Lesson 1- Introduction to Company Law

1) Important Committees recommending changes to the Companies Act

2) Origin of Company Law

The Bubble Act of 1720

The concept of corporate form was brought in for the first time in United Kingdom wherein the body corporate could be brought into existence either by a Royal Charter or by a Special Act of Parliament. Both these methods were very expensive and dilatory. Consequently, to meet the growing commercial needs of the nation, large unincorporated partnerships came into existence, trading, however, in corporate form. The memberships of each such concern being very large, the management of business was left to a few trustees resulting into separation of ownership from management. Rules of law were not being developed by that time which gave a chance to fraudulent promoters to exploit the public money. As a result, many spurious companies were created which were formed only to disappear resulting in loss to the investing public.

The English parliament, therefore, passed an Act known as the Bubbles Act of 1720, which, instead of prohibiting the formation of fraudulent companies, made the very business of companies illegal. Bubble Act is an English statute passed on 9, June 1720 to prevent corporate fraud. It forbade all joint-stock companies not authorized by royal charter. One of the reasons for the act was to prevent other companies from competing with the South Sea Company for investors' capital. The Act was repealed in 1825.

3) How to read and understand a Section?

The Companies Act, 2013 is to be read with relevant Rules, Schedules under Companies Act, Circulars/ Clarifications issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs.

For example Section 135 (Relating to Corporate Social Responsibility) is to be read with the Companies (Corporate Social Responsibility Policy) Rules 2014, Schedule VII (Activities relating to Corporate Social Responsibility) and circulars/clarifications issued by Ministry of Corporate Affairs on Section 135 & Rules made thereunder.

Reading provisions of Companies Act, 2013 with delegated legislations

For example when you read sections relating to issue of capital you should read the sections with Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, Companies (Prospectus and Allotment of Securities) Rules. Besides, other legislative aspects including the provisions of SEBI Act, SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, SEBI (LODR) Regulations, provisions of Depositories Act for dematerialization provisions and even the provisions of FEMA when the shares are issued to non-residents, wherever applicable, are required to be read in collusion.

Breaking sections into parts and preparing notes for each section

Company law is so wide that it cannot be easily remembered after only one reading. Students may make notes for each topic about sections, the genesis, amendments notified, reasons for amendments along with delegated legislation. They may also make notes on exemptions provided, exceptions and the reasons behind such exemptions/ exceptions. This will help in understanding the background of the provisions, the spirit of law and would help in remembering the provisions also. The exemptions provided for certain class of companies under Section 462 of Companies Act are provided in the e-book at MCA portal under respective sections.

Students may break the sections at relevant places and giving emphasis on critical words and read for getting more clarity.

For examples Section 2(6) deals with the Definition of “Associate Company” which may be read with the following breaks.

“associate company”, in relation to another company... .. /, means a company in which that other company has a significant influence /, but which is not a subsidiary company of the company having such influence and..... /.

includes a joint venture company. Explanation.—

For the purpose of this clause,—

(a) the expression “significant influence” means control of at least twenty percent of total voting power, or control of or participation in business decisions under an agreement;

(b) the expression “joint venture” means a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the arrangement;

Thus the definition can be read by breaking at the places as indicated above, by understanding the terms ‘joint venture company’, ‘significant influence’ and the definition of subsidiary as mentioned in section 2(87).

Interpretations of some standard words and Phrases used in Statutes “Proviso”- A clause, as in a document or statute, that begins with the words “Provided that” is called ‘proviso’. The term ‘proviso’ is defined as a clause making some condition or stipulation; a clause in a statute, deed, or other legal document introducing a qualification or condition to some other provision, frequently the one immediately preceding the proviso itself.

It is well settled that “the effect of an excepting or qualifying proviso, according to the ordinary rules of construction, is to except out of the preceding portion of the enactment, or to qualify something enacted therein, which but for the proviso would be within it.”

also must be complied with.

“Notwithstanding anything contained”

Notwithstanding means, in spite of; without being opposed or prevented by; nevertheless; although, regardless of. A provision in a statute beginning with the words ‘Notwithstanding anything contained’ is called a ‘non-obstante’ provision and is generally used in a statute to give an overriding effect to a particular section or the statute as a whole. A non-obstante clause is used in a statutory drafting to create an exception to or override the provision which this phrase follows.

“Subject to”- The ordinary meaning of the phrase ‘subject to’ is being dependent upon; conditional upon; subordinate to; subservient to something else to happen or to be true; that on the condition of the provisions of the specified section being observed or complied with. It is used to express the intention that when while complying with one statutory provision, another provision relating to the subject matter also must be complied with.

“Nothing contained in this section” shall apply

The phrase “Nothing in this section shall apply” or “Nothing contained in this section shall apply”, is frequently used in legislative drafting. Literally, it means anything contained in the preceding part of the section would not apply in the situation stated in the provision that begins with this phrase.

“Without prejudice to the provisions contained in this Act/any other Act”

The phrase ‘without prejudice’ means without dismissing, damaging, or otherwise affecting; without detriment; harm. So when one provision says ‘without prejudice to any other provision’, it means that no other provision is affected by that provision or that other provisions remain unaffected. This is a qualifying phrase used in statutory drafting in a provision to protect the operation of another provision which it refers to. In other words, both the provisions operate independently.

“That is to say”

This phrase explains or clarifies the preceding word, phrase or expression.

“For the purposes of this section/provision/definition”

It has limited applicability; it applies to only the relevant section / provision/ definition but applies to the whole of it.

“As the case may be”- The phrase is used when in a provision two or more things are covered and the provision is applicable to both or all of them.

“Shall”-When used in a statute, the presumption is that its use is mandatory and not merely directory.

“May” is either permissive or directory

6) Interpretation of Definitions of the Companies Act, 2013

A definition is a statement of the meaning as of a word or phrase. Usually, every statute has a definitions sections (also called 'interpretation clause') which provides definitions of various words and phrases used in the statute (e.g. Section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013).

