EXECUTIVE PROGRAMME

COMPANY LAW

In view of increasing emphasis on adherence to norms of good corporate governance, Company Law assumes an added importance in the corporate legislative milieu, as it deals with structure, management, administration and conduct of affairs of Companies. A thorough study of various provisions of the Companies Act is a must for becoming a competent and efficient Company Secretary. In the light of this, the study material has been published to impart thorough knowledge to the students preparing for the Company Law paper of the CS Executive Programme.

The study material is based on those sections of the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules made there under which have been notified by the Government of India and came into force w.e.f. April 01, 2014 (including Amendments/clarifications/circulars issued there under upto June, 2017).

Company Secretaryship being a professional course, the examination standards are set very high, with emphasis on knowledge of concepts, applications, procedures and case laws, for which sole reliance on the contents of the study material may not be enough. Besides Company Secretaries Regulations, 1982 requires the students to be conversant with the amendments to the laws made upto six months preceding the date of examination. This study material may therefore be regarded as basic material and must be read along with the notified provisions of Companies Act 2013 and Rules made thereunder.

The amendments made upto June, 2017 have been incorporated in this study material. However, it may happen that some developments might have taken place during the printing of the study material and its supply to the students. The students are therefore advised to refer to the bulletin 'Student Company Secretary' and ICSI Journal Chartered Secretary and other publications for updation of study material. In the event of any doubt, students may contact the Directorate of Academics at academics@icsi.edu.

Although due care has been taken in publishing this study material yet the possibility of errors, omissions and/or discrepancies cannot be ruled out. This publication is released with an understanding that the Institute shall not be responsible for any errors, omissions and/or discrepancies or any action taken in that behalf.

Should there be any discrepancy, error or omission noted in the study material, the Institute shall be obliged if the same are brought to its notice for issue of corrigendum in the e-bulletin' and Student Company Secretary'.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The concept of 'Company' or 'Corporation' in business is not new, but was dealt with, in 4th century BC itself during 'Arthashastra' days. Its' shape got revamped over a period of time according to the needs of business dynamics.

Company form of business has certain distinct advantages over other forms of businesses like Sole Proprietorship/Partnership etc. It includes features such as Limited Liability, Perpetual Succession etc.

After reading this lesson, you would be able to understand the meaning and basic characteristics of company and how it differs from other forms of businesses, historical development of corporate law in India, evolution of Companies Act, 2013 etc.

Corporations are fictional entities that are designed to make money, and they are neither people nor patriots

Scott Peters

MEANING AND DEFINITION OF A COMPANY

The word 'company' is derived from the Latin word (Com=with or together; panis =bread), and it originally referred to an association of persons who took their meals together. In the leisurely past, merchants took advantage of festive gatherings, to discuss business matters. Nowadays, the business matters have become more complicated and cannot be discussed at festive gatherings. Therefore, the company form of organization has assumed greater importance. In popular parlance, a company denotes an association of likeminded persons formed for the purpose of carrying on some business or undertaking. A company is a corporate body and a legal person having status and personality distinct and separate from the members constituting it.

It is called a body corporate because the persons composing it are made into one body by incorporating it according to the law and clothing it with legal personality. The word 'corporation' is derived from the Latin term 'corpus' which means 'body'. Accordingly, 'corporation' is a legal person created by a process other than natural birth. It is, for this reason, sometimes called artificial legal person. As a legal person, a corporate is capable of enjoying many rights and incurring many liabilities of a natural person.

An incorporated company owes its existence either to a Special Act of Parliament or to company law. Public corporations like Life Insurance Corporation of India, SBI etc., have been brought into existence through special Acts of Parliament, whereas companies like Tata Steel Ltd., Reliance Industries Limited have been formed under the Company law i.e. Companies Act, 1956 which is replaced by the Companies Act, 2013.

In the legal sense, a company is an association of both natural and artificial persons and is incorporated under the existing law of a country.

In terms of the Companies Act, 2013 (Act No. 18 of 2013) a “company” means a company incorporated under this Act or under any previous company law [Section 2(20)].

In common law, a company is a “legal person” or “legal entity” separate from, and capable of surviving beyond the lives of its members. A company is rather a legal device for the attainment of social and economic end. It is, therefore, a combined political, social, economic and legal institution. Thus, the term company has been described in many ways. “It is a means of cooperation and organisation in the conduct of an enterprise”. It is “an intricate, centralised, economic and administrative structure run by professional managers who hire capital from the investor(s)”.

Lord Justice Lindley has defined a company as “an association of many persons who contribute money or money’s worth to a common stock and employ it in some trade or business and who share the profit and loss arising therefrom. The common stock so contributed is denoted in money and is the capital of the company. The persons who contributed in it or form it, or to whom it belongs, are members. The proportion of capital to which each member is entitled is his “share”. The shares are always transferable although the right to transfer them may be restricted.”

NATURE AND CHARACTERISTICS OF A COMPANY

Since a corporate body (i.e. a company) is the creation of law, it is not a human being, it is an artificial juridical person (i.e. created by law) and it is clothed with many rights, obligations, powers and duties prescribed by law.

The most striking characteristics of a company are discussed below:

(i) Corporate personality

A company incorporated under the Act is vested with a corporate personality so it redundant bears its own name, acts under name, has a seal of its own and its assets are separate and distinct from those of its members. It is a different 'person' from the members who compose it. Therefore it is capable of owning property, incurring debts, borrowing money, having a bank account, employing people, entering into contracts and suing or being sued in the same manner as an individual. Its members are its owners however they can be its creditors simultaneously. A shareholder cannot be held liable for the acts of the company even if he holds virtually the entire share capital.

The shareholders are not the agents of the company and so they cannot bind it by their acts. The company does not hold its property as an agent or trustee for its members and they cannot sue to enforce its rights, nor can they be sued in respect of its liabilities. Thus, 'incorporation' is the act of forming a legal corporation as a juristic person. A juristic person is in law also conferred with rights and obligations and is dealt with in accordance with law. In other words, the entity acts like a natural person but only through a designated person, whose acts are processed within the ambit of law [Shiromani Gurdwara Prabandhak Committee v. Shri Sam Nath Dass AIR 2000 SCW 139].

CASE EXAMPLE

The case of Salomon v. Salomon and Co. Ltd., (1897) A.C. 22

The above case has clearly established the principle that once a company has been validly constituted under the Companies Act, it becomes a legal person distinct from its members and for this purpose it is immaterial whether any member holds a large or small proportion of the shares, and whether he holds those shares as beneficially or as a mere trustee.

In the case, Salomon had, for some years, carried on a prosperous business as a leather merchant and boot manufacturer. He formed a limited company consisting of himself, his wife, his daughter and his four sons as the shareholders, all of whom subscribed to 1 share each so that the actual cash paid as capital was £7. Salomon sold his business (which was perfectly solvent at that time), to the Company formed by him for the sum of £38,782. The company's nominal capital was £40,000 in £1 shares. In part payment of the purchase money for the business sold to the company, debentures of the amount of £10,000 secured by a floating charge on the company's assets were issued to Salomon, who also applied for and received an allotment of 20,000 £ 1 fully paid shares. The remaining amount of £8,782 was paid to Salomon in cash. Salomon was the managing director and two of his sons were other directors.

The company soon ran into difficulties and the debentureholders appointed a receiver and the company went into liquidation. The total assets of the company amounted to £6050, its liabilities were £10,000 secured by debentures, £8,000 owing to unsecured trade creditors, who claimed the whole of the company's assets, viz., £6,050, on the ground that, as the company was a mere 'alias' or agent for Salomon, they were entitled to payment of their debts in priority to debentures. They further pleaded that Salomon, as a principal beneficiary, was ultimately responsible for the debts incurred by his agent or trustee on his behalf.

Their Lordships of the House of Lords observed:

"...the company is a different person altogether from the subscribers of the memorandum; and though it may be that after incorporation the business is precisely the same as before, the same persons are managers, and the same hands receive the profits, the company is not, in law, their agent or trustee. The statute enacts nothing as to the extent or degree of interest, which may, be held by each of the seven or as to the proportion of interest, or influence possessed by one or majority of the shareholders over others. There is nothing in the Act requiring that the subscribers to the memorandum should be independent or unconnected, or that they or any of them should take a substantial interest in the undertakings, or that they should have a mind or will of their own, or that there should be anything like a balance of power in the constitution of company.”

CASE EXAMPLE

The case of Lee v. Lee's Air Farming Ltd. (1961) A.C. 12 (P.C.),

The above case illustrates the application of the principles established in Salomon's case (supra). In this case, a company was formed for the purpose of aerial top-dressing. Lee, a qualified pilot, held all but one of the shares in the company. He voted himself the managing director and got himself appointed by the articles as chief pilot at a salary. He was killed in an air crash while working for the company. His widow claimed compensation for the death of her husband in the course of his employment. The company opposed the claim on the ground that Lee was not a worker as the same person could not be the employer and the employee. The Privy Council held that Lee and his company were distinct legal persons which had entered into contractual relationships under which he became the chief pilot, a servant of the company. In his capacity of managing director he could, on behalf of the company, give himself orders in his other capacity of pilot, and the relationship between himself, as pilot and the company, was that of servant and master. Lee was a separate person from the company he formed and his widow was held entitled to get the compensation. In effect the magic of corporate personality enabled him (Lee) to be the master and servant at the same time and enjoy the advantages of both.

The decision of the Calcutta High Court in Re. Kondoli Tea Co. Ltd., (1886) ILR 13 Cal. 43, recognised the principle of separate legal entity even much earlier than the decision in Salomon v. Salomon & Co. Ltd. case. Certain persons transferred a Tea Estate to a company and claimed exemptions from ad valorem duty on the ground that since they themselves were also the shareholders in the company, it was nothing but a transfer from them in one name to themselves under another name. While rejecting this Calcutta High Court observed: “The company was a separate person, a separate body altogether from the shareholders and the transfer was as much a conveyance, a transfer of the property, as if the shareholders had been totally different persons.

CASE EXAMPLE

New Horizons Ltd. v. Union of India*, (AIR 1994, Delhi 126)

The experience of a shareholder of a company can be regarded as experience of a company. The tender of the company, New Horizons Ltd., for publication of telephone directory was not accepted by the Tender Evaluation Committee on the ground that the company had nothing on record to show that it had the technical experience required to be possessed to qualify for tender. On appeal the rejection of tender was upheld by the Delhi High Court.

The judgement of the Delhi High Court was reversed by the Supreme Court which observed as under:

“Once it is held that NHL (New Horizons Ltd.) is a joint venture, as claimed by it in the tender, the experience of its various constituents namely, TPI (Thomson Press India Ltd.), LMI (Living Media India Ltd.) and WML (World Media Ltd.) as well as IIPL (Integrated Information Pvt. Ltd.) had to be taken into consideration, if the Tender Evaluation Committee had adopted the approach of a prudent business man.”

“Seeing through the veil covering the face of NHL, it will be found that as a result of re-organisation in 1992 the company is functioning as a joint venture wherein the Indian group (TPI, LMI and WML) and Mr. Aroon Purie hold 60% shares and the Singapore based company (IIPL) holds 40% shares. Both the groups have contributed towards the resources of the joint venture in the form of machines, equipment and expertise in the field. The company is in the nature of partnership between the Indian group of companies and Singapore based company who have jointly undertaken this commercial enterprise wherein they will contribute to the assets and share the risk. In respect of such a joint venture company, the experience of the company can only mean the experience of the constituents of the joint venture i.e. the Indian group of companies (TPI, LMI and WML) and the Singapore based company (IIPL) (New Horizons Ltd. and another v. Union of India (1995) 1 Comp. LJ 100 SC).

(ii) Company as an artificial person

A Company is an artificial person created by law. It is not a human being but it acts through human beings. It is considered as a legal person which can enter into contracts, possess properties in its own name, sue and can be sued by others etc. It is called an artificial person since it is invisible, intangible, existing only in the contemplation of law. It is capable of enjoying rights and being subject to duties.

CASE EXAMPLE

Union Bank of India v. Khader International Construction and Other* [(2001) 42 CLA 296 SC]

In this case, the question which arose before the Court was whether a company is entitled to sue as an indigent (poor) person under Order 33, Rule 1 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908. The aforesaid Order permits persons to file suits under the Code as pauper/indigent persons if they are unable to bear the cost of litigation. The appellant in this case had objected to the contention of the company which had sought permission to sue as an indigent person. The point of contention was that, the appellant being a public limited company, it was not a 'person' within the purview of Order 33, Rule 1 of the Code and the 'person' referred to only a natural person and not to other juristic persons. The Supreme Court held that the word 'person' mentioned in Order 33, Rule 1 of the Civil Procedure Code, 1908, included any company as association or body of individuals, whether incorporated or not. The Court observed that the word 'person' had to be given its meaning in the context in which it was used and being a benevolent provision, it was to be given an extended meaning. Thus a company may also file a suit as an indigent person.

(iii) Company is not a citizen

The company, though a legal person, is not a citizen under the Citizenship Act, 1955 or the Constitution of India. In State Trading Corporation of India Ltd. v. C.T.O., A.I.R. 1963 S.C. 1811, the Supreme Court held that the State Trading Corporation though a legal person, was not a citizen and can act only through natural persons. Nevertheless, it is to be noted that certain fundamental rights enshrined in the Constitution for protection of "person", e.g., right to equality (Article 14) etc. are also available to company. Section 2(f) of Citizenship Act, 1955 expressly excludes a company or association or body of individuals from citizenship.

CASE EXAMPLE

In R.C. Cooper v. Union of India*, AIR 1970 SC 564

In this case, the Supreme Court held that where the legislative measures directly touch the company of which the petitioner is a shareholder, he can petition on behalf of the company, if by the impugned action, his rights are also infringed. In that case, the court entertained the petition under Article 32 of the Constitution at the instance of a director as shareholder of a company and granted relief. It is, therefore, to be noted that an individual's right is not lost by reason of the fact that he is a shareholder of the company.

CASE EXAMPLE

Bennet Coleman Co. v. Union of India, AIR 1973 SC 106

In this case, the Supreme Court stated that:

“It is now clear that the Fundamental Rights of shareholders as citizens are not lost when they associate to form a company. When their Fundamental Rights as shareholders are impaired by State action, their rights as shareholders are protected. The reason is that the shareholders’ rights are equally and necessarily affected if the rights of the company are affected.”

(iv) Company has Nationality and Residence

Though it is established through judicial decisions that a company cannot be a citizen, yet it has nationality, domicile and residence. In Gasque v. Inland Revenue Commissioners, (1940) 2 K.B. 88, Macnaghten. J. held that a limited company is capable of having a domicile and its domicile is the place of its registration and that domicile clings to it throughout its existence. He observed in this case:

“It was suggested that a body corporate has no domicile. It is quite true that a body corporate cannot have a domicile in the same sense as an individual. But by analogy with a natural person the attributes of residence, domicile and nationality can be given to a body corporate.”

In Tulika v. Parry and Co., (1903) I.L.R. 27 Mad. 315, Kelly C.B. observed:

“A joint stock company resides where its place of incorporation is, where the meetings of the whole company or those who represent it are held and where its governing body meets in bodily presence for the purposes of the company and exercises the powers conferred upon it by statute and by the Articles of Association.”

(v) Limited Liability

“The privilege of limited liability for business debts is one of the principal advantages of doing business under the corporate form of organisation.” The company, being a separate person, is the owner of its assets and bound by its liabilities. The liability of a member as shareholder, extends to the contribution to the capital of the company up to the nominal value of the shares held and not paid by him. Members, even as a whole, are neither the owners of the company’s undertakings, nor liable for its debts. In other words, a shareholder is liable to pay the balance, if any, due on the shares held by him, when called upon to pay and nothing more, even if the liabilities of the company far exceed its assets. This means that the liability of a member is limited. For example, if A holds shares of the total nominal value of `1,000 and has already paid `500/- (or 50% of the value) as part payment at the time of allotment, he cannot be called upon to pay more than `500/-, the amount remaining unpaid on his shares. If he holds fully-paid shares, he has no further liability to pay even if the company is declared insolvent. In the case of a company limited by guarantee, the liability of members is limited to a specified amount of the guarantee mentioned in the memorandum.

Buckley, J. in Re. London and Globe Finance Corporation, (1903) 1 Ch.D. 728 at 731, has observed: ‘The statutes relating to limited liability have probably done more than any legislation of the last fifty years to further the commercial prosperity of the country. They have, to the advantage of the investor as well as of the public, allowed and encouraged aggregation of small sums into large capitals which have been employed in undertakings of “great public utility largely increasing the wealth of the country”.

Exceptions to the principle of limited liability

- Members are severally liable in certain cases- if at any time the number of members of a company is reduced, in the case of a public company, below seven, in the case of a private company, below two, and the company carries on business for more than six months while the number of members is so reduced, every person who is a member of the company during the time that it so carries on business after those six months and is cognisant of the fact that it is carrying on business with less than seven members or two members, as the case may be, shall be severally liable for the payment of the whole debts of the company contracted during that time, and may be severally sued therefor.[Section 3A]

- Where a company has been got incorporated by furnishing any false or incorrect information or representation or by suppressing any material fact or information in any of the documents or declaration filed or made for incorporating such company or by any fraudulent action, the Tribunal may, on an application made to it, on being satisfied that the situation so warrants, direct that liability of the members of such company shall be unlimited.
- Further under section 339(1), where in the course of winding up it appears that any business of the company has been carried on with an intent to defraud creditors of the company or any other persons or for any fraudulent purpose, the Tribunal may declare the persons who were knowingly parties to the carrying on of the business in the manner aforesaid as personally liable, without limitation of liability, for all or any of the debts/liabilities of the company.
- When the company is incorporated as an Unlimited Company under Section 3(2)(c) of the Act
- Under Section 35(3), where it is proved that a prospectus has been issued with intent to defraud the applicants for the securities of a company or any other person or for any fraudulent purpose, every person who was a director at the time of issue of the prospectus or has been named as a director in the prospectus or every person who has authorised the issue of prospectus or every promoter or a person referred to as an expert in the prospectus shall be personally responsible, without any limitation of liability, for all or any of the losses or damages that may have been incurred by any person who subscribed to the securities on the basis of such prospectus.
- As per section 75(1), where a company fails to repay the deposit or part thereof or any interest thereon referred to in section 74 within the time specified or such further time as may be allowed by the Tribunal and it is proved that the deposits had been accepted with intent to defraud the depositors or for any fraudulent purpose, every officer of the company who was responsible for the acceptance of such deposit shall, without prejudice to other liabilities, also be personally responsible, without any limitation of liability, for all or any of the losses or damages that may have been incurred by the depositors.
- Section 224(5) states that where the report made by an inspector states that fraud has taken place in a company and due to such fraud any director, key managerial personnel, other officer of the company or any other person or entity, has taken undue advantage or benefit, whether in the form of any asset, property or cash or in any other manner, the Central Government may file an application before the Tribunal for appropriate orders with regard to disgorgement of such asset, property, or cash, and also for holding such director, key managerial personnel, officer or other person liable personally without any limitation of liability.

(vi) Perpetual Succession

An incorporated company never dies, except when it is wound up as per law. A company, being a separate legal person is unaffected by death or departure of any member and it remains the same entity, despite total change in the membership. Perpetual succession, means that the membership of a company may keep changing from time to time, but that shall not affect its continuity.

The membership of an incorporated company may change either because one shareholder has sold/transferred his shares to another or his shares devolve on his legal representatives on his death or he ceases to be a member under some other provisions of the Companies Act. Thus, perpetual succession denotes the ability of a company to maintain its existence by the succession of new individuals who step into the shoes of those who cease to be members of the company. Professor L.C.B. Gower rightly mentions, “Members may come and go, but the company can go on forever. During the war all the members of one private company, while in general meeting, were killed by a bomb, but the company survived — not even a hydrogen bomb could have destroyed it”.

(vii) Separate Property

A company being a legal person and entirely distinct from its members, is capable of owning, enjoying and disposing of property in its own name. The company is the real person in which all its property is vested, and by which it is controlled, managed and disposed off. Their Lordships of the Madras High Court in R.F. Perumal v. H. John Deavin, A.I.R. 1960 Mad. 43 held that “no member can claim himself to be the owner of the company’s property during its existence or in its winding-up”. A member does not even have an insurable interest in the property of the company.

CASE EXAMPLE

Mrs. Bacha F. Guzdar v. The Commissioner of Income Tax, Bombay*, A.I.R. 1955 S.C. 74

The Supreme Court in this case held that, though the income of a tea company is entitled to be exempted from Income-tax up to 60% being partly agricultural, the same income when received by a shareholder in the form of dividend cannot be regarded as agricultural income for the assessment of income-tax. It was also observed by the Supreme Court that a shareholder does not, as is erroneously believed by some people, become the part owner of the company or its property; he is only given certain rights by law, e.g., to receive notice of or to attend or vote at the meetings of the shareholders. The court refused to identify the shareholders with the company and reiterated the distinct personality of the company.

(viii) Transferability of Shares

The capital of a company is divided into parts, called shares. The shares are said to be movable property and, subject to certain conditions, freely transferable, so that no shareholder is permanently or necessarily wedded to a company. When the joint stock companies were established, the object was that their shares should be capable of being easily transferred, [In Re. Balia and San Francisco Rly., (1968) L.R. 3 Q.B. 588]. Section 44 of the Companies Act, 2013 enunciates the principle by providing that the shares held by the members are movable property and can be transferred from one person to another in the manner provided by the articles. If the articles do not provide anything for the transfer of shares and the Regulations contained in Table “F” in Schedule I to the Companies Act, 2013, are also expressly excluded, the transfer of shares will be governed by the general law relating to transfer of movable property.

A member may sell his shares in the open market and realise the money invested by him. This provides liquidity to a member (as he can freely sell his shares) and ensures stability to the company (as the member is not withdrawing his money from the company). The Stock Exchanges provide adequate facilities for the sale and purchase of shares.

Further, as of now, in most of the listed companies, the shares are also transferable through Electronic mode i.e. through Depository Participants in dematerialised form instead of physical transfers.

However there are restrictions with respect to transferability of shares of a Private Limited Company which are dealt in chapter 2.

(ix) Capacity to Sue and Be Sued

A company being a body corporate, can sue and be sued in its own name. To sue, means to institute legal proceedings against (a person) or to bring a suit in a court of law. All legal proceedings against the company are to be instituted in its name. Similarly, the company may bring an action against anyone in its own name. A company's right to sue arises when some loss is caused to the company, i.e. to the property or the personality of the company. Hence, the company is entitled to sue for damages in libel or slander as the case may be [Floating Services Ltd. v. MV San Fransceco Dipaloo (2004) 52 SCL 762 (Gu)]. A company, as a person distinct from its members, may even sue one of its own members.

A company has a right to seek damages where a defamatory material published about it, affects its business. Where video cassettes were prepared by the workmen of a company showing, their struggle against the company's management, it was held to be not actionable unless shown that the contents of the cassette would be defamatory. The court did not restrain the exhibition of the cassette. [TVS Employees Federation v. TVS and Sons Ltd., (1996) 87 Com Cases 37]. The company is not liable for contempt committed by its officer. [Lalit Surajmal Kanodia v. Office Tiger Database Systems India (P) Ltd., (2006) 129 Com Cases 192 Mad].

(x) Contractual Rights

A company, being a legal entity different from its members, can enter into contracts for the conduct of the business in its own name. A shareholder cannot enforce a contract made by his company; he is neither a party to the contract, nor be entitled to the benefit derived from of it, as a company is not a trustee for its shareholders. Likewise, a shareholder cannot be sued on contracts made by his company. The distinction between a company and its members is not confined to the rules of privity but permeates the whole law of contract. Thus, if a director fails to disclose a breach of his duties towards his company, and in consequence a shareholder is induced to enter into a contract with the director on behalf of the company which he would not have entered into had there been disclosure, the shareholder cannot rescind the contract.

Similarly, a member of a company cannot sue in respect of torts committed against the company, nor can he be sued for torts committed by the company. [British Thomson-Houston Company v. Sterling Accessories Ltd., (1924) 2 Ch. 33]. Therefore, the company as a legal person can take action to enforce its legal rights or be sued for breach of its legal duties. Its rights and duties are distinct from those of its constituent members.

(xi) Limitation of Action

A company cannot go beyond the power stated in its Memorandum of Association. The Memorandum of Association of the company regulates the powers and fixes the objects of the company and provides the edifice upon which the entire structure of the company rests. The actions and objects of the company are limited within the scope of its Memorandum of Association. In order to enable it to carry out its actions without such restrictions and limitations in most cases, sufficient powers are granted in the Memorandum of Association. But once the powers have been laid down, it cannot go beyond such powers unless the Memorandum of Association, itself altered prior to doing so.

(xii) Separate Management

As already noted, the members may derive profits without being burdened with the management of the company. They do not have effective and intimate control over its working and they elect their representatives as Directors on the Board of Directors of the company to conduct corporate functions through managerial personnel employed by them. In other words, the company is administered and managed by its managerial personnel.

(xiii) Voluntary Association for Profit

A company is a voluntary association for profit. It is formed for the accomplishment of some stated goals and whatsoever profit is gained is divided among its shareholders or saved for the future expansion of the company. Only a Section 8 company can be formed with no profit motive.

(xiv) Termination of Existence

A company, being an artificial juridical person, does not die a natural death. It is created by law, carries on its affairs according to law throughout its life and ultimately is effaced by law. Generally, the existence of a company is terminated by means of winding up. However, to avoid winding up, sometimes companies adopt strategies like reorganisation, reconstruction and amalgamation.

To sum up, “a company is a voluntary association for profit with capital divisible into transferable shares with limited liability, having a distinct corporate entity and a common seal with perpetual succession”.

COMPANY VIS-A-VIS OTHER FORMS OF BUSINESS

Though there are a number of similarities between a limited company and other forms of associations, there are a great number of dissimilarities as well. In the following paragraphs, a limited company is distinguished from a partnership firm, a Hindu Undivided Family (HUF) business and a LLP.

Distinction between Partnership Firm and Company

The principal points of distinction between a partnership firm and a company are as follows:

Partnership Firm	Company
A partnership firm is not distinct from the several persons who form the partnership.	A company is a distinct legal person.
In a partnership, the property of the firm is the property of the individuals comprising it.	In a company, it belongs to the company and not to the individuals who are its members.
Creditors of a partnership firm are creditors of individual partners and a decree against the firm can be executed against the partners jointly and severally.	The creditors of a company can proceed only against the company and not against its members.
Partners are the agents of the firm. A partner can dispose of the property and incur liabilities as long as he acts in the course of the firm's business.	Members of a company are not its agents. A member of a company cannot dispose of the property and incur liabilities in the course of the company's business.
A partner cannot contract with his firm.	A member can contract with his company.
A partner cannot transfer his share and make the transferee a member of the firm without the consent of the other partners.	A company's share can ordinarily be transferred
A partner's liability is always unlimited.	The liability of shareholder may be limited either by shares or a guarantee.
The death or insolvency of a partner dissolves the firm, unless otherwise provided.	A company has perpetual succession, i.e. the death or insolvency of a shareholder or all of them does not affect the life of the company.

The accounts of a firm are audited at the discretion of the partners.	A company is required to have its accounts audited annually by a chartered accountant.
A partnership firm, on the other hand, is the result of an agreement and can be dissolved at any time by agreement among the partners.	A company, being a creation of law, can only be dissolved as laid down by law.

Distinction between a Hindu Undivided Family Business and a Company

Hindu Undivided Family Business	Company
A Hindu Undivided Family Business consists of homogenous (unvarying) members since it consists of members of the joint family itself.	A company consists of heterogeneous (varied or diverse) members.
In a Hindu Undivided Family business the Karta (manager) has the sole authority to contract debts for the purpose of the business, other coparceners cannot do so.	There is no such system in a company.
A person becomes a member of a Hindu Undivided Family business by virtue of birth.	There is no provision to that effect in the company.
No registration is compulsory for carrying on business for gain by a Hindu Undivided Family even if the number of members exceeds twenty [Shyam Lal Roy v. Madhusudan Roy , AIR 1959 Cal. 380 (385)].	Registration of a company is compulsory.

Distinction between Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) and a Company

LLP is an alternative corporate business form that gives the benefits of limited liability of a company and the flexibility of a partnership. LLP can continue its existence irrespective of changes in partners. It is capable of entering into contracts and holding property in its own name. LLP is a separate legal entity, is liable to the full extent of its assets but liability of the partners is limited to their agreed contribution in the LLP.

Further, no partner is liable on account of the independent or un-authorized actions of other partners, thus individual partners are shielded from joint liability created by another partner's wrongful business decisions or misconduct.

Mutual rights and duties of the partners within a LLP are governed by an agreement between the partners or between the partners and the LLP as the case may be. The LLP, however, is not relieved of the liability for its other obligations as a separate entity.

Since LLP contains elements of both 'a corporate structure' as well as 'a partnership firm structure' LLP is called a hybrid between a company and a partnership.

LLP is a body corporate and a legal entity separate from its partners, having perpetual succession. LLP form is a form of business model which : (i) is organized and operates on the basis of an agreement, (ii) provides flexibility without imposing detailed legal and procedural requirements (iii) enables professional/technical expertise and initiative to combine with financial risk taking capacity in an innovative and efficient manner.

A basic difference between an LLP and a company lies in that the internal governance structure of a company is regulated by statute (i.e. Companies Act) whereas for an LLP it would be by a contractual agreement between partners.

The management-ownership divide inherent in a company is not there in a limited liability partnership. LLP have more flexibility as compared to a company. LLP have lesser compliance requirements as compared to a company.

