CORPORATE FRAUD

By Manish Lamba
“FRAUS OMNIA VITIATE”

Fraud Vitiates Everything
First Principles

• The Biggest Fraud is to cheat oneself

• Rather fail with honor than succeed by Fraud.

• For the most part Fraud in the end secures for its companions repentance and shame.
Definition

• In the broadest sense, a fraud is an intentional deception made for personal gain or to damage another person/entity

• Wrongful or criminal deception intended to result in financial or personal gain
Indian Law

- Indian Contract Act, 1872

Section 17 of the Act defines “Fraud” as "Fraud" means and include any of the following acts committed by a party to a contract, or with his connivance, or by his agents, with intent to deceive another party thereto his agent, or to induce him to enter into a contract.

- the suggestion as a fact, of that which is not true, by one who does not believe it to be true;
- the active concealment of a fact by one having knowledge or belief of the fact;
- a promise made without any intention of performing it;
- any other act fitted to deceive;
- any such act or omission as the law specially declares to be fraudulent.
Indian Penal Code, 1860

Section 25 of IPC defines "Fraudulently" as:

A person is said to do a thing fraudulently if he does that thing with intent to defraud but not otherwise.

Rationale for doing Fraud

• Everyone else was doing it
• They can afford it
• I needed the money
• It was just a loan...I would have repaid it
• I felt used and wanted revenge
• I meant no harm and did no harm
• I did it to keep the business afloat
• Bribery is the norm in this type of business
• What I did was entirely appropriate for someone in my position
• My employer didn’t compensate me well enough, so I took what was due to me
Who is Responsible?

• Board of Directors
• CEO
• CFO
• Senior Management

How Management Encourages Fraud

- Responsibility, accountability and authority not established or documented
- Goals and objectives neither established nor monitored for success
- No written policies or procedures
  - low priority for the establishment of internal controls
  - no separation of duties
  - inadequate cash controls - documents
  - inadequate physical security for assets and records
  - no independent inventory of assets
- Inconsistent application of policies or procedures - may result in unfair treatment of employees - favoritism - low morale
What an Organization can do

Adopt Anti Corruption & Anti Bribery practices as a process

- Assessment of specific corruption risks of the business.
- Development of detailed anti corruption and bribery policies.
- Implementation of the policies.
- Self monitoring of the effective implementation of the policies.
- Reporting on the policies and related programmes.
- Independent assurance of the effectiveness of these efforts.
Developing Code of Governance

Working together with civil societies, government and private sector to develop and disseminate anti corruption messages.

Regional and international initiatives provide a forum for private sector, public sector, and civil society to come together with a common goal of reducing vulnerability to corruption.

Finally, attitudinal change is necessary.

By changing our thoughts, we can change our attitude and thereby change our behavior, which can change our lives. The quality of our thoughts equals the quality of our lives. Let us all work towards changing our attitude towards corruption.

Lets say No to corruption