Definition:

- To Define: The Act of making something definite, distinct or clear.
- Definition: An exact statement or description of the nature, scope, or meaning of something (Oxford dictionary)
- In relation to a Statute: Definitions given in a statute are those of certain words or expressions used elsewhere in the Statute.
- Object of using Definitions: - To avoid frequent repetitions - To aid interpretation of words for that specific statute

Types of Definitions

- Restrictive Definitions - Use of the word “mean”
- Extensive Definitions - Use of the word “include”

When in a definition the word “mean” is used, it means word is restricted to the scope indicated in the definition section. It means definition is hard and fast definition and no other meaning can be assigned to the expression than is put down in definition.

The word “include” gives a wider meaning to the words or phrases in the statute. The legislature does not intend to restrict the definition, it makes the definition enumerative but not exhaustive. This is to say, the term defined will retain its ordinary meaning may or may not compromise. The word “includes” by the legislature shows the intention of the legislature that it wanted to give extensive and enlarged meaning to such expression.

Example of few Definitions under the Companies Act, 2013

- “Director” means a director appointed to the Board of a company;
- “Employees’ stock option” means the option given to the directors, officers or employees of a company or of its holding company or subsidiary company or companies, if any, which gives such directors, officers or employees, the benefit or right to purchase, or to subscribe for, the shares of the company at a future date at a pre-determined price;
- “Charge” means an interest or lien created on the property or assets of a company or any of its undertakings or both as security and includes a mortgage;
- “Body Corporate or Corporation” includes a company incorporated outside India, but does not include:
 - (i) a co-operative society registered under any law relating to co-operative societies; and
 - (ii) any other body corporate (not being a company as defined in this Act), which the Central Government may, by notification, specify in this behalf;
- “Book and paper” include books of account, deeds, vouchers, writings, documents, minutes and registers maintained on paper or in electronic form;
- “Deposit” includes any receipt of money by way of deposit or loan or in any other form by a company, but does not include such categories of amount as may be prescribed in consultation with the Reserve Bank of India;

‘Explanations’ in Statutes:

Object and Purpose of explanations:

- To explain/clarify the meaning of words contained in the particular section,

- Part and Parcel of the enactment,
- Does not widen the scope of the word explained.

For eg: “holding company”, in relation to one or more other companies, means a company of which such companies are subsidiary companies;

Explanation.—For the purposes of this clause, the expression “company” includes anybody corporate.

“For the purposes of section 2(85)(i) and (ii) of the Companies Act, 2013, the paid up capital and turnover of the small company shall not exceed rupees four crore and rupees forty crore respectively.”

Brief Analysis:

Through this notification the Ministry has amended the definition of small company w.e.f. 15.09.2022 by amending the limit of paid up capital and turnover for the small company. Earlier, definition of “small companies” under the Companies Act, 2013 was revised by increasing their thresholds for paid up capital from “not exceeding Rs. 50 lakh” to “not exceeding Rs. 2 crore” and turnover from “not exceeding Rs. 2 crore” to “not exceeding Rs. 20 crore”. This definition has, now, been further revised by increasing such thresholds for paid up Capital from “not exceeding Rs. 2 crore” to “not exceeding Rs. 4 crore” and turnover from “not exceeding Rs. 20 crore” to “not exceeding Rs. 40 crore”.

It seems that MCA frequently amending the definition of Small Company to provide many advantages to Corporates. This move of MCA is expected to provide lenience for the compliance burden of about various small companies in India. The move is likely to get more companies under the 'small' category and advantage them in terms of the compliance requirements. As due to this move, many Companies will get exemptions of so many compliances of the Companies Act, 2013.

02.	28/11/2018	In the Matter of M/s. Hira Power and Steels Limited	NCLT, Mumbai
------------	-------------------	------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------

The determination of the Quantum of the CSR responsibility can only be ascertained after the finalization of accounts at the close of the Books of Accounts of a particular financial year.

Background

Hira Power & Steels Limited, promoted by the Agrawal family is a leading player in the Steel Segment in Central India. The Company’s main business interests are in Ferro Alloys, Power and Mining and it has its manufacturing facilities in Chhattisgarh, India, an area known for low cost production of Steel due to the easy availability of Raw Materials, Cheap Labour and Supportive Government Policies. The Company filed a Compounding application before Registrar of Companies (ROC), Chattisgarh and the same has been forwarded to the NCLT, Mumbai along with ROC Report.

Timeline of Events

ROC had informed that, this application was filed because the Company had violated the provision of Section 134 (3) (o) of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Rule 8 of Companies (Corporate Social Responsibility Policy) Rules, 2014 wherein the Company fails to give explanation for the non-spending of the CSR amount for the Financial Year 2014-15 in Director’s Report.

Hira Power & Steels Limited submitted that due to inadvertent mistake the Company has failed to comply with the provisions of the S. 134 (3) (o) and were willing to comply with the provisions of the Act bona fide. They had made all endeavours to comply with the provisions of the Act however, because of number of Circulars which were issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs with respect to CSR there was ambiguity in the correct implementation of the provisions.

It is further stated that the Company had constituted the CSR Committee as per the provisions of the Act on August 05, 2015 and made the necessary declarations as per Section 134 (3) (o) in the Director’s Report for the F. Y. 2015-16. Consequently, the Default has been made good.

It is also submitted that, due to number of Circulars / Notifications issued by the Government the Applicants / Defaulters herein, could not ascertain the actual position of the CSR amount to spend and therefore the said contravention has happened.

In light of above submissions it is submitted that since, the Applicants / Defaulters herein had not deliberately contravened the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and subsequently, after ascertaining the correct position, made the committed default hence, this Application may be allowed and minimum Compounding Fee may be imposed.

Judgment

The Bench said that, this provision regarding CSR is newly incorporated in the Statute and thereafter number of circulars was issued and as a result of those circulars no clear clarification regarding the provision can be recorded by the Company or its Directors. It is also noticed that the Company had made the default good by constituting the CSR committee and by furnishing declaration in the Director's Report for the F. Y. 2015-16.

The determination of the Quantum of the CSR responsibility can only be ascertained / quantified after the finalisation of accounts at the close of the Books of Accounts of a particular financial year. As a result, the amount to be contributed for charitable purpose as CSR responsibility can be intimated to the concerned authorities thereafter only i.e. after the finalisation of accounts of a particular financial year.

Compounding Fee of Rs. 10,000/- by the each Applicant / Defaulter herein (i.e. Rs. 50,000/- in total) was levied on the Company.

