DIRECT TAX CODE

-Presented by Taxmen
INTRODUCTION

• Replace the existing Income Tax Act, 1961.
• Consolidate the law relating to all direct taxes
• Establish an economic, effective and equitable direct tax system
• Achieve voluntary compliance.
• Reduce the scope for disputes and minimize litigation.
• Stabilise the tax regime.
• Pave the way for a single unified taxpayer reporting system.
• Eventually help increase the tax-GDP ratio
NEED FOR DTC

- IT Act, 1961 is almost 48 years old, without much change.
- Difficulty in understanding tax laws.
- Burst of litigation, swamping tribunals and courts.
- Too many sections, sub-sections, provisos and explanations.
- Head spin for the general tax payer to decipher the act.
The regime so far

• First draft bill of DTC released by GOI for public comments on 12/8/2009 (DTC 2009).
• Discussion paper released in 2009 with bill.
• DTC 2010 introduced in the Parliament in August 2010.
• Standing Committee on Finance (SCF), submitted its report to the Parliament on 9/3/2012.
• Khelkar Committee Report of September 2012 suggested a comprehensive review of DTC.
• Revised version of DTC (DTC 2013) released on 31/3/2014.
Salient Features

• Single Code for direct taxes
• Use of simple language
• Reducing the scope for litigation
• Flexibility
• Ensure that the law can be reflected in a Form
• Consolidation of provisions
• Elimination of regulatory functions
• Providing stability
Highlights of DTC

• Proposal to levy dividend distribution tax at 15%.
• Exemption for investment in approved funds proposed at Rs.150,000 annually, against Rs.120,000 currently.
• Proposed bill has 319 sections and 22 schedules.
• Mutual Funds/ULIP dropped from 80C deductions, income to be subject to tax @ 5%.
• Fringe benefit tax to be charged to the employee rather than the employer.
• Political contribution of up to 5% of gross total income eligible for deduction.
Concepts Introduced

• DTC 2013 proposes to introduce:
  - General Anti Avoidance Rules (GAAR),
  - Taxation of Controlled Foreign Companies (CFC),
  - Place of Effective Management (POEM) rule
  - Expanded source rules for taxation of royalty, fees for technical services (FTS) and interest.

• INCOME TAX ACT, 1961

  • COMPOSITION:
  This Act has two legislature i.e. Income Tax Act, 1961 & Wealth Tax Act, 1957.

  • RESIDENTIAL STATUS:
  It is applicable to three kinds of residential status i.e. ‘Residential’, ‘Non Resident’ and ‘Resident but not Ordinarily Resident.’

  • FILLING YEAR:
  There are ‘previous year’ and ‘assessment year’.

• DIRECT TAX CODE

  • COMPOSITION:

  • RESIDENTIAL STATUS:
  In “Resident but not ordinarily resident” has been done away with.

  • FILLING YEAR:
  To eliminate confusion only ‘Financial Year’ will prevail.
• TAX SLAB:
  Individual tax rates in Income Tax Law (ITL) are as follows
  10% - from Rs.2,50,000 to Rs.5,00,000
  20% - from Rs.5,00,001 to Rs.10,00,000
  30% - from Rs.10,00,001 and above

• MAT APPLICABILITY:
  MAT rate is 18.5%. MAT credit can be availed for 10 years

• TAX SLAB:

  10% - from Rs.300000 to Rs.10,00,000
  20% - from Rs.1000001 to Rs.2000000
  30% - from Rs.2000001 and above

• MAT APPLICABILITY:
  MAT rate is 20 %. Credit for MAT is proposed for 15 years.
• TAX INCENTIVES:
  Tax incentives were based on location or on export turnover upto a specified period. Further capital investment were not allowed to amortized.

