Procedures of General Meetings during COVID-19*

The art of life is constant re-adjustment to our surroundings - Kakuzo Okakaura

The outbreak of COVID-19 has disrupted the lives, livelihoods, communities and businesses worldwide. In order to curd its effect the countries all over the world have been forced to adopt the social distancing norms and a nationwide lockdown.

Due to these unprecedented measures, businesses are experiencing major impacts no matter how established they are. It has become a challenge for most businesses to keep their financial wheels turning during the lockdown period as well as managing the company smoothly.

The General Meetings are the integral part of Corporate Governance ensuring transparency, accountability and disclosure. It is not simply a platform for the directors to present speeches to shareholders, but for shareholders to ask questions and debate. It is a principal forum in which directors’ account to shareholders for their obligations and duties towards the company.

As the new financial year has already begun, most of the big companies in India have concerns over their upcoming Annual General Meetings (AGMs) which is required to be conducted within the prescribed time period as per the Companies Act, 2013. Annual General meeting gives opportunity to the shareholders to come together, know about the performance of the Company, share their views, questions the management, raise their concerns but holding physical meeting with such large gathering of shareholders will further risk the spread of the disease.

The Extra Ordinary General Meeting is used as another way to meet and deal with urgent matters that arise in between the annual shareholders’ meetings. Many companies are unable to hold such meetings due to lock-down and social distancing norms, hence, facing delay on transaction of urgent and unavoidable matters which is leading to extreme negative impact on their business and ultimately causing financial losses.

But as the saying is “Learn to adjust yourself to the conditions you have to endure, but make a point of trying to alter or correct conditions so that they are most favourable to you-William Fedrick Book” encourages us not to sit and wait for our demise but to alter the unfavourable situations in our favour. In light of the same the Ministry of Corporate Affairs intending to reduce the compliance burden on the corporate sector with partial opening up the industry, has announced series of relaxations regarding holding of General Meetings.

| 1. | Guidance dated 15.04.2020 | Clarification/Guidance on applicability of Secretarial Standards on Meetings of the Board of Directors (SS-1) and General Meetings (SS-2) |

Mandatory Requirements for conducting of the Annual General Meeting under the Companies act, 2013

In terms of Section 96 of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules made thereunder, every company other than a one person company is required to hold an Annual General Meeting (AGM) in each year within 6 months (9 months in case of first AGM) from the date of closing of the financial year and not more than fifteen months shall elapse between the date of one annual general meeting of a company and that of the next.

The MCA vide General circular dated 05th May, 2020 relaxed the norms as many companies requested for leniency on the AGM rules owing to the social distancing norms and the nationwide lockdown. Now companies are allowed to conduct their Annual General Meeting through video conferencing (VC) or other audio-visual means (OAVM) during the calendar year, 2020 by following the prescribed framework without requiring the shareholders to physically assemble at a common venue, thus safeguarding the social distancing motto.

Earlier MCA vide General Circular dated 8th April, 2020 and 13th April, 2020 has allowed the Companies to pass ordinary and special resolution of urgent nature requiring approval of members (except ordinary business or business where any person has right to be heard) through mechanism of postal ballot/e-voting in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules made thereunder without holding a general meeting which requires physical presence of members at common venue.
However, in case holding of an Extra-ordinary General Meetings is considered unavoidable for passing the resolutions of urgent nature, MCA has allowed conducting of such meetings through video conferencing (‘VC’) and other audio visual means (‘OAVM’) on or before June 30, 2020 by following the prescribed framework in circular no. 14/2020 and 17/2020 in addition to provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules made thereunder.

Meanwhile by virtue of General Circular No: 18/2020 dated 21st April, 2020 the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has given relaxation to those Companies whose financial year (other than first financial year) has ended on 31st December, 2019, now they can hold their AGM for such financial year within a period of nine months from the closure of the financial year (i.e. by 30th September, 2020), and the same shall not be viewed as a violation.