03.	01.07.2019	M/S Shri Santosh Meenakshi Textiles (P) Ltd. vs. Roc, Tamilnadu, Coimbatore	NCLT, Chennai
------------	-------------------	------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------

CSR Committee must be constituted if net profit exceeds the prescribed threshold limit

Background

Sree Santhosh Meenakshi textiles private limited is established at thekkalur, the Manchester of South India. The company has carved niche of its own in the competitive yarn market. Shri Santosh Meenakshi Textiles Pvt Ltd. filed an appeal under Section 421 of the Companies Act, 2013 against the impugned order of National Company Law Tribunal, Chennai by which the appellant company is held liable to spend the amount of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) for the FY 2014-15 taking into account only the net profit for the FY 2013-14; the appellant company is held liable to adhere to the other provisions of Section 135 of the Act and the company is permitted to file an application for revision of financial statement or Board report after incorporating the information of CSR.

When the appellant filed its financial statement along with Board Report with the ROC, the ROC observed the same and issued a Show Cause Notice to the Company as to why they have not complied with Section 135(1), 135(5) and Section 134(3)(o) of the Companies Act, 2013. The appellant filed Company Petition before the NCLT, Chennai under Section 131 of the Companies Act, 2013 and the NCLT passed the impugned order wherein it held that – “..... Petitioner Company is liable to spend the amount on account of CSR for FY 2014-15 taking into account only the net profit before tax for the FY 2013-14....”

Issues involved

NCLAT identifies the issue involved as whether the appellant is covered under Section 135(1) of the Act or not. NCLAT observes that as per the appellant's own calculation the net profit is Rs.5,68,70,023/- for the FY 2013-14 which is apparently more than Rs. 5 crores i.e. threshold limited prescribed under Section 135(1) of the Act. Therefore, the company is covered under Section 135(1) of the Act and as such appellant was liable to constitute Corporate Social Responsibility Committee of the Board in the year 2014-15. Section 135(5) of the Act stipulates that Board of every company who comes under Section 135(1) of the Act shall ensure that the company spends in every year at least 2% of the average net profit of the company made during the three immediately preceding financial years in pursuance of the CSR. The net profit will be calculated as per Section 198 of the Companies Act, 2013 and that the profit before tax will be taken as 'Net Profit'.

Further, NCLAT examines the next issue argued by the appellant that even if it is the company is deemed to be covered under Section 135(1) of the Act, then also it is not liable to expend any sum towards CSR in as much since the company had incurred losses in FY 2011-2012 and 2012-13 and the average net profit calculated for the three FY comes in negative. NCLAT disagrees with the observations of the NCLT which directed the appellant herein to spend the amount on account of CSR for the FY 2014-15 taking into account only the net profit before tax for the FY 2013-14 as it is clearly against the mandate of law that the amount to be spent is to be at least 2% of the average net profit of the company made during the three immediately preceding financial years in pursuance to its CSR Policy. NCLAT observes that the calculations submitted by the appellant shows that in the last three years the company is made a profit of Rs.1,38,69,595/- and average net profit of three years will come to Rs.46,23, 198/- and further that the company would never be covered under the average net profit of three preceding years.

NCLAT observed that that the appellant has resorted to deducting the losses twice over to somehow arrives at a negative figure to show that it is not required to spend any amount on the CSR for the FY 2014-15. NCLAT states that the method of calculation of average net profit for immediately preceding three years as directed by the NCLT will not be applicable.

NCLAT further observes that the company is a defaulter for spending an amount on CSR activities during the year 2014-15 since company has not constituted the CSR Committee and no proof substantiating the amount spent by the company on CSR activities has been placed.

Judgment

NCLAT passes an order modifying the impugned order holding that the appellant is liable to constitute Corporate Social Responsibility Committee of the Board in terms of Section 135(1) in 2014-15 as net profit of the company in the preceding year was more than Rs.5 crores; and further prescribes a method of calculation for the purpose of Section 135(5).

NCLAT holds appellant liable to constitute CSR committee of the Board in terms of Section 135(1) as the net profit of the company exceeds the threshold limit under Section 135(1) of the Act; prescribes method for calculation of average net profit for immediately preceding three years for the purpose of Section 135(5).

- Ind AS 41- Agriculture.
- Ind AS 101- First-time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standards;
- Ind AS 103- Business Combinations;
- Ind AS 109- Financial Instruments;

Brief Analysis:

MCA notifies Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Amendment Rules, 2022 dated 23rd March, 2022 and further amended the Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015. The notification has brought a following additions and substitutions in the below mentioned Indian Accounting Standards (Ind AS):

- Ind AS 16- Property, Plant and Equipment: The amendment has clarified the accounting treatment for “excess of net sale proceeds of items produced over the cost of testing”. The excess of net sale proceeds of items produced over the cost of testing, if any, should not be recognized in the statement of profit and loss account but deducted from the directly attributable costs considered as part of cost of an item of PPE. The amendment shall be effective for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1st April, 2022.

- Ind AS 37- Provisions, Contingent Liabilities and Contingent Assets: The amendment states that the types of costs a company can include as the ‘cost of fulfilling a contract’ while assessing whether a contract is onerous as under:

- The incremental costs of fulfilling that contract like direct labour and materials, etc.
- An allocation of other costs that relate directly to fulfilling contracts- like an allocation of depreciation charge for an item of PPE used in fulfilling that contract.

The amendment apply for annual reporting periods beginning on or after 1st April, 2022 to contracts existing at the date when amendments are first applied.

- Ind AS 41- Agriculture: This Ind AS requires biological assets to be measured on initial recognition and at the end of each reporting period at its fair value less costs to sell. Through this amendment the requirement to exclude cash flows for taxation when measuring fair value was removed.

- Ind AS 101- First-time Adoption of Indian Accounting Standards: This amendment aims at simplifying the application of Ind AS 101 for subsidiary that becomes a first time adopter of the Indian Accounting Standards later than its parent. The amendment states that if a subsidiary, joint venture of associate adopts Ind AS later than its parent and applies para D16(a) then the subsidiary may elect to measure cumulative translation differences for all foreign operations at amounts included in the consolidated financial statements of the parent, based on parent’s date of transition to Ind AS.