• TAX INCENTIVES:
  Export and Area/profit based exemption to be discontinued without affecting currently enjoying such incentive. Under the DTC, all capital investment and revenue expenditure (except land, goodwill and financial instruments) allowed to be amortized indefinitely and the period of such amortization will be called as ‘Tax Holiday’.
• Best judgment assessment under section 144 of ITA, a best judgment assessment is allowed in cases where there is a failure to file a return or failure to comply with the terms of certain notices etc. Under the DTC, in addition to the existing requirements, a best judgment assessment can also be made if the assessee fails to follow regularly the prescribed method of accounting or if the Assessing Officer is not satisfied with the correctness or completeness of the accounts of the assessee.

• Under DTC income has been proposed to be classified into two broad groups: Income from Ordinary Sources and Income from Special Sources

• In corporate tax rate, the tax rate of foreign company in ITA is 40 % whereas in DTC the tax rate of foreign company is 30 %.

• The capital gains chapter applies to investment assets. All security transactions of Foreign Institutional Investors (FIIs) are classified as investment assets. Also, in respect of assets acquired prior to 1 April 2000, appreciation in value until 1 April 2000 is excluded from the taxable net. DTC 2013 continues to provide tax neutrality to transactions of amalgamation and demerger subject to compliance of specified conditions. DTC 2013 has modified the definition of business reorganization (BR) to accommodate BRs involving NRs as well, subject to compliance of other prescribed conditions.
• Under the ITL, any asset is considered long term if it is held for more than 36 months, except in the case of shares and listed securities for which the relevant holding period is 12 months.

• GENERAL ANTI AVOIDANCE RULES (GAAR)

GAAR contains a broad set of provisions which have the effect of invalidating an arrangement under certain circumstances. The Tax Authority, in such cases, is granted wide powers to adjust the taxpayer’s assessment. GAAR applies to transactions which are “impermissible avoidance arrangement”. The proposed GAAR provisions under DTC 2013 are in line with the Income Tax Act with a few modifications. DTC 2013 proposes to expand the definition of “connected person” to include company carrying on business or profession in which the holding company has substantial interest. Under the Income Tax Act, the entire arrangement may be declared as impermissible arrangement even if a part of the arrangement is impermissible arrangement. The Standing Committee on Finance had proposed that it needs to be clarified only that part of the arrangement would be invoked which is proved as “impermissible”. However, the same has not been accepted in DTC 2013.
• Levy of Branch Profit Tax

Under DTC 2013, every foreign company, in addition to income tax payable, is liable to pay branch profit tax at the rate of 15 per cent in respect of branch profits of a financial year. As compared to the provisions of the Income Tax Act, DTC 2013 reduces corporate income tax rate for foreign companies from 40 per cent to 30 percent, which is line with the tax rate of domestic companies. However, branch profit tax is levied additionally. Branch profit tax is levied on income attributable, directly or indirectly, to the Permanent Establishment (PE) or an immovable property situated in India as reduced by the amount of income tax payable on such attributable income. Branch profit tax is applicable irrespective of the tax treaty.
• Controlled Foreign Company (CFC)

CFC regulations basically focus on taxing the undistributed profits of a foreign company which is situated in a low tax jurisdiction but is controlled by the residents. It is developed to eliminate the artificial deferral of resident taxes on foreign source incomes. Though CFC rules are presently absent in the ITL, they were introduced for the first time in DTC 2010.

• Availment of tax treaty benefit

The tax treaty related provisions under DTC 2013 are in line with the provisions of the Income Tax Act. The beneficial provisions of the tax treaty would prevail over the Act. However, beneficial provisions of the tax treaty may not apply where GAAR, branch profit tax and Controlled Foreign Company (CFC) related provisions are invoked. DTC 2013 provides that liability of foreign company on account of branch profit tax can not be treated as discriminatory.

CONCLUSION

The revised provisions in DTC 2013 are aligned with the Income Tax Law provisions or are a response to the recommendations of the SCF. Provisions such as lowering the threshold to 20% for trigger of indirect transfer, and making the active test (a condition for the trigger of CFC provisions) stringent, could cause concerns. It is important to note that DTC 2013 is presently a draft version which can be implemented only after it is presented before the Indian Parliament and is thereafter approved after debate. The code will make the tax laws much more efficient and more assessee friendly.
THANK YOU!
