Lesson 16: Intellectual Property laws (Provisions applicable for Setting up of Business)

In today’s world, the abundant supply of goods and services on the markets has made life very challenging for any business, big or small. In its on-going quest to remain ahead of competitors in this environment, every business strives to create new and improved products (goods and services) that will deliver greater value to users and customers than the products offered by competitors. To differentiate their products - a prerequisite for success in today’s markets - businesses rely on innovations that reduce production costs and/or improve product quality. In a crowded marketplace, businesses have to make an on-going effort to communicate the specific value offered by their product through effective marketing that relies on well thought-out branding strategies. In the current knowledge-driven, private sector oriented economic development paradigm, the different types of intangible assets of a business are often more important and valuable than its tangible assets. A key subset of intangible assets is protected by what are labelled collectively as intellectual property rights (IPRs). These include trade secrets protection, copyright, design and trademark rights, and patents, as well as other types of rights. IPRs create tradable assets out of products of human intellect, and provide a large array of IPR tools on which businesses can rely to help drive their success through innovative business models. Under this background, this chapter aims to address various provisions of Intellectual Property Rights applicable for setting up business in India.

With the recognition of Right to Healthy Environment as a human right under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and its related covenants, measures are taken at full force to enforce these rights and guard the right to environment at parity. With the endowed protection to environment under the Constitution and Specific Statutes, all the personas be it natural or legal including a Company owes a duty to conduct themselves in such a manner that their act or omission should not pollute the environment. Therefore, a company is necessitated to abide by various laws in order to protect the environment. A brief list of the statutory protection to environment is discussed in this chapter.

Lesson 19: Dormant Company

Companies are generally classified on the basis of their incorporation, number of members, size, basis of control and motive. Additionally, companies can also be classified based on their status. Sometimes, the promoters of a company may feel the need to temporarily close down the company due to various reasons, but they do not want to dissolve it. In such cases, the company may become dormant as against an active company which is carrying on business. Thus, on the basis of its status, companies may be classified into active, dormant, under liquidation, under process of striking off, strike off, dissolved, amalgamated, etc. The ‘status’ of the company signifies the current state of the company - Whether it is active and operating OR dormant OR it has been struck off and closed.

As a company secretary, one must be aware of the procedure of obtaining status of dormant company, active company, the compliances involved for a dormant company etc.

Lesson 20: Strike Off and Restoration of Name of the Company and LLP

The choice of a business organisation is driven by a combination of several factors such as nature of activity, capital requirement, degree of independence required, etc. There is no readymade formula for selecting the particular type of business organisation. Tax consideration is also an extremely important factor.

Company Secretaries while playing advisory role would help the clients in deciding about the type of organisation one may opt for when considering to start a business.

In this lesson, we shall examine the factors which are taken into account in choosing a form of business organisation. Brief outline of the various forms of business organisation is also covered.
CHOICE OF A BUSINESS ORGANISATION

Business organisation refers to all necessary arrangements required to conduct a business in an optimized manner. It refers to all those steps that need to be undertaken for establishing and maintaining relationship between men, material, and machinery to carry on the business efficiently for earning profits. This may be called the process of planning and organising which are the integral part of the business management. The arrangement which follows this process of organising the factors required for commencing and carrying on the business is called a business undertaking or organisation.

Choosing a form of business entity is crucial to a successful organization. The choice of a business entity will depend on an object, nature and size of the business of such entity which will be varied from case-to-case basis and will also depend upon the will of the owners of the business entity which they want to accomplish. The main types of business entities in India are Sole Proprietorship, Partnership, Hindu Undivided Family (HUF) Business, Limited Liability Partnership (LLP), Co-operative Societies, Branch Office and Company which may be any kind of company including one person company (OPC), private limited company, public limited company, guarantee company, subsidiary company, statutory company, insurance company or unlimited company. Further, Company formed under section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 or under section 25 of the earlier Companies Act of 1956 is a non-profit business entity. There can also be Association of Persons (AOP) and Body of Individuals (BOI), Corporation, Co-operative Society, Trust etc.
Essentially, companies could be either private limited or public limited companies. Public limited companies could be unlisted or listed. Each entity must sit down and carefully consider all the advantages and disadvantages of each type of entity before choosing one of the form of business entity which suited best to the nature and size of the business which the entrepreneur / business owner desires to undertake.

A business enterprise can be owned and organized in several forms. Each form of organization has its own merits and demerits. The ultimate choice of the form of business depends upon the balancing of the advantages and disadvantages of the various forms of business. The right choice of the form of the business is very crucial because it determines the power, control, risk and responsibility of the entrepreneur as well as the division of profits and losses. Being a long-term commitment, the choice of the form of business should be made after considerable thought and deliberation. The selection of a suitable form of business organisation is an important entrepreneurial decision because it influences the success and growth of a business — e.g., it determines the division or distribution of profits, the risk associated with business, and so on.

Once a form of business organisation is chosen, it is very difficult to switch over to another form because it needs the winding up, dissolution of the existing organisation which may be treated as a case which is raised by oneself to face with the complex issues and procedures which ultimately results into the waste of time, effort and money. Further, closure of business will entail loss of business opportunity, capital and employment. The volume of risks and liabilities as well as the willingness of the owners to bear it, is also an important consideration in choosing the right business entity.

Therefore, the form of business organisation must be chosen after giving the due thought and consideration in respect of all the sides of the glorious coin of each form of business entity and its suitability to the business ideas of an entrepreneur. There are several factors to be considered while selecting an appropriate form of business organisation.

As discussed earlier, the different forms of private ownership organisation differ from each other in respect of division of profit, control, risk, legal formalities, flexibility, etc.

Therefore, a thoughtful consideration should be given to this aspect of planning and only that form of organisation which most suited to the style of business should be chosen. Since the need for the selection of business organisation arises both initially, while starting a business, and at a later stage for meeting the needs of its growth and expansion, it is desirable to address this issue at both these levels.

FACTORS GOVERNING THE DECISIONS FOR SUITABLE FORM OF ORGANISATION

For a new or proposed business, the selection of a suitable form of a business organisation is generally governed by the following factors:

1. Nature of business activity

   This is an important factor having a direct bearing on the choice of a form of ownership. In small trading businesses, professions, and rendering of personal services, sole-proprietorship is predominant.

   Examples are Laundromats, beauty parlours, repair shops, consulting agencies, small retail stores, medicine stores, dentist, accounting concerns, boarding-house, restaurants, specialty ships, jobbing builders, painters, decorators, bakers, confectioners, tailoring shops, small scale shoe repairers and manufacturers, etc.

   The partnership is suitable in all those cases where sole proprietorship is suitable, provided the business is to be carried on a slightly bigger scale with help of one or more partner (owner).

   Besides, partnership is also advantageous in case of manufacturing activities on a modest scale. The finance, trading and real estate industries (on a smaller scale) seem to be suited to partnership form of organisation. Some of the financial businesses that find this form advantageous are tax, accounting, stockbrokerage firms, and consulting agencies etc.
Service enterprises like hotels and lodging places; trading enterprises, such as wholesale trade, retail houses; small scale manufacturing enterprises, small drug manufacturers, etc. can be undertaken in the form of partnership. Similarly, the business lines such as carrying on large chain stores, multiple shops, super-bazaars, engineering industrial activities with high capital and working capital requirements and software industrial activities are generally in the form of companies.

Where the persons intending to start a business wish to launch a business organisation clothed with a legal entity and in corporate form with a feature of having their sole ownership and control thereon, they may decide to form a One-Person Company (OPC). OPC is a new concept in India and hybrid of Sole-Proprietor and Company form of business. The concept opens spectacular possibilities for sole proprietors and entrepreneurs as, such companies retain the character of a Sole Proprietorship, provides limited liability feature to the sole proprietor and is clothed with a legal entity distinct from its owner.

An alternative form of organisation where two or more persons are involved in starting the business organisation is the Limited Liability Partnership (‘LLP’) under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008. Such entities have also gained popularity nowadays. A major advantage of such an entity is that the liabilities (if any), of the LLP lies with the entity and does not fall on the individual partners unlike the partnership form of business organisation under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932, where the joint and several liabilities of the partner(s) is one of the features.

In an LLP form, the liability of the Partner is limited to the extent of his contribution towards the LLP, except in case of intentional fraud or wrongful act of omission or commission by the partner himself. What is at stake for the partner is what he has put into the business along with any personal guarantees he would have furnished. However, such forms of business organisation are suitable generally in the service industry and where there is no dependence on large amounts of financing from outside sources.

A One-Person Company (OPC), LLP and limited company exist as a separate business entity in the eyes of law and this creates a wall between the personal assets of the investor and that of the business. Thus, in these form of business organisations the personal property of the owner(s) is protected and this gives the owner(s) the ability to build the business credit, get loans and raise capital.

2. Scale of operations

The second factor that affects the form of business organisation is the scale of operations. If the scale of operations of business activities is small, sole proprietorship or a One Person Company (OPC) is suitable; if the scale of operations is modest — neither too small nor too large — partnership or limited liability partnership (LLP) is preferable; whereas, in case of large scale of operations, the company form is advantageous.
The scale of business operations depends upon the size of the market area served, which, in turn, depends upon the size of demand for goods and services. If the market area is small, local, sole-proprietorship, OPC or partnership is opted. If the demand originates from a large area, partnership including LLP or Company may be adopted.

3. Capital requirements

Capital is one of the most crucial factors affecting the choice of a particular form of ownership organisation. Requirement of capital is closely related to the type of business and scale of operations. Enterprises requiring heavy investment (like iron and steel plants, large scale infrastructure projects, etc.) should be organised as companies. Depending on the capital required, they can be set up as public companies and in some cases, may be in the form of listed companies by raising money from the public and being listed on the stock exchanges.

Enterprises requiring small investment (like retail business stores, personal service enterprises, etc.) can be best organised as sole proprietorships or even as Partnerships. Apart from the initial capital required to start a business, the future capital requirements—to meet modernisation, expansion, and diversification plans—also affect the choice of form of organisation.

In sole proprietorship, the owner may raise additional capital by borrowing, by purchasing on credit, and by investing additional amounts himself. Banks and suppliers, however, will look closely at the proprietor’s individual financial resources before sanctioning any loans or advances.

Partnerships can often raise funds with greater ease, since the resources and credit of all partners are combined in a single enterprise. Companies are usually best able to attract capital because investors are assured that their liability will be limited, their operations are in public domain in the transparent manner, easily accessible and the ownership can be transferred to other investors.

4. Managerial Ability

It is difficult for a sole proprietor to have expertise in all functional areas of business. Further, the size of the business may not permit engagement of professional management.

In other forms of organizations like partnership and company, there is division of work among the partners which allows the partners to specialize in specific areas, leading to better outputs and decision making. However, this may sometimes lead to conflicts due to differences of opinion. Company form of organization is a better alternative if the operations are far flung, complex in nature and require professional management at various levels.

5. Degree of control and management

The degree of control and management that an entrepreneur desires to have over business affects the choice of form of organisation. In sole proprietorship and OPC, ownership, management, and control are completely fused, and therefore, an entrepreneur has complete control over his business. In partnership, management and control of business is jointly shared by the partners and their specific rights, duties and responsibilities would be documented through incorporating various clauses in this regard in the partnership deed.

They have equal voice in the management of partnership business except where they agree to divide among themselves the business responsibilities in a different manner. Even then, they are legally accountable to each other. In a company, however, there is divergence between ownership and management, the management and control of the company business is entrusted to the Board, who are generally the elected representatives of shareholders.

Thus, a person wishing to have complete and direct control of business prefers proprietary organisation rather than partnership or company. If he is prepared to share it with others, he will choose partnership. But, if the activities are large, professional managers are required to handle the day to day affairs and there is need for corporate structure and management, he will prefer the company form of organisation.

6. Degree of risk and liability

The size of risk and the willingness of owners to bear it, is an important consideration in the selection of a form of business organisation. The amount of risk involved in a business depends, among other factors like, on the nature and size of business. Smaller the size of business, smaller the amount of risk.

Thus, a sole proprietary business carries small amount of risk with it as compared to partnership or company. However, the sole proprietor is personally liable for all the debts of the business to the extent of his entire property. Likewise, in partnership, partners are individually and jointly responsible for the liabilities of the partnership firm.

Companies and LLPs have a real advantage, as far as the risk is concerned, over the other forms of business organisation. Creditors can force payment of their claims only to the limit of the company’s and LLPs assets. Thus, while a shareholder/member/partner may lose the entire money he puts into or agreed to put into the company and LLP, he cannot be forced to contribute additional funds out of his own pocket to satisfy the business debts of the company and LLP.

7. Stability of business

Stability of business is another factor that governs the choice of an ownership organisation. A stable business is preferred by the owners in so far as it helps him in attracting suppliers of capital who look for safety of investment and regular return, and also helps in getting competent workers and managers who look for security of service and opportunities of advancement. From this point of view, sole proprietorships are not stable, although no time limit is placed on them by law.

The illness of owner may derange the business and his death cause the demise of the business. Partnerships are also unstable, since they are terminated by the death, insolvency, insanity, retirement, admission, expulsion or withdrawal of/ by one of the partners. Companies and LLPs have the most business stability due to its feature or perpetuity being an artificial or legal person. The life of the company and LLP is not dependent upon the life of its members/partners. Members/partners may come, members/partners may go, but the company/LLP goes on forever unless and until it being wound up.

8. Flexibility of administration

As far as possible, the form of organisation chosen should allow flexibility of administration. The flexibility of administration is closely related to the internal organisation of a business, i.e., the manner in which organisational activities are structured into departments, sections, and units with a clear definition of authority and responsibility.

The internal organisation of a sole proprietary business, for instance, is very simple, and therefore, any change in its administration can be effected with least inconvenience and loss. To the large extent, the case is the same in a partnership business also. While, in case of company, administration is not that flexible because its activities are conducted on a large scale and they are quite rigidly structured.

Any substantial change in the existing line of business activity — say from cotton textiles to sugar manufacturing — may not be permitted by law if such a provision is not made in the ‘objects clause’ of the Memorandum of Association of the company. Thus, from flexibility point of view, sole proprietorship has a distinct edge over other forms.

9. Division of profit

Profit is the guiding force of private business and it has a tremendous influence on the selection of a particular form of business organisation. An entrepreneur desiring to pocket all the profits of business will naturally prefer sole proprietorship.
Of course, in sole proprietorship, the personal liability is also unlimited.

But, if he is willing to share the profits, partnership form of organisation would be preferred. In company organisation, however, the profits (whenever the Board of Directors decides) are distributed among shareholders in proportion to their shareholding, but the liability of the shareholders is also limited. The rate at which dividend is to be distributed is decided by the Board, though approved by the shareholders. Companies may also reward shareholders by issue of bonus shares. In case of listed companies, the equity shares are tradeable on the stock exchanges, enabling the shareholders to exit the company at any time as per their own discretion.

10. Costs, procedure, and government regulation

This is also an important factor that should be taken into account while choosing a particular form of organisation. Different forms of organisation involve different procedure for establishment and are governed by different laws which affect the immediate and long-term functioning of a business enterprise. From this point of view, sole proprietorships are the easiest and cheapest to get started. There is no government regulation. What is necessary is the technical competence and the business acumen of the owner and the requirement of meeting tax liabilities.

Partnerships are also quite simple to be initiated. Even a written document is not necessarily a prerequisite since an oral agreement can be equally effective. However, in actual practice, written partnership deed is usually entered into, as it is needed for registration of the firm and for tax authorities. The procedure for dissolution of partnership is also, relatively simple.

Company form of business organisation is more complicated to form. It can be created by law, dissolved by law, and operate under the express provisions of the law. In the formation of a company, a number of legal formalities have to be gone through which entails, at times, quite a substantial amount of expenditure. Further, various formalities have to be complied with for closure of companies. Non-payment of dues may land the company into insolvency or liquidation.

For example, the cost incurred on the drafting of the Memorandum of Association, the Articles of Association, the Prospectus, issuing of share capital, etc. can be quite high. This cost is however, small in case of private companies. Besides, companies are subjected to a large number of anti-monopoly and other economic laws so that they do not hamper the public interest.

11. Tax implication

In the choice of the form of business organisation, tax implication plays an important factor. In smaller entities, such as sole proprietorship or partnership, tax liability is dependent on the extent of profits. However, the liability of the owner(s) is unlimited. In case of companies or LLPs the liability of shareholders is limited to the value of shares they have purchased. In case of companies or LLPs, tax liability could be higher.

The applicable tax rates for different forms of business organisation are summarised below:

(i) Sole Proprietorship

In case of sole proprietorship (where the age of the proprietor is less than 60 years), the income tax rates for assessment year 2019-20 is Nil for taxable income upto Rs.2,50,000, 5% for taxable income between Rs.2,50,000 to Rs.5,00,000, 20% for taxable income between Rs.5,00,000 to Rs.10,00,000 and 30% for taxable income above Rs.10,00,000. If the proprietor is between 60 years & 80 years, upto 300,000, income tax rate is Nil. If the proprietor is above 80 years of age, more tax concession is available, upto 5,00,000, Income Tax if Nil.

(ii) Partnership firm

Partnership firms in India can be divided into two categories namely, registered partnership or unregistered partnership. Registered partnership firms are those firms having a registration certificate from the Registrar of Firms. All other partnerships that do not have a registration certificate would be classified as an unregistered partnership firm. Under Income Tax Act, a partnership firm is defined as “Persons who have entered into a partnership with one another are called individually “partners” and collectively “a firm”, and the name under which their business is carried on is called the “firm name”.

Partnership firms (including Limited Liability Partnership Firm) are liable to pay income tax at the rate of 30% of total income. In addition to the income tax, a partnership firm is liable to pay income tax surcharge on the amount of income tax at the rate of 12%, when total income exceeds Rs. 1 crore. However, the surcharge shall be subject to marginal relief (where income exceeds one crore rupees, the total amount payable as income-tax and surcharge shall not exceed total amount payable as income-tax on total income of one crore rupees by more than the amount of income that exceeds one crore rupees).

In addition to the income tax and surcharge, a partnership firm must pay

(a) education cess at the rate of 2% on tax plus surcharge;
(b) secondary and higher education cess at the rate of 1% on tax plus surcharge.
(c) The above-mentioned cess is applicable on the amount of income tax and the applicable surcharge at the rate of 1%.

Similar to a private limited company or LLP, partnership firms are also required to pay alternate minimum tax at the rate of 18.5% of “adjusted total income”. Alternate minimum tax would be increased by the applicable surcharge, education cess and secondary and higher education cess.

(iii) Domestic Company

Net Profit of a domestic company (including a Limited Liability Partnership to which the Income Tax rates for domestic companies is applicable) is taxable at 30%. However, tax rate is 25% if turnover or gross receipt of the company in the previous year 2018-19 does not exceed 250 crore. In addition, there is:

(a) Surcharge at 7% of tax where total income exceeds Rs.1 crore and below Rs.10 Crores and 12% of tax where total income exceeds Rs.10 crores and
(b) Education Cess at 2% of tax plus surcharge
(c) Secondary and Higher Education Cess at 1% of income tax and surcharge.

(iv) Co-operative Society

The tax rate is 10% for taxable income upto Rs.10,000, 20% for taxable income between Rs.10,000 to Rs. 20,000 and 30% for taxable income above Rs.20,000. In addition, there is:

(a) Surcharge at 12% of tax where total income exceeds Rs. 1 crore; However, the surcharge shall be subject to marginal relief (where income exceeds one crore rupees, the total amount payable as income-tax and surcharge shall not exceed total amount payable as income-tax on total income of one crore rupees by more than the amount of income that exceeds one crore rupees).
(b) Education Cess at 2% of tax plus surcharge
(c) Secondary and Higher Education Cess at 1% of income tax and surcharge.

12. Geographical mobility

The extent to which the product or service is proposed to be manufactured or made available also plays a vital role in choosing the type of business organisation. If a concern deals with local market, a seasonal product or perishable goods, or is meant to cater to a specific city or locality, then sole proprietorship or partnership form of business may be suitable. If it is proposed to market the product or service all over India (which may also entail providing customer support services), a company form of organisation may be preferred.
Lesson 1  Choice of Business Organisation

13. Transferability of ownership

Sole proprietorship, being a one-person entity does not lend itself to transferability of ownership as the owner himself enjoys the profits and suffers the losses in his business. Partnership form of organisation is one where two or more partners share the profits and/or losses in the agreed proportion. If a partner exits, the partnership, may decide to induct a new partner with benefits of ownership and share of profits or losses. In the company form of organisation, transfer of ownership is possible by transfer of shareholding by any person or group of persons in favour of another person or group of persons.

14. Managerial Needs

Managerial and administrative requirements also affect the decision about the form of organisation. When the concern is small and it caters to local needs only then one person will be enough to manage the business. Sole – proprietorship form of organisation will be suitable for such a business. If business caters to more areas, then more persons will be needed to look after various business functions in various areas. When a business is run on a large – scale basis, it will require the services of specialists to manage various departments. The company form of organisation will be suitable for such concerns.

15. Secrecy

Secrecy is of supreme importance, particularly in small business concerns. Accordingly, the entrepreneur would select the sole proprietorship for that reason. In case, he has partners, he will have to carefully weigh whether other partners will be able to maintain the secrecy. He will have to exercise great care in taking partners. In case of a company, secrecy may be restricted to the manufacturing process or the manner in which business is conducted. However, certain aspects of their business such as their board of directors, shareholding, financial statements and other information which are statutorily required to be placed in public domain are accessible to any person.

16. Independence

The company is subject to strict government regulations. So, if the entrepreneur wants to have a freedom in business with little governmental interference, he has to go for either sole proprietorship or partnership.

CONCLUSION

The consideration of the various factors listed above clearly shows that:

(a) These factors do not exist in isolation, but are interdependent, and all these factors are important in their own right. Nevertheless, the factors of nature of business and scale of operations are the most basic ones in the selection of a form of ownership for setting up of a business organisation.

All other factors are dependent on these basic considerations. For instance, the financial requirements of a business will depend on the nature of business and the scale of operations planned. To take an example, if a business wants to set up a trading enterprise (say, a retail store) on a small scale, his financial requirements will be small.

(b) The various factors listed above are only major factors, and in no case they constitute an exhaustive list. Depending upon the requirements of the business, the demands of the situation and sometimes even the personal preference of the owner, the choice of a form of ownership is made.

(c) The problem in choosing the best form of business organisation is one of the analysing and weighing relative advantages and disadvantages to find the one that will yield the highest net advantage. And for that, weights may be assigned to different factors depending upon their importance in each form of organisation, and the type of organisation that obtains the maximum weights may be ultimately selected.

– These factors do not exist in isolation, but are interdependent, and all these factors are important in their own right. Nevertheless, the factors of nature of business and scale of operations are the most basic ones in the selection of a form of ownership for setting up of a business organisation. All other factors are dependent on these basic considerations.

– The various factors listed above are only major factors, and in no case they constitute an exhaustive list. Depending upon the requirements of the business, the demands of the situation and sometimes even the personal preference of the owner, the choice of a form of ownership is made.

– There is a need to analyse and weigh the relative advantages and disadvantages to find the one that will yield the highest net advantage. And for that, weights may be assigned to different factors depending upon their importance in each form of organisation, and the type of organisation that obtains the maximum weights may be ultimately selected.

(2) A company formed under sub-section (1) may be either–

(a) a company limited by shares; or

Classification of Companies

(i) Classification on the basis of Incorporation: There are three ways in which companies may be incorporated.

(a) Statutory Companies: These are constituted by a special Act of Parliament or State Legislature. The provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 do not apply to them. Examples of these types of companies are Reserve Bank of India, Life Insurance Corporation of India, etc.

(b) Registered Companies: The companies which are incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013 or under any previous company law, fall under this category.

(ii) Classification on the basis of Liability: Under this category there are three types of companies:

(a) Unlimited Liability Companies: In this type of company, the members are liable for the company’s debts in proportion to their respective interests in the company and their liability is unlimited. Such companies may or may not have share capital. They may be either a public company or a private company.

(b) Companies limited by guarantee: A company that has the liability of its members limited to such amount as the members may respectively undertake, by the memorandum, to contribute to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound-up, is known as a company limited Companies limited by shares are by far the most common and it may be either public or private.

PRIVATE COMPANY

As per Section 2(68) of the Companies Act, 2013, “private company” means a company having a minimum paid-up share capital as may be prescribed, and which by its articles,—

(i) restricts the right to transfer its shares;

(ii) except in case of One Person Company, limits the number of its members to two hundred:

Provided that where two or more persons hold one or more shares in a company jointly, they shall, for the purposes of this clause, be treated as a single member:

Provided further that the following persons shall not be included in the number of members;—

(A) persons who are in the employment of the company; and

(B) persons who, having been formerly in the employment of the company, were members of the company while in that employment and have continued to be members after the employment ceased, shall not be included in the number of members; and

(iii) prohibits any invitation to the public to subscribe for any securities of the company;

It must be noted that it is only the number of members that is limited to two hundred. A private company may issue debentures to any number of persons, the only condition being that an invitation to the public to subscribe for debentures is prohibited.

The aforesaid definition of private limited company specifies the restrictions, limitations and prohibitions, which must be expressly provided in the articles of association of a private limited company.
As per proviso to Section 14 (1) of the Act, if a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include the restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under this Act, such company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company.

A private company can only accept deposit from its member’s upto a particular limit in accordance with section 73 of the Companies Act, 2013.

The words ‘Private Limited’ must be added at the end of its name by a private limited company.

As per section 3(1), a private company may be formed for any lawful purpose by two or more persons, by subscribing their names to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of registration. Section 149(1) further lays down that a private company shall have a minimum number of two directors. The only two members may also be the two directors of the private company.

Characteristics of Private Limited Company

Members – To start a company, minimum number of 2 members is required and a maximum number of 200 members as per the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Limited Liability – The liability of each member or shareholders is limited. It means that if a company faces loss under any circumstances then its shareholders are not liable to sell their own assets for payment. Thus, the personal, individual assets of the shareholders are not at risk.

Perpetual succession – The company keeps on existing in the eyes of law even in the case of death, insolvency, the bankruptcy of any of its members. This leads to perpetual succession of the company. The life of the company keeps on existing forever.

Index of members – A private company has a privilege over the public company as they don’t have to keep an index of its members since the number of members is less than 50 generally in these companies whereas the public company is required to maintain an index of its members, as generally such companies have the number of members in hundreds and thousands and so on. In short, the maintenance of index is not necessary where the number of members is less than fifty.

A number of directors – When it comes to directors, a private company needs to have only two directors. With the existence of 2 directors, a private company can come into existence and can start with its operations.

Paid up capital – There is no minimum capital requirement.

Prospectus – Prospectus is a detailed statement of the company affairs which is issued by a company for its public. However, in the case of private limited company, there is no such need to issue a prospectus because in this type of companies, public is not invited to subscribe for the shares of the company.

Minimum subscription – It is the amount to be received by the company on the shares to be issued within a certain period of time. If the company is not able to receive such amount then they cannot commence further business. In case of private limited company shares can be allotted without receiving the amount of such minimum subscription since such amount is required to be stated in the prospectus which is not applicable and required in the case of private companies.

Name – It is mandatory for all the private companies to use the word “private limited” after its name.

Privileges and Exemptions of Private Company

The Companies Act, 2013, confers certain privileges on private companies which are not subsidiaries of public companies. Such companies are also exempted from complying with quite a few provisions of the Act. The basic rationale behind this is that since private limited companies are restrained from inviting capital and deposits from the public, not much public interest is involved in their affairs as compared to public limited companies. Private limited companies lose the privileges and exemptions the moment they cease to be private companies.

Private companies enjoy various privileges and exemptions. The Central Government has been empowered under section 462 (1), to issue in public interest, by notification, directing that any of the provisions of Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply to such class or classes of companies or shall apply to the class or classes of companies with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the notification. In this context the Central Government vide notification no. 464(E) and 583(E) dated 5th June, 2015 and 13th June, 2017 respectively directed that respective sections of the Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply or shall apply with certain exceptions, modification and adaptations to private companies. A brief analysis of these exemptions is given hereunder.

PUBLIC COMPANY

By virtue of Section 2(71), a public company means a company which:

(a) is not a private company; and

(b) has a minimum paid-up share capital, as may be prescribed

Provided that a company which is a subsidiary of a company, not being a private company, shall be deemed to be public company for the purposes of this Act even where such subsidiary company continues to be a private company in its articles.

As per section 3(1)(a), a public company may be formed for any lawful purpose by seven or more persons, by subscribing their names or his name to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this act in respect of registration.

A public company may be said to be an association consisting of not less than 7 members, which is registered under the Act. In principle, any member of the public who is willing to pay the price may acquire shares in or debentures of it. The securities of a public company may be quoted on a Stock Exchange. The number of members is not limited to two hundred.

As per section 58(2), the securities or other interest of any member in a public company shall be freely transferable. However, any contract or arrangement between two or more persons in respect of transfer of securities shall be enforceable as a contract.

The concept of free transferability of shares in public and private companies is very succinctly discussed in the case of Western Maharashtra Development Corp. Ltd. v. Bajaj Auto Ltd. [2010] 154 Com Cases 593 (Bom). It was held that the Companies Act, makes a clear distinction in regard to the transferability of shares relating to private and public companies. By definition, a “private company” is a company which restricts the right to transfer its shares. In the case of a public company, the Act provides that the shares or debentures and any interest therein, of a company, shall be freely transferable.

The provision contained in the law for the free transferability of shares in a public company is founded on the principle that members of the public must have the freedom to purchase and, every shareholder should have the freedom to transfer. The incorporation of a company in the public, as distinguished from the private, realm leads to specific consequences and the imposition of obligations envisaged in law. Those who promote and manage public companies assume those obligations. Corresponding to those obligations there are some rights, which the law recognizes as inherent in the members of the public who subscribe to shares of the company.
CHARACTERISTICS OF PUBLIC COMPANY

Board of Directors
Public limited companies are headed by a board of directors. Composition of the board of directors is set out in the company’s articles of association. Normally it comprises of a minimum number of three members and a maximum of 15. The company may appoint more than 15 directors after passing a special resolution. These are elected by the shareholders during the annual general meeting. They act as the representatives of the shareholders in the management of the company.

Limited Liability
Shareholder liability for the losses of the company is limited to their share contribution only. This is what makes it a separate legal entity from its shareholders. The business can be sued on its own and not involve its shareholders. The company does not belong to any person since one person can own only a part of it.

Number of Members
A public limited company has a minimum number of seven shareholders or members and a limitless number of members. It can have as many shareholders as its share capital can accommodate.

Transferable shares
Shares of a public limited company are bought and sold in a stock exchange market. They are freely transferable between its members and people trading in the stock exchange.

Life Span
A public limited company is not affected by death of one of its shareholders, but the shares are transferred to the next kin or legal heir of such deceased shareholder and the company continues to run its business as usual. In the case of a director’s death, the Board is empowered to fill the resulting casual vacancy may be filled by Board of Directors at Board meeting which shall be subsequently approved by members in the immediate next general meeting.

Financial Privacy
Public limited companies are strictly regulated and are required by law to publish their complete financial statements annually. This ensures that they reveal their true financial position to their owners and to potential investors so that they can determine the true worth of its shares.

Capital
Public limited companies enjoy an increased ability to raise capital since they can issue shares to the public through the stock market. They can also raise additional capital by issuing debentures and bonds through the same market from the public. Debentures and bonds are in the form of secured or unsecured debts issued to a company on the strength of its integrity and financial performance by the general public or its members etc.

ONE PERSON COMPANY (OPC)

Background of OPC

With the implementation of the Companies Act, 2013, a single person could constitute a Company, under the One Person Company (OPC) concept.

The new Companies Act, 2013 has done away with redundant provisions of the previous Companies Act, 1956, and provides for a new entity in the form of one person company (OPC), while empowering the Central Government to provide a simpler compliance regime for small companies.

The introduction of OPC in the legal system is a move that would encourage corporatization of micro businesses and entrepreneurship.
In India, in the year 2005, the JJ Irani Expert Committee recommended the formation of OPC. It had suggested that such an entity may be provided with a simpler legal regime through exemptions so that the small entrepreneur is not compelled to devote considerable time, energy and resources on complex legal compliances.

OPC is a one shareholder corporate entity, where legal and financial liability is limited to the company only.

Status of OPC in other countries

Even in other countries like UK, Australia, Singapore, Pakistan, etc; a single person can form a company.

Various countries permit this kind of a corporate entity (China introduced it in October 2005) in which the promoting individual is both the director and the shareholder.

The amended company law of Pakistan permits one person to form a single-member company by filing with the registrar, at the time of incorporation, a nomination in the prescribed form indicating at least two individuals to act as nominee director and alternate nominee director.

In US, several states permit the formation and operation of a single-member Limited Liability Company (LLC).

In China, one person is allowed to apply for opening a limited company with a minimum capital of 1, 00,000 Yuan. The amended law of China prescribes that the owner should pay the investment capital at one time and bars him from opening a second company of the same kind.

In most countries, the law governing companies enables a single-member company to have more than one director and grants exemptions to such companies from holding AGMs, though records and documents are to be maintained.

Incorporation of OPC

Section 2(62) of the Companies Act, 2013 define “one person company” as a company which has only one person as member. OPC is a type of Private Company as per Section 2(68) and Section 3(1)(c) of the Act.

Difference between a Sole Proprietorship and an OPC

The fundamental difference between a sole proprietorship and an OPC is the way liability is treated in the latter.

An one-person company is different from a sole proprietorship because it is a separate legal entity that distinguishes between the promoter and the company.
Lesson 2  ■  Types of Companies  33

The promoter’s liability is limited in an OPC in the event of a default or legal issues. On the other hand, in sole proprietorships, the liability is not restricted and extends to the individual and his or her entire assets would be liable to repay the debts due by the sole proprietorship business unlike OPC.

Position of OPC in India under the Companies Act, 2013

The Companies Act, 2013 classifies companies on the basis of their number of members into One Person Company, private company and public company. As stated above, a private company requires a minimum of 2 members. In other words, a One Person Company is a kind of private company having only one member.

As per section 2(62) of the Companies Act, 2013, “One Person Company” means a company which has only one person as a member.

Section 3(1)(c) lays down that a company may be formed for any lawful purpose by one person, where the company to be formed is to be One Person Company that is to say, a private company. In other words, one person company is a kind of private company.

An One person company shall have a minimum of one director. Therefore, a One Person Company will be registered as a private company with one member and one director.

By virtue of section 3(2) of the Act, an OPC may be formed either as a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee; or an unlimited liability company.

Rule 3 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014 - One Person Company

Benefits of One Person Company

The concept of One Person Company is quite revolutionary. It gives the individual entrepreneurs all the benefits of a company, which means they will get credit, bank loans, access to market, limited liability, and legal protection available to companies by virtue of acquiring the legal status and perpetuity.

Prior to the new Companies Act, 2013 coming into effect, at least two shareholders were required to start a company. But, now the concept of One Person Company would provide tremendous opportunities for small businessmen and traders, including those working in areas like handloom, handicrafts and pottery. Earlier they were working as artisans and weavers on their own, so they did not have a legal entity of a company. But now an OPC form of organization would help them do business as an enterprise and give them an opportunity to start their own ventures with a formal business structure.

Further, the amount of compliance by an one person company is much lesser in terms of filing returns, balance sheets, audit etc. Also, rather than the middlemen usurping profits, the one person company will have direct access to the market and the wholesale retailers. The new concept would also boost the confidence of small entrepreneurs.
NIDHI COMPANIES

The primary object of Nidhis is to carry on the business of accepting deposits and lending money to member-borrowers only against jewels, etc., and mortgage of property. For over a century Nidhis, with the objective of cultivating the habit of thrift, generally promoted by public spirited men drawn from affluent local persons, lawyers and professionals like auditors, educationists, etc., including retired persons. The area of operation was local – within municipalities and panchayats. Some Nidhis on account of their financial and administrative strength opened branches within the respective revenue district and even outside. The principle of mutual benefit has been incorporated to pool the savings from members and lend only to members and never have dealing with Non-members. Nidhis were not expected to engage themselves in the business of Chit Fund, hire purchase, insurance or in any other business including investments in shares or debentures. As stated these Nidhis do their business only with Members. Such Members are only individuals. Bodies Corporate or Trusts are never to be admitted as Members in these companies.

Origin of the Concept in India

The history of the Nidhis, their special features, their manner of functioning, their regulations, etc., have been described by the (i) Viswanatha Shastri Committee in 1965; (ii) Banking Commission in 1972; (iii) James Raj Committee in 1975; (iv) Chakravarthy Report in 1987; (v) Dr. A. C. Shah Committee in 1992. Further the Central Government vide Notification No.5/7/2000-CL.V dated 23rd March 2000 constituted a Committee known as Sabanayagam Committee to examine the various aspects of the functioning of Nidhi Companies and suggested an appropriate policy framework for overall improvement of the Nidhi Companies and alternative mechanism to regulate and facilitate Nidhi Companies to play key role in mobilizing and gainfully investing small savings and improving their viability, resilience and performance.

In 2005, the Expert Committee on Company Law headed by Dr. Jamshed J. Irani suggested in its report on Nidhi companies as given hereunder:

NIDHI companies are effectively non-banking financial companies and are engaged in the business of accepting deposits and making loans to their members. The recent failures in the NBFC sector also extended to the NIDHI companies compelling the Government to introduce strict prudential norms for such companies. The deposit taking activities of NIDHI are governed by the RBI Act and guidelines made thereunder. The power to give exemptions to the NIDHI companies in the administration of NIDHI i.e. with the Ministry of Company Affairs. This dual control leads to confusion in the administration of the provisions of the RBI Act and the Companies Act, 1956. Since, RBI is the regulator of all the NBFC incorporated under the Companies Act, the Committee felt that NIDHI companies should also be controlled by RBI through close supervision.

Prevailing Regulatory Aspects of Nidhi

As per section 406 of the Companies Act, 2013, “Nidhi” or “Mutual Benefit Society” means a company, the Central Government may by notification in the Official Gazette, declare to be a Nidhi or Mutual Benefit Society, as the case may be.

PRODUCER COMPANIES

Section 465(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that the Companies Act, 1956 and the Registration of Companies (Sikkim) Act, 1961 (hereafter in this section referred to as the repealed enactments) shall stand repealed.

However, proviso to section 465(1) provides that the provisions of Part IXA of the Companies Act, 1956 shall be applicable mutatis mutandis to a Producer Company in a manner as if the Companies Act, 1956 has not been repealed until a special Act is enacted for Producer Companies.

In view of the above provision, Producer Companies are still governed by the Companies Act, 1956.

Companies (Amendment) Act, 2002 had added a new Part IXA to the main Companies Act, 1956 consisting of 46 new Sections from 581A to 581ZT.

According to the provisions as prescribed under Section 581A(l) of the Companies Act, 1956, a producer company is a body corporate having objects or activities specified in Section 581B and which is registered as such under the provisions of the Act. The membership of producer companies is open to such people who themselves are the primary producers, which is an activity by which some agricultural produce is produced by such primary producers.
Objects of Producer Companies

In terms of Section 581B (1) of the Companies Act, 1956, the objects of a producer company registered under this Act may be all or any of the following matters:

(a) production, harvesting, procurement, grading, pooling, handling, marketing, selling, export of primary produce of the members or import of goods or services for their benefit.

(b) processing including preserving, drying, distilling, brewing, vinting, canning and packaging of the produce of its members.

(c) manufacturing, sale or supply of machinery, equipment or consumables mainly to its members.

(d) providing education on the mutual assistance principles to its members and others.

(e) rendering technical services, consultancy services, training, research and development and all other activities for the promotion of the interests of its members.

(f) generation, transmission and distribution of power, revitalisation of land and water resources, their use, conservation and communications relatable to primary produce.

(g) insurance of producers or their primary produce.

(h) promoting techniques of mutuality and mutual assistance.

(i) welfare measures or facilities for the benefit of the members as may be decided by the Board.

(j) any other activity, ancillary or incidental to any of the activities referred to in clauses (a) to (i) above or other activities which may promote the principles of mutuality and mutual assistance amongst the members in any other manner.

(k) financing of procurement, processing, marketing or other activities specified in clauses (a) to (j) above, which include extending of credit facilities or any other financial services to its members.

Further, under Section 581B(2) it has also been clarified that every producer company shall deal primarily with the produce of its active members for carrying out any of its objects specified above.

FOREIGN COMPANIES

As per section 2(42), “foreign company” means any company or body corporate incorporated outside India which—

(a) has a place of business in India whether by itself or through an agent, physically or through electronic mode; and

(b) conducts any business activity in India in any other manner.

Sections 379 to 393 under Chapter XXII of the Act deal with such companies.

Section 380 of the Act lays down that every foreign company which establishes a place of business in India must, within 30 days of the establishment of such place of business, file with the Registrar of Companies for registration:

(a) a certified copy of the charter, statutes or memorandum and articles, of the company or other instrument constituting or defining the constitution of the company and, if the instrument is not in the English language, a certified translation thereof in the English language;

(b) the full address of the registered or principal office of the company;

(c) a list of the directors and secretary of the company containing such particulars as may be prescribed;

business in India;

(g) declaration that none of the directors of the company or the authorised representative in India has ever been convicted or debarred from formation of companies and management in India or abroad; and

(h) any other information as may be prescribed.

Every foreign company has to ensure that the name of the company, the country of incorporation, the fact of limited liability of members is exhibited in the specified places or documents as required under Section 382.

Section 381 requires a Foreign Company to maintain books of Account and file a copy of balance sheet and profit and loss account in prescribed form with ROC every calendar year. These accounts should be accompanied by list of place of business established by the foreign company in India.

Section 376 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides further that when a foreign company, which has been carrying on business in India, ceases to carry on such business in India, it may be wound up as an unregistered company under Sections 375 to 378 of the Act, even though the company has been dissolved or ceased to exist under the laws of the country in which it was incorporated.

Section 379 provides that where not less than 50% of the paid-up share capital, whether equity or preference or partly equity and partly preference of a foreign company is held by one or more citizens of India or by one or more bodies corporate incorporated in India, whether singly or in the aggregate, such company shall comply with such of the provisions of this Act, as may be prescribed by the Central Government with regard to the business carried on by it in India, as if it were a company incorporated in India.

As regards the applicability of the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 to foreign companies the following provisions of section 384 are to be noted:

(i) The provisions of section 71 relating to Debentures shall apply mutatis mutandis to a foreign company.

(ii) The provisions of Section 92 regarding (filing of annual returns) and Section 135 (Corporate Social Responsibility) shall, subject to such exceptions, modifications or adaptations as may be made therein by the rules made under the Act, apply to a foreign company as they apply to a company incorporated in India.

(iii) The provisions of Section 128 relating to the (to the extent of requiring it to maintain at its principal place of business in India books of account with respect to moneys received and spent, sales and purchase made and assets and liabilities, in the course of or in relation to its business in India), Section 209A (inspection of accounts), Section 233A (Special audit), Section 233B (audit of cost accounts), Section 234-246 (investigations), so far as may be, apply only to the Indian business of a foreign company having an established place of business in India as they apply to a company incorporated in India.

(iv) The provisions of Chapter VI (Registration of Charges) shall apply mutatis mutandis to charges on properties which are created or acquired by any foreign company.

(v) The provisions of Chapter XIV (Inspection, Inquiry and Investigation) shall apply mutatis mutandis to the Indian business of a foreign company as they apply to a company incorporated in India.

As per Section 386(c), having a share transfer office or registration office will constitute a place of business. In Tovarishestvo Manufacture Liudvig Rabenek, Re [1944] 2 All ER 556 it was held that where representatives of a company incorporated outside the country frequently stayed in a hotel in England for looking after matter of business, it was held that the company had a place of business in England.

In a certain case, it was held that mere holding of property cannot amount to having a place of business.

BRANCH OFFICE: Foreign companies, as they grow, seek to expand their business over the globe. The establishment of branch offices, herein referred to as BOs, achieves this strategic growth. This article explains the route to be taken by these foreign companies in establishing their branches and the compliance to be met in the process, focusing solely on the establishment of Branch Offices and not Liaison or Project Offices. Branch Offices help companies with an easier management of their businesses in the particular areas. A BO is an extension of the Parent Company.

Section 2(42) of the Companies Act, 2013, defines a foreign company as a company or a body corporate incorporated outside India and which has a place of business whether by itself or through an agent, in this country. This definition includes a Branch Office; all the provisions of the Act applying to the company will also apply to the BO. India sets up several rules under the RBI (Reserve Bank of India) and FEMA, 1999. The establishment of a BO is regulated as per Section 6(6) of FEMA, 1999 read along with notification no FEMA 22/2000-RB dated May 3, 2000. Under Section 11 of the afore-mentioned Act, RBI issues directions to the authorized persons regarding the regulations to be followed when conducting foreign exchange business with the customers or constituents. The BOs that were established in the pre-FEMA period are now required to regularize their offices under FEMA through the RBI, as per the recent regulations.

Initial Procedure

RBI Master Circular Jan 2016

A BO can be established by a body incorporated outside India, including a firm or association of persons, involved in manufacturing or trading activities. The process of setting up is an easy one with minimal compliance requirements. The permission to set-up a BO has to be obtained by the RBI under the FEMA, 1999 provisions.

RBI provides guidelines to be followed for establishing a BO; the former also reserves the right to reject an application on the non-fulfilment of the same. The Applications are to be made in form FNC and are considered by the RBI under two routes determined by the degree of Foreign Direct Investment (FDI):

- The Reserve Bank Route: taken when the principal business of the foreign company falls under sectors where 100% FDI is permissible.
- The Government Route: when the sectors do not permit 100% FDI investment. The RBI considers applications under this in consultation with the Ministry of Finance of India.

The RBI has a few other considerations:

- Track Record: For a BO a company will require a profit making track record in the in the immediately preceding five financial years in the home country.
- Net Worth: “a total of paid-up capital and free reserves, less intangible assets as per the latest Audited Balance Sheet or Account Statement Certified by a Certified Public Accountant or any Registered Accounts Practitioner”. The net worth has to be equal to or more than USD 100,000.

The application by the foreign company has to be made through a designated AD Category-I bank to the General Manager of the Foreign Exchange Department of RBI. Some prescribed documents have to be attached with the application. The RBI Master Circular of 2016 provides two of the documents that have to be attached:

1. English version of the Certificate of Incorporation / Registration or Memorandum & Articles of Association attested by Indian Embassy / Notary Public in the Country of Registration.
2. Latest Audited Balance Sheet of the applicant entity.”
Even if applications do not satisfy the criteria if an agent files them on behalf of a parent company, that parent company ought to satisfy the criteria. The AD-I Category bank involved in the process will conduct due diligence on the Applicant in the following areas- “background, antecedents of the promoter, nature and location of activity, sources of funds, etc.”, along with compliance of the Know Your Customer (KYC) norms.

The BO hence, once approved by the RBI, will be allotted a Unique Identification Number (UIN). Once the offices have been set up, the BO must also obtain a Permanent Account Number (PAN) from the Income Tax Authorities. This should be reported in the Annual Activity Certificate (AAC) that the BO is required to present at the end of each ear to show that the activities are undertaking in the permitted categories only.

Section 382 of the Companies Act, 2013, states that the company has to ‘conspicuously’ exhibit outside the office, the company’s name and the specify country it was incorporated in. The name must be in English Language and in the local language of the area where the office is set-up. If the members of the company have limited liability, then the same has to be specified with the name of the company outside the office and also mentioned in all the broachers, prospectus and any other circulars generated by the company. The Act also provides for the registration of the prospectus of the company with the registrar before it circulates and spreads any information about the issuance of securities by the company.

Funding of the BO by the Foreign Company

Equity Share Capital: in the usual way Indian companies are financed.

Preferred Share Capital: such convertible preference shares, compulsorily convertible into equity shares are regarded as Foreign Direct Investment (FDI).

Debentures and Borrowings: there can be redeemable, convertible or non-convertible. Companies can issue debentures, bonds and other debt securities. These also, when convertible into equity shares, are treated as FDI.

Activities

These BOs represent the parent company and usually undertake the same activities as the latter. The profits from these are easily remittable from India, subject to the taxes applicable. They are permitted by the RBI to undertake the following activities, as listed in the Master Circular:

1. Export / Import of goods.
2. Rendering professional or consultancy services.
3. Carrying out research work, in areas in which the parent company is engaged.
4. Promoting technical or financial collaborations between Indian companies and parent or Overseas group company.
5. Representing the parent company in India and acting as buying / selling agent in India.
6. Rendering services in information technology and development of software in India.
7. Rendering technical support to the products supplied by parent/group companies.
8. Foreign airline / shipping company.

A branch office is not allowed to undertake any Retail Trading Activities. Manufacturing or Processing activities, undertaken directly or indirectly, are also barred.

The RBI has given general permission to foreign companies to set up branch offices in Special Economic Zones (SEZs) subject to the following conditions:

1. such units are functioning in those sectors where 100 per cent FDI is permitted;
2. such units comply with part XI of the Companies Act, 1956 (Section 592 to 602);
3. Such units function on a stand-alone basis.

Every Branch Office within thirty days of its establishment has to deliver certain documents to the Registrar as specified in Section 380 of the Companies Act, 2013.

- Section 2(45) defines a Government company as a company in which not less than fifty-one per cent of the paid-up share capital is held by Central or State Government or governments or partly by one and partly by others.
- Auditor of a government company shall be appointed or reappointed by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (C&AG).

- SELF-TEST QUESTIONS

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The memorandum and articles of association of a company are the most important documents for the formation of a company and for its functioning thereafter.

The memorandum of association contains the name, situation of registered office, objects, capital and liability and subscription clauses. The articles are its bye-laws or rules and regulations that govern the management and internal affairs and the conduct of its business. Both the documents are required to be registered with the Registrar of Companies at the stage of incorporation of the company.

Before dealing with a company, it is advisable to read the memorandum and articles of the company to understand aspects, such as powers of Board, scope of company’s activities etc. and its relationship with the outside world.

After reading this lesson, you would be able to understand the concept of Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association, their purpose, contents and registration. It also discusses the alterations that can be carried out in the Memorandum and Articles of Association and effect of such alterations. It also explains the legal effect of these documents. It also covers doctrine of indoor management and Alter Ego.
MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

The Memorandum of Association is a document which sets out the constitution of a company and is therefore the foundation on which the structure of the company is built. It defines the scope of the company’s activities and its relations with the outside world.

The first step in the formation of a company is to prepare a document called the memorandum of association. In fact, memorandum is one of the most essential pre-requisites for incorporating any form of company under the Companies Act, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as ‘Act’). This is evidenced in Section 3 of the Act, which provides the mode of incorporation of a company and states that a company may be formed for any lawful purpose by seven or more persons, where the company to be formed is a public company; two or more persons, where the company to be formed is a private company; or one person, where the company to be formed is a One Person Company by subscribing their names or his name to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of its registration.

To subscribe means to append one’s signature or mark a document as an approval or attestation of its contents. According to Section 2(56) of the Act “memorandum” means the memorandum of association of a company as originally framed and altered, from time to time, in pursuance of any previous company law or this Act.

Section 4 of the Act specifies in clear terms the contents of this important document which is the charter of the company. The memorandum of association of a company contains the objects of the company which it shall pursue. It not only shows the objects of formation of the company but also determines the scope of its operations beyond which its actions cannot go. “THE MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION”, as observed by Palmer, “is a document of great importance in relation to the proposed company”.

CASE LAW

In the celebrated case of Ashbury Railway Carriage & Iron Co. Ltd. v. Riche, (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 653, Lord Cairn observed: “The memorandum of association of a company is its charter and defines the limitations of the powers of the company. It contains the both which is affirmative and that which is negative. It states affirmatively the ambit and extent of vitality and powers which by law are given to the corporation, and it states negatively, if it is necessary to state, that nothing shall be done beyond that ambit.” [Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. Ltd. v. Port Said Salt Association Ltd. (1931) A.C. 677]

FORM OF MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

Section 4(6) of the Act provides that the memorandum of association should be in any one of the Forms specified in Tables A, B, C, D or E of Schedule I to the Act, as may be applicable in relation to the type of company proposed to be incorporated or in a Form as near thereto as the circumstances admit.

(i) the Form in Table A is applicable in the case of companies limited by shares;
(ii) the Form in Table B is applicable to companies limited by guarantee not having a share capital;
(iii) the Form in Table C is applicable to the companies limited by guarantee having a share capital;
(iv) the Form in Table D is applicable to unlimited companies not having a share capital;
(v) the Form in Table E is applicable to unlimited companies having a share capital.

A company shall adopt any of the model Forms of the memorandum of association mentioned above, as may be applicable to it.

CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM

As per Section 4(1), the memorandum of a limited company must state the following:
(a) the name of the company with “Limited” as its last word in the case of a public company; and “Private Limited” as its last words in the case of a private company;(Name Clause)

This shall not apply in case of companies registered under section 8.

Similarly, in case of government companies the name of the company need not be ended with the words “Limited” or “Private Limited”. This is as per the exemptions to Government Companies under Section 462 of Companies Act, 2013 vide notification dated June 5, 2015.

(b) the State in which the registered office of the company is to be situated;(Situation Clause)

(c) the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof;(objects clause);

(d) the liability of members of the company, whether limited or unlimited, and also state,—(Liability Clause)

(i) in the case of a company limited by shares, that liability of its members is limited to the amount unpaid, if any, on the shares held by them; and

(ii) in the case of a company limited by guarantee, the amount up to which each member undertakes to contribute –

(A) to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound-up while he is a member or within one year after he ceases to be a member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the company or of such debts and liabilities as may have been contracted before he ceases to be a member, as the case may be; and

(B) to the costs, charges and expenses of winding-up and for adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves;

(e) in the case of a company having a share capital, — (Capital Clause) the amount of share capital with which the company is to be registered and the division thereof into shares of a fixed amount;

(f) Subscription Clause:

(i) the number of shares which the subscribers to the memorandum agree to subscribe which shall not be less than one share; and

(ii) the number of shares each subscriber to the memorandum intends to take, indicated opposite his name;

(g) in the case of a One Person Company, the name of the person who, in the event of the death of the subscriber, shall become the member of the company.

According to section 4(7), any provision in the memorandum or articles, in the case of a company limited by guarantee and not having a share capital, purporting to give any person a right to participate in the divisible profits of the company otherwise than as a member, shall be void.

The above clauses are compulsory and are designated as “conditions” prescribed by the Act, on the basis of which a company is incorporated.

It is to be noted that the Companies Act, 2013 shall override the provisions in the memorandum and Articles of a company, if the latter contains anything contrary to the provisions in the Act (Section 6).
NAME CLAUSE

A company being a legal entity must have a name of its own to establish its separate identity. The name of the company is a symbol of its independent corporate existence. The first clause in the memorandum of association of the company states the name by which a company is to be known. The company may adopt any suitable name provided it is not undesirable.

According to section 4(2), the name stated in the memorandum shall not –

(a) be identical with or resemble too nearly to the name of an existing company registered under this Act or any previous company law; or

(b) be such that its use by the company –

   (i) will constitute an offence under any law for the time being in force; or

   (ii) is undesirable in the opinion of the Central Government.

Section 4(3) of the Act provides that without prejudice to the provisions of section 4(2), a company shall not be registered with a name which contains –

MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION [SECTION 4 READ WITH SCHEDULE I]
(a) any word or expression which is likely to give the impression that the company is in any way connected with, or having the patronage of, the Central Government, any State Government, or any local authority, corporation or body constituted by the Central Government or any State Government under any law for the time being in force; or

(b) such word or expression, as may be prescribed in rule 8 of the Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014, unless the previous approval of the Central Government has been obtained for the use of any such word or expression.

