that education and good governance play in the development of a nation. Being the prime mover of the progress of a country, it is but a critical role that the young professionals need to play in the development and governance of the corporate sector. India is in the process of fast and radical change, a process which is unstoppable. However, Change is occurring at very different speeds in each segment of society.

Mr. C R Chaudhary, Member of Parliament, Rajasthan in his address said that, "The complexity of the Indian society as embodied in division and subdivision by geography religion, caste, class, gender and employment and calls for a careful monitoring and deft steering of this process of change. The successful management of this change is the biggest. Challenge of our times. Our response to this challenge will determine the destiny of India as a nation simply cannot fail in this test. Today company secretary is called the governance professionals, and huge responsibility lies upon the shoulders of the person who is working as a company secretary. And I think increasing so in the last decade in India, the Job, the profile, the scope of work, the importance of the responsibilities that the company secretaries handle has grown leaps and bounds.

As we enter an era where we are looking to have a regulatory regime that is more compliant to the practices around the globe, it's important for each of these company secretaries that work in India to keep themselves completely updated to the new regime in India, new compliances, new regulations, and also the various practices around the world, because as more and more companies in India grow, the outreach and the foot print of these companies is becoming global. People are reaching now to boundaries outside of India and for companies to have sort of interoperability in terms of what are requirements, what are the compliances, the company secretaries have a major role to perform.

CS Atul H Mehta , President, Council of the ICSI in his Presidential Address, congratulated the new members and said that , "We are entering a world that increasingly rewards individual aspiration and persistence and can measure precisely who is contributing and who is not and It is in this context that this ICSI Annual Convocation-2015 is being held . He advised that, each of the students should consider investing in oneself so as to witness the transformation which will happen in each one. President, ICSI said that, "with this investment which is essentially long term one will gain market appreciation over time. Like companies which practise good governance gain in their value overtime and provide long-term gains in the form of dividends and price-appreciation, members should too govern themselves well. He also added that, “The need to remain credible is the most critical challenge today as words hold out for you, employers, Being credible is nothing else but doing what you say and saying what you do. The ability to distinguish between right and wrong has always been the most challenging assignment in life which is never taught in the classrooms”.

CS Shyam Agrawal, Council Member, ICSI in his welcome address, congratulated the New Members and said that the new members will be part of a great transition from Company Secretaries to Corporate Governance professionals, New members should recognise failures and obstacles in their path and learn from their mistakes and mistakes of others. They should be ready for a new phase of Professional pursuit has begun as the academic pursuit comes to an end.

CS Vineet Chaudhary, Council Member, ICSI & Programme Director of the Convocation said that “To Excel in the right sense is chasing your professional / personal goals and letting the results take care of themselves, making the process of achievement supreme and making the result irrelevant. He advised the students to perfect the process of performance and not to allow the pressure of the result to choke your performance.

CS Ranjeet Pandey, Council Member, ICSI also congratulated the students on their achievements.

CS N P S Chawla, Chairman, NIRC of ICSI, in his address defined the term “Convocation” which in Latin means 'calling together' and means a group of people formally assembled for a special purpose.