- Ind AS 103- Business Combinations: The amendment have substituted the reference to the Framework for preparation and Presentation of Financial Statements with Indian Accounting Standards with reference to the Conceptual Framework for Financial Reporting under Indian Accounting Standards (Conceptual Framework), without changing the accounting requirements for business combinations. The amendment would be applicable to those business combinations for which the acquisition date is on or after 1st April, 2022.

- Ind AS 109- Financial Instruments: As per this accounting standard, a financial liability is derecognized when it is extinguished, which may inter alia happen when there is an exchange between an existing borrower and lender of debt instruments with substantially different terms or a substantial modification of the terms of an existing debt instrument (modification of terms).

The amendment clarifies that for the purpose of performing the 10% test for derecognition of financial liabilities, in determining fees paid, the borrower includes amounts paid by the borrower to or on behalf of the lender, and fees received include amounts paid by the lender to or on behalf of the borrower. The amendment is applied prospectively to modifications and exchanges that occur on or after the date the entity first applies the amendment.

Lesson 9 - Transparency and Disclosures

CASE LAWS PERTAINING TO ANNUAL RETURN

1. In the matter of Anil kumar Poddar vs. Nessville Trading (P.) Ltd., Appellant made an application for inspection of register of members and annual return of respondent company for the years 2009 to 2012. When company failed to provide copies of aforementioned documents, he filed petition for supply of documents. The Respondent relied upon doctrine of "ejusdem generis" saying the word "any other person" mentioned in Section 163(2) of the erstwhile Companies Act, 1956 (corresponding to section 94 of the Companies Act, 2013) is limited to the person holding commercial interest such as creditor, financier, customer etc., because the preceding would the member and debenture holder to this word "any other person" being the persons having interest in the company, then the following word "any other person" cannot be said as extendable to any person who has no interest in the company, normally, a person considered to aggrieved when his interest is affected by the act of somebody else, but whereas this Petitioner has no interest in these companies, therefore, he cannot be called aggrieved to file these company petitions against the Respondent. The NCLT, Mumbai Bench held that, since petitioner was neither a shareholder, nor debenture holder nor holding commercial interest in respondent company, he was not entitled to seek relief under Section 163 of the erstwhile Companies Act, 1956 (corresponding to section 94 of the Companies Act, 2013) regarding supply of copies of documents for inspection.
2. In the matter of Suhas Chakma vs. South Asia Human Rights Documentation Centre Pvt. Ltd., the contention of the petitioner is that he never executed any instrument of transfer of his shareholdings to the 2nd respondent, and that he came to know that he was not a shareholder of the 1st respondent company by virtue of inspection of the Annual Return and that in relation to the illegal and fraudulent transfer of his shares, he came to know about the same only upon perusal of the Annual Returns. The NCLT, New Delhi Bench observed that, in view of the wordings used in section 164 of the Companies Act, 1956 (now Section 95 under the Companies Act, 2013) to the effect that registers, returns and documents shall be only prima facie evidence and hence subject to rebuttal, and therefore, cannot be treated as conclusive evidence and in absence of share transfer forms and specified share certificates/letter of allotment in question, transfer of equity shares of Petitioner by Respondents were fraudulent and sham and declare it to be illegal and void.

Lesson 10- An overview of Inter-Corporate Loans Investments, Guarantees and Security Related Party Transactions

1) Practical aspects on Inter-Corporate Loans and Investments:

a) Illustration:

Mr. A is the managing director in AB Ltd., which is engaged in manufacturing medicines. Mr. A is a qualified software expert. AB Ltd. after following a due process of tendering engages the services of Mr. A in his capacity of a software expert and for which an amount of Rs 50 lakh is proposed to be paid. The next lowest quotation for the proposal is Rs 2 crore.

This is a transaction with a related party. This transaction will fall under the proviso to Section 197(4) of the Act. If the terms and conditions are comparable with those offered by other parties, the transaction will not be treated as an office or place of profit as covered under Section 188. (Price offered by Mr. A is certainly far lower than the next lowest quote but the other terms also need to be examined). However, approval of the Audit Committee will be necessary. Approval of the Nomination & Remuneration Committee as provided under Section 197 of the Act will also be required.

b) Illustration:

Mr. X was appointed as the managing director in MNP Ltd. on 1st January 2020. MNP Ltd. is engaged in manufacturing automobiles. Mr. X holds a few patents in his name since July 2010 and he is requested by MNP Ltd. for a licence of 5 years of one of the patents for which an amount of Rs 50 lakh is proposed to be paid.

Although this transaction is with a related party, this transaction will be protected under the proviso to Section 197(4) of the Act. Section 188(1) of the Act will be attracted if the transaction is not on an arm's length basis. This transaction is in the same line of business as that of the company and obtaining a license of the patent will be in its ordinary course of business. However, approval of the Audit Committee will be necessary. Approval of the Nomination & Remuneration Committee as provided under Section 197 of the Act will also be required.

2) Various Issues and Views on Inter-Corporate Loans and Investments:

a) Issue: Will the requirement of passing a shareholder's resolution not be applicable for transactions entered into between a Holding company and its wholly owned subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with such holding company and placed for approval before the shareholders at the general meeting of the Holding company?

View: Yes, the fifth proviso to Section 188(1) provides that the requirement of passing the resolution under the first proviso of section (1) of Section 188 shall not be applicable for transactions entered into between a holding company and its wholly owned subsidiary whose accounts are consolidated with such holding company and placed before the shareholders at the general meeting for approval.

It is pertinent to observe that explanation (2) to Rule 15 of the Companies (Meetings of Board and its Powers) Rules, 2014 provides that in case of a wholly owned subsidiary, the resolution that is passed by the holding company would be sufficient for the purpose of entering into the transaction between the wholly owned subsidiary and the holding company. \

This will mean that in case the fifth proviso to Section 188(1) is not available to a company as the accounts are not so consolidated, then as per explanation (2) to Rule 15 a resolution passed by the holding company will be sufficient.

- b) Issue: Who determines that the transaction with related party is in the ordinary course of business? Is it the Board or the Audit Committee?

View: The Companies Act, 2013 does not clearly lay down tests for determining whether a transaction is in the ordinary course of business.