As per section 4(4) a person may make an application, in web-based form RUN (Reserve Unique Name) in prescribed manner and accompanied by prescribed fee to the Registrar for the reservation of a name set out in the application as –

(a) the name of the proposed company; or

(b) the name to which the company proposes to change its name.

Section 4(5)(i) lays down that upon receipt of an application under sub-section (4), the Registrar may, on the basis of information and documents furnished along with the application, reserve the name for a period of twenty days from the date of the application.

Provided that in case of an application for reservation of name or for change of its name by an existing company, the Registrar may reserve the name for a period of sixty days from the date of approval. As stated above, section 4(2) provides that the name stated in the memorandum shall not be such that its use by the company, in the opinion of the Central Government, is undesirable. A name which is identical to or too nearly resembles, the name by which a company in existence has been previously registered or the use of the names which will constitute any offence under any law for the time being in force, will be deemed to be undesirable.

The Registrar must make preliminary enquiries to ensure that the name allowed by him is not misleading or intended to deceive with reference to the Objects Clause of the memorandum [Methodist Church v. Union of India, (1985) 57 Com Cases 443 (Bombay)]. The Registrar is not, however, required to carry out any elaborate investigation at the time of registration of the company. Unless the purpose of the company appears to be unlawful ex-facie or is transparently illegal or prohibited by any statute, it cannot be regarded as an unlawful association [T.V. Krishna v. Andhra Prabha (P) Ltd., (1960) 30 Com Cases 437 (AP)].

The object is to prevent the use of a name likely to mislead the public. For example, a company is not allowed to use a name which is prohibited under the Emblems and Names (Prevention of Improper Use) Act, 1950, or suggestive of any connection with Government or of State patronage where there is none.

CASE LAW

Thus, in Ewing v. Buttercup Margarine Co. Ltd. (1917) 2 Ch. 1, the plaintiff, who carried on business under the name of the Buttercup Dairy Co., obtained an injunction against the defendant (Buttercup Margarine Co. Ltd.), on the grounds that the public might think that the two businesses were connected, the word “Buttercup” being a fancy one.

The rule will apply also to foreign companies or traders, whose goods are imported into the country, as it was applied in the case of La Societe Anonyme Panchard at Levessor v. Panchard Levessor Motor Co. Ltd., (1901) 2 Ch. 513. The plaintiffs were a French company carrying on business in Paris as motor car manufacturers and were using the name “Panchard” in connection with motors of their manufacture. They objected to the use of the word “Panchard” in the name of the defendant company on the ground that the principal object of the defendants was to injure wrongfully and fraudulently the plaintiffs’ business by passing off their goods as those of the plaintiffs’ manufacture and succeed even though they had no agencies in England but had a market for their goods there.
The Central Government under Section 16 is empowered to direct a company, at any point of time to rectify its name if by inadvertence it has been registered with a name which is identical to or too nearly resembles the name of an existing company whether registered under this Act or the previous company law. The company shall change its name within a period of 3 months from the issue of the above direction after passing an ordinary resolution for the purpose.

However, any application rejected by Regional Director under Section 22(1)(ii)(b) of the Companies Act, 1956 on the ground that such applications were made after the requisite period of twelve months specified therein, cannot apply afresh under Section 16(1) (a) Companies Act, 2013 as the extinguished limitation cannot be considered to be revived even if no limitation period has been prescribed/ laid down in the said section.

This section also gives enhanced power to the Central Government to order rectification of name where such name in its opinion constitutes an infringement of a registered trademark. The proprietor of the registered trademark may make an application to the Central Government for an order for rectification of name of the company because it is identical to or too nearly resembles the applicant’s registered trademarks. Such application must be made within three years from the date of incorporation or the registration or change of name whether under this Act or previous company law. In such a case the Central Government may direct the company to change its name and the company shall change its name, within a period of six months from the issue of such direction, after passing an ordinary resolution for the purpose.

Where a company changes its name or obtains a new name, it shall within a period of fifteen days from the date of such change, give notice of the change to the Registrar along with the order of the Central Government, who shall carry out necessary changes in the certificate of incorporation and the memorandum.

CASE LAW

In the case of Atlas Cycles (Haryana) Ltd. v. Atlas Products Pvt. Ltd [146 (2008) DLT 274 (DB)], use of the brand name as corporate name was settled. Both the plaintiff and the defendant companies belong to the same family. The Appellant-plaintiff was the proprietor of the trade mark in the name “Atlas”. The Respondent-defendant company containing the name “Atlas” in its corporate name started dealing in bicycles. The plaintiff objected to the use of the name “Atlas” by the defendant company. The Defendants were restrained from using the word ‘Atlas’ in their corporate/trade name in respect of bicycles and bicycle parts.

Where a company is directed to change the name, the court cannot directly tell the Registrar to effect the change in the name of the company. The Court can only direct the company to do so. The company cannot simply file the Court order regarding the change, but it will have to follow the prescribed procedure. [Halifax Plc v. Halifax Repossessions Ltd. (2004) 2 BCLC 455 (CA)].

But mere similarity of name is not in itself enough to give a right to an injunction. As held in D.W. Boulay v. D.W. Boulay, (1868) LR 2 (PC), the law does not give a person a right to prevent the use of a name by another person. In the case of companies, however, registration will be refused only if there is likelihood of deception or confusion.

A person cannot be permitted to name a company even after his personal name if that name resembles the name of an existing company. [K.G. Khosla Compressors Ltd. v. Khosla Extractions Ltd., (1986) 1 Comp LJ 211: AIR 1986 Del 181]

In the case of incorporation of an Asset Management Company (AMC), the Memorandum and Articles of Association are required to be vetted and approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) before these documents are registered by the Registrar of Companies.

SITUATION CLAUSE

The name of the State in which the registered office of the company is to be situated must be given in the memorandum. But the exact address of the registered office is not required to be stated therein. According to section 12 of the Act within thirty (30) days of company’s incorporation, and at all times thereafter, the company must have a registered office to which all communications and notices may be sent. The company must also furnish to the Registrar verification of its registered office within a period of thirty days of its incorporation in such manner as may be prescribed. (e-form INC-22)

Publication of Name and Address of the Company

According to Section 12(3) of the Act, every company is required to display its name and address in legible letters in conspicuous position and in all its business letters, bill heads, letter papers. Accordingly, the company shall –

(a) paint or affix its name, and the address of its registered office, and keep the same painted or affixed, on the outside of every office or place in which its business is carried on, in a conspicuous position, in legible letters, and if the characters employed therefor are not those of the language or of one of the languages in general use in that locality, also in the characters of that language or of one of those languages;

(b) have its name engraved in legible characters on its seal, if any;

(c) get its name, address of its registered office and the Corporate Identity Number along with telephone number, fax number, if any, e-mail and website addresses, if any, printed in all its business letters, billheads, letter papers and in all its notices and other official publications; and

(d) have its name printed on negotiable instruments such as hundies, promissory notes, bills of exchange and such other document as may be prescribed.

However, where a company has changed its name or names during the last two years, it shall paint or affix or print, as the case may be, along with its name, the former name or names so changed during the last two years.

Further, in case of One Person Company, the words “One Person Company” shall be mentioned in brackets below the name of such company, wherever its name is printed, affixed or engraved.

Department, presently known as Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has clarified that display of its name in English in addition to the display in the local language will be a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the section.

The MCA has also clarified that a share certificate is not an official publication of a company within the meaning of Section 147(1)(c) of the Companies Act, 1956 [This corresponds to Section 12 of the Companies Act, 2013] [Circular No. 3/73/8/10(147)/ 72-CC-V dated 3.2.1973].

The words ‘outside of every office’ do not mean outside the premises in which the office is situated [Dr. H.L. Batiwalla Sons & Company Ltd. v. Emperor (1941) 11 Com Cases 154 : AIR 1941 (Bom.) 97]. Where office is situated within a compound, the display outside the office room, though inside the building, is sufficient.

Do you know?

The company shall furnish to the Registrar of Companies, the verification of its registered office within 30 days of incorporation in Form INC 22.

OBJECT CLAUSE

The third compulsory clause in the memorandum sets out the objects for which the company has been formed. Under section 4(1)(c) of the Act, all companies must state in their memorandum the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof.

The objects clause is of great importance because it determines the purpose and the capacity of the company.
It indicates the purpose for which the company has been set up and its actual capability, besides its sphere of activities. It states affirmatively the ambit and extent of powers of the company and, stated negatively, that nothing should be done beyond that ambit and that no attempt shall be made to use the company for any other purpose than that which is specified. The purpose of the objects clause is to enable the persons dealing with the company to know its permitted range of activities. The acts beyond this ambit are ultra vires and hence void. Even the entire body of shareholders cannot ratify such acts.

Although express powers are necessary, a company may do anything which is incidental to and consequential upon the powers specified, and the act will not be ultra vires [Attorney General v. G.E. Rly. Co., (1880) 5 A.C. 473]. Thus, a trading company has an implied power to borrow money, draw and accept bills of exchange in the ordinary form, but a railway company cannot issue bills although it may borrow money.

The subscribers to the memorandum of association enjoy almost unrestricted freedom to choose the objects. The only restriction is that objects should not be illegal and against the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013. The memorandum of association of a company is its charter defining the objects of its existence and operations. As pointed out in Cotman v. Brougham 1918 AC 514, its purpose is "to enable the shareholders, creditors and those dealing with the company to know what is the permitted range of the enterprise. The objects clause or clauses in the memorandum are to be so construed as to confer on the company all powers reasonably required to the attainment of the objects." "A memorandum of association like any other document must be read fairly and its importance derived from a reasonable interpretation of the language which it employs" [Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. Ltd. v. Port Said Salt Association Ltd. AC 677: (1931) 1 Com Cases 285: AIR 1931 PC 182; 62 MLJ 163; Deuchar v. Gas, Light and Coke Co., (1925) AC 691]). The natural and ordinary meaning of the language used in several clauses should be taken into consideration for determining whether a particular transaction does or does not fall within the objects stated in the memorandum [Bell Houses Ltd. v. City Wall Properties Ltd. (1966) 36 Com Cases 779: (1966) 2 All ER 674 (CA)].

It is ultra vires for a company to act beyond the limits of its memorandum. Any attempted departure will be invalid and cannot be validated even if assented to by all the shareholders of the company. Ultra vires means an act or transaction of a company, which though it may not be illegal, is beyond the company’s powers by reason of not being within the objects of the memorandum of association. The memorandum is, so to speak, the limit beyond which a company cannot travel. [Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Company v. Riche, (1875) LR 7 HL 653]. An act beyond the objects mentioned in the memorandum is ultra vires and void and cannot be ratified [Dr. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar A. v. LIC (1963) Comp LJ 248: 1963 33 Com Cases 420: AIR 1963 SC 1185]. Where no connection or nexus exists between the exercise of a power and the attainment of an object, exercise of power will be ultra vires [Radha Cinema & Co. v. Chitrailipi Films, 1974 Tax LR 2180 (Cal)].

LIABILITY CLAUSE

Section 4 sub-section 1(d) of the Act, states that the liability of members of the company is to be specifically mentioned in the MoA. It is provided that the liability of member may either be limited or unlimited, further it shall also state that, –

(i) in the case of a company limited by shares, the liability of its members is limited to the amount unpaid, if any, on the shares held by them; and

(ii) in the case of a company limited by guarantee, the amount up to which each member undertakes to contribute –

(A) to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound-up while he is a member or within one year after he ceases to be a member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the company or of such debts and liabilities as may have been contracted before he ceases to be a member, as the case may be; and
(B) to the costs, charges and expenses of winding-up and for adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves;

CAPITAL CLAUSE

This clause shall state the amount of the capital with which the company is registered. The shares into which the capital is divided must be of fixed value, which is commonly known as the nominal value of the share. The capital is variously described as “nominal”, “authorized” or “registered”.

The amount of nominal capital is determined having regard to the present as well as future requirements of the company with reference to its objects. The usual way to state the capital in the memorandum is: “The capital of the company is 10,00,000 rupees divided into 1,00,000 equity shares of 10 rupees each”. This amount lays down the maximum limit beyond which the company cannot issue shares without altering the memorandum as provided by Section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013.

If there are both equity and preference shares, then the division of the capital is to be shown under these two heads. A company is not authorized to issue capital beyond its authorized/nominal/registered capital. If it receives applications for shares beyond the shares covered by the authorized capital, the amount received on excess number of shares should be returned.

Out of the issued capital, the total amount actually subscribed or agreed to be subscribed is known as subscribed capital, and this subscribed capital again may be wholly paid or partly paid, in which latter case the balance would be payable on future calls when made. The amount actually paid by the shareholders is called the paid-up capital.

According to Section 60 of the Act, if the amount of the authorized capital (nominal capital), of the company is stated in any notice, advertisement, official publication, business letter, bill head or letter paper, it shall also contain a statement in an equally prominent position and in equally conspicuous terms the amount of capital which has been subscribed and the amount paid-up.

DECLARATION FOR SUBSCRIPTION

The subscribers to the memorandum declare: “We, the several persons whose names and addresses are subscribed below, are desirous of being formed into a company in pursuance of this memorandum of association, and we respectively agree to take the number of shares in the capital of the company set opposite our respective names”. Then follow the names, addresses, description, occupations of the subscribers, and the number of shares each subscriber has agreed to take and their signatures attested by a witness.

The statutory requirements regarding subscription of memorandum are that:

- each subscriber must take at least one share;
- each subscriber must write opposite his name the number of shares which he agrees to take. [Section 4(1)(e)]

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

Nature of Articles

According to Section 2(5) of the Companies Act, 2013, ‘articles’ means the articles of association of a company as originally framed or as altered from time to time or applied in pursuance of any previous company law or of this Act. It also includes the regulations contained in Table A in Schedule I of the Act, in so far as they apply to the company.

In terms of section 5(1), the articles of a company shall contain the regulations for management of the company. The articles of association of a company are its bye-laws or rules and regulations that govern the management of its internal affairs and the conduct of its business. The articles play a very important role in the affairs of a company. It deals with the rights of the members of the company inter se. They are subordinate to and are controlled by the memorandum of association. The general functions of the articles have been aptly summed up by Lord Cairns, L.C. in Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Co. Ltd. v. Riche, (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 653 as follows:

“The articles play a part that is subsidiary to the memorandum of association. They accept the memorandum of association as the charter of incorporation of the company, and so accepting it, the articles proceed to define the duties, rights and powers of the governing body as between themselves and the company at large, and the mode and form in which business of the company is to be carried on, and the mode and form in which changes in the internal regulations of the company may from time to time be made... The memorandum, is as it were... the area beyond which the action of the company cannot go; inside that area shareholders may make such regulations for the governance of the company as they think fit”.

Thus, the memorandum lays down the scope and powers of the company, and the articles govern the ways in which the objects of the company are to be carried out and can be framed and altered by the members. But they must keep within the limits marked out by the memorandum and the Companies Act.

The articles regulate the internal management of the affairs of the company by way of defining the powers of its officers and establishing a contract between the company and the members and between the members inter se. This contract governs the ordinary rights and obligations incidental to membership in the company [Naresh Chandra Sanyal v. The Calcutta Stock Exchange Association Ltd., AIR 1971 SC 422, (1971) 41 Com Cases 51]. But the Articles of Association of a company are not ‘law’ and do not have the force of law. In Kinetic Engineering Ltd. v. Sadhana Gadia, (1992) 74 Com Cases 82 : (1992) 1 Comp LJ 62 (CLB), the Hon'ble CLB held that if any provision of the articles or the memorandum is contrary to any provisions of any law, it will be invalid in toto.

Articles Subordinate to Memorandum

The articles of a company are subordinate to and subject to the memorandum of association and the Act. Any clause in the Articles going beyond the memorandum will be ultra vires. But the articles are only internal regulations, over which the members of the company have full control and may alter them according to what they think fit. Only care has to be taken to see that regulations provided for in the articles do not exceed the powers of the company as laid down by its memorandum [Ashbury v. Watson, (1885) 30 Ch. D 376 (CA)]. Articles that go beyond the company’s sphere of action are inoperative, and anything done under the authority of such article is void and incapable of ratification.

But, neither the articles nor the memorandum can authorize the company to do anything so as to contravene any of the provisions of the Act. [See Re Peveril Gold Mines, (1989) 1 Ch 122 (CA)].

The functions of the Articles in relation to the Memorandum have already been summed up in the Ashbury Railway Carriage case and even though the articles are subordinate to the memorandum yet if there be any ambiguity in the memorandum, the articles may be used to explain it but not so as to extend the objects. [Re. South Durham Brewery Company (1885) 3 Ch. D 261]. The memorandum of a company was not clear as to the classes of shares to be issued by a company, but the articles made clear the doubt by giving the power to the company to issue shares of different classes.

The relationship between the two documents was further emphasized in Guinness v. Land Corporation of Ireland, (1882) 22 Ch D 349, where it was observed: “The memorandum contains the fundamental conditions upon which alone the company is allowed to be incorporated. They are conditions introduced for the benefit of the creditors, and the outside public, as well as of the shareholders. The articles of association are the internal regulations of the company. How can it be said that in all cases the fundamental conditions of the charter of incorporation and the internal regulations of the company are to be construed together... In any case it is, as it seems to me, certain that for anything which the Act of Parliament says shall be in the memorandum you must look at the memorandum alone. If the legislature has said one instrument is to be dominant you cannot turn to another instrument and read it in order to modify the provisions of the dominant instrument”. Where the memorandum clearly establishes the rights of shareholders, a reference in the memorandum to the articles and an ambiguity said to arise from the construction of the articles should not be used to depart from the clear meaning of the memorandum so as to diminish those rights [Scottish National Trust Co. Ltd. 1928 SC 499 (Scot); Kinetic Engineering Ltd. v. Sadhana Gadia, (1992) 1 Comp LJ 62 (CLB)].

REGISTRATION OF ARTICLES

Section 7(1) provides that at the time of incorporation of a company the company shall file with the Registrar within whose jurisdiction the registered office of a company is proposed to be situated, the memorandum and articles of the company duly signed by all the subscribers to the memorandum in the prescribed manner.

Every type of company whether public or private and whether limited by shares or limited by guarantee having a share capital or not having a share capital or an unlimited liability company must register their articles of association.

Section 5(2) provides that the articles shall also contain such matters, as prescribed in Rule 11 of the Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014. However, nothing prescribed in this sub-section shall be deemed to prevent a company from including such additional matters in its articles as may be considered necessary for its management. The articles of a company shall be in respective forms specified in Tables, F, G, H, I and J in Schedule I as may be applicable to such company either in totality or otherwise. [Section 5(6)]

A company may adopt all or any of the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company. [Section 5(7)]

Section 5(8) provides that in case of any company, which is registered after the commencement of Companies Act 2013, in so far as the registered articles of such company do not exclude or modify the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company, those regulations shall, so far as applicable, be the regulations of that company in the same manner and to the extent as if they were contained in the duly registered articles of the company.

Therefore, in terms of Section 5 of the Companies Act, 2013, a public company limited by shares may at its option register its articles of association signed by the same subscribers as to the memorandum, or alternatively it may adopt all or any of the regulations contained in Table F of First Schedule of the Act. If articles are not registered, automatically Table F in Schedule I would apply, and if registered, Table F in Schedule I would apply except in so far as it is excluded or modified by the articles. To avoid any confusion, normally every public company delivers its articles alongwith the memorandum for registration. Further, it will be specifically stated therein that Table ‘F’ will not apply. The articles of a private company must contain the three restrictions as contained in Section 2(68).

A company limited by guarantee having a share capital or a company limited by guarantee not having a share capital or an unlimited company having a share capital or an unlimited company not having a share capital might adopt any of the appropriate regulations of Table G, H, I and J respectively in Schedule I [Section 5(6)].

However, nothing in section 5 shall apply to the articles of a company registered under any previous company law unless amended under this Act [Section 5(9)].

ENTRENCHMENT PROVISIONS

The articles may contain provisions for entrenchment to the effect that specified provisions of the articles may be altered only if conditions or procedures that are more restrictive than those applicable in the case of a special resolution, are met or complied with. [Section 5 (3)]

The Companies Act 2013, recognizes an interesting concept of entrenchment. Essentially, the entrenchment provisions allow for certain clauses in the articles to be amended upon satisfaction of certain conditions or restrictions greater than those prescribed under the Act (such as obtaining 100% consent). This provision acts as a protection to the minority shareholders and is of specific interest to the investment community. This shall empower the enforcement of any pre-agreed rights and provide greater certainty to investors, especially in joint ventures.

The provisions for entrenchment referred to in section 5(3) shall be made either (a) on formation of a company, or (b) by an amendment in the articles agreed to by all the members of the company in the case of a private company and by a special resolution in the case of a public company. [Section 5 (4)]

Where the articles contain provisions for entrenchment, whether made on formation or by amendment, the company shall give notice to the Registrar of such provisions in such form and manner as may be prescribed. [Section 5 (5)]

STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS

The articles must be printed, divided into paragraphs, numbered consecutively, stamped adequately, signed by each subscriber to the memorandum and duly witnessed and filed along with the memorandum. The articles must not contain anything illegal or ultra vires the memorandum, nor should it be contrary to the provisions of the Companies Act 2013.

CONTENTS OF ARTICLES

The articles set out the rules and regulations framed by the company for its own working. The articles should contain generally the following matters:

1. Exclusion wholly or in part of Table F.
2. Adoption of preliminary contracts.
3. Share Capital, variation of rights, Number and value of shares.
4. Issue of preference shares.
5. Allotment of shares.
6. Calls on shares.
7. Lien on shares.
8. Transfer and transmission of shares.
10. Forfeiture of shares.
11. Alteration of capital.
15. Conversion of shares into stock.
17. Meetings and rules regarding committees of the Board.
18. Directors, their appointment and delegations of powers.
20. Issue of Debentures and stocks.
21. Audit committee.
22. Managing director, Whole-time director, Manager, Secretary, Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer.
23. Additional directors.
24. Seal.
25. Remuneration of directors.
26. General meetings, proceedings at general meetings, adjournment of meeting.
27. Board of Directors, Proceedings of the Board meetings.
29. Dividends and reserves.
30. Accounts and audit.
31. Winding up.
32. Indemnity.
33. Capitalisation of profits, reserves.
34. Secrecy

Utmost caution must be exercised in the preparation of the articles of association of a company. At the same time, certain provisions of the Act are applicable to the company “notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the articles”. Therefore, the articles must contain provisions in respect of all matters which are required to be contained therein so as not to hamper the working of the company later.

CONSISTENCY OF ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION WITH COMPANIES ACT, 2013

Section 5(2) provides that the articles shall also contain such matters, as may be prescribed. The proviso to Section 5(2) provides that nothing in that sub-section shall be deemed to prevent a company from including any additional matters in its Articles, as may be considered necessary for its management. Section 5(8) provides that in case of any company, which is registered after the commencement of the Companies Act 2013, in so far as the registered articles of such company do not exclude or modify the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company, those regulations shall, so far as applicable, be the regulations of that company in the same manner and to the extent as if they were contained in the duly registered articles of the company.

Section 6 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that:

(a) the provisions of this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the memorandum or articles of a company, or in any agreement executed by it, or in any resolution passed by the company in general meeting or by its Board of Directors, whether the same be registered, executed or passed, as the case may be, before or after the commencement of this Act; and

(b) any provision contained in the memorandum, articles, agreement or resolution shall, to the extent to which it is repugnant to the provisions of this Act, become or be void, as the case may be.

In the light of above provisions, if there is a provision in the Articles empowering the Directors of the company to expel any member of the company under any of the given conditions, then such a provision shall be totally inconsistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act. It is opposed to the fundamental principles of the company’s jurisprudence and is ultra vires of the company. [Circular No. 32 of 1975 dated 01.11.1975]
But the Stock exchanges, registered under the provisions of the Companies Act, can carry such a provision in its Articles. The regulation of stock exchanges is mainly governed by Securities Contracts Regulation Act, 1956 (SCRA) and SEBI, Act, 1992 which are Special Acts. Hence, the Articles of Stock Exchange may provide for additional matters as per SCR Act, which may not be possible for inclusion in the Articles of a company, as per 214 (Mad.]).

DOCTRINE OF ULTRA VIRES

In the case of a company whatever is not stated in the memorandum as the objects or powers is prohibited by the doctrine of ultra vires[^1]. As a result, an act which is ultra vires is void, and does not bind the company.
Neither the company nor the contracting party can sue on it. Also, as stated earlier, the company cannot make it valid, even if every member assents to it.

The general rule is that an act which is ultra vires the company is incapable of ratification. An act which is intra vires the company but outside the authority of the directors may be ratified by the company in proper form [Rajendra Nath Dutta v. Shilendra Nath Mukherjee, (1982) 52 Com Cases 293 (Cal.)].

The rule is meant to protect shareholders and the creditors of the company. If the act is ultra vires (beyond the powers of) the directors only, the shareholders can ratify it. If it is ultra vires the articles of association, the company can alter its articles in the proper way and thereby such acts can be duly ratified.

CASE LAW

The doctrine of ultra vires was first enunciated by the House of Lords in a classic case, Ashbury Railway

The memorandum of the company in the said case defined its objects thus: “The objects for which the compacty is established are to make and sell, or lend or hire, railway plants......... to carry on the business of mechanical engineers and general contractors.........”.

The company entered into a contract with M/s. Riche, a firm of railway contractors to finance the construction of a railway line in Belgium. On subsequent repudiation of this contract by the company on the ground of its being ultra vires, Riche brought a case for damages on the ground of breach of contract, as according to him the words “general contractors” in the objects clause gave power to the company to enter into such a contract and, therefore, it was within the powers of the company. More so because the contract was ratified by a majority of shareholders.

The House of Lords held that the contract was ultra vires the company and, therefore, null and void. The term “general contractor” was interpreted to indicate as the making generally of such contracts as are connected with the business of mechanical engineers. The Court held that if every shareholder of the company had been in the room and had said, “That is a contract which we desire to make, which we authorize the directors to make”, still it would be ultra vires. The shareholders cannot ratify such a contract, as the contract was ultra vires the objects clause, which by Act of Parliament, they were prohibited from doing.

However, later on, the House of Lords held in other cases that the doctrine of ultra vires should be applied reasonably and unless it is expressly prohibited, a company may do an act which is necessary for or incidental to the attainment of its objects. Section 13(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 4(1)(c) of the Companies Act, 2013] provides that the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof be stated in the memorandum. However, even when the matters considered necessary in furtherance of the objects are not stated, they would be allowed by the principle of reasonable construction of the memorandum.

[^1]: The word ‘ultra’ means beyond and the word ‘vires’ means powers.
CASE LAW

Justice Shah (afterwards C.J.) in the case A. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar v. L.I.C., A.I.R. 1963 S.C. 1185, upheld the doctrine of ultra vires. In this case, the directors of the company were authorized “to make payments towards any charitable or any benevolent object or for any general public or useful object”. In accordance with shareholders’ resolution the directors paid Rs. 2 lacs to a trust formed for the purpose of promoting technical and business knowledge. The company’s business having been taken over by L.I.C., it had no business left of its own.

The Supreme Court held that the payment was ultra vires the company. Directors could not spend company’s money on any charitable or general objects. They could spend for the promotion of only such charitable objects as would be useful for the attainment of the company’s own objects. It is pertinent to add that the powers vested in the Board of directors, e.g., power to borrow money, is not an object of the company. The powers must be exercised to promote the company’s objects. Charity is allowed only to the extent to which it is necessary in the reasonable management of the affairs of the company. Justice Shah held: “There must be proximate connection between the gift and the company’s business interest”. Thus “gifts to foster research relevant to the company’s activities” and “payments to widows of ex-employees on the footing that such payments encourage persons to enter the employment of the company” have been upheld as valid and intra vires.

In this regard the Act provides for bonafide charitable spending by the company. Section 181 of the Companies Act, 2013 authorizes the Board of directors to contribute to bona fide charitable and other funds. However, prior consent of the company in general meeting, has to be obtained in order to contribute for any bona fide charitable or other purpose any amount exceeding five per cent of the average net profits for the three immediately preceding financial years.

The power of the Board as regards contribution to funds, which do directly relate to business of the company is unrestricted. It should not be inferred from the language of the section that with the consent of the company in general meeting, the board of directors may contribute to charitable funds to an unlimited extent, unless MoA and AoA authorizes such expenditure. If it does not authorize so it will be ultra vires the powers of the company.

A bank or any other person lending to a company, for purposes ultra vires the memorandum, cannot recover (National Provincial Bank v. Introductions Ltd., (1969) 1 All. E.R. 887).

Further, in the case of Bell Houses Ltd. v. City Wall Properties Limited (1966) 36 Com Cases 779, the objects clause included a power to “carry on any other trade or business whatsoever which can, in the opinion of the Board of directors, be advantageously carried on by the company.” The Court has held the same to be in order.

Loans, Borrowings, Guarantees and Ultra Vires Rule

An ultra vires borrowing does not create a relationship of a debtor and creditor. In a case, a company had accepted deposits from outsiders which was outside the scope of the Memorandum. When the company was ordered to be wound up, a question was raised whether the depositors were creditors of the company and whether the contributories could be asked to contribute towards payment of deposits. The Court held that the relationship between the company and the depositors was not that of debtor and creditor. But if the lender had lent the amount for discharging lawful expenses, he may recover the amount.

Whether a transaction is ultra vires the company can be decided on the basis of the following:

1. if a transaction entered into by a company falls within the objects, it is not ultra vires and hence not void;
2. if a transaction is outside the capacity (objects) of the company, it is ultra vires;
(3) if a transaction is in excess or abuse of the company's powers, it is ultra vires and such transaction will be set aside by the shareholders or even ratification by the shareholders would not validate the acts done beyond the authority of the company itself;

Implied Powers

The powers exercisable by a company are to be confined to the objects specified in the memorandum. While the objects are to be specified, the powers exercisable in respect of them may be express or implied and need not be specified.

Every company may necessarily possess certain powers which are implied, such as, a power to appoint and act through agents, and where it is a trading company, a power to borrow and give security for the purposes of its business, and also a power to sell. Such powers are incidental and can be inferred from the powers expressed in the memorandum. [Oakbank Oil Co. v. Crum (1882) 8 App Cas 65]. The principle underlying the exercise of such powers is that a company, in carrying on the business for which it is constituted, must be able to pursue those things which may be regarded as incidental to or consequential upon that business. [See Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. v. Port Said Salt Association].

Powers which are not implied

The following powers have been held not to be implied and it is, therefore, prudent to include them expressly in the objects clauses:

(1) acquiring any business similar to the company’s own business, [Ernest v. Nicholls, (1857) 6 HLC 40];
(2) entering into an agreement with other persons or companies for carrying on business in partnership or for sharing profit, joint venture or other arrangements. Very clear powers are necessary to justify such transactions [Re European Society Arbitration Act (1878) 8 Ch 679];
(3) taking shares in other companies having similar objects. [Re Barned’s Banking Co., ex parte and The Contract Corporation (1867) 3 Ch. App. 105. Re William Thomas & Co. Ltd. (1915) 1 Ch 325];
(4) taking shares of other companies where such investment authorizes the doing indirectly that which will not be intra vires if done directly;
(5) promoting other companies or helping them financially [Joint Stock Discount Co. v. Brown, (1869) LR 8 EQ 381];
(6) a power to sell and dispose of the whole of a company’s undertaking;
(7) a power to use funds for political purposes;
(8) a power to give gifts and make donations or contribution for charities not relating to the objects stated in the memorandum;
(9) acting as a surety or as a guarantor.

Shareholder's right in respect of ultra vires acts

A shareholder can get back the money paid by him to the company under an ultra vires allotment of shares. A transferee of shares from him would not have been so allowed. [Margarate Linz v. Electric Wire Co. of Salestine Ltd. (1948) 18 Com Cases 201, 205 : AIR 1949 PC 51].

Effects of ultra vires Transactions

(i) Void ab initio – The ultra vires acts are null and void ab initio. The company is not bound by these acts. Even the company cannot sue or be sued upon [Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Company v.
Ultra vires contracts are void ab initio and hence cannot become intra vires by reason of estoppel or ratification.

(ii) Injunction: The members can get an injunction to restrain a company wherein ultra vires act has been or is about to be undertaken [Attorney General v. Gr. Eastern Rly. Co., (1880) 5 A.C. 473].

(iii) Personal liability of Directors: It is one of the duties of directors to ensure that the corporate capital is used only for the legitimate business of the company and hence if such capital is diverted to purposes alien to the company’s memorandum, the directors will be personally liable to replace it. In Jehangir R. Modi v. Shamji Ladha, [(1866-67) 4 Bom. HCR (1855)], the Bombay High Court held, “A shareholder can maintain an action against the directors to compel them to restore to the company the funds of the company that have by them been employed in transactions that they have no authority to enter into, without making the company a party to the suit”.

In case of deliberate misapplication, criminal action can also be taken for fraud.

However, a distinction must be drawn between transactions which are ultra vires the company and the transactions which are ultra vires the directors. Where the directors exceed their authority the same may be ratified by passing the resolution in the general body meeting of the shareholders. Provided the company has the capacity to do that transaction as per its memorandum of association.

(iv) Where a company’s money has been used ultra vires to acquire some property, the company’s right over such property is held secure and the company will be the right party to protect the property. This is because, though the property has been acquired for some ultra vires object, it represents the money of the company.

(v) Ultra vires borrowing does not create the relationship of creditor and debtor [In Re. Madras Native Permanent Fund Ltd., (1931) 1 Com Cases 256 (Mad.)].

DOCTRINE OF INDOOR MANAGEMENT

While the doctrine of ‘constructive notice” seeks to protect the company against the outsiders, the principal of indoor management operates to protect the outsiders against the company.

According to this doctrine, as laid down in Royal British Bank v. Turquand, (1856) 119 E.R. 886, persons dealing with a company having satisfied themselves that the proposed transaction is not in its nature inconsistent with the memorandum and articles, are not bound to inquire the regularity of any internal proceedings. In other words, while persons contracting with a company are presumed to know the provisions of the contents of the memorandum and articles, they are entitled to assume that the provisions of the articles have been observed by the officers of the company. It is not a part of the duty of an outsider to see that the company carries out its own internal regulations.

CASE LAWS UNDER ERSTWHILE COMPANIES ACT

In Royal British Bank v. Turquand, the directors of a banking company were authorized by the articles to borrow on bonds such sums of money as should from time to time, by resolution of the company in general meeting, be authorized to borrow. The directors gave a bond to Turquand without the authority of any such resolution. It was held that Turquand could sue the company on the strength of the bond, as he was entitled to assume that the necessary resolution had been passed. Lord Hathery observed: “Outsiders are bound to know the external position of the company but are not bound to know its indoor management”.

Section 176 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides for the Validity of Acts of Directors - No act done by a person as a director shall be deemed to be invalid, notwithstanding that it was subsequently noticed that his appointment was invalid by reason of any defect or disqualification or had terminated by virtue of any provision contained in this Act or in the articles of the company:

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to give validity to any act done by the director after his appointment has been noticed by the company to be invalid or have been terminated.

The object of the section is to protect persons dealing with the company - outsiders as well as members by providing that the acts of a person acting as director will be treated as valid although it may afterwards be discovered that his appointment was invalid or that it had terminated under any provision of this Act or the Articles of the company [Ram Raghurab Lal v. United Refineries (Burma) Ltd., (1932) 2 Com Cases 359; AIR 1931 Rang 139].

Relation of company with members and outsiders

The validation of the acts of unqualified directors may apply to circumstances from two different angles: (1) as between outsiders, strangers and the company as in Royal British Bank v. Turquand, (1856) 5 E&B 327, British Asbestos Co. Ltd. v. Boyd. (1903) 2 Ch 439 : (1900-3) All ER Rep 323; and Ram Buran Singh v. Mufassil Bank Ltd. AIR 1925 All 206; and (2) in relation to the internal affairs of the company as in Dawson v. African Consolidated Land & Trading Co., (1898) 1 Ch 6 (CA), where calls made by unqualified directors were held valid. Even if the public documents of the company, and the facts which are apparent, would make it clear that a director was not duly qualified to act, this will not oust the effect of the Section 176 (British Asbestos case) (supra). Similarly in Boschoek Proprietary Co. Ltd., v. Fuke, (1906) 1 Ch 148, a resolution of a general meeting convened by de facto directors was upheld.

Forgery and incompetent acts

This section does not apply where the act itself is not in the competence of the Board of directors, e.g. compromising unpaid calls under the guise of forfeiture, the transaction being ultra vires and invalid [Bhagirath Spinning & Wvg. Co. v. Balaji Bhavani Pawar, AIR 1930 Bom. 267].

Directors not aware of their disqualification

The allotment and forfeiture of shares made by the directors who continued to act even after they were disqualified but were not aware of it, were saved by the Section 176. [Shiromani Sugar Mills Ltd. v. Debi Prasad, (1950) 20 Com Cases 296: AIR 1950 All 508]. Where this section does not save the situation, the company may in general meeting ratify allotment of shares even if made by de facto directors with mala fide intentions [Bamford v. Bamford, (1969) 39 Com Cases 838 : (1969) 2 WLR (1107) (CA) and an appeal (1969) : 1All ER 969].

Where the directors in question were not aware of the fact that by virtue of certain provisions in the articles, they had vacated their office, their acts in passing resolutions for starting certain business transactions were held to be valid [Seth Mohan Lal v. Grain Chambers Ltd., (1968) 38 Com Cases 543 : AIR 1968 SC 772; Shiromani Sugar Mills Ltd. v. Debi Prasad, (Supra).]

It is important to remember that the doctrine of "constructive notice", can be invoked by the company and it does not operate against the company. It operates against the person who has failed to inquire but does not operate in his favour. But the doctrine of "indoor management" can be invoked by the person dealing with the company and cannot be invoked by the company.

An outsider is entitled to act on a certified copy of the resolution of the Board of directors delegating the powers of borrowing money to the managing director subject to the limitation mentioned therein [C.K. Siva Sankara Panicker v. Kerala State Financial Corporation, (1980) 50 Com Cases 817 (Ker.)].

EXCEPTIONS TO THE DOCTRINE OF INDOOR MANAGEMENT

The above noted ‘doctrine of indoor management’ is, however, subject to certain exceptions. In other words, relief on the ground of ‘indoor management’ cannot be claimed by an outsider dealing with the company in the following circumstances.

1. Where the outsider had knowledge of irregularity – The rule does not protect any person who has actual or even an implied notice of the lack of authority of the person acting on behalf of the company. Thus, a person knowing fully well that the directors do not have the authority to make the transaction but still enters into it, cannot seek protection under the rule of indoor management. In Howard v. Patent Ivory Co. (38 Ch. D 156), the articles of a company empowered the directors to borrow up to one thousand pounds only. They could, however, exceed the limit of one thousand pounds with the consent of the company in general meeting. Without such consent having been obtained, they borrowed 3,500 pounds from one of the directors who took debentures. The company refused to pay the amount. Held that, the debentures were good to the extent of one thousand pounds only because the director had notice or was deemed to have the notice of the internal irregularity.

2. No knowledge of memorandum and articles – Again, the rule cannot be invoked in favour of a person who did not consult the memorandum and articles and thus did not rely on them. In Rama Corporation v. Proved Tin & General Investment Co. (1952) 1All. ER 554, T was a director in the company. He, purporting to act on behalf of the company, entered into a contract with the Rama Corporation and took a cheque from the latter. The articles of the company did provide that the directors could delegate their powers to one of them. But Rama Corporation people had never read the articles. Later, it was found that the directors of the company did not delegate their powers to T. The Plaintiff relied on the rule of indoor management. Held, they could not because they even did not know that power could be delegated.

3. Forgery – The rule of indoor management does not extend to transactions involving forgery or to transactions which are otherwise void or illegal ab initio. In the case of forgery it is not that there is absence of free consent but there is no consent at all. The person whose signatures have been forged is not even aware of the transaction, and the question of his consent being free or otherwise does not arise. Consequently, it is not that the title of the person is defective but there is no title at all. Therefore, however clever the forgery might have been, the personates acquire no rights at all. Thus, where the secretary of a company forged signatures of two of the directors required under the articles on a share certificate and issued certificate without authority, the applicants were refused registration as members of the company. The certificate was held to be nullity and the holder of the certificate was not allowed to take advantage of the doctrine of indoor management [Rouben v. Great Fingal Consolidated (1906) AC 439].

Forgery, in the case of a company, can take place in different forms. It may, besides forgery of the signatures of the authorized officials, include the execution of a document towards the personal discharge of an official’s liability instead of the liability of the company. Thus, a bill of exchange signed by the manager of a company with his own signature under words stating that he signed on behalf of the company, was held to be forgery when the bill was drawn in favour of a payee to whom the manager was personally indebted [Kreditbank Cassel v. Schenkers Ltd. (1927) 1 KB 826]. The bill in this case was held to be forged because it purported to be a different document from what it was in fact; it purported to be issued on behalf of the company in payment of its debt when in fact it was issued in payment of the manager’s own debt.

4. Negligence – The ‘doctrine of indoor management’, in no way, rewards those who behave negligently. Thus, where an officer of a company does something which shall not ordinarily be within his powers, the person dealing with him must make proper enquiries and satisfy himself as to the officer’s authority. If he fails to make an enquiry, he is estopped from relying on the Rule. In the case of Underwood v. Benkof Liverpool (1924) 1 KB 775, a person who was a sole director and principal shareholder of a company deposited into his own account cheques drawn in favour of the company. Held, that, the bank should have made inquiries as to the power of the director. The bank was put upon an enquiry and was accordingly not entitled to rely upon the ostensible authority of director.

Similarly, in the case of Anand Behari Lal v. Dinshaw & Co. (Bankers) Ltd. AIR 1942 Oudh 417, an accountant of a company transferred some property of a company in favour of Anand Behari. On an action brought by him for breach of contract, the Court held that the transfer to be void. It was observed that the power of transferring immovable property of the company could not be considered within the apparent authority of an accountant.

5. Again, the doctrine of indoor management does not apply where the question is in regard to the very existence of an agency. In Varkey Souriar v. Keraleeya Banking Co. Ltd. (1957) 27 Com Cases 591 (Ker.), the Hon’ble Kerala High Court held that the ‘doctrine of indoor management’ cannot apply where the question is not one as to scope of the power exercised by an apparent agent of a company but is with regard to the very existence of the agency.

6. This Doctrine is also not applicable where a pre-condition is required to be fulfilled before company itself can exercise a particular power. In other words, the act done is not merely ultra vires the directors/officers but ultra vires the company itself – Pacific Coast Coal Mines v. Arbuthnot (1917) AC 607.

In the end, it is worthwhile to mention that section 6 of the Companies Act, 2013 gives overriding force and effect to the provisions of the Act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the memorandum or articles of a company or in any agreement executed by it or for that matter in any resolution of the company in general meeting or of its board of directors. A provision contained in the memorandum, articles, agreement or resolution to the extent to which it is repugnant to the provisions of the Act, will be regarded as void.

A corporation, organization or other entity set up to provide a legal shield for the person actually controlling the operation.

CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE OF MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The memorandum and articles, when registered, become public documents and can be inspected by anyone on payment of nominal fee. Therefore, every person who contemplates entering into a contract with a company has the means of ascertaining and is consequently presumed to know, not only the exact powers of the company but also the extent to which these powers have been delegated to the directors, and of any limitations placed upon the exercise of these powers. In other words, every person dealing with the company is deemed to have a “constructive notice” of the contents of its memorandum and articles. In fact, he is regarded not only as having read those documents but also as having understood them according to their proper meaning [Griffith v. Paget, (1877) Ch. D. 517]. Consequently, if a person enters into a contract which is beyond the powers of the company, as defined in the memorandum, or outside the limits set on the authority of the directors, he cannot, as a general rule, acquire any rights under the contract against the company [Mohony v. East Holyfrod Mining Co., (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 869]. For example, if the articles provide that a bill of exchange to be effective must be signed by two directors, a person dealing with the company must see that it is so signed; otherwise he cannot claim under it. In another case, the articles required that all documents should be signed by the managing director, secretary and the working director on behalf of the company. A deed of mortgage was executed by the secretary and the working director only and the Court held that no claim would lie under such a deed. The Court said that the mortgagee should have consulted the articles before the deed was executed. Therefore, even though the mortgagee may have acted in good faith and the money borrowed applied for the purpose of the company, the mortgage was nevertheless invalid [Kotla Venkataswamy v. Rammurthy, AIR 1934 Mad 579]. The doctrine of indoor management protects third parties who are entitled to an assurance that all the procedural aspects of a transaction are carried out.

Outsiders dealing with incorporated bodies are bound to take notice of limits imposed on the corporation by the memorandum or other documents of constitution. Nevertheless, they are entitled to assume that the directors or other persons exercising authority on behalf of the company are doing so in accordance with the internal regulations as set out in the Memorandum & Articles of Association.

The impact of this doctrine on practical relations is thus stated in HALSBURY: “A company is subject to the rule that, where the conduct of a party charged with a notice shows that he had suspicions of a state of facts the knowledge of which would affect his legal rights, but that he deliberately refrained from making inquiries, he will be treated as having had notice, though he is not entitled to claim for his own advantage,” [Jones v. Smith, (1841) 1 Hare 43].

MONIES PAYABLE BY MEMBERS IS A DEBT [SUB-SECTION (2) OF SECTION 10]

Though all monies payable under the memorandum or articles by members is a debt due, the liability on the debt is not enforceable, unless proper notice is given in accordance with the articles. [Pabna Dhana-Bhandar Co. Ltd. v. Foyezud din Mia (1933) 3 Com Cases 41 : AIR 1932 Cal 716].

INTERPRETATION OF MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

Articles should be construed as a business document so as to give business efficacy preference to a construction which will prove unworkable [Holmes v. Keyes (Lord) (1958) 2 All ER 129 (CA)]. Where the conduct of the parties reveals that there has been some practice in vogue for several years which was accepted by everyone concerned without any challenge or question, then that practice in the course of long years in itself becomes an indication that the rules or articles which are framed by way of internal management were understood in that sense [Krishnaswamy (S) v. South India film Chamber of Commerce, AIR 1969 Mad 42 : (1968) 1 Comp LJ 75; cited in Sunil Dev v. Delhi and District Cricket Assn., (1990) 2 Comp LJ 245, 255 : (1994) 80 Com Cases 174 (Del)].

The memorandum must like any other document be construed according to accepted principles applicable to the interpretation of all legal documents. No rigid canon of construction is to be applied to such a document. Like any other document, it must be read fairly and its import derived from a reasonable interpretation of the language which it employs. [A Lakshamanaswami Mudaliar v. LIC of India (1963) 33 Com Cases 420, 430 (SC); Egyptian Salt & Soda Co. Ltd. v. Port Said Salt Assn Ltd., (1931) AC 677 : AIR 1931 PC 182].

The memorandum and articles must be read together in the event of any ambiguity. In Angostura Bitters & Co. Ltd. v. Kerr, (1933) AC 550 : (1934) 4 Com Cases 1; the Privy Council held, “Except in respect of such matters as must be statutorily provided for by the conjunction with the articles. The two documents must be read together at all events so far as may be necessary to explain any ambiguity appearing in the terms of the memorandum or to supplement it upon any matter as to which it is silent” – quoted with approval by the Supreme Court in A. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar v. LIC of India Ltd. (1963) SC 1185.

DOCTRINE OF ALTER EGO

It is used by the courts to ignore the status of shareholders, officers, and directors of a company in reference to their liability in their respective capacity so that they may be held personally liable for their actions when they have acted fraudulently or unjustly.

In Lennards Carrying Co. Ltd. v. Asiatic Petroleum Co. Ltd. [1915] AC 705, Viscount Haldane propounded the “alter ego” theory and distinguished it from vicarious liability. The House of Lords stated that the default of the managing director who is the “directing mind and will” of the company, would be attributed to him and he be held for the wrong doing of the company.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The main points of distinction between the memorandum and articles are given below:

1. Memorandum of association is the charter of the company and defines the fundamental conditions and objects for which the company is granted incorporation. Articles of association are the rules and regulations framed to govern this internal management of the company.

2. Clauses of the memorandum cannot be easily altered. They can only be altered in accordance with the mode prescribed by the Act. In some of the cases, alteration requires the permission of the Central Government or the Court. In the case of articles of association, members have a right to alter the articles by a special resolution. Generally, there is no need to obtain the permission of the Court or the Central Government for alteration of the articles.

3. Memorandum of association cannot include any clause contrary to the provisions of the Companies Act. The articles of association are subsidiary both to the Companies Act and the memorandum of association.

4. The memorandum generally defines the relation between the company and the outsiders, while the articles regulate the relationship between the company and its members and between the members inter se.

5. Acts done by a company beyond the scope of the memorandum are absolutely void and ultra vires and cannot be ratified even by unanimous vote of all the shareholders. But the acts of the directors beyond the articles can be ratified by the shareholders.

LEGAL EFFECT OF THE MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The memorandum and articles, when registered, bind the company and its members to the same extent as if they have been signed by the company and by each member to observe and be bound by all the provisions of the memorandum and of the articles. Also, all monies payable by any member to the company under the memorandum or articles shall be a debt due from him to the company (Section 10).

We shall examine the extent to which the memorandum and articles bind:

(a) the members to the company;
(b) the company to the members;
(c) the members inter se; and
(d) the company to outsiders.

Members Bound to the Company

The memorandum and articles constitute a contract binding on the members of the company. The members, as members, are bound to the company. Each member must, therefore, observe the provisions of the memorandum and articles.

Each member is bound by the covenants of the Memorandum as originally made and as altered from time to time [Malleson v. National Insurance Co.]. In another case, the shareholders could not enter into an agreement which was contrary to or inconsistent with the articles of association of the company [V.B. Rangaraj v. V.B. Gopalkrishnan (1992) 73 Com Cases 201 (SC)].

CASE LAW

In Boreland's Trustee v. Steel Brother and Co. Ltd. (1901) 1 Ch. 279, the articles of a company contained a clause that on the bankruptcy of a member his shares would be sold to other persons and at a price fixed by the directors. B, a shareholder was adjudicated bankrupt. His trustee in bankruptcy claimed that he was not bound by these provisions and should be at liberty to sell the shares at their true value. It was held that the trustee was bound by the articles, as the shares were purchased by B in terms of the articles.
Company Bound to the Members

Since the articles constitute a contract binding the company to its members in their capacity as members, a member can bring an action against the company for infringement by it of the memorandum or articles. For example, an individual member can sue the company for an injunction restraining it from improper payment of dividend [Hoole v. Great Western Railway (1867) 3 Ch. D. 262]. Further, the company is bound to individual members in respect of their ordinary rights as members, e.g. the right to receive share certificate in respect of shares allotted to them, or to receive notice of general meeting, etc. Normally, action for breach of articles against the company can be brought only by a majority of the members. Individual or minority members cannot bring such a suit except when it is intended for enforcement of personal rights of members or to prevent the company from doing any ultra vires or illegal act, fraud, or oppression and mismanagement.

Member Bound to Member

As between the members inter se each member is bound by the articles to the other members but that does not mean the memorandum and articles create an express contract among the members of the company. Thus, a member of a company has no right to bring a suit to enforce the articles in his own name against any other member or members. It is the company alone which can sue the offender so as to protect the aggrieved member. It is in this way that the rights of members inter se are regulated. A shareholder may, however, sue in his own name to restrain another, or others from doing fraudulent or ultra vires acts.

Articles do not affect or regulate the rights arising out of a commercial contract, with which the members have no concern, i.e., rights completely outside the company’s relationship.

Company not Bound to Outsiders

The term “outsider” signifies a person who is not a member of the company even if he is a director of or solicitor to the company. Even in regard to members, the articles bind the company to them in their capacity as members.

As between outsiders and the company, neither the memorandum nor the articles would give any contractual rights to outsiders against the company or its members even though the names of outsiders are mentioned in those documents in connection with the arrangements that the company might have contemplated for carrying on its business. The articles do not confer any contractual rights even upon a member in a capacity other than that of a member. To succeed, the party suing must prove a contract outside and independent of the articles [Eley v. Positive Life Insurance Co., (1876) 1 E.X.D. 88].

In this case the articles provided that the solicitor to the company would not be removed from office except for misconduct. Eley acted as solicitor to the company and also became a member of the company. The company discontinued his services and then he sued the company for damages for breach of contract. It was held that he had no cause of action because the articles did not constitute any contract between the company and himself. His action was dismissed.

This rule, however, proved to be rather harsh and so the Courts later on modified it. The modified rule is as follows:

(i) While the articles cannot create a contract between the company and any person other than a member in his capacity as a member, they may indicate the basis upon which contracts may be made by the company. If such a contract is entered into whether with a member of the company or any other person, the conditions stated in the articles will be tacitly adopted by that contract, unless expressly stated to the negative form or varied by the contract itself.

(ii) The question sometimes arises as to whether directors are bound by whatever is contained in the articles. In case the directors contravene the provisions in the articles, the directors render themselves liable for an action by members. On the other hand, members can also ratify acts of directors. If any loss is incurred by the company, directors are liable to reimburse to the company any loss so incurred.
The Memorandum of Association is a document which sets out the constitution of the company and is the foundation on which the structure of the company stands. It defines as well as confines the powers of the company. If the company enters into contract or engages in any trade or business which is beyond the powers conferred on it by the memorandum, such a contract or the act will be ultra vires the company and hence void. However, the Companies Act, 2013 shall override the provisions in the memorandum of a company, if the latter contains anything contrary to the provisions in the Act.

The memorandum of association of a company may be altered by changing its name, altering it in regard to the State in which the registered office is to be situated or its objects, altering or reorganizing its share capital, reducing its capital or making the liability of the directors unlimited.

Articles means the articles of association of a company as originally framed or as altered from time to time in pursuance of any previous company law or of this Act. It also includes the regulations contained in Tables F to J in Schedule I of the Act, in so far as they apply to the company.

The memorandum lays down the scope and powers of the company and the articles govern the ways in which the objects of the company are to be carried out and can be framed and altered by the members.

A company has a statutory right to alter its articles of association. But the power to alter is subject to the provisions of the Act and to the conditions contained in the memorandum. Any alteration so made shall be as valid as if originally contained in the articles.

The memorandum and articles, when registered, bind the company and its members to the same extent as if they have been signed by the company and by each member to observe and be bound by all the provisions of the memorandum and of the articles.

As per doctrine of constructive notice, every person dealing with the company is deemed to have a “constructive notice” of the contents of its memorandum and articles. Outsiders dealing with incorporated bodies are bound to take notice of limits imposed on the corporation by the memorandum or other documents of constitution. Nevertheless, they are entitled to assume that the directors or other persons exercising authority on behalf of the company are doing so in accordance with the internal regulations as set out in the Memorandum & Articles of Association.

While the doctrine of constructive notice seeks to protect the company against the outsiders, the doctrine of indoor management operates to protect the outsiders against the company. While persons contracting with a company are presumed to know the provisions of the contents of the memorandum and articles, they are entitled to assume that the provisions of the articles have been observed by the officers of the company. However, there are certain exceptions to doctrine of indoor management.

Indoor Management

It operates to protect outsiders against the company. It protects innocent parties who are doing business with the Company and are not in a position to know if some internal rule or procedural requirement has not been complied with.

Rule of Constructive Notice

To protect the company against outsiders. The rule of constructive notice is confined to the external position of the company and, therefore, it follows that there is no notice as to how the company’s internal machinery is handled by its officers. It is a presumption in favour of the company which mean that an outsider has a knowledge of the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company with which he/ she is about to entering into the contract.
Alteration

The state of being altered; a change made in the form or nature of a thing; changed condition. In Company Law the memorandum and articles sometime require alterations.

5. Share Capital Clause which defines Authorized share capital of the company.
6. Subscription clause which prescribes the number of shares which the subscribers to the memorandum agree to subscribe which shall not be less than one share.