DEVELOPMENT OF COMPANY LAW IN INDIA

Company Law in India, is the cherished child of the English parents. Our various Companies Acts have been modelled on the English Acts. Following the enactment of the Joint Stock Companies Act, 1844 in England, the first Companies Act was passed in India in 1850. It provided for the registration of the companies and transferability of shares. The Amending Act of 1857 conferred the right of registration with or without limited liability. Subsequently this right was granted to banking and insurance companies by an Act of 1860 following the similar principle in Britain. The Companies Act of 1856 repealed all the previous Acts. That Act provided inter alia for incorporation, regulation and winding up of companies and other associations. This Act was recast in 1882, embodying the amendments which were made in the Company Law in England upto that time. In 1913 a consolidating Act was passed, and major amendments were made to the consolidated Act in 1936. In the meantime England passed a comprehensive Companies Act in 1948. In 1951, the Indian Government promulgated the Indian Companies (Amendment) Ordinance under which the Central Government and the Court assumed extensive powers to intervene directly in the affairs of the company and to take necessary action in the interest of the company. The ordinance was replaced by an Amending Act of 1951.

The Companies Act 1956 – Based on Bhabha Committee Recommendations

The Companies Act, 1956 was enacted with a view to consolidate and amend the earlier laws relating to companies and certain other associations. The Act came into force on 1st April, 1956. This Companies Act was based largely on the recommendations of the Company Law Committee (Bhabha Committee) which submitted its report in March, 1952. This Act was the longest piece of legislation ever passed by our Parliament. Amendments have been made in this Act periodically. The Companies Act, 1956 consisted of 658 Sections and 15 Schedules.

Full and fair disclosure of various matters in prospectus; detailed information of the financial affairs of company to be disclosed in its account; provision for intervention and investigation by the Government into the affairs of a company; restrictions on the powers of managerial personnel; enforcement of proper performance of their duties by company management; and protection of minority shareholders were some of the main features of the Companies Act, 1956.

The Companies Act, 1956 was enacted with the object to amend and consolidate the law relating to companies. This Act provided the legal framework for corporate entities in India and was a mammoth legislation. As the corporate sector grew in numbers and size of operations, the need for streamlining this Act was felt and as many as 24 amendments had taken place since then.

The Companies Act, 1956 had undergone changes by amendments in 1960, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1969, 1971, 1977, 1985, 1988, 1996, 1999, 2000, 2002 (Amendment), 2002 (Second Amendment), and 2006. The Companies Act, 1956 was also amended pursuant to the enactment of the Depositories Act, 1996. Unsuccessful attempts were made in 1993 and 1997 to replace the present Act with a new law. Companies (Amendment) Bill, 2003 containing important provisions relating to Corporate Governance and aimed at achieving competitive advantage was also introduced.

- Based on the recommendations of Shastri Committee, the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1960 introduced several new provisions relating to various aspects of company management which were overlooked in the 1956 Act.
- The Companies (Amendment) Act, 1963 provided for the appointment of a Companies Tribunal and constitution of the Board of Company Law Administration. It also empowered the Central Government to remove managerial personnel involved in cases of fraud, etc.
- Based on the recommendations of the Vivian Bose Commission, the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1965 introduced some major changes, such as clear definition of the main and subsidiary objects of a company in its Memorandum of Association; Strengthening the provisions relating to investigation into the affairs of the company, etc. The Companies Act was further amended twice in 1966.
- Two important changes were introduced by the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1969. The institutions of managing agents and secretaries and treasurers were abolished with effect from April 3, 1970. Secondly, contributions by companies to any political party or for any political purpose were prohibited.
- The Companies (Amendment) Act, 1974 which came into force from February 1, 1975 had introduced some important and major changes in the Companies Act, 1956. The object of the Amendment Act was to inject an element of public interest in the working of the corporate sector.
- The Companies (Amendment) Act of 1977 brought about certain changes in Sections 58A, 220, 293, 620 and 634A of 1956 Act.
- The Companies (Amendment) Act, 1985: The amending Act substituted Section 293A of Companies Act, 1956 with a new section permitting Non-Government companies to make political contributions, directly or indirectly.
- With a view that legitimate dues of workers rank pari passu with secured creditors in the event of closure of the company and rank above even the dues to Government, Sections 529 and 530 of the Companies Act, 1956, were amended and a new Section 529A was introduced.
- The Companies (Amendment) Act, 1988: Based on the recommendations made by the Expert Committee (Sachar Committee), the Companies (Amendment) Act, 1988 substantially amended the Companies Act, 1956 in order to streamline some of the existing provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 and to ensure better working and administration of the Act. The important changes introduced by the Amendment Act of 1988 were:
 - (a) Definition of Secretary brought in line with the definition of 'Company Secretary' in the Company Secretaries Act, 1980 and includes an individual possessing the prescribed qualifications.
 - (b) The concept of company secretary in practice was introduced for the first time in the Companies Act. The Amended Act, among other things, also set up an independent Company Law Board to exercise such judicial and quasi-judicial functions, earlier being exercised either by the Court or the Central Government.

CONCEPT PAPER ON COMPANY LAW, 2004 & J.J. IRANI REPORT

To frame a law that enables companies to achieve global competitiveness in a fast changing economy, the Government had taken up a fresh exercise for a comprehensive revision of the Companies Act, 1956, albeit through a consultative process. As the first step in this direction, a Concept Paper on Company Law drawn up in the legislative format was exposed for public viewing on the electronic media so that all interested parties may not only express their opinions on the concepts involved but may also suggest formulations on various aspects of Company Law.

The response to the concept paper on Company Law was tremendous. The Government, therefore, felt it appropriate that the proposals contained in the Concept Paper and suggestions received thereon be put to merited evaluation by an independent Expert Committee. A Committee was constituted on 2nd December, 2004 under the Chairmanship of Dr. J J Irani, the then Director, Tata Sons, with the task of advising the Government on the proposed revisions to the Companies Act, 1956 with the objective to have a simplified compact law that will be able to address the changes taking place in the national and international scenario, enable the adoption of internationally accepted best practices as well as provide adequate flexibility for timely evolution of new arrangements in response to the requirements of ever-changing business models. The Committee submitted its report to the Government on 31st May 2005.

Dr. J J Irani Expert Committee on Company Law had submitted its report charting out the road map for a flexible, dynamic and user-friendly new company law. The Committee had taken a pragmatic approach keeping in view the ground realities, and had sought to address the concerns of all the stakeholders to enable adoption of internationally accepted best practices. As one wades through the report, one finds an arduous zeal to ensure that flexibility is coupled with accountability and transparency. Be it the role of directors in the management of the company or the role of promoters at the time of incorporation or the responsibility of professionals in ensuring better governance, the report had made very dynamic and balanced recommendations. The Report of the Committee had also sought to bring in multifarious progressive and visionary concepts and endeavored to recommend a significant shift from the “Government Approval Regime” to a “Shareholder Approval and Disclosure Regime”.

The Expert Committee had recommended that private and small companies need to be given flexibilities and freedom of operations and compliance at a low cost. Companies with higher public interest which access capital from public need to be subjected to a stricter regime of Corporate Governance. Further, Government companies and public financial institutions should be subject to similar parameters with respect to disclosures and Corporate Governance as other companies are subjected to.

To attune the Indian Company Law with the global reforms taking place in the arena, the Report of the Committee had sought to bring in multifarious visionary concepts, which if accepted and acted upon would really simplify the voluminous and cumbersome Companies Act in the country.

Companies Bill, 2012

The Government considered the recommendations of Irani Committee and also had detailed discussions and liberations with various stakeholders viz Industry Chambers, Professional Institutes, Government Departments, Legal Experts and Professionals etc. Thereafter, the Companies Bill, 2009 was introduced in the Lok Sabha on 3rd August, 2009, The Bill laid greater emphasis on self regulation and minimization of regulatory approvals in managing the affairs of the company. The Bill promised greater shareholder democracy, vesting the shareholders with greater powers, containing stricter corporate governance norms and requiring greater disclosures.

The Companies Bill, 2009 after introduction in Parliament was referred to the Parliamentary Standing Committee on Finance for examination which submitted its report to Parliament on 31st August, 2010. Certain amendments were introduced in the Bill in the light of the report of the Committee and a revised Companies Bill, 2011 was introduced. This version was also referred to the Hon'ble Committee, which suggested certain further amendments. The amended Bill was passed by the Lok Sabha on 18th December, 2012 and by the Rajya Sabha on 8th August, 2013. The Bill was retitled as Companies Bill, 2012.

Companies Act 2013

DOCTRINE OF LIFTING OF OR PIERCING THE CORPORATE VEIL

The separate personality of a company is a statutory privilege and it must be used for legitimate business purposes only. Where a fraudulent and dishonest use is made of the legal entity, the individuals concerned will not be allowed to take shelter behind the corporate personality. The Court will break through the corporate shell and apply the principle/doctrine of what is called as “lifting of or piercing the corporate veil”. The Court will look behind the corporate entity and take action as though no entity separate from the members existed and make the members or the controlling persons liable for debts and obligations of the company.

The corporate veil is lifted when in defence proceedings, such as for the evasion of tax, an entity relies on its corporate personality as a shield to cover its wrong doings. [BSN (UK) Ltd. v. Janardan Mohandas Rajan Pillai [1996] 86 Com Cases 371 (Bom).]

However, the shareholders cannot ask for the lifting of the veil for their purposes. This was held in Premalata Bhatia v. Union of India (2004) 58 CL 217 (Delhi) wherein the premises of a shop were allotted on a licence to the individual licensee. She set up a wholly owned private company and transferred the premises to that company without Government consent. She could not remove the illegality by saying that she and her company were virtually the same person.

Statutory Recognition of Lifting of Corporate Veil

The Companies Act, 2013 itself contains some provisions [Sections 7(7), 251(1) and 339] which lift the corporate veil to reach the real forces of action. Section 7(7) deals with punishment for incorporation of company by furnishing false information, Section 251(1) deals with liability for making fraudulent application for removal of name of company from the register of companies and Section 339 deals with liability for fraudulent conduct of business during the course of winding up.

Lifting of Corporate Veil under Judicial Interpretation

Ever since the decision in Salomon v. Salomon & Co. Ltd., (1897) A.C. 22, normally Courts are reluctant or at least very cautious to lift the veil of corporate personality to see the real persons behind it. Nevertheless, Courts have found it necessary to disregard the separate personality of a company in the following situations:

- (a) Where the corporate veil has been used for commission of fraud or improper conduct. In such a situation, Courts have lifted the veil and looked at the realities of the situation.

In Jones v. Lipman, (1962) 1 W.L.R. 832

A agreed to sell certain land to B. Pending completion of formalities of the said deal, A sold and transferred the land to a company which he had incorporated with a nominal capital of £100 and of which he and a clerk were the only shareholders and directors. This was done in order to escape a decree for specific performance in a suit brought by B. The Court held that the company was the creature of A and a mask to avoid recognition and that in the eyes of equity A must complete the contract, since he had the full control of the limited company in which the property was vested, and was in a position to cause the contract in question to be fulfilled.

- (b) Where a corporate facade is really only an agency instrumentality.

CASE EXAMPLE

In Re. R.G. Films Ltd. (1953) 1 All E.R. 615

An American company produced a film in India technically in the name of a British Company, 90% of whose capital was held by the President of the American company which financed the production of the film. Board of Trade refused to register the film as a British film which stated that English company acted merely as the nominee of the American corporation.

- (c) Where the conduct conflicts with public policy, courts lifted the corporate veil for protecting the public policy.

CASE EXAMPLE

In Connors Bros. v. Connors (1940) 4 All E.R. 179

The principle was applied against the managing director who made use of his position contrary to public policy. In this case the House of Lords determined the character of the company as "enemy" company, since the persons who were de facto in control of its affairs, were residents of Germany, which was at war with England at that time. The alien company was not allowed to proceed with the action, as that would have meant giving money to the enemy, which was considered as monstrous and against "public policy".

- (d) Further, In Daimler Co. Ltd. v. Continental Tyre & Rubber Co., (1916) 2 A.C. 307, it was held that a company will be regarded as having enemy character, if the persons having de facto control of its affairs are resident in an enemy country or, wherever they may be, are acting under instructions from or on behalf of the enemy.

- (e) Where it was found that the sole purpose for which the company was formed was to evade taxes the Court will ignore the concept of separate entity and make the individuals concerned liable to pay the taxes which they would have paid but for the formation of the company.

CASE EXAMPLE

Re. Sir Dinshaw Manakjee Petit, A.I.R. 1927 Bombay 371

The facts of the case are that the assessee was a wealthy man enjoying large dividend and interest income. He formed four private companies and agreed with each to hold a block of investment as an agent for it. Income received was credited in the accounts of the company but the company handed back the amount to him as a pretended loan. This way he divided his income in four parts in a bid to reduce his tax liability.

But it was held “the company was formed by the assessee purely and simply as a means of avoiding super-tax and the company was nothing more than the assessee himself. It did no business, but was created simply as a legal entity to ostensibly receive the dividends and interests and to hand them over to the assessee as pretended loans”. The Court decided to disregard the corporate entity as it was being used for tax evasion.

- (f) Avoidance of welfare legislation is as common as avoidance of taxation and the approach in considering problems arising out of such avoidance has necessarily to be the same and, therefore, where it was found that the sole purpose for the formation of the new company was to use it as a device to reduce the amount to be paid by way of bonus to workmen, the Supreme Court upheld the piercing of the veil to look at the real transaction.

CASE EXAMPLEThe Workmen Employed in Associated Rubber Industries Limited, Bhavnagar v. The Associated Rubber Industries Ltd., Bhavnagar and another, A.I.R. 1986 SC 1.

The facts of the case were that a new company was created wholly by the principal company with no assets of its own except those transferred to it by the principal company, with no business or income of its own except receiving dividends from shares transferred to it by the principal company i.e. only for the purpose of splitting the profits into two hands and thereby reducing the obligation to pay bonus. The Supreme Court of India held that the new company was formed as a device to reduce the gross profits of the principal company and thereby reduce the amount to be paid by way of bonus to workmen. The amount of dividends received by the new company should, therefore, be taken into account in assessing the gross profit of the principal company.

- (g) Another instance of corporate veil arrived at by the Court arose in Kapila Hingorani v. State of Bihar.

CASE EXAMPLEKapila Hingorani v. State of Bihar, 2003(4) Scale 712

In this case, the petitioner had alleged that the State of Bihar had not paid salaries to its employees in PSUs etc. for long periods resulting in starvation deaths. But the respondent took the stand that most of the undertakings were incorporated under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956, hence the rights etc. of the shareholders should be governed by the provisions of the Companies Act and the liabilities of the PSUs should not be passed on to the State Government by resorting to the doctrine of lifting the corporate veil. The Court observed that the State may not be liable in relation to the day-to-day functioning of the PSUs but its liability would arise on its failure to perform the constitutional duties and the functions of these undertakings. It is so because, “life means something more than mere ordinal existence. The inhibition against deprivation of life extends to all those limits and faculties by which life is enjoyed”.

- (h) Where it is found that a company has abused its corporate personality for an unjust and inequitable purpose, the court would not hesitate to lift the corporate veil. Further, the corporate veil could be lifted when acts of a corporation are allegedly opposed to justice, convenience and interests of revenue or workmen or are against public interest.

Thus, in appropriate cases, the Courts disregard the separate corporate personality and look behind the legal person or lift the corporate veil.

Lifting the Corporate Veil of Small Scale Industry

Where small scale industries were given certain exemptions and the company owning an industry was controlled by some group of persons or companies, it was held that it was permissible to lift the veil of the company to see whether it was the subsidiary of another company and, therefore, not entitled to the proposed exemptions. [Inalsa Ltd. v. Union of India, (1996) 87 Com Cases 599 (Delhi).]

Use of Corporate Veil for Hiding Criminal Activities

Where the defendant used the corporate structure as a device or facade to conceal his criminal activities (evasion of customs and excise duties payable by the company), the Court could lift the corporate veil and treat the assets of the company as the realisable property of the shareholder.

For example, in a case, there was a prima facie case that the defendants controlled the two companies, the companies had been used for the fraudulent evasion of excise duty on a large scale, the defendant regarded the companies as carrying on a family business and that they had benefited from companies' cash in substantial amounts and further no useful purpose would have been served by involving the companies in the criminal proceedings. In all these circumstances it was therefore appropriate to lift the corporate veil and treat the stock in the companies' warehouses and the companies' motor vehicles as realisable property held by the defendants. The court said that the excise department is not to be criticized for not charging the companies. The more complex commercial activities become, the more vital it is for prosecuting authorities to be selective in whom and what they charge, so that issues can be presented in as clear and short form as possible. In the present case, it seemed that no useful purpose would have been served by initiating criminal proceedings. [H. and Others (Restraint Order : Realisable Property), Re, (1996) 2 BCLC 500 at 511, 512 (CA).]

ILLEGAL ASSOCIATION

In order to prevent the mischief arising from large trading undertakings being carried on by large fluctuating bodies so that persons dealing with them did not know with whom they were contracting, the law has put a ceiling on the number of persons constituting an association or partnership. An unincorporated company, association or partnership consisting of large number of persons has been declared illegal.

By virtue of section 464 of the Companies Act, 2013, no association or partnership consisting of more than such number of persons as may be prescribed shall be formed for the purpose of carrying on any business that has for its object the acquisition of gain by the association or partnership or by the individual members thereof, unless it is registered as a company under this Act or is formed under any other law for the time being in force. Section further provides that the number of persons which may be prescribed under this section shall not exceed one hundred. Accordingly, Rule 10 of Companies (Miscellaneous) Rules, 2014 prescribes 50 persons in this regard.

Section 464 of the Act does not apply to the case of a Hindu undivided family carrying on any business whatever may be the number of its members. However, this section is also not applicable to an association or partnership, if it is formed by professionals who are governed by special Acts.

Since, the law does not recognize it, an illegal association:

- (i) cannot enter into any contract;
- (ii) cannot sue any member, or outsider, not even if the company is subsequently registered;
- (iii) cannot be sued by a member, or an outsider for recovery of any debts;
- (iv) cannot be wound up by an order of the Court. In fact, the Court cannot entertain a petition for its winding up as an unregistered company, for if it did, it would be indirectly according recognition to the illegal association (Raghubar Dayal v. Sarafa Chamber A.I.R. 1954 All. 555).

However, an illegal association is liable to be taxed [Kumara Swamy Chattiar v. Income Tax Officer (1957) I.T.R. 457].

The members of an illegal association are individually liable in respect of all acts or contracts made on behalf of the association; they cannot either individually or collectively, bring an action to enforce any contract so made, or to recover any debt due to the association [Wilkinson v. Levison (1925) 42 T.L.R. 97].

Under sub-section (3) of section 464, every member of an illegal association shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one lakh rupees and shall also be personally liable for all liabilities incurred in such business.

This section will not be applicable to LLPs as they are incorporated as bodies corporate under LLP Act.

- (a) Entering into any contract.
- (b) Suing any member or an outsider by a company.
- (c) Sued by a member or an outsider against the company.

Correct answer: (a), (b) and (c)

LESSON ROUND-UP

- The word 'company' is derived from the Latin word (Com = with or together; panis = bread), and it originally referred to an association of persons who took their meals together.
- In the legal sense, a company is an association of both natural and artificial persons incorporated under the existing law of a country. A company has a separate legal entity from the persons constituting it.
- The main characteristics of a company are corporate personality, limited liability, perpetual succession, separate property, transferability of shares, capacity to sue and be sued, contractual rights, limitation of action, separate management, termination of existence etc.
- The company, though a legal person, is not a citizen under the Citizenship Act, 1955 or the Constitution of India. Though it has established through judicial decisions that a company cannot be a citizen, yet it has nationality, domicile and residence.

- Company Law in India has been modelled on the English Company Law.
- In India after independence, the Companies Act, 1956 was enacted with a view to consolidate and amend the earlier laws relating to companies and certain other associations.
- Companies Act, 2013 was passed by the Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha on 18th December and 8th August, 2013 respectively. It received the assent of the Hon'ble President of India on 29th August, 2013 and was notified in the Gazette of India on 30th August, 2013. The Companies Act, 2013 has replaced the Companies Act, 1956.
- Where a fraudulent and dishonest use is made of the legal entity, the individuals concerned will not be allowed to take shelter behind the corporate personality. The Court may break through the corporate shell and apply the principle of what is known as "lifting of or piercing the corporate veil".
- In order to prevent the mischief arising from large trading undertakings being carried on by large fluctuating bodies so that persons dealing with them do not know with whom they were contracting, the law has put a ceiling on the number of persons constituting an association or partnership. If the ceiling exceeds 50, then such association or partnership has to register itself either under the Companies Act, 2013 or some other Indian Statute.

INTRODUCTION

The Companies Act 2013 provides for the kinds of companies that can be promoted and registered under the Act. The three basic types of companies which may be registered under the Act are:

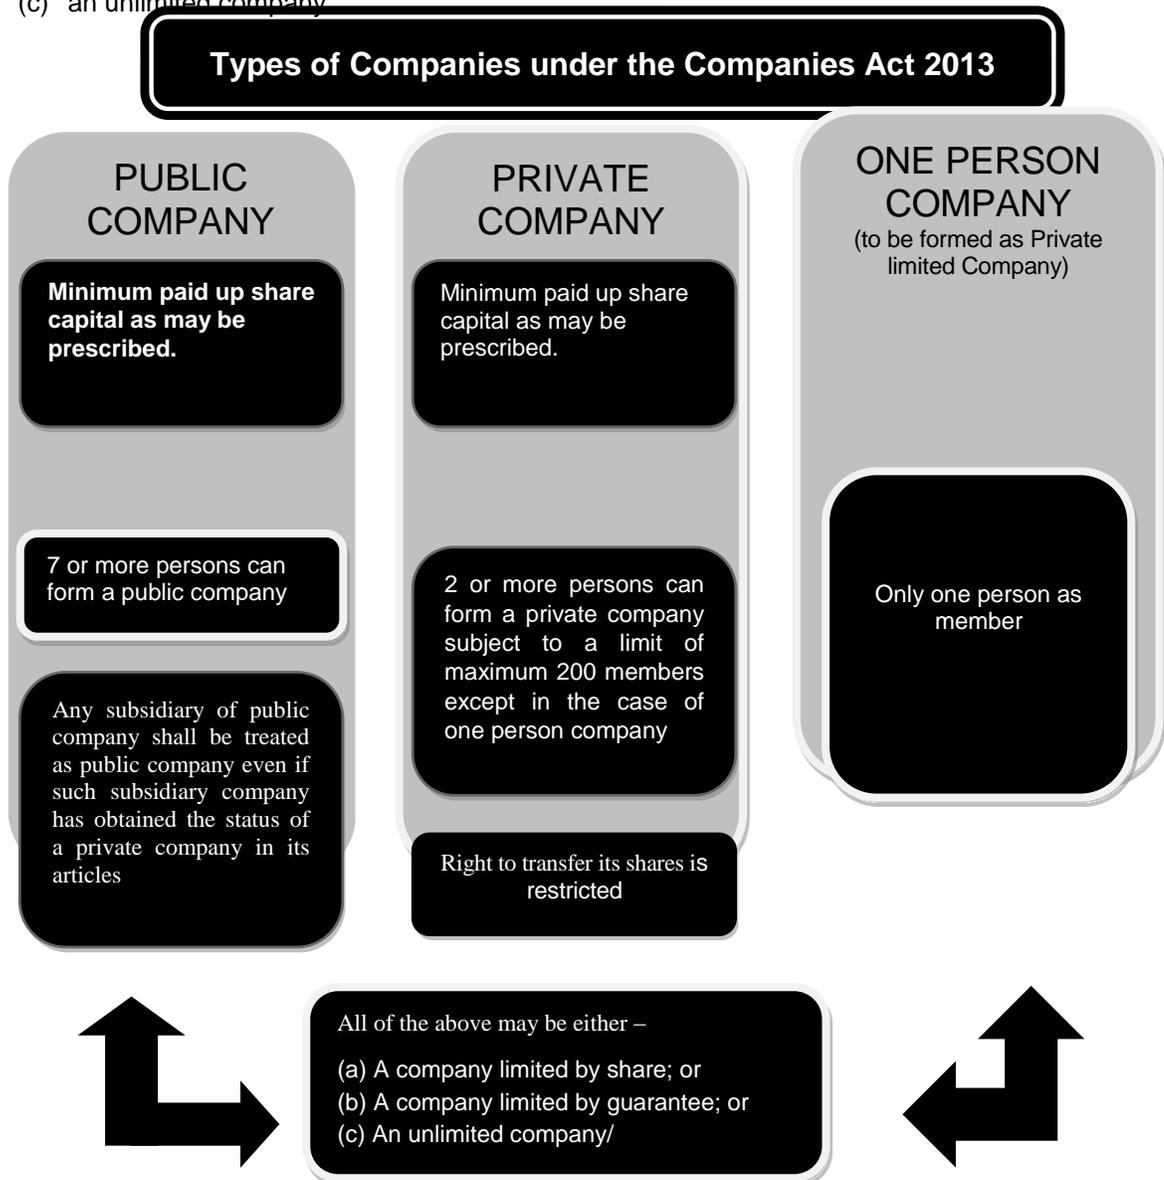

- (a) Private Companies;
- (b) Public Companies; and
- (c) One Person Company (to be formed as Private Limited)

Section 3 (1) of the Companies Act 2013 states that a company may be formed for any lawful purpose by—

- (a) seven or more persons, where the company to be formed is to be a public company;
- (b) two or more persons, where the company to be formed is to be a private company; or
- (c) one person, where the company to be formed is to be One Person Company that is to say, a private company, by subscribing their names or his name to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of registration

(2) A company formed under sub-section (1) may be either—

- (a) a company limited by shares; or
- (b) a company limited by guarantee; or
- (c) an unlimited company.

Classification of Companies

- (i) Classification on the basis of Incorporation: There are three ways in which companies may be incorporated.
 - (a) Statutory Companies: These are constituted by a special Act of Parliament or State Legislature. The provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 do not apply to them. Examples of these types of companies are Reserve Bank of India, Life Insurance Corporation of India, etc.
 - (b) Registered Companies: The companies which are incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013 or under any previous company law, with Registrar of Companies (RoC) fall under this category.
- (ii) Classification on the basis of Liability: Under this category there are three types of companies:
 - (a) Unlimited Liability Companies: In this type of company, the members are liable for the company's debts in proportion to their respective interests in the company and their liability is unlimited. Such companies may or may not have share capital. They may be either a public company or a private company.
 - (b) Companies limited by guarantee: A company that has the liability of its members limited to such amount as the members may respectively undertake, by the memorandum, to contribute to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound-up, is known as a company limited by guarantee. The members of a guarantee company are, in effect, placed in the position of guarantors of the company's debts up to the agreed amount.
 - (c) Companies limited by shares: A company that has the liability of its members limited by the memorandum to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares respectively held by them is termed as a company limited by shares. For example, a shareholder who has paid ₹75 on a share of face value ₹100 can be called upon to pay the balance of ₹25 only. Companies limited by shares are by far the most common and may be either public or private.

(iii) Other Forms of Companies

- (a) Associations not for profit having license under Section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 or under any previous company law;
- (b) Government Companies;
- (c) Foreign Companies;
- (d) Holding and Subsidiary Companies;
- (e) Associate Companies/Joint Venture Companies
- (f) Investment Companies
- (g) Producer Companies.
- (h) Nidhi Companies
- (i) Dormant Companies

PRIVATE COMPANY

As per Section 2(68) of the Companies Act, 2013, "private company" means a company having a minimum paid-up share capital as may be prescribed, and which by its articles,—

- (i) restricts the right to transfer its shares;
- (ii) except in case of One Person Company, limits the number of its members to two hundred:

Provided that where two or more persons hold one or more shares in a company jointly, they shall, for the purposes of this definition, be treated as a single member:

Provided further that the following persons shall not be included in the number of members;—

- (A) persons who are in the employment of the company; and
- (B) persons who, having been formerly in the employment of the company, were members of the company while in that employment and have continued to be members after the employment ceased, and
- (iii) prohibits any invitation to the public to subscribe for any securities of the company;

It must be noted that it is only the number of members that is limited to two hundred. A private company may issue debentures to any number of persons, the only condition being that an invitation to the public to subscribe for debentures is prohibited.

The aforesaid definition of private limited company specifies the restrictions, limitations and prohibitions, which must be expressly provided in the articles of association of a private limited company.

As per proviso to Section 14 (1), if a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include the restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under this Act, such company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company.

A private company can only accept deposit from its members upto a particular limit in accordance with section 73 of the Companies Act, 2013.

The words 'Private Limited' must be added at the end of its name by a private limited company.

As per section 3 (1), a private company may be formed for any lawful purpose by two or more persons, by subscribing their names to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of registration. Section 149(1) further lays down that a private company shall have a minimum number of two directors. The only two members may also be the two directors of the private company.

Privileges and Exemptions of Private Company

The Companies Act, 2013, confers certain privileges on private companies which are not subsidiaries of public companies. Such companies are also exempted from complying with quite a few provisions of the Act. The basic rationale behind this is that since private limited companies are restrained from inviting capital and deposits from the public, not much public interest is involved in their affairs as compared to public limited companies. Private limited companies lose the privileges and exemptions the moment they cease to be private companies.