The Memorandum of Association of the company should be referred to for ascertaining whether the activity is covered in the objects clause therein. This is not a conclusive test but will assist in determining whether a transaction is in the ordinary course of business or not. The Audit Committee may decide whether a particular transaction is in the ordinary course of business and such decision will be based on the policy on transactions with related parties, if any. The company's policy on transactions with related parties should specify the parameters to guide the Audit Committee on whether a transaction is in the ordinary course of business or not. Apart from such a policy, a company may formulate guidelines approved by the Audit Committee and the Board of Directors on transactions with related parties. In such cases, the company can enter into transactions based on the approved guidelines and every transaction need not be placed before the Audit Committee for determining whether the same is in the ordinary course of business or not. In case the company does not have an Audit Committee, the decision as to whether a transaction is in the ordinary course of business or not will be taken by the Board.

- c) Issue: Will a transaction of payment of salary to an employee who is a relative of a Director, (where such payment is in the ordinary course of business and on arm's length) require disclosure as a related party transaction in the Board's Report?

View: The same need not be disclosed as a related party transaction in Form AOC-2 in the Board's Report unless the same is material in the context of the company's business.

- d) Issue: Is it required that items falling in the ambit of the fourth proviso to Section 188(1) of the Act i.e. transactions entered into by the company in its ordinary course of business other than transactions which are not on an arm's length basis, be mentioned in Form AOC-2?

View: Form AOC-2 uses the term 'material' and therefore if the transactions are material, the same will need disclosure. A transaction which is in the ordinary course of business and on arm's length basis but which is considered to be material will require disclosure in Form AOC-2. It is to be noted that approvals of the Board and the shareholders are not required if the transaction is in the ordinary course of business and on arm's length basis, but disclosure is required from the perspective of transparency.

- e) Issue: Where a Board meeting is held prior to the Audit Committee meeting and the Board approves a transaction with a related party. Can the Audit Committee approval be taken subsequently?

View: Yes. The legal requirement is clear that the transactions referred to in Section 188 require approval of the Audit Committee. Audit Committee approval after Board's approval is irregular but not illegal. Further, the approval of the Audit Committee should be obtained before the transaction.

- f) Issue: Whether approval of the Board will need to be taken by a wholly owned subsidiary which is not required to constitute an Audit Committee, for entering into transactions with related parties in the ordinary course of business and on an arm's length basis?

View: In such case, it is a good practice to place the item pertaining to related party(ies) before the Board. This is, however, not mandatory.

- g) Issue: Where transactions are between a holding company and its wholly owned subsidiary company, will Section 177 of the Act be attracted?

View: A transaction between a holding company and its wholly owned subsidiary company is exempted from the requirement of Audit Committee approval under Section 177 of the Act and as per Regulation 23 of the SEBI (LODR) Regulations in case of a listed company. However, if the transaction is a related party transaction i.e. of the nature falling under Section 188(1) of the Act, then approval of the Audit Committee will be required for such transaction.

In case of a transaction between a holding company and a subsidiary company which is not a wholly owned subsidiary, Sections 177 and 188 of the Act as well as Regulation 23 of the Listing Regulations will apply.

The company is required to check whether it is a transaction in the ordinary course of business and on an arm's length basis as per Section 188 of the Act. In case it is a material related party transaction for the purpose of Regulation 23 of Listing Regulations, then approval of shareholders will also be necessary.

- h) Issue: In case of a public company there are three Directors and all are related to each other and there is an item of business in which all the three directors are interested. What is the way forward in such a situation?

View: The Board may approve such items only if a dis-interested quorum is present. Otherwise, the matter would need to be placed for approval at a General Meeting. At a general meeting, if 90% or more of the number of members are related to the promoters or are related parties, then the related parties can also vote on the resolution to approve any contract or arrangement.

In case of a listed public company, the directors need to decide first on the proposed resolution and then the matter needs to be placed before the shareholders for approval.

3) Case Study

26.09.2019	ITC Ltd. (Appellant) vs. Securities and Exchange Board of India & Ors.(Respondents)	Securities Appellate Tribunal

Related-party transactions only contemplate transactions between a company and related party

Securities Appellate Tribunal(SAT): Coram of Justice Tarun Agarwala,(Presiding Officer), Justice M. T. Joshi(Judicial Member), and Dr. C. K. G. Nair (Member), dismissed an appeal filed by ITC Ltd. against the proposed sale transaction of the substantial assets of Hotel Leela ventures Ltd. (Leela) for which the impugned Postal Ballot Notice (PB Notice) was issued and allowed the appeal filed by JM Financial Asset Reconstruction Co. Ltd. (JMF ARC).

Fact of the Case

“Leela” under financial distress, had decided to restructure its debts under the Corporate Debt Restructuring (CDR) mechanism. The majority lender institutes agreed for the same. On 20-09-2012 the CDR package of Leela was approved. Thereafter, a Master Restructuring Agreement was executed on 25-09 2012 between Leela and State Bank of India (SBI) and other lenders on the other hand. Under the said Master Restructuring Agreement, Leela was to comply with certain terms and conditions, which it could not.

Thereafter, on 25-06-2014, a Trusteeship Agreement under the SARFAESI Act was executed between JMF ARC and the lenders under which a Trust was created named as JMF ARC-Hotels June 2014-Trust. This Trust had issued security receipts to these Joint Lenders and also offer documents were issued for the private placement of the said receipts. Eventually, the CDR package was declared as failed and on 30-06-2014, majority lenders had assigned Rs.4150.14 crore of debt to the Trust. JMF ARC paid Rs.865 crores upfront and issued security receipt worth Rs.3200 crores. It filed disclosures under Regulation 29(2) of the Takeover Regulations on 25-10-2017.

JMF ARC later filed a corporate insolvency resolution process before the National Company Law Tribunal Mumbai Bench (NCLT), the proceedings for which are pending.

Due to initiative of JMF ARC, a proposal was received from Brookfield for the “Asset Sale Transaction” of the Company’s assets and the additional transactions between Brookfield and some of the promoters. On 18-03-2019, the Board of Directors of Leela approved the framework agreement comprising the Asset Sale Transaction and PB Notice was issued. On 22-04-2019, the appellant ITC filed a Company Petition before the NCLT complaining of oppression and mismanagement, which too is pending before the NCLT. ITC argued that they were not allowed to obtain a copy of the Framework Agreement but could only take notes.