Articles of Association (AOA) of the company is a document which regulates the internal management of the company. It shall not prevent a company from including such additional matters in its articles as may be considered necessary for its management provided such matters are not inconsistent with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

The articles may contain provisions for entrenchment to the effect that specified provisions of the articles may be altered only if conditions or procedures as that are more restrictive than those applicable in the case of a special resolution, are met or complied with.

The AOA shall be in respective forms specified in Tables F, G, H, I and J as may be applicable to such company.

ALTERATION OF MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION (MOA)

Applicable section for Alteration of MOA

Section 13(1) of the Act provides that save as provided in section 61 (Dealing with power of limited company to alter its share capital), a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. The memorandum of association of a company may be altered in the following respects:

1. Alteration in the Name clause [Section 13 (2) and (3)]
2. Alteration in the Registered Office Clause [Section 13 (4) (5) and (7)]
3. Alteration in the Object clause [Section 13 (8) and (9)]
4. Alteration in the Capital clause [Section 61 read with section 64]

The provisions or conditions of the memorandum of association relating to the name clause, registered office clause, the objects clause, limited liability clause, capital clause, subscriber’s share clause as provided in Section 4 of the Companies Act, 2013 or any other specific provisions contained therein, can be altered by following the prescribed procedure laid down in the Act. Strict compliance of the prescribed procedure is demanded by law. Failure to comply with the express provisions made under the Act for the purpose of alteration of the provisions or conditions contained in the memorandum will be deemed as a nullity.

Further section 13(6) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1).

Section 13(10) provides that no alteration made under this section shall have any effect until it has been registered in accordance with the provisions of the said section.

Further, any alteration of the memorandum, in the case of a company limited by guarantee and not having a share capital, purporting to give any person a right to participate in the divisible profits of the company otherwise than as a member, shall be void. [Section 13 (11)]

The procedure for the alteration of the compulsory clauses or conditions of the memorandum is discussed in detail in the following paragraphs.

ALTERATION OF MOA DUE TO CHANGE IN NAME CLAUSE [SECTION 13 (2) AND (3)]

The name of the company can be altered by a special resolution and with the approval of the Central Government in writing. Approval of the Central Government is not required, in case where the change in the name of the company relates to the addition/deletion of the word ‘Private’ to the name of the company consequent to the conversion of a company into a public company and vice versa. [Section 13 (2)]

When any change in the name of a company is made under section 13(2), the Registrar shall enter the new name in the register of companies in place of the old name and issue a fresh certificate of incorporation with the new name and such change in the name shall be complete and effective only on the issue of such a certificate [Section 13(3)].

According to Rule 29 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014, the change of name shall not be allowed to a company which has not filed annual returns or financial statements due for filing with the Registrar or which has failed to pay or repay matured deposits or debentures or interest thereon. Provided that the change of name shall be allowed upon filing necessary documents or payment or repayment of matured deposits or debentures or interest thereon as the case may be.

An application shall be filed in Form No. INC-24 along with the fee for change in the name of the company and a new certificate of incorporation in Form No. INC-25 shall be issued to the company consequent upon change of name.

Under Section 16 of the Act, rectification of the name of the company is required to be carried out if, through inadvertence or otherwise, a company (whether on its first registration or on its registration by a new name) is registered by a name which is identical to or too nearly resembles the name of a company already in existence.
The rectification of the name must also be carried out if the Central Government so directs at any point of time after the registration of the company. The direction of the Central Government is required to be complied with by the company within a period of 3 months from the date of issue thereof. Further where a company changes its name or obtains a new name under section 16 (1), it shall within a period of fifteen days from the date of such change, give notice of the change to the Registrar along with the order of the Central Government, who shall carry out necessary changes in the certificate of incorporation and the memorandum. Any default in complying with the direction issued by the Central Government would render the company liable for punishment with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for every day during which default continues and its officers in default shall be liable for fine which shall not be less than five thousand rupees but which may extend to one lakh rupees.

- Change in name of the Company involves alteration of Clause I of the Memorandum of Association of the Company.
- Section 13 of the Companies Act, 2013 says that name of a company may be changed by passing a special resolution in the general meeting and with the Central Government approval.

Methods of changing the name

After incorporation, a company can change their name through following methods:

(a) Conversion of private limited company into public limited company and thereby change in the name from private to public, or
(b) Conversion of public limited company into private limited company and thereby change in the name from public to private, or
(c) Change of name from ABC limited to XYZ limited.

As per Section 13 of the Companies Act, 2013, the name of the company can be changed by passing a Special Resolution by the members of the company in their general meeting and with the approval of the Central Government. But on the other hand, if the change relates to the addition/deletion of the words “private” to the name, then approval of Central Government is not required.

If any legal proceeding is commenced, after change in the name, against the company in its old name, the company should be treated as if it is not in existence. ### Steps after obtaining new certificate from ROC

- Make alteration in the MOA with respect to the state in every copy of Memorandum.
- Each stationery, banner, signboard, bills, invoice etc. should show the new address and necessary advice should be sent to shareholders, debenture holders, and other concerned parties.
- Necessary changes are required to be made in the letter heads, books, records etc. of the company. The necessary changes are required to be made in PAN, TAN and ST2 or various returns under the GST etc and inform all the Government departments, banks, customers and others wherever required.
- Cases under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956
  - No notice of the petition is required to be served on the State, but in view of the wider language of Section 17 [Corresponds to section 13 of the Companies Act, 2013] Central Government may direct notice to be served on the State if it is of the view that the interest of the State will be affected by the alteration. Where the alteration is affected by changing the registered office from one State to another State, the loss of revenue in one State would be accompanied by increase in revenue in the other and in such a case the interest of a particular State ought not to be considered but it is the interest of the country as a whole which should be considered. The decision to shift the registered office of the company to another state being a domestic matter rests with shareholders and the company is the best judge of how to run its business more economically, efficiently or conveniently, even though it would result in loss of revenue to the State. [Satyashree Balaji Wires & Cables (P) Ltd., In re (2006) 71 CLA 231 (CLB)].
  - A company was allowed to shift its registered office from Bihar to West Bengal in spite of the fact that Bihar Government had granted lease of land for the company’s factory on the condition that it would not shift its registered office. The CLB also held that interest free loans, sales tax, electricity and other subsidies would have no bearing on the shifting [Usha Beltron Re, (2000) 27 SCL 124].

Employees’ right to object in case of shifting of registered office from one state to another – Some legal cases

- In the case of Bharat Commerce and Industries Ltd., Re, (1973) 43 Com Cases 162 (Cal.), it was held that employees' union, which was a registered body and which represented quite a number of the employees at the registered office of the company, would have the legal standing to appear before the court and oppose the application on the ground that their interests are likely to be prejudicially affected if the resolution for shifting the registered office of the company from one state to another is confirmed by the court. However, it was held that the employees' union cannot oppose on the ground that there would be loss of revenue or unemployment in the State or that the meeting at which the special resolution was passed was itself not valid.
- Further, in the case of Metal Box India Ltd. Re, (2000) 37 CLA 15, it was held that where the shifting of the registered office was in accordance with a scheme approved by the BIFR, it was held that the workers had no right of objection because their continuation in the company’s employment was ensured unless, of course, a worker preferred voluntary retirement.
- A different dimension to the employees’ right can be seen in the case of Kwality Ice Creams (India) P Ltd., Re, (2009) 91 SCL 231 : (2009) 148 Com Cases 631 : (2010) 98 CLA 218 (CLB). In that case, the company’s petition for shifting its registered office from West Bengal to Delhi was opposed by two employees of the head office on the ground that their action against the company would be prejudiced.
The CLB said that the facility for litigation is not a valid ground to stall shifting. There was no restraint order from any Court against the proposed shifting. The Company Law Board allowed shifting subject to the condition that the interest of none of the employees at the registered office would be prejudiced by retrenchment or otherwise.

ALTERATION OF MOA DUE TO CHANGE IN OBJECT CLAUSE [SECTION 13 (8) AND (9)]

According to section 13(1), a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. It means that a company can change its objects by passing a special resolution. Further section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1). As per section 13(9), the Registrar shall register any alteration of the memorandum with respect to the objects of the company and certify the registration within a period of thirty days from the date of filing of the special resolution in accordance with section 13(6)(a).

Consequently, pursuant to Section 13(1) a company can change its objects clause by passing a special resolution. Further, in case the company is eligible for conducting business through postal ballot any alteration in the objects clause of the Memorandum of Association, shall implement the same through Postal Ballot in terms of section 110 read with Rule 22 of the Companies (Management & Administration) Rules, 2014.

(i) the details, as may be prescribed, in respect of such resolution shall be published in the newspapers (one in English and one in vernacular language) which is in circulation at the place where the registered office of the company is situated and shall also be placed on the website of the company, if any, indicating there in the justification for such change;

   (a) the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1); and

The special resolution shall be filed with the Registrar within thirty days of the passing or making thereof in the prescribed manner and payment of prescribed fees within the time specified under section 403.
As per section 13(9), the Registrar shall register any alteration of the memorandum with respect to the objects of the company and certify the registration within a period of thirty days from the date of filing of the special resolution in accordance with section 13 (6)(a).

Further section 13(7) provides that where an alteration of the memorandum results in the transfer of the registered office of a company from one State to another, a certified copy of the order of the Central Government approving the alteration shall be filed by the company with the Registrar of each of the States within such time and in such manner as may be prescribed, who shall register the same, and the Registrar of the State where the registered office is being shifted to, shall issue a fresh certificate of incorporation indicating the alteration.

The other Registrar of Companies will register the other copy of the order and keep that order with the records transferred to him by his counterpart.

ALTERATION OF LIABILITY CLAUSE

According to section 13(1) of the Act, a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. It means that a company can change the liability clause of its memorandum of association by passing a special resolution. Further section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1).

ALTERATION OF CAPITAL CLAUSE IN MOA [SECTION 61 READ WITH SECTION 64]

Types of alteration of capital clause in the general meeting of a company limited by shares as per section 61 (1) of the Companies Act, 2013 can be enumerated as below:

(a) increase its authorised share capital by such amount as it thinks expedient;

(b) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of a larger amount than its existing shares:

Provided that no consolidation and division which results in changes in the voting percentage of shareholders shall take effect unless it is approved by the Tribunal on an application made in the prescribed manner;

(c) convert all or any of its fully paid-up shares into stock, and reconvert that stock into fully paid-up shares of any denomination;

(d) sub-divide its shares, or any of them, into shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the memorandum, so, however, that in the sub-division the proportion between the amount paid and the amount, if any, unpaid on each reduced share shall be the same as it was in the case of the share from which the reduced share is derived;
(e) cancel shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution in that behalf, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person, and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled.

All the above alterations do not require the confirmation by the Tribunal except that alteration relating to consolidation and division which results in changes in the voting percentage of shareholders shall not take effect unless it is approved by the Tribunal on an application made in the prescribed manner.

These alterations are, however, required to be notified and a copy of the resolution should be filed with the Registrar within 30 days of the passing of the resolution along with an altered memorandum. [Section 64(1)]

The Registrar shall record the notice and make any alteration which may be necessary in the company's memorandum or articles or both.

The cancellation of shares under section 61(1) of the Act shall not be deemed to be a reduction of share capital. Section 64 (1) provides that a notice is required to be given to the Registrar for alteration for share capital.

Procedure for altering the Memorandum of Association for increasing the Authorised Capital of the Company under Section 61 and 64 of the Companies Act 2013 read with Rule no 15 of Companies (Share Capital and Debenture) Rules, 2014

1. Check for Authorization in Articles: Section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013, mandates that for increasing the Authorised share capital, authorization in Articles of Association is a pre-condition.

   If there is no such provision then the company has to take steps for alteration of its Articles of Association in accordance with the provision of Section 14 of the Companies Act, 2013, so as to insert the clause enabling increase in the authorised share capital.

2. Calling of Board Meeting: Issue notice in accordance with the provisions of section 173(3) for convening a meeting of the Board of Directors. Main agenda for this Board meeting would be:

   (a) To get in-principal approval of Directors for Increase in authorised share Capital;

   (b) Fix date, time and place for holding Extra-ordinary General meeting (EGM) to get approval of shareholders, by way of Ordinary Resolution, for amendment in authorised share Capital clause of Memorandum of Association. This amendment in authorised share Capital clause of Memorandum of Association shall be in accordance with the requirement of section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013;

   (c) To approve notice of EGM along with Agenda and explanatory statement pursuant to Section 102(1) of the Act;

   (d) To authorize the Director or Company Secretary to issue Notice of the Extra-ordinary General meeting (EGM) as approved by the board under clause 2(c) mentioned above.

3. Issue Notice of the EGM to all members, legal representative of deceased member, assignee of an insolvent member if any, directors and the auditors of the company in accordance with the provisions of Section 101.

4. Holding of general meeting: To hold the EGM on fixed date and pass the necessary ordinary resolution under section 61(1)(a) for increase in the authorized share capital of the Company.

5. ROC Form filing: File Form SH-7 within 30 days of passing of Ordinary Resolution with the concerned ROC, with prescribed fees and along with following attachments as desired by section 64 read with Rule 15 of the Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014:

   a. Notice of EGM;

   b. Certified True copy of Ordinary Resolution along with the explanatory statement pursuant to Section 102 of the Act;
c. Altered Memorandum of Association.

6. Concerned ROC will check the e-form and attached documents and will approve the increase in authorize share capital.

7. The company shall file a notice in the prescribed form with the Registrar within a period of 30 days of alteration to its share capital along with a copy of altered Memorandum. [Section 64].

8. No need to pass Special Resolution for increase in authorised share capital.

However, in case the alteration of capital clause of the Memorandum of Association of the company requires the alteration of the Articles of Association of the company then, the special resolution for the alteration of articles of association of the company be passed and form MGT-14 should also be filed for the filing of copy of such special resolution with the concerned Registrar within 30 days from the date of passing of such resolution along with the prescribed fees.

ALTERATION OF ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION OF A COMPANY

A company has a statutory right to alter its articles of association. But the power to alter is subject to the provisions of the Act and to the conditions contained in the memorandum. Section 14(1) provides that subject to the provisions of this Act and the conditions contained in its memorandum, if any, a company may, by a special resolution, alter its articles including alterations having the effect of conversion of a private company into a public company; or a public company into a private company. First proviso to section 14(1) lays down that where a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include the restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under this Act, the company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company. Second proviso to section 14(1) stipulates that any alteration having the effect of conversion of a public company into a private company shall not take effect unless it is approved by an order of the Central Government on an application made in prescribed form shall make such order as it may deem fit.

Every alteration of the articles under this section and a copy of the order of the Central Government approving the alteration as per section 14(1) shall be filed with the Registrar, together with a printed copy of the altered articles, within a period of fifteen days in such manner as may be prescribed, who shall register the same. [Section 14 (2)]

Any alteration of the articles registered under section 14(2) shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be valid as if it were originally in the articles. [Section 14(3)]

The right to alter the articles is so important that a company cannot in any manner, either by express provisions in the articles or by independent contract, deprive itself of the powers to alter its articles [Walker v. London Tramway Co. (1879) 12 Ch. D. 705].

However, in spite of the power to alter its articles, a company can exercise this power subject only to certain limitations. These are:

1. The alteration must not exceed the powers given by the memorandum. In the event of conflict between the memorandum and the articles, it is the memorandum that will prevail.

2. The alteration must not be inconsistent with any provisions of the Companies Act or any other statute. Similarly, where a resolution was passed expelling a member and authorizing the director to register the transfer of his shares without an instrument of transfer, the resolution was held to be invalid as being against the provisions of the Act [Madhava Ramachandra Kamath v. Canara Banking Corporation [1941] 11 Com Cases 78 (Mad)].

On the other hand, articles may impose on the company conditions stricter than those provided under the law; for example, they may provide that a matter should be passed by a special resolution when the Act requires it to be passed by an ordinary resolution.

3. The Articles must not include anything which is illegal or opposed to public policy.

4. The alteration must be bona fide for the benefit of the company as a whole.

5. The alteration must not constitute a fraud on the minority by a majority. If the alteration is not for the benefit of the company as a whole, but for majority of shareholders, then the alteration would be bad. In other words, an alteration to the articles must not discriminate between the majority shareholders and the minority shareholders so as to give the former an advantage over the latter. [All India Railway Mens Benefit Fund v. Jamadar Baheshwarnath Bali (1945) 15 Com Cases 142 (Nag.)]

In Mathrubhumi Printing & Publishing Co. Ltd. v. Vardhaman Publishers Ltd. [1992] 73 Com Cases 80 (Ker.), the Hon’ble Kerala High Court held that no majority of shareholders can, by altering the article retrospectively, affect, the prejudice of the consenting owners of shares, the right already existing under a contract nor take away the right accrued, e.g., after a transfer of share is lodged, the company cannot have a right of lien so as to defeat the transfer.

6. Articles cannot be altered so as to compel an existing member to take or subscribe for more shares or in any way increase his liability to contribute to the share capital, unless he gives his consent in writing (Section 38 of the Companies Act, 1956).

7. By effecting alteration in its articles, a company cannot defeat escape from its contractual obligation with any person. The company will always be liable in such a case.

8. The Articles of Association cannot be altered so as to have retrospective effects. The articles only operate from the date of the amendment [Pyare Lal Sharma v. Managing Director, J.K. Industries Ltd. (1989) 3 Comp LJ (SL) 70].

9. The alteration must not be inconsistent with an order of the Court under Sections 397 or 398 and 404 of the Companies Act, 1956.

Subject to the foregoing conditions, the Articles in a company can be altered and no clause can be included in the Articles that it is not alterable. Persons who become members of a company have no right to assume that the Articles will always remain in a particular form.

Of course, a section or a class of shareholders cannot be unfairly or oppressively treated. Thus, though the requisite majority of members could pass a special resolution to alter the Articles and if the alteration has the effect of making a fraud on the minority, the minority shareholders not being less than the number specified in Section 397 and 398 could move the Court for redressing their grievances. The Courts have entertained such applications from shareholders even where they are smaller in number [See Menier N. Hooper Telegraph Works (1874) 9 Ch. App. 350].

As already mentioned, a company is not prevented from altering its Articles on the ground that such an alteration would be breach of a contract but an action for damages may lie against the company. [Southern Foundries v. Shirlaw, [1940] AC 701].

The discussion on the above matter will not be complete without referring to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle (1843) 2 Hare 461 where the court held that no individual shareholder nor a minority of shareholders in a company can take it upon himself or themselves to remedy an alleged wrong involved in the actions of directors if the said wrongful act is something which the majority can regularise and approve of.

Section 14(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 states that subject to the provisions of this Act and the conditions contained in its memorandum, if any, a company may, by a special resolution, alter its articles including alterations having the effect of conversion of –

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

This Chapter will highlight the characteristics of three types of companies, namely, private limited company, public limited company and a One Person Company (OPC). It will also provide an overview of certain types of companies, such as Small Company, Holding Company, Subsidiary Company and Associate Company and the procedure for classifying a company into Dormant/Inactive Company. It further explains what is a Government Company and the exemptions available to them.
The word “Company” is an amalgamation of the Latin word ‘Cum' meaning “with or together” and “Panis” meaning “bread.” Originally, it referred to a group of persons who took their meals together. A company is nothing but a group of persons who have come together or who have contributed money for some common purpose and who have incorporated themselves as a separate legal entity in the form of a company for that purpose. Under Halsbury’s Laws of England, the term “company” has been defined as a collection of many individuals united into one body under special denomination, having perpetual succession under an artificial form and vested by the policies of law with the capacity of acting in several respects as an individual, particularly for taking and granting of property, for contracting obligation and for suing and being sued, for enjoying privileges and immunities in common and exercising a variety of political rights, more or less extensive, according to the design of its institution or the powers upon it, either at the time of its creation or at any subsequent period of its existence. However, the Supreme Court of India has held in the case of State Trading Corporation of India v/s. CTO that a company cannot have the status of a citizen under the Constitution of India.

In India, there are three types of limited companies: private limited company, public limited company and a One-Person Company. A company’s liability may be limited by shares, in which case the liability of the company’s members is limited to the amount of the shares held by them, or it may be limited by guarantee, in which case the liability is limited to a predetermined amount to which the company’s members have agreed to contribute if the company is dissolved with outstanding liabilities.

A private limited company is a limited company incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013 (or any one of its predecessor acts), with an article that restricts the transfer of its shares; it may have between two and two hundred members, prohibits any invitation to the public to subscribe for any securities of the company; and its name ends with “Private Limited”.

A public limited company must have at least seven members and its name ends with “Limited” (abbreviated as – ‘Ltd.’). Subject to the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, the shares issued by them are freely transferable and it can raise public deposits.

An One-Person Company (OPC) is a private company with similar proprietorship and privileges as applicable to a private limited company, but with fewer compliance related requirements; this type of company may have only one director and member.
An OPC is a company which has only one person as a member. (Sub section (62) of Section 2 of the Act). OPC must be a private company.

Certain characteristics of an OPC are summarized below:

1. The financial statement, with respect to One Person Company, may not include the cash flow statement;
2. The Memorandum of One Person Company shall indicate the name of the other person, with his prior written consent in the prescribed form, who shall, in the event of the subscriber’s death or his incapacity to contract become the member of the company and the written consent of such person shall also be filed with the Registrar at the time of incorporation of the One Person Company along with its memorandum and articles.
3. The words “One Person Company” shall be mentioned in brackets below the name of such company, wherever its name is printed, affixed or engraved.
4. In relation to One Person Company, the annual return shall be signed by the company secretary, or where there is no company secretary, by the director of the company.
5. For the purposes of section 114, any business which is required to be transacted at an annual general meeting or other general meeting of a company by means of an ordinary or special resolution, it shall be sufficient if, in case of One Person Company, the resolution is communicated by the member to the company and entered in the minutes-book required to be maintained under section 118 and signed and dated by the member and such date shall be deemed to be the date of the meeting for all the purposes under this Act.
6. Notwithstanding anything in this Act, where there is only one director on the Board of Director of a One Person Company, any business which is required to be transacted at the meeting of the Board of Directors of a company, it shall be sufficient if, in case of such One Person Company, the resolution by such director is entered in the minutes-book required to be maintained under section 118 and signed and dated by such director and such date shall be deemed to be the date of the meeting of the Board of Directors for all the purposes under this Act. (sub section (4) of section 122)
7. The financial statement, including consolidated financial statement, if any, shall be approved by the Board of Directors before they are signed on behalf of the Board only by one director, for submission to the auditor for his report thereon.
8. An One Person Company shall file a copy of the financial statements duly adopted by its member, along with all the documents which are required to be attached to such financial statements, within one hundred eighty days from the closure of the financial year.
9. A One Person Company, small company and dormant company shall be deemed to have complied with the provisions of this section if at least one meeting of the Board of Directors has been conducted in each half of a calendar year and the gap between the two meetings is not less than ninety days:
   Provided that nothing contained in this sub-section and in section 174 shall apply to One Person Company in which there is only one director on its Board of Directors. (Section 173(5))

A company as an entity has several distinct features which together make it a unique organization. The following are the defining characteristics of a company:

Corporate personality

When a company is incorporated under law, it is vested with a corporate personality distinct from individuals who are its members. Being a separate legal entity, it bears its own name and acts under a corporate name. It may have a seal of its own. Its assets are separate and distinct from those of its members. As such, it is capable of owning property, incurring debts, borrowing money, have a bank account, employ people, enter into contracts and sue or be sued in the same manner as in the case of any individual. Its members are its owners but they can be its creditors simultaneously as it has a separate legal entity. A shareholder cannot be held liable for the acts of the company even if he holds virtually the entire share capital. The case of Salomon V. Salomon and Co. Ltd. (1897) clearly established the principle that once a company has been validly constituted under the Companies Act, it becomes a legal person distinct from its members. However, since this is a statutory privilege, it must be used for legitimate business purposes only.

LIMITED LIABILITY

The company being a separate legal entity, its members are not liable for its debts. The liability of the member is limited to the extent of the nominal value of the shares held by him. In no event, a shareholder can be asked to pay anything more than the unpaid value of his shares. In the case of a company limited by guarantee, the members are liable only to the extent of the amount guaranteed by them and not beyond, and only when the company goes into liquidation. There are exceptions to this limited liability, however, the courts may pierce the corporate veil under certain exceptional circumstances. It will look behind the corporate entity and take action as though no entity separate from the members existed and make the members or the controlling persons liable for debts and obligations of the company.

Some of the instances where the Courts have lifted the corporate veil are illustrated below:

(i) Where the corporate veil has been used for commission of fraud or improper conduct. [Gilford Motor Co. V. Home, (1933)]

(ii) where there is evasion of tax and the entity relies on its corporate personality as a shield to cover its wrong doings. (BSN(UK) Ltd. v. Janardan Mohandas Rajan Pillai [1996] 86 Comp. Cas. 371(Bom)], [Commissioner of Income Tax v. Meenakshi Mills Ltd. AIR (1967)].

(iii) Where the corporation is really an agency or trust for someone else and the corporate façade is used to cover up that agency or trust. [R.G. Films Ltd., (1953) 1 All E.R.615]

(iv) where the doctrine conflicts with public policy. Courts have lifted the corporate veil for protecting public policy [Connors Bros. v. Connors (1940) 4 All. E.R. 179]

PERPETUAL SUCCESSION

Members may come and members may go, but the company goes on for ever. Variation in members or their identity does not affect the legal existence and identity of a company. A company is a creation of law and can be dissolved only under law.

SEPARATE PROPERTY

As a corporate entity, the company is entitled to own and hold property in its own name or to dispose the same. No member can claim ownership of any item of the company’s assets.

TRANSFERABILITY OF SHARES

The capital of a company is divided into parts, called shares. The shares are said to be movable property and subject to certain conditions as contained in the Companies Act and/or the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company the shares of a company is a transferable property. In case of a private company, the Companies Act requires it to put certain restrictions on the transferability of shares. Every member owning fully paid shares is at liberty to dispose them off according to his choice but subject to the Articles of Association of the company. In the case of a public company, the shares are freely transferable.
CAPACITY TO SUE OR BE SUED

A company, being a body corporate, can sue and be sued in its own name. All legal proceedings against the company are to be instituted in its own name. Similarly, the company may bring an action against anyone in its own name. In case of unincorporated association, an action may have to be brought in the name of the members, either individually or collectively.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO CERTAIN TYPES OF COMPANIES

Small Company

For the first time in India, the concept of Small Company was introduced in the Companies Act, 2013. This is a new step towards the de-regulation of entities through providing some exemptions, privileges and liberation with lesser compliances burden on the entities which are smaller in size and operations.

Sub section (85) of Section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013 defines a small company as under:

“small company” means a company, other than a public company, –

(i) paid-up share capital of which does not exceed fifty lakh rupees or such higher amount as may be prescribed which shall not be more than ten crore rupees; and

(ii) turnover of which as per its last profit and loss account for immediately preceding financial year does not exceed two crore rupees or such higher amount as may be prescribed which shall not be more than one hundred crore rupees:

Provided that nothing in this clause shall apply to –

(A) a holding company or a subsidiary company;

(B) a company registered under section 8; or

(C) a company or body corporate governed by any special Act.

Advantages of a Small Company

A private limited company that can be classified as a small company enjoys a number of benefits under the Companies Act, 2013 and lesser compliance formalities. Some of the advantages enjoyed are:

1. Filing of annual return

The annual return of a private limited company classified as a small company, can be signed by a Company Secretary or by a Director of that private limited company.

The annual return of a private limited company not classified as a small company must be signed by a Director and a Company Secretary.

2. Board Meeting

It is sufficient for a small company to conduct only two Board Meetings in a calendar year, one in every half calendar year with a gap of not less than 90 days between these two meetings.

Private limited company not classified as a small company are required to conduct four Board Meetings in a financial year, i.e. at least one meeting in every quarter and the gap between the two consecutive meetings should not be more than 120 days.

3. Cash Flow Statement

A private limited company classified as a small company need not prepare cash flow statement as a part of the financial statements.
Private limited company not classified as a small company must prepare cash flow statement as a part of the financial statements.

4. Rotation of Auditors

   (a) Private limited company classified as a small company are not required to rotate their statutory Auditors.

   (b) Private limited company not classified as a small company must rotate their Auditors every 5 or 10 years as per the provisions of the Act, if these companies falls within the prescribed category such as their paid up share capital is more than 50 Crores more or these are having public borrowings from financial institutions, banks or public deposits of Rs. 50 Crores or more.

Further, as per the definition of a small company, holding and subsidiary companies are specifically excluded from the concept of small company.

Thus, even though both the holding company and subsidiary company may fulfil the capital or turnover requirement of a small company, they will still fall outside the purview of small company and accordingly, the benefits which are available to a small company cannot be applied to a company which is holding or subsidiary company.

In other words, a holding or a subsidiary company can never enjoy the privileges of a small company even though they may fulfil the capital or turnover requirement of a small company.

Similarly, a company may be classified as a small company in a particular year but may become ineligible in the next year and may become eligible again in the subsequent year.

The privileges/exemptions available to a small company are same as that available to a one person company, but not all privileges available to a one person company are available to a small company.

So also, a company registered under Section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 is also specifically excluded from the definition of small company. Hence, any company registered under Section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 would not be small company though it may be a private company.

Further, Section 233 of the Companies Act, 2013 was notified with effect from December 15, 2016 and the Companies (Compromises, Arrangements and Amalgamations) Rules came into effect from the said date. Section 233 deals with fast track mergers. Two or more small companies are permitted to undertake fast track merger under section 233 of the Act. Such merger would require approval of Registrar of Companies having jurisdiction over the company, the Official liquidator, members holding at least 90% of total number of shares and majority of creditors representing 9/10th in value of the creditors or class of creditors of respective companies indicated in a meeting convened by the company by giving a notice of twenty-one days along with the scheme to its creditors for the purpose, or otherwise approved in writing.

Holding Company

As per the Company law, a company controlled by another company is called a subsidiary company and the controlling company is called a holding company. Thus “control” is used as the benchmark in company law to determine holding company’s status. The control can be through control of management or through ownership of shares.

By definition, a holding company is a company organized with the intention of acquiring equity ownership in other companies. Holding companies are popular in India, mainly in two forms – (1) corporate groups running multiple and varied businesses; and (2) private equity funds looking to create platforms to consolidate multiple assets within specific sectors or verticals, in which there are not the companies of the required size and scale.

This structure lends several advantages to either the corporate group or the investor.

Firstly, a holding company can gain control over its subsidiaries without investing the entire equity requirement.
Thus, a holding company allows for structural leverage due to its ability to control the business of its subsidiaries by holding majority (just over 50% shareholding), but at the same time allowing for fresh external investment for the balance stake.

Secondly, it can assist in raising capital based on the consolidated financial strength of its subsidiaries, which otherwise could be difficult for each individual subsidiary company. Flexibility to reorganize and structure finances is also available for individual businesses. Another key advantage of a holding company structure is that while it allows investment in multiple businesses under one parent company, it also ringfences each business from the risks of the other, by preventing the business performance of one business from affecting the performance and valuation of another. For investors, this offers the option to gain an exposure to any preferred business along with the flexibility to structure the investment (as debt, equity etc.) to meet their investment objectives.

Clause (46) of section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013 states as under:

“holding company” in relation to one or more other companies, means a company of which such companies are subsidiary companies.

Explanation: For the purpose of this clause, the expression “Company” includes any body corporate. As per Section 2(87) “subsidiary company” or “subsidiary”, in relation to any other company (that is to say the holding company), means a company in which the holding company –

(i) controls the composition of the Board of Directors; or

(ii) exercises or controls more than one-half of the total voting power either at its own or together with one or more of its subsidiary companies:

Provided that such class or classes of holding companies as may be prescribed shall not have layers of subsidiaries beyond such numbers as may be prescribed.

Explanation. –For the purposes of this clause, –

(a) a company shall be deemed to be a subsidiary company of the holding company even if the control referred to in sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) is of another subsidiary company of the holding company;

Under sub section (6) of section 2 of the Companies Act, 2013, “associate company” , in relation to another company, means a company in which that other company has a significant influence, but which is not a subsidiary company of the company having such influence and includes a joint venture company.

*Explanation. –*For the purposes of this clause, “significant influence” means control of at least twenty per cent of total share capital, or of business decisions under an agreement;

(Not*e: the explanation provided above is substituted by the Companies Amendment Act, 2017 which is yet to be effective and the new explanation is as under:

‘Explanation. –*For the purpose of this clause, –

(a) the expression “significant influence” means control of at least twenty per cent. of total voting power, or control of or participation in business decisions under an agreement;

(b) the expression “joint venture” means a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the arrangement;’.

For the purpose of “Significant Influence”, the following two conditions need to be fulfilled:

1. Control of at least 20% of total voting power but less than 50% of share capital by another company;

2. Control of business decisions under an agreement.

Sub-section (27) of Section 2 of Companies Act, 2013 defines ‘control’. It includes

- Appoint majority of Directors;
- Right to control the management;
- Policy decisions need to be exercisable by a person;
- Person acting individually or in concert, directly or indirectly, including virtue of shareholding or voting agreements in any other manner.

The second condition, namely, “control of business decisions under an agreement” has been the subject of controversy and debate. It may be noted that if this condition is satisfied, then a company will be an associate company, even if there is no control of even 20% of total voting power. The clause is applicable even when the control of business decision is under an oral agreement or a written agreement.
It will be considered as Related Party. Section 188 (Related Party Transaction) as per the Companies Act, 2013 will be applicable where the transactions prescribed in section 188(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 are being entered by the company with its Associate Company.

Section 129

Section 149(6)

1. A promoter or related to promoters or Director of an Associate Company.
2. Has/had or any of his relatives has or had pecuniary relationship with Associate Company.
3. Holding or any of their relative(s) held the position of key managerial personnel or has been employee of an Associate Company.

Section 192

If directors of an Associate Company want to do any Non-Cash transactions with the company, then they need to pass Ordinary resolution. This section provides for the manner in respect of regulation of arrangements with respect to acquisition of assets for consideration other than cash. Such arrangements shall require prior approval by a resolution in general meeting and if the director or connected person is a director of its holding company, approval is required to be obtained by passing a resolution in general meeting of the holding company.

Inactive Company/Dormant Company

The definition of an Inactive Company can be found in the explanation to sub-section (1) of Section 455 of the Companies Act, 2013. It reads as under:

Explanation. –For the purposes of this section, –

(i) “inactive company” means a company which has not been carrying on any business or operation, or has not made any significant accounting transaction during the last two financial years, or has not filed financial statements and annual returns during the last two financial years;

Sub-section (1) of Section 455 of the Act relating to dormant company also refers to an inactive company. The section provides that where a company is formed and registered under this Act for a future project or to hold an asset or intellectual property and has no significant accounting transaction, such a company or an inactive company may make an application to the Registrar in such manner as may be prescribed for obtaining the status of a dormant company.

Thus, the words “dormant company” and “inactive company” are synonymous. However, a company has to obtain a status as “dormant company” and hence, such companies are not incorporated as such.

Procedural aspects relating to dormant company/inactive company

Rule 3 to 8 of the Companies (Miscellaneous) Rules, 2014 contains provisions relating to dormant company/inactive company.

To obtain the status of dormant company, an application is to be filed in MSC-1 with the Registrar. After considering the same, the Registrar shall issue a certificate in Form MSC-2 allowing the status of a Dormant Company.
A dormant company shall file a “Return of Dormant Company” annually indicating financial position duly audited by a chartered accountant in practice in Form MSC-3 within 30 days from the end of each financial year. The company shall continue to file returns of allotment and change in directors within the time specified in the Act, whenever the company allots any security to any person or there is any change in the directors of the company.

In case a Dormant Company wants to seek status as a active company, it shall apply to the Registrar in Form MSC-4 along with prescribed fees along with a return in Form MSC-3 in respect of the financial year in which the application for obtaining the status of an active company is filed.

After considering the application, the Registrar shall issue a certificate in MSC-5 allowing the status of an active company to the applicant.

If the company remains a dormant company for a period of consecutive five years, the Registrar shall initiate the process of striking off the name of the company.

Where the Registrar has reasonable cause to believe that any company registered as ‘dormant company’ under his jurisdiction has been functioning in any manner, directly or indirectly, he may initiate the proceedings for enquiry under section 206 of the Act and if, after giving a reasonable opportunity of being heard to the company in this regard, it is found that the company has actually been functioning, the Registrar may remove the name of such company from register of dormant companies and treat it as an active company. (Sub-rule 4 of Rule 8 of the Companies (Miscellaneous) Rules, 2014)

The following points relating to dormant companies may be noted:

1. A dormant company shall have a minimum number of three directors in case of a public company, two directors in case of a private company and one director in case of a One Person Company.

5. If a company has not obtained the status of a dormant company under section 455 or has not made any application for it and has not been carrying on any business or operation for a period of two immediately preceding financial years, the Registrar may remove the name of the company from the Register of Companies under Section 248 of the Act. LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Limited Liability Partnership is governed by the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 and the Rules framed thereunder.

In this Chapter, we shall learn about the Limited Liability Partnership (LLP), its formation and registration; It will also cover the features of an LLP agreement and the manner of alterations therein.

LLP is required to make various compliances and file various forms with the Registrar. We shall also study the various annual and event based compliances applicable to the LLP.
CONCEPT OF LLP

(a) Definition of LLP

LLP is a corporate business vehicle that enables professional expertise and entrepreneurial initiative to combine and operate in flexible, innovative and efficient manner, providing benefits of limited liability while allowing its members the flexibility for organizing their internal structure as a partnership.

The Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 (LLP Act) does not provide an exhaustive definition. Sub-section (n) of section 2 of the Act states that “limited liability partnership” means a partnership formed and registered under this Act.

(b) Nature and Characteristics of LLP

- The LLP is a body corporate having separate entity from its partners and perpetual succession.

- An LLP in India is governed by the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 and, therefore, the provisions of Indian Partnership Act, 1932 are not applicable to it.

- Every Limited Liability Partnership shall use the words “Limited Liability Partnership” or its acronym “LLP” as the last words of its name.

- An LLP is a result of an agreement between the partners, and the mutual rights and duties of partners of an LLP are determined by the said agreement subject to the provisions of LLP Act, 2008.

- The LLP being a separate legal entity is liable for all its assets, with the liability of the partners limited only to the amount of contributed by them just like a company. No partner will be individually liable for any wrongful acts of other partners. However if the LLP was formed for the purpose of defrauding creditors or for any fraudulent purpose, then the liability of the partners who had the knowledge will be unlimited.

- There must be at least two designated partners in every LLP of whom one shall be resident in India.

- Every LLP shall maintain annual accounts to show its true state of affairs. It must prepare a statement of accounts and solvency every year and file with the Registrar.

- The Central Government may, whenever it thinks fit, investigate into the affairs of an LLP by appointing a competent Inspector.

- A firm, private company or an unlisted public company have the option to convert itself into LLP as per the provisions of the Act. Upon such conversion, the Registrar will issue a certificate to that effect. After issuance of a certificate of registration, all the property of the firm or the company, all assets, rights, obligations relating to the company shall be vested in the LLP so formed, and the firm or the company stands dissolved. The name of the firm or the company is then removed from the Registrar of Firms or Registrar of Companies, as the case may be.

- Like the company, an LLP can be wound up either voluntary or by the Tribunal established under The Companies Act, 2013

- The LLP Act 2008 also enables the Central Government to apply the provisions of the Companies Act whenever it thinks appropriate.

(c) Advantages of LLP

1. Easy to form: Forming an LLP is an easy process. It is less complicated and time consuming unlike the process of formation of a company.

2. Liability: The partners of the LLP is having limited liability which means partners are not liable to pay the debts of the company from their personal assets. No partner is responsible for any other partner’s misconduct.

3. Perpetual succession: The life of the Limited Liability Partnership is not affected by death, retirement or insolvency of the partner. The LLP will get wound up only as per provisions of the LLP Act.

4. Management of the company: An LLP has partners, who own and manage the business. This is different from a private limited company, whose directors may be different from shareholders.

5. Easy transferability of ownership: There is no restriction upon joining and leaving the LLP. It is easy to admit as a partner and to leave the firm or to easily transfer the ownership to others.

6. Taxation: An LLP is not subject to Dividend Distribution Tax (DDT). Distributed profits in the hands of the partners is not taxable. For Income Tax purposes, LLP is treated on par with partnership firms.

7. No compulsory audit required: Every business has to appoint an auditor for checking the internal management of the company and its accounts. However, in the case of LLP, there is no mandatory audit required. The audit is required only in those cases where the turnover of the company exceeds Rs 40 lakhs and where the contribution exceeds Rs 25 lakhs.

8. Fewer compliance requirements: An LLP is much easier and cheaper to run than a private limited company as there are just three compliances per year. On the other hand, a private limited company has a lot of compliances to fulfil and has to compulsorily conduct an audit of its books of accounts.

9. Flexible agreement: The partners are free to draft the agreement as they please, with regard to their rights and duties.

10. Easy to wind-up: Not only is it easy to start, it is also easier to wind-up an LLP, as compared to a private limited company.

(d) Disadvantages of LLP

1. Restricted Access to Capital Markets: LLPs are small form of business and cannot get its shares listed in any stock exchange through initial public offerings. With this restriction, limited liability partnerships may find it difficult to attract outside investors to buy the shares.

2. Rights of partners: An LLP can be structured in such a way that one partner has more rights than another. So it isn’t a one vote per share system. So, some lesser partners may feel compromised if higher shareholders choose to move the business in a direction that affects their interests.

3. Public Disclosure of LLP Information: A LLP must file its Annual Returns, Financial Statements etc to the Registrar of LLPs annually. Which become public document once filed with Registrar of LLPs and may be inspected by general public including competitors by paying some fees to the Registrar of LLPs. Information disclosure can make an entity competitively disadvantaged. Competitors – especially those not required to disclose any documents – can access that information and use it to improve their own business.

4. Limitations in Formation of LLP: LLP cannot be formed by a single person. A non-resident Indian and a Foreign National willing to form a LLP in India must have one person resident in India to act as Designated Partner. Further FDI in LLP is allowed only through government route only and that too in those sectors only where 100% FDI is allowed under automatic route under the FDI Policy. This limitation makes LLP an unattractive form of business.

5. Offenses and penalties: Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 provides that for non-compliance on procedural matters such as delay in filing of e-forms, one has to pay default fee for every day for which the default continues. Such default fee would be payable at the rate of rupee one hundred per day after the expiry of the date of filing up to a period of three hundred days. The offense can result in either (i) through payment of fine or (ii) through payment of fine as well as imprisonment of the offender.

6. Exit Options are Not Easy for LLPs in default of Filings: A LLP who has defaulted in filings its statement of accounts and annual return with the Registrar of LLPs, willing to shut down its operations and wind up, will have to make its default good first by filing necessary e-forms with late filing fee. This provision is making LLP an unattractive form of business as in India there are many businesses that are ignorant about compliances.

7. Limitation in External Commercial Borrowings (ECB): Limited Liability Partnerships are not allowed to raise ECB. Therefore, a LLP cannot avail commercial loans from its foreign partners, FIIs, Foreign Banks, and any financial institution located outside India.

LLP AGREEMENT

Section 2(1)(O) of the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 defines it as under:

“Limited liability LLP Agreements mean any written agreement between the partners of the Limited Liability Partnership or between the Limited Liability Partnership and its partners which determines mutual rights and duties of the partners and their rights and duties in relation to that limited liability partnership [section 2(1)(O)].”

It is compulsory to make and execute a LLP agreement within 30 days of the incorporation of LLP.

The value of stamp paper on which the LLP agreement must be printed or stamp duty to be paid on the LLP agreement is dependent on the state of incorporation and amount of capital contribution from the partners.

How to draft LLP agreement

LLP agreement defines the roles, responsibilities, rights, and powers of the partners to LLP and to each other. Hence, it creates the foundation for the smooth running of LLP. LLP agreement clarifies the managerial, operational as well as administrative responsibilities and sets clear methodologies for decision making, adding a new partner and disassociation of existing partner.

How to prepare LLP agreement

• Draft the agreement and print it on a Stamp paper of requisite value. Value of Non-judicial Stamp Paper depends on the state in which Registration of LLP is done and on the amount of capital contribution.
• All partners should sign the agreement at the bottom of all pages
• Two witnesses should sign the agreement at the end of the document
• Each partner should be provided a copy of the agreement

The Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Agreement is the charter of the LLP, similar to the Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association for a private limited company. It defines the scope and extent of the LLP’s operations as well as the rights, duties, obligations of the partners.

Altering the agreement can be done passing a resolution approving the revision in the LLP Agreement. The second step is to file Form 3 with the Registrar within 30 days of the amendment in the agreement.

The Documents to be attached to the Form 3 shall include the following:

- Initial LLP Agreement
- Supplementary/Altered agreement

- Evidence of cessation
- Affidavit or any proof of change of name
- If the partner or a designated partner is a company, copy of resolution of the company to become partner in LLP

Change of name

The procedure for the name change is governed by provisions of Section 19 of the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008. A Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) that is registered in India may, under certain circumstances, need to change its name. The reasons can be business-related or on account of certain directives from the Central Government (if the name of the LLP is considered undesirable or similar to an already existing LLP, the Government can ask for a name change and failure to comply with the directives could attract a penalty of up to Rs. 5 lakh for the business and up to Rs. 1 lakh for each partner).

Procedure for Changing the Name of the LLP

An application for changing the name of the LLP should be, first, submitted to the Ministry of Corporate Affairs. The application must have maximum six name preferences. One must ensure that the preferences are in tandem with the LLP naming guidelines that have been laid out in India. To start with, it should not be identical or similar to an already existing one. You can also check out the availability of a name on the MCA portal and then finalize a name.
Along with the LLP name change application, the partners need to submit the following documents.

1. Certified copy of consent of all partners involved for the name change;
2. Copy of the existing LLP agreement;
3. Trademark copy or a copy of the registration certificate;

After the suggested name gets approved, one has to file Form LLP-5, giving notice of the change in the name. The form has to be submitted to the Registrar within 30 days.

The ROC, after taking into consideration the application, will approve/deny the name change.

If the name is approved, the ROC will issue a certificate and the new name will be effective from the date mentioned in the certificate.

Once the partners get the new certificate of registration, a supplementary agreement needs to be laid out mentioning the changes in the LLP agreement as a result of the name change.

The lesson will also highlight their respective merits and demerits and the manner in which they can be registered in India.
INTRODUCTION

One of the first decisions that is faced by an entrepreneur is how the business should be structured. All businesses must adopt some legal configuration that defines the rights and liabilities of participants in the business’s ownership, control, personal liability, life span, and financial structure. This decision will have long-term implications, so he has to select the form of ownership that is right for him. In making a choice, he will want to take into account the following:

- his vision regarding the size and nature of the business.
- The level of control he wishes to have.
- The level of “structure” he is willing to deal with.
- The business’s vulnerability to litigation.
- Tax implications of the different organizational structures.
- Expected profit (or loss) of the business.
- Whether or not he will need to re-invest earnings into the business.
- his need for access to cash out of the business for himself.

Sole Proprietorship

The vast majority of small businesses start out as sole proprietorships. The sole proprietorship is a form of business that is owned, managed and controlled by an individual. He has day-to-day responsibility for running the business. He has to arrange capital for the business and he alone is responsible for its management. He is therefore, entitled to the profits and has to bear the loss of business. Sole proprietorships own all the assets of the business. He also assumes complete responsibility for any of its liabilities or debts. In the eyes of the law and the public, the sole proprietor and the business are one and the same.

It is the simplest and most easily formed business organization. This is because not much legal formality is required to establish it. For instance to start a factory, the permission of the local authorities is sufficient. Similarly to start a restaurant, it is only necessary to get the permission of local health authorities. Or again, to run a grocery store, the proprietor has only to follow the rules laid down by local administration.

Merits of Sole Proprietorship

A sole proprietary organisation has the following advantages:

(i) Easy formation: A sole proprietorship business is easy to form where no legal formality involved in setting up this type of organization. It is not governed by any specific law. It is simply required that the business activity should be lawful and should comply with the rules and regulations laid down by local authorities.

(ii) Better Control: In sole proprietary organisation, all the decisions relating to business operations are taken by one person, which makes functioning of business simple and easy. The sole proprietor can also bring about changes in the size and nature of activity. This gives better control to business.

(iii) Sole beneficiary of profits: The sole proprietor is the only person to whom the profits belong. There is a direct relation between effort and reward. This motivates him to work hard and bear the risks of business.

(iv) Benefits of small-scale operations: The sole proprietorship is generally organized for small-scale business. This helps the proprietor’s family members to be employed in business. At the same time such
A business is also entitled to certain concessions from the government. For example, small industrial organisations can get electricity and water supply at concessional rates on a priority basis.

(v) Inexpensive Management: The sole proprietor does not appoint any specialists for various functions. He personally supervises various activities and can avoid wastage in the business.

Limitations of Sole Proprietorship

A sole proprietor generally suffers from the following limitations:

(i) Limitation of management skills: A sole proprietor may not be able to manage the business efficiently as he is not likely to have necessary skills regarding all aspects of the business. This poses difficulties in the growth of business also.

(ii) Limitation of Resources: The sole proprietor of a business is generally at a disadvantage in raising sufficient capital. His own capital may be limited and his personal assets may also be insufficient for raising loans against their security. This reduces the scope of business growth.

(iii) Unlimited liability: The sole proprietor is personally liable for all business obligations. For payment of business debts, his personal property can also be used if the business assets are insufficient.

(iv) Lack of continuity: A sole proprietary organisation suffers from lack of continuity. If the proprietor is ill, this may cause temporary closure of business. If he dies, the business may be permanently closed.

From the above account of the merits and limitations, it becomes clear that it is only personal services like repair work, tailoring etc. small factories, retail shops and professional activities which can be set up as sole proprietary organisations. In India, this form of organisation is quite popular and accounts for the largest number of business units.

PARTNERSHIP

Partnership is an association of persons who agree to combine their financial resources and managerial abilities to run a business and share profits in an agreed ratio. Since the resources of a sole proprietor to finance, and his capacity to manage a growing business are limited, he feels the need for a partnership firm. Partnership business, therefore, usually grows out of the need for expansion of business with more capital, better supervision and control, division of work and spreading of risks.

The Indian Partnership Act defines partnership as “Partnership” is the relation between persons who have agreed to share the profits of a business carried on by all or any one of them acting for all. The persons who have agreed to join in partnership are individually called “Partners” and collectively a ‘firm’. A partnership firm can be formed with a minimum of two partners and it can have a maximum of twenty partners.

Certain key definitions contained in the Indian Partnership Act, 1932

Section 2(a)

An “act of a firm” means any act or omission by all the partners, or by any partner or agent of the firm which gives rise to a right enforceable by or against the firm;

Section 4:

“Partnership” is the relation between persons who have agreed to share the profits of a business carried on by all or any of them acting for all. Persons who have entered into partnership with one another are called individually, “partners” and collectively “a firm”, and the name under which their business is carried on is called the “firm-name”.

Section 7

Where no provision is made by contract between the partners for the duration of their partnership, or for the determination of their partnership, the partnership is partnership at will.

Section 8

Particular partnership

A person may become a partner with another person in particular adventures or undertakings.

Section 28

Holding out

1. Anyone who by words spoken or written or by conduct represents himself or knowingly permits himself to be represented, to be a partner in a firm, is liable as a partner in that firm to any one who has on the faith of any such representation given credit to the firm, whether the person representing himself or represented to be a partner does or does not know that the representation has reached the person so giving credit.

2. Where after a partners death the business is continued in the old firm name, the continued use of that name or of the deceased partners name as a part thereof shall not of itself make his legal representative or his estate liable for any act of the firm done after his death.

Section 39

Dissolution of a firm

The dissolution of partnership between all the partners of a firm is called the dissolution of the firm.

Insolvency and Bankruptcy of Partnership Firm

The Insolvency and Bankruptcy of partnership firms where the amount of default is not less than one thousand rupees shall be governed by Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016.

Features of Partnership

The features of partnership are as follows:

(i) Existence of an agreement: Partnership is formed on the basis of an agreement between two or more persons to carry on business. It does not arise out of the operation of law as in the case of joint Hindu family business. The terms and conditions of partnership are laid down in a document known as Partnership Deed.

(ii) Engagement in business: A partnership can be formed only on the basis of a business activity. Its business may include any trade, industry or profession. Thus, a partnership can engage in any occupation - production and/or distribution of goods and services with a view to earning profits.

(iii) Sharing of profits and losses: In a partnership firm, partners are entitled to share in the profits and are also to bear the losses, if any.

(iv) Agency relationship: The partnership business may be carried on by all or any of the partners acting for all. Thus, each partner is a principal and so can act in his own right. At the same time he can act on behalf of other partners as their agent. Thus, every partner can bind the firm by his acts.

(v) Unlimited Liability: The liability of partners is unlimited as in the case of sole proprietorship. In case some obligation arises then not only the partnership assets but also the private property of the partners can be taken for the payment of liabilities of the firm.
(vi) Common Management: Every partner has a right to take part in the running of the business. It is not necessary for all partners to participate in the day-to-day activities of the business but they are entitled to participate. Even if partnership business is run by some partners, the consent of all other partners is necessary for taking important decisions.

(vii) Restriction on transferability of share: No partner can transfer his share in partnership to any other person. He may, however, do so with the consent of all other partners.

(viii) Registration: To form a partnership firm, it is not compulsory to register it. However, if the partners so decide, it may be registered with the Registrar of Firms.

(ix) Duration: The partnership firm continues at the pleasure of the partners. Legally a partnership comes to an end if any partner dies, retires or becomes insolvent. However, if the remaining partners agree to work together under the original firm’s name, the firm will not be dissolved and will continue its business after settling the claim of the outgoing partner.

TYPES OF PARTNERSHIP

- Partnership at-will
- Particular partnership
- Partnership for a fixed duration

According to the nature of agreement among partners, there can be three types of partnership as follows:

(i) Partnership at-will: Such a partnership exists on the will of the partners. That is, it can be brought to an end whenever any partner gives notice of his intention to do so.

(ii) Particular partnership: A particular partnership is formed for undertaking a particular venture. It comes to an end automatically with completion of the venture.

(iii) Partnership for a fixed duration: Such partnership is for a fixed period of time say 2 years, 5 years or any other duration.

TYPES OF PARTNERS

- Active Partners
- Sleeping or dormant partners
- Nominal Partners
- Partners by holding out

The various types of partner found in partnership firms are as follows:

(i) Active Partners: Partners who take active part in the conduct of day-to-day business of the firm are called active partners. These partners carry on business on behalf of the other partners.

(ii) Sleeping or dormant partners: Sleeping or dormant partners are those who do not take active part in the management of the business. Such partners only contribute capital in the firm and are bound by the activities of other partners. However, they share in the profits and losses of the business.

(iii) Others: Active and sleeping partners are, as a matter of fact, the full-fledged partners i.e. they share in profits and losses of the business and are liable for its dues. However, there are other types of partners also who may be associated with partnership directly or indirectly. They are not full-fledged partners, such partners may include the following:

(a) Nominal Partners: Nominal partners are those who do not have interest in the business but lend their name to the firm. They do not make any capital contribution, and are not entitled to take part in management, but are liable, like other partners, to third parties. Such partners generally have a pecuniary interest (like a share in the profits) in lending their name to a firm. However in certain cases they may not have any pecuniary interest in doing so. For example, a reputed industrialist may, without any profit motive lend his name to a firm run by his family members.

(b) Partners by holding out: If a person by his words or conduct holds out to another that he is a partner, he will be prevented from denying that he is not a partner. The person who thus becomes liable to third parties to pay the debts of the firm is known as a partner by holding out.