Private companies enjoy various privileges and exemptions. The Central Government has been empowered under section 462 (1), to issue in public interest, by notification, directing that any of the provisions of Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply to such class or classes of companies or shall apply to the class or classes of companies with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the notification. In this context the Central Government vide notification no. 464(E) dated 5th June, 2015 and notification no. 583(E) dated 13th June, 2017 directed that respective sections of the Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply or shall apply with certain exceptions, modification and adaptations to private companies. Special Obligations of a Private Company

In addition to the restrictions imposed on Private Companies as contained in Section 2(68) of the Companies Act, a private company owes certain special obligations as compared to a public company, which are as follows:

A private company, while filing its annual return with the Registrar of Companies as required by Section 92, must also send with this return, a certificate stating that:

- (i) The company has not, since the date of the closure of the last financial year with reference to which the last return was submitted or in the case of a first return since the date of the incorporation of the company, issued any invitation to the public to subscribe for any securities of the company;
- (ii) Where the annual return discloses the fact that the number of members, except in case of a one person company, of the company exceeds two hundred, the excess consists wholly of persons who under second proviso to clause (ii) of sub-section (68) of section 2 (i.e. the person who is or were in the employment of the Co.) of the Act are not to be included in reckoning the number of two hundred;
- (iii) The Company continued to be a Private Company during the financial year.

Consequences of Alteration of the Articles of Private Companies

As per proviso to section 14(1), where a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include the restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under section 2(68), the company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company. In such a case, it shall be treated as a public company from the date of alteration of its articles.

FURTHER CLASSIFICATION OF PRIVATE COMPANY INTO ONE PERSON COMPANY AND SMALL COMPANY

The Dr. JJ Irani committee had recommended that “Company Law should therefore recognize a multiple classification of companies.” In line with the abovesaid recommendation, under the Companies Act, 2013, a private company can further be classified into a One Person Company and Small Company.

ONE PERSON COMPANY (OPC)

Background of OPC

With the implementation of the Companies Act, 2013, a single person could constitute a Company, under the One Person Company (OPC) concept.

The new Companies Act, 2013 has done away with redundant provisions of the previous Companies Act, 1956, and provides for a new entity in the form of one person company (OPC), while empowering the Central Government to provide a simpler compliance regime for small companies.

The introduction of OPC in the legal system is a move that would encourage corporatisation of micro businesses and entrepreneurship.

In India, in the year 2005, the JJ Irani Expert Committee recommended the formation of OPC. It had suggested that such an entity may be provided with a simpler legal regime through exemptions so that the small entrepreneur is not compelled to devote considerable time, energy and resources on complex legal compliance.

OPC is a one shareholder corporate entity, where legal and financial liability is limited to the company only.

Status of OPC in other countries

Even in other countries like UK, Australia, Singapore, Pakistan, etc; a single person can form a company.

Various countries permit this kind of a corporate entity (China introduced it in October 2005) in which the promoting individual is both the director and the shareholder.

The amended company law of Pakistan permits one person to form a single-member company by filing with the registrar, at the time of incorporation, a nomination in the prescribed form indicating at least two individuals to act as nominee director and alternate nominee director.

In US, several states permit the formation and operation of a single-member Limited Liability Company (LLC).

In China, one person is allowed to apply for opening a limited company with a minimum capital of 1, 00,000 Yuan. The amended law of China prescribes that the owner should pay the investment capital at one time and bars him from opening a second company of the same kind.

In most countries, the law governing companies enables a single-member company to have more than one director and grants exemptions to such companies from holding AGMs, though records and documents are to be maintained.

Difference between a Sole Proprietorship and an OPC

The fundamental difference between a sole proprietorship and an OPC is the way liability is treated in the latter.

A one-person company is different from a sole proprietorship because it is a separate legal entity that distinguishes between the promoter and the company.

The promoter's liability is limited in an OPC in the event of a default or legal issues. On the other hand, in sole proprietorships, the liability is not restricted and extends to the individual and his or her entire assets.

Position of OPC in India under the Companies Act 2013

The Companies Act, 2013 classifies companies on the basis of their number of members into One Person Company, private company and public company. As stated above, a private company requires a minimum of 2 members. In other words, a One Person Company is a kind of private company having only one member.

As per section 2(62) of the Companies Act, 2013, "One Person Company" means a company which has only one person as a member.

Section 3(1)(c) lays down that a company may be formed for any lawful purpose by one person, where the company to be formed is to be One Person Company that is to say, a private company. In other words, one person company is a kind of private company.

A One person company shall have a minimum of one director. Therefore, a One Person Company will be registered as a private company with one member and one director.

By virtue of section 3(2), an OPC may be formed either as a company limited by shares or a company limited by guarantee; or an unlimited liability company.

Rule 3 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014 - One Person Company

(1) Only a natural person who is an Indian citizen and resident in India-

- (a) shall be eligible to incorporate a One Person Company;

Contract by One Person Company

Section 193 (1) provides that where One Person Company limited by shares or by guarantee enters into a contract with the sole member of the company who is also the director of the company, the company shall, unless the contract is in writing, ensure that the terms of the contract or offer are recorded in a memorandum or are recorded in the minutes of the first meeting of the Board of Directors of the company held next after entering into contract.

However, above said provision shall not apply to contracts entered into by the one person company in the ordinary course of its business.

As per section 193 (2), the company shall inform the Registrar about every contract entered into by the company and recorded in the minutes of the meeting of its Board of Directors under sub-section (1) within a period of fifteen days of the date of approval by the Board of Directors.

As per section 152 (1), in case of a One Person Company an individual being its member shall be deemed to be its first director until a director or directors are duly appointed by the member in accordance with the provisions of that section.

197(1)	Total managerial remuneration payable by a one person company, to its directors, including managing director and whole-time director, and its manager in respect of any financial year may exceed eleven per cent. of the net profits.

Benefits of One Person Company

The concept of One person company is quite revolutionary. It gives the individual entrepreneurs all the benefits of a company, which means they will get credit, bank loans, access to market, limited liability, and legal protection available to companies.

Prior to the new Companies Act, 2013 coming into effect, at least two shareholders were required to start a company. But now the concept of One Person Company would provide tremendous opportunities for small businessmen and traders, including those working in areas like handloom, handicrafts and pottery. Earlier they were working as artisans and weavers on their own, so they did not have a legal entity of a company. But now the OPC would help them do business as an enterprise and give them an opportunity to start their own ventures with a formal business structure,

Further, the amount of compliance by a one person company is much lesser in terms of filing returns, balance sheets, audit etc. Also, rather than the middlemen usurping profits, the one person company will have direct access to the market and the wholesale retailers. The new concept would also boost the confidence of small entrepreneurs.

SMALL COMPANY

As recommended by the Dr. JJ Irani Committee, the concept of small companies has been introduced in the Companies, Act, 2013. The recommendation of the Irani committee in this regard was as under:

“The Committee sees no reason why small companies should suffer the consequences of regulation that may be designed to ensure balancing of interests of stakeholders of large, widely held corporates. Company law should enable simplified decision making procedures by relieving such companies from select statutory internal administrative procedures. Such companies should also be subjected to reduced financial reporting and audit requirements and simplified capital maintenance regimes. Essentially the regime for small companies should enable them to achieve transparency at a low cost through simplified requirements. Such a framework may be applied to small companies through exemptions, consolidated in the form of a Schedule to the Act.”

Small company is a new form of private company under the Companies Act, 2013. A classification of a private company into a small company is based on its size i.e. paid up capital and turnover. In other words, such companies are small sized private companies.

As per section 2(85) “small company” means a company, other than a public company,—

(i) paid-up share capital of which does not exceed fifty lakh rupees or such higher amount as may be prescribed which shall not be more than ten crore rupees; and

(ii) turnover of which as per profit and loss account for the immediately preceding financial year does not exceed two crore rupees or such higher amount as may be prescribed which shall not be more than one hundred crore rupees:

Provided that nothing in this clause shall apply to—

(A) a holding company or a subsidiary company;

(B) a company registered under section 8; or

(C) a company or body corporate governed by any special Act Privileges of a Small Company

The privileges and exemptions enjoyed by a small company or its advantages over other companies are as follows:

Section	Nature of exemptions/privileges
2(40)	The financial statement, with respect to Small Company may not include the cash flow

67(2)	Financial assistance can be given for purchase of or subscribing to its own shares or shares in its holding company

PUBLIC COMPANY

By virtue of Section 2(71), a public company means a company which:

- (a) is not a private company; and
- (b) has a minimum paid-up share capital, as may be prescribed.

Provided that a company which is a subsidiary of a company, not being a private company, shall be deemed to be public company for the purposes of this Act even where such subsidiary company continues to be a private company in its articles

74 EP-CL

As per section 3 (1) (a), a public company may be formed for any lawful purpose by seven or more persons, by subscribing their names or his name to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of registration.

A public company may be said to be an association consisting of not less than 7 members, which is registered under the Act. In principle, any member of the public who is willing to pay the price may acquire shares in or debentures of it. The securities of a public company may be quoted on a Stock Exchange. The number of members is not limited to two hundred.

As per section 58(2), the securities or other interest of any member in a public company shall be freely transferable. However, any contract or arrangement between two or more persons in respect of transfer of securities shall be enforceable as a contract.

The concept of free transferability of shares in public and private companies is very succinctly discussed in the case of Western Maharashtra Development Corpn. Ltd. V. Bajaj Auto Ltd [2010] 154 Com Cases 593 (Bom). It was held that the Companies Act, makes a clear distinction in regard to the transferability of shares relating to private and public companies. By definition, a “private company” is a company which restricts the right to transfer its shares. In the case of a public company, the Act provides that the shares or debentures and any interest therein, of a company, shall be freely transferable.

The provision contained in the law for the free transferability of shares in a public company is founded on the principle that members of the public must have the freedom to purchase and, every shareholder the freedom to transfer. The incorporation of a company in the public, as distinguished from the private, realm leads to specific consequences and the imposition of obligations envisaged in law. Those who promote and manage public companies assume those obligations. Corresponding to those obligations are rights, which the law recognizes as inherent in the members of the public who subscribe to shares.

LIMITED COMPANY

As per section 3(2), a company formed under this Act may be either (a) a company limited by shares; or (b) a company limited by guarantee or (c) an unlimited company.

The term 'Limited Company' means a company limited by shares or by guarantee.

The liability of the members, in the case of a limited company, may be limited with reference to the nominal value of the shares, respectively held by them or to the amount which they have respectively guaranteed to contribute in the event of winding up of the company. Accordingly, a limited company can be further classified into: (a) Company limited by shares, and (b) Company limited by guarantee.

Companies Limited by Shares

As per section 2(22), “company limited by shares” means a company having the liability of its members limited by the memorandum to the amount, if any, unpaid on the shares respectively held by them. Accordingly, no member of a company limited by shares, can be called upon to pay more than the nominal value of the shares held by him. If his shares are fully paid-up, he has nothing more to pay. But in the case of partly-paid shares, the unpaid portion is payable at any time during the existence of the company on a call being made, whether the company is a going concern or is being wound up. This is the essence of a company limited by shares and is the most common form in existence.

Companies Limited by Guarantee

As per section 2(21) “company limited by guarantee” means a company having the liability of its members limited by the memorandum to such amount as the members may respectively undertake to contribute to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound up. Clubs, trade associations and societies for promoting different objects are examples of such a company. It should be noted that a special feature of this type of company is that the liability of members to pay their guaranteed amounts arises only when the company has gone into liquidation and not when it is a going concern.

A guarantee company may or may not have a share capital.

As regards the funds, a guarantee company without share capital obtains working capital from other sources, e.g. fees or grants. But a guarantee company having a share capital raises its initial capital from its members, while the normal working funds would be provided from other sources, such as fees, charges, subscriptions, etc.

The Memorandum of Association of every guarantee company must state that every member of the company undertakes to contribute to assets of the company in the event of its being wound up while he is a member for the payment of the debts and liabilities of the company contracted before he ceases to be a member, and of the charges, costs and expenses of winding up, and for adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves, such amount as may be required, not exceeding a specified amount.

The Memorandum of a company limited by guarantee must state the amount of guarantee. It may be of different denominations.

In case of a guarantee company having share capital the shareholders have two-fold liability: to pay the amount which remains unpaid on their shares, whenever called upon to pay, and secondly, to pay the amount payable under the guarantee when the company goes into liquidation. The voting power of a guarantee company having share capital is determined by the shareholding and not by the guarantee.

A guarantee company must include the word "limited" or the words "private limited" as part of its name, and must register its articles, and it shall adopt the provisions of the Table 'G' and 'H' of Schedule I. It must also state the number of members with which it proposes to be registered, although the number can be increased by means of a resolution.

Section 4(7) states that any provision in the memorandum of articles, in the case of company limited by guarantee and not having a share capital, purporting to give any person a right to participate in the divisible profits of the company otherwise than as a member shall be void.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

The voting power of a guarantee company having share capital is determined by the guarantee.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

UNLIMITED COMPANY

As per section 2(92), "unlimited company" means a company not having any limit on the liability of its members. Thus, the maximum liability of the member of such a company, in the event of its being wound up, might stretch up to the full extent of their assets to meet the obligations of the company by contributing to its assets. However, the members of an unlimited company are not liable directly to the creditors of the company, as in the case of partners of a firm. The liability of the members is only towards the company and in the event of its being wound up only the Liquidator can ask the members to contribute to the assets of the company which will be used in the discharge of the debts of the company.

An unlimited company may or may not have share capital.

Under Section 18, a company registered as an unlimited company may subsequently re-register itself as a limited company, by altering its memorandum and articles of the company in accordance with the provisions of Chapter II of the Companies Act subject to the provision that any debts, liabilities, obligations or contracts incurred or entered into, by or on behalf of the unlimited company before such conversion are not affected by such changed registration.

ASSOCIATION NOT FOR PROFIT

As per Section 4(1), the memorandum of a company shall state the name of the company with the last word “Limited” in the case of a public limited company, or the last words “Private Limited” in the case of a private limited company. However, Section 8(1) permits the registration, under a licence granted by the Central Government, of associations not for profit with limited liability without being required to use the word “Limited” or the words “Private Limited” after their names. This is of great value to companies not engaged in business like bodies pursuing charitable, educational or other purposes of great utility.

The Central Government may grant such a licence if:

- (i) it is intended to form a company for promoting commerce, art, science, sports, education, research, social welfare, religion, charity protection of environment or any such other object; and
- (ii) the company prohibits payment of any dividend to its members but intends to apply its profits or other income in promotion of its objects.

Further under section 8(5) where it is proved to the satisfaction of the Central Government that a limited company registered under this Act or under any previous company law has been formed with any of the objects specified above and with the restrictions and prohibitions as mentioned aforesaid, it may, by licence, allow the company to be registered under this section subject to such conditions as the Central Government deems fit and to change its name by omitting the word “Limited”, or as the case may be, the words “Private Limited” from its name and thereupon the Registrar shall, on application, in the prescribed form, register such company under this section and all the provisions of this section shall apply to that company.

The company is registered without paying any stamp duty on its Memorandum and Articles. On registration, the Association enjoys all the privileges of a limited company, and is subject to all its obligations, except, those in respect of which exemption by a notification is granted by the Central Government. A licence may be granted by the Central Government under Section 8 of the Act on such conditions and subject to such regulations as it thinks fit and those conditions and regulations shall be binding on the body to which the licence is granted. The Central Government may direct that such conditions and regulations shall be inserted in the Memorandum, or in the Articles, or partly in the one and partly in the other.

A Company, which has been granted licence under Section 8 cannot alter the provisions of its Memorandum or articles except with the previous approval of the Central Government.

A firm may be a member of the company registered under this section.

A company registered under section 8 may convert itself into company of any other kind only after complying with such conditions as may be prescribed.

An association registered under the Act, which has been granted a licence under Sub-section (1) Section 8 is subject to all the obligations under the Act, except in some cases where the Central Government has issued some notifications directing exemption, to such licensed companies from various provisions of the Act, as specified in those notifications. It covers aspects such as shorter notice of general meetings, publication of name under section 12 etc.

The Central Government may by order at any time revoke the licence whereupon the word "Limited" or "Private Limited" as the case may be, shall have to be used as part of its name and the company will lose the exemptions that might have been granted by the Central Government. However, the Central Government can do so only after providing such association an opportunity to be heard and the aggrieved association can challenge the order of the Central Government under Article 226 of the Constitution. Further a copy of every such order has to be filed with the Registrar.

The Central Government has been empowered under section 462 (1), to issue in public interest, by notification, directing that any of the provisions of Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply to such class or classes of companies or shall apply to the class or classes of companies with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the notification. In this context the Central Government vide notification no. 466(E) dated 5th June, 2015 and notification no. 584 dated 13th June, 2017 directed that respective sections of the Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply or shall apply with certain exceptions, modification and adaptations to Section 8 companies. GOVERNMENT COMPANIES

Section 2(45) defines a "Government Company" as any company in which not less than fifty one per cent. of the paid-up share capital is held by the Central Government, or by any State Government or Governments, or partly by the Central Government and partly by one or more State Governments, and includes a company which is a subsidiary company of such a Government company.

Notwithstanding all the pervasive control of the Government, the Government company is neither a Government department nor a Government establishment [Hindustan Steel Works Construction Co. Ltd. v. State of Kerala (1998) 2 CLJ 383].

Since employees of Government companies are not Government servants, they have no legal right to claim that the Government should pay their salary or that the additional expenditure incurred on account of revision of their pay scales should be met by the Government. It is the responsibility of the company to pay them the salaries [A.K. Bindal v. Union of India (2003) 114 Com Cases 590 (SC)].

When the Government engages itself in trading ventures, particularly as Government companies under the company law, it does not do so as a State but it does so in essence as a company. A Government company is not a department of the Government.

The Central Government has been empowered under section 462 (1), to issue in public interest, by notification, directing that any of the provisions of Companies Act, 2013 shall not apply to such class or classes of companies or shall apply to the class or classes of companies with such exceptions, modifications and adaptations as may be specified in the notification. CASE EXAMPLE

In Andhra Pradesh Road Transport Corporation v. ITO AIR 1964 SC 1486, the Andhra Pradesh State Road Transport Corporation claimed exemption from taxation by invoking Articles 289 of the Constitution of India according to which the property and income of the State are exempted from the Union taxation. The Supreme Court, while rejecting the Corporation’s claim, held that though it was wholly controlled by the State Government, it had a separate entity and its income was not the income of the State Government.

The Court, observed that the companies which are incorporated under the Companies Act, have a corporate personality of their own, distinct from that of the Government of India. The land and buildings are vested in and owned by the companies, the Government of India only owns the share capital.

In Hindustan Steel Works Construction Ltd. v. State of Kerala [1998] 2 Comp LJ 383, it was held that in spite of all the control of the Government, the company is neither a Government department nor a Government establishment, it is just an agency of the Government, and hence not exempt from the purview of Kerala Construction Workers Welfare Funds Act.

The employees of a Government Company are not the employees of the Central or State Government. A Government Company may, in fact, be wound up like any other company registered under the Companies Act. It may become insolvent or be unable to pay its debts. That does not mean that the Government holding the shares, viz, Central or State, as the case may be, has become bankrupt.

FOREIGN COMPANIES

As per section 2(42), “foreign company” means any company or body corporate incorporated outside India which—

- (a) has a place of business in India whether by itself or through an agent, physically or through electronic mode; and
- (b) conducts any business activity in India in any other manner

Sections 380 to 386 and section 392 and 393 deal with such companies.

Section 380 of the Act lays down that every foreign company which establishes a place of business in India must, within 30 days of the establishment of such place of business, file with the Registrar of Companies for registration:

- (a) a certified copy of the charter, statutes or memorandum and articles, of the company or other instrument constituting or defining the constitution of the company and, if the instrument is not in the English language, a certified translation thereof in the English language;
- (b) the full address of the registered or principal office of the company;
- (c) a list of the directors and secretary of the company containing such particulars as may be prescribed;
- (d) the name and address or the names and addresses of one or more persons resident in India authorised to accept on behalf of the company service of process and any notices or other documents required to be served on the company;
- (e) the full address of the office of the company in India which is deemed to be its principal place of business in India;
- (f) particulars of opening and closing of a place of business in India on earlier occasion or occasions;
- (g) declaration that none of the directors of the company or the authorised representative in India has ever been convicted or debarred from formation of companies and management in India or abroad; and
- (h) any other information as may be prescribed.

Every foreign company has to ensure that the name of the company, the country of incorporation, the fact of limited liability of members is exhibited in the specified places or documents as required under Section 382.

Section 381 requires a Foreign Company to maintain books of Account and file a copy of balance sheet and profit and loss account in prescribed form with ROC every calendar year. These accounts should be accompanied by list of place of business established by the foreign company in India.

Section 376 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides further that when a foreign company, which has been carrying on business in India, ceases to carry on such business in India, it may be wound up as an unregistered company under Sections 375 to 378 of the Act, even though the company has been dissolved or ceased to exist under the laws of the country in which it was incorporated.

Section 379 provides that where not less than 50% of the paid-up share capital, whether equity or preference or partly equity and partly preference of a foreign company is held by one or more citizens of India or by one or more bodies corporate incorporated in India, whether singly or in the aggregate, such company shall comply with such of the provisions of this Act, as may be prescribed by the Central Government with regard to the business carried on by it in India, as if it were a company incorporated in India.

As regards the applicability of the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 to foreign companies the following provisions of section 384 are to be noted:

- (i) The provisions of section 71 relating to Debentures shall apply mutatis mutandis to a foreign company.
- (ii) The provisions of Section 92 regarding (filing of annual returns) shall, subject to such exceptions, modifications or adaptations as may be made therein by the rules made under the Act, apply to a foreign company as they apply to a company incorporated in India.
- (iii) The provisions of Section 128 relating to the (to the extent of requiring it to maintain at its principal place of business in India books of account with respect to moneys received and spent, sales and purchase made and assets and liabilities, in the course of or in relation to its business in India), Section 209A (inspection of accounts), Section 233A (Special audit), Section 233B (audit of cost accounts), Section 234-246 (investigations), so far as may be, apply only to the Indian business of a foreign company having an established place of business in India as they apply to a company incorporated in India.

- (iv) The provisions of Chapter VI (Registration of Charges) shall apply mutatis mutandis to charges on properties which are created or acquired by any foreign company.
- (v) The provisions of Chapter XIV (Inspection, Inquiry and Investigation) shall apply mutatis mutandis to the Indian business of a foreign company as they apply to a company incorporated in India.

As per Section 386(c), having a share transfer office or share registration office will constitute a place of business. In Tovarishestvo Manufacture Liudvig Rabenek, Re [1944] 2 All ER 556 it was held that where representatives of a company incorporated outside the country frequently stayed in a hotel in England for looking after matter of business, it was held that the company had a place of business in England.

In a certain case, it was held that mere holding of property cannot amount to having a place of business.

HOLDING, SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES AND ASSOCIATE COMPANIES

On the basis of control companies can be classified into holding, subsidiary and associate companies.

Holding company

As per Section 2(46), holding company, in relation to one or more other companies, means a company of which such companies are subsidiary companies.

Subsidiary company

Section 2(87) provides that subsidiary company or subsidiary, in relation to any other company (that is to say the holding company), means a company in which the holding company—

- (i) controls the composition of the Board of Directors; or
- (ii) exercises or controls more than one-half of the total voting power either at its own or together with one or more of its subsidiary companies:

Provided that such class or classes of holding companies, shall not have layers of subsidiaries beyond the prescribed limit.

For the above purpose,—

- (a) a company shall be deemed to be a subsidiary company of the holding company even if the control referred to in sub-clause (i) or sub-clause (ii) is of another subsidiary company of the holding company;
- (b) the composition of a company's Board of Directors shall be deemed to be controlled by another company if that other company by exercise of some power exercisable by it at its discretion can appoint or remove all or a majority of the directors;
- (c) the expression "company" includes any body corporate;
- (d) "layer" in relation to a holding company means its subsidiary or subsidiaries.

The MCA has vide its General circular No. 27/2013 dated 27th December 2013 clarified that the shares held by a company or power exercisable by it in another company in a 'fiduciary capacity' shall not be counted for the purpose of determining the holding-subsidary relationship in terms of the provision of section 2(87) of the Companies Act, 2013.

According to section 2(27), control shall include the right to appoint majority of the directors or to control the management or policy decisions exercisable by a person or persons acting individually or in concert, directly or indirectly, including by virtue of their shareholding or management rights or shareholders agreements or voting agreements or in any other manner.

Subsidiary company not to hold shares in its holding company [Section 19]

Section 19(1) seeks to provide that subsidiary company shall not either by itself or through its nominees hold shares in its holding company and no holding company shall allot or transfer its shares to any of its subsidiary companies and any such allotment or transfer of shares of a company to its subsidiary company shall be void.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

A subsidiary company can be a member of the holding company also.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

Associate company

As per Section 2(6), "Associate company", in relation to another company, means a company in which that other company has a significant influence, but which is not a subsidiary company of the company having such influence and includes a joint venture company.

Explanation.—For the purpose of this clause,—

(a) the expression "significant influence" means control of at least twenty per cent. of total voting power, or control of or participation in business decisions under an agreement;

(b) the expression "joint venture" means a joint arrangement whereby the parties that have joint control of the arrangement have rights to the net assets of the arrangement;

To add more governance and transparency in the working of the company, the concept of associate company has been introduced. It will provide a more rational and objective framework of associate relationship between the companies.

Further, as per section 2(76), Related party includes 'Associate Company'. Hence, contract with Associate Company will require disclosure/approval/entry in statutory register as is applicable to contract with a related party.

The MCA vide its General circular No. 24/2013 dated 25th June, 2014, clarified that the shares held by a company in another company in a 'fiduciary capacity' shall not be counted for the purpose of determining the relationship of 'associate company' under section 2(6) of the Companies Act, 2013.

INVESTMENT COMPANIES

As per explanation (a) to section 186, "investment company" means a company whose principal business is the acquisition of shares, debentures or other securities.

An investment company is a company, the principal business of which consists in acquiring, holding and dealing in shares and securities. The word 'investment', no doubt, suggests only the acquisition and holding of shares and securities and thereby earning income by way of interest or dividend etc. But investment companies in actual practice earn their income not only through the acquisition and holding but also by dealing in shares and securities i.e. to buy with a view to sell later on at higher prices and to sell with a view to buy later on at lower prices.

If a company is engaged in any other business to an appreciable extent, it will not be treated as an investment company. The following two sets of legal opinions are quoted below as to the meaning of an investment company:

- (i) According to one set of legal opinion, an "investment company" means company which acquires and holds shares and securities with an intent to earn income only from them by holding them. On the other hand, another school of legal opinion holds that "an Investment Company means a company, which acquires shares and securities for earning income by holding them as well as by dealing in such shares and other securities".
- (ii) According to Section 2(10A) of the Insurance Act, 1938, an investment company means a company whose principal business is the acquisition of shares, stocks, debentures or other securities.

PRODUCER COMPANIES

However, proviso to section 465(1) provides that the provisions of Part IX A of the Companies Act, 1956 shall be applicable mutatis mutandis to a Producer Company in a manner as if the Companies Act, 1956 has not been repealed until a special Act is enacted for Producer Companies.

In view of the above provision, Producer Companies are still governed by the Companies Act, 1956.

Further, under Section 581B(2) it has also been clarified that every producer company shall deal primarily with the produce of its active members for carrying out any of its objects specified above.

NIDHI COMPANIES

The primary object of Nidhis is to carry on the business of accepting deposits and lending money to member-borrowers only against jewels, etc., and mortgage of property. For over a century Nidhis, with the objective of cultivating the habit of thrift, generally promoted by public spirited men drawn from affluent local persons, lawyers and professionals like auditors, educationists, etc., including retired persons. The area of operation was local – within municipalities and panchayats. Some Nidhis on account of their financial and administrative strength opened branches within the respective revenue district and even outside. The principle of mutual benefit has been to pool the savings from members and lend only to members and never have dealing with Non-members. Nidhis were not expected to engage themselves in the business of Chit Fund, hire purchase, insurance or in any other business including investments in shares or debentures. As stated these Nidhis do their business only with Members. Such Members are only individuals. Bodies Corporate or Trusts are never to be admitted as Members.

Origin of the Concept in India

The history of the Nidhis, their special features, their manner of functioning, their regulations, etc., have been described by the (i) Viswanatha Shastri Committee in 1965; (ii) Banking Commission in 1972; (iii) James Raj Committee in 1975; (iv) Chakravarthy Report in 1987 ; (v) Dr.A.C.Shah Committee in 1992. Further the Central Government vide Notification No.5/7/2000-CL.V dated 23rd March 2000 constituted a Committee known as Sabanayagam Committee to examine the various aspects of the functioning of Nidhi Companies and suggested an appropriate policy framework for overall improvement of the Nidhi Companies and alternative mechanism to regulate and facilitate Nidhi Companies to play key role in mobilising and gainfully investing small savings and improving their viability resilience and performance.

In 2005, the Expert Committee on Company Law headed by Dr. Jamshed J. Irani suggested in its report on Nidhi companies as given hereunder:

STATUTORY CORPORATIONS

A Company formed under an Act of Parliament or State Legislature is called a Statutory Company/ Corporation. The special enactment contains its constitution, powers and scope of its activities. Change in its structure is possible only by a legislative amendment. Such companies are usually formed to carry on the work of some special public importance and for which the undertaking requires extraordinary powers, sanctions and privileges. A major objective for incorporating statutory corporations is to serve public interest. The need for establishing a statutory corporation is that the State wishes to enter a field of human activity which has traditionally been, or will in normal course be, undertaken by non-official persons and groups. Such companies do not use the word “limited” as part of their names, e.g., Reserve Bank of India, LIC, etc. However, in respect of Insurance, Banking, Electricity Supply or Electricity Generation companies and other companies governed by any special Act which are incorporated and registered under the Companies Act, the provisions of Insurance Act, Banking Regulation Act, Electricity Act and such special Act will prevail, respectively, when they are inconsistent with the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, applicable generally.

Principal Characteristics of Statutory Corporations

The principal characteristics of a statutory corporation are as discussed below:

- (i) It is owned by the State.
- (ii) It is created by a special law of Parliament or State Legislature defining its objects, powers and privileges and prescribing the form of management and its relationship with Government departments.

