Institute of Company Secretaries of India (The ICSI) is envisaging playing a lead role in corporate governance by promulgating the concept of “International Corporate Governance Code – ICGC”. The objective is to cater the needs of present era corporate world which is spearheading across various nations not only sticking to the country in which it has its business establishment. This is the code which will become acceptable universally by all the corporate across the globe.

Accordingly for attaining this major objective of ICGC we need to provide significance to the concept. This significance can be achieved by following a dedicated day for corporate governance which will be observed internationally. And hence ICSI is mooting the idea of “International Corporate Governance Day – ICGD” by involving global investors, global stakeholders and regulatory bodies across the world.
The purpose of research is to identify specific questions and try to find out a comprehensive and definitive answer. Since research in all disciplines and subjects, must begin with a clearly defined goal, this study is also designed keeping those objectives in mind.

Prologue- Need for ICGC & ICGD and Global Congruence

All nations are having vivid procedures and norms for corporate in relation to the governance matters. In spite of all those governance norms, the corporate world is witnessing scams and scandals. This implies that there is still some gap to bridge in order to have an effective and efficient corporate world.

The challenge before us is to create a system of governance that promotes, supports and sustains economic development and not only restricting to listed entities, but extending to all unlisted companies, firms, societies and all business forms. The emphasis on governance reforms is growing around the world.

Governance is such an important aspect, without which none can achieve harmony in the working patterns and further to this it has to evolve day in and day out in accordance with the changing requirements both internally and globally in each and every aspect.

The need of the hour is to provide more significance to the universally acceptable International Corporate Governance Code and to have an International day for Corporate Governance in order to create awareness and celebrating determination towards international promotion and recognition beyond the horizons of the respective countries.

On the occasion of “International Corporate Governance Day”, the member participants can dwell upon various anomalies and can reverberate the sound policies and procedures for governance in the corporate in their respective countries.

As an important initiative, ICSI would like to profess and create international consensus for “ICGD” and to make this a reality, there is a necessity to bring all the nations through their representatives to a single place and conduct one Summit called as “01st Global Congruence on International Corporate Governance Day”.