Minor admitted into the benefits of partnership

A minor is a person who has not attained the age of 18 years. Since a minor is not capable of entering into a valid agreement, he cannot become partner of a firm. He may, however, be admitted to the benefits of an existing partnership.

Merits of Partnership

A partnership form of organisation offers the following advantages:

(i) Ease in formation: A partnership is very easy to form. All that is required is an agreement among the partners. Even the expenses to be incurred for registration are not much.

(ii) Pooling of financial resources: A partnership commands more financial resources compared to sole proprietorship. This helps in expanding business and earning more profits. As and when a firm requires more money, more partners can be admitted.

(iii) Pooling of managerial skills: A partnership facilitates pooling of managerial skills of all its partners. This leads to greater efficiency in business operations. For instance, in a big partnership firm, one partner can handle production function, another partner can look after all marketing activity, still another can attend to legal and personnel problems, and so on.

(iv) Balanced business decisions: In a partnership firm, decisions are taken unanimously after considering all the major aspects of a problem. This ensures not only balanced business decisions but also removes difficulties in the smooth implementation of those decisions.

(v) Sharing of risks: Unlike sole proprietary organisation, the risks of partnership business are shared by partners on a predetermined basis. This encourages partners to undertake risky but profitable business activities.

Limitations of Partnership

A partnership form of organisation suffers from the following major limitations:

(i) Uncertainty of existence: The existence of a partnership firm is very uncertain. The retirement, death, bankruptcy or lunacy of any partner can put an end to the partnership. Further, the partnership business can come to a close if any partner demands it.
(ii) Risks of implied authority: It is true that like the sole proprietor each partner has unlimited liability. But his liability may arise not only from his own acts but also from the acts and mistakes of co-partners over whom he has no control. This discourages many persons with money and ability, to join a partnership firm as partner.

(iii) Risks of disharmony: In partnership, since decisions are taken unanimously, it is essential that all partners reconcile their views for the common good of the organisation. But there may arise situations when some partners may adopt rigid attitudes and make it impossible to arrive at a commonly agreed decision. Lack of harmony may paralyse the business and cause conflict and mutual bickering.

(iv) Difficulty in withdrawal from the firm: Investment in a partnership can be easily made but cannot be easily withdrawn. This is so because the withdrawal of a partner’s share requires the consent of all other partners.

(v) Lack of institutional confidence: A partnership business does not enjoy much confidence of banks and financial institutions. It is because the nature of its activities is not disclosed at public and the agreement among partners is not regulated by any law. As a result large financial resources cannot be raised by partnership and growth of business cannot be ensured.

(vi) Difficulties of expansion: It is difficult for a partnership firm to undertake modernization of expansion of its operations. This is because of its inability to raise adequate funds for the purpose. Limited membership (restricted to 20) and their limited personal resources do not permit large amounts of capital to be raised by the partners. Therefore, large-scale business cannot generally be organised by partnerships.

It is quite obvious from the discussions that the partnership form of organisation is excellent when the size of business is medium, i.e. neither too small not too large, and when the partners can work in full co-operation with one another.

Partnership Deed

Partnership deed, also known as a partnership agreement, is a document that outlines in detail the rights and responsibilities of all parties to a business operation. It has the force of law and is designed to guide the partners in the conduct of the business. It is helpful in preventing disputes and disagreements over the role of each partner in the business and the benefits which are due to them.

The key ingredients of a Partnership Deed are given below:

1. Definitions and vital information

   The partnership deed normally carries the name of the business, the address of its principal place of business and a short summary of the nature of business the partners intend to operate.

2. Investment

   The deed gives important financial details of the partnership, such as the amount of capital to be invested by each partner, the Profit /Loss sharing of each partner, the salaries to be paid to each partner and the method of distributing the business income. The partnership deed also documents the accepted method of raising additional capital, if necessary how loan funds may be raised and rate of interest if any, applicable on the loans.

3. Accounting

   The partnership deed provides for the accepted method of accounting for the cash flow, profit and loss, and assets and liabilities of the business; it also defines the fiscal year to be used in accounting statements and how these statements will be distributed among the partners and other shareholders.
4. Duties, powers and obligations of the partners

The duties, powers and obligations of each partner may also be spelt out in the Partnership Deed. The Deed may also provide designate a partner as the Managing Partner, who will be responsible for day to day management and conduct of the business.

5. Withdrawals

The document must also provide for actions to be taken in case of the voluntary withdrawal or death of a partner. In such a case, accounts will have to be drawn up to ascertain the assets, liabilities and the entitlement of each partner (including the outgoing partner).

6. Expulsion

If a partner is proving to be a hindrance or detriment to the business, or loses legal rights in a bankruptcy or other court action, the other partners must have a method of modifying the partnership rights of or expelling him.

7. Dissolution

The partnership deed should also describe the methods by which the partnership and business will be dissolved, if desired, and how the accounts among the partners would be settled at the termination of the business.

8. Arbitration

As in all business contracts, a partnership deed must provide for the means of arbitration of disputes. The main goal of the deed is to avoid expensive litigation over details that have not been fully worked out in the signed agreement.

(g) Further, a rubber stamp of HUF will also be prepared. Rubber stamp should be Rectangular. Rubber Stamp will be affixed on all the documents pertaining of HUF to authorize the transaction.

(h) It is recommended that the Deed should be notarised.

(ii) Register the Deed

(iii) Obtain PAN.

Once the declaration deed is made, the karta should apply for a permanent account number (PAN) for the HUF. This is mandatory because all financial transactions must carry PAN.

(iv) Open bank account

After you are allotted a PAN, open a bank account in the name of the HUF. It is also advisable to get some stationery printed for official communication. The HUF is now functional. The karta will have to invest in tax saving instruments and file tax returns on behalf of the HUF.

While there are tax advantages of forming an HUF, the following matters merit consideration:

- One person cannot form HUF. An HUF is formed by a family.
- An HUF is automatically created at the time of marriage.
- HUF consists of a common ancestor and all of his lineal descendants, including their wives and unmarried daughters. after 1-9-2005, daughter married or unmarried, is a coparcener like a son.
- Hindus, Buddhists, Jains and Sikhs can form HUFs.
- HUF usually has assets which come as a gift, a will, or ancestral property, or property acquired from the sale of joint family property or property contributed to the common pool by members of HUF.
- Once an HUF is formed it must be formally registered in its name. An HUF should have a legal deed. The deed shall contain details of HUF members and the business of the HUF. A PAN number and a bank account should be opened in the name of the HUF.
- Use a capital asset to establish the corpus of the HUF. This can be ancestral property, assets gifted by relatives and friends, or received by the HUF through a will. If you give a personal asset to the HUF, the income will be clubbed with your own. Gifts of over 50,000 a year received by HUF will be taxable. The best way is for the HUF to receive assets as part of a will.
Key Points in creation of HUF and format of Deed for creation of HUF

- Under the Income Tax Act, an HUF is a separate entity for the purpose of income tax return.
- The same tax slabs are applicable to HUF as to individual assessee.
- You cannot transfer your own assets/money into HUF.
- If you have ancestral property and earning some income from this property, then it is better to transfer this asset to HUF and save tax up to exemption limit applicable to individual.
- You can transfer the money received on sale of ancestral property/assets into your HUF.
- The income from property of HUF can be further invested in instruments such as shares, mutual funds, etc. and will be assessed under HUF.
- Existence of property or multiple members is not a pre-requisite to create HUF. A family which does not own any property may still have the character of Hindu joint family. This jointness is understood in terms of faith and food. This is because a Hindu is born as a member of the joint family.
- Any gifts received by the members of HUF (birthday, marriage, etc.) can be treated as assets of HUF.
- The HUF is taxable as separate person under income tax hence one can save tax from basic exemption of Rs. 2.5 lakh. HUF will also gain from the tax slab structure of computing income tax.
- Apart from basic exemption of Rs. 2.50 lakh, section 80C deduction up to Rs. 1.50 lakh is also available.

TRUST

A Trust is a relationship in which a person or entity holds a valid legal title to a certain property which is known as the Trust property. The Trust is bound by a fiduciary duty to exercise that legal title for the benefit of any one or more individuals or group of individuals or organisations, who are known as the Beneficiaries. The Trust shall be governed by the terms of the Written Trust agreement.

Trust is defined in section 3 of the Indian Trust Act, 1882 as “an obligation annexed to the ownership of property and arising out of a confidence reposed in and accepted by the owner, or declared and accepted by him, for the benefit of another or of another and the owner. In other words, it is simply a transfer of property by one person (the settlor) to another (the “trustee”) who manages that property for the benefit of someone else (the “beneficiary”). The settlor must legally transfer ownership of the assets to the trustee of the trust.

The statutory basis governing Trusts, in general, under Indian law is the Indian Trusts Act, 1882. Generally, there are two types of trusts in India: private trusts and public trusts. Private trusts are regulated by the Indian Trusts Act, 1882, whereas Public trusts are classified as Charitable and religious trusts. The Charitable and Religious Trust Act, 1920, the Religious Endowments Act, 1863, the Charitable Endowments Act, 1890, the Societies Registration Act, 1860, and the Bombay Public Trust Act, 1950 are the relevant legislations for the recognition and enforceability of public trusts. Moreover, in recent times, trusts can also be used as a vehicle for investments, such as mutual funds and venture capital funds. These trusts are governed by Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI).

In India, there are thousands of trusts created by the owner of industrial houses and rich individuals and their families. Under Indian laws, Public Charitable Trusts are treated as organisations with charitable purpose entitling all the tax benefits applicable. Examples of Public Charitable Trusts promoted by business families are Paragon Charitable Trust, Sir Dorabji Tata Trust, etc. Private trust or family trust is not a Public Charitable Trusts and hence does not enjoy the privileges entitled to a trust with charitable purpose.

Persons who can create a Trust

According to Section 7 of Indian Trusts Act, 1882, a trust may be created by the following persons:

- Company
- Trust by a woman
- Association of Persons (AOP)
- Hindu Undivided Family
- By or on behalf of minor with the permission of a principal civil court of original jurisdiction

Persons who can be a Trustee

As per Section 10, any person who is capable of holding property may be a trustee; except to the condition of discretion of trust, in that case, he cannot execute it unless he is competent to contract.

Difference between Public Trust and Private Trust

(a) Identification of the beneficiaries of the Trust is a simple way to differentiate between a public and a private trust. If the beneficiaries make up a large or substantial body of public, then the trust in question is public. A public trust exists “for the purpose of its objects, the members of an uncertain and fluctuating body,” and is managed by a board of trustee. If, however, the beneficiaries are a narrow and specific group such as the employees of a company, then the trust is private.

(b) In a Public Trust, the interest is vested in an uncertain and fluctuating body. They are the general public or class thereof. In a Private Trust, beneficiaries are definite and ascertained individuals. (Supreme Court in Deoki Nandan v. Murlidhar 1957 AIR 133 1956 SCR 756)

(c) Their domains are different; public trusts have larger and wider domain whereas private trusts have limited and narrow domain.

A trust for the benefit of employees of a company however numerous would not be considered as public charitable. For example, an industrialist who creates a trust for the benefit of his 5,000 people, their spouses and children is considered private because who the beneficiaries are known.
While a public trust is set up for what is called ‘uncertain and fluctuating body of persons’, it is possible to create a sectarian or communal trust as a public charitable trust. There are trusts which are only for specific religious communities. However, such trusts may not be tax-exempt.

Exemptions available to Trusts

Exemptions available to Trusts are primarily governed by the provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961. The exemption has to be read keeping in mind whether the Trust is a Public Charitable Trust, Private Trust, Religious Trust, etc.

Certain key exemptions are listed below:

Exemptions under Section 10 of the Income Tax Act, 1961

Total tax exemption is available for certain types of trusts which include those which are formed for any of the activities related to sports, education, scientific research, professions, or promotion of khadi and village based industries, hospitals etc. and are notified as charitable or religious institutions.

Tax exemptions under Section 11 of Income Tax Act, 1961

As per Section 11, any income, profits or gains obtained by a trust from a property held by the trust established wholly for the purposes of religious or charitable nature shall not be included in the total income of the trust. Since such income shall not constitute to be a part of the trust’s income, therefore, it is not taxable. However, as per section 13, there are certain situations where the tax exemptions under section 11 are not applicable. Such instances include where

(a) income earned from the property held under the trust of private religious nature and does not endure benefit for the public, or

(b) the entire income of a charitable trust which is established for a particular religion, community or caste, income of those charitable trust whose funds do not get invested in the modes specified under section 11(5).

Tax Exemption under Section 12 of the Income Tax Act, 1961

The incomes that are excluded from the computation of taxable income of trust or society are as follows:

1. Income which is derived from the property that is held under the authority of trust with the purposes which are wholly charitable or religious in nature.

2. Income which is kept aside to the extent that does not exceed 25% of the total income received in lieu of the property.

3. In cases of charitable trusts, specifically those formed before 1st of April, 1961, income which is acquired from the property which is held partially for religious or charitable purposes within India

4. In furtherance of the above case, the income which is set apart to a certain extent and which does not exceed twenty five percent of the total income.

5. In cases of income that is obtained from a trust created before 1st April, 1952 for charitable purposes and spent outside India.

6. Income made by way of voluntary contributions towards the corpus of the trust.

7. Charitable trusts created for the benefit of any of the socially and economically backward castes such as Scheduled Castes, Scheduled Tribes or women or children.

Trusts are allowed to set apart or accumulate some of the funds received from voluntary contributions for certain specific purposes. The resultant benefit obtained by the trust is that amount so deducted is not considered as forming part of income of the previous year and therefore not taxed.

Tax exemptions for a Private Trust

The taxability of the Trust depends upon the type of the trust. In the case of a non-discretionary trust, all income is taxable in the hands of the beneficiaries. But if the beneficiaries are minors, the income is to be clubbed with that of the parent with the higher income.

On the other hand, in the case of a discretionary trust, in which the shares of the beneficiaries are unknown and indeterminate, it is taxed in the hands of trust at the maximum marginal rate.

Section 161(1A) of the IT Act provides that if any part of the income of such a trust includes profits and gains from business, then the aforesaid principle of Section 161(1) would be ignored and the entire income of the trust including any profits and gains from business would be liable to income tax at the maximum marginal rate.

Thus, tax planning requires that the trustee should not have any income in the nature of profits and gains from business in the trust otherwise the entire income of the trust would become liable to maximum marginal rate of tax.

SOCIETY

Definition

A society is an association of persons united together by mutual consent to deliberate, determine and act jointly for some common purpose. Societies are usually registered for promotion of charitable activities like education, art, religion, culture, music, sports, etc. In India, The Societies Registration Act, 1860 lays down the procedure for society registration and operation in India. The Act has been adopted by most of the State Governments with/without modifications as considered by the respective State Governments.

According to Section 20 of the Societies Registration Act, 1860, societies can be formed for the following purposes:

(i) Charitable societies,

(ii) the military orphan funds or societies established at the several presidencies of India,

(iii) societies established for the promotion of science, literature, or the fine arts for instruction, the diffusion of useful knowledge,

(iv) The diffusion of political education,

(v) the foundation or maintenance of libraries or reading-rooms for general use among the members or open to the public

(vi) public museums and galleries of paintings and other works of art, collections of natural history, mechanical and philosophical inventions, instruments, or designs.

Besides these purposes, the respective State Governments may provide for any other objects by their legislations.

Advantages of Society

- The process of formation and registration is simple.
- Record-keeping requirements are minimum and compliance with regulations is easy.
- Cost of compliance is low.
• Least possibility of interference by the regulator.
• Exemption from tax due to charitable nature of operations.

Disadvantages of Society

• Tax exemption extended to societies may apply to public trusts only to the extent the Income Tax department accepts their activities as being charitable.
• Since such institutions are of charitable nature, it is an inappropriate form of a commercial venture;
• The concept of equity investment or ownership is virtually absent; Hence, it is not attractive for commercial investors interested in microfinance;
• Commercial investors regard the investments in such entities as risky mainly on account of their lack of professionalism and managerial practices and political leanings (in some cases) and are, therefore, reluctant to provide large scale funding to such bodies;
• In accordance with Section 45S of the RBI Act, 1934, no unincorporated bodies are allowed to accept deposits from the public. Organisations registered under the Societies Registration Act and the Trust Act are considered unincorporated bodies. Hence, legally speaking, they are not allowed to collect savings from their clients; and
• It is vulnerable to the implication under the Money Lenders Acts (prevention of usurious interest rates) of various State Governments.

Consequences of Registration / Non-Registration of a Society

The Societies Registration Act, 1860 lays down procedure for registration of societies for various bonafide purposes. The registration gives the society a legal status and is essential for:
• obtaining registration and approvals under Income Tax Act;
• lawful vesting of property in the societies;
• provides authenticity and recognition to the society before all authorities and the world at large; and
• for opening bank accounts and transaction of business.

When the society is registered, it and its members become bound to the same extent, as if each member had signed the memorandum.

Once registered under the Societies Registration Act, the society must restrict its activities to the objects contained in its Memorandum.

A society registered under the Act enjoys the status of a legal entity apart from the members constituting it. A society so registered is a legal entity/person similar to an individual but with no physical existence. As such it can acquire and hold property and can sue and be sued in its own name.

The society should be registered under the Act to acquire the status of juridical person.

In the absence of registration, all the trustees in charge of the fund have alone a legal status and the society has no legal status, and, therefore, it cannot sue and be sued.

If a society is not registered, it may exist in fact and theory, but not in the eyes of law. If benefits are to be claimed, the registration of society under the Act is required. An unregistered society cannot claim benefits under the Income-tax act.
Accounts and Audits

The societies are in possession of funds and properties provided to them by the members or by other persons (by way of donation etc.). The funds and properties are to be applied in furtherance of its objects, for which the society was formed. The members of the governing body are the trustees who apply the funds.

Therefore, it becomes necessary for societies to maintain proper and regular account books and get them audited and present them to the members at the general meeting and file the same with the Registrar of Societies (of the respective State where it is located) for scrutiny.

Every society should get its accounts audited once a year by duly qualified auditor and have balance sheet prepared by him.

Litigation

As every society is a legal entity distinct from its members. It is capable of filing suits against any person or any member. Similarly, suits can also be filed against the society.

A registered society can file a suit anywhere in India and in any State although it may not be registered in that particular state.

Benefits of forming a Society

1. Under Income Tax Act, and subject to fulfilment of certain conditions, a society can avail of exemption from income tax, if it obtains registration under Section 12A/12AA of the Income Tax, 1961.

2. Donors to societies may claim a rebate under Income Tax Act for donations made to the Society, provided the society has applied and obtained approval under Section 80G. Registration under section 12A is one-time registration. Once the registration is granted to the trust, it will be hold good till the cancellation of registration. There is no provision which requires any renewal of registration. Thus, the benefits of registration can be claimed for lifetime by NGO.

3. Societies, being NGO’s receive various grants from government and other agencies. They are eligible to get grants and financial funding from various agencies. These agencies generally make grants to societies registered under Section 12A.

4. Societies are run on democratic principles and ensures wider participation by members in the activities.

5. In view of the election process, there is scope for removing inefficient management and effect changes in the management to ensure better governance.

PROCEDURE FOR REGISTRATION OF NGO’S

SECTION 8 COMPANY

The procedure for registration of a Section 8 company is slightly different than incorporation of a private or public company. It involves two steps, namely:

(i) obtaining of licence under section 8(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 and
(ii) obtaining certificate of incorporation

Before formation of the company, the promoters must decide on the following:

(a) the proposed name to be applied;

INTRODUCTION

India has a diversified financial sector undergoing rapid expansion, both in terms of strong growth of existing financial services firms and new entities entering the market. The sector comprises commercial banks, insurance companies, non-banking financial companies, co-operatives, pension funds, mutual funds and other smaller financial entities. The banking regulator has allowed new entities such as payments banks to be created recently thereby adding to the types of entities operating in the sector. However, the financial sector in India is predominantly a banking sector with commercial banks accounting for more than 64 per cent of the total assets held by the financial system.

The Government of India has introduced several reforms to liberalise, regulate and enhance this industry. The Government and Reserve Bank of India (RBI) have taken various measures to facilitate easy access to finance. These measures include (to name a few) launching different categories of Non Banking Finance Companies (NBFC’s), Asset Reconstruction Companies (ARC’s) and Micro Finance Institutions (MFI’s). With a combined push by both government and private sector, India is undoubtedly one of the world’s most vibrant capital markets.

Over the years, Non Banking Finance Companies (NBFC’S), Housing Finance Companies (HFC’s), Asset Reconstruction Companies (ARC’s), Micro Finance Institutions (MFI’s), and Nidhi Companies have played a dominant role in mobilisation and disbursal of funds.

With the advent of mobile technology and vast strides made by the country in the field of information technology, Payment Banks has emerged as a new model of banks conceptualised by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) Let us examine these Financial Services Organisations in some detail

NON BANKING FINANCIAL COMPANY

A Non-Banking Financial Company (NBFC) is a company registered under the Companies Act, 2013 (or any earlier enactments) engaged in the business of loans and advances, acquisition of shares/stocks/bonds/debentures/securities issued by Government or local authority or other marketable securities of a like nature, leasing, hire-purchase, insurance business, chit business but does not include any institution whose principal business is that of agriculture activity, industrial activity, purchase or sale of any goods (other than securities) or providing any services and sale/purchase/construction of immovable property. A non-banking institution which is a company and has principal business of receiving deposits under any scheme or arrangement in one lump sum or in instalments by way of contributions or in any other manner, is also a non-banking financial company (Residuary non-banking company). Financial activity as principal business is when a company’s financial assets constitute more than 50 per cent of the total assets and income from financial assets constitute more than 50 per cent of the gross income. A company which fulfils both these criteria will be registered as NBFC by RBI. Interestingly, this test is popularly known as 50-50 test and is applied to determine whether or not a company is into financial business.

NBFCs lend and make investments and hence their activities are akin to that of banks; however there are a few differences as given below:

i. NBFC cannot accept demand deposits;

ii. NBFCs do not form part of the payment and settlement system and cannot issue cheques drawn on itself;

iii. deposit insurance facility of Deposit Insurance and Credit Guarantee Corporation is not available to depositors of NBFCs, unlike in case of banks.

In terms of Section 45-IA of the RBI Act, 1934, no Non-banking Financial Company can commence or carry on business of a non-banking financial institution without a) obtaining a certificate of registration from the Bank and without having a Net Owned Funds of Rs. 25 lakhs (Rs. Two crore since April 1999).
However, in terms of the powers given to the Bank, to obviate dual regulation, certain categories of NBFCs which are regulated by other regulators are exempted from the requirement of registration with RBI viz. Venture Capital Fund/Merchant Banking companies/Stock broking companies registered with SEBI, Insurance Company holding a valid Certificate of Registration issued by IRDA, Nidhi companies as notified under Section 620A of the Companies Act, 1956 or formed under section 406 of the Companies Act, 2013, Chit companies as defined in clause (b) of Section 2 of the Chit Funds Act, 1982, Housing Finance Companies regulated by National Housing Bank, Stock Exchange or a Mutual Benefit company.

Note: Under the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2017, Nidhi Companies are required to be notified by the Central Government as such; This is similar to the provisions of Section 620A of the Companies Act, 1956.

NBFCs whose asset size is of Rs. 500 cr or more as per last audited balance sheet are considered as systemically important NBFCs. The rationale for such classification is that the activities of such NBFCs will have a bearing on the financial stability of the overall economy.

TYPES/CATEGORIES OF NBFC’S

NBFCs are categorized a) in terms of the type of liabilities into Deposit and Non-Deposit accepting NBFCs, b) non deposit taking NBFCs by their size into systemically important and other non-deposit holding companies (NBFC-NDSI and NBFC-ND) and c) by the kind of activity they conduct. It’s a wholly-owned Non-Operative Financial Holding Company (NOFHC) which will hold the bank as well as all other financial services companies regulated by RBI or other financial sector regulators, to the extent permissible under the applicable regulatory prescriptions.

BENEFITS OF INCORPORATING AN NBFC

According to research and studies it is proved that NBFCs are outperforming banks. The continued better performance from NBFCs has given rise to an uptick of 15% customer satisfaction as compared to the banking customers. The same is agreed by the RBI according to the recent Financial Stability Report. Banks and Non-Banking Financial Companies(NBFCs) are financial intermediaries and the services offered by them are pretty much the same as banks. However, the benefits of incorporating an NBFC and carrying on its activities are listed below:
Lesson 8  ■ Financial Services Organisation and its Registration Process  187

1. Competitive Interest Rates

Rate of interest is one of the main aspects of all types of loans. Non-Banking Financial Sectors have started to concentrate on this area in the recent decades and have brought down the interest rates to either equal to bank lending rates or at times even lower to bank rates. With all the other benefits when rate of interest is also lowered, borrowers found this more easy and affordable. This has also resulted in lower EMI (Equated Monthly Instalment) for borrowers. Based on the income, credit scoring and repayment, rate of interest is charged on the borrowers. However, it is at competitive rates.

2. Quick Processing

At banks, it is very important that the applicant should fulfil the eligibility criteria but NBFC are lenient in this aspect. This makes loan approval easier, smoother process and quicker. Most of the times, people apply for loan when they are in immediate need of money. NBFCs have taken this as an opportunity to meet the demand by quickly processing the loans at competitive rate of interest. At times, borrowers are even ready to compromise on the interest rates if the loan amount is huge and if they could get it approved quickly.

3. Less Rules and Regulations

As NBFC are incorporated under the Companies Act, (though regulated by the Reserve Bank of India), the rules and regulations for lending are not as stringent as banks. This helps borrowers to get loans easily. In view of less complicated loan processing requirements, borrowers are highly satisfied. Of course, the risk of default is high with NBFC and thus interest rates and other charges will be accorded priced by the NBFC. Even the loan amount approved will be quite lesser than the collateral value. This is due to the high risk of default. NBFC’s do not have statutory reserve ratios and can open branches at will.

4. Loan available for Individuals with Poor Credit Rating

Individuals with poor credit rating generally will not get loans from banks. The reason for this is banks consider borrowers are high-risk individuals if the credit scoring is low. Unless the credit score is above 600 - 650, it is very difficult to get a loan sanctioned from banks. On the other hand, loans will be offered to individuals with low credit score by NBFCs but most of the time the interest rates for such borrowers will be higher than market rates. Due to these aforementioned advantages, most of the NBFCs are growing.

5. With regard to offering loans, banks and NBFCs will offer business, personal and retail loans. And this is totally on the basis of the repayment capacity of the borrower. Most of the corporate sector prefers banks; however retail sector chooses NBFCs over banks. Simple loans such are vehicle financing loans, gold loans, home loans and durable loans are offered by NBFCs and customer satisfaction ratio is high here. NBFC sector is also set to expand even further in the coming days.

Incorporation of NBFC’s

The enactment of Companies Act, 2013 impacted many areas including banks and NBFCs. However, there have been no major changes in incorporating the NBFCs under the new act. Accordingly, Non- Banking Financial Companies (NBFCs) are companies incorporated under Companies Act, 2013 or Companies Act, 1956.

The procedure for incorporating a Non Banking Finance Company (NBFC) is the same as any other company. Form RUN for approval of name should contain financing as the principal activity. Their principal business, to be stated in the MOA, while registering under the Companies Act shall be lending credit, making investments in various types of shares and stocks, leasing, hire-purchase, insurance business, chit business, and receiving deposits under any scheme or arrangement.

Since the Net Owned Funds of the entity should be not less than Rs. Two Crore, it must be ensured that the Authorised Share Capital of the NBFC is not less than Rs. Two Crore.
Registration Process with Reserve Bank of India

After incorporation of the company, the NBFC must obtain certificate of registration. Before applying for registration, the company should ensure the following:

(a) It should have minimum one director from NBFC background or senior Bankers as full-time director in the company
(b) Clean CBIL records
(c) Understanding of NBFC / Finance business

In terms of Section 45-IA of the RBI Act, 1934, a Non-banking Financial company can commence or carry on business of a non-banking financial institution only after

(a) obtaining a certificate of registration from the Reserve Bank of India and
(b) having a Net Owned Funds of Rs. Two Crore.

To obviate dual regulation, certain categories of NBFCs which are regulated by other regulators are exempted from the requirement of registration with RBI, viz.

(a) Venture Capital Fund/Merchant Banking companies/Stock broking companies registered with SEBI,
(b) Insurance Company holding a valid Certificate of Registration issued by IRDA,
(c) Nidhi companies as notified under the Companies Act,
(d) Chit companies as defined in clause (b) of Section 2 of the Chit Funds Act, 1982,
(e) Housing Finance Companies regulated by National Housing Bank,
(f) Stock Exchange or a Mutual Benefit company.

Housing Finance Companies

Housing Finance Company (HFC) is a type of non-banking financial institution which is primarily engaged in the business of providing home loans and other related products. Unlike other Non-Banking Financial Companies which are governed under the regulatory framework of RBI, HFCs are regulated by the National Housing Bank (NHB).

Collateral securities are accepted against loans advanced by HFCs which include the property for which loan has been granted and some other collaterals as well. Since properties serve as the underlying asset on which financing is given, the amount of loan advanced depends upon the value of the collateral offered. The value of the collateral ensures that the lender is secured and has covered itself from the risk of default. Hence, correct and realistic valuation of properties or fixed assets becomes necessary at the time of advancement of loan. Further, loans given by HFC’s are usually for a long period of time. Though the value of property is less volatile but there are chances that the same may fluctuate during the loan tenure. Usually after a loan has been granted, HFC’s do regular property valuation to understand how the property value is changing. There is a need for revaluation at regular intervals so that the lender is assured of little or no deviation in the Loan to Value (LTV) ratio and also that the property is valued at its current fair market value.

A Housing Finance Company (HFC) is a company registered under the Companies Act, 2013 or any earlier enactment which primarily transacts or has as one of its principal objects, the transacting of the business of providing finance for housing, whether directly or indirectly. In addition to it being a company registered under the Companies Act, an HFC also requires registration with National Housing Bank (NHB) for commencing or carrying on the business of housing finance. The National Housing Bank was set up under the National Housing Bank Act, 1987. Housing Finance Companies are governed by the said Act and by Circulars, Guidelines, Notifications and Directions issued by National Housing Bank.

In terms of Section 29A of the National Housing Bank Act, 1987, no Housing Finance Company shall commence or carry on the business of a housing finance institution without -

(i) Obtaining a certificate of registration from National Housing Bank issued under Chapter V of the said Act, and

(ii) Having the net owned fund of Rs. 10 Crore or such other higher amount, as the National Housing Bank may, by notification, specify.

Benefits of incorporating a Housing Finance Company

(1) At present, the macro environment is extremely favourable for housing finance companies. The Modi government’s incentives in terms of allocation related to Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) of Rs 23,000 crore would provide the much-needed momentum to the sector. The total allocation for the infrastructure sector in the Budget stood at Rs 39,6135 crore in 2017-18.

(2) The holding period for capital gains tax in case of immovable properties has been reduced from three to two years. Moreover, the Finance Minister has proposed to shift the base year for indexation from 1.4.1981 to 1.4.2001 for all classes of assets, including immovable property. This step would allow more realistic calculation of the cost of acquisition of the house while claiming indexation benefits.

(3) It is expected that with several associated benefits and the advantage of digital documents, the cost of finance is expected to come down, which may be passed on to the real buyers.

(4) In the days to come, supported by growth drivers such as rising disposable income, personal income-tax benefits, increasing urbanisation and economic growth of tier II and tier-II cities, the sector is likely to see immense growth.

Housing Finance Company : Registration Process

The procedure for incorporating a Housing Finance Company (HFC) is the same as any other company. Form RUN for approval of name should contain housing financing as the principal activity. Their principal business, to be stated in the MOA, while registering under the Companies Act shall be providing finance for housing and related matters.

Since the Net Owned Funds of the entity should be not less than Rs. Ten Crore, it is advisable that the Authorised Share Capital of the HFC is not less than Rs. Ten Crore.
A company registered under the Companies Act and desirous of commencing business of a housing finance institution, should comply with the following-

(i) either it should primarily transacts or has as one of its principal objects of transacting the business of providing finance for housing, whether directly or indirectly; and

(ii) it should have a minimum net owned fund of Rs. 10 crore.

NHB after satisfying itself on the fulfilment of following conditions provided under sub-section (4) of Section 29A of the National Housing Bank Act, 1987 may grant a Certificate of Registration:

(i) HFC is or shall be in a position to pay its present or future depositors in full as and when their claims accrue;

(ii) Affairs of the HFC are not being or are not likely to be conducted in a manner detrimental to the interest of its present or future depositors;

(iii) General character of the management or the proposed management of the HFC shall not be prejudicial to the public interest or to the interests of its depositors;

(iv) HFC has adequate capital structure and earning prospects;

(v) Public interest shall be served by the grant of certificate of registration to the HFC to commence or carry on the business in India;

(vi) Grant of certificate of registration shall not be prejudicial to the operation and growth of the housing finance sector of the country; and

(vii) Any other condition, fulfilment of which in the opinion of the NHB, shall be necessary to ensure that the commencement of or carrying on the business in India by a HFC shall not be prejudicial to the public interest or in the interests of the depositors.

HFCs are categorized in terms of the type of liabilities, by NHB, into Deposit and Non-Deposit accepting HFCs and are issued Certificate of Registration accordingly.

Net Owned funds

Net Owned Funds is defined as

(a) The aggregate of the paid-up equity capital and free reserves as disclosed in the latest balance sheet of the housing finance institution after deducting therefrom -

   (i) accumulated balance of loss;

   (ii) deferred revenue expenditure, and

   (iii) other intangible assets; and

(b) further reduced by the amounts representing –

   (i) investments of such institution in shares of-

      - its subsidiaries;

      - companies in the same group;

      - all other housing finance institutions which are companies; and

   (ii) the book value of debentures, bonds, outstanding loans and advances (including hire-purchase and lease finance) made to, and deposits with,-

      - subsidiaries of such company; and
Companies in the same group, to the extent such amount exceeds ten per cent of (a) above;

“subsidiaries” and “companies in the same group” shall have the same meanings assigned to them in the Companies Act.

The applicant company is required to submit a physical copy of the application (in duplicate) along with the essentials documents to the Head Office of the National Housing Bank. Further, Company is also required to attach a Demand Draft for Rs. 10,000 favouring National Housing Bank payable at New Delhi.

A filled-in physical copy of the application form (in duplicate) along with necessary enclosures stated in our website http://www.nhb.org.in/Regulation/applicationcr.php to be submitted to the Head Office of NHB.

An indicative checklist of the documents required to be submitted is also provided under the heading “Instructions for filling up the Application” in the same page.

ASSET RECONSTRUCTION COMPANY (ARC)

In India the problem of recovery from NPAs was recognized in 1997 by Government of India. The Narasimhan Committee Report mentioned that an important aspect of the continuing reform process was to reduce the high level of NPAs as a means of banking sector reform. It was expected that with a combination of policy and institutional development, new NPAs in the future could afford to be lower. However, the huge backlog of existing NPAs continued to hound the banking sector and this impinged severely on the banks’ performance and any ensuing hopes of their profitability. The Report envisaged creation of an “Asset Recovery Fund” to take the NPAs off the lender’s books at a discount.

Asset Reconstruction Company (Securitization Company / Reconstruction Company) is a company registered under Section 3 of the Securitization and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest (SRFAESI) Act, 2002. It is regulated by Reserve Bank of India as a Non Banking Financial Company (u/s 45I (f) (iii) of RBI Act, 1934). RBI has exempted ARCs from the compliances under section 45-IA, 45-IB and 45-IC of the Reserve Bank Act, 1934. ARC functions like an AMC within the guidelines issued by RBI.

ARC has been set up to provide a focused approach to Non-Performing Loans resolution issue by:-

(a) Isolating Non Performing Loans (NPLs) from the Financial System (FS),
(b) Freeing the financial system to focus on their core activities and
(c) Facilitating development of market for distressed assets.

As per RBI Notification No. DNBS.2/CGM (CSM)-2003, dated April 23, 2003, ARC performs the following functions:-

(i) Acquisition of financial assets (as defined u/s 2(L) of SRFAESI Act, 2002)
(ii) Change or takeover of Management / Sale or Lease of Business of the Borrower
(iii) Rescheduling of Debt
(iv) Enforcement of Security Interest (as per section 13(4) of SRFAESI Act, 2002)
(v) Settlement of dues payable by the borrower

Asset Reconstructions companies are created to manage and recover Non Performing Assets acquired from the banking system. Asset Reconstruction Companies are act as a bad bank by isolating Non Performing Assets from the balance sheet of bank/FII and facilitate the latter to concentrate in normal banking activities. Banks and financial institutions with a large proportion of their bad loans or Non Performing Assets can sell to a separate entity i.e. Asset Reconstruction Company. Then Asset Reconstruction Companies recover a sum through attachment, liquidation etc. The objective is to help banks in making clean books by reducing Non Performing Assets. Asset Reconstruction Companies are also making profit by buying Non Performing Assets at a lower price.

Benefits of incorporating an Asset Reconstruction Company (ARC)

- As the cash realisation activity from defaulting borrowers is a lengthy and cumbersome procedure, relieving banks of the burden of NPAs will allow them to focus better on managing the core business including providing new business opportunities for the ARC.
- The transfer should help restore depositor and investor confidence by ensuring the lender’s financial health. The banks use it as a method to hive off the bad loans from their balance sheet. ARCs can maximise recovery value while minimizing costs.
- ARCs also helps building industry expertise in loan resolution and restructuring management, besides serving as a catalyst for important legal reforms in bankruptcy procedures and loan collection.
- ARCs play an important role in developing capital markets through secondary asset instruments.

Asset Reconstruction Company – the Registration Process

Firstly, a company has to be incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013. The company may be a private company or a public company.

Secondly, after incorporation, the company has to register itself with the Reserve Bank of India. (iv) (a) An ARC shall commence business within six months from the date of grant of Certificate of Registration by the Bank; RBI may grant extension for further period not exceeding 12 months.

(b) Provisions of section 45 -IA, 45-IB and 45-IC of RBI Act,1934 shall not apply to non-banking financial company, which is an ARC registered with the Bank under Section 3 of the SARFAESI Act, 2002

As per notification issued by RBI, an Asset Reconstruction Company shall have a Net Owned Funds (NOF) of Rs. 2 Crores or such higher amount as may be specified. By a Notification No. DNBR (PD-ARC) No. 05/ED(SS)-2017 dated April 28, 2017, the requirement of NOF has been fixed at Rs. 100 Crore on an ongoing basis. This has been done keeping in mind the greater role envisaged for ARC’s in resolving stressed assets and also the regulatory changes governing sale of stressed assets by banks to ARC’s.

ARC’S already registered with RBI as on the date of the said notification and not having the minimum revised NOF shall achieve the minimum NOF of Rs. 100 Crore latest by March 31, 2019 and the same shall be duly certified by the Statutory Auditors.
Quarterly statements in the Format SCRC 1 and SCRC 2 on owned funds, assets acquired, securitized and reconstructed assets, assets realised during the year, value of financial assets unresolved at the end of the year, value of security receipts pending for redemption, etc. are to be submitted to RBI within 15 days from the close of the quarter to which it pertains. These statements can be filed online on the Bank’s website, viz, https://cosmos.rbi.org.in

MICRO FINANCE INSTITUTIONS (MFI)

A microfinance institution is an organization that offers financial services to low income populations. Almost all give loans to their members, and many offer insurance, deposit and other services. Organisations which finance on a larger scale are regarded as regarded as microfinance institutes. They are those that offer credits and other financial services to the representatives of poor strata of population (except for extremely poor strata). An increasing number of microfinance institutions (MFIs) are seeking non-banking finance company (NBFC) status from RBI to get wide access to funding, including bank finance.

NABARD has defined microfinance as “provision of thrift, credit and other financial services and products of very small amounts to the poor in rural, semi-urban and urban areas provided to customers to meet their financial needs; with only qualification that (1) transactions value is small and (2) customers are poor.”

Characteristics of a Micro Finance Institution

(1) Microfinance provides financial services to those whose income is small and unstable. These people are in need of credit facilities for several reasons. To name a few:

   a. their needs are small and arise suddenly.
   b. the institutional providers of finance, namely, the banks, demand collateral security which they cannot provide.
   c. most of the time, they are in urgent need of funds to meet their consumption demands, for example, to meet expenses related to education, illness, funerals, weddings for which it is difficult to obtain institution finance.
   d. for purpose of investment in income generating activities.

(2) Concept of Self Help Group (SHGs) is the most exciting discovery in the context of microfinance. The Indian microfinance scene is dominated by SHGs and their linkage with banks. This has helped in empowerment of women and eradication of property among people with low income.

(3) Microfinance provides a greater menu of options whereby the small loan can be garnered not just from the external sources but also through self mobilization, by way of saving and sale of assets.

(4) The biggest flexibility in the case of microfinance is the lack of any physical collateral, even in case of loan from the bank.

The characteristics of MFI's may be summarised as under:

i. The size of the loan given by the MFI is small.
ii. The repayment period is short.
iii. MFI can mobilise resources both from internal and external sources.
iv. No collateral for loan is required.
v. the purpose of end use of loan is flexible.
vi. loans given are mostly group loans, trickling down to individuals.
vii. Transaction cost is low, due to group lending.

Incorporation of MFI

Firstly, a company has to be incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013. The company may be a private company or a public company.

Secondly, after incorporation, the company has to register itself with the Reserve Bank of India, since a Micro Finance Institution (hereinafter referred to as MFI) is regulated by the Reserve Bank of India.

NIDHI COMPANIES

Nidhi Companies have been in existence since centuries. They existed even prior to the existence of the Companies Act, 1956.

A Nidhi Company, is one that belongs to the non-banking finance sector and is recognized under section 406 of the Companies Act, 2013. Their core business is borrowing and lending money between their members. They are also known as Permanent Fund, Benefit Funds, Mutual Benefit Funds and Mutual Benefit Company. They are regulated by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India and are registered under the Companies Act, 2013 (or any earlier enactments). Nidhis are more popular in South India and are highly localized single office institutions. They are mutual benefit societies, because their dealings are restricted only to the members; and membership is limited to individuals. The principal source of funds is the contribution from the members. The loans are given to the members at relatively reasonable rates for purposes such as house construction or repairs and are generally secured. The deposits mobilized by Nidhis are not much when compared to the organized banking sector.

Nidhi company is governed by Nidhi Rules, 2014. They are incorporated in the nature of Public Limited company and hence, they have to comply with two set of norms, one of Public limited company as per Companies Act, 2013 and another is the Nidhi Rules, 2014. No RBI approval is necessary to register the company, as RBI has specifically exempted this category of NBFC in India to comply its core provisions such as registration with RBI etc. Even though Nidhis are regulated by the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, they are exempted from certain provisions of the Act, as applicable to other companies, due to limiting their operations within members. The exemptions are contained in the Notification F.No. 2/11/2014-CL.V dated June 5, 2015 issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs.

Characteristics of a Nidhi Company

The characteristics of a Nidhi Company may be summarised below:

1. It is allowed to transact business only with its members and with nobody else. Hence, in case a person wishes to place deposit with a Nidhi or borrow money from a Nidhi, he must first become a member (shareholder) of the Nidhi by subscribing to 10 equity shares or shares equivalent to Rs. 100.

2. After commencement of the Companies Act, 2013, no Nidhi shall issue preference shares.

3. They are allowed to open branches subject to compliance with Rule 10 of the Nidhi Rules, 2014, but do not operate on a pan India basis.

4. They are incorporated as public companies with a minimum paid up equity share capital of `5,00,000.

5. Loans may be provided only to its members and should be fully secured.

6. A director of a Nidhi shall be a member and shall hold office for a term upto 10 consecutive years on the Board of a Nidhi.

7. Nidhi can declare dividend not exceeding 25% and any higher amount shall be specifically approved by the Regional Director.
(8) Nidhi shall adhere to the prudential norms for revenue recognition and classification of assets in respect of mortgage loans or jewel loans as provided in Rule 20 of the Nidhi Rules, 2014.

General restrictions or prohibitions on Nidhis (Rule 6)

No Nidhi shall –

- carry on the business of chit fund, hire purchase finance, leasing finance, insurance or acquisition of securities issued by any body corporate;
- issue preference shares, debentures or any other debt instrument by any name or in any form whatsoever;
- open any current account with its members;
- acquire another company by purchase of securities or control the composition of the Board of Directors of any other company in any manner whatsoever or enter into any arrangement for the change of its management, unless it has passed a special resolution in its general meeting and also obtained the previous approval of the Regional Director having jurisdiction over such Nidhi.
- carry on any business other than the business of borrowing or lending in its own name. Nidhis which have adhered to all the provisions of these rules may provide locker facilities on rent to its members subject to the rental income from such facilities not exceeding twenty per cent of the gross income of the Nidhi at any point of time during a financial year.
- accept deposits from or lend to any person, other than its members;
- pledge any of the assets lodged by its members as security;
- take deposits from or lend money to any body corporate;
- enter into any partnership arrangement in its borrowing or lending activities;
- issue or cause to be issued any advertisement in any form for soliciting deposit. Private circulation of the details of fixed deposit Schemes among the members of the Nidhi carrying the words “for private circulation to members only” shall not be considered to be an advertisement for soliciting deposits.
- pay any brokerage or incentive for mobilising deposits from members or for deployment of funds or for granting loans.

Benefits of incorporating a Nidhi Company

1. A Nidhi mobilises small savings, mostly of the middle class and disburses loans to eligible borrowers. Owing to their small size and closeness to the customers, disbursement of loans is speedy. This is especially useful in case the borrower is in urgent needs of funds.
2. The repayment is guaranteed, as the loans are secured and due to peer pressure, borrowers ensure that loan is repaid on due dates.
3. Nidhis offer a higher rate of interest on deposits. This makes it an attractive investment opportunity for people, especially the senior citizens.
4. The Board of Directors of a Nidhi normally consists of senior persons who have experience in handling finances and who are well respected in social circles. This lends credibility to the institution and instills confidence in the minds of borrowers and depositors.

Incorporation of a Nidhi Company

For incorporation, the normal procedure for incorporating a public company is required to be complied with, such as obtaining availability of name, filing of Memorandum and Articles of Association and other related documents. Care must be taken to see that the Objects Clause of the Memorandum should restrict itself to the object of cultivating the habit of thrift and savings amongst its members, receiving deposits from and lending to its members only for their mutual benefit and for other permitted purposes. The name of the company should end with the words “Nidhi Limited”.

After incorporation as a Nidhi, according to Rule 5 of the Nidhi Rules, 2014, every Nidhi shall within a period of one year from the commencement of these rules, ensure that it has

i. not less than two hundred members;

ii. Net Owned Funds of ten lakh rupees or more;

iii. unencumbered term deposits of not less than ten per cent of the outstanding deposits as specified in rule 14; and

iv. ratio of Net Owned Funds to deposits of not more than 1:20.

PAYMENT BANKS

Payments banks is a new model of banks conceptualised by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI). These banks can accept a restricted deposit, which is currently limited to Rs. 1 lakh per customer and may be increased further. They can pay interest on these deposits just like savings bank account. Both current account and savings accounts can be operated by such banks. Payments banks can issue services like ATM cards, debit cards, net-banking, third party transfers and mobile-banking and offer remittance services. These banks cannot grant loans or issue credit cards.

The main objective of payments bank is to widen the spread of payment and financial services to small business, low-income households, migrant labour workforce in secured technology-driven environment.

With payments banks, RBI seeks to increase the penetration level of financial services to the remote areas of the country.

To open a bank account and the application process of payments bank is made very easy as compared to other banks. These bank accounts can be opened instantly through their respective mobile apps just by providing details like Aadhar number with KYC verification.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Of late, startups have emerged as a fast-growing business model. This chapter will deal with the evolution of Startups in India, the Startup India Policy, developments initiated in various States to encourage Startups, the exemptions available to them and the registration process.

The Chapter also deals with the different kinds of Debt financing and Equity Financing which can be raised by Startups and the concept of MUDRA Banks.

After going through this chapter, having knowledge about the concept of Start ups, the benefits/exemptions given to start ups, different financing options available and the procedures involved for incorporation and registration as startups, you, as a Company Secretary, would be able to Register and play an important role in ensuring compliances in successfully running a startup.
A startup company (startup or start-up) is an entrepreneurial venture which is typically an emerging, fast-growing business that aims to solve an unmet need by developing a viable business model around an innovative product, service, processor a platform. A startup is usually a company designed to effectively develop and validate a scalable business model.

Start-ups may have high rates of failure, but the minority of successes includes companies that have become large and influential.

Evolution

Startup companies can come in all forms and sizes. Some of the critical tasks are to build a co-founding team to secure key or complementary skills, know-how, financial resources, and other elements to build the product for the target market.

Typically, a startup will begin by building a first minimum viable product (MVP), a prototype, to validate, assess and develop the new ideas or business concepts. In addition, startups founders do research to deepen their understanding of the ideas, technologies or business concepts and their commercial potential.

A Founders’ agreement are often agreed early on to confirm the commitment, ownership and contributions of the founders and to deal with the intellectual properties and assets that may be generated by the startup. A Shareholders’ Agreement (SHA) is entered into between the founders and investors to confirm investment terms, rights of investors, exit clauses and any other important agreement terms.

Business models for startups are generally found via a “bottom-up” or “top-down” approach. A company may cease to be a startup as it passes various mile stones, such as becoming publicly traded on the stock market in an Initial Public Offering (IPO), or ceasing to exist as an independent entity via a merger or acquisition. Companies may also fail and cease to operate altogether, an outcome that is very likely for startups, given that they are developing disruptive innovations which may not function as expected and for which there may not be market demand, even when the product or service is finally developed.

Given that startups operate in high-risk sectors, it can also be hard to attract investors to support the product/service development or attract buyers.

A number of organisation and/or organised activities exist with Startup activities. To name a few, Universities, Advisory and mentoring organizations Startup incubators, Startup accelerators, Co working spaces, Service providers(Consulting, Accounting, Legal, etc.), Event organizers, Start-up competitions, Startup Business Model Evaluators, Business Angel Networks, Venture capital companies, Equity Crowd funding portals, corporates (telcos, banking, health, food, etc.), other funding providers (loans, grants etc.), Start-up blogs and social networks and other facilitators.

Investors from these roles are linked together through shared events, activities, locations and interactions. Startup ecosystems generally encompass the network of interactions among people, organizations, and their environment. Any particular start-up ecosystem is defined by its collection of specific cities or online communities.

In addition, resources like skills, time and money are also essential components of a start-up ecosystem. The resources that flow through ecosystems are obtained primarily from the meetings between people and organizations that are an active part of those startup ecosystems. These interactions help to create new potential startups and/or to strengthen the already existing ones.

REGISTRATION STEPS

What form should your Startup Venture have?

I. Formation of a Company in India

The law of companies in India is governed by the Indian Companies Act, 2013 which is a comprehensive legislation and provides for provisions relating to all phases of a company’s life, i.e. incorporation, management, mergers, winding up, etc.

A Registrar of Companies (‘ROC’) is appointed under the Act for designated regions, who is the nodal authority for affairs related to companies in that particular region.

II. Types of Companies in India

Any person can choose to incorporate either a company with unlimited liability or one with liability limited either by shares or guarantee. An incorporated company may take one of the following three forms:

II.1. Private Company

With restrictions on transfer of shares, and limited number of members, a private limited company enjoys greater flexibility, less legal formalities, and the small shareholders body facilitates prompt decisions. A private company must have a minimum of two directors. A private company may be converted into a public company for raising capital from the public, if need arises, by completing certain legal formalities as specified in the Companies Act.

II.2. Public Company

Public companies are subject to stricter legal formalities. However, the free transferability of the shares of a public company and unlimited membership provides a larger base for raising of capital. Shares of a listed public company can be traded on stock exchange, which may open it to the scrutiny and watch of Securities and Exchange Board of India. A public company must have a minimum of seven members and three directors. Certain classes of public limited companies must have at least one third of the total number of directors as independent directors out of which one director has to be a woman director.

Minimum authorized and paid up share capital requirement of a private and public company: The criteria of having minimum paid up share capital for both private public company, as stated in the erstwhile Companies Act, 1956, has been omitted in the revised Companies Act. This is a significant advantage to start-ups with respect to the requirement of maintaining minimum share capital under the Companies Act since inception.

II.3. One Person Company

This concept has been brought by the new Companies Act and states that One Person Company is in the nature of a private company which has only one person as its member/director

At the time of incorporation, the memorandum of association must name a nominee for the sole member of an OPC. The minimum number of directors for an OPC is also one. OPC provides the option of limited personal liability of proprietors (as opposed to unlimited liability in sole proprietorship).

Businesses which currently run under the proprietorship model could get converted into OPC’s without any difficulty. The questions of consensus or majority opinions do not arise in case of OPCs, and is suitable for small entrepreneurs with low risk taking capacity.

III. Charter documents of a Company

III.1 Memorandum of Association

The MoA sets out the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated in the manner provided hereunder

  a. The first and foremost clause in MoA shall be the name of the proposed company suffixed with the words limited or private limited, as the case may be;

  b. The state where the registered office of the company shall be situated.

  c. The third clause contains the main objects for which the company is going to be formed/incorporated.

The MoA binds the area of operation of the company in respect to the objects mentioned therein and any decision or actions taken in contravention of the MoA shall be void. A company cannot run any business contrary to the main objects mentioned in their MoA.

The MoA and AoA of a company can be modified post incorporation in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act.

III.2. Articles of Association

The articles of a company contains regulations for the management of the company. This document is confined to the applicability of the provisions of the companies act, on private or public limited company, as the case may be.

IV. Legal formalities for incorporation of a company:

IV.1. Pre-incorporation formalities:

The below mentioned compliances are required to be carried out with regard to setting up of company in India:

a. Obtaining of Director’s Identification Number (“DIN”) and Digital Signature Certificates (“DSC”) for the proposed directors of the company by preparing and filing of all the relevant forms and documents as required under the provisions of the companies act.

b. Once the DIN and DSC are ready, the next step is filing of online application for the approval of name of the company, provided the name is not matching or similar with any other existing company.

c. On approval of name by the registrar of companies, the drafting of the charter documents of the company needs to be carried out i.e. memorandum (MOA) and articles of association (AoA), which are the basic documents for any company.

Thereafter all the incorporation forms, shall be prepared and filed with the ROC for registration of company for the final step of the incorporation process and obtaining a certificate of incorporation of the company.

IV.2. Post incorporation formalities:

Once the certificate of incorporation has been issued by ROC, the company becomes a separate legal entity in the eyes of laws in India, and requires certain basic registrations to initiate the business which includes filing of application for obtaining a permanent account number, tax deduction account number in the name of the company and any other business specific registrations from the relevant government authorities i.e. Import–Export Code Number in case of company carrying out the business of import and/or export.

Further, every company shall be required to carry out certain compliances, as required under the provisions of the Companies Act, for their day to day activities which includes holding of first board meeting immediately after incorporation, convening the annual general meeting every year, maintaining all the secretarial records at the registered office of the company, maintaining of statutory registers, minutes books etc. of company in compliance with the Companies Act.

Following are the important points for a Start-up:

1. Choose the right legal structure for your startup:

Choosing an appropriate legal structure is one of the most crucial decisions for any startup. The decision should be taken based on individual circumstances and a host of factors such as nature/sector of business operation, business trajectory, regulatory and tax considerations, costs of formation and ongoing administration, external capital requirement and type of funding sought, of legal liability protection required, number of stakeholders, balance required between ownership and management, proposed mechanism for profit sharing or distribution amongst stakeholders, et al. Preferred entity structures for startups in India are limited liability partnership and private limited company.
2. Registrations and business licenses:
Post incorporation of a business entity in India, some necessary registrations are required and mandated by law. Some examples are Permanent Account Number (PAN), Tax Deduction and Collection Account Number (TAN), VAT registration, service tax registration, et al.