- (iii) Immunity from Parliamentary Scrutiny: A basic and fundamental characteristic of a statutory corporation is its immunity from Parliamentary enquiry into its day-to-day working, as distinct from matters of policy. As stated by Professor Robson, "It has long been recognised that while Parliament has a right to discuss and determine matters of major policy concerning the nationalised industries, the day-to-day conduct of their business by the public corporations should be immune from Parliamentary inquisition".*
- (iv) Freedom in regard to personnel: Another distinguishing characteristic of a public corporation is that excluding the officers taken from the Government department on deputation, its employees are not civil servants and are not governed by Government regulations in respect of conditions of service. They are also not entitled to the protection of Article 311 of the Constitution of India. This applies to the members of the Board of directors and to other employees. Though the statutory corporations are empowered to regulate their personnel policies, many of them have borrowed wholly or partly civil service rules of promotion, seniority, dismissal etc. The corporations are also required to obtain prior approval of the Government for regulations regarding terms and conditions of service of their employees, and also publish these terms and conditions in the Gazette of India. For example, see Section 49(b) of the LIC Act, Section 45(2)(b) of the Air Corporation Act and Section 37(2) of the International Airports Authority Act. In the case of the ONGC, the Act empowers the Government to make rules even for travelling and daily allowances payable to employees [Section 31(2)(a)].
- (v) A body corporate: Each statutory corporation is a body corporate and can sue and be sued, enter into contracts and acquire property in its own name. For example, the ONGC Act states: "The commission shall be a body corporate, having perpetual succession and a common seal with power to acquire, hold and dispose of property and to contract and shall by the said name sue and be sued" [Section 3(2)]. After laying down the composition of the Commission, the Act states the various functions of the Commission. This is the standard formula for all the statutory corporations. The corporations are given full powers necessary for carrying out their functions, with some exceptions like approval for capital expenditure beyond prescribed limits, and employment of categories of persons.
- (vi) Distinct relation with the Government: The most important provision which regulate the relationship of public corporation and Government is the latter's power to issue directions. The ONGC Act, for e.g. provides, "In the discharge of its functions under this Act, the Commission shall be bound by such directions as the Central Government may, for reasons to be stated in writing give it from time to time" [Section 14(3)]. For the LIC the scope of Government directions is restricted because these should relate to "matter of policy involving public interest" [Section 21 of the LIC Act]. More or less the same approach has been adopted by the Acts of other corporations.
- (vii) Independent Finances: A major plank of autonomy of a statutory corporation is its independence in respect of its finances. Except for appropriations to provide capital or to cover losses, it is usually independent in its finances. It obtains funds by borrowing either from the Government or, in some cases, from the public and through revenues derived from the sale of goods and services, and has the authority to use and re-use its revenue.
- (viii) Commercial Audit: Except in the case of the banks, the financial institutions and the LIC, where chartered accountants are auditors, in all the other corporations, the audit has been entrusted to the Comptroller and Auditor General of India (CAG). In brief, a statutory corporation is ordinarily not subject to the budget, accounting and audit laws and procedure applicable to Government departments.

* Robson W.A., Nationalised Industry and Public Ownership, Aller & Unwinc, London, 1960, p.28.

- (ix) Operation on business principles: In case of some corporations, the Acts lay down that “In the discharge of its functions the corporations shall act as far as may be on business principles” [Section 6(3) of the LIC Act]. Similar provisions exist in the International Airports Authority Act (Section 11), and the Air Corporations Act (Section 9). However, the practical implications of these clauses are not clear.

The Courts in India until Raman Dayaram Shetty v. International Airport Authority, A.I.R. 1979 S.C. 1628 considered the statutory character of the corporation as a definitive criterion to identify it with “STATE” within the meaning of Article 12 of the Constitution of India. In the case of Rajasthan State Electricity Board v. Mohan Lal, A.I.R. 1967 S.C. 1857, the Electricity Board of Rajasthan constituted under the Electricity Supply Act, 1948 was held to be ‘other authority’ to which the provisions of Part III (Fundamental Rights) of the Constitution were applicable. The Supreme Court in this case held that the expression “Other authorities” will include Constitutional or statutory authorities on whom powers are conferred by law.

But from International Airport Authority (ibid) case onwards there has been a departure from the above trend. From this case onwards, the position has been adopted that, how the corporation was born is not a relevant criterion, and it is immaterial whether the corporation is statutory or is formed under the Companies Act, Societies Registration Act, Co-operative Societies Act or any other Act. The relevant criteria, according to the judgement delivered by Bhagwati J. in the International Airport Authority case and later accepted in other cases including in Som Prakash case are —

- (1) the source of the share capital,
- (2) the extent of state control over the corporation, and whether it is “deep and pervasive”.
- (3) whether the corporation has monopoly status,
- (4) whether functions of the corporation are of public importance and closely related to Governmental functions, and
- (5) whether what belonged to a department of government formerly was transferred to the corporation.

Neither of these is a conclusive test, nor is an exhaustive list of operational indices. There may be other indices as well. The Court should use all the relevant factors to draw an inference whether the corporation is an “agency or instrumentality” of the State.

In International Airport Authority case (ibid), the International Airport Authority was held to be “other authority” for the purpose of Article 12 and therefore “State and for that reason was required to observe the principle of equality in its contractual dealings. In Som Prakash v. Union of India A.I.R. 1981 S.C. 212, the Bharat Petroleum Corporation was held to be a “State” and therefore amendable to the writ jurisdiction of the Supreme Court for a breach of a fundamental right. In Ajay Hasia v. Khalid Mujib, A.I.R. 1981 S.C. 487, the Regional Engineering College, Srinagar, was considered to be “State” and bound by the principles of equality in the matter of selection of students for admission.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Promoters are persons who conceive the idea of forming a company and take the necessary steps to incorporate it by registration, provide it with share and loan capital and acquire for it business or property, which it is to manage.

The relationship between the promoter and the company that he has floated is a fiduciary relationship from the day on which he started the work of floating and it continues till he hands over the same to the directors.

After reading this lesson you would be able to understand the concept of promoters, their legal position, duties, liabilities and their remuneration. It also enumerates the important steps which are to be followed while forming a company such as application for name availability with the Registrar of Companies, preparation of Memorandum of Association, Articles of Association and other legal documents etc., including formation procedures as to one person companies and companies with charitable objects, etc.,

A. PROMOTERS

DEFINITION OF THE WORD PROMOTER

Section 2(69) of the Companies Act, 2013 defines the term 'promoter' as under:-

"Promoter" means a person—

- (a) who has been named as such in a prospectus or is identified by the company in the annual return referred to in section 92; or
- (b) who has control over the affairs of the company, directly or indirectly whether as a shareholder, director or otherwise; or
- (c) in accordance with whose advice, directions or instructions the Board of Directors of the company is accustomed to act.

Provided that sub-clause (c) shall not apply to a person who is acting merely in a professional capacity.

By virtue of above definition, persons in accordance with whose advice, directions or instructions the Board of Directors of the company is accustomed to act are also treated as promoters. However, if a person is merely acting in a professional capacity i.e. giving only professional advice to the Board of directors, he shall not be treated as a promoter.

Further, according to SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2009, "promoter" shall include a person :

- ❖ who has been named as such in a draft offer document or offer document or is identified by the issuer in the annual return referred to in section 92 of the Companies Act, 2013; or
- ❖ who has control over the affairs of the issuer, directly or indirectly whether as a shareholder, director or otherwise; or
- ❖ in accordance with whose advice, directions or instructions the board of directors of the issuer is accustomed to act:

Provided that nothing in sub-clause (iii) shall apply to a person who is acting merely in a professional capacity;

Provided further that a financial institution, scheduled commercial bank, foreign portfolio investor other than Category III foreign portfolio investor, mutual fund, venture capital fund, alternative investment fund, foreign venture capital investor, insurance company registered with the Insurance Regulatory and Development Authority of India or any other category as specified by the Board from time to time, shall not be deemed to be a promoter merely by virtue of the fact that twenty per cent. or more of the equity share capital of the issuer is held by such person unless such person satisfy other requirements prescribed under these regulations

Is a director/officer/employee of the issuer a promoter?

A director/officer/employee who has control over the affairs of the company, directly or indirectly whether as a shareholder, director or otherwise is considered as a promoter. As per section 2(27), "control" shall include the right to appoint majority of the directors or to control the management or policy decisions exercisable by a person or persons acting individually or in concert, directly or indirectly, including by virtue of their shareholding or management rights or shareholders agreements or voting agreements or in any other manner.

However, a director or officer or employee of the issuer or a person, if acting as such merely in his professional capacity, shall not be deemed as a promoter.

Certain attempts have also been made by the judiciary to define the term 'promoter'

CASE LAW

It was held in Twycross v. Grant, (1877) 2. C.P.D. 469 that promoter is "one who undertakes to form a company with reference to a given project and to set it going, and who takes the necessary steps to accomplish that purpose".

In Whaley Bridge Calico Printing Co. v. Green (1880) 5 Q.B.D. 109, Bowen, L.J. held that the term "promoter" is a term not of law but of business usually summing up in a single word a number of business operations familiar to the commercial world by which a company is generally brought into existence".

In Phosphate Sewage Co. v. Hartmount (1876) 5 Ch.D 394/ Official Receiver and Liquidator of Jubilee Cotton Mills Ltd. v. Lewis(1924) AC 958 (HL), Promoter is a person who as principle procures or aids in procuring the incorporation of a company.

But a person may be a promoter even if he has undertaken a lesser active role in the formation of a company. Any person who becomes a director, places shares or negotiates preliminary agreements, may be covered by this term. Who constitutes a promoter in a particular case , has to be seen in the light of a clear legislative definition provided under section 2(69) the Companies Act, 2013. A company may have several promoters. A promoter may be a natural person or a company.

It is clear from the foregoing that the word "promoter" is used in common parlance to denote any individual, corporate, syndicate, association or partnership which has taken all the necessary steps to create and mould a company and set it going. The promoter originates the scheme for the formation of a company; gets together the subscribers to the memorandum, gets the Memorandum and Articles prepared, executed and registered, finds the bankers, brokers and legal advisers, finds the first directors, settles the terms of preliminary contracts with vendors and agreement with underwriters, and makes arrangement for preparation, advertisement and circulation of the prospectus and placement of the capital. But a person who merely acts in a professional capacity on behalf of the promoter, such as a solicitor who draws up an agreement or articles, an accountant or valuer who prepares figures or valuation on behalf of a promoter, and who is paid for the same, is not a promoter.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

The person who takes lesser role in the formation of company cannot be a promoter.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

PROMOTERS' CONTRACT — RATIFICATION THEREOF

As regards ratification of promoters' contracts, the view taken in Kelner v. Baxter LR (1886) 2 CP 174 was that the company could not ratify contract made by a promoter before its incorporation. Specific performance of a contract may be enforced against a company in respect of contracts entered into by promoters on behalf of the company, if such a contract is warranted by the terms of incorporation and the company has accepted the contract and communicated the acceptance to the other party. (Section 15 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963). Section 19 of the same Act provides that the other party can also enforce the contract if the company has adopted it after incorporation and the contract is within the terms of incorporation.

As long as the company does not ratify, as required by the Specific Relief Act, 1963 the position remains the same as under the common law.

CASE LAW

In D.R. Patil v. A.S. Dimilov AIR 1961 MP 4 AT 5, it was held that a promoter is personally liable to third parties upon all contracts made on behalf of the intended company, until with their consent, the company takes over this liability.

If the promoter commits a breach of duties, the company can either rescind the contract or can compel him to account for any secret profits that he has made.

LEGAL POSITION OF A PROMOTER

While the accurate description of a promoter may be difficult, his legal position is quite clear. A promoter is neither an agent of, nor a trustee for, the company because it is not in existence. But he occupies a fiduciary position in relation to the company and therefore requires to make full disclosure of the relevant facts, including any profit made by him as held by Lord Cairns in Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate Co. (39 LT 269).

CASE LAW

Lindley L.J. in Lydney and Wigpool Iron Ore Co. v. Bird, (1866) 33 Ch. D. 85, described the position of a promoter as follows:

"Although not an agent for the company, nor a trustee for it before its formation, the old familiar principles of law of agency and of trusteeship have been extended and very properly extended to meet such cases. It is well settled that a promoter of a company is accountable to it for all money secretly obtained by him from it just as the relationship of the principal and agent or the trustee and cestui que trust had really existed between him and the company when the money was obtained".

Similarly, it was observed in Lagunas Nitrate Co. v. Lagunas Syndicate, (1899) 2 Ch. 392 that "promoters" stand in a fiduciary relation to the company they promote and to those persons whom they induce to become shareholders in it".

The promoters undoubtedly stand in a fiduciary position. They have in their hands the creation and moulding of the company. They have the power of defining how and when and in what shape and under whose supervision it shall come into existence and begin to act [As per Lord Cairns in Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate Co., (1873) 3 App. Case 1218-1236].

In a series of similar cases under the English Law it has been held that the promoters, being in a fiduciary position, may not make, either directly or indirectly, any profit at the expense of the company and that if he does make a profit in disregard of this rule, the company can compel him to account for it.

The promoters can be compelled to surrender the secret profits [Emma Silver Mining Co. v. Grant, (1879) 11

Ch. D. and Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate Co., (supra)].

DUTIES OF A PROMOTER

The Companies Act 2013, contains some provisions regarding the duties of promoters. The fiduciary duties of a promoter includes:

(a) As per section 102(4), where as a result of the non-disclosure or insufficient disclosure in any explanatory statement annexed to the notice of a general meeting , by a promoter, director, manager, if any, or other key managerial personnel, any benefit accrues to such promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel or their relatives, either directly or indirectly, the promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel, as the case may be, shall hold such benefit in trust for the company, and shall, without prejudice to any other action being taken against him under this Act or under any other law for the time being in force, be liable to compensate the company to the extent of the benefit received by him.

In the case of default in complying with above provisions, every promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel who is in default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to 50,000 rupees or five times the amount of benefit accruing to the promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel or any of his relatives, whichever is more. [Sub-section (5) of Section 102]

The above provision is based on the principle that a promoter cannot make either directly or indirectly, any profit at the expense of the company he promotes, without the knowledge and consent of the company and that if he does so, in disregard of this rule, the company can compel him to account for it. In relation to disclosure it may be noted that part disclosure will also attract the same consequences. A promoter is not forbidden to make profit but he is barred from making any secret profit. He may make a profit out of promotion with the consent of the company in the same way as an agent may retain a profit obtained through his agency with his principal's consent.

CASE LAW

In Gluckstein v. Barnes, (1900) A.C. 240 it was held that where a promoter makes some profits in connection with a transaction to which company is a party and does not make full disclosure of his profits; the company has the right to affirm the contracts and promoter should handover his profits to the company.

(b) A promoter is not allowed to derive a profit from the sale of his own property to the company unless all material facts are disclosed. If a promoter contracts to sell his own property to the company without making a full disclosure, the company may either repudiate the sale or affirm the contract and recover the profit made out of it by the promoter. Either way the dishonest promoter is deprived of his advantage.

CASE LAW

In Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate Co., (1878) 3 A.C. 1218, a syndicate of which E was the head purchased an island containing mines of phosphate for £ 5,000. E then formed a company to buy this island. A contract was made between X a nominee of the syndicate and the company for its purchase at £ 1,10,000. The details of the sale were not disclosed to the shareholders or to the independent Board of directors. The company now sought to rescind the contract of sale. It was held that as there had been no disclosure by the promoters of the profit they were making, the company was entitled to rescind the contract.

In case, therefore, the promoter wishes to sell his own property to the company, he should either disclose the fact:

- (a) to an independent Board of directors; or
- (b) in the articles of association of the company; or
- (c) in the prospectus; or

(d) to the existing and intended shareholders directly.

In addition to disclosing secret profits, a promoter has the duty to disclose to the company any interest he has in a transaction entered into by him.

(c) As per section 13(8), a company, which has raised money from public through prospectus and still has any unutilised amount out of the money so raised, shall not change its objects for which it raised the money through prospectus unless a special resolution is passed by the company and the dissenting shareholders shall be given an opportunity to exit by the promoters and shareholders having control in accordance with regulations to be specified by the Securities and Exchange Board.

(d) As per section 27(2), the dissenting shareholders being those shareholders who have not agreed to the proposal to vary the terms of contracts or objects referred to in the prospectus, shall be given an exit offer by promoters or controlling shareholders at such exit price, and in such manner and conditions as may be specified by the Securities and Exchange Board by making regulations in this behalf.

(e) As per section 167(3), where all the directors of a company vacate their offices under any of the disqualifications specified in sub-section (1), the promoter or, in his absence, the Central Government shall appoint the required number of directors who shall hold office till the directors are appointed by the company in the general meeting.

(f) As per section 168(3), where all the directors of a company resign from their offices, or vacate their offices under section 167, the promoter or, in his absence, the Central Government shall appoint the required number of directors who shall hold office till the directors are appointed by the company in general meeting.

(g) As per section 284(1), the promoters, directors, officers and employees, who are or have been in employment of the company or acting or associated with the company shall extend full cooperation to the Company Liquidator in discharge of his functions and duties during winding up by the Tribunal.

Promoter's duties under the Indian Contract Act

Promoters' duties cannot depend on a contract because at the time the promotion begins, the company is not incorporated, and so cannot contract with its promoters.

The promoter's duties must be the same as that of a person acting on behalf of another individual without a contract of employment. If he does make any misrepresentation in a prospectus he may be held guilty of fraud under Section 17 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872 and would be held liable for damages.

Termination of Promoters' Duties

It is a general opinion that a promoter completes his duty the moment the company, that he promotes, is incorporated or when the Board of directors is appointed. But, in reality it continues until the company has acquired the property for which it was formed to manage and has raised its initial share capital, [Lagunas Nitrate Co. v. Lagunas Syndicate Ltd. (Supra)] and the Board takes over the management of the affairs of the company from the promoters.

REMEDIES AVAILABLE TO THE COMPANY AGAINST THE PROMOTER

If a promoter makes a secret profit or does not disclose it, the company has got a remedy against him. This varies according to the circumstances, which can be divided into two possible situations.

1. Where the promoter was not in a fiduciary position when he acquired the property which he is selling to the company, but only when he sold it to the company.

If a person acquires property or has had it before he takes any active steps in the promotion of a company and sells it to the company at a profit, he is entitled to retain that profit. Here the promoter, as in Salomon's case, has had the property for a period of time. He can hardly be said to be in a fiduciary relation to the company. As long as he makes a full disclosure of the fact that the property is his and he is the real vendor, he may sell it to the company at a profit. If, however, he fails to disclose this fact the company is entitled either to rescind the contract or claim damages for breach of duty of disclosure.

2. Where the promoter was in fiduciary position when he acquired the property and when he sold it to the company.

This may happen in any of the following circumstances:

- (a) Where the promoter bought property with a view to sell it to the company which he intends to promote, he occupies fiduciary position vis-a-vis the company. He must disclose all the facts to the company.
 - (b) Where the promoter resells property to the company at an increased price, the property which he purchased after he has commenced to act in the capacity of a promoter, he cannot retain the profit which he has not disclosed to the company.
 - (c) Where a person is a promoter for acquiring the property for the company, the rules of agency will apply, so that any profit he makes will belong to the company.
3. Where, the promoter bought the property with a view to sell it to the company he promotes, the company may either—
 - (a) rescind the contract and if he has made a profit on some ancillary transaction that may also be recovered; or
 - (b) retain the property, paying no more for it than what the promoter has paid, depriving him of his profit; or
 - (c) where the above remedies would be inappropriate, such as when the property has been altered so as to render rescission impossible and the promoter has already received his inflated price, the company may sue him for misfeasance (breach of duty to disclose). The measure of damages will be the difference between the market value of the property and the contract price.

LIABILITIES OF PROMOTERS

A promoter is subject to the following liabilities under the various provisions of the Companies Act, 2013:-

1. Incorporation of company by furnishing false information:- As per section 7(6), where, at any time after the incorporation of a company, it is proved that the company has been got incorporated by furnishing any false or incorrect information or representation or by suppressing any material fact or information in any of the documents or declaration filed or made for incorporating such company, or by any fraudulent action, the promoters, the persons named as the first directors of the company and the persons making declaration shall be liable for fraud under section 447.

2. Section 26 of the Act lays down matters to be stated and reports to be set out in the prospectus. It provides that every prospectus issued by or on behalf of a public company either with reference to its formation or subsequently, or by or on behalf of any person who is or has been engaged or interested in the formation of a public company, shall be dated and signed and shall state such information and set out such reports on financial information as may be specified by the Securities and Exchange Board in consultation with the Central Government.

3. Civil Liability for misstatements in prospectus:- A promoter is liable for any misleading statement in the prospectus to a person who has subscribed for any securities of the company on the faith of the prospectus. By virtue of section 35(1), where a person has subscribed for securities of a company acting on any statement included, or the inclusion or omission of any matter, in the prospectus which is misleading and has sustained any loss or damage as a consequence thereof, the company and certain persons as mentioned in the said section, including a promoter of the company shall, without prejudice to any punishment to which any person may be liable under section 36, be liable to pay compensation to every person who has sustained such loss or damage.

4. Punishment for fraudulently inducing persons to invest money:- As per section 36, any person who, either knowingly or recklessly makes any statement, promise or forecast which is false, deceptive or misleading, or deliberately conceals any material facts, to induce another person to enter into, or to offer to enter into, (a) any agreement for, or with a view to, acquiring, disposing of, subscribing for, or underwriting securities; or (b) any agreement, the purpose or the pretended purpose of which is to secure a profit to any of the parties from the yield of securities or by reference to fluctuations in the value of securities; or (c) any agreement for, or with a view to obtaining credit facilities from any bank or financial institution, shall be liable for punishment for fraud under section 447.

5. Contravention of provisions relating to private placement: If a company makes an offer or accepts monies in contravention of the provisions of private placement as stated in section 42, the company, its promoters and directors shall be liable for a penalty which may extend to the amount involved in the offer or invitation or two crore rupees, whichever is higher, and the company shall also refund all monies to subscribers within a period of thirty days of the order imposing the penalty. [Section 42(10)]

6. Failure to cooperate with Company Liquidator during winding up: As per section 284 (2), where any promoter, without reasonable cause, fails to cooperate with the Company Liquidator during winding up, he shall be punishable with imprisonment which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to fifty thousand rupees, or with both.

7. A promoter may be liable to public examination like any other director or officer of the company if the Tribunal so directs on a Company Liquidator's report alleging fraud in the promotion or formation business or conduct of affairs of the company since its formation [Section 300(1)].

8. A company may proceed against a promoter on action for deceit or breach of duty under Section 340, where the promoter has misapplied or retained any money or property of the company or is guilty of misfeasance or breach of trust in relation to the company.

9. Criminal Liability for misstatement in prospectus: Besides civil liability, the promoters are criminally liable under Section 34 for the issue of prospectus containing untrue or misleading statements in form or context in which it is included or where any inclusion or omission of any matter is likely to mislead. Section 447 imposes severe punishment for fraud on promoters who make untrue or misleading statements in prospectus with a view to obtaining capital. The punishment prescribed for fraud involving an amount of at least ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to ten years and shall also be liable to fine which shall not be less than the amount involved in the fraud, but which may extend to three times the amount involved in the fraud. Further, where the fraud in question involves public interest, the term of imprisonment shall not be less than three years. Further where the fraud involves an amount less than ten lakh rupees or one per cent of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower, and does not involve public interest, any person guilty of such fraud shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine which may extend to fifty lakh rupees or with both. A promoter can, however, escape the punishment if he proves:

- (i) that the statement or omission was immaterial; or
- (ii) that he had reasonable grounds to believe, and did, up to the time of the issue of prospectus, believe that statement was true or the inclusion or omission was necessary.

The following are some of the remedies available to the subscriber who is deceived by any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus:—

- (1) As per section 37, a suit may be filed or any other action may be taken under section 34 or section 35 or section 36 by any person, group of persons or any association of persons affected by any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus.
- (2) He may take proceedings to repudiate the contract and require repayment of his money with interest.
- (3) He may, in respect of any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus, bring an action against the directors and promoters for the recovery of compensation.
- (4) He may, bring an action for damages against the directors and other persons responsible for failure to disclose matters in a prospectus.
- (5) He may, in respect of any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus, bring an action against directors or those who are responsible for the prospectus.

In addition to directors and promoters the liability under the section also attaches to person who have authorised the issue of the prospectus. However, the words cannot reasonably be held to apply to such persons as bankers, brokers, accountants, solicitors and engineers who merely consent to their names appearing as such in the prospectus.

10. Liability during Revival and Rehabilitation: The liability of promoters is now dealt under Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016.

Misrepresentation of facts: A promoter will be responsible for any misstatement as to an existing fact. A calculation of future profits is not a statement of fact [Bentley v. Black, (1893) 9 TLR 580 (CA)]. But a misstatement as to purposes for which the money to be raised and is to be applied is a misrepresentation of a present fact. [Edgington v. Fitzmaurice, (1885) 29 Ch D 459; (1991-5) All ER Rep 59 (CA)].

Misstatements of Names of directors: If a director's name is misstated in the prospectus, it is an important misrepresentation and the promoter can be held to be liable, [Metropolitan Coal Consumer's Association Ltd., Karberg's case, (1892) 3 Ch 1 (CA)].

Representation true only at time of issue: Sometimes representations which were true when the prospectus was issued, become false before the allotment is made. In such cases, the fact ought to be communicated to the applicant otherwise the applicant will not be able to rescind the contract. A promoter/director who knows that a statement has become false is under a duty to disclose the truth and if he abstains, he may be guilty of fraud. [Brownliey v. Campbell, (1880) 5 App. Cas 925; Rajagopala Iyer v. The South Indian Rubber Works, AIR 1942 Mad 656; (1942) 12 Com Cases 203].

Liability U/s 447 of the Companies Act, 2013: Without prejudice to any liability including repayment of any debt under this Act or any other law for the time being in force, any person who is found to be guilty of fraud 1[involving an amount of at least ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower] shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to ten years and shall also be liable to fine which shall not be less than the amount involved in the fraud, but which may extend to three times the amount involved in the fraud:

Provided that where the fraud in question involves public interest, the term of imprisonment shall not be less than three years.

Provided further that where the fraud involves an amount less than ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower, and does not involve public interest, any person guilty of such fraud shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine which may extend to fifty lakh rupees or with both.

Explanation.—For the purposes of this section— (i) “fraud” in relation to affairs of a company or any body corporate, includes any act, omission, concealment of any fact or abuse of position committed by any person or any other person with the connivance in any manner, with intent to deceive, to gain undue advantage from, or to injure the interests of, the company or its shareholders or its creditors or any other person, whether or not there is any wrongful gain or wrongful loss; (ii) “wrongful gain” means the gain by unlawful means of property to which the person gaining is not legally entitled; (iii) “wrongful loss” means the loss by unlawful means of property to which the person losing is legally entitled.

(h) Power of Attorney

With a view to fulfilling the various formalities that are required for incorporation of a company, the promoters may appoint an attorney empowering him to carry out the instructions/requirements stipulated by the Registrar. This requires execution of a Power of Attorney on a non-judicial stamp paper of a value prescribed in the respective State Stamp Laws.

Issue of Certificate of Incorporation by Registrar

Section 7(2) states that the Registrar on the basis of documents and information filed under sub-section (1) of section 7, shall register all the documents and information referred to in that sub-section in the register and issue a certificate of incorporation in the prescribed form to the effect that the proposed company is incorporated under this Act.

From the date of incorporation mentioned in the certificate of incorporation, the entity is formed as a body corporate by the name provided in the MoA, subscribers to the memorandum and all other persons, as may, from time to time, become members of the company, it is capable of exercising all the functions of an incorporated company under Companies Act, 2013 and having perpetual succession and a common seal (if the company has adopted or adopts the same), it has the power to acquire, hold and dispose of property, both movable and immovable, tangible and intangible, to contract and to sue and be sued, by the said name. (Section 9). The subscribers would become the members of the company.

Conclusive Evidence

A Certificate of Incorporation given by the Registrar in respect of any association shall be conclusive evidence that all the requirements of the Act have been complied with in respect of registration and matters precedent and incidental thereto, and that the association is a company authorised to be registered and duly registered under the Act. The Certificate of Incorporation is conclusive evidence that everything is in order as regards registration and that the company has come into existence from the earliest moment of the day of incorporation stated therein with rights and liabilities of a natural person, competent to enter into contracts [Jubilee Cotton Mills Ltd. v. Lewis, (1924) (A.C. 958)]. The validity of the registration cannot be questioned after the issue of the certificate.

In Moosa v. Ebrahim ILR (1913) 40 Cal. 1 (P.C.) the Memorandum of Association of a company was signed by two adults and by a guardian of the other 5 subscribers, who were minors. The Registrar, however, registered the company and issued under his hand a Certificate of Incorporation. It was contended that this Certificate of Incorporation should be declared void. Lord Macnaughten said: "Their Lordships will assume that the conditions of registration prescribed by the Indian Companies Act were not duly complied with; that there were no seven subscribers to the Memorandum and that the Registrar ought not to have granted the certificate. But the certificate is conclusive for all purpose. Thus, the certificate prevents anyone from alleging that the company does not exist".

It is for the purpose of incorporation only that the certificate was made conclusive by the legislature and the certificate cannot legalise the illegal object contained in the Memorandum. Where the object of a company is unlawful, it has been held that the certificate of registration is not conclusive for this purpose, [Performing Right Society Ltd. v. London Theatre of Varieties (1992) 2 KB 433].

Allotment of Corporate identity number

Section 7(3) states that on and from the date mentioned in the certificate of incorporation issued under sub-section (2), the Registrar shall allot to the company a corporate identity number, which shall be a distinct identity for the company and which shall also be included in the certificate.