In view of the extraordinary circumstances prevailing in the country due to the pandemic, the relaxations given by Ministry of Corporate Affairs would be beneficial, especially, for the individual members and/or the authorised representatives of the corporate members, who were otherwise required, under the Companies Act, 2013 to travel inter-state or cross border for attending the Annual General Meeting/ Extra-ordinary General Meetings.

The framework leverages the strengths of digital India by using a combination of Video-Conferencing and e-voting through agencies such as NSDL or through registered emails to enable companies conduct their EGMs/AGMs. Hence, allowing the companies to hold General Meetings through VC/ OAVM without compromising on the other requirements of law.

Regulation 12 of the SEBI (LODR) Regulations, 2015 prescribes issuance of ‘payable at par’ warrants or cheques in case it is not possible to use electronic modes of payment. Further, in case the amount payable as dividend exceeds Rs.1500/-, the ‘payable-at-par’ warrants or cheques shall be sent by speed post. The requirements of this regulation will apply upon normalization of postal services. However, in cases where email addresses of shareholders are available, listed entities shall endeavour to obtain their bank account details and use the electronic modes of payment specified in Schedule I of the SEBI (LODR) Regulations, 2015.

All the companies shall ensure that all other compliances associated with the provisions relating to general meetings viz making of disclosures, inspection of related documents/registers by members, or authorizations for voting by bodies corporate, etc as provided in the Companies Act, 2013 and the articles of association of the company are made through electronic mode.

Guidance given by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India in light of MCA Circulars

Section 118(10) of the Companies Act, 2013 provides for mandatory observance of SS-1 and SS-2 by all companies. On account of various relaxations given by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) for ease of compliance by the stakeholders, ICSI has issued guidance regarding Secretarial Standards on 15th April, 2020.

Hence, any relaxations granted by the Central Government from the compliance of provisions of Board and General Meetings under the Act will automatically and consequentially apply to Secretarial Standards as the case may be and the relaxed provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 will prevail to the extent applicable in terms of enforceability.

Various Challenges to be faced by the Companies in implementation of meetings through VC or OAVM facility

Conducting of meetings through VC or OAVM facility is a new concept. Theoretically it sounds easy but with no prior experience, managing a VC meeting with too many members, may create problems.

1) For smooth conduction of general meetings through VC or OAVM facility, it requires fast internet network connection, good power back-up, tech savvy people. But in India every shareholder is not tech-savvy, members are coming from all parts of the country, in all over India the condition of network connectivity is not same, in some places the condition of electricity supply is also not good. Hence, posing lots of challenges for the Companies.

2) One of the biggest challenges for big companies having thousands of members is to get the e-mail addresses of the members (holding shares in physical form) registered for sending financial statements and other documents. This will also enable the shareholders to cast their vote through remote e-voting or through e-voting during the meeting. However, certain shareholders are either not traceable or their contact details are not updated.

3) According to the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, the annual general meeting of the company shall be called during business hours i.e. between 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., the convenience of different persons positioned in different time zones shall be kept in mind before scheduling the meeting. Companies having large number of members shall face difficulties in balancing the two provisions for conducting the meetings, ensuring convenience of shareholders in different time zones is difficult.
4) Another issue in virtual AGMs would come when the management tables contentious issues. Due to the virtual nature of the AGM process, the debate would be limited as against AGMs in regular course. The other big challenge is how the companies will facilitate a two-way interaction between management and shareholders.

5) Despite the clear benefits of the virtual meetings, it also poses some real risks for corporate governance. While virtual meeting technology allows members to put forward questions to the board, there is no guarantee that these questions will be answered. Managements can cherry pick the shareholders’ questions they are prepared to answer and difficult questions may conveniently skipped under pre-text of technical glitches.

6) Other drawbacks to virtual meetings include issues relating to cyber security. For instance, there are risks that high-profile AGMs could be the target of cyber-attacks, which could manipulate the transmission of the meeting’s content, or interfere in the voting process. More generally, IT issues could also be problematic for shareholders.

The tough time of pandemic has given an opportunity to the legislation to ditch the decade old norms and move towards digitalisation.