Business licenses are permits issued by government authority that allow startups to start/continue to operate a particular business within its territorial jurisdiction lawfully. The nature of business activity determines most license requirements.

Other determining factors may include the number of employees, location of business and the form of business ownership. Some examples are Food safety license, Health/Trade license, Shops & Establishment License etc.

3. Intellectual Property Protection:
Intellectual Property Rights are a very important asset class for a startup. Developing and protecting intellectual property with proper registration can help startups gain competitive advantage. It is essential to obtain trademark registration for the business name/trade name under the Trademarks Act. Registration of a company or business in India does not by itself give protection against others who might commence using identical or similar marks.

A trademark search should be conducted before deciding on these business name/ trade names to prevent any issues in future including potential infringement. All Intellectual Property (including trademark, copyright, design, trade secrets, inventions, patents, etc.) should be registered in the name of the entity and not in the name of the promoters/founders of the startup.

4. Founder Equity – Split and Vesting:
Founder equity should be split amongst founders based on the nature of role played by each founder along with their time, effort and capital contribution to the startup. Splitting founder equity equally by default without a through discussion on expectations and contribution generally leads to tension and unhappiness amongst founding teams as the startup matures.

Founder shares should be always subject to vesting schedule – typically over a period of three to four years. When vesting is imposed on a founder equity, the unvested shares held by the founder become subject to a contractual right to repurchase/transfer often at a nominal value, if one of the founders is terminated or voluntarily leaves the startup. This is very important to ensure future viability of the business.

5. Founder agreements:
The founders agreement is the most valuable tool to establish the relationship between the founders of a startup. The agreement should represent a clear understanding between the founders on all key issues related to the startup. Founder agreements should clearly mention the roles and responsibilities of the founders and have clauses detailing the decision making and operating structure of the startup, founder equity split with vesting (explained above), assignment of all intellectual property in favour of the startup, termination of a promoter and exit process etc.

6. Employment contracts:
Startups must ensure to enter into clear employment contracts detailing terms and conditions of employment with their employees. While employment contracts are certainly valuable to the employees as it details terms regarding description of job profile, compensation and other associated benefits, a number of clauses may be inserted to safeguard and protect the interest of the startup – such as stopping employees from setting up competing entities (non- compete clause), poaching other employees/clients/customer (non-solicitation clause), preventing employees from claiming any intellectual property right on the work done/developed during the course of employment (assignment of intellectual property rights).
Lesson 9  Startups and its Registration  213

7. Employee Stock Option Pool (ESOP):

ESOP's are incentives given to employees/directors of a company to attract talent and retain employees by rewarding them. ESOPs create a sense of ownership amongst employees. It is important to note that ESOPs are not shares. They are structured in a way that they are option to buy shares at a discounted price and can be exercised only after a certain vesting period which is decided by the company granting the ESOPs. In India, we typically see a pool of 10 per cent to 15 per cent allocation towards an ESOP Pool.

8. Third Party Agreements:

Prior to entering into a third-party agreement and while negotiating the terms, it is advisable to execute a non-disclosure agreement. If creation/development of intellectual property is a component of such a third-party agreement, it must clearly state that all rights to the intellectual property rights shall vest and be owned by the startup and the third-party shall not stake any claim on the same and will do all acts to ensure the protection of the intellectual property. Clauses related to breach, termination and dispute resolution should be well negotiated and captured in all third-party agreements.

9. Investment structuring:

One of the most challenging and time consuming aspects of operating a startup is to raise capital for working capital requirement and growth. In India, Investors (HNIs/Angels/Funds) invest in early and growth stage companies in different structures and on varied terms. It is imperative for startups to seek proper legal advice while negotiating the deal terms for investment and the rights of the investors.

Typically, as a process an intention document detailing the structure of the transaction called the term sheet is executed followed by due diligence of the startup and execution of investment related definitive agreements.

10. Compliance management:

Compliance and its importance is often overlooked by many startups. There are multiple laws applicable to specific entity structures under which separate event based and annual compliance is mandated. It is extremely critical for the sustainable growth of any business that the startup is in compliance with legal, secretarial, accounting, taxation, employee related and other associated compliances. The consequences of non-compliance can be levy of punitive fines on the startup.

FINANCING OPTIONS AVAILABLE FOR STARTUP COMPANIES

Finance is the life blood of any business. In case the venture is self-funded there can be no better option than that. However, a Startup is mostly the result of a novel idea that is the brainchild of its founder(s) and more often than not, funds are always a challenge.

Let us examine the different financing options:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Seed Capital</th>
</tr>
</thead>

Startup business needs the nurturing of finance to explore and grow. The funding done at the nascent stage is called seed funding and the capital is known as a seed capital.

Technically, seed capital is the initial capital used at the time of starting the business. This capital can come from the founders, families or friends. It is required for the market research, product development, and other initial stage operations.

Seed funding permits exploration of the business idea and converting it into a viable product or service that further attracts venture capitalists. A business founder must be clear on how to utilise seed capital in the most optimum manner to ensure smooth transition to the advanced stage of the business.

Seed funding is a risky investment option, as most funding agencies would like to adopt a wait and watch approach to see whether the idea has a business potential. From the founder's point of view, the option of obtaining seed funding has to be carefully utilised as obtaining seed funding may result in dilution of ownership of the founder.

The paperwork involved in seed funding is relatively less and straightforward, compared to advanced rounds of funding. Even the legal fees required are also quite less as compared to the seed equity. The interest rates too are usually lower and there are mostly no restrictions in the manner of business working as it is still in the nascent stage.

Financing is generally of two types i.e. (a) equity financing; or (b) debt-financing.

1. Equity Financing

Startups are usually equity financed/funded by way of a venture capital/ private equity investors and/or angel investors.

(i) Venture Capitalist/Private Equity

Venture capital ("VC") / Private Equity ("PE") is often the first large investment a startup can expect to receive. Convertible instruments are usually the preferred option and most commonly used securities for VC/PE investment which includes compulsory convertible preference shares and compulsory convertible debentures. The investor and startup will normally enter into a non-binding offer based on the preliminary valuation of the startup usually followed with a financial, legal and technical due diligence on the startup as required by the investors. Due-diligence will help the investors to finalize the representation and warranties and also to identify conditions precedent to the completion of investments and conditions subsequent in the aforesaid transaction documents.

Upon completion of due-diligence to the satisfaction of investor, such investments involve execution of essentially following transaction documents between the investors and startups:

Funding Procedure

(a) A Term Sheet / Letter of Intent /Memorandum of understanding is entered into, setting out the following:
   - basic commercial understanding between the VC and the startup; and
   - legal terms for the agreements to follow the due-diligence;

(b) The contracting parties will enter into a Share Subscription Agreement/ Debenture Subscription Agreement. It usually captures the following:
   - the issuance of shares in the share capital or debentures at subscription amount determined based on the valuation of the startup;
   - condition precedents to completion of transaction or conditions subsequent to be completed within the agreed time frame after the completion date;
   - sets of representation and warranties and indemnification resulting from due-diligence exercise or otherwise, etc.

(c) Thereafter, the contracting parties may enter into a Shareholders’ Agreement providing for the following:
   - Nomination/representation rights on the board of investee;
   - Information and reporting right and disclosure obligation of investee to the investors;
   - Redemption rights on debenture or preference shares;
   - Pre-emption rights, Right of First Refusal or Right of First Offer, Tag Along Right, Drag Along Rights, Lock-in-period for the investor or promoter’s holding, put and call options, affirmative vote rights on certain reserved matters, anti-dilution provisions;
• Exit options to investors after the lock-in-period; etc.

(d) Issuance of Securities through Private Placement process;

(e) Filing of necessary eForms with ROC for completing the process of issuance and allotment of securities.

(f) Amendment of AOA as per Shareholders’ Agreement;

(g) Completion of Condition Subsequents;

2. Angel Investors

Angel investors are usually individuals or a group of industry professionals who are willing to fund the venture in return for an equity stake. Under the SEBI (Alternative Investment Funds) Regulations, 2012 which was subsequently amended in 2013, SEBI has made the following restrictions applicable to angel funds investing in an Indian company:

a. An investee company has to be within 3 years of its incorporation, not listed on the floor of a stock exchange, and should have a turnover of less than INR 250 million and not be promoted by or related to an industrial group (with group turnover exceeding INR 3 billion).

b. The deal size is required to be between INR 5 million and INR 50 million. Separately, it is required that an investment shall be held for a period of at least 3 years.

(iii) Bridge Round

(iv) Series Funding

After Seed Funding Round or Angel Funding Round and Bridge Funding Round, Series Funding Round will start like Series A to Z. Series preferred stock is the first round of stock offered during the seed or early stage round by a portfolio company to the venture capital investor. Series preferred stock is often convertible into common stock in certain cases such as an Initial public offering (IPO) or the sale of the company.

Series rounds are traditionally a critical stage in the funding of new companies. A typical series A round is in the range of $2 million to $10 million, purchasing 10% to 30% of the company. The capital raised during a series round is usually intended to capitalize the company for 6 months to 2 years as it develops its products, performs initial marketing and branding, hires its initial employees, and otherwise undertakes early stage business operations:

Sources of capital

Because there are no public exchanges listing their securities, private companies meet venture capital firms and other private equity investors in several ways, including warm referrals from the investors’ trusted sources and other business contacts; investor conferences and demo days where companies pitch directly to investor groups. As equity crowd funding becomes more established, startups are increasingly raising part of their Series round online using platforms such as Onevest or Seed Invest in the USA and Seedrs in the UK, VC-Circle, Private Circle, Lets Venture and Tracxn Labs, etc. in India. These blended rounds include a mix of angel investors, strategic investors and customers alongside the offline venture capital investors.

Structure

Smaller investment amounts are usually not worth the legal and financial expense, the burden on a company of adjusting its capital structure to serve new investors, and the analysis and due diligence on the part of institutional investors. A company that needs money for operations but is not yet ready for venture capital will typically seek angel capital. Larger amounts are usually unwarranted given the cost of business in fields such as software, data services, telecommunications, and so on. However, there are routinely series A rounds in excess of $10 million in fields such as pharmaceuticals, semiconductors, and real estate development.
Things to Know When Raising a ‘Series A Round’:

If a startup is looking to raise a Series A, it might be a good idea to get familiar with what venture funds looks for to ascertain if your company is Series A ready.

Most startups, even those who gets angel funding or seed-stage funding or investments from accelerators/incubators, are unable to get follow-on funding. Why is Series-A funding so elusive?

The first time that a startup raises capital is normally called a ‘seed round’. Other names include angel round or HNI round. Some even call it a pre-Series A round, but this term usually refers to a small interim fundraising exercise between the seed round and Series A.

1. Be Series A Ready

If you are looking to raise a Series A, it might be a good idea to get familiar with what venture funds looks for to ascertain if your company is Series A ready. Promising unit economics, revenue, proof of business model, systems ready to support efficient scaling, product/market fit, customer acquisition strategy and success, quality of team are some key factors that are taken generally taken into consideration and it is wise to evaluate where you company stands against these metrics to figure if you are ready for Series A.

2. Start Early

Fundraising in the current environment is a time consuming process - be realistic about the timeframe. Make sure you start the process at least 7-8 months prior to when you want to raise a Series A financing. The deal process has two parts, pre-termsheet and post-termsheet. Underestimating the time required inevitably leads to desperation and will often need to alter your funding strategy to include diverting attention to raise a bridge round to sustain the business.

3. Leverage Your Network

Seed funding is more plentiful and easier to raise as compared to Series A. Leveraging your network and building genuine relationships before you start your Series A fundraise will make it easier for you to get potential meetings with investors. Reach out to your extended network and request them to reach out to their connections. These second degree network have powerful and favourable outcomes. Spreading word about your business through your network or through PR/marketing initiatives is always helpful.

4. Practice your “Pitch”

The key is to take as many meetings as possible. Speak to other founders who have successfully raised Series A and take their inputs for your pitch. Meet the low priority investors on your list first - they will ask you relevant question and provide you valuable feedback which you should incorporate in your pitch before meeting the top priority investors on your list. Treat the pitch a product – iterate on it until it is great.

5. Create a Fundraise Momentum

Approaching multiple venture funds at the same time is a good idea to get a competitive dynamic into the process. Try keeping your conversations with interested investors moving along at as close to the same pace as possible. This may not be easy but is if you manage to orchestrate well, you may be able to negotiate from a high bargaining power that generally leads to better valuation and deal terms. Nothing accelerates the process and you landing up a termsheet from one VC – you are likely to get few more.

6. Know the “standard market practice”

Keep yourself up to date with the commonly offered deal terms for a Series A. It is highly possible that the first version of your termsheet you receive is not exactly “founder-friendly”. The strongest line of defence and the most accepted rationale for negotiating such terms is that they are not standard market practice.
7. Get the deal terms right

It is imperative that you ensure that the deal terms for your Series A are right and consistent with the trajectory of your business. The Series A terms will play as a foundation for all future rounds - many of those same terms that you have signed up for in your Series A are likely to carry through to future rounds i.e Series B or Series C – hence important to get them the right the first time itself.

8. Engage a Company Secretary

If you’re raising venture capital — you need a lawyer who specializes in structuring venture capital financing. A lawyer who has done multiple such deals understands the nuances involved in structuring such rounds both from the perspective of which deal terms are important, what the “standard market practice” is and when to stay firm and when to concede to the investor. This will aid you to close your investment documents faster and more efficiently.

9. Paperwork in place

Shorten your transaction closing time by having all paper work in place for due diligence. Ensure that your company’s legal documentation and compliance is up to date and have your team put together all records relating to employees, past financing, corporate structure and establishment, client contracts, intellectual property, cap table, etc. The paperwork should be organized and ready for review by the Investor appointed legal counsel/diligence team.

10 Raise 10-15% more than budgeted for:

Within reason, if you have access to capital and the deal terms including dilution are decent, raise 10-15% more than budgeted as the business initiatives/operations don’t always materialise as planned. Raise enough to allow you a fair shot to meet your milestones for the next round of financing so that you can channel all your focus on building the business and scaling it in the right direction. Raising every round of funding post Series A becomes significantly difficult and therefore is time consuming process and highly distracting. Additionally, there is a transaction cost every time you close an additional round.

B. Debt Financing

i. Loan from Banks & NBFCs

Loans from banks and NBFCs help finance the purchase of inventory and equipment, besides securing operating capital and funds for expansion. More importantly, unlike a VC or angels, which have an equity stake, banks do not seek ownership in your venture. However, there are several drawbacks of such funding option. Not only do you pay interest on loan but it also has to be done on time irrespective of how your business is faring. They require substantial collateral and a good track record, besides the fulfilment of other terms and conditions and a lot of documentation as follows:

a. Application for loan sanction by borrowers;

b. Issue of sanction letter by the Bank;

c. Agreement of Loan;

d. Security/collateral documentation, such as (i) Deed of Mortgage; (ii) Deed of Hypothecation; (iii) Deed of guarantee; (iv) Share pledge agreement; (v) Memorandum of Entry; etc.

ii. External Commercial Borrowings:

External Commercial Borrowings (ECB) in form of bank loans, buyers’ credit, suppliers’ credit, securitized instruments (e.g. non-convertible, optionally convertible or partially convertible preference shares, floating rate notes and fixed rate bonds) can also be availed from non-resident lenders to fund the business requirement of a company. ECB can be accessed under two routes, viz., (i) Automatic Route; and (ii) Approval Route depending upon the category of eligible borrower and recognized lender, amount of ECB availed, average maturity period and other applicable factors.

ECB raised has also certain end use restrictions such as that it cannot be used for (a) on lending or investment in capital market; (b) acquiring a company in India; (c) real estate sector etc. Under ECB also the borrower needs to create certain charge on immovable assets, movable assets, financial securities and issue of corporate and / or personal guarantees in favour of overseas lender / security trustee, to secure the ECB raised by the borrower, subject to compliance of certain conditions as prescribed under ECB guidelines framed by Reserve Bank of India. The documentation on similar lines as mentioned under bank loan section above will need to be executed.

iii. CGTMSE Loans:

Under the Credit Guarantee Trust for Micro and Small Enterprises scheme launched by Ministry of Micro, Small & Medium Enterprises (MSME), Government of India to encourage entrepreneurs, one can get loans of up to 1 crore without collateral or surety. Any new and existing micro and small enterprise can take the loan under the scheme from all scheduled commercial banks and specified Regional Rural Banks, NSIC, NEDFi, and SIDBI, which have signed an agreement with the Credit Guarantee Trust.

C. Once the startups achieve stable operations and revenue flows, it may consider an Initial Public Offering (IPO) to raise the funds or increase the magnitude of the business operations:

During the IPO, the Company raises funds by offering and issuing equity shares to the public. An IPO allows a company to tap a wide pool of stock market investors to provide it with large volumes of capital for future growth. The existing shareholding will get diluted as a proportion of the company's shares. However, existing capital investment will make the existing shareholdings more valuable in absolute terms.

Companies can also issue of American Depository Receipts (“ADRs”) or Global Depository Receipts (“GDRs”) to raise funds from international stock investors. The promoter has certain obligations such as (a) meeting minimum contribution requirements; and (b) is generally subject to a 3 year lock-in once the IPO is concluded.

Various parties such as investment bankers, underwriters and lawyers need to be engaged as part of the procedure of IPO.

D. Unconventional modes of financing options which are now becoming popular in India:

i. Crowd Funding

This is recent phenomena being practiced for getting seed funding through small amounts collected from a large number of people (crowd), usually through the Internet. Now we have companies existing in India which are specializing in “Crowd Funding”.

The entrepreneur can get money for his venture by showcasing his idea before a large group of people and trying to convince people of its utility and success.

The entrepreneur needs to put up on a portal his profile and presentation, which should include the business idea, its impact, and the rewards and returns for investors. It should be supported by suitable images and videos of the project.

SEBI in 2014, even rolled out a ‘Consultation Paper on Crowd funding in India’ proposing a framework in the form of Crowd funding to allow startups and SMEs to raise early stage capital in relatively small sums from a broad investor base. The Consultation Paper defined Crowd funding as solicitation of funds (small amount) from multiple investors through a web-based platform or social networking site for a specific project, business venture or social cause. However SEBI not issued any further regulations in this regard.
ii. Incubators

These set-ups precede the seed funding stage and help the entrepreneur develop a business idea or make a prototype by providing resources and services in exchange for an equity stake ranging from 2-10%. Incubators offer office space, administrative support, legal compliances, management training, mentoring and access to industry experts as well as to funding through angel investors or VCs. These are usually government-supported institutes like the IIMs or IITs, technical institutes or private business incubators run by industry veterans or companies. The incubation period can be 2-3 years and admission is rigorous. Some of the top options in India include IIM-Bangalore NSRCEL, Microsoft Accelerator and IIT-Kanpur, SIIC and the Sriram College of Commerce (SRCC).

MUDRA BANKS

Micro Units Development and Refinance Agency Bank (or MUDRA Bank) is a public sector financial institution in India. It provides loans at low rates to micro-finance institutions and non-banking financial institutions which then provide credit to MSMEs. It was launched by Prime Minister Narendra Modi on 8 April 2015.

It will provide its services to small entrepreneurs outside the service area of regular banks, by using last mile agents. About 5.77 crore (57.6 million) small businesses have been identified as target clients using the NSSO survey of 2013. Only 4% of these businesses get finance from regular banks. The bank will also ensure that its clients do not fall into indebtedness and will lend responsibly.

The bank will classify its clients into three categories and the maximum allowed loan sums will be based on the category:

- Shishu: Allowed loans up to Rs.50,000 (US$780)

At the most, borrower can buy vehicle from mudra loan, given that it is used for commercial purposes. Lastly, this loan is for new business and is only applicable for small business owners.

Procedure for loan

Once the beneficiary identifies an idea and comes up with a business plan, he is supposed to select the business category under which he wishes to avail the loan (Shishu, Kishor or Tarun).

The beneficiary can contact the nearest Public/Private sector bank where he/she can apply for business loan under PMMY. The list of institutions partnering in the MUDRA initiative is available on the MUDRA portal.

An application form under this scheme will be available with each of the above listed institutions. This application form has to be submitted along with the following documents for the approval of the loan:

- Proof of Identity (Self attested Voter ID/Driving License/PAN Card/Aadhaar Card/Passport/any other Photo ID issued by Government)

The Banks are not supposed to take any processing fee and are not supposed to ask for any collateral. The repayment period is also extended to 5 years. But it is also made clear that the applicant should not be a defaulter to any Bank or financial institution.

MUDRA Bank is not a separate bank (like SBI etc). It is a government financing scheme to provide business loan to new small businesses in India. To get business loan under PPMY the candidate has to contact the nearest Public/ Private sector bank. MUDRA will be operating as a refinancing institution through State / Regional level intermediaries.

MUDRA's delivery channel is conceived to be through the route of refinance primarily to NBFCs / MFIs, besides other intermediaries including Banks, Primary Lending Institutions etc. The rate of interest will be fixed by the institutions time to time based on guidelines from the RBI.

MUDRA Card

After the loan has been sanctioned under MUDRA Yojana, the candidate will get a MUDRA Card, a card like the credit card which the candidate can use to buy business raw material, etc. Mudra Card will have a limit of 10% of the business loan (subject to Rs. 10,000 maximum).

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

A Joint Venture (JV) is generally short lived for conducting specific business activities. It is a business agreement in which the parties agree to develop, for a finite time, a new entity and new assets by contributing equity. A Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) is formed for a specific purpose.

In this Chapter, we shall examine the Joint Venture and Special Purpose Vehicle, their advantages and disadvantages, their characteristics and the process for registering these entities.
A simply dictionary meaning of the word ‘Joint Venture’ is a commercial enterprise undertaken jointly by two or more parties which otherwise retain their distinct identities.

It is an entity formed between two or more parties to undertake economic activity together. The parties agree to create a new entity to share in the revenues, expenses, and control of the enterprise. Joint Ventures are generally created for a single activity or project, and may have a limited time span. The use of a separate entity allows the parties to limit the liabilities associated with the relationship.

In India till recently, almost all equity based ventures were structured in the form of a company. However, with the government permitting foreign investment in Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Firms, there is significant interest in LLP firms.

Definition

Joint ventures can be defined as “an enterprise in which two or more investors share ownership and control over property rights and operation”. The venture can be for one specific project only, or a continuing business relationship. Entering into a joint venture is a major decision. Businesses of any size can use joint ventures to strengthen long-term relationships or to collaborate on short-term projects.

Alternatively, we can define a joint venture is an association of two or more individuals or business entities who combine and pool their respective expertise, financial resources, skills, experience, and knowledge in the furtherance of a particular project or undertaking.

Joint Venture commonly referred to as a “JV”, are typically formed either by individuals, business entities, corporations or partnerships. The contributions to the joint ventures are either in the form of money [capital], services, or physical asset(s), i.e. equipment or intellectual property [software, patents], etc., or a combination of all. Business entities, who do not individually have the capacity, in terms of resources finances and technical know-how etc. can benefit with by forming Joint Venture for pooling of resources, sharing technical know-how and exploring larger markets for their goods and services.

JVs are also common in the manufacturing, mining, and service industries. A JV may be formed to conduct research and development work on a new product or technical application, to manufacture or produce various products, to market and distribute products and services in a specified geographic area, or to perform a combination of these functions.
Examples of Joint Venture Companies in India are Indian Oil Skytanking Ltd. (between Holders - Ruchi Soya and Indian Oil), Ratagiri Gas & Power Private Limited (between NTPC Ltd and GAIL India Ltd.), Mahanagar Gas Ltd. (BG Group of U.K. and GAIL India Ltd.) and Petronet LNG Ltd. (between PSU’s, namely, BPCL, GAIL India Ltd., ONGC and IOCL).

MNC’s in different forms including Joint Ventures

FDI – International Markets
Advantages of forming Joint Venture:

Various advantages of forming Joint Venture are as follows:

(i) Risk Sharing: Risk sharing is one of the biggest advantage of forming a Joint Venture, particularly, in those industries where the cost of product development and likelihood of failure of any particular product is very high.

(ii) Economies of Scale: Another advantage of forming JV is for the industries which has high fixed costs, a JV with a larger company can provide the economies of scale necessary to compete locally or globally and can be an effective way by which two companies can pool resources and achieve critical mass.

(iii) Market Access: For companies that lack a basic understanding of customers and the relationship/infrastructure to distribute their products to customers, forming a JV with the right partner can provide instant access to established, efficient and effective distribution channels and receptive customer bases. This is important to a company because creating new distribution channels and identifying new customer bases can be extremely difficult, time consuming and expensive activities.

(iv) Exploring the Global Market: Formation of JV can be advantageous to those companies, which are foreseeing an attractive business opportunity in a foreign market. Partnering with foreign company would provide an ease to that Company for penetrating a foreign market, which can otherwise be difficult both because of a lack of experience in such market and local barriers to foreign-owned or foreign-controlled companies.

(v) Easy acquisition of other entity or business: When a company wants to acquire another, but cannot due to cost, size, or geographical restrictions or legal barriers, teaming up with a JV Partner can be an attractive option. The JV is substantially less costly and thus less risky than complete acquisitions, and is sometimes used as a first step to a complete acquisition with the JV Partner. Such an arrangement allows the purchaser the flexibility to cut its losses if the investment proves less fruitful than anticipated.

(vi) Cost Efficiency: For a small-scale company/entity, sometimes it is difficult to set up the infrastructure and the machinery required product development. In the moment of need, joint venture is the perfect solution. For example, if a company has a plan for the perfect product, however, due to financial shortage there is not enough machinery or resources available. At such a time, if another company, which is equipped, lends a hand in the form of joint venture, by way of resource sharing and cost sharing it becomes easier to produce.

(vii) Flexible nature: The joint venture enterprises provide flexibility, each participant has the freedom to continue with their individual businesses. The joint venture participants can only interfere within the participated project. Thus, during the term of the contract participants can freely resume their business as long as they fulfil the needs mentioned in the agreement. This is one of the advantage of joint ventures.

Model Foreign Joint Venture Collaboration:

Disadvantages of Joint Venture:

Disadvantages of forming Joint Venture are as follows:

(i) Restricted flexibility where full concentration is required for JV Project:

Flexibility is important however, some projects require full concentration and thus the simultaneous work may become impossible. In times like such the participants need to focus on the product of the joint venture and the individual businesses suffer in the process. For example, company A requires technological assets thus in joint venture company B avails the facility. In the same time, if the company B requires those technical assets then he has to postpone the individual project for the time being.

(ii) Lack of equal involvement: An equal involvement from all the Joint Venture partners may not be possible. It is extremely unlikely for all the companies working together to share the same involvement and responsibilities.

(iii) Cultural Differences: Different cultures and management styles may result in poor co-operation and integration. People with different beliefs, tastes, and preferences can get in the way big time if left unchecked.

(iv) Extensive Research and planning required: Joint venture can result in a frustrating experience and ultimately a failure if it lacks adequate planning and research.

(v) Lack of clear communication: joint venture involves different companies from different horizons with different goals, there is often a severe lack of communication between partners.

(vi) Unreliable partners: Because of the separate nature of a joint venture, it is possible that the partners do not devote 100% of their attention to the project and become unreliable.

(vii) Creation of competitor: Another potential disadvantage of an IJV is the possibility of the creation of a competitor or a potential competitor in the form of one’s own joint venture partner.
Strategies of Joint Venture

Joint ventures can be very effective for growth and success of a business. If formed strategically Joint Ventures can be extremely valuable and chances of their failure can be reduced to a greater extent. Following are the strategies for forming a successful Joint Venture:

1. Identification of Prospective JV Partners
2. Reliable Partners
3. Strong JV Relationship
4. Equal Contribution
5. Written Agreement
6. Limiting Scope of JV
7. Defined Business model
8. Flexibility
9. Exit Routes

Identification of prospective Joint Venture Partner(s): The prospective partner should be strong in terms of business, technology and resources. One partner must be able to compliment the other partner specially in those areas where it lacks. For example, one entity’s strength is economies of scale and another entity’s strength is strong marketing and their brand value. Both the entities if formed into JV can compliment each other and they can have a larger market for their products.

(a) Joint Venture Partner should never be weak or untrustworthy partner, as it would definitely lead to failure of the joint venture. On the other hand, JV with strong and trustworthy partner would generate enormous benefits for both the partners and Joint Venture entity.

(b) Development of Strong Joint Venture Relationship: Partners must strive to develop joint venture relationships that are easy to maintain, financially profitable, intellectually rewarding, and long-lasting. After a necessary period of negotiation and implementation, the Joint Venture relationship should grow well and quickly and painlessly.

(c) Equal Contribution: Joint Venture Partners must make sure that all the partners have equal contribution in the Joint Venture entity in terms of skills, intellectual resources, marketing resources, capital, and so on. Unbalanced or unequal contributions are never healthy for the success of a Joint Venture entity.

(d) Written Agreement: The agreement between two or more parties always be written and must clearly define all the terms, relates to rights and responsibilities of each partner. The language of the agreement must be simple and there should be no ambiguity, also there should be no clashing of interest.

(e) Limiting the scope of Joint Venture: It is essential that limits and scope of the venture should be defined in the beginning itself. At a later stage, once the trust amongst the partners is developed, the scope of Joint Venture can be increased with the mutual consent of all the partners.

(f) Well defined business model: The firms in a JV must clearly define the nature of the new venture including the proposition to the customer, the channels and relationship management, the value chain, the structure and roles, investments, income, costs and payments, success factors and the timetable for delivery. A well-defined business model provides a base for the legal and financial frameworks.

(g) Flexibility: The partners in JV should try to be flexible and favour partners who demonstrate the same level of flexibility.

(h) Establishment of Exit Routes: JV Partners much establish clear protocols in the beginning itself for amending or unwinding the relation if it fails to meet the expectations or in case there arises any dispute.

FORMATION OF JOINT VENTURES

Joint Ventures can be formed via two modes / methods:

1. Equity Joint Venture
2. Contractual Joint Venture

(1) Equity Joint Venture

The equity joint venture is an arrangement whereby a separate legal entity is created in accordance with the agreement of two or more parties.

The parties undertake to provide money or other resources as their contribution to the assets or other capital of that legal entity. The entity is generally established as a limited liability company and is distinct from either of the parties which participate in its creation.

The newly created company, thus, becomes the owner of the resources contributed by the parties to the joint venture arrangement. Each of the parties in turn becomes the owner of the company having equity in the company.

The parties to a joint venture agreement agree on purposes and functions of the newly created entity, the proportion of capital contribution by each party and the share of each party in the profits of the company and on other matters such as its management, operation, duration and termination.

Generally speaking in an equity based joint venture, the profits and losses of the jointly owned entity are distributed among the parties according to the ratio of the capital contributions made by them. However, the division of profits and losses is not the only characteristic of an equity-based joint venture. The key characteristics of equity-based joint ventures are as following:

a. There is an agreement to either create a new entity or for one of the parties to join into ownership of an existing entity
b. Shared Ownership by the parties involved
c. Shared management of the jointly owned entity
d. Shared responsibilities regarding capital investment and other financing arrangements.
e. Shared profits and losses according to the Agreement.
Circumstances indicating SPV:

All the above five characteristics need not be fulfilled in every equity based joint venture. For example, one of the parties to the agreement may be providing investment but have no say in the management of the Joint Venture.

Again, a foreign company may want to exercise management control even though it is not investing in the JV company. Typically, if a foreign company is providing technology and other knowledge-based inputs, it may want to ensure that the JV company is managed as per its directions. In such cases, the foreign company may retain an option to invest in the JV Company on a later date. This may be done by a foreign company to create a foothold for itself in a sector where Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) is not allowed.

(2) Contractual Joint Venture

The contractual joint venture might be used where the establishment of a separate legal entity is not needed or the creation of such a separate legal entity is not feasible in view of one or the other reasons. The two parties do not share ownership of the business entity but each of the two parties exercises some elements of control in the joint venture.

The contractual joint venture agreement can be entered into in situations where the project involves a narrow task or a limited activity or is for a limited term or where the laws of the host country do not permit the ownership of property by foreign citizens.

For the purposes of contractual joint venture, the relationship between parties is set forth in the contract or agreement concluded between them.

The way joint venture company would carry out its operations is always based on the negotiations between the parties, the results of which reflect in the joint venture agreement entered into between the parties.

The licensing agreement, know-how agreement, technical services or technical assistance agreement, franchise agreement and agreement covering all other commercial matters might even form annexes to the main joint venture agreement. They can be signed once the joint venture company is established.

An example of a contractual joint venture is a franchisee relationship.

The key characteristics of such a relationship are:

(i) Two or more parties have a common intention – of running a business venture.
(ii) Each party will bring some inputs in the form of money or materials.
(iii) Both parties exercise some a certain degree of control on the venture.
(iv) The relationship is not a transaction to transaction relationship but has a character of relatively longer time duration.
The above four characteristics are the distinguishing features of a Contractual Joint Venture as opposed to an Equity based relationship.

It is important to note that a joint venture agreement, be it for the establishment of a limited liability company or not, and the different contracts must be concluded in accordance with laws and regulations applicable to such companies including tax laws concerning these companies or the laws relating to agency or partnership as well as other economic laws, in addition to laws relating to labour, sales of goods, insurance and foreign economic and trade contract.

Restrictions under FDI Policy of Government of India

Generally speaking, any non-resident entity can set up an equity based joint venture in India. However, some entities face restrictions under FDI Policy of Government of India. The restrictions are as follows:

1. Citizen or entity of Pakistan can invest only after approval of Government of India. They cannot invest in defence, space, atomic energy and sectors prohibited for foreign investment.

2. Citizen or entity of Bangladesh can invest only after approval of Government of India. However, there are no barred areas as in the case of entities from Pakistan.

3. NRI residents in Nepal and Bhutan as well as citizens of Nepal and Bhutan can invest on repatriation basis subject to investment coming in free foreign exchange (USD or EURO) through normal banking channels.

4. A Foreign Institutional Investor (FII) can invest only under the Portfolio Investment Scheme which limits the individual holding of an FII to 10% of the capital of the company and the aggregate limit for FII investment to 24% of the capital of the company. This aggregate limit of 24% can be increased to the sectoral cap / statutory ceiling, as applicable, by the Indian Company concerned through a resolution by its Board of Directors followed by a special resolution to that effect by its General Body and subject to prior intimation to Reserve Bank of India. The aggregate FII investment, in the FDI and Portfolio Investment Scheme, should be within the above caps.

5. A Foreign Venture Capital Investor (FVCI) duly registered in India may contribute up to 100% of the capital of an Indian Company under the automatic route and may also set up a domestic asset management company to manage the fund. Such investments are subject to the relevant regulations and FDI policy including sectoral caps, etc. SEBI registered FVCIs are also allowed to invest under the FDI Scheme, as non-resident entities, in other companies, subject to FDI Policy and other regulations.

Every equity based joint venture gives birth to a new entity. Government of India permits certain type of entities. Different types of entities are summed up below:

1. Company – A limited liability company is the most preferred structure for joint venture entities in India. Government also encourages investment being in the form of equity capital of a company incorporated in India. Companies in India are mainly of two types – private limited and public limited. After the coming into force of Companies Amendment Act, 2015 there is no minimum share capital prescribed either for private limited company or public limited company.

   A private limited company must have at least two shareholders, while a public limited company must have seven shareholders. The only exception to this is a one-person company. The shareholders may be foreign citizens or foreign companies. Companies Act 2013 makes it mandatory that at least one director of every company is resident of India.

2. Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Firm – LLP Firm structure is regulated in India by The Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008. Foreign investment in LLP Firms was not permitted before November 2015. Government of India has now allowed foreign investments in LLP firms subject to certain restrictions.
LLP Firms are partnership firms with limited liability of partners. An LLP Firm combines the convenience of a partnership firm with the limited liability feature earlier found only in a company. An LLP Firm needs minimum two partners. It also requires minimum two Designated Partners out of which at least one should be resident of India. The two partners can also be appointed as Designated Partners. There is no requirement of minimum capital contribution to incorporate an LLP Firm.

3. Venture Capital Fund – A duly registered Foreign Venture Capital Investor is allowed to contribute up to 100% in Indian Venture Capital Undertakings /Venture Capital Funds / other companies.

4. Trusts – A foreign company is not allowed to use Trust as a form of a joint venture entity in India. • Investment Vehicle – SEBI has introduced regulations for some funds like Real Estate Investment Trusts, Infrastructure Investment Funds, Alternative Investment Funds. Such funds are now permitted to receive foreign investment from a person resident outside India.

5. Other Entities – Foreign companies are not allowed to use any structures other than those mentioned above for the purpose of equity based joint venture entities.

To sum up, it can be concluded that the most acceptable and convenient forms of equity based joint venture in India are a limited liability company and a limited liability Partnership Firm (LLP).

LLP FIRM AS A SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLE

A Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Firm combines the simplicity of a partnership firm with the advantage of limited liability as available in the case of a company.

Before the passing of The Limited Liability Partnership Act in 2008, a foreign company intending to participate in tender or some other project in consortium with an Indian company had only the option of setting up a company (whether private or public) as a Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV). The disadvantage was that winding up such a company is difficult.

Foreign companies are not permitted to invest in partnership firms.

Moreover, consortium members do not want to be saddled with unlimited liability as is the case in a partnership firm under The Indian Partnership Act, 1932. Till November 2015, foreign companies were not allowed to invest in any form of structure except a company. Foreign Investment in some LLP firms has been allowed now.

LLP firm as an SPV between a foreign company and an Indian company has the advantage of being easy to wind up after the purpose is over and the liability of the two partner companies is limited.

Key advantages of using an LLP firm as an SPV as compared to a company are as follows:

(a) Low cost of incorporation of an LLP
(b) Flexibility of rules of management and governance based on Agreement between the contracting Partners.
(c) Partners can be companies while management is by Designated Partners who are individuals. By this, there is divorce between ownership and management.
(d) Low annual maintenance cost
(e) There may not be any necessity of getting the accounts audited before the project takes off.
(f) An LLP firm does not have to pay Dividend Distribution Tax (DDT) on share of profits transferred to the Partners, which makes it tax efficient.
(g) Voluntary winding of an LLP firm which has no creditors is very easy and can be done without intervention of any court or tribunal.
(h) Investment in LLP Firms is permitted only in sectors in which 100% FDI is permitted through automatic route without any performance linked conditions.

Documents for Joint Ventures

Finalization of a joint venture goes through many stages. The first may be called the familiarisation stage when the two partners generally attempt to know each other.

The second may be called the engagement phase when there is a level of commitment but still it is not very firm or long-term. The final stage is when broad understanding has been reached on the terms of the Joint Venture.

At each stage, the documentation is different. Generally speaking, Indian companies wish to have a Memorandum of Understanding (MOU) to define the relationship at the initial stage. The MOU is a brief document without much legal jargon. The MOU states the duties of both parties and lays down a road map for the future. During the engagement phase, a Contractual Joint Venture may be envisaged. The parties are putting in relatively higher amount of resources at this stage. Hence, it is customary to have well-drafted legally binding contracts.

The contracts are generally of a fixed duration or are related to specific events like getting an order or achieving certain sales volumes. At the concluding stage, the parties have developed higher confidence in each other. So, an equity-based joint venture is considered. The documentation for an equity Joint Venture must take into account all possibilities that may arise over a fairly long period of time.

Hence, the Joint Venture Agreement or Shareholders’ Agreement or LLP Partnership Deed must be prepared carefully to avoid any confusion even many years down the line. Generally speaking, most equity Joint Ventures in India are structured in the form of private or public limited liability companies. In a company, Articles of Association is a very important document. Companies Act, 2013 gives the promoters freedom to draft the articles as per their requirements. It is hence, advisable to devote time and attention to the Articles and not depend on a standard off-the-shelf draft, especially in case of a joint venture company where one of the partners is a foreign national /company.

Essential Features of a Shareholders’ Agreement(SHA) /Joint Venture Agreement / LLP Partnership Agreement (PA)

The SHA / PA is not a document for the government or the courts. SHA / PA is a working document and should be drafted with business essentials in focus. The key questions that an SHA / PA must address are commonsense ones that any entrepreneur is bound to ask when he / she joins hands with another entrepreneur.

Some of the key issues which must be kept in mind while drafting the SHA/PA are summarised below:

1. The business of the new company/LLP
2. Manner and extent to which resources (financial, manpower, technology, etc) will be brought in.
3. Provisions relating to allotment and transfer of shares
5. Manner in which decision making will take place (majority vote or consensus?)
6. Decision regarding the Chairman and Managing Director of the entity; their rights, duties and responsibilities.
7. Persons responsible for managing finances, marketing, production, etc.
8. Dividend distribution policy
9. Term of office of the nominated directors, the manner of their appointment and changes among them.
10. Valuation of the company at the time of separation Dispute resolution mechanism. The above examples are indicative and are not exhaustive.

Essential components of a Joint Venture Agreement

In India, there is no legally prescribed format of a Joint Venture Agreement. However, in actual practice, the Agreement contains the following components (illustrative and not exhaustive):

A. Description (nature of the Agreement)

B. Parties (full description of the parties to the Agreement)

C. Recitals (states the situation as it existed prior to the execution of this Agreement; it is also used to convey the intention of the parties)

D. Operative Part (defines the rules for the future; typically consists of name and constitution of the new entity being set up, equity investments, rules relating to loans by either party, activities to be undertaken, role of each party, constitution of the Board, names of the Chairman and Managing Director and their powers, duties, etc., matters to be decided by consensus, managerial remuneration, milestones to be reached and plan of action)

E. Legal aspects:
   (i) Amendments of the JV Agreement
   (ii) Duration of the JV
   (iii) Termination
   (iv) Dispute resolution by amicable consultation and/or Arbitration mechanism/Alternate form of Dispute Resolution
   (v) Confidentiality and Non-Disclosure Agreement
   (vi) Non-compete clause.
   (vii) Indemnification
   (viii) Procedure for execution

SPECIAL PURPOSE VEHICLE (SPV)

Meaning of Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV)

A special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) or Special Purpose Entities (SPE) are generally formed for a special purpose. Scope of these kind of companies or entities are limited only to those activities which are required to be performed to attain that specific purpose. These companies/entities close their operations once the purpose is attained. The operations of these entities are limited to the acquisition and financing of specific assets. SPVs are generally a subsidiary company whose obligations are secured even if the parent company goes bankrupt.

A SPVs/SPEs may be formed through limited partnerships, trusts, corporations, limited liability corporations or other entities. An SPV/SPE may be designed for independent ownership, management and funding of a company or as protection of a project from operational or insolvency issues. SPVs help companies securitize assets, create joint ventures, isolate corporate assets or perform other financial transactions.

Thus, based on above meaning, we can conclude that a SPV is an entity which has distinct identity from its promoters or sponsors or constituents or shareholders.

To give an example, the implementation of the Mission (under the Smart Cities Mission Project of the Ministry of Housing & Urban Affairs, Government of India) at the City level will be done by a Special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) created for the purpose. The SPV will plan, appraise, approve, release funds, implement, manage, operate, monitor and evaluate the Smart City development projects. Each smart city will have a SPV which will be headed by a full time CEO and have nominees of Central Government, State Government and ULB on its Board. The SPV will be a limited company incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013 at the city-level.

Benefits of Special Purpose Vehicle

Model SPV:

(a) Ownership of Assets – An SPV allows the ownership of a single asset often by multiple parties and allows for ease of transfer between parties.

(b) Minimum Statutory Requirement – Depending on the choice of jurisdiction, it is relatively cheap and easy to set up an SPV.

(c) Clarity of documentation – It is easy to limit certain activities or to prohibit unauthorised transactions within the SPV documentation.

(d) Tax benefits – SPVs are often used to make a transaction tax efficient by choosing the most favourable tax residence for the vehicle. SPVs are method of financial engineering schemes which have as their main goal, the avoidance of tax. Some countries have different tax rates for capital gains and gains from property sales.

(e) Legal protection – By structuring the SPV appropriately, the sponsor may limit legal liability in the event that the underlying project fails.

(f) Accounting Reasons - Debts raised through SPV are not reflected in the balance sheet of the sponsor. It reflects a pleasant picture and enhances the debt raising ability of the sponsor. Losses incurred by SPV are not shown in the balance sheet of the sponsor, so it helps to maintain the healthy picture of the sponsor in the eyes of its stakeholders.

(g) The key advantage is that it helps in separating the risk and freeing up the capital. As a result, the SPV and the sponsoring company are protected against risks like insolvency, which may arise during the course of operation.

(h) The SPV also allows securitization of assets without disturbing the managerial relationship. Under the arrangement, any predictable income stream generated by secured assets can be securitized.
Purpose of Special Purpose Vehicle

The main purpose of a Special-Purpose Vehicle is to allow the parent company to make highly leveraged or speculative investments without endangering the entire company. If the SPV goes bankrupt, it will not affect the parent company. SPVs are mostly formed to raise funds from the market or when Government Regulations specify creation of a separate Vehicle for carrying out any specified activity.

SPVs are created by a parent company to implement large-scale projects and operations of an SPV are legally limited to specific assets.

SPVS are also formed by banks and financial institution for Securitisation. The total assets of banks or financial institution mainly comprise of loans and receivables along with their future cash flow to a separate entity, which may be formed for a specific purpose. The SPV is allowed to raise debt which will be backed by these receivables and their future cash flows. The difference between the incomes received from these receivables and cost of servicing that debt will be profit/earning of the SPV. By securitization through SPV the risk involved in this activity is separated from the general business of the bank.

Indirect acquisition of assets - SPVs can be used for acquiring assets indirectly for the purpose of tax saving. In this method, the sponsor takes the assets on lease from its SPV. Expenses incurred as rent, is allowed as a deduction to sponsor for income tax purpose. On the other hand, the SPV acquires the asset through raising debt, the interest on which is a deductible expense for tax purpose. This way the same asset can be used to claim deduction by both, which results in saving of tax.

Government also forms SPVs for special projects. Purpose behind formation of SPV is to get easy finance and various approvals from State and Central Government at many levels and on completion of projects, it provides easy exit route for Government.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- A simply dictionary meaning of the word ‘Joint Venture’ is a commercial enterprise undertaken jointly by two or more parties which otherwise retain their distinct identities.

- Examples of Joint Venture Companies in India are Indian Oil Skytanking Ltd. (between Holders - Ruchi Soya and Indian Oil), Ratnagiri Gas & Power Private Limited (between NTPC Ltd and GAIL India Ltd.), Mahanagar Gas Ltd. (BG Group of U.K. and GAIL India Ltd.) and Petronet LNG Ltd. (between PSU’s, namely, BPCL, GAIL India Ltd., ONGC and IOCL).

- There are various advantages of forming Joint Venture such as Risk Sharing, Economies of Scale, Market Access, Exploring the Global Market, Easy acquisition of other entity or business, Cost Efficiency, Flexible nature.

- There are disadvantages also of forming Joint Ventures as outlined in the Chapter.

- Joint ventures can be very effective for growth and success of a business. If formed strategically Joint Ventures can be extremely valuable and chances of their failure can be reduced to a greater extent. Some of the strategies are detailed in the chapter for forming a successful Jointing Venture.

- There are two modes of formation of Joint Ventures: Equity Joint Venture and Contractual Joint Venture.

- Some entities face restrictions under FDI Policy of Government of India.

- Government of India permits certain type of entities. Different types of entities are: company, Limited Liability Partnership, Venture Capital Fund, Trusts, other entities:
A Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) Firm combines the simplicity of a partnership firm with the advantage of limited liability as available in the case of a company.

Some of the key issues which must be kept in mind while drafting the Shareholders' Agreement (SHA) / Joint Venture Agreement / LLP Partnership Agreement (PA) are specified in the chapter.

A special Purpose Vehicle (SPV) or Special Purpose Entities (SPE) are generally formed for a special purpose. Scope of these kind of companies or entities are limited only to those activities which are required to be performed to attain that specific purpose.

A. STRUCTURE AND THE PROCESS INVOLVED

INTRODUCTION

The year 1991 was the golden year for Indian Economy. The foreign investment policies of the country changed and opened gates for foreign investments to enter Indian territory. This also made Indians eligible to set up business abroad or make an investment abroad as the case may be.

Prior to 1991, exports were a predominant way of expanding business abroad and hence the emphasis was on export promotion strategies with restrictions on cash outflows so as to conserve our foreign exchange reserves.

Till 1991, India’s economic integration with the rest of the world was very limited. Business houses across industries realised that for expansion and growth of Indian companies, it is necessary that they increase their share in the world market not only by exporting their products but also by acquiring overseas assets and establishing their presence abroad. This meant that business had to be set up outside India in order to ensure their presence in the concerned markets. This requirement, paved the way to formulate regulations to make investments abroad. Accordingly, the policy for outward capital flows has evolved.

The policy on Indian investments overseas was first liberalised in 1992. Under this policy, an Automatic Route for overseas investments was introduced and cash remittances were allowed for the first time with restrictions on the total value. The basic intent for opening up the regime of Indian investments overseas had been the need to provide Indian industry access to new markets and technologies with a view to increase their competitiveness globally and help the country’s export efforts.

The introduction of FEMA (Foreign Exchange Management Act) in the year 2000 changed the entire perspective on foreign exchange particularly those relating to investment abroad. This new change brought in more of management of Foreign Exchange and not “Regulation” unlike the earlier Act. This Act made sweeping changes in relaxing the norms for most of the policies including the overseas investments. It aimed to facilitate external trade and payments as well as to promote an orderly development and maintenance of foreign exchange market in India.

According to the Reserve Bank of India, Overseas Direct Investment means investments, either under the Automatic Route or the Approval Route, by way of contribution to the capital or subscription to the Memorandum of a foreign entity or by way of purchase of existing shares of a foreign entity either by market purchase or private placement or through stock exchange, signifying a long-term interest in the foreign entity (JV or WOS). This is different from portfolio investment

Some of the major overseas investments by Indian companies are:

- Indian conglomerate, Reliance Industries Ltd (RIL), is going to invest US$ 25 million in Israel-based Jerusalem Innovation Incubator (JII), which will focus on start-ups working in the field of big data, analytics, Internet of Things and other similar areas.

- Adani Enterprises Ltd has announced the final approval of the company’s board to proceed with the US$ 16.5 billion worth Carmichael mine and rail projects in Central Queensland, Australia, which would be one of the largest single infrastructure and job creating developments in Australia’s recent history.

- Intas Pharma has announced purchase of two companies in UK and Ireland, Actavis UK Ltd and Actavis Ireland Ltd, from Israeli pharma major Teva Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd, for an enterprise value of GBP 600 million (US$ 754.14 million).

- India-focused private equity firm Everstone Group, through its Singapore arm Everise Services, has agreed to buy C3, a US-based global CRM solutions provider, for an estimated deal value of US$ 150 million.
• India’s third largest software services firm Wipro will be spending US$ 500 million to acquire US-based cloud services firm Appirio.

• Adani Enterprises has announced plan to develop 1,000 megawatt (MW) of solar power projects in Australia over the next five years.

• Sun Pharmaceutical Industries Ltd, India’s largest drug maker, has entered into an agreement with Switzerland-based Novartis AG, to acquire the latter’s branded cancer drug Odomzo for around US$ 175 million.

• WNS Global Services, the Mumbai-based business process management company, has announced its plans of acquiring Denali Sourcing Services, a US-based business process outsourcing company, for US$ 40 million.

• Aurobindo Pharma has bought Portugal based Generis Farmaceutica SA, a generic drug company, for EUR 135 million (US$ 146.67 million).

• Motherson Sumi Systems Ltd, an automobile components manufacturer, has acquired Finland-based truck wire maker PKC Group Plc for EUR 571 million (US$ 620.36 million).

This Chapter discusses the regulatory basis of the structure and process involved as follows:

A.1 FOREIGN EXCHANGE MANAGEMENT ACT, 1999

Section 6 of the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 provides powers to the Reserve Bank to specify, in consultation with the Government of India, the classes of permissible capital account transactions and limits up to which foreign exchange is admissible for such transactions. Section 6(3) of the aforesaid Act provides powers to the Reserve Bank to prohibit, restrict or regulate various transactions referred to in the sub-clauses of that sub-section, by making Regulations.

In exercise of the above powers conferred under the Act, the Reserve Bank has in supersession of the earlier Notification No.FEMA19/RB-2000 dated 3rd May 2000 and subsequent amendments thereto, issued Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer or Issue of any Foreign Security) Regulations, 2004 vide Notification No. FEMA.120/RB-2004 dated July 7, 2004. The Notification seeks to regulate acquisition and transfer of a foreign security by a person resident in India i.e.

• investment (or financial commitment) by Indian entities in overseas joint ventures and wholly owned subsidiaries as also investment by a person resident in India in shares and securities issued outside India.

• Overseas Investment (or financial commitment) can be made under two routes viz. (i) Automatic Route and (ii) Approval Route
A.2 ELIGIBILITY (ENTITIES ARE REFERRED TO AS “INDIAN PARTY”)

Legal Entities permitted to make investments:

- company incorporated in India or a body created under an Act of Parliament
- Limited Liability Partnership (LLP), registered under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008
- partnership firm registered under the Indian Partnership Act, 1932,
- any other entity in India as may be notified by the Reserve Bank.

A.3 PROHIBITIONS

(a) Indian Parties are prohibited from making investment (or financial commitment) in a foreign entity engaged in real estate (meaning buying and selling of real estate or trading in Transferable Development Rights (TDRs) but does not include development of townships, construction of residential/commercial premises, roads or bridges) or banking business, without the prior approval of the Reserve Bank.

(b) An overseas entity, having direct or indirect equity participation by an Indian Party, shall not offer financial products linked to Indian Rupee (e.g. non-deliverable trades involving foreign currency, rupee exchange rates, stock indices linked to Indian market, etc.) without the specific approval of the Reserve Bank. Any incidence of such product facilitation would be treated as a contravention of the extant FEMA regulations and would consequently attract action under the relevant provisions of FEMA, 1999.

A.4 AUTOMATIC ROUTE

(1) In terms of Regulation 6 of the Notification No. FEMA 120/RB-2004 dated July 7, 2004, as amended from time to time, an Indian Party has been permitted to make investment / undertake financial commitment in overseas Joint Ventures (JV) / Wholly Owned Subsidiaries (WOS), as per the ceiling prescribed by the Reserve Bank from time to time.

With effect from July 03, 2014, any financial commitment (FC) upto USD 1 (one) billion shall only come under the automatic approval. The eligible limit of investment under the automatic route is 400% of the net worth of the Indian Party as per the last audited balance sheet.

It has been decided that any financial commitment (FC) exceeding USD 1 (one) billion (or its equivalent) in a financial year would require prior approval of the Reserve Bank even when the total FC of the Indian Party is within the eligible limit under the automatic route (i.e., within 400% of the net worth as per the last audited balance sheet).

(2) For the purpose of making investment / undertaking financial commitment in overseas Joint Ventures (JV)/Wholly Owned Subsidiaries (WOS), the Indian Party should approach an Authorised Dealer Category - I bank with an application in Form ODI (Master Document on Reporting) and prescribed enclosures / documents for effecting such remittances.

(3) The investments/financial commitments are subject to the following conditions:

(a) The Indian Party/entity may extend loan/guarantee only to an overseas JV/WOS in which it has equity participation. Proposals from the Indian Party for undertaking financial commitment without equity contribution in JV/WOS may be considered by the Reserve Bank under the approval route. AD banks may forward the proposals from their constituents after ensuring that the laws of the host country permit incorporation of a company without equity participation by the Indian Party.