The Certificate of Incorporation issued in Form INC-11 as per Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014 shall also mention permanent account number of the company which is issued by the Income Tax Department.

Documents of incorporation to be preserved

Section 7(4) states that the company shall maintain and preserve at its registered office copies of all documents and information as originally filed under sub-section (1) till its dissolution under this Act.

As per Section 12(c) every company shall get its name, address of its registered office and the Corporate Identity Number along with telephone number, fax number, if any, e-mail and website addresses, if any, printed in all its business letters, billheads, letter papers and in all its notices and other official publications.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The memorandum and articles of association of a company are the most important documents for the formation of a company and for its functioning thereafter.

The memorandum of association contains the name, situation of registered office, objects, capital and liability clauses. The articles are its bye-laws or rules and regulations that govern the management and internal affairs and the conduct of its business. Both the documents are required to be registered with the Registrar of Companies at the stage of incorporation of the company.

Before dealing with a company, it is advisable to read the memorandum and articles of the company to understand aspects, such as powers of Board, scope of company's activities etc. and its relationship with the outside world.

After reading this lesson, you would be able to understand the concept of Memorandum of Association and Articles of Association, their purpose, contents and registration. It also discusses the alterations that can be carried out in the Memorandum and Articles of Association and effect of such alterations. It also explains the legal effect of these documents. It also covers doctrine of indoor management and Alter Ego.

– Lord Macmillan

MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

The Memorandum of Association is a document which sets out the constitution of a company and is therefore the foundation on which the structure of the company is built. It defines the scope of the company's activities and its relations with the outside world.

The first step in the formation of a company is to prepare a document called the memorandum of association. In fact memorandum is one of the most essential pre-requisites for incorporating any form of company under the Companies Act, 2013 (hereinafter referred to as 'Act'). This is evidenced in Section 3 of the Act, which provides the mode of incorporation of a company and states that a company may be formed for any lawful purpose by seven or more persons, where the company to be formed is a public company; two or more persons, where the company to be formed is a private company; or one person, where the company to be formed is a One Person Company by subscribing their names or his name to a memorandum and complying with the requirements of this Act in respect of its registration.

To subscribe means to append one's signature or mark a document as an approval or attestation of its contents.

According to Section 2(56) of the Act "memorandum" means the memorandum of association of a company as originally framed and altered, from time to time, in pursuance of any previous company law or this Act.

Section 4 of the Act specifies in clear terms the contents of this important document which is the charter of the company. The memorandum of association of a company contains the objects of the company which it shall pursue. It not only shows the objects of formation of the company but also determines the scope of its operations beyond which its actions cannot go. "THE MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION", as observed by Palmer, "is a document of great importance in relation to the proposed company".

CASE LAW

In the celebrated case of Ashbury Railway Carriage & Iron Co. Ltd. v. Riche, (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 653, Lord Cairn observed: "The memorandum of association of a company is its charter and defines the limitations of the powers of the company..... it contains in it both that which is affirmative and that which is negative. It states affirmatively the ambit and extent of vitality and powers which by law are given to the corporation, and it states negatively, if it is necessary to state, that nothing shall be done beyond that ambit....." [Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. Ltd. v. Port Said Salt Association Ltd. (1931) A.C. 677]

Correct answer: True

FORM OF MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

Section 4(6) of the Act provides that the memorandum of association should be in any one of the Forms specified in Tables A, B, C, D or E of Schedule I to the Act, as may be applicable in relation to the type of company proposed to be incorporated or in a Form as near thereto as the circumstances admit.

- (i) the Form in Table A is applicable in the case of companies limited by shares;
- (ii) the Form in Table B is applicable to companies limited by guarantee not having a share capital;
- (iii) the Form in Table C is applicable to the companies limited by guarantee having a share capital;
- (iv) the Form in Table D is applicable to unlimited companies not having a share capital;
- (v) the Form in Table E is applicable to unlimited companies having a share capital.

A company shall adopt any of the model Forms of the memorandum of association mentioned above, as may be applicable to it.

CONTENTS OF MEMORANDUM

As per Section 4(1), the memorandum of a limited company must state the following:

- (a) the name of the company with “Limited” as its last word in the case of a public company; and “Private Limited” as its last words in the case of a private company; (Name Clause)

This shall not apply in case of companies registered under section 8.

Similarly, in case of government companies the name of the company shall end with the words “Limited”. This is as per the exemptions to Government Companies under Section 462 of Companies Act, 2013 vide notification dated June 5, 2013.

- (b) the State in which the registered office of the company is to be situated; (Situation Clause)
- (c) the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof; (objects clause)

Provided that nothing in this clause shall apply to a company registered under section 8;

- (d) the liability of members of the company, whether limited or unlimited, and also state,—(Liability Clause)

(i) in the case of a company limited by shares, that liability of its members is limited to the amount unpaid, if any, on the shares held by them; and

(ii) in the case of a company limited by guarantee, the amount up to which each member undertakes to contribute—

- (A) to the assets of the company in the event of its being wound-up while he is a member or within one year after he ceases to be a member, for payment of the debts and liabilities of the company or of such debts and liabilities as may have been contracted before he ceases to be a member, as the case may be; and
- (B) to the costs, charges and expenses of winding-up and for adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves;

- (e) in the case of a company having a share capital,—(Capital Clause)

(i) the amount of share capital with which the company is to be registered and the division thereof into shares of a fixed amount and the number of shares which the subscribers to the memorandum agree to subscribe which shall not be less than one share per subscriber; and

- (ii) the number of shares each subscriber to the memorandum intends to take, indicated opposite his name;
- (f) in the case of a One Person Company, the name of the person who, in the event of the death of the subscriber, shall become the member of the company.

According to section 4(7), any provision in the memorandum or articles, in the case of a company limited by guarantee and not having a share capital, purporting to give any person a right to participate in the divisible profits of the company otherwise than as a member, shall be void.

The above clauses are compulsory and are designated as “conditions” prescribed by the Act, on the basis of which a company is incorporated.

It is to be noted that the Companies Act, 2013 shall override the provisions in the memorandum of a company, if the latter contains anything contrary to the provisions in the Act (Section 6).

MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION [SECTION 4 READ WITH SCHEDULE 1]

NAME CLAUSE	SITUATION CLAUSE	OBJECT CLAUSE	LIABILITY CLAUSE	CAPITAL CLAUSE	SUBSCRIPTION CLAUSE (STATED IN SCHEDULE 1)
Name of the company should indicate whether the company is private or public. No undesirable name as specified in Rule 8 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014. The capital is variously described as “Nominal”, “Authorised”	Subscribers agree to subscribe the prescribed no. of shares stated against their name in the memorandum. The statutory requirements regarding subscription of memorandum are that: ~Each subscriber must take at least 1 share ~Each subscriber must write opposite his name the no. of shares which he agrees to take

NAME CLAUSE

A company being a legal entity must have a name of its own to establish its separate identity. The name of the company is a symbol of its independent corporate existence. The first clause in the memorandum of association of the company states the name by which a company is to be known. The company may adopt any suitable name provided it is not undesirable.

According to section 4(2), the name stated in the memorandum shall not—

- (a) be identical with or resemble too nearly to the name of an existing company registered under this Act or any previous company law; or
- (b) be such that its use by the company—
 - (i) will constitute an offence under any law for the time being in force; or
 - (ii) is undesirable in the opinion of the Central Government.

Section 4(3) provides that without prejudice to the provisions of section 4(2), a company shall not be registered with a name which contains—

- (a) any word or expression which is likely to give the impression that the company is in any way connected with, or having the patronage of, the Central Government, any State Government, or any local authority, corporation or body constituted by the Central Government or any State Government under any law for the time being in force; or
- (b) such word or expression, as may be prescribed, (See annexure 3.1 of Chapter 3)

unless the previous approval of the Central Government has been obtained for the use of any such word or expression.

As per section 4(4) a person may make an application, in form (e-Form INC1) accompanied by prescribed fee to the Registrar for the reservation of a name set out in the application as—

- (a) the name of the proposed company; or
- (b) the name to which the company proposes to change its name.

Section 4(5)(i) lays down that upon receipt of an application under sub-section (4), the Registrar may, on the basis of information and documents furnished along with the application, reserve the name for a period of twenty days from the date of approval or such other period as may be prescribed. In case of an application for reservation of name or for change of its name by an existing company, the Registrar may reserve the name for a period of sixty days from the date of approval.

As stated above, section 4(2) provides that the name stated in the memorandum shall not be such that its use by the company, in the opinion of the Central Government, is undesirable. A name which is identical to or too nearly resembles, the name by which a company in existence has been previously registered, will be deemed to be undesirable

The Registrar must make preliminary enquiries to ensure that the name allowed by him is not misleading or intended to deceive with reference to the Objects Clause of the memorandum [Methodist Church v. Union of India, (1985) 57 Com Cases 443 (Bombay)]. The Registrar is not, however, required to carry out any elaborate investigation at the time of registration of the company. Unless the purpose of the company appears to be unlawful ex-facie or is transparently illegal or prohibited by any statute, it cannot be regarded as an unlawful association [T.V. Krishna v. Andhra Prabha (P) Ltd., (1960) 30 Com Cases 437 (AP)].

The object is to prevent the use of a name likely to mislead the public. For example, a company is not allowed to use a name which is prohibited under the Emblems and Names (Prevention of Improper Use) Act, 1950, or suggestive of any connection with Government or of State patronage where there is none.

CASE LAW

Thus, in Ewing v. Buttercup Margarine Co. Ltd. (1917) 2 Ch. 1, the plaintiff, who carried on business under the name of the Buttercup Dairy Co., obtained an injunction against the defendant (Buttercup Margarine Co. Ltd.), on the grounds that the public might think that the two businesses were connected, the word “Buttercup” being a fancy one.

The rule will apply also to foreign companies or traders, whose goods are imported into the country, as it was applied in the case of La Societe Anonyme Panchard at Levessor v. Panchard Levessor Motor Co. Ltd., (1901) 2 Ch. 513. The plaintiffs were a French company carrying on business in Paris as motor car manufacturers and were using the name “Panchard” in connection with motors of their manufacture. They objected to the use of the word “Panchard” in the name of the defendant company on the ground that the principal object of the defendants was to injure wrongfully and fraudulently the plaintiffs’ business by passing off their goods as those of the plaintiffs’ manufacture and succeed even though they had no agencies in England but had a market for their goods there.

The Central Government under Section 16 is empowered to direct a company, at any point of time to rectify its name if by inadvertence it has been registered with a name which is identical to or too nearly resembles the name of an existing company whether registered under this Act or the previous company law. The company shall change its name within a period of 3 months from the issue of the above direction after passing an ordinary resolution for the purpose.

However, any application rejected by Regional Director under Section 22(1) (ii)(b) of the Companies Act, 1956 on the ground that such applications were made after the requisite period of twelve months specified therein, cannot apply afresh under Section 16(1) (a) Companies Act, 2013 as the extinguished limitation cannot be considered to be revived even if no limitation period has been prescribed/ laid down in the said section.

This section also gives enhanced power to the Central Government to order rectification of name where such name in its opinion constitutes an infringement of a registered trademark. The proprietor of the registered trade mark may make an application to the Central Government for an order for rectification of name of the company because it is identical to or too nearly resembles the applicant’s registered trademarks. Such application must be made within three years from the date of incorporation or the registration or change of name whether under this Act or previous company law. In such a case the Central Government may direct the company to change its name and the company shall change its name, within a period of six months from the issue of such direction, after passing an ordinary resolution for the purpose.

Where a company changes its name or obtains a new name, it shall within a period of fifteen days from the date of such change, give notice of the change to the Registrar along with the order of the Central Government, who shall carry out necessary changes in the certificate of incorporation and the memorandum.

CASE LAW

In the case of Atlas Cycles (Haryana) Ltd. v. Atlas Products Pvt. Ltd [146 (2008) DLT 274 (DB)], use of the brand name as corporate name was settled. Both the plaintiff and the defendant companies belong to the same family. The Appellant-plaintiff was the proprietor of the trade mark in the name “Atlas”. The Respondent-defendant company containing the name “Atlas” in its corporate name started dealing in bicycles. The plaintiff objected to the use of the name “Atlas” by the defendant company. The Defendants were restrained from using the word ‘Atlas’ in their corporate/trade name in respect of bicycles and bicycle parts.

Where a company is directed to change the name, the court cannot directly tell the Registrar to effect the change in the name of the company. The Court can only direct the company to do so. The company cannot simply file the Court order regarding the change but it will have to follow the prescribed procedure. [Halifax Plc v. Halifax Repossessions Ltd. (2004) 2 BCLC 455 (CA)].

But mere similarity of name is not in itself enough to give a right to an injunction. As held in D.W. Boulay v. D.W. Boulay, (1868) LR 2 (PC), the law does not give a person a right to prevent the use of a name by another person. In the case of companies, however, registration will be refused only if there is likelihood of deception or confusion.

A person cannot be permitted to name a company even after his personal name if that name resembles the name of an existing company. [K.G. Khosla Compressors Ltd. v. Khosla Extractions Ltd., (1986) 1 Comp LJ 211: AIR 1986 Del 181]

In the case of incorporation of an Asset Management Company (AMC), the Memorandum and Articles of Association are required to be vetted and approved by the Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI) before these documents are registered by the Registrar of Companies.

SITUATION CLAUSE

The name of the State in which the registered office of the company is to be situated must be given in the memorandum. But the exact address of the registered office is not required to be stated therein. According to section 12 of the Act within 30 days of company’s incorporation, and at all times thereafter, the company must have a registered office to which all communications and notices may be sent. The company must also furnish to the Registrar verification of its registered office within a period of thirty days of its incorporation in such manner as may be prescribed. (e-form INC-22)

Publication of Name and Address of the Company

According to Section 12(3) every company is required to display its name and address in legible letters in conspicuous position and in all its business letters, bill heads, letter papers. Accordingly, the company shall—

- (a) paint or affix its name, and the address of its registered office, and keep the same painted or affixed, on the outside of every office or place in which its business is carried on, in a conspicuous position, in legible letters, and if the characters employed therefor are not those of the language or of one of the languages in general use in that locality, also in the characters of that language or of one of those languages;
- (b) have its name engraved in legible characters on its seal, if any;
- (c) get its name, address of its registered office and the Corporate Identity Number along with telephone number, fax number, if any, e-mail and website addresses, if any, printed in all its business letters, billheads, letter papers and in all its notices and other official publications; and
- (d) have its name printed on negotiable instruments such as hundies, promissory notes, bills of exchange.

However, where a company has changed its name or names during the last two years, it shall paint or affix or print, as the case may be, along with its name, the former name or names so changed during the last two years.

Further in case of One Person Company, the words “One Person Company” shall be mentioned in brackets below the name of such company, wherever its name is printed, affixed or engraved.

Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) has clarified that display of its name in English in addition to the display in the local language will be a sufficient compliance with the requirements of the section.

The MCA has also clarified that a share certificate is not an official publication of a company within the meaning of Section 147 of the Companies Act, 1956 [This corresponds to Section 12 of the Companies Act, 2013] [Circular No. 3/73/8/10(147)/ 72-CC-V dated 3.2.1973].

The words ‘outside of every office’ do not mean outside the premises in which the office is situated [Dr. H.L. Batliwalla Sons & Company Ltd. v. Emperor (1941) 11 Com Cases 154 : AIR 1941 (Bom.) 97]. Where office is situated within a compound, the display outside the office room, though inside the building, is sufficient.

OBJECTS CLAUSE

The third compulsory clause in the memorandum sets out the objects for which the company has been formed. Under section 4(1)(c) of the Act, all companies must state in their memorandum the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof.

The objects clause is of great importance because it determines the purpose and the capacity of the company. It indicates the purpose for which the company has been set up and its actual capability, besides its sphere of activities. It states affirmatively the ambit and extent of powers of the company and, stated negatively, that nothing should be done beyond that ambit and that no attempt shall be made to use the company for any other purpose than that which is specified. The purpose of the objects clause is to enable the persons dealing with the company to know its permitted range of activities. The acts beyond this ambit are ultra vires and hence void. Even the entire body of shareholders cannot ratify such acts.

Although express powers are necessary, a company may do anything which is incidental to and consequential upon the powers specified, and the act will not be ultra vires [Attorney General v. G.E. Rly. Co., (1880) 5 A.C. 473]. Thus, a trading company has an implied power to borrow money, draw and accept bills of exchange in the ordinary form, but a railway company cannot issue bills although it may borrow money.

The subscribers to the memorandum of association enjoy almost unrestricted freedom to choose the objects. The only restriction is that objects should not be illegal and against the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

The memorandum of association of a company is its charter defining the objects of its existence and operations. As pointed out in Cotman v. Brougham 1918 AC 514, its purpose is ‘to enable the shareholders, creditors and those dealing with the company to know what is the permitted range of the enterprise. The objects clause or clauses in the memorandum are to be so construed as to confer on the company all powers reasonably required to the attainment of the objects.’ “A memorandum of association like any other document must be read fairly and its importance derived from a reasonable interpretation of the language which it employs” [Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. Ltd. v. Port Said Salt Association Ltd. AC 677: (1931) 1 Com Cases 285: AIR 1931 PC 182; 62 MLJ 163; Deuchar v. Gas, Light and Coke Co., (1925) AC 691]. The natural and ordinary meaning of the language used in several clauses should be taken into consideration for determining whether a particular transaction does or does not fall within the objects stated in the memorandum [Bell Houses Ltd. v. City Wall Properties Ltd. (1966) 36 Com Cases 779: (1966) 2 All ER 674 (CA)].

It is ultra vires for a company to act beyond the limits of its memorandum. Any attempted departure will be invalid and cannot be validated even if assented to by all the shareholders of the company. Ultra vires means an act or transaction of a company, which though it may not be illegal, is beyond the company's powers by reason of not being within the objects of the memorandum of association. The memorandum is, so to speak, the limit beyond which a company cannot travel. [Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Company v. Riche, (1875) LR 7 HL 653]. An act beyond the objects mentioned in the memorandum is ultra vires and void and cannot be ratified [Dr. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar A. v. LIC (1963) Comp LJ 248: 1963 33 Com Cases 420: AIR 1963 SC 1185]. Where no connection or nexus exists between the exercise of a power and the attainment of an object, exercise of power will be ultra vires [Radha Cinema & Co. v. Chitralipi Films, 1974 Tax LR 2180 (Cal)].

DOCTRINE OF ULTRA VIRES

In the case of a company whatever is not stated in the memorandum as the objects or powers is prohibited by the doctrine of *ultra vires. As a result, an act which is ultra vires is void, and does not bind the company. Neither the company nor the contracting party can sue on it. Also, as stated earlier, the company cannot make it valid, even if every member assents to it.

The general rule is that an act which is ultra vires the company is incapable of ratification. An act which is intra vires the company but outside the authority of the directors may be ratified by the company in proper form [Rajendra Nath Dutta v. Shilendra Nath Mukherjee, (1982) 52 Com Cases 293 (Cal.)].

The rule is meant to protect shareholders and the creditors of the company. If the act is ultra vires (beyond the powers of) the directors only, the shareholders can ratify it. If it is ultra vires the articles of association, the company can alter its articles in the proper way.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

Can Shareholders ratify an act which is ultra vires the MoA?

Answer: No

CASE LAW

The doctrine of ultra vires was first enunciated by the House of Lords in a classic case, Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Co. Ltd. v. Riche, (1878) L.R. 7 H.L. 653.

The memorandum of the company in the said case defined its objects thus: "The objects for which the company is established are to make and sell, or lend or hire, railway plants..... to carry on the business of mechanical engineers and general contractors.....".

The company entered into a contract with M/s. Riche, a firm of railway contractors to finance the construction of a railway line in Belgium. On subsequent repudiation of this contract by the company on the ground of its being ultra vires, Riche brought a case for damages on the ground of breach of contract, as according to him the words “general contractors” in the objects clause gave power to the company to enter into such a contract and, therefore, it was within the powers of the company. More so because the contract was ratified by a majority of shareholders.

The House of Lords held that the contract was ultra vires the company and, therefore, null and void. The term “general contractor” was interpreted to indicate as the making generally of such contracts as are connected with the business of mechanical engineers. The Court held that if every shareholder of the company had been in the room and had said, “That is a contract which we desire to make, which we authorise the directors to make”, still it would be ultra vires. The shareholders cannot ratify such a contract, as the contract was ultra vires the objects clause, which by Act of Parliament, they were prohibited from doing.

However, later on, the House of Lords held in other cases that the doctrine of ultra vires should be applied reasonably and unless it is expressly prohibited, a company may do an act which is necessary for or incidental to the attainment of its objects. Section 13(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 4(1)(c) of the Companies Act, 2013] provides that the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof be stated in the memorandum. However, even when the matters considered necessary in furtherance of the objects are not stated, they would be allowed by the principle of reasonable construction of the memorandum.

CASE LAW

Justice Shah (afterwards C.J.) in the case A. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar v. L.I.C., A.I.R. 1963 S.C. 1185, upheld the doctrine of ultra vires. In this case, the directors of the company were authorised “to make payments towards any charitable or any benevolent object or for any general public or useful object”. In accordance with shareholders’ resolution the directors paid Rs. 2 lacs to a trust formed for the purpose of promoting technical and business knowledge. The company’s business having been taken over by L.I.C., it had no business left of its own.

The Supreme Court held that the payment was ultra vires the company. Directors could not spend company’s money on any charitable or general objects. They could spend for the promotion of only such charitable objects as would be useful for the attainment of the company’s own objects. It is pertinent to add that the powers vested in the Board of directors, e.g., power to borrow money, is not an object of the company. The powers must be exercised to promote the company’s objects. Charity is allowed only to the extent to which it is necessary in the reasonable management of the affairs of the company. Justice Shah held: “There must be proximate connection between the gift and the company’s business interest”. Thus “gifts to foster research relevant to the company’s activities” and “payments to widows of ex-employees on the footing that such payments encourage persons to enter the employment of the company” have been upheld as valid and intra vires.

In this regard the Act provides for bonafide charitable spending by the company. Section 181 of the Companies Act, 2013 authorises the Board of directors to contribute to bona fide charitable and other funds. However, prior consent of the company in general meeting, has to be obtained in order to contribute for any bona fide charitable or other purpose any amount exceeding five per cent of the average net profits for the three immediately preceding financial years.

The power of the Board as regards contribution to funds, which do directly relate to business of the company is unrestricted. It should not be inferred from the language of the section that with the consent of the company in general meeting, the board of directors may contribute to charitable funds to an unlimited extent, unless MoA and AoA authorizes such expenditure. If it does not authorize so it will be ultra vires the powers of the company.

A bank or any other person lending to a company, for purposes ultra vires the memorandum, cannot recover [National Provincial Bank v. Introductions Ltd., (1969) 1 All. E.R. 887].

Further, in the case of Bell Houses Ltd. v. City Wall Properties Limited (1966) 36 Com Cases 779, the objects clause included a power to “carry on any other trade or business whatsoever which can, in the opinion of the Board of directors, be advantageously carried on by the company.” The Court has held the same to be in order.

Loans, Borrowings, Guarantees and Ultra Vires Rule

An ultra vires borrowing does not create a relationship of a debtor and creditor. In a case, a company had accepted deposits from outsiders which was outside the scope of the Memorandum. When the company was ordered to be wound up, a question was raised whether the depositors were creditors of the company and whether the contributories could be asked to contribute towards payment of deposits. The Court held that the relationship between the company and the depositors was not that of debtor and creditor. But if the lender had lent the amount for discharging lawful expenses, he may recover the amount.

Whether a transaction is ultra vires the company can be decided on the basis of the following:

- (1) if a transaction entered into by a company falls within the objects, it is not ultra vires and hence not void;
- (2) if a transaction is outside the capacity (objects) of the company, it is ultra vires;
- (3) if a transaction is in excess or abuse of the company’s powers, such transaction will be set aside by the shareholders;

Implied Powers

The powers exercisable by a company are to be confined to the objects specified in the memorandum. While the objects are to be specified, the powers exercisable in respect of them may be express or implied and need not be specified.

Every company may necessarily possess certain powers which are implied, such as, a power to appoint and act through agents, and where it is a trading company, a power to borrow and give security for the purposes of its business, and also a power to sell. Such powers are incidental and can be inferred from the powers expressed in the memorandum. [Oakbank Oil Co. v. Crum (1882) 8 App Cas 65]. The principle underlying the exercise of such powers is that a company, in carrying on the business for which it is constituted, must be able to pursue those things which may be regarded as incidental to or consequential upon that business. [See Egyptian Salt and Soda Co. v. Port Said Salt Association].

Powers which are not implied

The following powers have been held not to be implied and it is, therefore, prudent to include them expressly in the objects clauses:

- (1) acquiring any business similar to the company’s own business. [Ernest v. Nicholls, (1857) 6 HLC 40];
- (2) entering into an agreement with other persons or companies for carrying on business in partnership or for sharing profit, joint venture or other arrangements. Very clear powers are necessary to justify such transactions [Re European Society Arbitration Act (1878) 8 Ch 679];
- (3) taking shares in other companies having similar objects. [Re Barned’s Banking Co., ex parte and

The Contract Corporation (1867) 3 Ch. App. 105. Re William Thomas & Co. Ltd. (1915) 1 Ch 325];

- (4) taking shares of other companies where such investment authorises the doing indirectly that which will not be intra vires if done directly;
- (5) promoting other companies or helping them financially [Joint Stock Discount Co. v. Brown, (1869) LR 8 EQ 381];
- (6) a power to sell and dispose of the whole of a company's undertaking;
- (7) a power to use funds for political purposes;
- (8) a power to give gifts and make donations or contribution for charities not relating to the objects stated in the memorandum;
- (9) acting as a surety or as a guarantor.

Shareholder's right in respect of ultra vires acts

A shareholder can get back the money paid by him to the company under an ultra vires allotment of shares. A transferee of shares from him would not have been so allowed. [Margarate Linz v. Electric Wire Co. of Salestine Ltd. (1948) 18 Com Cases 201, 205 : AIR 1949 PC 51].

Effects of ultra vires Transactions

- (i) Void ab initio – The ultra vires acts are null and void ab initio. The company is not bound by these acts. Even the company cannot sue or be sued upon [Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Company v. Riche].

Ultra vires contracts are void ab initio and hence cannot become intra vires by reason of estoppel or ratification.

- (ii) Injunction: The members can get an injunction to restrain a company wherein ultra vires act has been or is about to be undertaken [Attorney General v. Gr. Eastern Rly. Co., (1880) 5 A.C. 473].
- (iii) Personal liability of Directors: It is one of the duties of directors to ensure that the corporate capital is used only for the legitimate business of the company and hence if such capital is diverted to purposes alien to the company's memorandum, the directors will be personally liable to replace it. In Jehangir R. Modi v. Shamji Ladha, [(1866-67) 4 Bom. HCR (1855)], the Bombay High Court held, "A shareholder can maintain an action against the directors to compel them to restore to the company the funds of the company that have by them been employed in transactions that they have no authority to enter into, without making the company a party to the suit".

In case of deliberate misapplication, criminal action can also be taken for fraud.

However, a distinction must be drawn between transactions which are ultra vires the company and the transactions which are ultra vires the directors. Where the directors exceed their authority the same may be ratified by the general body of the shareholders. Provided the company has the capacity to do that transaction as per its memorandum of association.

- (iv) Where a company's money has been used ultra vires to acquire some property, the company's right over such property is held secure and the company will be the right party to protect the property. This is because, though the property has been acquired for some ultra vires object, it represents the money of the company.

- (v) Ultra vires borrowing does not create the relationship of creditor and debtor [In Re. Madras Native Permanent Fund Ltd., (1931) 1 Com Cases 256 (Mad.)].

LIABILITY CLAUSE

Section 4 sub-section 1(d) of the Act, states that the liability of members of the company is to be specifically mentioned in the MoA. It is provided that the liability of member may either be limited or unlimited, further it shall also state that,—

- (i) in the case of a company limited by shares, the liability of its members is limited to the amount unpaid, if any, on the shares held by them; and
- (ii) in the case of a company limited by guarantee, the amount up to which each member undertakes to contribute—

 - (B) to the costs, charges and expenses of winding-up and for adjustment of the rights of the contributories among themselves;

CAPITAL CLAUSE

This clause shall state the amount of the capital with which the company is registered. The shares into which the capital is divided must be of fixed value, which is commonly known as the nominal value of the share. The capital is variously described as “nominal”, “authorised” or “registered”.

The amount of nominal capital is determined having regard to the present as well as future requirements of the company with reference to its objects. The usual way to state the capital in the memorandum is: “The capital of the company is `10,00,000 divided into 1,00,000 equity shares of `10 each”. This amount lays down the maximum limit beyond which the company cannot issue shares without altering the memorandum as provided by Section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013.

If there are both equity and preference shares, then the division of the capital is to be shown under these two heads. A company is not authorised to issue capital beyond its authorised/nominal/registered capital. If it receives applications for shares beyond the shares covered by the authorised capital, the amount received on excess number of shares should be returned.

Out of the issued capital, the total amount actually subscribed or agreed to be subscribed is known as subscribed capital, and this subscribed capital again may be wholly paid or partly paid, in which latter case the balance would be payable on future calls when made. The amount actually paid by the shareholders is called the paid-up capital.

According to Section 60 of the Act, if the amount of the authorised capital (nominal capital), of the company is stated in any notice, advertisement, official publication, business letter, bill head or letter paper, it shall also contain a statement in an equally prominent position and in equally conspicuous terms the amount of capital which has been subscribed and the amount paid-up.

The procedure for the alteration of the compulsory clauses or conditions of the memorandum is discussed in detail in the following paragraphs.