ITC objected that all the transactions were related party transactions which could not be generally put for the vote including the Promoters, Directors being related parties as also JMF ARC. Further, JMF ARC acting as a Merchant Banker Leela was also to gain a remuneration of Rs 70 cores besides its resolution of debt assigned to it by the lenders. Further, JMFARC had acquired 26% of the equity of Leela against the provisions of the Takeover Regulations, 2011, it should have been prohibited by SEBI from participating in the voting under the provisions of Regulation 32 of the Takeover Regulations.

SEBI had held that the transactions in question were not related party transactions. They stated that in acquiring 26% of the equity shares of the Leela by JMF ARC, only a technical breach has occurred which could be exempted.

Aggrieved by this order of not restraining Promoters/Directors of Leela and JMF ARC from voting, ITC filed an appeal before SAT.

All the respondents submitted that the appellant was a rival company which was trying to scuttle the transaction only to compel Leela to undergo the debt resolution under the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code. The appellant, on the other hand, submitted that the Directors and the Promoters of Respondent Leela were pushing ahead with their personal agenda of pocketing an amount of Rs 300 crores through the additional transaction.

The Tribunal answered the following issues:

- Whether the disputed transactions were related party transactions limiting the voting rights of the directors, promoters of the Leela and of JMF ARC?
- Whether JMF ARC could be completely prevented from voting in view of the Takeover Regulations?

Judgment

The Tribunal was of the view that it was not required of them to assess the proposed transaction to find as to whether it is in the interest of the investors. In view of objection to the voting rights or limitations on the voting rights of the directors/promoters of the respondents, the reliefs can be modified in terms of the relevant regulations. The appeal filed by ITC Ltd. was dismissed by the Tribunal citing the following regulations:

Takeover Regulations:

In view of the Takeover Regulations of 2011 an acquirer acquiring 25% or more shares, voting rights or control in a listed Company has to adopt the route as provided by the Takeover Regulations subject to certain exemptions. JMF ARC acquired 26% of the shares of the Company by claiming exemption as provided by Regulation 10 of the Takeover Regulations. SEBI in the impugned order held that the said acquisition was only a technical breach of the Regulations fit for exemption and did not exercise its power to issue directions as provided by Regulation 32 of the Takeover Regulations.

Corporate debt restructuring scheme was announced by the Reserve Bank of India through various circulars from time to time for the purpose of restructuring the debt of financially distressed companies in an attempt to revive such Companies. The circulars provided a basic framework. Specific plans were to be worked out for a Company inter alia regarding interest moratorium, plans of payment, etc. to be worked out in the agreement which would be approved by the Empowered Group of CDR scheme. In the event of default, the agreement can provide for certain contingencies. Clause 7.2 of the Master Restructuring Agreement provided for remedy upon default. Therefore, the covenant regarding conversion right would come into picture only when the CDR scheme fails i.e. default is made by the borrower in pursuance of the CDR scheme.

LODR Regulations: Related Party Transactions:

The appellant had objected the exercise of PB Notice asking all the shareholders including the respondents who are the promoters/directors of the in view of the fact that the proposed Asset Sale Transaction of the Company with Brookfield was a composite transaction to be consummated only when additional transactions with the promoters personally are also agreed. It was submitted that as the nature of the transaction was, the same would be a related party transaction attracting the provisions of Regulation 23 of the LODR Regulations.

Therefore, the entire transaction was held to be a composite transaction. Further, the additional transaction between Brookfield and ITC cannot also be termed as related party transactions and, therefore, the provisions of Regulation 23 of the LODR Regulations would not be attracted.

4) Clarification on applicability of regulation 23 of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 in relation to Related Party Transactions (SEBI Circular No. - SEBI/HO/CFD/CMD1/CIR/P/2022/40 dated 30th March, 2022)

Lesson 12- An overview of Corporate Reorganization

1) Case Law

In the matter of Mohit Agro Commodities & Ors. NCLAT, dated June 28, 2021

When the ‘Transferor and Transferee Company’ involve a Parent Company and a Wholly Owned Subsidiary the meeting of Equity Shareholders, Secured and Unsecured Creditors can be dispensed with as the rights of the Equity Shareholders of the ‘Transferee Company’ are not being affected

Fact of the Case

The Appellant Company (‘Transferor Company’ and ‘Transferee Company’) filed Applications under Sections 230 to 232 and other relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 seeking dispensation of the meeting of the Equity Shareholders, Secured Creditors and Unsecured Creditors in respect of the scheme of Amalgamation of the ‘Transferor Company’ with the ‘Transferee Company’ with effect from the appointed date on the aggrieved terms and conditions has set out in the scheme in accordance with Sections 230 to 232 of the Companies Act, 2013 and other applicable provisions of the Act. It is contented that there is no change in the capital structure of the ‘Transferor Company’ till the date of approval of the schemes by the Board of Directors.

It is further stated that the ‘Transferor Company’ is a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the ‘Transferee Company’ and that both the Companies are incorporated in similar type of nature of activities and that the ‘Transferee Company’ had acquired the ‘Transferor Company’ as a business supportive mechanism for ease of operations.

Judgment

The NCLAT has observed that Section 232(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 uses the word ‘may’ which introduces an element of discretion to the Tribunal to be exercised in the interest of justice in appropriate situations. Section 232 is a specific provision carved out by the Legislature when both conditions maintained in clauses (a) and (b) of sub-Section (1) of Section 232 are met.

In the instant case the amalgamation sought for is between a Wholly Owned Subsidiary and the Holding Company. The point which needs to be noted is:

- whether such an arrangement alters the rights of the Stakeholders of the Company?
- whether such an amalgamation has any bearing internally on Creditors/Members of both the Companies?
- whether not holding the subject meeting would amount to violation of any of the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013?
- whether the Tribunal can exercise their discretion when the ‘Transferor Company’ is a Wholly Owned Subsidiary of the ‘Transferee Company’ and financial position of the ‘Transferee Company’ is positive and the merger is not affecting the rights of the Shareholders or the Creditors?

Therefore, it is held that the rights and liabilities of Secured and Unsecured Creditors were not getting affected in any manner by way of the proposed scheme as no new shares are being issued by the ‘Transferor Company’ and no compromise is offered to any Secured and Unsecured Creditors of the ‘Transferee Company’. Hence, when the ‘Transferor and Transferee Company’ involve a Parent Company and a Wholly Owned Subsidiary the meeting of Equity Shareholders, Secured Creditors and Unsecured Creditors can be dispensed with as the rights of the Equity Shareholders of the ‘Transferee Company’ are not being affected.