Indian entities may offer any form of guarantee - corporate or personal (including the personal guarantee by the indirect resident individual promoters of the Indian Party)/primary or collateral / guarantee by the promoter company / guarantee by group company, sister concern or associate company in India.
(b) The Indian Party should not be on the Reserve Bank’s Exporters’ caution list / list of defaulters to the banking system circulated by the Reserve Bank / Credit Information Bureau (India) Ltd. (CIBIL) / or any other credit information company as approved by the Reserve Bank or under investigation by any investigation / enforcement agency or regulatory body.

(c) All transactions relating to a JV / WOS should be routed through one branch of an Authorised Dealer bank to be designated by the Indian Party.

(d) In case of partial / full acquisition of an existing foreign company, where the investment is more than USD 5 million, valuation of the shares of the company shall be made by a Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI or an Investment Banker / Merchant Banker outside India registered with the appropriate regulatory authority in the host country; and, in all other cases by a Chartered Accountant or a Certified Public Accountant.

(e) In cases of investment by way of swap of shares, irrespective of the amount, valuation of the shares will have to be made by a Category I Merchant Banker registered with SEBI or an Investment Banker outside India registered with the appropriate regulatory authority in the host country.

(f) In case of investment in overseas JV / WOS abroad by a registered Partnership firm, where the entire funding for such investment is done by the firm, it will be in order for individual partners to hold shares for and on behalf of the firm in the overseas JV / WOS if the host country regulations or operational requirements warrant such holdings.

(g) An Indian Party may acquire shares of a foreign company engaged in a bonafide business activity, in exchange of ADRs/GDRs issued to the latter in accordance with the Scheme for issue of Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds and Ordinary Shares (through Depository Receipt Mechanism) Scheme, 1993, and the guidelines issued thereunder from time to time by the Government of India.

A.5 METHOD OF FUNDING

(1) Investment (or financial commitment) in an overseas JV / WOS may be funded out of one or more of the following sources:

B.3 Political Aspects
- Friendly country, MFN status
- Long-standing and established legislative precedents with companies going through regulatory recourse

CONVERSION OF LLP INTO COMPANY

Several businesses started in India as Limited Liability Partnership (LLP), may now wish to convert into a private limited company for more growth in business or for infusing equity capital. An LLP can be converted into Corporatization is the need of the hour. The entire world is gradually drifting towards one global market without any trade barriers between the countries. With the emergence of corporate work culture and promotional startup benefits, a great chunk of entrepreneurs are looking forward to corporatization. This step can be initiated in 2 ways as enumerated below:

(i) Incorporation of a new corporate entity.

(ii) Conversion of existing entity (e.g. LLP/ Partnership Firm) into a Company.

The 2nd option of conversion of Limited Liability Partnership into a corporate entity might be practical for the existing entities to switch over from one mode of business to another. The process of conversion is a step by step procedure, which is a technical process but if handled with expert knowledge may be time and cost saving, as well.

There were no provisions under Companies act, 2013 regarding Conversion of Limited Liability Partnership into Company. Ministry of Corporate Affairs has passed a notification on 31st May, 2016 in such notification its allowed conversion of LLP into Company. These rules called as "the Companies Authorized to register Amendment Rules, 2016.

However, there are various requirements which need to be satisfied for converting an LLP into a Private Limited Company, for instance, an LLP must have at least 7 partners (however as per Companies Amendment Act, 2017 LLP with 2 partners can be convert into Company), approval from all the partners is required, advertisement in newspaper is to be done in a local and a national newspaper, a No Objection Certificate (NOC) is required from the ROC where such LLP is registered and then all the incorporation process has to be undertaken which includes:

Process for Conversion

Approval of name

Hold a meeting of the partners to take assent of majority of its members summoned for the purpose of registering the LLP under Section 366 of the Companies Act, 2013. To authorize one or more partners to take all steps necessary and to execute all papers, deeds, documents etc. pursuant to registration of the LLP as a Company.

LLP Have to apply for Avaibility of the Name in INC-1. One of the major advantages is that the business can be run under the same name as that of the LLP except that in addition to the name of the LLP the words 'limited' or 'private limited' has to be added. The name once accepted by the authority will be valid for 60 days.

Securing DSC and DIN

In case all 7 members, who are future directors of the company after conversion, do not have the Digital Signature Certificate (DSC) and Director Identification Number (DIN) for all the future directors of the company must be obtained. For obtaining the DIN, an application form must be filed on MCA portal. DIN application is processed & approved by central government via the office of regional director, the ministry of corporate affairs. The form must be accompanied by self-attested address proof and identity proof with 1 recent passport size color photo of the applicant. All the required documents should be attested by a practicing cost accountant or a practicing chartered accountant or a practicing company secretary.

Filing form no. URC – 1

After getting the approval of name from Registrar of Companies, the applicant must prepare & file the form No URC-1 in addition to the following documents.
• List of the members with various details viz. names, address, shares held by them appropriately, etc.

• List of the first directors of the private company with various details viz. names, address, the DIN, passport number with an expiry date, etc.

• An affidavit from every person proposed as first directors, that he is not banned to be a director under section-164 and all the necessary documents filed with the registrar for the registration of firm must contain information which is complete and correct & true to be best of his belief and knowledge.

• A list including the names & addresses of partners of LLP and a copy of LLP agreement & certificate of registration duly verified by two designated partners of LLP must be enclosed.

• A statement indicating the following specifications
  • the nominal share capital of firm & the number of shares into which it is separated
  • the number of shares taken & the amount paid for every share
  • the name of the firm, with the addition of word Limited or private limited is required.

• A written consent or No objection certificate from all creditors.

• Copy of newspaper advertisement, statement of accounts of the company which must not be 6 days preceding the date of the application and it must be duly certified by the auditor.

Memorandum of Association & Articles of Association

Memorandum of Association (MoA) & Articles of Association (AoA) is to be formulated and then filed with RoC after getting the name approval and sanction of form no. URC-1 – from the registrar.

E-form INC-32 (SPICE)

Company required to file e-form INC-32 (SPICE) along with URC-1 as linked form with all the attachment as required in normal Incorporation of Company like:

(i) MOA & AOA

(ii) INC-9

(iii) INC8

(iv) DIR-2 etc.

The conversion process provides certain tax benefits, however for availing the same several additional requirements needs to be met, for instance, maintaining the same shareholding by the partners as was in the previous LLP when the conversion takes place, for five years from conversion the former partners of such LLP who are now shareholders in the newly formed company cannot in total have shareholding less than 50 percent.

There is another option available for the LLP which is to establish a separate private limited company and after that get the whole business transferred to the private company with the help of a written agreement, in such case the restrictions mentioned above such as need for minimum 7 partners, newspaper publication, etc. are not needed to be met. However, in this situation, there is a levy of capital gain tax. Moreover, stamp duty implication is also applicable to such transfer.

CONVERSION OF ONE PERSON COMPANY TO PRIVATE COMPANY

The conversion of an OPC- One Person Company into Private Limited Company as per Section 18 of the Companies Act, 2013 and the provisions of Companies (Incorporation) Rules of 2014 should be discharged by a newly formed Private Limited Company. These rules will not affect the existing debts, liabilities, obligations or contracts of the OPC. There are two ways of converting an OPC into a private limited company either voluntarily or mandatorily.

Two Types of Conversion

For converting an OPC into Private Limited Company, the provisions laid down in the Section-18 of the Companies Act 2013, and the Companies (Incorporation) Rules of 2014, in particular the Rule 7(4) of the Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014, needs to be followed for both the conditions; voluntarily and under compulsion.

Voluntary Conversion

Voluntary conversion into a private limited company is not permitted unless two years is expired from the date of incorporation of the OPC. Though, if the paid-up share capital exceeds rupees 50 lakhs or if its average turnovers exceed INR 2 crores then within two months, the OPC could convert into a private limited company.

Alteration of Memorandum and Articles The OPC shall alter its memorandum and articles by passing resolutions to give effect to the conversion and to make necessary changes thereto.

Process for conversion is given in Section 18 of Companies Act, 2013 and Rule 7(4) of the Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014 which are reproduced for your reference:

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

A business entity is required to secure various registration and licenses for setting up its businesses in India. In India, there are plethora of laws which require registration to be carried out as also licenses to be obtained before an individual decides to set up his business unit in India. Apart from the Central laws there are also the state level compliances which are required to be ensured. In order to facilitate one spot understanding, this chapter deals with the list of Mandatory as well as Additional Registration and Licenses along with their detailed procedure.
A business entity is required to secure various registration and licenses in order to set up its businesses in India. This chapter deals with the list of Mandatory as well as Additional Registration requirements and the Licenses along with their detailed procedures, in order to apprise the readers on the hassle free process of setting up of business in India.

Mandatory Registration

Mandatory registration and their detailed process for setting up business in India is discussed below:

PAN

A permanent account number (in short called as PAN) is a vital document for any taxpayer. It is a 10-character alphanumeric number consisting of letter and digits. PAN card requirements are detailed in the Income Tax Act of 1961. This number is unique to each cardholder and helps identify the income tax payer. It is required for individuals, partnerships and companies. It also serves as an identity proof from a large number of purposes.

Any corporate body doing business in India requires a PAN card whether it is registered in India or abroad. Equally, an individual or entity which is engaged in a business with an Indian firm/entity requires a PAN card. It is also required for anybody who is involved in generating money out of India whether the company is registered, or has a permanent establishment, or an office in India. Given below is a list of the bodies that are required to hold a PAN card in India.

- Body Corporate
- Companies
- Firms other than LLP
- One Person Company
- LLP Firm
- Sole proprietorship
- Trusts
- Corporations
- Limited Liability companies
- Private firms
- Other Associations
- Foreign Institutional Investors
- Hedge funds

Significance of PAN for Setting up of Business

Some of the reasons confirming the significance of holding a PAN for every business entity are listed below:

- It was made mandatory by the Government of India under the Income Tax Act, 1961. The Act was subsequently amended and Section 206AA, as inserted in 2009 by the Finance Act, now mandates all foreign parties that provide or generate payment to a counterpart in India to provide their PAN. This includes not only individuals but also incorporations, companies, limited companies and any other form of entity.
• In the absence of the PAN, the Government will charge withholding tax which can be at the rate of more than 30% of the total invoiced payment.

• It serves as a reference number of its holder for the Income Tax Department to track the financial transactions carried out by it. In respect of certain transactions, the person is now required to quote his PAN as also deposit certain income tax documents.

• Even if one is not required to pay income tax, it is mandatory for him to hold a PAN if he is earning money.

• Companies, regardless of whether they are registered abroad or in India, are required to pay tax for businesses carried out in India. Without the PAN, the government has the mandate to deduct tax at the highest possible rate.

• PAN is required and thus helps an individual to pay for his invoices, remittances, and is also required to be mentioned in the income tax return.

• Just like individuals, companies are required to provide their Tax Registration Number (TRN) to whomever is paying them. A TRN can be obtained only when the company holds a PAN.

Application and Registration of PAN

The PAN (Permanent Account Number) card is an important document for conducting even the most simplest of financial transactions like opening a savings bank account or applying for a debit/credit card. It is a 10-digit alphanumeric identity allotted by the income tax department to an individual, company or Hindu Undivided Family (HUF).

Earlier, to apply for a PAN, an individual had to fill up physical forms specified by the income tax department (i.e., form 49A for resident individual) and provide supporting documents as proof of identity, address and date of birth.

In the present times, the application for allotment of PAN can be made through internet. Further, requests for changes or correction in PAN data or request for reprint of PAN card (for an existing PAN) may also be made through internet.

Online application can be made either through the portal of NSDL (https://tin.tin.nsdl.com/pan/index.html) or the online portal of UTIITS (https://www.utiitsl.com/UTIITSL_SITE/pan/index.html). With effect from July 1, 2017, fees for PAN application (including Goods and Services Tax) for dispatch outside India has changed to 1020/- INR. However, PAN application fees for dispatch within India is 110/- INR.

Once the application and payment is accepted, the applicant is required to send the supporting documents through courier/post to NSDL/UTIITS. Only after the receipt of the documents, PAN application would be processed by NSDL/UTIITS.

With effect from April 08, 2012, PAN applications are required to be furnished in the new forms prescribed by ITD. Indian citizens will have to submit their ‘Application for allotment of new PAN’ in revised Form 49A only. Foreign citizens will have to submit their ‘Application for allotment of new PAN’ in newly notified Form 49AA only.

For New PAN applications, in case of Individual and HUF applicants, if Address for Communication is selected as Office, then Proof of Office Address along with Proof of residential address is to be submitted with NSDL in respect of applications made on and after 1st November 2009.

As per RBI guidelines, the entities making e-commerce transactions are required to enter their PIN (Personal Identification Number) while carrying out an online transaction. Accordingly, before making payment for online PAN/TAN applications using credit/debit card, please ensure that the PIN is obtained from your respective Banks.
TAN
TAN or Tax Deduction and Collection Account Number is again a 10 digit alphanumeric number required to be obtained by all persons who are responsible for deducting or collecting tax. Under Section 203A of the Income Tax Act, 1961, it is mandatory to quote Tax Deduction and Collection Account Number (TAN) allotted by the Income Tax Department (ITD) on all TDS returns.

Since last few years ITD has revised the structure of TAN. It is a unique 10 digit alphanumeric code. Accordingly, they have issued TAN in this new format to all existing TAN holders.

To facilitate tax deductors find their new TAN, ITD has now introduced a search facility on their website (www.incometaxindia.gov.in). Through this facility, the tax deductors can search their name with their old TAN to find the new TAN. Deductors are advised to find their new TAN from this site before it is incorporated in their e-TDS return file to avoid any inconvenience at the time of furnishing e-TDS return.

Types of TAN Applications
There are two types of TAN applications:

- Application for issuance of new TAN (Form 49B): This application form can be used if the deductor/applicant has never applied for a TAN or does not have a TAN.
- Application for Change or Correction in TAN data for TAN Allotted.

Procedure to Apply
A deductor may either make an online application through this website or submit physical TAN Application to any TIN-Facilitation Center (TIN-FC) of NSDL.

Applicants should go through the instructions and guidelines provided in the application form before filling the form.

Where to get the Physical Application Forms
Applicants may obtain the application forms from TIN-FCs, any other vendors providing such forms or can freely download the same from the website.

Communication
These applications are digitized by NSDL and forwarded to ITD. ITD will issue the TAN which will be intimated to NSDL online. On the basis of this, NSDL will issue the TAN letter to the applicant.

Status track
The applicants may track the status of their TAN application using 14 digit unique Acknowledgment Number after three days of application using the status track facility. Alternatively, applicant may call TIN Call Centre on 020 – 2721 8080 to enquire about the status of their application. The status of the TAN application can also be tracked by sending an SMS - NSDLTAN to 57575.

Fee
The processing fee for both the applications (new TAN and change request) is 65/- INR (including Goods and Services Tax).

GST
Registration of any business entity under the GST Law implies obtaining a unique number from the concerned tax authorities for the purpose of collecting tax on behalf of the Government and to avail Input Tax Credit for the taxes on his inward supplies. Section 22 of Central Goods & Services Tax Act, 2017 mandates that every person who has an aggregate turnover of more than Rs 20 Lacs in the relevant financial year, is liable to be registered under the Act. It must be noted though that for the state of Jammu & Kashmir and North-Eastern states, the threshold is Rs 10 Lacs.

North-eastern states would include Arunachal Pradesh, Assam, Manipur, Meghalaya, Mizoram, Nagaland, Sikkim, and Tripura along with hilly areas of Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand. If a person has his place of business in different states, and one of the branches is in any of the states mentioned above (Jammu & Kashmir/ North Eastern), then the threshold limit for GST registration would be reduced to Rs 10 Lacs.

Aggregate Turnover under the Act includes all taxable supplies, exempt supplies, zero-rated supplies, interstate supplies, but doesn’t include the inward taxable supplies under the Reverse Charge Mechanism. If the person has taxable and exempt supplies as a part of the turnover, example, machine oil and petrol, the turnover from both would be added to determine whether the aggregate exceeds the threshold, and if it does, then registration becomes mandatory for such supplier. The supplies by the agents on behalf of the principal would be included in the aggregate turnover of both, the principal and the agent. Registration is mandatory at every place of business from wherein a taxable supply has been made.

The registration under GST is Permanent Account Number (PAN) based and state-specific. GST Identification Number (GSTIN) is a 15-digit number and a certificate of registration, incorporating the GSTIN is made available to the applicant upon registration.

- The first two digits of this number will represent the state code
- The next ten digits will be the PAN number of the taxpayer
- The thirteenth digit will be assigned based on the number of registrations within a state
- The fourteenth digit will be Z by default
- The last digit will be for check code

Registration under GST is not tax specific, which means that there is a single registration for all the taxes viz., CGST, SGST/UTGST, IGST and cesses.

A given PAN based legal entity would have one GSTIN per State, that means a business entity having its branches in multiple States will have to take separate State wise registration for the branches in different States. But within a State, an entity with different branches would have single registration wherein it can declare one place as principal place of business and other branches as additional place of business. However, a business entity having separate business verticals (as defined in section 2 (18) of the CGST Act, 2017) in a state may obtain separate registration for each of its business verticals.

Compulsory Registration

In the following cases, registration is made compulsory, irrespective of the aggregate turnover:

- For a supplier who makes inter-state supplies
- Casual taxable person
- Non-resident taxable person
- E-commerce operators
- Persons discharging liabilities under reverse charge mechanism
Persons not liable to register

The following people are not liable to register under the Central Goods & Services Tax Act, 2017:

- Engaged exclusively in the supply of goods / services / both which are not liable to tax
- Engaged exclusively in the supply of goods / services / both which are wholly exempt from tax
- Agriculturalist to the extent of supply of produce from land cultivation
- Specified categories as may be notified by the Government

Procedure for Registration

Every person who is liable to register themselves under the CGST Act, 2017 must do so within thirty days from the date when he becomes first liable or five days prior to commencement of business in case of casual/non-resident taxable person.

If the proper officer doesn’t take any action within three days of submission of application along with necessary details and documents, or within seven days of receiving the clarifications so solicited, the application for grant of registration is deemed to be approved.

The effective date of registration is:

- In case the application is submitted within 30 days of the person becoming liable to register, it shall be the date on which the person becomes liable.
- And if the application is submitted after 30 days of the person becoming liable to register, it shall be the date on which the registration is granted.

Section 2(20) of Central Goods & Services Tax Act, 2017 defines “casual taxable person” as a person who occasionally undertakes transactions involving supply of goods or services or both in the course or furtherance of business, whether as principal, agent or in any other capacity, in a State or a Union territory where he has no fixed place of business. Thus, a casual taxable person is someone who has a business in a different state, but comes to a different state for a business purpose temporarily. For example, a footwear dealer registered in Agra comes for an exhibition at Azad Maidan, Mumbai for participating in the exhibition, then such person would need to register as a casual taxable person at Mumbai and he will be granted registration for a maximum period of 90 days.

Section 2(77) of Central Goods & Services Tax Act, 2017 defines “non-resident taxable person” as any person who occasionally undertakes transactions involving supply of goods or services or both, whether as principal or agent or in any other capacity, but who has no fixed place of business or residence in India. Hence, a non-resident taxable person is someone who has a business outside India, but comes to a different state for a business purpose temporarily. For example, a person from Paris, comes to participate in an exhibition at Azad Maidan, Mumbai for participating in the exhibition, then such person would need to register as a non-resident taxable person at Mumbai and he will be granted registration for a maximum period of 90 days.

Registration must be taken state-wise. In case there are several branches within a single state, they can all operate under a single registration so long as one of the places are declared as Principle Place of Business (PPOB) and the remaining are Additional Places of Business (APOB). For composition levy, all businesses under a single PAN mandatorily either can be registered under composition levy or all of them under normal levy and there is no facility of choosing the Composition Scheme for only a few businesses under the Goods & Services Tax Act, 2017.

Cancellation of Registration

The proper officer may, either himself or on application filed by a registered person, or his legal heirs in case of a death of a registered person, cancel / revoke the registration of such person. This cancellation could be from a prospective / retrospective date as the officer may deem fit. This cancellation would in no way interfere with the liabilities of the said person. A registered person whose registration is cancelled will have to debit the electronic cash ledger or electronic credit ledger, by an amount equal to Input Tax Credit (ITC) so availed or the output tax liability, whichever is higher.

Registration under Shops & Establishments

One of the important regulation to which most businesses in India are subject to is the Shop and Establishment Act, enacted by every state in India. The Act is designed to regulate payment of wages, hours of work, leave, holidays, terms of service and other work conditions of people employed in shop and commercial establishments.

Purpose of Shop and Establishment Act

The Shop and Establishment Act in India is promulgated by the state and may slight differ from state to state. Shops are defined as premises where goods are sold either by retail or wholesale or where services are rendered to customers, and includes an office, a store-room, godown, warehouse or workhouse or work place. Establishments are defined as shop, a commercial establishment, residential hotel, restaurant, eating-house, theatre or other places of public amusement or entertainment. Further, establishments as defined by the act may also include such other establishments as defined by the Government by notification in the Official Gazette. ### Meaning of an Establishment for the Purpose of the Act

Establishments included in this Act are commercial establishments, residential hotels, restaurants, eating houses, theaters, or other places of public amusement or entertainment. SSI/MSME

Small Scale and ancillary units should seek registration with the Director of Industries of the concerned State Government.

All classes of enterprises, whether Proprietorship, Hindu undivided family, Association of persons, Co-operative society, Partnership firm, Company or Undertaking, by whatever name called can apply for the registration and get qualified for the benefits provided under the Act.

The main purpose of Registration is to maintain statistics and maintain a roll of such units for the purposes of providing incentives and support services. States have generally adopted the uniform registration procedures as per the guidelines. However, there may be some modifications done by States. It must be noted that small industries is basically a state subject. States use the same registration scheme for implementing their own policies. It is possible that some states may have a ‘SIDO registration scheme’ and a ‘State registration scheme’.

Objectives of the Registration Scheme

1. To enumerate and maintain a roll of small industries to which the package of incentives and support are targeted.
2. To provide a certificate enabling the units to avail statutory benefits mainly in terms of protection.
3. To serve the purpose of collection of statistics.
4. To create nodal centres at the Centre, State and District levels to promote SSI.

Benefits of SSI/MSME Registration

Under this registration scheme, the units normally get registered to avail some benefits, incentives or support given either by the Central or State Govt. Benefits available under the MSMED Act Registration of Micro, Small and Medium (MSM) Enterprises under MSMED Act is a very powerful medium to enjoy the regime of incentives offered by the Centre generally contains the following:

Micro and Small Enterprises:

1. Easy finance availability from Banks, without collateral requirement
2. Protection against delay in payment from Buyers and right of interest on delayed payment
3. Preference in procuring Government tenders,
4. Stamp duty and Octroi benefits,
5. Concession in electricity bills
6. Reservation policies to manufacturing / production sector enterprises
7. Time-bound resolution of disputes with Buyers through conciliation and arbitration
8. Reimbursement of ISO Certification Expenses
9. Credit prescription (Priority sector lending), differential rates of interest etc.
10. Excise Exemption Scheme
11. Exemption under Direct Tax Laws.
12. Financial Assistance for setting up testing facilities through NSIC
13. Statutory support such as reservation and the Interest on Delayed Payments Act.

23. Free of cost government tenders

(It is to be noted that the Banking Laws, Excise Law and the Direct Taxes Law have incorporated the word SSI in their exemption notifications. Though in many cases they may define it differently. However, generally the registration certificate issued by the registering authority is seen as proof of being SSI).
States/UTs have their own package of facilities and incentives for small scale. They relate to development of industrial estates, tax subsidies, power tariff subsidies, capital investment subsidies and other support. Both the Centre and the State, whether under law or otherwise, target their incentives and support packages generally to units registered with them.

Medium Enterprises:

1. Easy finance availability from Banks, without collateral requirement
2. Preference in procuring Government tenders
3. Reservation policies to manufacturing / production sector enterprises
4. Time-bound resolution of disputes with Buyers through conciliation and arbitration

The Buyers have to ensure whether those suppliers of goods and services are under the purview of MSMED Act i.e. the Buyers have to confirm the registration of the suppliers under the MSMED ACT.

The Buyer should ensure the payment before the end of credit period decided else the interest would be payable.

In case of disputes, application to Micro and Small Enterprises Facilitation Council (MSEFC) would trigger the conciliation and arbitration process. Once the application is done under MSEFC, there is no provision to withdraw the proceedings. Therefore, the Buyer should ensure the best ways to resolve the disputes, if any, instead approaching to MSEFC in the initial stages of dispute.

The Buyers need to ensure that he does not owe any outstanding amount including interest due to MSME Enterprises for more than 15 days. Otherwise, he would be required to disclose this non-payment in the Annual Financials of the Buyer.

NSIC Registration

The Government is the single largest buyer of a variety of goods. With a view to increase the share of purchases from the small-scale sector, the Government Stores Purchase Programme was launched in 1955-56. NSIC registers Micro & small Enterprises (MSEs) under Single Point Registration scheme (SPRS) for participation in Government Purchases

- NSIC Registration is required to be renewed on every two years
- The National Small Industries Corporation enlists small scale units as competent to undertake supply of various items to the Government.

The registered units are extended various facilities so as to promote their participation, and consequently enhance the share in Government purchases.

The rationale of this Scheme is to avoid multiplicity of registration with various Government agencies and to ensure that the units registered with NSIC are considered at par with those registered directly with the purchasing agency.

Bona-fide Directorate of Industries / District Industries Centres are enlisted under this Scheme.

Their technical and commercial competence is verified in advance and this makes their registration with NSIC more meaningful in relation to purchasing agencies.

Though, initially the Scheme was aimed at securing larger share of orders from DGS&D, effective recognition is given to the units registered with NSIC by the Railways, Defence, P&T, and several Public Sector Enterprises. Automatic registration is given to units which are enlisted with NSIC. The units registered under this scheme are manufacturing a broad spectrum of products involving high technology and sophisticated production processes and have become a formidable source of supplies to the Government both at the Centre and States besides Public Sector Undertakings, etc.

FSSAI

FSSAI is an abbreviation used for Food Safety and Standards Authority of India. FSSAI license is mandatory before starting any food business. All the manufacturers, traders, restaurants who are involved in food business must obtain a 14-digit registration or a license number which must be printed on food packages.

This step is taken by government’s food licensing & registration system to ensure that food products undergo certain quality checks, thereby reducing the instances of adulteration, substandard products and improve accountability of manufacturers by issuing food service license. FSSAI Online Registration is done through office website of FSSAI for basic and central level. For state, the FSSAI registration is also done through offline mode.

The registration and licensing of food business in India is governed by the Food safety and Standards (Licensing and Registration of Food businesses) Regulation, 2011. As per the regulation, all food business operator in India must have a FSSAI registration or license if they are involved in the manufacturing, storage, transportation or distribution of food products. Based on the size a nature of business, FSSAI registration or FSSAI license may be required. In this article, we look at the difference between a FSSAI registration and license.
FSSAI Registration

FSSAI registration is required for all petty food business operator. Petty food business operator is any person or entity who:

a. Manufactures or sells any article of food himself or a petty retailer, hawker, itinerant vendor or temporary stall holder; or

b. Distributes foods including in any religious or social gathering except a caterer; or

c. Other food businesses including small scale or cottage or such other industries relating to food business or tiny food businesses with an annual turnover not exceeding Rs 12 lakhs and whose:
   • Production capacity of food (other than milk and milk products and meat and meat products) does not exceed 100 kg/ltr per day or
   • Procurement or handling and collection of milk is up to 500 litres of milk per day or
   • Slaughtering capacity is 2 large animals or 10 small animals or 50 poultry birds per day or less.

Petty food business operators are required to obtain a FSSAI registration by submitting an application for registration in Form A. On submission of a FSSAI registration application, the registration should be provided or application rejected in writing within 7 days of receipt of an application by authority.

FSSAI registration certificate contains the details of registration and a photo of the applicant. The certificate must be prominently displayed at the place of food business, at all times while carrying on the food business.

FSSAI License

Any person or entity that is not classified as a petty food business operator is required to obtain a FSSAI license for operating a food business in India. FSSAI license is of two types, State FSSAI License and Central FSSAI License. Based on the size and nature of the business, the licensing authority would change. Large food manufacturer/processors/transporters and importers of food products require central FSSAI license; state FSSAI license is required for medium sized food manufacturers, processor and transporters.

The fee and procedure for obtaining a FSSAI license is more extensive when compared to a FSSAI registration. FSSAI license application should be made in Form B to the appropriate Licensing Authority along with the necessary self-attested declaration, affidavit and annexures, as applicable. Fee for the State is dependent on respective state rules.

Copyright

The Copyright Act, 1957 came into effect from January 1958. This Act has been amended five times since then, i.e., in 1983, 1984, 1992, 1994, 1999 and 2012. The Copyright (Amendment) Act, 2012 is the most substantial. The main reasons for amendments to the Copyright Act, 1957 include to bring the Act in conformity with WCT and WPPT; to protect the Music and Film Industry and address its concerns; to address the concerns of the physically disabled and to protect the interests of the author of any work; Incidental changes; to remove operational facilities; and enforcement of rights. Some of the important amendments to the Copyright Act in 2012 are extension of copyright protection in the digital environment such as penalties for circumvention of technological protection measures and rights management information, and liability of internet service provider and introduction of statutory licences for cover versions and broadcasting organizations; ensuring right to receive royalties for authors, and music composers, exclusive economic and moral rights to performers, equal membership rights in copyright societies for authors and other right owners and exception of copyrights for physically disabled to access any works.

Prior to the Act of 1957, the Law of Copyrights in the country was governed by the Copyright Act of 1914. This Act was essentially the extension of the British Copyright Act, 1911 to India. Even the Copyright Act, 1957 borrowed extensively from the new Copyright Act of the United Kingdom of 1956. The Copyright Act, 1957 continues with the common law traditions. Developments elsewhere have brought about certain degree of convergence in copyright regimes in the developed world.

The Indian Copyright Act today is compliant with most international conventions and treaties in the field of copyrights. India is a member of the Berne Convention of 1886 (as modified at Paris in 1971), the Universal Copyright Convention of 1951 and the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) Agreement of 1995. Though India is not a member of the Rome Convention of 1961, the Copyright Act, 1957 is fully compliant with the Rome Convention provisions.

The two Internet Treaties were negotiated in 1996 under the auspices of the World Intellectual Property Organization (WIPO). These treaties are called the ‘WIPO Copyrights Treaty (WCT)’ and the ‘WIPO Performances and Phonograms Treaty (WPPT)’. These treaties were negotiated essentially to provide for protection of the rights of copyright holders, performers and producers of phonograms in the Internet and digital era. India is not a member of these treaties; amendments are being mooted to make Act in compliant with the above treaties in order to provide protection to copyright in the digital era. Though India is not a member of the WCT and the WPPT, the Copyright Act, 1957 is fully compliant with the Rome Convention provisions. The provisions of the Act is also in harmony with two other new WIPO treaties namely, the Beijing Audiovisual Performers treaty, 2012 and the Marrakesh Treaty to Facilitate Access to Published Works by Visually Impaired or Otherwise Print Disabled Persons, 2013.

The Copyright Rules, 2013 was notified on 14 March, 2013 replacing the old Copyright Rules, 1958. The Rules, inter alia, provide for procedure for relinquishment of Copyright; grant of compulsory licences in the matter of work withheld from public; to publish or republish works (in certain circumstances); to produce and publish a translation of a literary or dramatic work in any language; licence for benefit of disabled; grant statutory licence for cover versions; grant of statutory licence for broadcasting literary and musical works and sound recordings; registration of copyright societies and copyright registration.

Copyright Registration Procedure

The procedure for registration is as follows:

- Application for registration is to be made on as prescribed in the first schedule to the Rules;
• Separate applications should be made for registration of each work;
• Each application should be accompanied by the requisite fee prescribed in the second schedule to the Rules; and
• The applications should be signed by the applicant or the advocate in whose favor a Vakalatnama or Power of Attorney has been executed. The Power of Attorney signed by the party and accepted by the advocate should also be enclosed.

Time for Processing Application

• After one files the application and receives diary number, one has to wait for a mandatory period of 30 days so that no objection is filed in the Copyright office against the claim that particular work is created by applicant.

Scope and Extent of Copyright Registration

Both published and unpublished works can be registered. Copyright in works published before January 21, 1958, i.e., before the Copyright Act, 1957 came in force, can also be registered, provided the works still enjoy copyright. Three copies of published work may be sent along with the application.

If the work to be registered is unpublished, a copy of the manuscript has to be sent along with the application for affixing the stamp of the Copyright Office in proof of the work having been registered. In case two copies of the manuscript are sent, one copy of the same duly stamped will be returned, while the other will be retained, as far as possible, in the Copyright Office for record and will be kept confidential. It would also be open to the applicant to send only extracts from the unpublished work instead of the whole manuscript and ask for the return of the extracts after being stamped with the seal of the Copyright Office. When a work has been registered as unpublished and subsequently it is published, the applicant may apply for changes in particulars entered in the Register of Copyright in Form V with prescribed fee.

All kinds of literary and artistic works can be copyrighted, one can also file a copyright application for the website or other computer program. Computer Software or programme can be registered as a ‘literary work’. As per Section 2 (o) of the Copyright Act, 1957 “literary work” includes computer programmes, tables and compilations, including computer databases. ‘Source Code’ has also to be supplied along with the application for registration of copyright for software products. Copyright protection prevents undue proliferation of private products or works, and ensures the individual owner retains significant rights over his creation.

IRDA

Introduction

Till 1999 the insurance sector was controlled by Controller of Insurance as per the provisions of Insurance Act 1938 but after formation of the IRDA it is felt by the Authority that the most of the provisions of this Act were irrelevant in the present scenario of the country. Therefore the Authority issued various regulations, as deemed fit, to develop the insurance sector in the country.

Functions and Duties of IRDAI

Section 14 of the IRDA Act, 1999 lays down the duties, powers and functions of IRDA.

- Registering and regulating insurance companies

• Specifying financial reporting norms of insurance companies
• Regulating investment of policyholders’ funds by insurance companies
• Ensuring the maintenance of solvency margin by insurance companies
• Ensuring insurance coverage in rural areas and of vulnerable sections of society

To facilitate the regulatory regime of insurance business in India, IRDA is authorized to grant some licenses and issue registration for setting up insurance business in India. This procedure of grant of licenses and registrations is listed in following functionalities of IRDA

2. Approval of insurance product.
3. Appointment of different insurance intermediary.

These regulations were not issued in the above sequence but a logic has to be followed that- firstly the insurance company will come into existence, secondly the insurance product will be design and developed, thirdly the manpower is required to sell the product, fourthly the premium received by the insurance companies is to be invested, fifthly the accounts are to be maintained and lastly, various provisions.

IRDAI (Registration of Indian Insurance Companies) (Seventh Amendment) Regulations 2016 (Registration Amendment Regulations)

The Indian insurance sector has witnessed various reforms since the notification of the Insurance Laws (Amendment) Act 2015 (Amendment Act). The latest addition to the long list of regulatory changes that have been introduced post the Amendment Act is the IRDAI (Registration of Indian Insurance Companies) (Seventh Amendment) Regulations 2016 (Registration Amendment Regulations). Although the Registration Amendment Regulations were notified on 22nd February 2016 (and have come into force on 22nd March 2016), they were released on the official website of the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India (IRDAI) only on 1st April 2016.

The Registration Amendment Regulations have introduced a number of key changes to the existing IRDA (Registration of Indian Insurance Companies) Regulations 2000 (Registration Regulations). The primary amendments introduced by the Registration Amendment Regulations include the following:

1. An applicant whose IRDAI/R1 has been rejected by the IRDAI will now be able appeal to the Securities Appellate Tribunal.
2. A requisition for registration application may now be made for the Life insurance business; General insurance business; Health insurance business (exclusively); or Reinsurance business.
3. An applicant whose requisition has been accepted may make an application in Form IRDAI/R2 for grant of certificate of registration. In cases where the foreign direct investment in the applicant entity is more than 26%, the Form IRDAI/R2 is required to be accompanied by, inter alia, a certified copy of the approval given by the Foreign Investment Promotion Board (FIPB) in accordance with the Indian Insurance Companies (Foreign Investment) Rules 2015.
4. The manner of calculation of equity capital held by foreign investors prescribed by R11 of the Registration Regulations has been amended to state that the calculation of the holding of equity shares by one or more foreign investors in an applicant company, shall be the aggregate of:
   - The quantum of paid up equity share capital held by the foreign investors including foreign venture capital investors, in the applicant company; and
   - The proportion of the paid up equity share capital held or controlled by such foreign investor(s) either by itself or through its subsidiary companies in the Indian promoter(s) or Indian investor(s) as mentioned above.

   Provided that this shall not be applicable to an Indian promoter or Indian investors which is a banking company or a public financial institution.
5. Every Insurer being an Indian insurance company and who has already been granted certificate of registration for carrying on insurance business in India must ensure compliance with norms pertaining to “Indian owned and controlled” as specified in 2(7A) of the Insurance Act 1938, within such period as may be specified by the IRDAI.
6. New formats for Form IRDAI/R1 and IRDAI/R2 have now been introduced.

Although all the changes introduced by the Registration Amendment Regulations will have an impact on any entity proposing to operate as an Insurer in India, the amendments made to R11 will, in all probability, have the most lasting impact. It is interesting to note that even prior to the amendments, the approach of the regulator in calculating the foreign investment in an Indian Insurance Company was to not include any foreign investment in the Indian promoter of an Indian insurance company, in the event that such foreign investment was not made by any entity that was a shareholder of the Indian Insurance Company.

If the followed approach was now varied, it would result in the existing structures of some of the major Indian Insurance Companies coming under scrutiny. However, R11 has been amended to provide that the total foreign investment in an Indian Insurance Company will be the sum total of the quantum of paid up equity share capital held by the foreign investors (including foreign venture capital investors), in the applicant company and the proportion of the paid up equity share capital held or controlled by such foreign investor(s) either by itself or through its subsidiary companies in the Indian promoter(s) or Indian investor(s) of the applicant entity.

From a plain reading of the amended R11 it appears that the IRDAI has adopted the approach that only if the foreign investor which is a shareholder of the Indian insurance company is also a shareholder of the Indian promoter(s) or Indian investor(s) of such applicant entity, will the shareholding of the foreign investor in the Indian promoter(s) or Indian investor(s) be taken into consideration for calculating the total foreign investment in the Indian Insurance Company. This amendment will undoubtedly be welcomed by the Indian insurance industry.

The Registration Amendment Regulations have also introduced the requirement of providing a copy of the FIPB approval if the quantum of foreign investment in the applicant entity is more than 26%. However, post notification of the Registration Amendment Regulations the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion has amended the Consolidated FDI Policy 2015, pursuant to which foreign investment in Indian Insurance Companies and insurance intermediaries up to 49% has been brought under the automatic route. In view of these changes, it is anticipated that the Registration Amendment Regulations to be amended further in order to bring them in conformity with the Consolidated FDI Policy 2015.

Refusal of Registration

- If the Authority refuses the registration the reason of such decision will be intimated to the applicant.
- The Applicant whose application has been rejected can file an appeal before the Central Government within 30 days from the date on which a copy of the decision is received.
- The decision of the Government shall be final and shall not be questioned before any court.

Suspension of Registration

The registration of an Indian insurance company or insurer may be suspended for a class or classes of insurance business, in addition to any penalty that may be imposed or any action that may be taken, for such period as may be specified by the Authority, in the following cases:

- Conducts its business in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the policy-holders;
- Fails to furnish any information as required by the Authority relating to its insurance business;
- Does not submit periodical returns as required under the Act or by the Authority;
- Does not co-operate in any inquiry conducted by the Authority;
- Indulges in manipulating the insurance business;
- Fails to make investment in the infrastructure or social sector as specified under the Insurance Act.

Cancellation of Certificate of Registration

The Authority, in case of repeated defaults of the grounds for suspension of a certificate of registration, may impose a penalty in the form of cancellation of the certificate. The Authority is compulsorily required to cancel the registration of an insurer either wholly or in so far as it relates to a particular class of insurance business, as the case may be:

- If the insurer fails to comply with the provisions relating to deposits; or
- If the insurer fails, at any time, to comply with the provisions relating to the excess of the value of his assets over the amount of his liabilities; or
- If the insurer is in liquidation or is adjudged an insolvent; or
- If the business or a class of the business of the insurer has been transferred to any person or has been transferred to or amalgamated with the business of any other insurer; or
- If the whole of the deposit made in respect of the insurance business has been returned to the insurer;
• If, in the case of an insurer, the standing contract is cancelled or is suspended and continues to be suspended for a period of six months, or
• If the Central Government of India so directs.

In addition to the above, the Authority has the discretion to cancel the registration of an insurer

• If the insurer makes default in complying with, or acts in contravention of, any requirement of the Insurance Act or of any rule or any regulation or order made or, any direction issued thereunder, or
• If the Authority has reason to believe that any claim upon the insurer arising in India under any policy of insurance remains unpaid for three months after final judgment in regular course of law, or
• If the insurer carries on any business other than insurance business or any prescribed business, or
• If the insurer makes a default in complying with any direction issued or order made, as the case may be, by the Authority under the IRDA Act, 1999.
• If the insurer makes a default in complying with, or acts in contravention of, any requirement of the Companies Act, or the LIC Act, or the GIC Act or the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 2000.

The order of cancellation shall take effect on the date on which notice of the order of cancellation is served on the insurer. Thereafter, the insurer would be prohibited from entering into any new contracts of insurance, but all rights and liabilities in respect of contracts of insurance entered into by him before the cancellation takes effect shall continue as if the cancellation had not taken place.

The Authority may, after the expiry of six months from the date on which the cancellation order takes effect, apply to the Court for an order to wind up the insurance company, or to wind up the affairs of the company in respect of a class of insurance business, unless the registration of the insurance company has been revived or an application for winding up has already been presented to the Court.

Revival of Registration

The Authority has discretion, where the registration of an insurer has been cancelled, to revive the registration, if the insurer within six months from the date on which the cancellation took effect:

• Makes the deposits, or
• Complies with the provisions as to the excess of the value of his assets over the amount of his liabilities, or
• Has his standing contract restored, or
• Has the application accepted, or
• Satisfies the Authority that no claim upon him remains unpaid, or
• Has complied with any requirements of the Insurance Act or the IRDA Act, or any rule or regulation, or any order made thereunder or any direction issued under these Acts, or
• That he has ceased to carry on any business other than insurance business or any prescribed business.

Telecom

In India, the telecom market and business thereunder are governed and regulated by the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI), which is a statutory body set up for regulating the Telecom and Broadcasting Sectors.

The entry of private service providers brought with it the inevitable need for independent regulation. The Telecom Regulatory Authority of India (TRAI) was, thus, established with effect from 20th February 1997 by an Act of Parliament, called the Telecom Regulatory Authority of India Act, 1997, to regulate telecom services, including fixation/revision of tariffs for telecom services which were earlier vested in the Central Government.

- TRAI’s mission is to create and nurture conditions for growth of telecommunications in the country in a manner and at a pace which will enable India to play a leading role in emerging global information society.

- One of the main objectives of TRAI is to provide a fair and transparent policy environment which promotes a level playing field and facilitates fair competition.

In pursuance of the above objective, TRAI has issued from time to time a large number of regulations, orders and directives to deal with issues coming before it and provided the required direction to the evolution of Indian telecom market from a Government owned monopoly to a multi operator multi service open competitive market.

The directions, orders and regulations issued cover a wide range of subjects including tariff, interconnection and quality of service as well as governance of the Authority.

The TRAI Act was amended by an ordinance, effective from 24th January 2000, establishing a Telecommunications Dispute Settlement and Appellate Tribunal (TDSAT) to take over the adjudicatory and disputes functions from TRAI. TDSAT was set up to adjudicate any dispute between a licensor and a licensee, between two or more service providers, between a service provider and a group of consumers, and to hear and dispose of appeals against any direction, decision or order of TRAI.

TRAI SCOPE AND FUNCTIONS

This Act, along with the notification of the Government dated 9th January 2004, empowers TRAI to recommend conditions for entry of new telecom service providers as well as terms and conditions of license and ensure compliance of the terms and conditions of the license.

The Act also empowers TRAI to lay down the standards of quality of service and ensure compliance, specify the tariff policy and make recommendations regarding terms and conditions on which Addressable Systems of TV shall be provided to customers and parameters for regulating maximum time for advertisements in pay as well as other TV channels.

TRAI’s scope of work also includes issues relating to telecom and cable tariff policy, commercial and technical aspects of interconnection, free choice and equal ease of access for the public to different telecom services, resolution of conflicts that may arise due to market developments and diverse network structures for various telecom services. TRAI also facilitates development of forums for interaction amongst service providers and interaction of the Authority with consumer organizations to further the consumer interest.

OSP Registration in India

As per the New Telecom Policy (NTP) 1999, service providers in India involved in providing services like tele-banking, tele-medicine, tele-education, tele-trading, e-commerce, call center, network operation center and other IT Enabled Services, using telecom resources are termed as “Other Service Providers” (OSP). These Other Service Providers or OSP’s are required to obtain an OSP Registration from the Department of Telecommunication (DOT). Here we are looking at the process and procedure for obtaining OSP Registration in India.

Overview

As per the Terms and Conditions formulated by the Telecom Commission in February 2000, OSP’s can take telecom resources from authorized Telecom Service Providers only and should not provide switched telephony. Further, the Department of Telecommunication must register OSPs using telecom resources for providing an array of services like call center, tele-banking and other IT enabled services. Therefore, the Department of Telecommunication (DOT) now registers OSPs in India and has registered over 2500 cases since inception.

OSP Registration Applicability

Service providers in India involved in providing services like tele-banking, tele-medicine, tele-education, tele-trading, e-commerce, call center, network operation center and other IT Enabled Services, using telecom resources are required to obtain OSP Registration. Telecom Resources are telecom facilities used by an OSP including, but not limited to Public Switched Telecom Network, Public Land Mobile Network, Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN) and/or the telecom bandwidth provided by authorized telecom service provider.

OSP Registration Requirement

To obtain an OSP Registration in India, it is mandatory for the entity to be a Private Limited Company. Therefore, Entrepreneurs having plans for starting a call center or BPO or e-commerce or other IT Enabled Services must incorporate a Private Limited Company. The following are the documents necessary for OSP Registration in addition to the application in the prescribed format:

- Certificate of Incorporation of Private Limited Company
- Memorandum of Association (MOA) and Articles of Association (AOA)
- Board of Resolution or Power of Attorney authorizing the authorized signatory
- Name of Business and Activities Proposed
- List of Directors
- Present Shareholding

The above documents must be certified with seal by a Company Secretary or Director of the Company or Statutory Auditor or Public Notary.

OSP Registration Compliance

Once an OSP Registration is approved, the license is valid for a period of 20 years – unless otherwise expressly mentioned. To maintain compliance, each of the OSPs are required to submit an “Annual Return” to the DOT mentioning the activities undertaken and the present status of the OSP. The annual return for OSP License renewal must be submitted with 6 months of completion of financial year.

In addition to the above, OSPs must maintain compliance with the Terms and Conditions prescribed by the Department of Telecommunication for OSPs. The detailed terms and conditions for OSP Registration and OSP Operation to be maintained are available at the website of Department of Telecommunications, Government of India.

UDYOG AADHAR MEMORANDUM

This is a registration available for entrepreneurs who want to start and operate a small business – micro, small and medium enterprises. The eligibility criteria for obtaining Udyog Aadhaar registration is based on the investment in plant & machinery made by a manufacturing concern or investment in equipment made by a service provider. Once, Udyog Aadhaar registration is obtained for a business, it can enjoy various subsidies and schemes specially provided by the Government for helping small businesses in India.

INDUSTRIAL LICENSE

The Industrial (Development and Regulations) Act 1951, popularly called as the IDRA, entitles the manufacturing sectors to observe certain formalities. Post-1991, liberalization of the economy led to opening up of various sectors progressively. The government issued a series of notifications from time to time, progressively abolishing the applicability of the licensing regime.

At present, most of the industries are exempted from having a licence; instead, they are only required to file an Industrial Entrepreneur Memorandum.

There are a few sectors which ought to have a license before commencing operations or before starting productions as such.
Industrial licenses are regulated under the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act 1951 made by the Central Government. At present, industrial license is required only for the following:

1. Industries retained under compulsory licensing
2. Manufacture of items reserved for small scale sector by larger units
3. When the proposed location attracts locational restriction

COMPULSORY LICENSING

Industrial Licensing was also abolished for all except short list of 18 industries in New Industrial Policy 1991. This number was further pruned to six industries. As in 2015, only five industries were under compulsory licensing mainly on account of environmental, safety and strategic considerations. They are:

1. Distillation and brewing of alcoholic drinks
2. Cigars and cigarettes of tobacco and manufactured tobacco substitutes.
3. Electronic Aerospace and defense equipment: all types.
4. Industrial explosives including detonating fuses, safety fuses, gun powder, nitrocellulose and matches.
5. Specified Hazardous chemicals i.e. (i) Hydrocyanic acid and its derivatives, (ii) Phosgene and its derivatives and (iii) Isocyanates & diisocyanates of hydrocarbon, not elsewhere specified (example Methyl isocyanate)

Regarding Alcoholic products, we note that production of rectified spirit exclusively for industrial use falls under the Centre’s purview while in the case of potable alcohol, states have the last word. (This is as per Supreme Court decision in “Bihar Distillery Case”). So, DIPP is not the licensing authority in case of potable alcohol.

SMALL SCALE SECTOR

Setting up a manufacturing industry in certain sectors is reserved for micro or small enterprises (as defined under the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Act, 2006). If any other entity intends to set up a manufacturing unit in such a sector, it will be required to obtain an industrial license.

POLICY RELATING TO SMALL SCALE UNDERTAKINGS

- An industrial undertaking is defined as a small scale unit if the investment in fixed assets in plant and machinery does not exceed Rs 10 million. The small scale units can get registered with the Directorate of Industries/District Industries Centre in the State Government concerned. Such units can manufacture any item including those notified as exclusively reserved for manufacture in the small scale sector. Small scale units are also free from locational restrictions. However, a small scale unit is not permitted more than 24 per cent equity in its paid up capital from any industrial undertaking either foreign or domestic.

- Manufacturing of items reserved for the small scale sector can also be taken up by non-small scale units, if they obtain an industrial license. In such cases, it is mandatory for the non-small scale unit to undertake minimum export obligation of 50 per cent. This will not apply to non-small scale EOUs that are engaged in the manufacture of items reserved for the SSI sector, as they already have a minimum export obligation of 66 per cent of their production. In addition, if the equity holding from another company (including foreign equity) exceeds 24 per cent, even if the investment in plant and machinery in the unit does not exceed Rs 10 million, the unit loses its small scale status.

- A small scale unit manufacturing small scale reserved item(s), on exceeding the small scale investment ceiling in plant and machinery by virtue of natural growth, needs to apply for and obtain a Carry-on-Business (COB) License. No export obligation is fixed on the capacity for which the COB license is granted. However, if the unit expands its capacity for the small scale reserved item(s) further, it needs to apply for and obtain a separate industrial license.

- It is possible that a chemical or a by-product recoverable through pollution control measures is reserved for the small scale sector. With a view to adopting pollution control measures, Government have decided that an application needs to be made for grant of an industrial licence for such reserved items which would be considered for approval without necessarily imposing the mandatory export obligation.

Recent amendment to Industrial Licensing Rule

Earlier, large industries that manufactured items that were exclusively reserved for Micro, Small, and Medium Enterprises (MSME) also needed to obtain an industrial license. MSMEs were previously known as Small Scale Industry (SSI). The provision was aimed at protecting indigenous manufacturers from unequal competition with large scale industries.

However, in April 2015, the government de-reserved these items to encourage greater investment, incorporate better technologies, and enhance competition in the Indian and global market for the products.

Large industries are now permitted to manufacture items such as – bread, wood, firework, pickles and chutneys, mustard oil, groundnut oil, steel chairs and tables, padlocks, stainless steel and aluminum utensils, without obtaining an industrial license.

Locational Restrictions

Setting up any industry within 25 kilometers of a city which has a population of 10 lakhs requires an industrial license, unless:

(a) If the unit is located in an area specifically designated as an “industrial area”,

(b) Or in the case of industries in the electronics sector, computer software, printing or any other Industry which is notified as a “non-polluting industry” by the government.

Industrial Entrepreneurs Memorandum (IEM)

The Government's liberalization and economic reforms program aims at rapid and substantial economic growth which is integrated with global economy in a harmonized manner. The industrial policy reforms have reduced the industrial licensing requirements, removed restrictions on investment and expansion and facilitated easy access to foreign technology and foreign direct investment.

All industrial undertakings exempt from the requirements of industrial licensing, including existing units undertaking substantial expansion, are required to file information in the prescribed form for Industrial Entrepreneurs Memorandum (IEM), i.e. “Form IEM”, with the Secretariat of Industrial Assistance (SIA), Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), Government of India, and obtain an acknowledgement. No further approval is required.

All Industrial undertakings also need to file information in Part ‘B’ of the Memorandum at the time of commencement of commercial production.

Meaning of IEM

Industrial Entrepreneurs Memorandum (IEM) is an application for acknowledgment of unit.

Eligibility for getting IEM

The large scale industry having investment of more than Rs. 10 crore in manufacturing sector and more than
Rs. 5 crore in service sector are primarily outside the purview of the licensing provisions and for the items(s) not exclusively reserved for manufacture by SSI sector have to file an application for Industrial Entrepreneurs Memorandum means IEM.

Cases requiring IEM/ LOI

The promoter can file IEM in following categories:

- To set up a new industrial undertaking,
- To effect substantial expansion of the industrial undertaking,
- To manufacture a new article
- To carry on business of existing SSI units after graduating into large scale industry.

Procedure for filling of IEM

The promoter has to make an application to Government. of India in prescribed format along with Demand Draft of Rs. 1000/- in the name of Secretariat for Industrial Assistance (SIA), New Delhi with six copies.

Steps Post-Filling IEM

After filing IEM to Govt. of India, Govt. of India gives acknowledgment receipt to the applicant and informs the Directorate of Industries. After receipt of acknowledgment, applicant can take further initiatives step to set up the unit.

Role of Directorate of Industries

Secretariat for Industrial Assistance (SIA), New Delhi circulates office memorandum enclosing one copy of application for the necessary comments from Directorate of Industries. The Directorate of Industries offers the comments to the GOI in respect of location after getting appropriate documents/ certificate from the promoters. Those industrial promoters who have obtained IEM and gone into commercial production or implemented the project have to submit PART B with Government of India or Directorate of Industries with seven copies for the record.

State Level Approval from the respective State Industrial Department

Apart from the registration and licences listed above, one has to seek state level approval(s) whatever is applicable on one’s business from the respective State Industrial Department.

For example, for environmental clearance of MSMEs in West Bengal, General Manager, District Industries Centre, will issue certificate for “Consent to Establish” (NOC) and “Consent to Operate” in respect of “Green” category of enterprises at the issuance of acknowledgement of Udhyog Aadhar Memorandum. Pollution clearance towards “Consent to Establish” for “Orange” Category will be issued by GM, DIC. But for ‘Red’ Category of pollution the clearance certificates for ‘Consent to Establish’ and ‘Consent to Operate’ will be issued by WBPCB. The ‘Consent to Operate’ for ‘Orange’ will be issued by WBPCB. The list of ‘Green’, ‘Orange’ & ‘Red’ and ‘Special Red ‘ is released by WBPCB from time to time depending on extent of pollution in the specific areas of importance (other than industrial zone) so as to promote enterprise difficulty areas.

As per WBPCB guidelines, industrial units are classified under 5 categories, viz. special red, red, orange, green and exempted category.