ALTERATION OF NAME CLAUSE

The name of the company can be altered by a special resolution and with the approval of the Central Government in writing. Approval of the Central Government is not required, in case where the change in the name of the company relates to the addition/deletion of the word 'Private' to the name of the company consequent to the conversion of a company into a public company and vice versa. [Section 13 (2)]

When any change in the name of a company is made under section 13(2), the Registrar shall enter the new name in the register of companies in place of the old name and issue a fresh certificate of incorporation with the new name and such change in the name shall be complete and effective only on the issue of such a certificate [Section 13(3)].

According to Rule 29 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014, the change of name shall not be allowed to a company which has not filed annual returns or financial statements due for filing with the Registrar or which has failed to pay or repay matured deposits or debentures or interest thereon. Provided that the change of name shall be allowed upon filing necessary documents or payment or repayment of matured deposits or debentures or interest thereon as the case may be.

An application shall be filed in Form No. INC-24 along with the fee for change in the name of the company and a new certificate of incorporation in Form No. INC-25 shall be issued to the company consequent upon change of name.

Under Section 16 of the Act, rectification of the name of the company is required to be carried out if, through inadvertence or otherwise, a company (whether on its first registration or on its registration by a new name) is registered by a name which is identical to or too nearly resembles the name of a company already in existence. The rectification of the name must also be carried out if the Central Government so directs at any point of time after the registration of the company. The direction of the Central Government is required to be complied with by the company within a period of 3 months from the date of issue thereof. Further where a company changes its name or obtains a new name under section 16 (1), it shall within a period of fifteen days from the date of such change, give notice of the change to the Registrar along with the order of the Central Government, who shall carry out necessary changes in the certificate of incorporation and the memorandum. Name change requirement under Regulation 45 of SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulation, 2015

The listed entity shall be allowed to change its name subject to compliance with the following conditions:

- (a) a time period of at least one year has elapsed from the last name change;
- (b) at least fifty percent. of the total revenue in the preceding one year period has been accounted for by the new activity suggested by the new name; or
- (c) the amount invested in the new activity/project is atleast fifty percent. of the assets of the listed entity: Provided that if any listed entity has changed its activities which are not reflected in its name, it shall change its name in line with its activities within a period of six months from the change of activities in compliance of provisions as applicable to change of name prescribed under Companies Act, 2013.

Explanation.- For the purpose of this regulation, -

'assets' of the listed entity means the sum of fixed assets, advances, works in Progress / Inventories, investments, trade receivables, cash & cash equivalents;

'advances' shall include only those amounts extended to contractors and suppliers towards execution of project, specific to new activity as reflected in the new name.

(2) On satisfaction of conditions at sub-regulation (1), the listed entity shall file an application for name availability with Registrar of Companies.

(3) On receipt of confirmation regarding name availability from Registrar of Companies, before filing the request for change of name with the Registrar of Companies in terms of provisions laid down in Companies Act, 2013 and rules made thereunder, the listed entity shall seek approval from Stock Exchange by submitting a certificate from chartered accountant stating compliance with conditions

EFFECT OF CHANGE

The change of name shall not affect any rights or obligations of the company, or render defective any legal proceedings by or against it, and any legal proceedings which might have been continued or commenced by or against the company in its former name may be continued by or against the company in its new name.

However, where a company changes its name and the new name has been registered by the Registrar, the commencing of legal proceedings in the former name is not valid [Malhati Tea Syndicate Ltd. v. Revenue Officer, (1973) 43 Com Cases 337]. In spite of a change in name the entity of the company continues. The company is not dissolved nor does any new company come into existence. If any legal proceeding is commenced, after change in the name, against the company in its old name, the company should be treated as if it is not in existence. It is not an incurable defect and the plaint can be amended to substitute the new name [Pioneer Protective Glass Fibre (P) Ltd. v. Fibre Glass Pilkington Ltd., (1986) 60 Com Cases 707 (Cal.)].

The courts have held that proceedings commenced by the company in its former name can be continued under its new name [Solvex Oils and Fertilizers v. Bhandari Cross-Fields (P) Ltd., (1978) 48 Com Cases 260 (P & H)].

In Economic Investment Corporation Ltd. v. CIT (WB) AIR (1970) 40 Com Cases 1 (Cal.), it was held that by change of name, the constitution of the company is not changed, only the name changes. It is not similar to the reconstitution of a partnership which means creation of a new legal entity altogether.

ALTERATION OF REGISTERED OFFICE CLAUSE

(a) Change within the local limits of same town

The change of registered office of the company within the local limits can be implemented by the Board of Directors.

Cases under the erstwhile Companies Act 1956

No notice of the petition is required to be served on the State, but in view of the wider language of Section 17

[Corresponds to section 13 of the Companies Act, 2013] Central Government may direct notice to be served on the State if it is of the view that the interest of the State will be affected by the alteration. Where the alteration is affected by changing the registered office from one State to another State, the loss of revenue in one State would be accompanied by increase in revenue in the other and in such a case the interest of a particular State ought not to be considered but it is the interest of the country as a whole which should be considered. The decision to shift the registered office of the company to another state being a domestic matter rests with shareholders and the company is the best judge of how to run its business more economically, efficiently or conveniently, even though it would result in loss of revenue to the State. [Satyashree Balaji Wires & Cables (P) Ltd., In re (2006) 71 CLA 231 (CLB)].

A company was allowed to shift its registered office from Bihar to West Bengal in spite of the fact that Bihar Government had granted lease of land for the company's factory on the condition that it would not shift its registered office. The CLB also held that interest free loans, sales tax, electricity and other subsidies would have no bearing on the shifting [Usha Beltron Re, (2000) 27 SCL 124].

Employees' right to object in case of shifting of registered office from one state to another – Some legal cases

In the case of Bharat Commerce and Industries Ltd., Re, (1973) 43 Com Cases 162 (Cal.), it was held that employees' union, which was a registered body and which represented quite a number of the employees at the registered office of the company, would have the legal standing to appear before the court and oppose the application on the ground that their interests are likely to be prejudicially affected if the resolution for shifting the registered office of the company from one state to another is confirmed by the court. However, it was held that the employees' union cannot oppose on the ground that there would be loss of revenue or unemployment in the State or that the meeting at which the special resolution was passed was itself not valid.

Further, in the case of Metal Box India Ltd. Re, (2000) 37 CLA 15, it was held that where the shifting of the registered office was in accordance with a scheme approved by the BIFR, it was held that the workers had no right of objection because their continuation in the company's employment was ensured unless, of course, a worker preferred voluntary retirement.

A different dimension to the employees' right can be seen in the case of Kwality Ice Creams (India) P Ltd., Re, (2009) 91 SCL 231 : (2009) 148 Com Cases 631 : (2010) 98 CLA 218 (CLB). In that case, the company's petition for shifting its registered office from West Bengal to Delhi was opposed by two employees of the head office on the ground that their action against the company would be prejudiced. The CLB said that the facility for litigation is not a valid ground to stall shifting. There was no restraint order from any Court against the proposed shifting. The Company Law Board allowed shifting subject to the condition that the interest of none of the employees at the registered office would be prejudiced by retrenchment or otherwise.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

Change of the registered office from one city to another within the same State involves alteration of Memorandum.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

ALTERATION OF OBJECTS CLAUSE OF THE COMPANY

According to section 13(1), a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. It means that a company can change its objects by passing a special resolution. Further section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1). As per section 13(9), the Registrar shall register any alteration of the memorandum with respect to the objects of the company and certify the registration within a period of thirty days from the date of filing of the special resolution in accordance with section 13(6)(a).

Consequently pursuant to Section 13(1) a company can change its objects clause by passing a special resolution. Further in case the company is eligible for conducting business through postal ballot any alteration in the objects clause of the Memorandum of Association, shall implement the same through Postal Ballot in terms of section 110.

Further, section 13(8) lays down that a company, which has raised money from public through prospectus and has any unutilised amount out of the money so raised, shall not change its objects for which it raised the money through prospectus unless a special resolution is passed by the company and—

- (i) the details, as prescribed in Rule 32 of Companies(Incorporation) Rules, 2014, in respect of such resolution shall be published in the newspapers (one in English and one in vernacular language) which is in circulation at the place where the registered office of the company is situated and shall also be placed on the website of the company, if any, indicating therein the justification for such change;
- (ii) the dissenting shareholders shall be given an opportunity to exit by the promoters and shareholders having control in accordance with regulations to be specified by the Securities and Exchange Board.

Also for deleting any portion of the objects clause, the procedure laid down in this section has to be followed.

A company may wish to alter its objects stated in its memorandum due to various reasons e.g. if a company wishes to cut-back i.e. where it feels it has diversified in various directions and that management of the company has become difficult or uneconomical, it may alter its objects to sell or dispose of whole or part of its undertaking(s).

REGISTRATION OF ALTERATION

Section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar :

- (a) the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1); and
- (b) the approval of the Central Government under section 13(2), if the alteration involves any change in the name of the company.

The special resolution shall be filed with the Registrar within thirty days of the passing or making thereof in the prescribed manner and payment of prescribed fees within the time specified under section 403.

As per section 13(9), the Registrar shall register any alteration of the memorandum with respect to the objects of the company and certify the registration within a period of thirty days from the date of filing of the special resolution in accordance with section 13 (6)(a).

Further section 13(7) provides that where an alteration of the memorandum results in the transfer of the registered office of a company from one State to another, a certified copy of the order of the Central Government approving the alteration shall be filed by the company with the Registrar of each of the States within such time and in such manner as may be prescribed, who shall register the same, and the Registrar of the State where the registered office is being shifted to, shall issue a fresh certificate of incorporation indicating the alteration.

The certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that all the requirements of this Act with respect to the alteration and confirmation thereof have been complied with. The Registrar of the State from which the registered office is transferred will send to the Registrar of the other State all the documents relating to the company registered in his office.

No alteration made under section 13 (i.e., alteration of memorandum) shall have any effect until it has been registered in accordance with the provisions of this section. [Section 13(10)].

The main spirit behind Section 13(7) of the Companies Act, 2013 in regard to the filing of the order confirming the transfer of the company's registered office from one State to another State with the Registrar of Companies of each State is that the Registrar of Companies from whose State the registered office is transferred should keep the order duly registered in his office as an evidence to such shifting and should transfer all other records of the company to the Registrar of Companies to whose State the Registered Office has been so shifted. The other Registrar of Companies will register the other copy of the order and keep that order with the records transferred to him by his counterpart.

ALTERATION OF LIABILITY CLAUSE

According to section 13(1), a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. It means that a company can change the liability clause of its memorandum of association by passing a special resolution. Further section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1).

ALTERATION OF CAPITAL CLAUSE

A limited company having a share capital may make the following types of alterations in its memorandum by an ordinary resolution, if so authorised by its articles, at its general meeting to (Section 61)—

- (i) increase its authorised share capital by such amount as it thinks expedient;

A company may at any time increase its authorised share capital by the alteration of its memorandum. Although, section 61(1) (a) of the Companies Act, 2013 refers to the issue of new shares, it really deals with a case of increase in the authorised share capital, and not increase of the issued share capital. The case of increase of the issued or subscribed capital is dealt with separately by section 62 of the Act.

- (i) consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of a larger amount than its existing shares:

Provided that no consolidation and division which results in changes in the voting percentage of shareholders shall take effect unless it is approved by the Tribunal on an application made in the prescribed manner

- (iii) convert all or any of its fully paid-up shares into stock, and reconvert that stock into fully paid-up shares of any denomination;
- (iv) sub-divide its shares, or any of them, into shares of smaller amount than is fixed by the memorandum, so, however, that the proportion between the amount paid and unpaid shall remain the same.
- (v) cancel shares which, at the date of the passing of the resolution in that behalf, have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person, and diminish the amount of its share capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled.

All the above alterations do not require the confirmation by the Tribunal except that alteration relating to consolidation and division which results in changes in the voting percentage of shareholders shall not take effect unless it is approved by the Tribunal on an application made in the prescribed manner.

These alterations are, however, required to be notified and a copy of the resolution should be filed with the Registrar within 30 days of the passing of the resolution along with an altered memorandum. [Section 64(1)]

The Registrar shall record the notice and make any alteration which may be necessary in the company's memorandum or articles or both. It must be noted that cancellation of shares in pursuance of section 61(1) does not amount to reduction of share capital.

ALTERATION OF MEMORANDUM OF ASSOCIATION

ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

NATURE OF ARTICLES

According to Section 2(5) of the Companies Act, 2013, 'articles' means the articles of association of a company as originally framed or as altered from time to time or applied in pursuance of any previous company law or of this Act. It also includes the regulations contained in Table A in Schedule I of the Act, in so far as they apply to the company.

In terms of section 5(1), the articles of a company shall contain the regulations for management of the company. The articles of association of a company are its bye-laws or rules and regulations that govern the management of its internal affairs and the conduct of its business. The articles play a very important role in the affairs of a company. It deals with the rights of the members of the company inter se. They are subordinate to and are controlled by the memorandum of association. The general functions of the articles have been aptly summed up by Lord Cairns, L.C. in Ashbury Railway Carriage and Iron Co. Ltd. v. Riche, (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 653 as follows:

“The articles play a part that is subsidiary to the memorandum of association. They accept the memorandum of association as the charter of incorporation of the company, and so accepting it, the articles proceed to define the duties, rights and powers of the governing body as between themselves and the company at large, and the mode and form in which business of the company is to be carried on, and the mode and form in which changes in the internal regulations of the company may from time to time be made... The memorandum, is as it were... the area beyond which the action of the company cannot go; inside that area shareholders may make such regulations for the governance of the company as they think fit”.

Thus, the memorandum lays down the scope and powers of the company, and the articles govern the ways in which the objects of the company are to be carried out and can be framed and altered by the members. But they must keep within the limits marked out by the memorandum and the Companies Act.

The articles regulate the internal management of the affairs of the company by way of defining the powers of its officers and establishing a contract between the company and the members and between the members inter se. This contract governs the ordinary rights and obligations incidental to membership in the company [Naresh Chandra Sanyal v. The Calcutta Stock Exchange Association Ltd., AIR 1971 SC 422, (1971) 41 Com Cases 51]. But the Articles of Association of a company are not ‘law’ and do not have the force of law. In Kinetic Engineering Ltd. v. Sadhana Gadia, (1992) 74 Com Cases 82 : (1992) 1 Comp LJ 62 (CLB), the CLB held that if any provision of the articles or the memorandum is contrary to any provisions of any law, it will be invalid in toto.

Articles Subordinate to Memorandum

The articles of a company are subordinate to and subject to the memorandum of association and any clause in the Articles going beyond the memorandum will be ultra vires. But the articles are only internal regulations, over which the members of the company have full control and may alter them according to what they think fit. Only care has to be taken to see that regulations provided for in the articles do not exceed the powers of the company as laid down by its memorandum [Ashbury v. Watson, (1885) 30 Ch. D 376 (CA)]. Articles that go beyond the company’s sphere of action are inoperative, and anything done under the authority of such article is void and incapable of ratification.

But neither the articles nor the memorandum can authorise the company to do anything so as to contravene any of the provisions of the Act. [See Re Peveril Gold Mines, (1989) 1 Ch 122 (CA)].

Articles in relation to Memorandum

The functions of the Articles in relation to the Memorandum have already been summed up in the Ashbury Railway Carriage case and even though the articles are subordinate to the memorandum yet if there be any ambiguity in the memorandum, the articles may be used to explain it but not so as to extend the objects. [Re. South Durham Brewery Company (1885) 3 Ch. D 261]. The memorandum of a company was not clear as to the classes of shares to be issued by a company but the articles made clear the doubt by giving the power to the company to issue shares of different classes.

The relationship between the two documents was further emphasised in Guinness v. Land Corporation of Ireland, (1882) 22 Ch D 349, where it was observed: “The memorandum contains the fundamental conditions upon which alone the company is allowed to be incorporated. They are conditions introduced for the benefit of the creditors, and the outside public, as well as of the shareholders. The articles of association are the internal regulations of the company. How can it be said that in all cases the fundamental conditions of the charter of incorporation and the internal regulations of the company are to be construed together... In any case it is, as it seems to me, certain that for anything which the Act of Parliament says shall be in the memorandum you must look at the memorandum alone. If the legislature has said one instrument is to be dominant you cannot turn to another instrument and read it in order to modify the provisions of the dominant instrument". Where the memorandum clearly establishes the rights of shareholders, a reference in the memorandum to the articles and an ambiguity said to arise from the construction of the articles should not be used to depart from the clear meaning of the memorandum so as to diminish those rights [Scottish National Trust Co. Ltd. 1928 SC 499 (Scot); Kinetic Engineering Ltd. v. Sadhana Gadia, (1992) 1 Comp LJ 62 (CLB)].

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

Regulations provided for in the Articles must not exceed the powers of the company as laid down by its Memorandum.

- True
- False

Correct answer: True

REGISTRATION OF ARTICLES

Section 7(1) provides that at the time of incorporation of a company the company shall file with the Registrar within whose jurisdiction the registered office of a company is proposed to be situated, the memorandum and articles of the company duly signed by all the subscribers to the memorandum in the prescribed manner.

Every type of company whether public or private and whether limited by shares or limited by guarantee having a share capital or not having a share capital or an unlimited liability company must register their articles of association.

Section 5(2) provides that the articles shall also contain such matters, as prescribed in Rule 11 of Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014. However, nothing prescribed in this sub-section shall be deemed to prevent a company from including such additional matters in its articles as may be considered necessary for its management. The articles of a company shall be in respective forms specified in Tables, F, G, H, I and J in Schedule I as may be applicable to such company either in totality or otherwise. [Section 5(6)]

A company may adopt all or any of the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company. [Section 5(7)]

Section 5(8) provides that in case of any company, which is registered after the commencement of Companies Act 2013, in so far as the registered articles of such company do not exclude or modify the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company, those regulations shall, so far as applicable, be the regulations of that company in the same manner and to the extent as if they were contained in the duly registered articles of the company.

Therefore in terms of Section 5 of the Companies Act, 2013, a public company limited by shares may at its option register its articles of association signed by the same subscribers as to the memorandum, or alternatively it may adopt all or any of the regulations contained in Table F of First Schedule of the Act. If articles are not registered, automatically Table F in Schedule I apply, and if registered, Table F in Schedule I apply except in so far as it is excluded or modified by the articles. To avoid any confusion, normally every public company delivers its articles alongwith the memorandum for registration. Further it will be specifically stated therein that Table 'F' will not apply. The articles of a private company must contain the three restrictions as contained in Section 2(68).

A company limited by guarantee having a share capital or a company limited by guarantee not having a share capital or an unlimited company having a share capital or an unlimited company not having a share capital might adopt any of the appropriate regulations of Table G, H, I and J respectively in Schedule I [Section 5(6)].

However nothing in section 5 shall apply to the articles of a company registered under any previous company law unless amended under this Act [Section 5(9)].

ENTRENCHMENT PROVISIONS

The articles may contain provisions for entrenchment to the effect that specified provisions of the articles may be altered only if conditions or procedures that are more restrictive than those applicable in the case of a special resolution, are met or complied with. [Section 5 (3)]

The Companies Act 2013, recognizes an interesting concept of entrenchment. Essentially, the entrenchment provisions allow for certain clauses in the articles to be amended upon satisfaction of certain conditions or restrictions greater than those prescribed under the Act (such as obtaining 100% consent). This provision acts as a protection to the minority shareholders and is of specific interest to the investment community. This shall empower the enforcement of any pre-agreed rights and provide greater certainty to investors, especially in joint ventures.

The provisions for entrenchment referred to in section 5(3) shall be made either (a) on formation of a company, or (b) by an amendment in the articles agreed to by all the members of the company in the case of a private company and by a special resolution in the case of a public company. [Section 5 (4)]

Where the articles contain provisions for entrenchment, whether made on formation or by amendment, the company shall give notice to the Registrar of such provisions in such form and manner as may be prescribed. [Section 5 (5)]

STATUTORY REQUIREMENTS

The articles must be printed, divided into paragraphs, numbered consecutively, stamped adequately, signed by each subscriber to the memorandum and duly witnessed and filed along with the memorandum. The articles must not contain anything illegal or ultra vires the memorandum, nor should it be contrary to the provisions of the Companies Act 2013.

CONTENTS OF ARTICLES

The articles set out the rules and regulations framed by the company for its own working. The articles should contain generally the following matters:

1. Exclusion wholly or in part of Table F.

2. Adoption of preliminary contracts.
3. Number and value of shares.
4. Issue of preference shares.
5. Allotment of shares.
6. Calls on shares.
7. Lien on shares.
8. Transfer and transmission of shares.
9. Nomination.
10. Forfeiture of shares.
11. Alteration of capital.
12. Buy back.
13. Share certificates.
14. Dematerialisation.
15. Conversion of shares into stock.
16. Voting rights and proxies.
17. Meetings and rules regarding committees.
18. Directors, their appointment and delegations of powers.
19. Nominee directors.
20. Issue of Debentures and stocks.
21. Audit committee.
22. Managing director, Whole-time director, Manager, Secretary.
23. Additional directors.
24. Seal.
25. Remuneration of directors.
26. General meetings.
27. Directors meetings.
28. Borrowing powers.
29. Dividends and reserves.
30. Accounts and audit.
31. Winding up.
32. Indemnity.
33. Capitalisation of reserves.

Utmost caution must be exercised in the preparation of the articles of association of a company. At the same time, certain provisions of the Act are applicable to the company "notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the articles". Therefore, the articles must contain provisions in respect of all matters which are required to be contained therein so as not to hamper the working of the company later.

CONSISTENCY OF ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION WITH COMPANIES ACT, 2013

Section 5(2) provides that the articles shall also contain such matters, as may be prescribed. The proviso to Section 5(2) provides that nothing in that sub-section shall be deemed to prevent a company from including any additional matters in its Articles, as may be considered necessary for its management. Section 5(8) provides that in case of any company, which is registered after the commencement of the Companies Act 2013, in so far as the registered articles of such company do not exclude or modify the regulations contained in the model articles applicable to such company, those regulations shall, so far as applicable, be the regulations of that company in the same manner and to the extent as if they were contained in the duly registered articles of the company.

Section 6 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that:-

- (a) the provisions of this Act shall have effect notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the memorandum or articles of a company, or in any agreement executed by it, or in any resolution passed by the company in general meeting or by its Board of Directors, whether the same be registered, executed or passed, as the case may be, before or after the commencement of this Act; and
- (b) any provision contained in the memorandum, articles, agreement or resolution shall, to the extent to which it is repugnant to the provisions of this Act, become or be void, as the case may be..

In the light of above provisions, if there is a provision in the Articles empowering the Directors of the company to expel any member of the company under any of the given conditions, then such a provision shall be totally inconsistent with the provisions of Section 6 of the Act. It is opposed to the fundamental principles of the company's jurisprudence and is ultra vires of the company. [(Circular No. 32 of 1975) dated 01.11.1975]

But the Stock exchanges, registered under the provisions of the Companies Act, can carry such a provision in its Articles. The regulation of stock exchanges is mainly governed by Securities Contracts Regulation Act, 1956 (SCRA) and SEBI, Act, 1992 which are Special Acts. Hence, the Articles of Stock Exchange may provide for additional matters as per SCR Act, which may not be possible for inclusion in the Articles of a company, as per the provisions of the Companies Act. [Madras Stock Exchange Ltd. v. S.S.R. Rajkumar (2003) 116 Com Cases 214 (Mad.)].

ALTERATION OF ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION

A company has a statutory right to alter its articles of association. But the power to alter is subject to the provisions of the Act and to the conditions contained in the memorandum. Section 14(1) provides that subject to the provisions of this Act and the conditions contained in its memorandum, if any, a company may, by a special resolution, alter its articles including alterations having the effect of conversion of a private company into a public company; or a public company into a private company. First proviso to section 14(1) lays down that where a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include the restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under this Act, the company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company. Second proviso to section 14(1) stipulates that any alteration having the effect of conversion of a public company into a private company shall not take effect except with the approval of the Tribunal which shall make such order as it may deem fit.

Every alteration of the articles under this section and a copy of the order of the Tribunal approving the alteration as per section 14(1) shall be filed with the Registrar, together with a printed copy of the altered articles, within a period of fifteen days in such manner as may be prescribed, who shall register the same.

[Section 14 (2)]

Any alteration of the articles registered under section 14(2) shall, subject to the provisions of this Act, be valid as if it were originally in the articles. [Section 14(3)]

The right to alter the articles is so important that a company cannot in any manner, either by express provisions in the articles or by independent contract, deprive itself of the powers to alter its articles [Walker v. London Tramway Co. (1879) 12 Ch. D. 705].

However, in spite of the power to alter its articles, a company can exercise this power subject only to certain limitations. These are:

1. The alteration must not exceed the powers given by the memorandum. In the event of conflict between the memorandum and the articles, it is the memorandum that will prevail.
2. The alteration must not be inconsistent with any provisions of the Companies Act or any other statute.

Similarly, where a resolution was passed expelling a member and authorising the director to register the transfer of his shares without an instrument of transfer, the resolution was held to be invalid as being against the provisions of the Act [Madhava Ramachandra Kamath v. Canara Banking Corporation [1941] 11 Com Cases 78 (Mad)].

On the other hand, articles may impose on the company conditions stricter than those provided under the law; for example, they may provide that a matter should be passed by a special resolution when the Act requires it to be passed by an ordinary resolution.

3. The Articles must not include anything which is illegal or opposed to public policy.
4. The alteration must be bona fide for the benefit of the company as a whole.
5. The alteration must not constitute a fraud on the minority by a majority. If the alteration is not for the benefit of the company as a whole, but for majority of shareholders, then the alteration would be bad. In other words, an alteration to the articles must not discriminate between the majority shareholders and the minority shareholders so as to give the former an advantage over the latter. [All India Railway Mens Benefit Fund v. Jamadar Baheshwarnath Bali (1945) 15 Com Cases 142 (Nag.)]

In Mathrubhumi Printing & Publishing Co. Ltd. v. Vardhaman Publishers Ltd. [1992] 73 Com Cases 80 (Ker.), the Kerala High Court held that no majority of shareholders can, by altering the article retrospectively, affect, the prejudice of the consenting owners of shares, the right already existing under a contract nor take away the right accrued, e.g., after a transfer of share is lodged, the company cannot have a right of lien so as to defeat the transfer.

6. Articles cannot be altered so as to compel an existing member to take or subscribe for more shares or in any way increase his liability to contribute to the share capital, unless he gives his consent in writing (Section 38).
7. By effecting alteration in its articles, a company cannot defeat escape from its contractual obligation with any person. The company will always be liable in such a case.
8. The Articles of Association cannot be altered so as to have retrospective effects. The articles only operate from the date of the amendment [Pyare Lal Sharma v. Managing Director, J.K. Industries Ltd. (1989) 3 Comp LJ (SL) 70].
9. The alteration must not be inconsistent with an order of the Court under Sections 397 or 398 and 404 of the Companies Act, 1956.

Subject to the foregoing conditions, the Articles in a company can be altered and no clause can be included in the Articles that it is not alterable. Persons who become members of a company have no right to assume that the Articles will always remain in a particular form.

Of course a section or a class of shareholders cannot be unfairly or oppressively treated. Thus, though the requisite majority of members could pass a special resolution to alter the Articles and if the alteration has the effect of making a fraud on the minority, the minority shareholders not being less than the number specified in Section 397 and 398 could move the Court for redressing their grievances. The Courts have entertained such applications from shareholders even where they are smaller in number [See Menier N. Hooper Telegraph Works (1874) 9 Ch. App. 350].

As already mentioned, a company is not prevented from altering its Articles on the ground that such an alteration would be breach of a contract but an action for damages may lie against the company. [Southern Foundries v. Shirlaw, [1940] AC 701].

The discussion on the above matter will not be complete without referring to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle (1843) 2 Hare 461 where the court held that no individual shareholder nor a minority of shareholders in a company can take it upon himself or themselves to remedy an alleged wrong involved in the actions of directors if the said wrongful act is something which the majority can regularise and approve of.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

The Articles of Association are subsidiary both to the Companies Act and the Memorandum of Association.

- True
- False

Correct answer: True

Effect of Altered Articles

Alteration binds members in the same way as original articles. The altered articles shall bind the company and the members to the same extent as if they had been signed by the company and by each member, means the articles as originally framed, or as they may from time to time stand altered are valid under the provisions of the Act. There is clear power to alter the articles, and as altered, they bind members just in the same way as did the original articles.

Section 8 Company cannot alter Articles except with the prior approval of Central Government

Section 8(4)(i) provides that a company registered under section 8 i.e. companies with charitable objects shall not alter the provisions of its memorandum or articles except with the previous approval of the Central Government.

ALTERATIONS OF MEMORANDUM OR ARTICLES TO BE NOTED IN EVERY COPY

Every alteration made in the memorandum or articles of a company shall be noted in every copy of the memorandum or articles, as the case may be. [Section 15(1)]

If a company makes any default in complying with the provisions of section 15(1), the company and every officer who is in default shall be liable to a penalty of one thousand rupees for every copy of the memorandum or articles issued without such alteration. [Section 15(2)]

DISTINCTION BETWEEN MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The main points of distinction between the memorandum and articles are given below:

1. Memorandum of association is the charter of the company and defines the fundamental conditions and objects for which the company is granted incorporation. Articles of association are the rules and regulations framed to govern this internal management of the company.
2. Clauses of the memorandum cannot be easily altered. They can only be altered in accordance with the mode prescribed by the Act. In some of the cases, alteration requires the permission of the Central Government or the Court. In the case of articles of association, members have a right to alter the articles by a special resolution. Generally there is no need to obtain the permission of the Court or the Central Government for alteration of the articles.
3. Memorandum of association cannot include any clause contrary to the provisions of the Companies Act. The articles of association are subsidiary both to the Companies Act and the memorandum of association.
4. The memorandum generally defines the relation between the company and the outsiders, while the articles regulate the relationship between the company and its members and between the members inter se.
5. Acts done by a company beyond the scope of the memorandum are absolutely void and ultra vires and cannot be ratified even by unanimous vote of all the shareholders. But the acts of the directors beyond the articles can be ratified by the shareholders.