4) Various Issues and Views on Independent Director – Section 149(6)

- a. Issue: Whether the spouse of Secretarial Auditor or Statutory Auditors of the company, be appointed as an independent director in the company?

View: According to Section 149(6)(e)(ii) of the Act, an independent director in relation to a company, means who neither himself nor any of his relatives is or has been an employee or proprietor or a partner, in any of the three financial years immediately preceding the financial year in which he is proposed to be appointed, of a firm of auditors or company secretaries in practice or cost auditors of the company or its holding, subsidiary or associate company. Hence such a person whose spouse is the secretarial auditor/statutory auditor of the company cannot be appointed as an independent director in that company.

- b. Issue: Can a friend of a director be considered as independent?

View: Law does not prohibit the appointment of a friend of a director of the company as an independent director, if he fulfils all the legal requirements.

- c. Issue: Can a Spouse of an independent director be appointed as an independent director?

View: No, a Spouse of an independent director cannot be appointed as an independent director. Refer to Section 149(6)(b)(ii) which provides that an independent director in relation to a company means one who is not related to promoters or directors in the company, its holding, subsidiary or associate company.

- d. Issue: Can an independent director be appointed for the first term as an additional director by the board of directors of a company?

View: Section 150(2) of the Act provides that “the appointment of independent director shall be approved by the company in general meeting as provided in sub-section (2) of section 152”. Section 152(2) of the Act mandates that save as otherwise expressly provided in the Act, every director shall be appointed by the company in general meeting. Section 161(1) of the Act confers on the Board of Directors of a company the power to appoint any person, other than a person who fails to get appointed as a director in a general meeting, as an additional director at any time who shall hold office up to the date of the next annual general meeting or the last date on which the annual general meeting should have been held, whichever is earlier.

On a holistic reading of sections 150(2), 152(2) and 161 of the Act, it is clear that the Act confers the power on the Board to appoint additional directors designated as independent directors subject to approval of the shareholders at the general meeting of the company.

Further schedule IV of the Act provides that “the appointment of independent director(s) of the company shall be approved at the meeting of the shareholders.”

The requirement of the above sections read with Schedule IV and Section 149 (4) do not imply that there is a requirement of prior approval of shareholders for appointment of an independent director. Therefore, it can be said that an independent director can be appointed by the Board as an additional director and his appointment can be approved by the shareholders at the next annual general meeting, as required under section 161(1) and schedule IV to the Act, with effect from the date of the Board meeting. The period of five years shall be counted from the effective date of appointment as approved by the Board in its meeting. Hence, the period between the effective date of appointment of independent director by the Board and the date of approval by the shareholders shall be considered as part of the first term of the independent director.

Further as per second proviso to rule 4(1) of the Companies (Appointment and Qualification of Directors) Rules, 2014, any intermittent vacancy of an independent director shall be filled-up by the Board at the earliest but not later than immediate next Board meeting or three months from the date of such vacancy, whichever is later. This further substantiates the above conclusion that appointment of independent directors can be done by the Board as additional director subject to approval of shareholders at the general meeting.

- e. Issue: Can an independent director be appointed as an additional director by the Board of Directors of a company for a second term once his first term is over?

View: In order to reply to the aforesaid, it is imperative to look into the provisions of section 149(10) of the Act which provides as under: “an independent director shall hold office for a term up to five consecutive years on the Board of a company, but shall be eligible for reappointment on passing of a special resolution by the company.” Further section 149(11) of the Act provides as under: “Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (10), no independent director shall hold office for more than two consecutive terms, but such independent director shall be eligible for appointment after the expiration of three years of ceasing to become an independent director”.

The term “Consecutive” has not been defined in the Act. However reference of the word “consecutive” can be drawn from Merriem Webster dictionary, which provides the meaning as following one after the other or successive. This effectively means both the terms have to follow each other. Similarly, in the Webster dictionary, the term “eligible” is referred to in the context a person or thing that is qualified or permitted to do or be something. The term “re-appointment” is also defined in the Webster dictionary as “to name officially to a position for a second or subsequent time”.

While going through the aforesaid definitions as used in sections 149(10) and 149(11), it becomes clear that an independent director is eligible to be reappointed for a second term only on passing of special resolution by the shareholders and not before. Therefore, obtaining shareholders’ consent prior to his reappointment for a second term, in considered view, is a pre-requisite for the independent director to be eligible to serve on the Board of the company for a second term.

If the shareholders’ approval by special resolution for his reappointment for second term is not taken as on the last date of the first term, then such independent director cannot be re-appointed by Board as an additional director for second term, as he does not possess the eligibility to get re-appointed for second term and hence, he ceases to be a director at the end of his first term.

- f. Issue: Whether Circular resolution is allowed for appointment of an independent director while appointing him for the first term?

View: There is no restriction on appointment of an independent director by way of a circular resolution, if he is to be appointed by the Board as an additional director. However, it must be ensured that Nomination and Remuneration Committee of the company has duly discussed and recommended the candidate, before circulation of Board resolution.

- g. Issue: Can appointment of independent director be done to fill the casual vacancy created by resignation of any other independent director?

View: Whenever any existing independent director ceases to be a director of company either due to resignation, death or otherwise, then in order to ensure the requisite Board composition, a new independent director should be appointed. The Board can appoint an individual either as an additional director under section 161(1) of the Act to hold office till the next annual general meeting of the company or he can be appointed as a director in the casual vacancy to fill the vacancy created in the office of independent director. It may be noted that if a director is appointed by the Board to fill the casual vacancy (as mentioned above), then as per Section 161(4) read with Annexure A to the Secretarial Standard on Meetings of the Board of Directors (SS-1), his appointment should be approved at a Board meeting and not through resolution by circulation. Such appointment should also be approved by the members in the immediate next general meeting. Further, as per proviso to section 161(4) of the Act, such director shall hold office only up to the date up to which the director in whose place he is appointed would have held the office of independent director, if had not been vacated. Hence, the first term of such newly appointed independent director shall be for a term lesser than 5 years, which he would have otherwise got if he had been appointed as an Additional Director.