For Exempted Category - no pollution clearance certificate is needed.
For other categories - details are given below –

The application forms of ‘Consent to Establish’ and ‘Consent to Operate’ for Micro & Small Scale Green Category industries will be available from District Industries Centres. The Micro & Small Scale Green Category industries will submit consent application forms for ‘Consent to Establish’ and ‘Consent to Operate’ to the DIC along with the specific payment challan or counter foil of Consent fees (payment to be made to Nationalized Bank Branches). For ‘Red’ and ‘Orange’ Categories, the consent application forms will be available from the specified Bank Branches and to be submitted to WBPCB offices.

IEC registration is required by a person for exporting or importing goods. It is a 10 digit code which is issued by the Directorate General of Foreign Trade (DGFT). All businesses which are engaged in Import and Export of goods require registering Import Export Code. IE code has a lifetime validity. Importers are not allowed to operate without obtaining this code and exporters cannot take benefit of exports from DGFT, customs, Export Promotion Council, if they do not have this code.

Register and Records required to be maintained by an enterprise

Introduction

The Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) and the rules framed there under (“the Rules”) lays down that every Company incorporated under the Act has to maintain Statutory Registers (“the Registers”).

With various provisions incorporated in Companies Act, 2013, it is made clear that every company governed under Companies Act, 2013 is required to maintain a statutory register at its registered office until the dissolution of the company. Other Important Books and Registers

- Minutes Book
  - Board Meeting Minutes Book
  - General Meeting Minutes Book (i.e. AGM, EGM, Postal Ballot, Creditors Meetings, Debenture holders Meetings)
- Books of Accounts/Financial Statements
- Register of Directors Attendance at Board/Committee Meetings.

Financial Records required to be maintained by Enterprises

- Income Records
- Purchase Records
- Cash Records
- Banking Records
Income Records
To be able to accurately state income is important due to several reasons. Not only is it important to be able to assess the viability and strength of the business but it is also important that financial records neither overstate nor understate the incomes earned by the business. Overstating revenues subjects the business to additional tax costs whilst understatement of income can attract penalties on account of tax evasion.

Ordinarily invoices must contain the following information heads:

- Name of issuing business
- Address of business
- Date of issue
- Serial No
- CIN (company identification no) if business is being run by a company
- Service tax, VAT registration numbers (if applicable)
- Description of goods, services as well as prices
- Details of taxes levied, if any
- Total invoice Value

Expenses and Purchase Records
To be able to determine your business’s profitability it is important that you should record and retain details of expenses and purchases made by your business. Documents that contain such details include:

- Invoices received
- Credit card statements
- Receipts/counterfoils
- Cheque book counterfoils
- Cash vouchers
- Salary information
- Credit Documents

Collectively, these will represent the sum total of monies expended by the business in the pursuit of its main activities. Retaining and filing this data shall lead to meaningful information on the expense patterns of the company which can then be used to make informed decisions by the business owners.

This data is also useful in a tax context as it will form the basis for the justification of profitability figures as reflected by the business in its returns of incomes during scrutiny proceedings undertaken by the income tax department.
23. Banking Records

Bank records offer great insight into the transaction undertaken by a business. To be able to correctly ascertain the financial strength of an enterprise it is necessary that the bank balances as per records be in sync with the reality. To accomplish this a business must maintain up to date records of:

- Bank account statements along with reconciliations
- Cheque books, with completed counterfoils
- Cheque/Cash Deposit Counterfoils

The aforementioned data sets allow one to determine the exact deposits and withdrawals from the bank as well as identify the nature and purpose of such withdrawals along with the identity of the person to whom such payments have been made.

24. Cash Records

Despite all advances in banking technology and facilities, businesses must still undertake a large number of transactions in cash. Due to the very sensitive nature of cash holdings and transactions, it is important from a business as well as reporting perspective to have a tight handle on the cash in circulation within the enterprise.

To be able to actively ascertain the exact amount of cash available, a business must maintain two principle documents:

- Cash collection register, to record and reconcile all collections made by the business in cash, and;
- Day books/Cash book to map the inward and outward movement of cash from the business

Place of Keeping the Records and Registers

Unless otherwise notified, it is assumed that statutory records are held at registered office address of the company. If it is inconvenient to make certain records available for inspection at the registered office, you may keep some or all of them at the other near premises under the jurisdiction of the company.

It must be notified, if any statutory records are kept at the place other than the registered office of the company. Further, one must notify if they move any records, and the company is expected to confirm their location whenever you file an annual confirmation statement (previously called an annual return).

Inspection of Statutory Registers

Companies are required by law to make their statutory records available for public inspection at their registered office or at an alternative address every working day between working hours.

Advance notice of the date and time of inspection must be provided to the company.

Suggested Method of Keeping Statutory Registers

The companies have an option to keep all of their statutory registers together in a bound or loose-leaf folder or book. This ensures all important company documents are filed together and easily accessible for inspection purposes. Furthermore one may also keep digital copies instead of, or in addition to the paper registers.
LESSON ROUND-UP

- The Registers need to maintained and updated eventually and should be kept at the Registered Office of the Company.
- Some of the Registers are required to be kept open for inspection by Directors, Members, Creditors and by other persons.
- A Company is also required to provide the extracts from the Registers, if demanded by Directors, Members, Creditors and by other persons on payment of specified fees.
- Failure of the company to maintain statutory register could result in a fine of not less than Rs.1 lakh, which may extend to Rs.10 lakh. Further, the Officers of the company may also be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with a fine not less than Rs.25 thousand which may extend to Rs.1 lakh.
- Hence, it is important for all the companies including private limited company or limited company or one person company incorporated in India to maintain statutory register.
- To be able to accurately state income is important due to several reasons. Not only is it important to be able to assess the viability and strength of the business but it is also important that financial records neither overstate nor understate the incomes earned by the business.

Introduction

Under the transforming move of vision New India 2022, India is venerating an emerging market, registering itself as one of the biggest and fastest growing economies in the world. According to various reports, India is cited as having the potential to become the third largest economy in the world in coming 30 years, behind only China and the USA. Keeping in pace with the contemporary global market and emerging stand of Indian economy, government initiated various flagship programs to boost the entrepreneurship environment in the country. Few of the major flagships including Make in India” coupled with “Ease of Doing Business in India”, “Skill India”, “Digital India”, etc., are started to build the interest and ease among various domestic and overseas stakeholders to set up and advance the entrepreneurship in India.

Indeed, when the entrance and advancement to Indian business market would be of ultimate fortune, there are various laws which need to be abided for successfully setting up and taking forward an enterprise in India.

A quick understanding of setting up the enterprise along with the laws applicable to them could be learnt at below:

Formalizing and Deciding the Business Structure

The foremost requirement for setting up this business is to understand and decide what kind of business venture it would be. For example, if it’s a company, it would be governed under Companies Act, 2013, in case of Partnership, the Partnership Act, 1932 would be applicable, if it is an MSME, the MSME Act, 2006 would come into picture. It shows that there is a plethora of laws which need to be complied with the respective form of businesses.

Therefore, the first thing for starting any business is to determine the nature and type of the business. Founders need to incorporate the business as a specific business type - sole proprietorship, private limited, public limited, partnership, limited liability partnership etc. It is very essential to have this clarity at the very beginning as this will be integral to the business’ overall vision and goals, both short term and long term.

Each business type comes with its own set of legal requirements and regulations and businesses should pay special attention to them before incorporating the business.

Here is a quick look into the legal implications for the major business types in India

Among others one important form of business is the Company which is governed under the Companies Act, 2013. The procedure for setting up an enterprise in the form of company could be seen as below:

Incorporation

Formation of companies in India is governed by the Indian Companies Act, 2013 (“companies act”) which is a comprehensive legislation, in relation to the erstwhile Companies Act, 1956, and provides for provisions relating to all phases of a company’s life, i.e. incorporation, management, mergers, winding up.

A Registrar of Companies (“RoC”) is appointed under the Act for designated regions, who is the nodal authority for affairs related to companies in that particular region.

Form of a Company

Before formation and registration of the enterprise, the entrepreneur should consider the form, and the liability pattern, before starting the registration pattern of the Companies in India.

Any person can choose to incorporate either a company with unlimited liability or one with liability limited either by shares or guarantee. An incorporated company may take one of the following three forms:

Private Company

With restrictions on transfer of shares, and limited number of members a private limited company enjoys greater flexibility, less legal formalities, and the small shareholders body facilitates prompt decisions. A private company must have a minimum of two directors. A private company may be converted into a public company for raising capital from the public, if need arises, by completing certain legal formalities as specified in the companies act.

Public Company

Public companies are subject to stricter legal formalities. However, the free transferability of the shares of a public company and unlimited membership provides a larger base for raising of capital. Shares of a listed public company can be traded on stock exchange, which may open it to the scrutiny and watch of Securities and Exchange Board of India. A public company must have a minimum of seven members and three directors, Public limited companies must have at least one third of the total number of directors as independent directors out of which one director has to be a woman.

Minimum authorized and paid up share capital requirement of a private and public company: The criteria of having minimum paid up share capital for both private public company, as stated in the erstwhile Companies Act, 1956, has been omitted in the revised companies act. This is a significant advantage to new businesses with respect to the requirement of maintaining minimum share capital under the Companies Act since inception.

One Person Company

This concept has been brought by the new companies act and states that one person company is in the nature of a private company which has only one person as its member/director.

At the time of incorporation, the memorandum of association must name a nominee for the sole member of an OPC. The minimum number of directors for an OPC is also one, OPC provides the option of limited personal liability of proprietors (as opposed to unlimited liability in sole proprietorship).

Businesses which currently run under the proprietorship model could get converted into OPC’s without any difficulty. The questions of consensus or majority opinions do not arise in case of OPCs, and is suitable for small entrepreneurs with low risk taking capacity.
Lesson 15   Identifying Laws applicable to Various Industries and their Initial Compliances

Charter Documents of a Company

Before the registration of the company under the Companies Act 2013, the company should comply with the various charter documents made essential under the concerned law. These are:

Memorandum of Association

The MoA sets out the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated in the manner provided hereunder:

- The first and foremost clause in MoA shall be the name of the proposed company suffixed with the words limited or private limited, as the case may be;
- The second is the Registered Office Clause, stating the place where the registered office of the company shall be situated.
- The third clause contains the main objects for which the company is going to be formed/incorporated.

The MoA binds the area of operation of the company in respect to the objects mentioned therein and any decision or actions taken in contravention of the MoA shall be void. A company cannot run any business contrary to the main objects mentioned in their MoA.

The MoA and AoA of a company can be modified post incorporation in accordance with the applicable provisions of the Companies Act.

Articles of Association

The articles of a company contain regulations for the management of the company. This document is confined to the applicability of the provisions of the companies act, on private or public limited company, as the case may be.

Legal Formalities for Incorporation of a Company

Pre-incorporation formalities

The below mentioned compliances are required to be carried out with regard to setting up of company in India:

- Obtaining Director’s Identification Number (“DIN”) and Digital Signature Certificates (“DSC”) for the proposed directors of the company by preparing and filing of all the relevant forms and documents as required under the provisions of the companies act.
- Once the DIN and DSC are ready, the next step is filing of online application for the approval of name of the company, provided the name is not matching or similar with any other existing company.
- On approval of name by the Registrar of Companies, the drafting of the charter documents of the company needs to be carried out i.e. Memorandum (MoU) and Articles of Association (AoA), which are the basic documents for any company.
- Thereafter all the incorporation forms, shall be prepared and filed with the RoC for registration of company for the final step of the incorporation process and obtaining a certificate of incorporation of the company.

Post incorporation formalities:

- Once the certificate of incorporation has been issued by RoC, the company becomes a separate legal entity in the eyes of laws in India, and requires certain basic registrations to initiate the business which includes filing of application for obtaining a permanent account number and tax deduction account number on the name of the company and any other business specific registrations from the relevant government authorities i.e. Import –Export Code Number in case of company carrying out the business of import and/or export.
• Further, every company shall be required to carry out certain compliances, as required under the provisions of the companies act, for their day to day activities which includes holding of first board meeting immediately after incorporation, carrying out the annual general meetings every year, maintaining all the secretarial records at the registered office of the company, maintaining of statutory registers, minutes books etc. of company in compliance with the companies act.

How to Register a Company under Companies Act, 2013

It is necessary to get registered yourself to run your business without any legal problem. These are four major steps:

• Acquiring Digital Signature Certificate (DSC)
• Acquiring Director Identification Number (DIN)
• Filing an e-form or New user registration
• Incorporate the company

Procedure for Registration

Acquire Director Identification Number (DIN)

This is the first process in registration that each director of the company should obtain their identification number. As per Companies Act, acquiring a DIN is compulsory for every director i.e. as such every existing and intending director has to obtain his DIN. To get DIN one needs to file an e-Form DIN-1. The DIN-1 form is available on Official site of the ministry of corporate affairs the link is DIN-1 Form.

Register yourself on MCA Website first and have a login id. After filling DIN-1 Form, one should upload the filled form by clicking to e-Form upload button on MCA website and should pay applicable fees. After getting generated DIN one should intimate their company about DIN. The director can intimate their company about DIN by using DIN-2 Form. The company should intimate the Registrar of Corporates (ROC) about all director’s DIN through DIN-3 Form. If there is any change in DIN or need for any updating like change of address, personal details etc., then director should intimate this change by submitting the e-Form DIN-4 Form.

Acquire Digital Signature Certificate (DSC)

In order to ensure the security or authenticity of documents filed electronically the Information Technology Act 2000 demands a valid digital signature on the documents submitted electronically. This is the only and safest way that one can submit their documents electronically. The digital signature certificate should be acquired by only those agencies which are appointed by the controller of certification agencies (CCA). One should not use DSC given by any other agency which is not approved.

If one already have a digital signature then one can use the same, no need to apply for another. But one is required to check for his digital signature validity, agencies issue DSC’s with one or two year validity after expiry one have to renew it.

One can acquire his/her Digital Signature certificates from the government listed agencies like TCS, IDBRT, MTNL, SAFESCRYPT, NIC, n-CODE Solutions etc.

Create an account on MCA Portal – New user registration

This is about having a registered user account on MCA Portal for filing an e-Form, for online fee payment, for different transactions as registered and business user. Creating an account is totally free of cost.

Apply for the company to be registered.

This is the final major step in a registration of a company which includes incorporating company name,
Registering the office address or notice of situation of office and notice for appointment of company directors, manager and secretary. And also regarding the take and pay for their qualification shares.

Procedure for approval of the proposed company name:

For obtaining name for a new company, An application in Form-1A needs to be filed with the Registrar of Companies (ROC) of the state in which the Registered Office of the proposed Company is to be situated to ascertain the availability of a name along with an official service fee of Rs.500/-. One has to provide four alternative names for the proposed company. The company name shall not resemble the name of any other company already registered or violate the provisions according to Act, 1950.

In the applicable form, one has to fill name and addresses of directors (minimum 2 for a private company and 7 for a public company). It is also mandatory to mention main objects of the company and authorized capital.

In around 10 days, the ROC will inform about approval or objections. If there are any objections then ROC will suggest with some available names and let the company choose among them. If the company name is approved then one will receive a formal letter regarding the confirmation of the same. Keep the same which will be required during registration process of the proposed company.

APPLYING FOR BUSINESS LICENSES

Licenses are integral to run any business. Depending on the nature and size of business, several licenses are applicable in India. Knowing the applicable licenses for the enterprises and obtaining them is always the best way to start at business. The lack of relevant licenses can lead to costly lawsuits and unwanted legal battles. Business licenses are the legal documents that allow a business to operate while business registration is the official process of listing a business (along with relevant information) with the official registrar.

The common license that is applicable to all businesses is the Shop and Establishment Act which is applicable to all premises where trade, business or profession is carried out. Other business licenses vary from industry to industry. For instance an e-commerce company may require additional licenses like GST Registration, Professional Tax etc. while a restaurant may require licenses like Food Safety License, Certificate of Environmental Clearance, Prevention of Food Adulteration Act, Health Trade License etc. along with the above mentioned licenses.

Understanding Taxation and Accounting Laws

Taxes are part and parcel of every business. There are a broad variety of taxes, such as, central tax, state tax and even local taxes that may be applicable for certain businesses. Different business and operating sectors attract different taxes and knowing this beforehand can prove to be useful. For instance, recently, the Government of India launched the ‘Start-up India’ initiative to promote start-ups, and introduced many exemptions and tax holidays for start-ups and new businesses. According to this initiative, a start-up can avail income tax exemption for a period of 3 years as well as tax exemptions from capital gains and investments above Fair Market Value.

The conditions that start-ups need to qualify in order to leverage these exemptions are:

- The start-up should not be more than 7 years old (or 10 years for biotech) from the date of incorporation.
- Is incorporated as a Registered Partnership, Limited Liability Company or Private Limited Company.
- Turnover in any year should not have exceeded 25 crores.
- The start-up should not have been formed by splitting or reconstructing an existing business.

As far as business accounting is concerned, it is good hygiene to maintain proper books of accounts and audit them from time to time in order to ensure that relevant accounting and taxation rules are adhered to. Given the small size of business, many start-ups initially do not pay close attention to accounting requirements. However, this situation cannot be ignored for long as it can lead to serious accounting discrepancies. Having a sound payment and invoicing system for customers is one part of ensuring a clear accounting system.
Adhering to Labour Laws

Adhering to labour laws are integral to every organization, small or big. When you are established as a company and have hired people to work for your organization, you are subject to several labour laws regardless of the size of the organization. Laws with regards to minimum wages, gratuity, PF payment, weekly holidays, maternity benefits, sexual harassment, payment of bonus among others will need to be complied with.

Some major labour laws applicable under this scheme are:

- The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947
- The Trade Union Act, 1926
- Building and Other Constructions Workers’ (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1996
- The Industrial Employment (Standing Orders) Act, 1946
- The Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979
- The Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972
- The Contract Labour (Regulation and Abolition) Act, 1970
- The Employees’ Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952
- The Employees’ State Insurance Act, 1948.

Having a well-designed employee policy can be a major differentiator for new companies to set up and advance well. An attractive employee policy can be the key to attract and retain good talent. Employee policies can also prove to be the starting point for boosting employee morale and increasing productivity.

Adherence to Laws relating to Intellectual Property

Intellectual property vital for most businesses in the contemporary regime of knowledge and innovation, especially for tech centric businesses. Codes, algorithms and research findings among others are some of the most common intellectual property owned by organizations. Therefore, one has to ensure strict adherence to the Laws relating to Intellectual Property in India as well as of International Application to which India is a signatory. For the effective implementation of the IP Laws, facilitators have been empanelled by the Controller General of Patents, Trademarks and Design. Such facilitators help the new enterprises in setting up their business under the vigil of IPRs by providing advisory services, assisting in patent filing and disposal of patent application among other services at a minimum charge.

The Office of the Controller General of Patents, Designs and Trademarks controls all patents in India

Ensuring Effective Contract Management

Contracts lie at the crux of running any business. A contract is required to ensure the smooth functioning of work and is a great mechanism to ensure recourse in case of non-fulfilment of work. Having basic knowledge about various aspects of contract management can prove to be useful for entrepreneurs. As per the Indian Contract Act, 1872, all agreements are contracts if they are made by the free consent of parties competent to contract, for a lawful consideration with a lawful object, and are not expressly declared to be void.

Employee contracts are one of the most crucial aspects to be looked into while starting a venture. Founders many a time collaborate with their own trusted circle of friends in the beginning and while this ensures a certain ease and efficiency to business operations, outlining and formalizing employee contracts with details about salary, scope of work and stock options (if any) with even your first few employees is always recommended. Having this clarity from the very beginning helps the new businesses to reduce risks at a later point in time.
In the early stage of operations and post operation too, there are various contacts that a company has to abode, therefore, the adherence to contact law is one of the most important requirement for the company per se.

Details about winding down the business

LAWS RELATING TO INDUSTRIES AND INDUSTRIES IN SPECIFIC

In India, there are several Acts and legislations enacted by the Government of India for regulation of industries in the country. These enactments play a very important role in the country's overall progress and economic development. These legislations are amended from time to time in accordance with the changing circumstances and environment. The most important Act is the Companies Act, 1956 which relates to setting up and operation of companies in India. It empowers the Central Government to regulate the formation, financing, functioning and winding up of companies. It contains the mechanism regarding organisational, financial, and managerial and all the relevant aspects of a company.

In order to provide the Central Government with the means to implement its industrial policies, several legislations have been enacted. The most important being the Industries (Development and Regulation) Act, 1951 (IDRA). The main objectives of the Act is to empower the Government to take necessary steps for the development of industries; to regulate the pattern and direction of industrial development; and to control the activities, performance and results of industrial undertakings in the public interest.

The bulk of the transactions in trade, commerce and industry are based on contracts. In India, the Indian Contract Act, 1872 is the governing legislation for contracts, which lays down the general principles relating to formation, performance and enforceability of contracts and the rules relating to certain special types of contracts like Indemnity and Guarantee; Bailment and Pledge; as well as Agency.

Another important aspect of legislations is the industrial relations, which involves various aspects of interactions between the employer and the employees; among the employees as well as between the employers. In such relations whenever there is a clash of interest, it may result in dissatisfaction for either of the parties involved and hence lead to industrial disputes or conflicts. The Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 is the main legislation for investigation and settlement of all industrial disputes. The Act enumerates the contingencies when a strike or lock-out can be lawfully resorted to, when they can be declared illegal or unlawful, conditions for laying off, retrenching, discharging or dismissing a workman, circumstances under which an industrial unit can be closed down and several other matters related to industrial employees and employers.

Trade unions are also an important part of an industrial set up. The legislation regulating these trade unions is the Indian Trade Unions Act, 1926. The Act deals with the registration of trade unions, their rights, their liabilities and responsibilities as well as ensures that their funds are utilised properly. It gives legal and corporate status to the registered trade unions. It also seeks to protect them from civil or criminal prosecution so that they could carry on their legitimate activities for the benefit of the working class.

There are several legislations which regulate the conditions of employment, work environment and other welfare requirements of certain specific industries. These enactments deal with factories and workshops; mines and minerals; plantations; shops and establishments as well as transportation. Some of the major legislations indicating the laws applicable to the Industries in specific are as below:

THE FACTORIES ACT, 1948

This law is the umbrella legislation enacted to regulate the working conditions in factories. According to the Act, a ‘factory’ means “any premises including the precincts thereof:-

(i) whereon ten or more workers are working, or were working on any day of the preceding twelve months, and in any part of which a manufacturing process is being carried on with the aid of power, or is ordinarily so carried on; or

(ii) whereon twenty or more workers are working, or were working on any day of the preceding twelve months, and in any part of which a manufacturing process is being carried on without the aid of power, or is ordinarily so carried on; but this does not include a mine subject to the operation of the Mines Act, 1952, or a mobile unit belonging to the armed forces of the union, a railway running shed or a hotel, restaurant or eating place."

The Act is administered by the Ministry of Labour and Employment through its Directorate General Factory Advice
Lesson 15 - Identifying Laws applicable to Various Industries and their Initial Compliances

Service & Labour Institutes (DGFASLI) and by the State Governments through their factory inspectorates. This Institute also serves as a technical arm to assist the Ministry in formulating national policies on occupational safety and health in factories and docks.

THE PLANTATION LABOUR ACT, 1951

This Act is enacted to provide for the welfare of plantation labour and regulates the conditions of work in plantations. According to the Act, the term ‘plantation’ means “any plantation to which this Act, whether wholly or in part, applies and includes offices, hospitals, dispensaries, schools, and any other premises used for any purpose connected with such plantation, but does not include any factory on the premises to which the provisions of the Factories Act, 1948 apply”.

The Act is administered by the Ministry of Labour through its Industrial Relations Division. The Division is concerned with improving the institutional framework for dispute settlement and amending labour laws relating to industrial relations. It works in close co-ordination with the Central Industrial Relations Machinery (CIRM) in an effort to ensure that the country gets a stable, dignified and efficient workforce, free from exploitation and capable of generating higher levels of output.

THE MINES ACT, 1952

The Mines Act, 1952 contains provisions for measures relating to the health, safety and welfare of workers in the coal, metalliferous and oil mines. According to the Act, the term ‘mine’ means “any excavation where any operation for the purpose of searching for or obtaining minerals has been or is being carried on and includes all borings, bore holes, oil wells and accessory crude conditioning plants, shafts, open-cast workings, conveyors or aerial ropeways, planes, machinery works, railways, tramways, slidings, workshops, power stations, etc. or any premises connected with mining operations and near or in the mining area”.

The Act is administered by the Ministry of Labour and Employment through the Directorate General of Mines Safety (DGMS). DGMS is the Indian Government regulatory agency for safety in mines and oil-fields. It conducts inspections and inquiries, issues competency tests for the purpose of appointment to various posts in the mines, organises seminars/conferences on various aspects of safety of workers.

THE SHOPS AND ESTABLISHMENTS ACT, 1953

The Shops and Establishments Act, 1953 was enacted to provide statutory obligation and rights to employees and employers in the unorganised sector of employment, i.e. shops and establishments. It is applicable to all persons employed in an establishment with or without wages, except the members of the employer’s family. It is a State legislation and each State has framed its own rules for the Act. The State Government can exempt, either permanently or for a specified period, any establishments from all or any provisions of this Act. The Act provides for compulsory registration of shop/estabishment within thirty days of commencement of work and all communications of closure of an establishment within 15 days from its closing. It also lays down the hours of work per day and week as well as the guidelines for spread-over, rest interval, opening and closing hours, closed days, national and religious holidays, overtime work, etc.

THE MOTOR TRANSPORT WORKERS ACT, 1961

The Act was enacted to provide for the welfare of motor transport workers and to regulate the conditions of their work. It applies to every motor transport undertaking employing five or more motor transport workers. The State Government may, after giving notification in the Official Gazette, apply all or any of the provisions of this Act to any motor transport undertaking employing less than five motor transport workers. According to the Act, ‘motor transport undertaking’ means “an undertaking engaged in carrying passengers or goods or both by road for hire or reward and includes a private carrier”.

Every employer of a motor transport undertaking to which this Act applies shall have the undertaking registered under this Act. No adult motor transport worker shall be required or allowed to work for more than eight hours in any day and forty-eight hours in any week. Also, no adolescent shall be employed or required to work as a motor transport worker in any motor transport undertaking for more than six hours a day including rest interval of half-an-hour; and between the hours of 10 P.M. and 6 A.M.

THE CONTRACT LABOUR (REGULATION & ABOLITION) ACT, 1970

This Act is enacted to regulate employment of contract labour so as to place it at par with labour employed directly, with regard to the working conditions and certain other benefits. Contract labour refers to “the workers engaged by a contractor for the user enterprises”. These workers are generally engaged in agricultural operations, plantation, construction industry, ports & docks, oil fields, factories, railways, shipping, airlines, road transport, etc.

The Act is implemented both by the Centre and the State Governments. The Central Government has jurisdiction over establishments like railways, banks, mines etc. and the State Governments have jurisdiction over units located in that state. In the Central sphere, the Central Industrial Relations Machinery (CIRM) headed by Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) and his officers have been entrusted with the responsibility of enforcing the provisions of the Act and the rules made thereunder.

The Inter-State Migrant Workmen (Regulation of Employment and Conditions of Service) Act, 1979 was enacted to protect the rights and safeguard the interest of migrant workers. The Act intends to regulate the employment of inter-state migrant workmen and to provide their conditions of service. It applies to every establishment and the contractor, who employ five or more inter-state migrant workmen. The Act has provision for issue of Pass-Book to every inter-state migrant workman with full details, payment of displacement allowance, payment of journey allowance including payment of wage during the period of journey, suitable residential accommodation, medical facilities and protective clothing, payment of wages, equal pay for equal work irrespective of sex etc.

The responsibility for enforcement of the Act in establishments where the Central Government is the appropriate Government lies with the office of the Chief Labour Commissioner (Central) and for the establishments located under the States sphere lies with the respective State Governments.

LABOUR WELFARE FUNDS FOR SOCIAL ASSISTANCE TO WORKERS

Also, to extend a measure of social assistance to workers in the unorganised sector, the concept of 'Labour Welfare Fund' was evolved and five welfare funds were set up under the Ministry of Labour and Employment. These funds are aimed to provide housing, medical care, educational and recreational facilities to workers employed in beedi industry, certain non-coal mines and cine workers. Such funds are financed out of the proceeds of cess levied under respective Cess/Fund Acts. The various legislation so enacted include:-

- The Mica Mines Labour Welfare Fund Act, 1946 - was enacted to provide for constitution of a fund for financing the activities which promote welfare of labour employed in the mica mining industry.
- The Limestone and Dolomite Mines Labour Welfare Fund Act, 1972 - was enacted to provide for the levy and collection of a cess on limestone and dolomite for financing the activities which promote the welfare of persons employed in the limestone and dolomite mines.
- The Iron Ore Mines, Manganese Ore Mines & Chrome Ore Mines Labour Welfare Fund Act, 1976 - was enacted to provide for financing the activities which promote the welfare of persons employed in the iron ore mines, manganese ore mines and chrome ore mines.
- The Beedi Workers Welfare Fund Act, 1976 - was enacted to provide for financing the measures which promote the welfare of persons engaged in beedi establishments.
• The Cine Workers Welfare Fund Act, 1981 - was enacted to provide for financing the activities which promote the welfare of certain cine-workers.

THE BUILDING & OTHER CONSTRUCTION WORKERS (REGULATION OF EMPLOYMENT & CONDITIONS OF SERVICE) ACT, 1996

This law was enacted to regulate the employment and conditions of service of building and other construction workers and to provide for their safety, health and welfare measures. The Act is applicable to every establishment which employs ten or more workers in any building or other construction work and to the projects costing more than `10 lakh. The Act contains provision for immediate assistance to the workers in case of accidents; old age pension; loans for construction of house; premium for group insurance; financial assistance for education, medical expenses and maternity benefits, etc.

The Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976 was enacted to regulate certain conditions of service of sales promotion employees in certain establishments. According to the Act, the term ‘sales promotion employees’ means, “any person by whatever name called (including an apprentice) employed or engaged in any establishment for hire or reward to do include any such person:-(i) who, being employed or engaged in a supervisory capacity, draws wages exceeding sixteen hundred rupees per mensem; or (ii) who is employed or engaged mainly in a managerial or administrative capacity”.

The Act shall apply to every establishment engaged in the pharmaceutical industry. The Central Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, apply the provisions of this Act, to any other establishment engaged in any notified industry. Every employer in relation to an establishment shall keep and maintain such registers and other documents and in such manner as may be prescribed.

Apart from the above mentioned laws, there is a plethora of laws which are applicable to Specific Industries. The sector-wise Indicative list could be seen as below:

LESSON ROUND-UP

- The foremost requirement for setting up this business is to understand and decide what kind of business venture it would be. For example, if it’s a company, it would be governed under Companies Act, 2013, in case of Partnership, the Partnership Act, 1932 would be applicable, if it is an MSME, the MSME Act, 2006 would come into picture.

- Each business type comes with its own set of legal requirements and regulations and businesses should pay special attention to them before incorporating the business.
Among others one important form of business is the Company which is governed under the Companies Act, 2013.

It is necessary to get registered yourself to run your business without any legal problem. These are four major steps:

- Acquiring Digital Signature Certificate (DSC)
- Acquiring Director Identification Number (DIN)
- Filing an e-form or New user registration
- Incorporate the company

Licenses are integral to run any business. Depending on the nature and size of business, several licenses are applicable in India. Knowing the applicable licenses for the enterprises and obtaining them is always the best way to start at business. The lack of relevant licenses can lead to costly lawsuits and unwanted legal battles. Business licenses are the legal documents that allow a business to operate while business registration is the official process of listing a business (along with relevant information) with the official registrar.

Taxes are part and parcel of every business. There are a broad variety of taxes, such as, central tax, state tax and even local taxes that may be applicable for certain businesses.

Adherence to labour laws is integral to every organization, small or big. When you are established as a company and have hired people to work for your organization, you are subject to several labour laws regardless of the size of the organization.

Intellectual property is vital for most businesses in the contemporary regime of knowledge and innovation, especially for tech centric businesses. Codes, algorithms and research findings among others are some of the most common intellectual properties owned by the organizations. Therefore, one has to ensure strict adherence to the Laws relating to Intellectual Property in India as well as of International Application to which India is a signatory.

There are several legislations which regulate the conditions of employment, work environment and other welfare requirements of certain specific industries. These enactments deal with factories and workshops; mines and minerals; plantations; shops and establishments as well as transportation.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

In today's world, the abundant supply of goods and services in the markets has made life very challenging for any business, big or small. In its on-going quest to remain ahead of its competitors in this environment, every business strives to create new and improved products (goods and services) that will deliver greater value to users and customers than the products offered by competitors. To differentiate their products - a prerequisite for success in today’s markets - businesses rely on innovations that reduce production costs and/or improve product quality. In a crowded marketplace, businesses have to make an on-going effort to communicate the specific value offered by their product through effective marketing that relies on well thought-out branding strategies. In the current knowledge-driven, private sector oriented economic development paradigm, the different types of intangible assets of a business are often more important and valuable than its tangible assets. A key subset of intangible assets is protected by what are labelled collectively as intellectual property rights (IPRs). These include trade secrets protection, copyright, design and trademark rights, and patents, as well as other types of rights. IPRs create tradable assets out of products of human intellect, and provide a large array of IPR tools on which businesses can rely to help drive their success through innovative business models. Under this background, this chapter aims to address various provisions of Intellectual Property Rights applicable for setting up business in India.
INSTRUCTION

Intellectual property (IP) refers to the creations of the human mind like inventions, literary and artistic works, and symbols, names, images and designs used in commerce. Intellectual property is divided into two categories: Industrial property, which includes inventions (patents), trademarks, industrial designs, and geographic indications of source; and Copyright, which includes literary and artistic works such as novels, poems and plays, films, musical works, artistic works such as drawings, paintings, photographs and sculptures, and architectural designs. Rights related to copyright include those of performing artists in their performances, producers of phonograms in their recordings, and those of broadcasters in their radio and television programs. Intellectual property rights protect the interests of creators by giving them property rights over their creations.

The most noticeable difference between intellectual property and other forms of property, however, is that intellectual property is intangible, that is, it cannot be defined or identified by its own physical parameters. It must be expressed in some discernible way to be protectable. Generally, it encompasses four separate and distinct types of intangible property namely — patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets, which collectively are referred to as “intellectual property.” However, the scope and definition of intellectual property is constantly evolving with the inclusion of newer forms under the gambit of intellectual property. In recent times, geographical indications, protection of plant varieties, protection for semi-conductors and integrated circuits, and undisclosed information have been brought under the umbrella of intellectual property.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY VIS-À-VIS BUSINESS: A RATIONALE OF RELATIVITY

In today's world, the abundant supply of goods and services on the markets has made life very challenging for any business, big or small. In its on-going quest to remain ahead of competitors in this environment, every business strives to create new and improved products (goods and services) that will deliver greater value to users and customers than the products offered by competitors. To differentiate their products - a prerequisite for success in today's markets - businesses rely on innovations that reduce production costs and/or improve product quality. In a crowded marketplace, businesses have to make an on-going effort to communicate the specific value offered by their product through effective marketing that relies on well thought-out branding strategies. In the current knowledge-driven, private sector oriented economic development paradigm, the different types of intangible assets of a business are often more important and valuable than its tangible assets.

A key subset of intangible assets is protected by what are labelled collectively as intellectual property rights (IPRs). These include trade secrets protection, copyright, design and trademark rights, and patents, as well as other types of rights. IPRs create tradable assets out of products of human intellect, and provide a large array of IPR tools on which businesses can rely to help drive their success through innovative business models. All businesses, especially those which are already successful, nowadays have to rely on the effective use of one or more types of intellectual property (IP) to gain and maintain a substantial competitive edge in the marketplace. Business leaders and managers, therefore, require a much better understanding of the tools of the IP system to protect and exploit the IP assets they own, or wish to use, for their business models and competitive strategies in domestic and international markets.

INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY REGIME IN INDIA

India remains one of the world’s most growing economies in past 20 years and the ballgame of entrepreneurship and industries is a key element for contribution outstanding growth of Indian economy. On one hand, where businesses and their successful run is vital to the growth of economy; on the same hand, a structured set of IP protection helps in the advancement and development of businesses under a hassle free environs. Henceforth, aligning the International practices, India too is having a systemised legal system to take care of IP protection. Historically the first system of protection of intellectual property came in the form of (Venetian Ordinance) in 1485. This was followed by Statute of Monopolies in England in 1623, which extended patent rights for Technology Inventions. In the United States, patent laws were introduced in 1760. Most European countries developed their Patent Laws between 1880 to 1889. In India Patent Act was introduced in the year 1856 which remained in force for over 50 years, which was subsequently modified and amended and was called “The Indian Patents and Designs Act, 1911”. After Independence a comprehensive bill on patent rights was enacted in the year 1970 and was called “The Patents Act, 1970”.

Specific statutes protected only certain type of Intellectual output; till recently only four forms were protected. The protection was in the form of grant of copyrights, patents, designs and trademarks. In India, copyrights were regulated under the Copyright Act, 1957; patents under Patents Act, 1970; trademarks under Trade and Merchandise Marks Act 1958; and designs under Designs Act, 1911. With the establishment of WTO and India being signatory to the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS), several new legislations were passed for the protection of intellectual property rights to meet the international obligations. These included: Trade Marks, called the Trade Mark Act, 1999; Designs Act, 1911 was replaced by the Designs Act, 2000; the Copyright Act, 1957 amended a number of times, the latest is called Copyright (Amendment) Act, 2012; and the latest amendments made to the Patents Act, 1970 in 2005. Besides, new legislations on geographical indications and plant varieties were also enacted. These are called Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999, and Protection of Plant Varieties and Farmers’ Rights Act, 2001 respectively.

Over the past fifteen years, intellectual property rights have grown to a stature from where it plays a major role in the development of global economy. In 1990s, many countries unilaterally strengthened their laws and regulations in this area, and many others were poised to do likewise. At the multilateral level, the successful conclusion of the Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS) in the World Trade Organization elevates the protection and enforcement of IPRs to the level of solemn international commitment. It is strongly felt that under the global competitive environment, stronger IPR protection increases incentives for innovation and raises returns to international technology transfer.

Engagement with India on Intellectual Property Rights (IPR) continues, primarily through the Trade Policy Forum’s Working Group on Intellectual Property. In 2016, India released its comprehensive National IP Policy, with its primary focus being on awareness and building administrative capacity. The portfolio of Copyright and Semi-Conductors shifted to the Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion, Ministry of Commerce. The Cell of IP Promotion and Management (CIPAM) was set up and is tasked with implementing the IP Policy and interagency coordination. In 2016, the state of Telangana set up India’s first IP Crime Unit, to combat the menace of internet piracy. The Commercial Courts of two states became functional and industry saw some positives decisions coming on the patent front. The US Government enhanced its engagement and conducted two workshops with Government of India, one on Copyright and one on Trade Secrets. In addition, the Patent Rules as well as the Trademark Rules were amended. The Copyright Board was merged with the IP Appellate Board. The Indian Patent Office hired 458 examiners to address the issue of patent and trademark backlog.

IP PROTECTION FOR BUSINESSES: A SNAPSHOT

The Following types of IP Protection for Setting up and advancing the Businesses. They are discussed as below:

Trademarks

A trademark is a word, phrase, symbol, or design that distinguishes the source of products (trademarks) or services (service marks) of one business from its competitors. In order to qualify for patent protection, the mark must be distinctive. For example, the Nike “swoossh” design identifies athletic footwear made by Nike.

Although rights in trademarks are acquired by use, registration with the Trademark Office under the Trademark Act, 1999 allows you to more easily enforce those rights. Before registering your trademark, conduct a search of federal and state databases to make sure a similar trademark doesn’t already exist. This trademark search can help you reduce the amount of time and money you could spend on using a mark that is already registered and trademarked.

The Trade Marks Act 1999 (“TM Act”) provides, inter alia, for registration of marks, filing of multiclass applications, the renewable term of registration of a trademark as ten years as well as recognition of the concept of well-known marks, etc. It is pertinent to note that the letter “R” in a circle i.e. ® with a trademark can only be used after the registration of the trademark under the TM Act.

Trademarks mean any words, symbols, logos, slogans, product packaging or design that identify the goods or services from a particular source. As per the definition provided under Section 2 (zb) of the TM Act, “trade mark” means a mark capable of being represented graphically and which is capable of distinguishing the goods or services of one person from those of others and may include shape of goods, their packaging and combination of colors.

The definition of the trademark provided under the TM Act is wide enough to include non-conventional marks like color marks, sound marks, etc. As per the definition provided under Section 2 (m) of the TM Act, “mark” includes a device, brand, heading, label, ticket, name, signature, word, letter, numeral, shape of goods, packaging or combination of colors or any combination thereof.

Accordingly, any mark used by the startup in the trade or business in any form, for distinguishing itself from other, can qualify as trademark. It is quite significant to note that the Indian judiciary has been proactive in the protection of trademarks, and it has extended the protection under the trademarks law to Domain Names as demonstrated in landmark cases of Tata Sons Ltd v Manu Kosuri & Ors [90 (2001) DLT 659] and Yahoo Inc. v Akash Arora [1999 PTC 201].

Points To Consider While Adopting A Trademark

Any startup needs to be cautious in selecting its trade name, brands, logos, packaging for products, domain names and any other mark which it proposes to use. You must do a proper due diligence before adopting a trademark. The trademarks can be broadly classified into following five categories:

- Generic
- Descriptive
- Suggestive
- Arbitrary
- Invented/Coined

1. Generic marks means using the name of the product for the product, like “Salt” for salt.
2. Descriptive marks mean the mark describing the characteristic of the products, like using the mark “Fair” for the fairness creams.
3. Suggestive marks mean the mark suggesting the characteristic of the products, like “Habitat” for home furnishings products.
4. Arbitrary marks means mark which exist in popular vocabulary, but have no logical relationship to the goods or services for which they are used, like “Blackberry” for phones.
5. The invented/coined marks means coining a new word which has no dictionary meaning, like “Adidas”. The strongest marks, and thus the easiest to protect, are invented or arbitrary marks. The weaker marks are descriptive or suggestive marks which are very hard to protect. The weakest marks are generic marks which can never function as trademarks.

India follows the NICE Classification of Goods and Services for the purpose of registration of trademarks. The NICE Classification groups products into 45 classes (classes 1-34 include goods and classes 35-45 include services). The NICE Classification is recognized in majority of the countries and makes applying for trademarks internationally a streamlined process. Every startup, seeking to trademark a good or service, has to choose from the appropriate classes, out of the 45 classes.

While adopting any mark, the startup should also keep in mind and ensure that the mark is not being used by any other person in India or abroad, especially if the mark is well-known. It is important to note that India recognizes the concept of the “Well-known Trademark” and the principle of “Trans-border Reputation”. Examples of well-known trademarks are Google, Tata, Yahoo, Pepsi, Reliance, etc. Further, under the principle of “Trans-border Reputation”, India has afforded protection to trademarks like Apple, Gillette, Whirlpool, Volvo, which despite having no physical presence in India, are protected on the basis of their trans-border reputation in India.

ENFORCEMENT OF TRADEMARK RIGHTS

Trademarks can be protected under the statutory law, i.e., under the TM Act and the common law, i.e., under the remedy of passing off. If a person is using a similar mark for similar or related goods or services or is using a well-known mark, the other person can file a suit against that person for violation of the IP rights irrespective of the fact that the trademark is registered or not.

Registration of a trademark is not a pre-requisite in order to sustain a civil or criminal action against violation of trademarks in India. The prior adoption and use of the trademark is of utmost importance under trademark laws.

The relief which a court may usually grant in a suit for infringement or passing off includes permanent and interim injunction, damages or account of profits, delivery of the infringing goods for destruction and cost of the legal proceedings. It is pertinent to note that infringement of a trademark is also a cognizable offence and criminal proceedings can also be initiated against the infringers.

Geographical indication of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act; 1999

Until recently, Geographical indications were not registrable in India and in the absence of statutory protection; Indian geographical indications had been misused by persons outside India to indicate goods not originating from the named locality in India. Patenting turmeric, neem and basmati are the instances which drew a lot of attention towards this aspect of the Intellectual property. Mention should be made that under the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS), there is no obligation for other countries to extend reciprocal protection unless a geographical indication is protected in the country of its origin. India did not have such a specific law governing geographical indications of goods which could adequately protect the interest of producers of such goods.

To cover up such situations it became necessary to have a comprehensive legislation for registration and for providing adequate protection to geographical indications and accordingly the Parliament has passed a legislation, namely, the Geographical indication of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999. The legislation is administered through the Geographical Indication Registry under the overall charge of the Controller General of Patents, Designs and Trade Marks.

The salient features of this legislation are as under:

(a) Provision of definition of several important terms like “geographical indication”, “goods”, “producers”, “packages”, “registered proprietor”, “authorized user” etc.

(b) Provision for the maintenance of a Register of Geographical Indications in two parts-Part A and Part B and use of computers etc. for maintenance of such Register. While Part A will contain all registered geographical indications, Part B will contain particulars of registered authorized users.
(c) Registration of geographical indications of goods in specified classes.
(d) Prohibition of registration of certain geographical indications.
(e) Provisions for framing of rules by Central Government for filing of application, its contents and matters relating to substantive examination of geographical indication applications.
(f) Compulsory advertisement of all accepted geographical indication applications and for inviting objections.
(g) Registration of authorized users of registered geographical indications and providing provisions for taking infringement action either by a registered proprietor or an authorized user.
(h) Provisions for higher level of protection for notified goods.
(i) Prohibition of assignment etc. of a geographical indication as it is public property.
(j) Prohibition of registration of geographical indication as a trademark.
(k) Appeal against Registrar’s decision would be to the Intellectual Property Board established under the Trade Mark legislation.
(l) Provision relating to offences and penalties.
(m) Provision detailing the effects of registration and the rights conferred by registration.
(n) Provision for reciprocity powers of the registrar, maintenance of Index, protection of homonymous geographical indications etc.

DESIGNS ACT; 2000

In view of considerable progress made in the field of science and technology, a need was felt to provide more efficient legal system for the protection of industrial designs in order to ensure effective protection to registered designs, and to encourage design activity to promote the design element in an article of production. In this backdrop, The Designs Act of 1911 has been replaced by the Designs Act, 2000. The Designs Act, 2000 has been enacted essentially to balance these interests and to ensure that the law does not unnecessarily extend protection beyond what is necessary to create the required incentive for design activity while removing impediments to the free use of available designs.

The new Act complies with the requirements of TRIPS and hence is directly relevant for international trade.

Industrial Design law deals with the aesthetics or the original design of an industrial product. An industrial product usually contains elements of both art and craft, that is to say artistic as well as functional elements.

The design law excludes from its purview the functioning features of an article and grants protection only to those which have an aesthetic appeal. For example, the design of a teacup must have a hollow receptacle for holding tea and a handle to hold the cup. These are functional features that cannot be registered. But a fancy shape or ornamentation on it would be registrable. Similarly, a table, for example, would have a flat surface on which other objects can be placed. This is its functional element. But its shape, colour or the way it is supported by legs or otherwise, are all elements of design or artistic elements and therefore, registrable if unique and novel.

Today, industrial design has become an integral part of consumer culture where rival articles compete for consumer’s attention. It has become important therefore, to grant to an original industrial design adequate protection. It is not always easy to separate aesthetics of a finished article from its function. Law, however, requires that it is only the aesthetics or the design element which can be registered and protected. For example, while designing furniture whether for export or otherwise, when one copies designs from a catalogue, one has to ascertain that somebody else does not have a design right in that particular design.
Particularly, while exporting furniture, it is necessary to be sure that the design of the furniture is not registered either as a patent or design in the country of export. Otherwise, the exporter may get involved in unnecessary litigation and may face claims for damages. Conversely, if furniture of ethnic design is being exported, and the design is an original design complying with the requirements of the definition of ‘design’ under the Designs Act, it would be worthwhile having it registered in the country to which the product is being exported so that others may not imitate it and deprive the inventor of that design of the commercial benefits of his design.

The salient features of the Design Act, 2000 are as under:

(a) Enlarging the scope of definition of the terms “article”, “design” and introduction of definition of “original”.
(b) Amplifying the scope of “prior publication”.
(c) Introduction of provision for delegation of powers of the Controller to other officers and stipulating statutory duties of examiners.
(d) Provision of identification of non-registrable designs.
(e) Provision for substitution of applicant before registration of a design.
(f) Substitution of Indian classification by internationally followed system of classification.
(g) Provision for inclusion of a register to be maintained on computer as a Register of Designs.
(h) Provision for restoration of lapsed designs.
(i) Provisions for appeal against orders of the Controller before the High Court instead of Central Government.
(j) Revoking of period of secrecy of two years of a registered design.
(k) Providing for compulsory registration of any document for transfer of right in the registered design.
(l) Introduction of additional grounds in cancellation proceedings and provision for initiating the cancellation proceedings before the Controller in place of High Court.
(m) Enhancement of quantum of penalty imposed for infringement of a registered design.
(n) Provision for grounds of cancellation to be taken as defense in the infringement proceedings to be in any court not below the Court of District Judge.
(o) Enhancing initial period of registration from 5 to 10 years, to be followed by a further extension of five years.
(p) Provision for allowance of priority to other convention countries and countries belonging to the group of countries or inter-governmental organizations apart from United Kingdom and other Commonwealth Countries.
(q) Provision for avoidance of certain restrictive conditions for the control of anticompetitive practices in contractual licenses.

Copyrights

Copyrights protect original works of authorship, such as literary works, music, dramatic works, pantomimes and choreographic works, sculptural, pictorial, and graphic works, sound recordings, artistic works, architectural works, and computer software. With copyright protection, the holder has the exclusive rights to modify, distribute, perform, create, display, and copy the work.

In order to qualify under copyright laws, the work must be fixed in a tangible medium of expression, such as words on a piece of paper or music notes written on a sheet. A copyright exists from the moment the work gets created, so registration is required to provide proper protection to one’s work and also to prevent the chances of its misuse and unauthorized use.

Copyright in India is governed by Copyright Act, 1957. This Act has been amended several times to keep pace with the changing times. As per this Act, copyright grants author’s lifetime coverage plus 60 years after death. Copyright and related rights on cultural goods, products and services, arise from individual or collective creativity. All original intellectual creations expressed in a reproducible form will be connected as “works eligible for copyright protections”. Copyright laws distinguish between different classes of works such as literary, artistic, musical works and sound recordings and cinematograph films. The work is protected irrespective of the quality thereof and also when it may have very little in common with accepted forms of literature or art.

Copyright protection also includes novel rights which involve the right to claim authorship of a work, and the right to oppose changes to it that could harm the creator’s reputation. The creator or the owner of the copyright in a work, can enforce his right administratively and in the courts by inspection of premises for evidence of production or possession of illegally made “pirated” goods related to protected works. The owner may obtain court orders to stop such activities, as well as seek damages for loss of financial rewards and recognition.

A vital field which gets copyright protection is the computer industry. The Copyright Act, 1957, was amended in 1984 and computer programming was included with the definition of “literary work.” The new definition of “computer programme” introduced in 1994, means a set of instructions expressed in works, codes or in any other form, including a machine readable medium, capable of causing a computer to perform a particular task or achieve a particular result.

The greatest fear and challenges to the copyright industry is the piracy of works whether, books, musical works, films, television programmes or computer software or computer database. The special nature of infringement of copyrights in computer programmes has again been taken note of by the Copyright (Amendment) Act, 1994 by inserting a new section 63 B. The new section provides that any person who knowingly makes use on a computer of an infringed copy of a computer programme will be punishable with imprisonment for a term of not less than seven days, which may extend to three years and with a fine of not less than ` 50,000/- and which may extend to ` 2,00,000/-. Proviso to section 63 B, however, provides that where computer programme has not been used for gain or in the course of trade or business, the court may at its discretion and for reasons mentioned in the judgement not impose any sentence of imprisonment and impose only fine up to ` 50,000/-.

The Copyright (Amendment) Act, 1999 makes it free for purchaser of a gadget/equipment to sell it onwards if the item being transacted is not the main item covered under the Copyright Act. This means computer software which is built in the integral part of a gadget/equipment can be freely transacted without permission of copyright owner. This amendment also ensures fair dealing of ‘broadcasting’ gaining popularity with the growth of the Internet. With this amendment India has updated the Act to meet the concerns of the copyright industries mainly consisting of Book Industry, Music Industry, Film and Television Industry, Computer Industry and Database Industry.

The Copyright Act, 1957 amended in 2012 with the object of making certain changes for clarity, to remove operational difficulties and also to address certain newer issues that have emerged in the context of digital technologies and the Internet. Moreover, the main object to amendments the Act is that in the knowledge society in which we live today, it is imperative to encourage creativity for promotion of culture of enterprise and innovation so that creative people realize their potential and it is necessary to keep pace with the challenges for a fast growing knowledge and modern society.

Classes of work for which Copyright protection is applicable

Copyright subsists throughout India in the following classes of works:

- Original literary,
- dramatic,
• musical work (consists of music and also graphic notation of such works but excludes any words or action intended to be sung, spoken or performed with music)
• artistic works (painting, sculpture, drawing, engraving, photograph, architecture or any other work of artistic craftsmanship (whether or not any such work poses artistic work)
• Cinematograph films (work of visual recording on any medium produced through a process from which a moving image may be produced by any means and includes a sound recording accompanying such visual recording); and
• Sound recordings (recording of sounds from which sounds may be produced regardless of the medium on which such recording is made or the method by which the sounds are produced).

Protection to Authors
Copyright protects the rights of authors, i.e., creators of intellectual property in the form of literary, musical, dramatic and artistic works and cinematograph films and sound recordings.

The following rights are protected:
• reproduce the work
• issue copies of the work to the public
• perform the work in public
• communicate the work to the public.
• make cinematograph film or sound recording in respect of the work
• make any translation of the work
• make any adaptation of the work (conversion of dramatic work into non-dramatic work, literary work into dramatic work, re-arrangement of literary or dramatic work, depiction in comic form or through pictures of a literary or dramatic work, transcription of musical work or any act involving rearrangement or alteration of an existing work and the making of a cinematograph film of literary or dramatic or musical work)

In addition to all the rights applicable to a literary work, owner of the copyright in a computer programme enjoys the rights to sell or give on hire or offer for sale or hire, regardless of whether such a copy has been sold or given on hire on earlier occasion.

Owners of copyrights
The following are the owners of the copyrights:
• In musical sound recordings: lyricist, composer, singer, musician and the person or company who produced the sound recording
• In works by journalists during their employment: in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the proprietor
• In works produced for valuable consideration at the instance of another person: in the absence of any agreement to the contrary, the person at whose instance the work is produced

Assignment of Copyright
The owner of the copyright in an existing work or the prospective owner of the copyright in a future work may assign to any person the copyright either wholly or partially and either generally or subject to limitations and either for the whole term of the copyright or any part thereof. The assignment mention the rights, duration, the territorial limits of the assignment and the royalty payable thereon and should be in writing signed by the assignor or by his duly authorized agent.
If the assignment of Copyright does not contain any provision mentioned below, then the following provisions prescribed by the Act will prevail.

Term of the protection of Copyright

The general rule is that copyright lasts for 60 years. In the case of original literary, dramatic, musical and artistic works the 60-year period is counted from the year following the death of the author. In the case of cinematograph films, sound recordings, photographs, posthumous publications, anonymous and pseudonymous publications, works of government and works of international organisations, the 60-year period is counted from the date of publication.