LEGAL EFFECT OF THE MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The memorandum and articles, when registered, bind the company and its members to the same extent as if they have been signed by the company and by each member to observe and be bound by all the provisions of the memorandum and of the articles. Also, all monies payable by any member to the company under the memorandum or articles shall be a debt due from him to the company (Section 10).

We shall examine the extent to which the memorandum and articles bind:

- (a) the members to the company;
- (b) the company to the members;
- (c) the members inter se; and
- (d) the company to outsiders.

Members Bound to the Company

The memorandum and articles constitute a contract binding the members of the company. The members, as members, are bound to the company. Each member must, therefore, observe the provisions of the memorandum and articles.

Each member is bound by the covenants of the Memorandum as originally made and as altered from time to time [Malleson v. National Insurance Co.]. In another case, the shareholders could not enter into an agreement which was contrary to or inconsistent with the articles of association of the company [V.B. Rangaraj v. V.B. Gopalkrishnan (1992) 73 Com Cases 201 (SC)].

CASE LAW

In Boreland's Trustee v. Steel Brother and Co. Ltd. (1901) 1 Ch. 279, the articles of a company contained a clause that on the bankruptcy of a member his shares would be sold to other persons and at a price fixed by the directors. B, a shareholder was adjudicated bankrupt. His trustee in bankruptcy claimed that he was not bound by these provisions and should be at liberty to sell the shares at their true value. It was held that the trustee was bound by the articles, as the shares were purchased by B in terms of the articles.

Company Bound to the Members

Since the articles constitute a contract binding the company to its members in their capacity as members, a member can bring an action against the company for infringement by it of the memorandum or articles. For example, an individual member can sue the company for an injunction restraining it from improper payment of dividend [Hoole v. Great Western Railway (1867) 3 Ch. D. 262]. Further, the company is bound to individual members in respect of their ordinary rights as members, e.g. the right to receive share certificate in respect of shares allotted to them, or to receive notice of general meeting, etc. Normally, action for breach of articles against the company can be brought only by a majority of the members. Individual or minority members cannot bring such a suit except when it is intended for enforcement of personal rights of members or to prevent the company from doing any ultra vires or illegal act, fraud, or oppression and mismanagement.

Member Bound to Member

As between the members inter se each member is bound by the articles to the other members but that does not mean the memorandum and articles create an express contract among the members of the company. Thus, a member of a company has no right to bring a suit to enforce the articles in his own name against any other member or members. It is the company alone which can sue the offender so as to protect the aggrieved member. It is in this way that the rights of members inter se are regulated. A shareholder may, however, sue in his own name to restrain another, or others from doing fraudulent or ultra vires acts.

Articles do not affect or regulate the rights arising out of a commercial contract, with which the members have no concern, i.e., rights completely outside the company's relationship.

Company not Bound to Outsiders

The term "outsider" signifies a person who is not a member of the company even if he is a director of or solicitor to the company. Even in regard to members, the articles bind the company to them in their capacity as members.

As between outsiders and the company, neither the memorandum nor the articles would give any contractual rights to outsiders against the company or its members even though the names of outsiders are mentioned in those documents in connection with the arrangements that the company might have contemplated for carrying on its business. The articles do not confer any contractual rights even upon a member in a capacity other than that of a member. To succeed, the party suing must prove a contract outside and independent of the articles [Eley v. Positive Life Insurance Co., (1876) 1 E.X.D. 88].

In this case the articles provided that the solicitor to the company would not be removed from office except for misconduct. Eley acted as solicitor to the company and also became a member of the company. The company discontinued his services and then he sued the company for damages for breach of contract. It was held that he had no cause of action because the articles did not constitute any contract between the company and himself. His action was dismissed.

This rule, however, proved to be rather harsh and so the Courts later on modified it. The modified rule is as follows:

While the articles cannot create a contract between the company and any person other than a member in his capacity as a member, they may indicate the basis upon which contracts may be made by the company. If such a contract is entered into whether with a member of the company or any other person, the conditions stated in the articles will be tacitly adopted by that contract, unless expressly negated or varied by the contract itself.

The question sometimes arises as to whether directors are bound by whatever is contained in the articles. In case the directors contravene the provisions in the articles, the directors render themselves liable for an action by members. On the other hand, members can also ratify acts of directors. If any loss is incurred by the company, directors are liable to reimburse to the company any loss so incurred.

CONSTRUCTIVE NOTICE OF MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

The memorandum and articles, when registered, become public documents and can be inspected by anyone on payment of nominal fee. Therefore, every person who contemplates entering into a contract with a company has the means of ascertaining and is consequently presumed to know, not only the exact powers of the company but also the extent to which these powers have been delegated to the directors, and of any limitations placed upon the exercise of these powers. In other words, every person dealing with the company is deemed to have a "constructive notice" of the contents of its memorandum and articles. In fact, he is regarded not only as having read those documents but also as having understood them according to their proper meaning [Griffith v. Paget, (1877) Ch. D. 517]. Consequently, if a person enters into a contract which is beyond the powers of the company, as defined in the memorandum, or outside the limits set on the authority of the directors, he cannot, as a general rule, acquire any rights under the contract against the company [Mohony v. East Holyfrod Mining Co., (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 869]. For example, if the articles provide that a bill of exchange to be effective must be signed by two directors, a person dealing with the company must see that it is so signed; otherwise he cannot claim under it.

In another case, the articles required that all documents should be signed by the managing director, secretary and the working director on behalf of the company. A deed of mortgage was executed by the secretary and the working director only and the Court held that no claim would lie under such a deed. The Court said that the mortgagee should have consulted the articles before the deed was executed. Therefore, even though the mortgagee may have acted in good faith and the money borrowed applied for the purpose of the company, the mortgage was nevertheless invalid [Kotla Venkataswamy v. Rammurthy, AIR 1934 Mad 579]. The doctrine of indoor management protects third parties who are entitled to an assurance that all the procedural aspects of a transaction are carried out.

Outsiders dealing with incorporated bodies are bound to take notice of limits imposed on the corporation by the memorandum or other documents of constitution. Nevertheless they are entitled to assume that the directors or other persons exercising authority on behalf of the company are doing so in accordance with the internal regulations as set out in the Memorandum & Articles of Association.

The impact of this doctrine on practical relations is thus stated in HALSBURY: "A company is subject to the rule that, where the conduct of a party charged with a notice shows that he had suspicions of a state of facts the knowledge of which would affect his legal rights, but that he deliberately refrained from making inquiries, he will be treated as having had notice, though he is not entitled to claim for his own advantage," [Jones v. Smith, (1841) 1 Hare 43].

MONIES PAYABLE BY MEMBERS IS A DEBT [SUB-SECTION (2) OF SECTION 10]

Though all monies payable under the memorandum or articles by members is a debt due, the liability on the debt is not enforceable, unless proper notice is given in accordance with the articles. [Pabna Dhana-Bhandar Co. Ltd. v. Foyezud din Mia (1933) 3 Com Cases 41 : AIR 1932 Cal 716].

INTERPRETATION OF MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES

Articles should be construed as a business document so as to give business efficacy preference to a construction which will prove unworkable [Holmes v. Keyes (Lord) (1958) 2 All ER 129 (CA)]. Where the conduct of the parties reveals that there has been some practice in vogue for several years which was accepted by everyone concerned without any challenge or question, then that practice in the course of long years in itself becomes an indication that the rules or articles which are framed by way of internal management were understood in that sense [Krishnaswamy (S) v. South India film Chamber of Commerce, AIR 1969 Mad 42 : (1968) 1 Comp LJ 75; cited in Sunil Dev v. Delhi and District Cricket Assn., (1990) 2 Comp LJ 245, 255 : (1994) 80 Com Cases 174 (Del)].

The memorandum must like any other document be construed according to accepted principles applicable to the interpretation of all legal documents. No rigid canon of construction is to be applied to such a document. Like any other document, it must be read fairly and its import derived from a reasonable interpretation of the language which it employs. [A Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar v. LIC of India (1963) 33 Com Cases 420, 430 (SC); Egyptian Salt & Soda Co. v. Port Said Salt Assn., (1931) AC 677 : AIR 1931 PC 182)].

The memorandum and articles must be read together in the event of any ambiguity. In Angostura Bitters & Co. Ltd. v. Kerr, (1933) AC 550 : (1934) 4 Com Cases 1; the Privy Council held, "Except in respect of such matters as must be statutorily provided for by the conjunction with the articles. The two documents must be read together at all events so far as may be necessary to explain any ambiguity appearing in the terms of the memorandum or to supplement it upon any matter as to which it is silent" — quoted with approval by the Supreme Court in A. Lakshmanaswami Mudaliar v. LIC of India Ltd. (1963) SC 1185.

DOCTRINE OF INDOOR MANAGEMENT

While the doctrine of 'constructive notice' seeks to protect the company against the outsiders, the principal of indoor management operates to protect the outsiders against the company.

According to this doctrine, as laid down in Royal British Bank v. Turquand, (1856) 119 E.R. 886, persons dealing with a company having satisfied themselves that the proposed transaction is not in its nature inconsistent with the memorandum and articles, are not bound to inquire the regularity of any internal proceedings. In other words, while persons contracting with a company are presumed to know the provisions of the contents of the memorandum and articles, they are entitled to assume that the provisions of the articles have been observed by the officers of the company. It is no part of the duty of an outsider to see that the company carries out its own internal regulations.

CASE LAW UNDER ERSTWHILE COMPANIES ACT 1956

In Royal British Bank v. Turquand, the directors of a banking company were authorised by the articles to borrow on bonds such sums of money as should from time to time, by resolution of the company in general meeting, be authorised to borrow. The directors gave a bond to Turquand without the authority of any such resolution. It was held that Turquand could sue the company on the strength of the bond, as he was entitled to assume that the necessary resolution had been passed. Lord Hatherly observed : “Outsiders are bound to know the external position of the company, but are not bound to know its indoor management”.

Section 176 Provides for the Validity of Acts of Directors - No act done by a person as a director shall be deemed to be invalid, notwithstanding that it was subsequently noticed that his appointment was invalid by reason of any defect or disqualification or had terminated by virtue of any provision contained in this Act or in the articles of the company:

Provided that nothing in this section shall be deemed to give validity to any act done by the director after his appointment has been noticed by the company to be invalid or have been terminated.

The object of the section is to protect persons dealing with the company - outsiders as well as members by providing that the acts of a person acting as director will be treated as valid although it may afterwards be discovered that his appointment was invalid or that it had terminated under any provision of this Act or the Articles of the company [Ram Raghubir Lal v. United Refineries (Burma) Ltd., (1932) 2 Com Cases 359; AIR 1931 Rang 139].

Relation of company with members and outsiders

The validation of the acts of unqualified directors may apply to circumstances from two different angles : (1) as between outsiders, strangers and the company as in *Royal British Bank v. Turquand, (1956) 5 E&B 327, British Asbestos Co. Ltd. v. Boyd. (1903) 2 Ch 439 : (1900-3) All ER Rep 323; and Ram Buran Singh v. Mufassil Bank Ltd. AIR 1925 All 206; and (2) in relation to the internal affairs of the company as in Dawson v. African Consolidated Land & Trading Co., (1898) 1 Ch 6 (CA), where calls made by unqualified directors were held valid. Even if the public documents of the company, and the facts which are apparent, would make it clear that a director was not duly qualified to act, this will not oust the effect of the Section 176 (British Asbestos case) (supra). Similarly in Boschoek Proprietary Co. Ltd., v. Fuke, (1906) 1 Ch 148, a resolution of a general meeting convened by de facto directors was upheld.*

Forgery and incompetent acts

This section does not apply where the act itself is not in the competence of the Board of directors, e.g. compromising unpaid calls under the guise of forfeiture, the transaction being ultra vires and invalid [Bhagirath Spinning & Wvg. Co. v. Balaji Bhavani Pawar, AIR 1930 Bom. 267].

Directors not aware of their disqualification

The allotment and forfeiture of shares made by the directors who continued to act even after they were disqualified but were not aware of it, were saved by the Section 179. [Shiromani Sugar Mills Ltd. v. Debi Prasad, (1950) 20 Com Cases 296: AIR 1950 All 508]. Where this section does not save the situation, the company may in general meeting ratify allotment of shares even if made by de facto directors with mala fide intentions [Bamford v. Bamford, (1969) 39 Com Cases 838 : (1969) 2 WLR (1107) (CA) and an appeal (1969) : 1All ER 969].

Where the directors in question were not aware of the fact that by virtue of certain provisions in the articles, they had vacated their office, their acts in passing resolutions for starting certain business transactions were held to be valid [Seth Mohan Lal v. Grain Chambers Ltd., (1968) 38 Com Cases 543 : AIR 1968 SC 772; Shiromani Sugar Mills Ltd. v. Debi Prasad, (Supra).]

It is important to remember that the doctrine of “constructive notice”, can be invoked by the company and it does not operate against the company. It operates against the person who has failed to inquire but does not operate in his favour. But the doctrine of “indoor management” can be invoked by the person dealing with the company and cannot be invoked by the company.

An outsider is entitled to act on a certified copy of the resolution of the Board of directors delegating the powers of borrowing money to the managing director subject to the limitation mentioned therein [C.K. Siva Sankara Panicker v. Kerala State Financial Corporation, (1980) 50 Com Cases 817 (Ker.)].

EXCEPTIONS TO THE DOCTRINE OF INDOOR MANAGEMENT

The above noted 'doctrine of indoor management' is, however, subject to certain exceptions. In other words, relief on the ground of 'indoor management' cannot be claimed by an outsider dealing with the company in the following circumstances.

1. Where the outsider had knowledge of irregularity — The rule does not protect any person who has actual or even an implied notice of the lack of authority of the person acting on behalf of the company. Thus, a person knowing fully well that the directors do not have the authority to make the transaction but still enters into it, cannot seek protection under the rule of indoor management. In Howard v. Patent Ivory Co. (38 Ch. D 156), the articles of a company empowered the directors to borrow upto one thousand pounds only. They could, however, exceed the limit of one thousand pounds with the consent of the company in general meeting. Without such consent having been obtained, they borrowed 3,500 pounds from one of the directors who took debentures. The company refused to pay the amount. Held that, the debentures were good to the extent of one thousand pounds only because the director had notice or was deemed to have the notice of the internal irregularity.
2. No knowledge of memorandum and articles — Again, the rule cannot be invoked in favour of a person who did not consult the memorandum and articles and thus did not rely on them. In Rama Corporation v. Proved Tin & General Investment Co. (1952) 1All. ER 554, T was a director in the company. He, purporting to act on behalf of the company, entered into a contract with the Rama Corporation and took a cheque from the latter. The articles of the company did provide that the directors could delegate their powers to one of them. But Rama Corporation people had never read the articles. Later, it was found that the directors of the company did not delegate their powers to T. The Plaintiff relied on the rule of indoor management. Held, they could not because they even did not know that power could be delegated.
3. Forgery — The rule of indoor management does not extend to transactions involving forgery or to transactions which are otherwise void or illegal ab initio. In the case of forgery it is not that there is absence of free consent but there is no consent at all. The person whose signatures have been forged is not even aware of the transaction, and the question of his consent being free or otherwise does not arise. Consequently, it is not that the title of the person is defective but there is no title at all. Therefore, howsoever clever the forgery might have been, the personates acquire no rights at all. Thus, where the secretary of a company forged signatures of two of the directors required under the articles on a share certificate and issued certificate without authority, the applicants were refused registration as members of the company. The certificate was held to be nullity and the holder of the certificate was not allowed to take advantage of the doctrine of indoor management [Rouben v. Great Fingal Consolidated (1906) AC 439].

Forgery, in the case of a company, can take different forms. It may, besides forgery of the signatures of the authorised officials, include the execution of a document towards the personal discharge of an official's liability instead of the liability of the company. Thus, a bill of exchange signed by the manager of a company with his own signature under words stating that he signed on behalf of the company, was held to be forgery when the bill was drawn in favour of a payee to whom the manager was personally indebted [Kreditbank Cassel v. Schenkers Ltd. (1927) 1 KB 826]. The bill in this case was held to be forged because it purported to be a different document from what it was in fact; it purported to be issued on behalf of the company in payment of its debt when in fact it was issued in payment of the manager's own debt.

4. Negligence — The 'doctrine of indoor management', in no way, rewards those who behave negligently. Thus, where an officer of a company does something which shall not ordinarily be within his powers, the person dealing with him must make proper enquiries and satisfy himself as to the officer's authority. If he fails to make an enquiry, he is estopped from relying on the Rule. In the case of Underwood v. Benkof Liverpool (1924) 1 KB 775, a person who was a sole director and principal shareholder of a company deposited into his own account cheques drawn in favour of the company. Held, that, the bank should have made inquiries as to the power of the director. The bank was put upon an enquiry and was accordingly not entitled to rely upon the ostensible authority of director.

Similarly, in the case of Anand Behari Lal v. Dinshaw & Co. (Bankers) Ltd. AIR 1942 Oudh 417, an accountant of a company transferred some property of a company in favour of Anand Behari. On an action brought by him for breach of contract, the Court held the transfer to be void. It was observed that the power of transferring immovable property of the company could not be considered within the apparent authority of an accountant.

5. Again, the doctrine of indoor management does not apply where the question is in regard to the very existence of an agency. In Varkey Souriar v. Keraleeya Banking Co. Ltd. (1957) 27 Com Cases 591 (Ker.), the Kerala High Court held that the 'doctrine of indoor management' cannot apply where the question is not one as to scope of the power exercised by an apparent agent of a company but is with regard to the very existence of the agency.
6. This Doctrine is also not applicable where a pre-condition is required to be fulfilled before company itself can exercise a particular power. In other words, the act done is not merely ultra vires the directors/officers but ultra vires the company itself — Pacific Coast Coal Mines v. Arbutnot (1917) AC 607.

In the end, it is worthwhile to mention that section 6 of the Companies Act, 2013 gives overriding force and effect to the provisions of the Act, notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in the memorandum or articles of a company or in any agreement executed by it or for that matter in any resolution of the company in general meeting or of its board of directors. A provision contained in the memorandum, articles, agreement or resolution to the extent to which it is repugnant to the provisions of the Act, will be regarded as void.

A corporation, organization or other entity set up to provide a legal shield for the person actually controlling the operation.

DOCTRINE OF ALTER EGO

It is used by the courts to ignore the status of shareholders, officers, and directors of a company in reference to their liability in their respective capacity so that they may be held personally liable for their actions when they have acted fraudulently or unjustly.

In Lennards Caring Co. Ltd. v. Asiatic Petroleum Co. Ltd. [1915] AC 705, Viscount Haldane propounded the "alter ego" theory and distinguished it from vicarious liability. The House of Lords stated that the default of the managing director who is the “directing mind and will” of the company, would be attributed to him and he be held for the wrong doing of the company.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- The Memorandum of Association is a document which sets out the constitution of the company and is the foundation on which the structure of the company stands. It defines as well as confines the powers of the company. If the company enters into contract or engages in any trade or business which is beyond the powers conferred on it by the memorandum, such a contract or the act will be ultra vires the company and hence void. However, the Companies Act, 2013 shall override the provisions in the memorandum of a company, if the latter contains anything contrary to the provisions in the Act.
- The memorandum of association of a company may be altered by changing its name, altering it in regard to the State in which the registered office is to be situated or its objects, altering or reorganizing its share capital, reducing its capital or making the liability of the directors unlimited.
- Articles means the articles of association of a company as originally framed or as altered from time to time in pursuance of any previous company law or of this Act. It also includes the regulations contained in Tables F to J in Schedule I of the Act, in so far as they apply to the company.
- The memorandum lays down the scope and powers of the company and the articles govern the ways in which the objects of the company are to be carried out and can be framed and altered by the members.
- A company has a statutory right to alter its articles of association. But the power to alter is subject to the provisions of the Act and to the conditions contained in the memorandum. Any alteration so made shall be as valid as if originally contained in the articles.
- The memorandum and articles, when registered, bind the company and its members to the same extent as if they have been signed by the company and by each member to observe and be bound by all the provisions of the memorandum and of the articles.
- As per doctrine of constructive notice, every person dealing with the company is deemed to have a “constructive notice” of the contents of its memorandum and articles. Outsiders dealing with incorporated bodies are bound to take notice of limits imposed on the corporation by the memorandum or other documents of constitution. Nevertheless they are entitled to assume that the directors or other persons exercising authority on behalf of the company are doing so in accordance with the internal regulations as set out in the Memorandum & Articles of Association.
- While the doctrine of constructive notice seeks to protect the company against the outsiders, the doctrine of indoor management operates to protect the outsiders against the company. While persons contracting with a company are presumed to know the provisions of the contents of the memorandum and articles, they are entitled to assume that the provisions of the articles have been observed by the officers of the company. However, there are certain exceptions to doctrine of indoor management.

GLOSSARY

Memorandum of Association	of	The Memorandum of Association is the constitution of a company. It is a document, which amongst other things, defines the area within which the company can act. It is, therefore, required to state the object for which the company has been formed, the business that it would undertake, the liability, the capital which it shall be allowed to raise, the nature of liability of its members, the name of the State where the registered office of the company shall be located.
Articles	of	Articles of Association which contains the rules and regulations relating to the Association	internal management of a company.

Indoor Management	It operates to protect outsiders against the company. It protects innocent parties who are doing business with the Company and are not in a position to know if some internal rule has not been complied with.
Rule of Constructive Notice	To protect the company against outsiders. The rule of constructive notice is confined to the external position of the company and, therefore, it follows that there is no notice as to how the company's internal machinery is handled by its officers.
Alteration	The state of being altered; a change made in the form or nature of a thing; changed condition. In Company Law the memorandum and articles sometime requires alterations.

Lesson 5

Contracts and Conversions

LESSON OUTLINE

- Preliminary Contracts/Pre-incorporation contracts
- Commencement of new business
- Conversion of private company into public company and vice versa.
- Conversion of public company into private company.
- Conversion of one person company and conversion into a one person company
- Conversion of Section 8 Company to any other class of companies

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Contracts made before the incorporation of company is called pre-incorporation contracts. Contracts made after incorporation, but before the company becomes entitled to commence business are called provisional contracts. Provisional contracts are no more valid as provisions relating to commencement of business have been omitted by Companies (Amendment) Act, 2015. The contracts after the incorporation should be within the purview of Memorandum of Association.

Companies Act 2013 provides for conversion of public companies to private companies vice versa, conversion of one person company into public/private Company, conversion of Section 8 companies (companies for charitable purpose) into any other class of companies. Companies (Incorporation) Rules 2014 provides details of the procedural aspects.

After reading this lesson, you will be able to understand the various types of contracts entered into by a public and private company; viz. preliminary or pre-incorporation contracts, post incorporation contracts. In addition you will be able to understand the overall legal and procedural aspects relating to various conversions.

CONTRACTS

A company being an artificial person can contract only through its agents. A contract will be binding on a company only, if it is made on its behalf by any person acting under its authority, express or implied. The powers of the company are defined by its Memorandum of Association and any contract made beyond the limits laid down in the Memorandum of Association, will be ultra vires to the company and void even if all the shareholders assent to it.

When the company is being formed, the promoters, purporting to act on behalf of the company, enter into contracts for the purchase of property, or for securing the services of managers or other experts. Such contracts are obviously made before the incorporation of the company.

There are two situations as discussed below in the case of every company having a share capital (whether public or private) in which contracts are made:

- (a) Contracts made on behalf of the company before its incorporation—preliminary or pre-incorporation contracts.
- (b) Contracts made after the incorporation.

(Contracts made after incorporation but before commencement of business or the provisional contracts is the third category but is no more relevant as the provisions relating to commencement of business (section 11 and relevant rules), have been omitted by Companies (Amendment) Act, 2015).

Similarly, in the case of a company not having a share capital, there are only two situations in which contracts are made, i.e. contracts made on behalf of companies before incorporation and contracts made after incorporation.

Pre-incorporation Contracts

In Pennington's Company Law, the position is stated as under:

“Although a contract made before the company's incorporation cannot bind the company, it is not wholly denied of legal effect. It takes effect as a personal contract with the persons who purport to contract on the company's behalf and they are liable to pay damages for failure to perform the promises made in the company's name, even though the contract expressly provides that only the company's paid-up capital shall be answerable for performance”.

Preliminary contracts are contracts purported to be made on behalf of a company before its incorporation. Before incorporation, a company is non-existent and has no capacity to contract. Consequently, nobody can contract as agent on its behalf because an act which cannot be done by the principal himself cannot be done by him through an agent. Hence, a contract by a promoter purporting to act on behalf of a company prior to its incorporation never binds the company because at the time the contract was concluded the company was not in existence. Therefore it has no legal existence. Even if the parties act on the contract it will not bind the company. [Northumberland Avenue Hotel Co., (1886) 33 Ch.D.16 (CA)]. Further even after incorporation such a purported contract cannot be ratified by the company (Kelner v. Baxter (1866) L.R. 2 C.P. 174]. The persons purporting to act as agents on behalf of the company would be personally liable. In Kelner v. Baxter (ibid) three persons A B and C purported to enter into a contract as agents on behalf of a company before its incorporation for the purchase of certain goods from Kelner and signed it : “A, B and C, Directors”. The company later obtained the certificate of incorporation but collapsed before the money was paid for the goods which were supplied to it by Kelner. It was held that A, B and C were personally liable on the agreement and no subsequent ratification by the company would relieve them from that liability without the assent of Kelner.

Even if the company takes some benefit from a contract purported to have been made before its formation, the contract is not binding on the company. The promoters alone, therefore, remain personally liable for any contract they purport to make on behalf of the company, unless the company enters into the contract in terms of such agreement after incorporation. A company cannot ratify a pre-incorporation contract, but it is open to it to enter into a new contract after its incorporation to give effect to a contract made before its formation [Howard v. Patent Ivory Co. (1888) 38 Ch.D.] Since the pre-incorporation contract is a nullity, even the company cannot sue the vendor of property if he fails to carry out such a contract.

In India, however, Sections 15 and 19 of the Specific Relief Act, 1963, have considerably alleviated the difficulty. Section 15(h) provides that where the promoters of a company have, before its incorporation, entered into a contract for the purposes of the company, and such contract is warranted by the terms of incorporation, the company may, if it has accepted the contract, and has communicated such acceptance to the other party to the contract, obtain specific performance of the contract. Under Section 19(e) under similar circumstances, specific performance may be enforced against the company by the other party to the contract.

A company cannot acquire shares prior to its incorporation. Where a company was named as the transferee in the share transfer forms prior to its incorporation, it was held that such transfers could not be registered. [Inlec Investment (P) Ltd. v. Dynamic Hydraulics Ltd., (1989) 3 Comp LJ 221, 225 (CLB)].

Any pre-incorporation agreement to subscribe to shares of a company to be formed, cannot be enforced and is usually revocable unless accepted by the company after its formation.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

Pre-incorporation contracts cannot be ratified.

- True
- False

Correct answer: True

Contracts made after incorporation of business

A company can do all such acts, as by its Memorandum, it is expressly or impliedly authorised, to do. Any purported act, which is not so authorized, is ultra vires the company, and the company cannot enforce it, nor can the other party enforce it against the company. Such a contract cannot be ratified even if every member of the company assents to it, as it is void ab initio. This rule is commonly known as the Doctrine of Ultra Vires. ‘Ultra vires’ means “beyond the powers”. The powers of the company are derived from its Memorandum of Association and the statute constituting it. Consequently, only those contracts which are intra vires or within the powers of the company will be valid and binding.

Where a contract is intra vires the company but ultra vires the directors, the company may be liable and may even ratify it. According to the rule in Royal British Bank v. Turquand (1856) 6 E and B 327, so long as the act done by the directors is not inconsistent with the memorandum and articles, an outsider is entitled to assume that the directors have acted properly.

COMMENCEMENT OF NEW BUSINESS BY AN EXISTING COMPANY

A company cannot commence any business other than those stated under “objects” clause of memorandum without obtaining the prior approval of the shareholders in general meeting by a special resolution.

Section 4(1)(c) requires all companies to state in their memorandum the objects for which the company is proposed to be incorporated and any matter considered necessary in furtherance thereof.

According to section 13(1), a company may, by a special resolution and after complying with the procedure specified in this section, alter the provisions of its memorandum. It means that a company can change its objects by passing a special resolution. Further section 13(6)(a) provides that a company shall, in relation to any alteration of its memorandum, file with the Registrar the special resolution passed by the company under section 13(1) in Form no. MGT 14. As per section 13(9), the Registrar shall register any alteration of the memorandum with respect to the objects of the company and certify the registration within a period of thirty days from the date of filing of the special resolution in accordance with section 13(6)(a).

No business other than those given in the “objects clause” can be commenced without obtaining prior approval of the shareholders by way of special resolution. It means that a company can commence a new business i.e. a business not covered by its “objects” clause of the memorandum only after amending the objects clause after obtaining the approval of the shareholders by special resolution.

In this connection, the Department of Company Affairs (now Ministry of Corporate Affairs), has clarified that new business means a business which is not germane to the existing business carried on by the company. The guiding criterion, therefore, is whether the new activity is germane to the original business or not. In case the reply is ‘yes’, no special resolution is necessary and vice versa.

COMMON SEAL

Companies (Amendment) Act, 2015, has diluted the mandatory adoption of common seal. Section 12(3)(b) provides that every company shall have its name engraved in legible characters on its seal, if any. A company may or may not have a common seal.

The company may contract under its common seal, if any and in case, the company does not have a common seal then according to the requirements of that particular section the contract shall be validated.