- h. Issue: Whether end of first term of director without re-appointment for second term or end of the second term of an Independent Director terminates directorships of a director?

View: Under section 149(10) of the Act, an independent director shall hold office for a term up to five consecutive years on the Board of a company, but shall be eligible for re-appointment on passing of a special resolution by the company based on the recommendation of the Nomination and Remuneration Committee and Board of Directors of the company and disclosure of such appointment shall be made in the Board's Report. Since the term used is holding office for a term up to five consecutive years the independent director will cease to be a Director on the expiry of his term of five years. Hence, the director will lose/ vacate his directorship also on the expiry of the first term or the second term as the case may be.

- i. Issue: If a known person is to be appointed as Independent Director, should his name be mentioned in Databank?

View: Any individual who intends to get appointed as an independent director in a company shall before such appointment shall register his name with the databank of independent directors.

Lesson 19- General Meetings

1) Various practical aspects on General Meetings

a. Illustration:

Mr. X, Ms. Y (wife of Mr. X) and Mr. C (son of X & Y) are the Directors of XYZ Ltd. They are also the Members of XYZ Ltd. Along with 4 other persons who are brothers and sisters of Mr. X. XYZ Ltd. proposes to hold the General Meeting at the residence of Mr. X.

In this case, since only the directors and their relatives are members of the company and the residence of Mr. X is generally known to all Members of XYZ Ltd. and can be easily located, the route-map and prominent landmark is not required to be provided in the Notice.

b. Illustration:

XYZ Ltd. proposes to enter into a contract with PQR Ltd. Mr. X and Mr. Y, who are promoters of XYZ Ltd. hold 1.5% and 0.5% of the total paid-up share capital of PQR Ltd. respectively. In this case, the shareholding of both, Mr. X and Mr. Y should be disclosed in the explanatory statement of the Notice of General Meeting of XYZ Ltd., since the extent of their shareholding collectively is not less than two percent of the paid-up share capital of PQR Ltd.

c. Illustration:

Say, a company XYZ Ltd. wish to hold its General Meeting at a shorter notice, immediately after the Board Meeting on same day and the required consent from 95% of the Members entitled to vote at the Meeting is received before the time fixed for commencement of Meeting. Although in such a case the consent of 95% Members entitled to vote at the meeting is received, still the proxy requirements need to be complied with by the Company.

In other words, in the above case the Board Meeting and General Meeting can't be held on the same day.

d. Illustration:

Considering the above illustration, if the consent of all the Members (i.e. 100%) entitled to vote at such Meeting is received before the time fixed for commencement of the Meeting, the proxy requirements need not be complied with. In other words, in such a case the Board Meeting and General Meeting can be held on the same day.

e. Illustration:

Consider a company where the number of Members was originally large, say 500, and the Quorum fixed by the Articles was 100 Members present. Subsequently, 450 Members sold their shares which were acquired by some of the remaining 50 Members. Here, proceedings will be valid if all Members are present in person. In the given case, if less than 50 Members are present, there shall be no Quorum.

f. Illustration:

Assume that the General Meeting of a company is scheduled on 22nd September 2020 and company has received 4 proxies for the same holdings of a Member dated with 5th, 12th, 10th and 20th September 2020. The proxy dated last should be considered valid i.e. 20th. However, if the proxies received are not dated or bear the same date without mention of time, all proxies should be treated as invalid.

Lesson 20 - Virtual Meetings

1) The Companies (Meetings of Board and its Powers) Amendment Rules, 2021 (Notification No: G.S.R. 409(E), dated June 15, 2021)*

The MCA vide Notification dated June 15, 2021 has omitted Rule 4 of the Companies (Meetings of Board and its Powers) Rules, 2014 which was related to the matters not to be dealt with in a meeting through video conferencing or other audio-visual means.

Accordingly, with the said amendment, now the following previously restricted matters can be considered in a Board Meeting held through video conferencing or other audiovisual means, namely: -

- i. the approval of the annual financial statements;
- ii. the approval of the Board's report;
- iii. the approval of the prospectus;
- iv. the Audit Committee Meetings for consideration of financial statement including consolidated financial statement if any, to be approved by the board under section 134 (1) of the Companies Act, 2013; and
- v. the approval of the matter relating to amalgamation, merger, demerger, acquisition and takeover.

2) Case Laws

1) Achintya Kumar Barua alias Manju Baruah and Ors.Vs. Ranjit Barthkur Company Appeal (AT) No. 17 of 2018 February 08, 2018

NCLAT: Participation in board meeting through video conferencing – Whether right of a director is subject to availability of facility by company?

The NCLAT observed that Section 173(2) gives right to a Director to participate in the meeting through videoconferencing or other audio-visual means and the Central Government has notified Rules to enforce this right and it would be in the interest of the companies to comply with the provisions in public interest.

- It is clear that the Rules require that the company shall comply with the procedure prescribed for convening and conducting the Board meetings through video-conferencing or other audio-visual means.

- The Chairperson and Company Secretary, if any, have to take due and reasonable care as specified in Rule 3(2) of the Companies (Meetings of the Board and its Power) Rules, 2014.

- The appellant contented that sub-Rule (2)(e) puts the burden on the Chairperson to ensure that no person other than the concerned Director is attending and this would not be possible for Chairperson to ensure in video-conferencing.

c The NCLAT observed that they do not find force in the submission as Rules, read as a whole are a complete scheme.

Sub-Clause (4)(d) of Rule 3 puts responsibility on the Director participating also. The Chairperson will ensure compliance of sub-Clause (e) or Clause (2) and the Director will need to satisfy the Chairperson that Sub-Clause (d) of Clause 4 is being complied.

- Appellants tried to rely on the Secretarial Standard on Meetings of the Board of Directors to submit that the guidelines are that such participation can be done “if the Company provides such facility”. NCLAT observed that such guidelines cannot override the provisions under the Rules. The mandate of Section 173(2) read with Rules mentioned above cannot be avoided by the companies.

- Hence, NCLAT came to the conclusion that the provisions of section 173(2) of the 2013 Act are mandatory and the companies not be permitted to make any deviations therefrom and directed non-applicants before it to provide the facilities as per Section 173(2) of the New Act subject to fulfilling the requirements of Rule 3(3)(e) of the Rules.