Exceptions to the use Copyright

In order to protect the interests of users, some exemptions have been prescribed in respect of specific uses of works enjoying copyright. Some of the exemptions are the uses of the work:

- for the purpose of research or private study,
- for criticism or review,
- for reporting current events,
- in connection with judicial proceeding,
- performance by an amateur club or society if the performance is given to a non-paying audience, and
- the making of sound recordings of literary, dramatic or musical works under certain conditions.
- for the purpose of education and religious ceremonies

Application for registration of copyright

The procedure for registration is as follows:

- Application for registration is to be made in Form IV as prescribed in the first schedule to the Rules accompanied by the requisite fees prescribed in the second schedule to the Rules;
- Separate applications should be made for registration of each work;
- The applications should be signed by the applicant or the advocate in whose favor a Vakalatnama or Power of Attorney has been executed, and the same has to be annexed to the application form.

Administration of the Copyright Law

The Copyright Act provides for a quasi-judicial body called the Copyright Board consisting of a Chairman and two or more, but not exceeding fourteen, other members for adjudicating certain kinds of copyright cases. The Chairman of the Board is of the level of a judge of a High Court. The Board has the power to:

- hear appeals against the orders of the Registrar of Copyright;
- hear applications for rectification of entries in the Register of Copyrights;
Lesson 16 ■ Intellectual Property laws (Provisions applicable for Setting up of Business) 365

- adjudicate upon disputes on assignment of copyright;
- grant compulsory licence to publish or republish works (in certain circumstances);
- grant compulsory licence to produce and publish a translation of a literary or dramatic work in any language after a period of seven years from the first publication of the work;
- hear and decide disputes as to whether a work has been published or about the date of publication or about the term of copyright of a work in another country;
- fix rates of royalties in respect of sound recordings under the cover-version provision; and
- fix the resale share right in original copies of a painting, a sculpture or a drawing and of original manuscripts of a literary or dramatic or musical work.

Rights of the Registrar of Copyrights

The Registrar of Copyrights has the powers of a civil court when trying a suit under the Code of Civil Procedure in respect of the following matters, namely,
- summoning and enforcing the attendance of any person and examining him on oath;
- requiring the discovery and production of any document;
- receiving evidence on affidavit;
- issuing commissions for the examination of witnesses or documents;
- requisitioning any public record or copy thereof from any court or office;
- any other matters which may be prescribed.

Infringement of Copyright

Copyright in a work is considered as infringed only if a substantial part is made use of unauthorized. What is 'substantial' varies from case to case. More often than not, it is a matter of quality rather than quantity.

For example, if a lyricist copy a very catching phrase from another lyricist's song, there is likely to be infringement even if that phrase is very short.

The following are some of the commonly known acts involving infringement of copyright:
- Making infringing copies for sale or hire or selling or letting them for hire;
- Permitting any place for the performance of works in public where such performance constitutes infringement of copyright;
- Distributing infringing copies for the purpose of trade or to such an extent so as to affect prejudicially the interest of the owner of copyright;
- Public exhibition of infringing copies by way of trade; and
- Importation of infringing copies into India.

A copyright owner can take legal action against any person who infringes the copyright and is entitled to remedies by way of injunctions, damages and accounts.

Penalty for infringement and the status of the infringing copies

The minimum punishment for infringement of copyright is imprisonment for six months with the minimum fine of `50,000/-`. In the case of a second and subsequent conviction the minimum punishment is imprisonment for one year and fine of Rs. one lakh.
All infringing copies of any work in which copyright subsists and all plates used or intended to be used for the production of such infringing copies shall be deemed to be the property of the owner of the copyright.

Patents

A patent grants property rights on an invention, allowing the patent holder to exclude others from making, selling, or using the invention. Inventions allow many businesses to be successful because they develop new or better processes or products that offer competitive advantage on the marketplace. One could get a patent by filing a patent application with the Patent Office in India.

Patent, in general parlance means, a monopoly given to the inventor on his invention to commercial use and exploit that invention in the market, to the exclusion of other, for a certain period. As per Section 2(1) (j) of the Patents Act, 1970, “invention” includes any new and useful;

- art, process, method or manner of manufacture;
- machine, apparatus or other article;
- substance produced by manufacture, and includes any new and useful improvement of any of them, and an alleged invention;

The definition of the word “Invention” in the Patents Act, 1970 includes the new product as well as new process. Therefore, a patent can be applied for the “Product” as well as “Process” which is new, involving inventive step and capable of industrial application can be patented in India.

The invention will not be considered new if it has been disclosed to the public in India or anywhere else in the world by a written or oral description or by use or in any other way before the filing date of the patent application. The information appearing in magazines, technical journals, books etc, will also constitute the prior knowledge. If the invention is already a part of the state of the art, a patent cannot be granted. Examples of such disclosure are displaying of products in exhibitions, trade fairs, etc. explaining its working, and similar disclosures in an article or a publication.

It is important to note that any invention which falls into the following categories, is not patentable: (a) frivolous, (b) obvious, (c) contrary to well established natural laws, (d) contrary to law, (e) morality, (f) injurious to public health, (g) a mere discovery of a scientific principle, (h) the formulation of an abstract theory, (i) a mere discovery of any new property or new use for a known substance or process, machine or apparatus, (j) a substance obtained by a mere admixture resulting only in the aggregation of the properties of the components thereof or a process for producing such substance, (k) a mere arrangement or rearrangement or duplication of known devices, (l) a method of agriculture or horticulture, and (m) inventions relating to atomic energy or the inventions which are known or used by any other person, or used or sold to any person in India or outside India. The application for the grant of patent can be made by either the inventor or by the assignee or legal representative of the inventor. In India, the term of the patent is for 20 years. The patent is renewed every year from the date of patent.

Use of Technology or Invention

While using any technology or invention, the startup should check and confirm that it does not violate any patent right of the patentee. If the startup desires to use any patented invention or technology, the startup is required to obtain a license from the patentee.

Enforcement of Patent Rights

It is pertinent to note that the patent infringement proceedings can only be initiated after grant of patent in India but may include a claim retrospectively from the date of publication of the application for grant of the patent. Infringement of a patent consists of the unauthorized making, importing, using, offering for sale or selling any patented invention within the India. Under the (Indian) Patents Act, 1970 only a civil action can be initiated in a Court of Law. Like trademarks, the relief which a court may usually grant in a suit for infringement of patent includes permanent and interim injunction, damages or account of profits, delivery of the infringing goods for destruction and cost of the legal proceedings.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- Intellectual property (IP) refers to the creations of the human mind like inventions, literary and artistic works, and symbols, names, images and designs used in commerce.

- Intellectual property is divided into two categories: Industrial property, which includes inventions (patents), trademarks, industrial designs, and geographic indications of source; and Copyright, which includes literary and artistic works, such as, novels, poems and plays, films, musical works, artistic works such as drawings, paintings, photographs and sculptures, and architectural designs.

- Rights related to copyright include those of performing artists in their performances, producers of phonograms in their recordings, and those of broadcasters in their radio and television programs.

- Intellectual property rights protect the interests of creators by giving them property rights over their creations.

- Over the past fifteen years, intellectual property rights have grown to a stature from where it plays a major role in the development of the global economy.

- It is strongly felt that under the global competitive environment, stronger IPR protection increases incentives for innovation and raises returns to international technology transfer.

- In 2016, India released its comprehensive National IP Policy, with its primary focus being on awareness and building administrative capacity.

- A trademark is a word, phrase, symbol, or design that distinguishes the source of products (trademarks) or services (service marks) of one business from its competitors. In order to qualify for patent protection, the mark must be distinctive. For example, the Nike “swoosh” design identifies athletic footwear made by Nike.

- The Trade Marks Act 1999 (“TM Act”) provides, inter alia, for registration of marks, filing of multiclass applications, the renewable term of registration of a trademark as ten years as well as recognition of the concept of well-known marks, etc. It is pertinent to note that the letter “R” in a circle i.e. ® with a trademark can only be used after the registration of the trademark under the TM Act.

- Mention should be made that under the Agreement on Trade Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights (TRIPS), there is no obligation for other countries to extend reciprocal protection unless a geographical indication is protected in the country of its origin. India did not have such a specific law governing geographical indications of goods which could adequately protect the interest of producers of such goods.

- To cover up such situations it became necessary to have a comprehensive legislation for registration and for providing adequate protection to geographical indications and accordingly the Parliament has passed a legislation, namely, the Geographical indication of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999. The legislation is administered through the Geographical Indication Registry under the overall charge of the Controller General of Patents, Designs and Trade Marks.

- In view of considerable progress made in the field of science and technology, a need was felt to provide more efficient legal system for the protection of industrial designs in order to ensure effective protection to registered designs, and to encourage design activity to promote the design element in an article of production.

- The Designs Act, 2000 has been enacted essentially to balance these interests and to ensure that the law does not unnecessarily extend protection beyond what is necessary to create the required incentive for design activity while removing impediments to the free use of available designs.
- The new Act complies with the requirements of TRIPS and hence is directly relevant for international trade.
- Industrial Design law deals with the aesthetics or the original design of an industrial product. An industrial product usually contains elements of both art and craft, that is to say artistic as well as functional elements.
- In order to qualify under copyright laws, the work must be fixed in a tangible medium of expression, such as words on a piece of paper or music notes written on a sheet. A copyright exists from the moment the work gets created, so registration is required to provide proper protection to one’s work and also to prevent the chances of its misuse and unauthorized use.
- Copyright in India is governed by Copyright Act, 1957.
- Patent, in general parlance means, a monopoly given to the inventor on his invention to commercial use and exploit that invention in the market, to the exclusion of other, for a certain period.

Emploeees’ State Insurance Act, 1948

Applicability of the Act

It is extended in area-wise to factories using power and employing 10 or more persons and to non-power using manufacturing units and establishments employing 20 or more person up to Rs.7500/- per month with effect from 1.4.2004. It has also been extended upon shops, hotels, restaurants, roads motor transport undertakings, equipment maintenance staff in the hospitals.

Registration under ESIC Act

Registration is the process by which every employer of an establishment/company/organization and its every employee who are employed for wage purposes are identified for the purpose of this ESIC Scheme and their individual records are set up for them.

- The first stage in this process is to obtain the particulars about each factory/shop/establishment that can be covered under ESIC Act.
- Thereafter to identifying such an organization, allotment of a number i.e. Code No. is carried out by the Regional Office.
- The above mentioned process helps in maintaining track of contributions/assistance payable/paid and the associated obligations of the employers.
- Consequent step is the registration of employees of covered factories by the Regional Office and identifying such individuals by allotment of a number i.e., insurance number.

This procedure facilitates in setting up essential records for documenting the benefits for which the insured employee may be entitled under this ESIC Scheme based on the eligibility criteria.

An individual record of every employer/employee will facilitate smooth conversion in future from time to time. It will operate as a regulator and keep a proper track for maintaining the records for the purpose of obtaining compliance from the employers and providing benefits to concerned insured persons.

Registration of Employers

Section 2A of the ESI Act states as under:

- 2A. Registration of factories and establishments-Every factory or establishment to which this Act applies shall be registered within such time and in such manner as may be specified in the regulations made in this behalf.

As a follow-up of this provision in the Act, Regulation 10B has been inserted in the ESI (General) Regulations, 1950. This regulation is as follows:
Lesson 17  ●  Compliances under Labour Laws  383

10B – Registration of factories or establishments

- The employer in respect of a factory or establishment to which the Act applies for the first time and to which an Employers’ Code No. is not yet allotted and the employer in respect of a factory or an establishment to which the Act previously applied but has ceased to apply for the time being, shall furnish to the appropriate Regional Officer not later than 15 days after the Act becomes applicable, as the case may be, to the factory or establishment, a declaration of registration in writing in form 01 (hereinafter referred to as employers’ registration form).

- The employer shall be responsible for the correctness of all the particulars and information required to be furnished on the employer’s registration form.

- The appropriate Regional Office may direct the employer who fails to comply with the requirements of paragraph (a) of this regulation within the time stated therein, to furnish to that office employer’s registration form duly completed within such further time as may be specified and such employer shall, thereupon, comply with the instructions issued by that office in this behalf.

- Upon receipt of the completed employer’s registration form, the appropriate Regional Office shall, if satisfied that the factory or the establishment is one to which the Act applies, allot to it an employer’s code number (unless the factory or the establishment has already been allotted an employer’s code number) and shall inform the employer of that number.

- The employer shall enter the employer’s code number on all documents prepared or completed by him/her in connection with the Act the rules and these regulations and in all correspondence with the appropriate office.

Advantages for employers

- Employers are absolved of all their liabilities of providing medical benefits to their employees and their family members or dependants in kind or in the form of fixed cash allowance, lump-sum grant, reimbursement of actual expenses, or opting for any other medical insurance policy of limited scope unless it is a contractual obligation of the employer.

- Employers are granted exemption pertaining to the applicability of Maternity Benefit Act, Workmens’ Compensation Act etc. in respect of employees covered under the ESIC Scheme.

- This results in employers possessing a productive and well-secured workforce, at their disposal which is an essential ingredient for better productivity of an organization.

- Employers are absolved of any responsibility in times of physical distress of their employees or workers such as employment injury, sickness or physical disablement thereby resulting in loss of wages since the responsibility of paying cash benefits shifts from the employer to the ESIC Corporation in respect of insured employees.

- Any amount or sum paid by way of contribution under the ESIC Act is deducted in computing ‘Income’ under the Income Tax Act.

Coverage of factory/establishment

In the first instance, this Act is applicable to all non-seasonal factories utilizing power and employing ten or more individuals, as well as is applicable to non-power using manufacturing organizations and establishments employing 20 or more persons for wages and falling under the ambit of an implemented geographical area. As of now, employees of establishments, companies or factories that fall within the ambit of coverage and earning wages not exceeding Rs. 10,000/- per month are covered under this ESIC Scheme.

Under Section 1(5) of the Act, the provisions of ESIC Act have been extended to the following classes of establishments:
• Shops and Commercial establishments
• Cinemas, including preview theatres
• Hotels & Restaurants
• Clubs
• Newspaper establishments
• Road Motor Transport establishments

Under Section 1(5) of the ESIC Act, the Indian Government is empowered to extend the Scheme to any other establishment or class of establishments, commercial, industrial, agricultural or otherwise, with the passage of time. A State Government may extend the provisions of this Act in consultation with the ESIC and with the prior approval of the Central Government, after submitting six months’ notice of its intention in the official gazette; provided that where the provisions of this Act have been brought into force or implemented in any part of State, the said provisions shall stand extended to any such establishment or class of establishments within that part, if such provisions have already been extended to similar establishments or class of establishments in another part of that same State.

Finances

This ECIS Scheme is primarily funded by contributions raised from insured employees and their employers in the implemented areas across India as a small but specified percentage of wages payable to such employees. Employees in receipt of an average daily wage of Rs 40/- or less are exempted from payment of their share of contribution but are entitled to all social security benefits under this scheme.

The contribution rates are as follows:

- Employees’ contribution – 1.75 % of wages
- Employers’ contribution – 4.75 % of wages

Under the provisions of this Act, the State Governments contribute 12.5 percent of expenditure on medical expenses incurred on ESIC beneficiaries in their respective States within the per capita ceiling. Any expenditure exceeding this ceiling is borne entirely by the respective state governments.

The contributions made by employees and their employers are deposited in a common pool known as the ESIC Fund that is utilized for payment of cash benefits to the insured persons and their family members including dependants in addition to providing medical facilities to the beneficiaries under this scheme. The administrative and other expenses of the Corporation are also met from this pool fund.

Exemptions

The provisions of the ESIC Act are not applicable to factories or establishments under the control of Central Government / State Governments because such employees working with PSUs are in receipt of social security benefits that are substantially similar or superior to the benefits provided under the ESIC Act. The case of each such Public Sector Undertaking (PSU), is decided on merit by comparing the quality and quantity of benefits being provided to the employees by the concerned managements with those being conferred and admissible under the ESIC Act.

Contributions

The amount payable to the Corporation by the Principal Employer in respect of an employee is termed as Contribution. It comprises the amount payable by the employee and the employer.

It is obligatory on the part of the employer to calculate and remit ESIC contribution that comprises of employers’ share 4.75% plus employees’ share of 1.75% that needs to be paid on or before 21st of the following month to the month to which the salary is related. For example suppose if an employee who draws up to Rs.70/- as daily average wage, then such an employee is granted exemption from payment of his/her share of contribution. The employer is however required to pay employer’s share of 4.75% of the salary receivable by the employee.

Contribution period

1st April to 30th September.

1st October to 31st March

E.g. If the person joined insurance employment for the first time, say on 5th January, his first contribution period will be from 5th January to 31st March and his corresponding first benefit will be from 5th October to 31st December.

Recovery of contribution

In the first instance the Principal Employer is required to pay employers’ share of contribution in respect of every employee whether employed directly or through immediate employer. The employees’ share may thereafter, be recovered by making deduction from their wages for the wage period for which their contribution is made, however is payable. No such deduction may be made from any wages to their employees other than those relating to the period in respect in which contribution is payable.

Medical Benefit

The ESIC Scheme provides wide-ranging variety of medical treatment to insured individual and their dependents (including their family members). This is made possible through a network of ESIC Dispensaries & Panel Clinics, Diagnostic Centers and ESIC Hospitals etc. Super-specially medical facilities are provided to the beneficiaries through advanced super-specially medical institutions that are recognized and empaneled for the purpose on referral basis. The ESIC has set up a Revolving Fund in most of the States across India for ensuring smooth flow of funds for facilitating super-specially treatments of ESIC beneficiaries.

All the insured individuals and their dependents including their family members under ESIC scheme are entitled to free, full and comprehensive medical care under the ECIS Scheme. The Medical benefit package covers all aspects of healthcare ranging from primary to super-specialty facilities.

Sickness Benefit

Sickness Benefit represents cash payments made to an insured person periodically during the period of certified sickness occurring in a benefit period when insured person undergoes medical treatment and attendance with abstention from work on valid medical grounds.

The maximum duration of Sickness Benefit is 91 days in two consecutive benefit periods. However, there is a waiting period of 2 days which is waived if the insured person is certified sick within 15 days of the spell for which sickness benefit was last paid. The sickness benefit rate is approximately equivalent to 50% of the average daily wages of the insured person.

Extended Sickness Benefit

After exhausting the Sickness Benefit payable up to 91 days, an insured person if suffering from Cancer, Tuberculosis, Leprosy, Mental or malignant diseases or any other specified long-term ailment, then such an employee is entitled to Extended Sickness Benefit at a higher cash benefit rate of about 70% of average daily wage for a period of two years.

Enhanced Sickness Benefit

For undergoing sterilization operations for the purpose of family planning, insured persons are eligible to Enhanced Sickness Benefit which is double the rate of sickness benefit.
Maternity Benefit (Section 50 of ESI Act)

Maternity benefit comprises of periodical cash payments to an insured woman as certified by a duly appointed medical officer or mid wife in cases such as confinement or miscarriage or sickness arising on account of pregnancy, confinement, premature birth of child or miscarriage.

Disablement Benefit

Disablement benefit is admissible for disablement that is caused by employment injury. At the first instance, Temporary Disablement Benefit (TDB) is payable as long as the temporary disability lasts. If the employment injury results in partial or total/permanent disability, then Permanent Disablement Benefit (PDB) is payable till the death of the insured individual.

No contributory conditions have been prescribed for this benefit.

Dependent Benefit

Dependants’ benefit consists of periodical payments to dependents or family members of an insured individual who dies on account of an employment injury sustained as an employee under the ESIC Act. There are no contributory conditions or any criteria in order to qualify for such benefits. Thus, in case in an unfortunate or unforeseen incident suppose even if an individual dies of employment injury even on the first day of his employment, his dependants or family members are entitled to the aforesaid benefit.

Funeral Expenses

The funeral expenses are made to meet the expenditure incurred on the funeral of deceased insured individual. This amount is paid either to the eldest surviving member of the family or in his/her absence to that individual who actually incurs the funeral expenses.

Penalties

Different punishment have been prescribed for different types of offences in terms of Section 85: (I) (six months imprisonment and fine ₹5000), (ii) (one year imprisonment and fine), and 85-A: (five years imprisonment and not less to 2 years) and 85-C (2) of the ESI Act, which are self-explanatory. Besides these provisions, action also can be taken under section 406 of the IPC in cases where an employer deducts contributions from the wages of his employees but does not pay the same to the corporation which amounts to criminal breach of trust.

Strikes and Lockouts

Strike as per section 2 (q) means “a cessation of work by a body of persons employed in any industry acting in combination or a concerted refusal under a common understanding of any number of persons who are or have been so employed, to continue to work or to accept employment”. Mere stoppage of work does not come within the meaning of strike unless it can be shown that such stoppage of work was a concerted action for the enforcement of an industrial demand.

Lockout as per section 2(1) means “the temporary closing of a place of employment, or the suspension of work, or the refusal by an employer to continue to employ any number of persons employed by him”. Lockout is the antithesis of strike.

• It is a weapon of the employer while strike is that of the workers.

• Just as a strike is a weapon in the hands of the workers for enforcing their industrial demands, lockout is a weapon available to the employer to force the employees to see his points of view and to accept his demands.

• The Industrial Dispute Act does not intend to take away these rights.

• However, the rights of strikes and lockouts have been restricted to achieve the purpose of the Act, namely peaceful investigation and settlement of the industrial disputes.

Procedure of Strikes

According to Sec. 22(1) No person employed in a public utility service shall go on strike in breach of contract-

(b) Within fourteen days of giving such notice; or

(c) Before the expiry of the date of strike specified in any such notice as aforesaid; or

(d) During the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings.

Procedure of Lockouts

(a) Without giving to the employer notice of Lockout, as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before lockout; or

(b) Within fourteen days of giving such notice; or

(c) Before the expiry of the date of lockout specified in any such notice as aforesaid; or
(d) During the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings.

Notice of lock-out or strike

According to Sec. 22 (3) the notice of lock-out or strike under this section shall not be necessary where there is already in existence a strike or, as the case may be, lock-out in the public utility service.

Prohibits an employer from declaring a lockout in any of the eventualities mentioned therein (Section 22(2) of the Industrial Disputes Act 1947)

No employer carrying on any public utility service shall lock-out any of his workman

a. Without giving them notice of lock-out as hereinafter provided, within six weeks before locking-out; or

b. Within fourteen days of giving such notice; or

c. Before the expiry of the date of lock-out specified in any such notice as aforesaid; or

d. During the pendency of any conciliation proceedings before a conciliation officer and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings.

Legal strikes and Lockouts (Section 24 of ID Act 1947)

- A strike or a lockout shall be illegal, if employers or worker who ever disobeys or fails to follow [Sec 22, 23, 10(3), 10-A (4-A)] for commencing strikes or lockout, those strikes and lockout are said to illegal.

- A lock-out declared in consequence of an illegal strike or a strike declared in consequence of an illegal lock-out shall not be deemed to be illegal.

General Prohibition of Strikes and Lock-Outs

No workman who is employed in any industrial establishment shall go on strike in breach of contract and no employer of any such workman shall declare a lock-out--

a. During the pendency of conciliation proceedings before a Board and seven days after the conclusion of such proceedings;

b. During the pendency of proceedings before a Labour Court, Tribunal or National Tribunal] and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings;

bb) During the pendency of arbitration proceedings before an arbitrator and two months after the conclusion of such proceedings, where a notification has been issued under sub- section (3A) of section 10A; or [10A. Voluntary reference of disputes to arbitration]

(c) During any period in which a settlement or award is in operation, in respect of any of the matters covered by the settlement or award.

No notice of strike and lockout is necessary in industrial establishments except in public utility services.

Penalty for illegal strikes and lock-outs

As per Section-26 of the Industrial Dispute Act 1947, the Penalty for illegal strikes and lock-outs is as below-

1. Any workman who commences, continues or otherwise acts in furtherance of, a strike which is illegal under this Act, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to fifty rupees, or with both.

2. Any employer who commences, continues, or otherwise acts in furtherance of a lock-out which is illegal under this Act, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one month, or with fine which may extend to one thousand rupees, or with both.
Lay-Offs

According to section 25A of chapter VA of Industrial Dispute Act 1947, certain establishments do not have any provisions relating to layoff of the employees by the employer. In such circumstances, layoff would be considered without any authority of law.

Such establishments are:

i. Industrial establishments in which less than 50 workmen are employed, on an average per working day.

ii. Industrial establishments which are of a seasonal character and in which work is performed only intermittently.

Employees employed in the above said establishments do not have right for laid-off compensation. However if there is any agreement between employer and employee for that purpose or on the grounds of social justice, laid-off competition can be paid.

Except above said industrial establishments, all other industrial establishments (50 workmen and above industrial establishments which are not of seasonal character) have provisions relating to lay off of the employees by the employer.

Right of Compensation by workmen laid-off

As per Section 25-C, workman has right to lay-off compensation subject to the following conditions, they are:

i. Workman name should be borne on muster rolls of the establishment and he/she is not a badli workman or a casual workman; and

ii. The workman should have completed not less than one year continuous service as defined under Section 25-B; and

iii. The workman should have laid-off, continuously or intermittently;

iv. Then the workman shall be entitled to lay-off compensation for all days during which he was so laid-off;

v. However, the workman shall not be paid lay-off compensation for such weekly holidays as may intervene the period of lay-off.

vi. The lay-off compensation is equal to 50% of the total of the basic wages and dearness allowance that would have been payable to him, if he had not been so laid off.

Explanation: "Badli workman" means a workman who is employed in an industrial establishment in the place of another workman whose name is borne on the muster rolls of the establishment, but shall cease to be regarded as such for the purposes of this section, if he has completed one year of continuous service in the establishment.

Maximum days allowed to Layoff of employee by employer

According to section 25C of Industry and dispute Act 1947, maximum days allowed to Layoff of employee by employer is 45 days, for those days, employee who is laid-off is entitled for compensation equal to 50% of the total of the basic wages and dearness allowance that would have been payable to him, had he not been so laid off.

However, if this contingency is prolonging beyond a reasonable time, say 45 days, it would be matter of serious concern both to the employer and to the workmen because both of them are put to a loss of 50% wages i.e. The employer is required pay lay-off compensation without extracting work from workmen and workmen too, would be losing 50% wages which he would have earned had he not been so laid-off. Therefore the parties can enter into an agreement not to continue lay-off after a period of 45 days in a year.
Workmen not entitled to compensation in certain cases (Section 25E)

(i) If he refuses to accept any alternative employment in the same establishment from which he has been laid off, or in any other establishment belonging to the same employer situate in the same town or village or situate within a radius of five miles from the establishment to which he belongs, if, in the opinion of the employer, such alternative employment does not call for any special skill or previous experience and can be done by the workman, provided that the wages which would normally have been paid to the workman are offered for the alternative employment also;

(ii) If he does not present himself for work at the establishment at the appointed time during normal working hours at least once a day;

(iii) If such laying-off is due to a strike or slowing-down of production on the part of workmen in another part of the establishment.

Retrenchment

As per Section 2(oo) - “retrenchments” means the termination by the employer of the service of a workman for any reason whatsoever, otherwise than as a punishment inflicted by way of disciplinary action but does not include-

(a) Voluntary retirement of the workman; or

(b) Retirement of the workman on reaching the age of superannuation if the contract of employment between the employer and the workman concerned contains a stipulation in that behalf; or

43[(bb) Termination of the service of the workman as a result of the non-renewal of the contract of employment between the employer and the workman concerned on its expiry or of such contract being terminated under a stipulation on that behalf contained therein; or]

(c) Termination of the service of a workman on the ground of continued ill-health;

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

With the recognition of Right to a Healthy Environment as a human right under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and its related covenants, measures are taken at full force to enforce these rights and guard the right to environment at parity. With the endowed protection to environment under the Constitution and some specific Statutes, all the persons, be it natural or legal, including a Company, owes a duty to conduct themselves in such a manner that their act or omission should not pollute the environment. Therefore, a company is necessitated to abide by various laws in order to protect the environment. A brief list of the statutory protection to environment is discussed in this chapter.
INTRODUCTION

India’s economic development propelled by rapid industrial growth and urbanization is causing severe environmental problems that have local, regional and global significance. Recognizing the need for regulating the factors which are affecting environment, Government of India has established an environmental legal and institutional system to meet these challenges within the overall framework of India’s development agenda and international principles and norms. Legal Framework India has an elaborate legal framework with number of laws relating to environmental protection. Along with specific laws regulating environment, Indian Constitution also directs few directives in the ensuring protection of the environment at priority. Article 48A of Indian Constitution, which is a Directive Principles of State Policy, enjoins the State to make endeavour for protection and improvement of the environment and for safeguarding the forest and wildlife of the country. This articles was inserted by 42nd Amendment Act, in force with January 3rd 1977. Apart from this Article 51-A (G), also inserted by 42nd Amendment Act, 1976 states that “It shall be the duty of every citizen of India to protect and improve the natural environment including forests, lakes, rivers and wildlife and to have compassion for living creatures. In addition, our association with the international charters too support a fortified environment regulations in India.

Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974

The Water Prevention and Control of Pollution Act, 1974 (the “Water Act”) has been enacted to provide for the prevention and control of water pollution and to maintain or restore wholesomeness of water in the country. It further provides for the establishment of Boards for the prevention and control of water pollution with a view to carry out the aforesaid purposes. The Water Act prohibits the discharge of pollutants into water bodies beyond a given standard, and lays down penalties for non-compliance. At the Centre, the Water Act has set up the CPCB which lays down standards for the prevention and control of water pollution. At the State level, SPCBs function under the direction of the CPCB and the State Government.

Further, the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Cess Act was enacted in 1977 to provide for the levy and collection of a cess on water consumed by persons operating and carrying on certain types of industrial activities. This cess is collected with a view to augment the resources of the Central Board and the State Boards for the prevention and control of water pollution constituted under the Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974. The Act was last amended in 2003.

It necessitate to:

- Provide information to the SPCB
- Provide access to the SPCB for taking samples
- Allow entry to the SPCB to ascertain that the provisions of the Act are being compiled with.
Responsibilities:

- Obtain “Consent to Establish”
- Obtain “Consent to Operate”
- Apply for renewal of the “Consent to Operate” before the expiry of validity period
- Consent to be deemed as granted automatically and unconditionally after four months from the date of application already given or refused before this period
- Refusal of “Consent” to be recorded in writing
- Pay Water Cess as indicated in the assessment order
- Affix water meters of the prescribed standards
- Provide access to SPCB
- Pay interest in case of delay in paying the Water Cess
- Pay penalty for non-payment of Cess
- Industry is entitled to 25% rebate if meeting certain conditions.

AIR (PREVENTION AND CONTROL OF POLLUTION) ACT, 1981

The Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981 (the “Air Act”) is an act to provide for the prevention, control and abatement of air pollution and for the establishment of Boards at the Central and State levels with a view to carrying out the aforesaid purposes.

To counter the problems associated with air pollution, ambient air quality standards were established under the Air Act. The Air Act seeks to combat air pollution by prohibiting the use of polluting fuels and substances, as well as by regulating appliances that give rise to air pollution. The Air Act empowers the State Government, after consultation with the SPCBs, to declare any area or areas within the State as air pollution control area or areas. Under the Act, establishing or operating any industrial plant in the pollution control area requires consent from SPCBs. SPCBs are also expected to test the air in air pollution control areas, inspect pollution control equipment, and manufacturing processes.

Under this statute, one has to comply,

- Comply with the conditions in the “Consent to Establish” or “Consent to Operate”
- Not to discharge air pollutant(s) in excess of the prescribed standards
- Furnish information to the SPCB of any accident or unforeseen act or event
- Allow entry to the SPCB to ascertain that provisions of the Act are being complied with
- Provide information to enable SPCB to implement the Act
- Provide access to the SPCB for taking samples
- Comply with the directions issued in writing by the SPCB
- Obtain “Consent to Establish”
- Obtain “Consent to Operate”
- Apply for the renewal of “Consent to Operate” before expiry of the validity period
- Consent to be deemed as granted after four months from the date of receipt of application if no communication from the SPCB is received
• A prior “Notice of Inspection” to be served by the SPCB
• Industry to ensure that specified emission sampling procedure is being followed by the SPCB
• Opportunity to file objections with the SPCB within 15 days from the date of service of notice
• PCB to record reasons in writing in case it does not provide an opportunity to the industry to file objections.

ENVIRONMENT PROTECTION ACT, 1986

The Environment Protection Act, 1986 (the “Environment Act”) provides for the protection and improvement of environment. The Environment Protection Act establishes the framework for studying, planning and implementing long-term requirements of environmental safety and laying down a system of speedy and adequate response to situations threatening the environment. It is an umbrella legislation designed to provide a framework for the coordination of central and state authorities established under the Water Act, 1974 and the Air Act. The term “environment” is understood in a very wide term under s 2(a) of the Environment Act. It includes water, air and land as well as the interrelationship which exists between water, air and land, and human beings, other living creatures, plants, micro-organisms and property.

Under the Environment Act, the Central Government is empowered to take measures necessary to protect and improve the quality of environment by setting standards for emissions and discharges of pollution in the atmosphere by any person carrying on an industry or activity; regulating the location of industries; management of hazardous wastes, and protection of public health and welfare. From time to time, the Central Government issues notifications under the Environment Act for the protection of ecologically-sensitive areas or issues guidelines for matters under the Environment Act.

In case of any non-compliance or contravention of the Environment Act, or of the rules or directions under the said Act, the violator will be punishable with imprisonment up to five years or with fine up to Rs 1,00,000, or with both. In case of continuation of such violation, an additional fine of up to Rs 5,000 for every day during which such failure or contravention continues after the conviction for the first such failure or contravention, will be levied. Further, if the violation continues beyond a period of one year after the date of conviction, the offender shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to seven years.

PUBLIC LIABILITY INSURANCE ACT 1991

Public Liability Insurance Act, 1991 is to provide the compensation for damages to victims of an accident of handling any hazardous substance or it is also called, to save the owner of production/storage of hazardous substance from hefty penalties. This is done by proving compulsory insurance for third party liability. As from the name of the act, it is Public Liability.

First time owner is put on anvil to provide the compensation/relief, when death or injury to any person (please note-other than a workman) or damage to any property has resulted from an accident of hazardous substance. Actually the owner shall buy one or more insurance policies before he/she starts handling any hazardous substance. When any accidents come in knowledge of Collector, then he/she verify the occurrence of accident and order for relief as he/she deems fit.

The salient features of compliance under this Act are as below:

- Owner to provide relief in case of death or injury or damage to property from an accident on the principle of no fault.

NATIONAL GREEN TRIBUNAL ACT, 2010

The National Green Tribunal (NGT), 2010 was established keeping in mind The Rio Conference of 1992 and based on the international environment principles of ‘polluter pays principle’ and ‘Sustainable Development’. This was established to deal with environment related disputes, a speedy disposal of these cases and giving relief and compensation for damages to persons and property and for matters connected or incidental thereto. It comprises of a chairman, who could be a sitting or a retired judge of the Supreme Court, and various other members and experts provided under the provisions of the tribunal. It would mainly deal with civil cases and is not bound to follow the procedural law under Code of Civil Procedure, 1908, but shall be guided by principles of natural justice. It proposed to have five places of sitting with Delhi as its headquarters and others being Bhopal, Pune, Kolkata and Chennai.

The National Green Tribunal Act, 2010 (No. 19 of 2010) (NGT Act) has been enacted with the objectives to provide for establishment of a National Green Tribunal (NGT) for the effective and expeditious disposal of cases relating to environment protection and conservation of forests and other natural resources including enforcement of any legal right relating to environment and giving relief and compensation for damages to persons and property and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

The Act received the assent of the President of India on June 2, 2010, and was enforced by the Central Government vide Notification no. S.O. 2569(E) dated October 18, 2010, with effect from October 18, 2010.
The Act envisages establishment of NGT in order to deal with all environmental laws relating to air and water pollution, the Environment Protection Act, the Forest Conservation Act and the Biodiversity Act as have been set out in Schedule I of the NGT Act.

Consequent to enforcement of the National Green Tribunal Act, 2010, the National Environment Tribunal Act, 1995 and the National Environment Appellate Authority Act, 1997 stand repealed. The National Environment
Appellate Authority established under s 3(1) of the National Environment Appellate Authority Act, 1997stands dissolved, in view of the establishment of the National Green Tribunal under the National Green Tribunal Act, 2010 vide Notification no. S.O. 2570(E) dated October 18, 2010.

Objectives of National Green Tribunal

The Preamble of the Act states the object is to provide for the establishment of a National Green Tribunal (herein referred as NGT) for the effective and expeditious disposal of cases relating to environmental protection and conservation of forests and other natural resources including enforcement of any legal right relating to environment and giving relief and compensation for damages to persons and property and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

- The effective and speedy disposal of the cases relating to environment protection and conservation of forests and other natural resources. All the previous pending cases will also be heard by the Tribunal.
- It aims at enforcing all the legal rights relating to the environment
- It also accounts for providing compensation and relief to effected people for damage of property.

Power of National Green Tribunal

The NGT has a power to hear all civil matters which are related to environment and questions regarding the enforcement and implementation of laws which fall under the seven categories of laws namely (in order of their enactment)

- The Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1974;
- The Water (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Cess Act, 1977;
- The Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980;
- The Air (Prevention and Control of Pollution) Act, 1981;
- The Environment (Protection) Act, 1986;
- The Public Liability Insurance Act, 1991;
- The Biological Diversity Act, 2002

The NGT has been given the power to regulate the procedure by itself. It does not follow the principles of civil procedure code instead it follows principles of natural justice. The NGT also at the time of giving orders shall apply the principals of sustainable development and also the principal that the one who pollutes shall pay. It will have the same power as of the civil court in deciding the matter falling within these seven legal acts. Even the NGT will not be bound by the rules of evidence as mentioned in the Indian evidence act. Anything which is not covered under these seven acts the NGT is not competent to admit the suit for that matter. The major drawback of this limitation is that a person cannot approach the NGT for every environmental issue. For instance NGT cannot admit a suit for cutting of trees in a forest even though it is related to environment. This is because the protection of forest act is not within the jurisdiction of NGT. So in a way it is ambiguous for a common person to comprehend when to and when not to go to NGT to seek remedy. This is a reform which NGT needs that there should be inclusion of all acts related to environment degradation.

The major benefit with NGT is that it has a strong order enforcing mechanism. If the orders of NGT are not complied with than it has the power to impose both punishment as well as fine. The punishment is up to three years and the penalty is up to ten crore and for firms in can extend up to twenty five crores. Also the director or manager of the firm can be punished or penalized if it is found by the tribunal that the offence has been committed on the orders or with the consent of such officer of the firm.

The act also provides various kinds of reliefs to the persons who are affected by the degradation of environment as the inhabitant of that particular area. One of the provisions of the act is to provide compensation to the victims of any loss occurring from accident or leakage while handling hazardous substance. So this provision basically will deal with any loss which occurs due to leakage of some hazardous gas in a locality. This was necessary because earlier law was silent in this regard due to which the people who suffered damages in the Bhopal Gas Tragedy could not get proper compensation from the union carbide.

Any person who has sustained the injury can file a suit in the National Green Tribunal. The suit can also be filed by a person who is the owner of the property to which the loss is caused. In case there is a death as a consequence of damage then the legal representative of such a person can file a case. The government or the government agencies related to environment can file a suit in place of that person like the central or the state government or the central pollution control board or state pollution control board. The act also provides for fast delivery of justice and the act provides that all possible efforts will be made to dispose of the case within six months from the date of filing the suit. The period for filing a suit with NGT is up to 5 years from the date on which the cause for compensation arose. However if the tribunal has sufficient grounds for believing that the person has reasonable cause that prevented him from filing a suit in NGT than it can extend the period for a maximum of sixty days. A person can argue his own matter before the tribunal and he does not need to be an advocate to do so. There is just a single requirement that the person should be in a formal dress while addressing the court. The medium of communication in the NGT is English and the arguments should be presented in the same.

If a person is not satisfied with the orders of the tribunal he can seek the review of the decision of NGT under rule 22 of the NGT rule. And even then if he is not satisfied with the decision of the tribunal he can file an appeal to the Supreme Court of India. But the appeal has to be filed within ninety days of the orders passed by NGT.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Companies are generally classified on the basis of their incorporation, number of members, size, basis of control and motive. Additionally, companies can also be classified based on their status. Sometimes, the promoters of a company may feel the need to temporarily close down the company due to various reasons, but they do not want to dissolve it. In such cases, the company may become dormant as against an active company which is carrying on business. Thus, on the basis of its status, companies may be classified into active, dormant, under liquidation, under process of striking off, strike off, dissolved, amalgamated, etc. The ‘status’ of the company signifies the current state of the company - Whether it is active and operating OR dormant OR it has been struck off and closed.

After reading this lesson, you would be able to understand the concepts of dormant and active company, legal procedure involved in obtaining the status of dormant company, compliances for the purpose of dormant company and procedure to make a dormant company active.
INTRODUCTION

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs ("MCA") vide notification dated 31st March, 2014 notified Section 455 of the Companies Act, 2013 ("Act") dealing with the provision of Dormant Company. In addition to the provisions of the Act relating to Dormant Company, MCA has also issued the Companies (Miscellaneous) Rules, 2014 ("Rules") to be effective from the same date i.e. 01 April 2014 in order to provide procedural guidelines for changing the status of an "Active" company to "Dormant" company and vice versa.

In simple words, dormant company means a company which is an inactive company in the records of the Registrar of Companies and which is not carrying out any business activity and has applied to the Registrar of Companies to change its status in the register of companies maintained by the Registrar of Companies from "Active Company" to "Dormant company". A company can become dormant immediately after its registration or after a few years of its incorporation. There are many reasons why a company changes its status from "active" to "dormant". Major reason for such a change is when a company is to start its business activities after few years owing to a variety of reasons, it may make application to the Registrar of Companies to change the status of the company to "dormant". Dormant companies are also known as inactive companies.

A Dormant Company offers excellent advantage to the promoters who want to hold an asset or intellectual property under the corporate shield for its usage at a later stage. For instance: if a promoter wants to buy lands now for its future project at a comparatively lesser price, he may do the same through dormant company so that he can use the land for its future project. Thus, dormant company status is a new phenomenon in the Companies Act, 2013 and is an excellent tool for keeping assets in the company for its future usage. A dormant company may be either a public company or a private company or a one person company.

Section 455 of the Companies Act 2013 read with Companies (Miscellaneous) Rules, 2014 stipulate the provisions pertaining to "Dormant Company". Where a company is formed and registered under this Act for a future project to hold an asset or intellectual property and "has no significant accounting transaction", such a company or An Inactive Company may make an application to the Registrar in such manner as may be prescribed for obtaining the status of a dormant company.

For the above purposes, Inactive Company means a company which:

(a) is not carrying on any business or operations; or
(b) has not made any significant accounting transaction during last two financial years,
(c) has not filed financial statements and annual returns during the last two financial years.

Significant Accounting Transaction means any transaction made by the company except below transaction:

(a) payment of fees by a company to the Registrar;
(b) payments made by company to fulfil the requirements of this Act or any other law;
(c) allotment of shares to fulfil the requirements of this Act; and
(d) payments for maintenance of its office and records.

All the transactions apart from the above mentioned transactions will be considered as Significant accounting transactions. If a company has made above mention transactions in last two year then also that company will fall under definition of Inactive Company.

OBTAINING DORMANT STATUS

A Company can obtain status as Dormant Company by suo-moto or ROC can declare a company as Dormant.

Suo-Moto application: A company which meets the above criteria can apply suo-moto to Registrar of Companies (ROC) for the status of a “Dormant company” in Form MSC-1 along with such fee as provided in the Companies

LESSON ROUND-UP

- The Registrar has suo motu power to remove the name of the company and LLP from the register after complying the provision of the law. With the view to enable the defunct company / LLP to remove their name from the Register, the provisions are made for such companies / LLP, providing an exit scheme. Such companies / LLP can apply to the Registrar for striking off their name from the Register.

- The provisions of section of section 248 to 252 of the Companies Act 2013 provide an easy exit to company and are much speedy as compared to other modes of winding up under the Companies Act. Even though the company can easily dissolve through this mode and its name removed from the ROC’s register, the liabilities continue on every director, officer and members of the company and may be enforced in the same manner as if the company had not been dissolved. In addition, by providing restoration provisions, the company which has been struck off may get a chance to restore its name in the register and get active with the permission of NCLT even within 20 years of being struck off.

On receipt of claims from the creditors, the IRP shall verify the claims and make list of accepted claims. Within 30 days of commencement of CIRP, the IRP shall constitute a Committee of Creditors (COC) which primarily consists of all financial creditors of the corporate debtor. The IRP shall also prepare an Information Memorandum containing prescribed details of the corporate debtor.

RESOLUTION PROFESSIONAL

Resolution Professional (RP) is a new category of professionals who on meeting stipulated criteria, is registered with the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Board of India. Only a person who is registered as a Resolution Professional / Insolvency Professional can act as such. Company Secretaries are eligible to be registered as Resolution Professionals subject to meeting stipulated criteria.

COMMITTEE OF CREDITORS

The COC at its first meeting shall appoint a Resolution Professional (RP). In doing so, it may either confirm the appointment of IRP as RP or appoint another RP of its choice. The RP then takes over the management of the corporate debtor from the IRP. The RP shall act under the guidance and superintendence of the COC. RESOLUTION PLAN:

The objective behind the CIRP is that the corporate debtor should get a chance to revive itself from insolvency. The corporate debtor is in insolvency due to various reasons including market conditions, business cycles, wrongful acts of the promoters, amongst others. The corporate debtor should get a fresh chance to revive itself and recommence its operations either in the same management or a new management. With this intent in mind, the RP invites proposals to revive the corporate debtor. These proposals are known as “resolution plans” and they can be submitted by any person who is interested in revival of the company. These plans include proposals to pay off the existing liabilities of the corporate debtor in part or in full and to restart its operations over a period of time. There are safeguards against a defaulting promoter submitting a resolution plan so that such defaulting promoter is not able to takeover a debt free company at lower cost by way of a resolution plan.

The resolution plan is submitted to the RP who in turn places all such plans before the COC. The COC shall approve the most suitable resolution plan. Such resolution plan approved by the COC is submitted to the Tribunal for its approval. In case the Tribunal approves the resolution plan, the corporate debtor is out of CIRP.

LIQUIDATION PROCESS

In terms of Section 59 of the IBC, only a corporate person is allowed to initiate voluntary liquidation process, which has not committed any default. It is imperative to understand, whether the word 'default' includes past default or existing default of a corporate person? (3) Where the resolution plan approved by the Adjudicating Authority is contravened by the concerned corporate debtor, any person other than the corporate debtor, whose interests are prejudicially affected by such contravention, may make an application to the Adjudicating Authority for a liquidation order as referred to in sub-clauses (i), (ii) and (iii) of clause (b) of sub-section (1).

VOLUNTARILY LIQUIDATION

The provisions relating to voluntarily winding up of Companies have been removed from the Companies Act (w.e.f April 01, 2017) and are now governed by Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code.

Section 59 of the code and IBBI (Voluntary Liquidation process) Regulations, 2017 govern this.

Section 59 of the code provides that a Corporate person (includes Company , LLP etc in terms of definition under section 3(7) who intends to liquidate itself voluntarily and has not committed any default may initiate voluntary liquidation proceedings under the provisions of chapter V, part II of code.

A corporate person who intends to liquidate itself voluntarily and has not committed any default may initiate voluntary liquidation.

Below is the brief procedure of voluntary liquidation of a corporate person under IBC:

Step I: Submission of declaration(s) to ROC, stating that the company will be able to pay its dues and is not being liquidated to defraud any person;

Step II: Passing of special resolution for approving the proposal of voluntary liquidation and appointment of liquidator (“Approval”), within 4 (four) weeks of the aforesaid declaration(s). If a corporate person owes debts, approval of two-third majority creditors would also be required;

Step IX: Distribution of the proceeds from realization within 6 (six) months from the receipt of the amount to the stakeholders;

Step X: Submission of final report by the liquidator to the corporate person, ROC and the Board and application to the National Company Law Tribunal (“NCLT”) for the dissolution;

Step XI: Submission of NCLT order regarding the dissolution, to the concerned ROC within 14 (fourteen) days of the receipt of order.

WATERFALL ARRANGEMENT

Section 53 of the IBC provides for the manner of distribution of assets in case of liquidation and order of priority of distribution. It is pertinent to note that this order of priority is notwithstanding anything contrary which is contained in any other Central or State law. This order of priority is also known as the “waterfall arrangement” since each of category of persons comes in priority after the previous one.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in any law enacted by the Parliament or any State Legislature for the time being in force, the proceeds from the sale of the liquidation assets shall be distributed in the following order of priority and within such period and in such manner as may be specified:

(a) Insolvency resolution process costs and liquidation costs paid in full

(b) Following debts shall rank equally between and among the following:

   (i) Workmen’s dues for the period of 24 months preceding the liquidation commencement date

   (ii) Debts owed to secured creditor in the event such secured creditor has relinquished security under section 52
(c) Wages and any unpaid dues owed to employees other than workmen for the period of 12 months preceding the liquidation commencement date

(d) Financial debts owed to unsecured creditors

(e) Following dues shall rank equally between and among the following:
   (i) Any amount due to the Central / State Government including amount to be received on account of Consolidated Fund of India and Consolidated Fund of a State, if any, in respect of whole or any part of the period of two years preceding the liquidation commencement date
   (ii) Debts owed to a secured creditor for any amount unpaid following enforcement of security interest

(f) Any remaining debts and dues

(g) Preference shareholders, if any; and

(h) Equity shareholders or partners, as the case may be.

Any contractual arrangements between recipients above with equal ranking, if disrupting the order of priority shall be disregarded by the liquidator.

The fees payable to the liquidator shall be deducted proportionately from proceeds payable to each class of recipients and proceeds to the relevant recipient shall be distributed after such deduction.

DISSOLUTION OF CORPORATE DEBTOR:

Once the assets of the corporate debtor are completely liquidated, the liquidator shall make an application to the Tribunal for dissolution of the corporate debtor. The Tribunal shall pass necessary order to dissolve the corporate debtor.

Thus, it can be seen that the CIRP and subsequent liquidation process of the corporate debtor is a time bound process aimed at expediting the revival or dissolution of corporate debtors.

WINDING UP

OBJECT AND SCOPE OF THE LAW

One of the hallmarks of a reliable economy is the time taken for a company to wind up. India’s record in this area was not very remarkable. This was a major sore point for foreign investors who were looking for a way to close down the operations in a reasonable time. With this as one of its intents, the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code was brought into effect in the year 2016. The Code is a game changer in the way insolvency is dealt with in this country.

MEANING OF WINDING UP:

Winding up is the process of closing down the legal existence of a company or LLP. During this process, the assets of the entity are realized, its liabilities are paid off and any surplus is distributed amongst the contributories. Once the adjudicating authority is convinced that these processes are completed, the entity is dissolved.

During winding up, the management of the company / LLP is in the hands of the liquidator and not the governing body / board of directors. However, the assets and liabilities still belong to the company until dissolution takes place. On dissolution, the entity loses its legal existence.

Section 270 of the Companies Act, 2013 regarding the Modes of winding up, has been deleted after the enforcement of this Code. It has been substituted by Winding up by Tribunal.
DIFFERENCE BETWEEN ‘WINDING UP’ AND ‘DISSOLUTION’:

Many times, the terms ‘winding up’ and ‘dissolution’ are used interchangeably. This is not correct. There are very important differences in these two terms which are given below:

1. Winding up is the first stage of ending the legal existence of the entity. In this stage, the assets of the entity are realized, its liabilities paid off and surplus, if any, is distributed amongst the contributories. Whereas dissolution is the final stage after completion of winding up process and by act of law, the legal existence of the entity comes to an end.

2. The winding up process is handled by a liquidator / insolvency professional. The dissolution can happen only by way of an order passed by the adjudicating authority.

3. Creditors can prove their claims during winding up but not on dissolution since the entity no longer exists.

4. Winding up need not result in dissolution in all cases. A company which is in winding up can be taken over / amalgamated by any other entity / company which will result in the company coming out of winding up process and being handed over to the shareholders. This is not possible in case of dissolution.

WINDING UP BY TRIBUNAL

Section 271 of the Companies Act 2013 provides grounds for winding up of the company by the Tribunal. According to section 271, a company may be wound up by the Tribunal in following cases:

(a) If the company has, by special resolution, resolved that the company be wound up by the Tribunal;

(b) If the company has acted against the interests of the sovereignty and integrity of India, the security of the State, friendly relations with foreign States, public order, decency or morality;

(c) If on an application made by the Registrar or any other person authorized by the Central Government by notification under this Act, the Tribunal is of the opinion that the affairs of the company have been conducted in a fraudulent manner or the company was formed for fraudulent and unlawful purpose or the persons concerned in the formation or management of its affairs have been guilty of fraud, misfeasance or misconduct in connection therewith and that it is proper that the company be wound up;

(d) If the company has made a default in filing with the Registrar its financial statements or annual returns for immediately preceding five consecutive financial years; or

(e) If the Tribunal is of the opinion that it is just and equitable that the company should be wound up.

For commencing proceedings under section 271, a petition is to be made to the Tribunal. According to section 272, this petition may be made by any of the following persons:

(a) The company;

(b) Any contributory or contributories;

(c) All or any of the persons specified in clauses (a) and (b);

(d) The Registrar;

(e) Any person authorised by the Central Government in that behalf; or

(f) In a case falling under clause (b) of section 271, by the Central Government or a State Government.

Any petition filed by the company shall be accompanied by a statement of affairs in prescribed form. A petition can be filed by the Registrar only with previous sanction of the Central Government which shall be accorded only after giving to the company a reasonable opportunity of being heard.

Any petition filed under this section, apart from that filed by the Registrar himself, shall be served on the Registrar and the Registrar shall submit his views to the Tribunal within 60 days of receipt of such petition.

On a petition filed under section 272, the Tribunal may pass any of the following orders within 90 days of presentation of the petition:

(a) Dismiss it, with or without costs;
(b) Make any interim order as it thinks fit;
(c) Appoint a provisional liquidator of the company till the making of a winding up order;
(d) Make an order for the winding up of the company with or without costs; or
(e) Any other order as it thinks fit.

The Tribunal shall give an opportunity of being heard to the company before appointment of a Provisional Liquidator.

The order for winding up of a company shall operate in favour of all the creditors and all contributories of the company as if it had been made out on the joint petition of creditors and contributories.

The liquidator is required to submit to the Tribunal, a report containing the following particulars, within sixty days from the order:

(a) the nature and details of the assets of the company including their location and value, stating separately the cash balance in hand and in the bank, if any, and the negotiable securities, if any, held by the company:
(b) valuation Report of the assets obtained from registered valuers
(c) amount of capital issued, subscribed and paid-up;
(d) the existing and contingent liabilities of the company including names, addresses and occupations of its creditors, stating separately the amount of secured and unsecured debts, and in the case of secured debts, particulars of the securities given, whether by the company or an officer thereof, their value and the dates on which they were given;
(e) the debts due to the company and the names, addresses and occupations of the persons from whom they are due and the amount likely to be realised on account thereof;
(f) guarantees, if any, extended by the company;
(g) list of contributories and dues, if any, payable by them and details of any unpaid call;
(h) details of trademarks and intellectual properties, if any, owned by the company;
(i) details of subsisting contracts, joint ventures and collaborations, if any;
(j) details of holding and subsidiary companies, if any;
(k) details of legal cases filed by or against the company; and
(l) any other information which the Tribunal may direct or the Company Liquidator may consider necessary to include.

When the affairs of a company have been completely wound up, the Company Liquidator shall make an application to the Tribunal for dissolution of such company.
The Tribunal shall on an application filed by the Company Liquidator or when the Tribunal is of the opinion that it is just and reasonable in the circumstances of the case that an order for the dissolution of the company should be made, make an order that the company be dissolved from the date of the order, and the company shall be dissolved accordingly.