CONVERSION OF COMPANIES ALREADY REGISTERED

Section 18(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that a company of any class registered under this Act may convert itself as a company of other class under this Act by alteration of memorandum and articles of the company in accordance with the provisions of Chapter II of the Act (Incorporation of Companies).

Where the conversion is required to be done under this section, the Registrar shall on an application made by the company, after satisfying himself that the provisions of this Chapter applicable for registration of companies have been complied with, close the former registration of the company and after registering the documents referred to in section 18(1), issue a certificate of incorporation in the same manner as its first registration. [Section 18(2)]

The registration of a company under section 18 shall not affect any debts, liabilities, obligations or contracts incurred or entered into, by or on behalf of the company before conversion and such debts, liabilities, obligations and contracts may be enforced in the manner as if such registration had not been done. [Section 18(3)].

CONVERSION OF A PRIVATE COMPANY INTO A PUBLIC COMPANY AND VICE VERSA

Section 14 (1) states that subject to the provisions of this Act and the conditions contained in its memorandum, if any, a company may, by a special resolution, alter its articles including alterations having the effect of conversion of—

- (a) a private company into a public company; or
- (b) a public company into a private company:

Private Company ceases to be private company on alteration of articles removing the restrictions required under Section 2(68) [Proviso to Section 14(1)]

When a company being a private company alters its articles in such a manner that they no longer include any of the three restrictions and limitations which are required to be included in the articles of a private company under section 2(68), the company shall, as from the date of such alteration, cease to be a private company. It also ceases to have the privileges and exemptions conferred on it by the Act as a private company. It becomes a public company and all the provisions of the Act applicable to such companies become applicable to it.

The company shall accordingly change its name and no approval of Central Government is required for the name change as per the proviso to section 13(2).

Let us Remember

As per section 2(68) Private Company means a company

- having a minimum paid-up share capital as may be prescribed, and
- which by its articles
 - (a) Restrict the right to transfer its shares
 - (b) Limits the number of members to two hundred
 - (c) Prohibits any invitation to public to subscribe for securities of the company

Conversion of a Public company into a Private company- requires approval of National Company Law Tribunal

The second proviso to Section 14(1) states that any alteration having the effect of conversion of a public company into a private company shall not be valid unless it is approved by an order of the Central Government on an application made in such form and manner as may be prescribed:

Provided also that any application pending before the Tribunal, as on the date of commencement of the Companies (Amendment) Ordinance, 2019, shall be disposed of by the Tribunal in accordance with the provisions applicable to it before such commencement

Section 14(2) states that every alteration of the articles under this section and a copy of the order of the Central Government approving the alteration as per sub-section (1) shall be filed with the Registrar, together with a printed copy of the altered articles, within a period of fifteen days in such manner as may be prescribed, who shall register the same. The company shall accordingly change its name and no approval of Central Government is required for the name change as per the proviso to section 13(2).

PRIVATE COMPANY (WHICH IS A SUBSIDIARY OF PUBLIC COMPANY) DEEMED TO BE A PUBLIC COMPANY

Under proviso to section 2(71) of the Companies Act, 2013, a company which is a subsidiary of a company, not being a private company, shall be deemed to be public company for the purposes of this Act even where such subsidiary company continues to be a private company in its articles. Thus, it has been clearly provided that a subsidiary of public company shall be deemed to be public company even if it continues to be private company in its Articles. It places such a 'private company' at the same level as that of a public company and thereby demarcates between a private company and a private company which is not a subsidiary of a public company.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Sources of capital broadly include equity capital and preference capital. There are various ways to raise capital which include preferential allotment, employee stock option, issue of rights shares, issue of shares with differential voting rights. It involves various approvals, disclosures, filings, maintenance of records etc which are prescribed under Chapter IV of the Companies Act 2013. Besides this Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 also prescribes various aspects such as disclosures in the directors' report, matters to be stated in the explanatory statement to the resolution, prescribed forms as to maintenance of records, filings with registrar and so on.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the regulatory aspects and the broader procedural aspects involved in different types of issue of capital covered in the Companies Act 2013 and Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014.

MEANING OF THE TERM “CAPITAL”

The term “Capital” has variety of meanings. It may mean one thing to an economist, one to an accountant, while another to a businessman or a lawyer. A layman views capital as the money, which a company has raised by issue of its shares. It uses this money to meet its requirements by way of acquiring business premises and stock-in-trade, which are called the fixed capital and the circulating capital respectively.

The phrase “loan or borrowed capital” is sometimes used to mean money borrowed by the company and secured by issuing debentures. This, however, is not the proper use of the word “capital”.

In relation to a company limited by shares, the word “capital” means the share capital i.e., the capital in terms of rupees divided into specified number of shares of a fixed amount each. For e.g. share capital of a company is `1,00,000 which can be divided into 10,000 shares of `10 each or 1,000 shares of `100 each, whichever is feasible to the company.

USE OF THE WORD “CAPITAL” IN (COMPANY LAW)

In Company Law, the “Capital” is the share capital of a company, which is classified as:

- (a) Nominal, Authorised or Registered Capital: As per section 2(8), “authorised capital” or “nominal capital” means such capital as is authorised by the memorandum of a company to be the maximum amount of share capital of the company.
- (b) Issued Capital: As per section 2(50), “issued capital” means such capital as the company issues from time to time for subscription. It is that part of the authorised or nominal capital which the company issues for the time being for public subscription and allotment. This is computed at the face or nominal value.
- (c) Subscribed Capital: According to Section 2(86), “subscribed capital” means such part of the capital which is for the time being subscribed by the members of a company. It is that portion of the issued capital at face value which has been subscribed for or taken up by the subscribers of shares in the company. It is clear that the entire issued capital may or may not be subscribed.
- (d) Called up Capital: As per section 2(15), “called-up capital” means such part of the capital, which has been called for payment. It is that portion of the subscribed capital which has been called up or demanded on the shares by the company
- (e) Paid-up Share Capital: As per section 2(64), “paid-up share capital” or “share capital paid-up” means such aggregate amount of money credited as paid-up as is equivalent to the amount received as paid-up in respect of shares issued and also includes any amount credited as paid-up in respect of shares of the company, but does not include any other amount received in respect of such shares, by whatever name called.
- (g) Preference and Equity Share Capital: As per explanation to Section 43

“equity share capital”, with reference to any company limited by shares, means all share capital which is not preference share capital;

“preference share capital”, with reference to any company limited by shares, means that part of the issued share capital of the company which carries or would carry a preferential right with respect to—

- (a) payment of dividend, either as a fixed amount or an amount calculated at a fixed rate, which may either be free of or subject to income-tax; and

- (b) repayment, in the case of a winding up or repayment of capital, of the amount of the share capital paid-up or deemed to have been paid-up, whether or not, there is a preferential right to the payment of any fixed premium or premium on any fixed scale, specified in the memorandum or articles of the company;

A preference share has a preference in regard to payment of fixed amount of dividend or fixed rate of dividend and preferential right of the repayment of capital in the event of winding up of company.

PUBLICATION OF AUTHORISED, SUBSCRIBED AND PAID-UP CAPITAL

Section 60 (1) states that when any notice, advertisement or other official publication, or any business letter, billhead or letter paper of a company contains a statement of the amount of the authorised capital of the company, such notice, advertisement or other official publication, or such letter, billhead or letter paper shall also contain a statement, in an equally prominent position and in equally conspicuous characters, of the amount of the capital which has been subscribed and the amount paid-up. Sub-section (2) states that any default is made in complying with the requirements of sub-section (1), the company shall be liable to pay a penalty of ten thousand rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be liable to pay a penalty of five thousand rupees, for each default.

Section 43 of the Companies Act, 2013 permits a company limited by shares to issue two classes of shares, namely:

- (a) Equity share capital—
 - (i) with voting rights; or
 - (ii) with differential rights as to dividend, voting or otherwise in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed.

Equity share capital may be with similar rights or equity shares with different voting rights as described in Rule 4 of Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014.

- (b) Preference Share Capital.

Section 43 of the Act shall not apply to private companies, unless Article of the Company so provides.

WHEN SHALL CAPITAL BE DEEMED TO BE PREFERENCE CAPITAL

Explanation to Section 43 states that the Capital shall be deemed to be preference capital, notwithstanding that it is entitled to either or both of the following rights, namely:—

- (a) that in respect of dividends, in addition to the preferential rights to the payment of dividend either fixed or at a fixed rate, it has a right to participate, whether fully or to a limited extent, with capital not entitled to the preferential right aforesaid;

- (b) that in respect of capital, in addition to the preferential right to the repayment, on a winding up, of the share capital paid up capital or deemed to have been paid up, it has a right to participate, whether fully or to a limited extent, with capital not entitled to that preferential right in any surplus which may remain after the entire capital has been repaid.

Where the dividend in respect of a class of preference shares has not been paid for a period of two years or more, such class of preference shareholders shall have a right to vote on all the resolutions placed before the company.

Section 47 shall not apply to the private company, where memorandum or article of association of company so provides.

PREFERENCE SHARES COMPARED WITH EQUITY SHARES

S. No	Preference capital	Equity share capital
1	Preference shares are entitled to a fixed rate of dividend.	The rate of dividend on equity shares depends upon the amount of profit available and the funds requirements of the company for future expansion etc.
2	Dividend on the preference shares is paid in preference to the equity shares.	The dividend on equity shares is paid only after the preference dividend has been paid.
3	In case of winding up, preference share holder get preference over equity share holders with regard to the payment of capital.	In case of winding up, equity share holder get payment of capital after the payment of capital to preference shareholders.
4	Dividend on preference share may be cumulative.	The dividend on equity shares is paid only after the preference dividend has been paid and it is not cumulative.
5	The voting rights of preference shareholders are restricted. A preference shareholder can vote only when his special rights as a preference shareholder are being varied, or on any resolution for the winding up of the company or for the repayment or reduction of its equity or preference share capital or their dividend has not been paid for a period of two years or more [section 47(2)].	An equity shareholder can vote on all matters affecting the company.

6	No bonus shares/right shares are issued to preference share holders.	A company may issue rights shares or bonus shares to the company's existing equity shareholders.
7	A company can issue preference shares which are redeemable within 20 years except in certain circumstances.	Equity shares cannot be redeemed except under a scheme involving reduction of capital or buy back of its own shares.
8	Voting right of a preference shareholders on a poll shall be in proportion to his share in the paid-up preference share capital of the company.	Voting right of an equity shareholders on a poll shall be in proportion to his share in the paid-up equity share capital of the company.

ISSUE OF SECURITIES AT A PREMIUM

A company may issue securities at a premium when it is able to sell them at a price above par or above nominal value. The Companies Act, 2013, does not stipulate any conditions or restrictions regulating the issue of securities by a company at a premium. However, the Companies Act does impose conditions regulating the utilization of the amount of premium collected on securities.

Share Premium to be transferred to 'Securities Premium Account'

Section 52 (1) states that when a company issues shares at a premium, whether for cash or otherwise, a sum equal to the aggregate amount of the premium received on those shares shall be transferred to a "securities premium account" and the provisions of this Act relating to reduction of share capital of a company shall, except as provided in this section, apply as if the securities premium account were the paid-up share capital of the company.

Utilisation of Securities Premium

In accordance with the provisions of Section 52(2) of the Act, the securities premium can be utilised only for:

- (a) issuing fully paid bonus shares to members;
- (b) writing off the balance of the preliminary expenses of the company;
- (c) writing off commission paid or discount allowed, or the expenses incurred on issue of shares or debentures of the company;
- (d) for providing for the premium payable on redemption of any redeemable preference shares or debentures of the company; or
- (e) for the purchase of its own shares or other securities under section 68.

Section 52(3) further states that the securities premium account may, notwithstanding anything contained in sub-sections (1) and (2), be applied by such class of companies, as may be prescribed and whose financial statement comply with the accounting standards prescribed for such class of companies under section 133,—

- (a) in paying up unissued equity shares of the company to be issued to members of the company as fully paid bonus shares; or
- (b) in writing off the expenses of or the commission paid or discount allowed on any issue of equity shares of the company; or

(c) for the purchase of its own shares or other securities under section 68.

Any class of Companies as provided for in Rule 3 of Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 includes all unlisted public companies; all private companies and listed companies so far as they do not contradict or conflict with SEBI regulations.

Firstly, the premium cannot be treated as profit and as such the amount of premium is not available for distribution as dividend. Secondly, the amount of premium whether received in cash or in kind must be kept in a separate account, known as the "Securities Premium Account". Thirdly, the amount of premium is to be maintained with the same sanctity as the share capital.

Where a company issues shares at a premium, even though the consideration may be other than cash, a sum equal to the amount or value of the premium must be transferred to the securities premium account. [Head (Henry) & Co. Ltd. v. Ropner Holding Ltd. (1951) 2 All ER 994: (152) Ch 124 (Ch D)].

Any premium paid does not give the shareholder any preferential rights in case of a winding up. Monies in the securities premium account cannot be treated as free reserves, as they are in the nature of capital reserve [See Departmental Circular No. 3/77 dated 15.4.1977].

For listed companies, the information as regards the quantum of such issue and the proportion in which rights shall be offered shall be supplied to the concerned Stock Exchanges in advance.

The company must give notice to each of the equity shareholders, giving him option to take the shares offered to him by the company. The shareholder must be informed of the number of shares he has opted to buy giving him at least 15 days but not more than 30 days to decide. The said notice shall be despatched through registered post or speed post or through electronic mode to all the existing shareholders at least 3 days before the opening of the issue. If the shareholder does not convey to the company his acceptance of the company's offer of further shares he shall be deemed to have declined the offer. Unless the articles of the company otherwise provide, the directors must state in the notice of offer of rights shares the fact that the shareholder has also the right to renounce the offer in whole or in part, in favour of some other persons. However in case of a private company case ninety per cent. of the members of a private company have given their consent in writing or in electronic mode, the periods lesser than those specified in the said sub-clause or subsection shall apply. Accordingly time limit for acceptance of offer by existing shareholders may be less than 15 days if 90% of the members a private limited company have given their consent either in writing or through electronic mode.

If a shareholder has neither renounced in favour of another person nor accepted the shares, the Board of directors may dispose of the shares so declined in such manner which is not dis-advantageous to the shareholders and the company.

Section 62(1)(b) provides that a company may issue further shares to its employees under a scheme of employees' stock option, subject to special resolution passed by company and subject to such conditions as may be prescribed. However in case of private limited companies if it passes the ordinary resolution then it will be sufficient.

Section 62(1)(c) deals with issue of shares to persons other than existing shareholders and provides that a company can issue further shares to persons other than existing shareholders either for cash or for a consideration other than cash, if —

- (1) the company in General Meeting passes a special resolution to this effect; and
- (2) the price of such shares is determined by the valuation report of a registered valuer subject to such conditions as may be prescribed.

The provisions of section 62 are applicable to all types of companies except the Nidhi companies.

The restrictions contained in Section 62 of the Act regarding issue of further shares do not apply to:-

- (a) increase of the subscribed capital of a company caused by the exercise of an option as a term attached to the debentures issued or loans raised by the company to convert such debentures or loans into shares in the company [Section 62(3)].

Provided that the terms of issue of such debentures or loan containing such an option have been approved before the issue of such debentures or the raising of loans by a special resolution passed by the company in the general meeting.

- (b) conversion of part or whole of the debentures issued to or loans obtained from any Government in shares of the company in pursuance of a direction issued by that Government in public interest on such terms and conditions as appear to be fair and reasonable to the Government even if the terms of issue of such debentures or loans do not contain a term providing for an option for such conversion.[Section 62(4)].

Provided that where the terms and conditions of such conversion are not acceptable to the company, it may, within sixty days from the date of communication of such order, appeal to the Tribunal which shall after hearing the company and the Government pass such order as it deems fit.

In determining the terms and conditions of conversion under section 62(4), the Government shall have due regard to the financial position of the company, the terms of issue of debentures or loans, as the case may be, the rate of interest payable on such debentures or loans and such other matters as it may consider necessary. [Section 62(5)]

Where the Government has, by an order made under section 62(4), directed that any debenture or loan or any part thereof shall be converted into shares in a company and where no appeal has been preferred to the Tribunal under section 62(4) or where such appeal has been dismissed, the memorandum of such company shall, where such order has the effect of increasing the authorised share capital of the company, stand altered and the authorised share capital of such company shall stand increased by an amount equal to the amount of the value of shares which such debentures or loans or part thereof has been converted into. [Section 62(6)]

CASE LAWS

Judicial Pronouncement relating to further issue of shares by a company

(a) Nanalal Zaver v. Bombay Life Assurance Co. Ltd., AIR 1950 SC 172: (1950) 20 Com Cases 179:

Section 81 (Corresponding to section 62 of the Companies Act, 2013) is intended to cover cases where the directors decide to increase the capital by issuing further shares within the authorised limit, because it is within that limit that the directors can decide to issue further shares, unless, of course, they are precluded from doing that by the Articles of Association of the company. Accordingly, the section becomes applicable only when the directors decide to increase the capital within the authorised limit, by issue of further shares.

The above judgement was followed by the Supreme Court in Needle Industries (India) Ltd. v. Needle Industries Newey (India) Holding Ltd. (1981) 51 Com Cases 743 at 816: AIR 1981 SC 1298: (1982) 1 Comp LJ1. The Court pointed out that the directors of a company must exercise their powers for the benefit of the company. The directors are in a fiduciary position and if they do not exercise powers for the benefit of the company but simply and solely for personal aggrandisement and to the detriment of the company, the court will interfere and prevent the directors from doing so.

(b) See Needle Industries (India) Ltd. v. Needle Industries Newey (India) Holding Ltd. The power to issue shares need not be used only when there is a need to raise additional capital. The power can be used to create a sufficient number of shareholders to enable a company to exercise statutory powers or to enable it to comply with statutory requirements.

The Department of Company Affairs, now Ministry of Corporate Affairs has clarified that 'one year' specified in the section is to be counted from the date on which the company has allotted any share for the first time.

BONUS SHARES

A company may, if its Articles provide, capitalize its profits by issuing fully-paid bonus shares. The issue of bonus shares by a company is a common feature. When a company is prosperous and accumulates large distributable profits, it converts these accumulated profits into capital and divides the capital among the existing members in proportion to their entitlements. Members do not have to pay any amount for such shares. They are given free. The bonus shares allotted to the members do not represent taxable income in their hands. [Commissioner of Income Tax, Madras v. A.A.V. Ramchandra Chettiar (1964) 1 Mad CJ 281]. Issue of bonus shares is a bare machinery for capitalizing undistributed profits. The vesting of the rights in the bonus shares takes place when the shares are actually allotted and not from any earlier date.

Advantages of Issuing Bonus Shares

1. Fund flow is not affected adversely.

2. Market value of the Company's shares comes down to their nominal value by issue of bonus shares.
3. Market value of the members' shareholdings increases with the increase in number of shares in the company.
4. Bonus shares is not an income. Hence it is not a taxable income.
5. Paid-up share capital increases with the issue of bonus shares.

Sources for issue of Bonus shares

According to section 63(1), a company may issue fully paid-up bonus shares to its members, in any manner whatsoever, out of—

- (i) its free reserves;
- (ii) the securities premium account; or
- (iii) the capital redemption reserve account.

No issue of bonus shares shall be made by capitalising reserves created by the revaluation of assets.

Conditions for issue of Bonus Shares

In terms of section 63(2), no company shall capitalise its profits or reserves for the purpose of issuing fully paid-up bonus shares, unless—

- (a) it is authorised by its articles;
- (b) it has, on the recommendation of the Board, been authorised in the general meeting of the company;
- (c) it has not defaulted in payment of interest or principal in respect of fixed deposits or debt securities issued by it;
- (d) it has not defaulted in respect of the payment of statutory dues of the employees, such as, contribution to provident fund, gratuity and bonus;
- (e) the partly paid-up shares, if any outstanding on the date of allotment, are made fully paid-up;

No Bonus shares in lieu of dividend

The bonus shares shall not be issued in lieu of dividend. [Section 63(3)],

SEBI has issued regulations for Bonus Issue which are contained in Chapter IX of the SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2009 with regard to bonus issues by listed companies. Students may refer to study material 'Capital Markets and Securities Laws' for details.

Prescriptions under Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 with regard to issue

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the legal and procedural aspects relating to consolidation, sub-division and reduction of capital and buy-back of securities, especially unlisted securities, the procedural aspects of which are covered under Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014.

ALTERATION OF SHARE CAPITAL

Section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that a company limited by shares or guarantee and having a share capital may, if so authorised by its articles, alter, by an ordinary resolution, its memorandum in the following ways:

- (a) It may increase the authorised share capital by such amount, as it thinks expedient;
- (b) It may consolidate and divide, all or any of its existing shares into a larger denomination than of its existing shares e.g., by consolidating ten shares of Rs. 10 each into one share of Rs. 100 each. Proviso to Section 61(1)(b) states that no consolidation and division which results in changes in the voting percentage of shareholders shall take effect unless it is approved by the Tribunal on an application made in the prescribed manner;
- (c) It may convert all or any of its fully paid-up shares into stock or reconvert that stock into fully paid-up shares of any denomination.
- (d) It may sub-divide its existing shares or any of them into smaller denomination than fixed by its Memorandum but it must keep the existing proportion between the paid-up and unpaid amount e.g., one share of Rs 100 each, Rs 60 paid up and be sub-divided into ten shares of Rs 10 each, Rs 6 paid-up per share.
- (e) It may cancel shares which have not been taken up or agreed to be taken by any person and diminish the amount of the share capital by the amount of the shares so cancelled. However, such cancellation of shares will not be deemed to be a reduction of share capital, within the meaning of Section 66 of the Companies Act, 2013. In other words, it is cancellation of unissued share capital not being taken or agreed to be taken up by any person.

In order to alter its capital clause in the Memorandum, the company requires authority in its articles. But if the articles give no power to this effect, the articles must be amended by a special resolution before the power to alter the capital clause can be exercised by the company [Re. Patent Invert Sugar Co. (1885) 31 Ch. D. 166]. Further, the power to alter capital clause should be exercised bona fide and in the interest of the company and not for the benefit of any group. An ordinary resolution will be enough for altering capital clause in the Memorandum of Association.

Does the company require to file notice of alteration (Form No. SH7) when they redeem preference shares?

Ans: yes.

WHEN SHARE CAPITAL STANDS AUTOMATICALLY INCREASED?

Under Section 64 read with section 62 of the Companies Act, 2013 the share capital of a company stands automatically increased when any Government, by its order made under Section 62(4) of the Act, directs that any debentures issued to, or the loans obtained from the Government by a company or any part thereof shall be converted into shares in the company, on such terms and conditions as are considered by that Government to be reasonable in the circumstances.

However, where the terms and conditions of such conversion are not acceptable to the company, it may, within sixty days from the date of communication of such order, appeal to the Tribunal which shall after hearing the company and the Government pass such order as it deems fit.

Where the Government has, by an order made under section 62(4), directed that any debenture or loan or any part thereof shall be converted into shares in a company and where no appeal has been preferred to the Tribunal under that section or where such appeal has been dismissed, the memorandum of such company shall, where such order has the effect of increasing the authorised share capital of the company, stand altered and the authorised share capital of such company shall stand increased by an amount equal to the amount of the value of shares which such debentures or loans or part thereof has been converted into. [Section 62(6)].

CASE LAWS

Judicial Pronouncement about a company's power to alter its share capital

1. The powers under Section 95 of the Act [Corresponds to section 61 of the Companies Act, 2013] can be exercised by the members only if authorised by the articles. In Re North Cheshire Brewery Co., 1920

WN 149. Re Metropolitan Cementry Co., (1934) SC 65

2. The power should be exercised bona fide in the interest of the company and not for benefiting any group. [Needle Industries (India) Ltd. v. Needle Industries Newey (India) Holding Ltd. (1981) 1 Com Cases 743 (SC)].
3. The consent of meeting of classes of shareholders will not be required as the increase of any kind of share capital cannot be said to 'vary' or 'affect' class rights. The increased capital may consist of preference shares, provided that this is not inconsistent with rights given by the Memorandum of Association. [*Andrews v. 4. The notice convening the meeting to pass the resolution for increase must specify the amount of the proposed increase. [Mac Connell v. E. Prill & Co. Ltd., (1916) 2 Ch 57 : (1916-17) All Eng. Rep Ext 1344].
5. Where shares were issued beyond the authorised amount and a resolution was subsequently passed at a general meeting ratifying the issue, it was held that although the original issue was not in accordance with the articles, the ratification was effective and the allottees were bound [Sewell's case (1868) 3 Ch App 131].

Reliance Textile Ind. Ltd.*, (1982) 3 Comp LJ 103 (Bom)].
9. It is not the function of the Court to interfere with the Company's power to consider a resolution for cancelling the unissued portion of its share capital. The exercise of power by a company to cancel the unissued shares cannot be restrained by an injunction [Swindon Town Football Co. Ltd, 1990 BCLC 467 (Ch D)].
10. Fee paid to the ROC for registering increase of capital is in the nature of capital expenditure irrespective of the fact whether an increased capital will lead to increase in profits. [Punjab State Industrial Development Corpn. Ltd. v. CIT, (1997) 26 Corpt LA 333 : (1997)10 SCC 184]

NATURE OF STOCK

Section 61 allows the company to convert its fully paid-up shares into stock, and it is, therefore, important to understand the nature of stock and the advantages which it may have.

Section 2(84) of the Act in defining a share, states that “share means a share in the share capital of a company and includes stock”. Thus by converting shares into stock, a shareholder is known as a stockholder. A stockholder has the same rights as to dividends as a shareholder.

It should be noted that (i) only fully paid-up shares can be converted into stock, and (ii) no direct issue of stock by a company is lawful. It is only the conversion of fully-paid shares into stock, that is allowed by Section 61(1)(c) and not a direct issue of stock.

After shares are converted into stock, the stockholder may own Rs. 1,000 worth of stock where formerly he held one hundred shares of Rs. 10 each. Thus, though his investment in the company remains the same, the interest of the stockholder in the company is described differently.

DIFFERENCE BETWEEN SHARE AND STOCK

S.No	Share	Stock
1	Shares in physical form bear distinct numbers	Stocks are the consolidated value of share capital
2	Shares may or may not be fully paid-up	Stock is always fully paid-up
3	Shares have a nominal value	Stock does not have any nominal value
4	All shares are of equal denomination	Denomination of stocks varies
5	It is not possible to transfer shares into fraction	Stock is divisible into any amount required. Thus, it is possible to transfer even into fractions

| 6 | Shares comes into existence before the stock and it is issued initially | Stock comes into existence after conversion of shares into stock and on conversion of shares into stock, the provisions of the Act governing the shares shall cease to apply to the share capital as it is converted into stock |

Diminution of share capital is not a reduction of capital

Diminution of capital — As per section 61(1)(e) of the Companies Act, 2013 (enforced), diminution of capital is the cancellation of the unsubscribed part of the issued capital. It can be effected by an ordinary resolution provided articles of the company authorises to do so. According to section 61(2), cancellation of shares under section 61(1) shall not be deemed to be reduction of share capital. It does not need any confirmation of the Tribunal under section 66.

- (d) Redemption of redeemable preference shares.
- (e) Purchase of shares of a member by the Company on order of the Tribunal under Section 242 of Companies Act, 2013.
- (f) Buy-back of its own securities under Section 68.

In the following cases, the diminution of share capital is not to be treated as reduction of the capital:

- (i) Where the company cancels shares which have not been taken or agreed to be taken by any person [Section 61(1)(e) Companies Act, 2013];
- (ii) Where redeemable preference shares are redeemed in accordance with the provisions of Section 55 [Explanation to section 55(3) Companies Act, 2013];
- (iii) Where any shares are forfeited for non-payment of calls and such forfeiture amounts to reduction of capital;
- (iv) Where the company buys-back its own shares under Section 68 of the Act [Section 66(6)];
- (v) Where the reduction of share capital is effected in pursuance of the order of the Tribunal sanctioning any compromise or arrangement under section 230.

In all these cases, the procedure for reduction of capital as laid down in Section 66 is not attracted.

CREDITORS' RIGHT TO OBJECT TO REDUCTION

According to sub-section 7, a member of the company, past or present, shall not be liable to any call or contribution in respect of any share held by him exceeding the amount of difference, if any, between the amount paid on the share, or reduced amount, if any, which is to be deemed to have been paid thereon, as the case may be, and the amount of the share as fixed by the order of reduction.

Further according to sub-section 8, where the name of any creditor entitled to object to the reduction of share capital under this section is, by reason of his ignorance of the proceedings for reduction or of their nature and effect with respect to his debt or claim, not entered on the list of creditors, and after such reduction, the company commits a default, within the meaning of section 6 of the Insolvency and Bankruptcy Code, 2016, in respect of the amount of his debt or claim-

- (a) every person, who was a member of the company on the date of the registration of the order for reduction by the Registrar, shall be liable to contribute to the payment of that debt or claim, an amount not exceeding the amount which he would have been liable to contribute if the company had commenced winding up on the day immediately before the said date; and
- (b) if the company is wound up, the Tribunal may, on the application of any such creditor and proof of his ignorance as aforesaid, if it thinks fit, settle a list of persons so liable to contribute, and make and enforce calls and orders on the contributories settled on the list, as if they were ordinary contributories in a winding up.

CASE LAWS

Judicial Pronouncement about reduction of Share capital of a company

1. SIEL Ltd., In re.* [(2008) 144 Com Cases 469 (Del)], the view was that reduction of the share capital of a company is a domestic concern of the company and the decision of the majority would prevail. If the majority by special resolution decides to reduce the share capital of the company, it has the right to decide to reduce the share capital of the company and it has the right to decide how this reduction should be effected. While reducing the share capital, the company can decide to extinguish some of its shares without dealing in the same manner with all other shares of the same class. A selective reduction is permissible within the frame work of law for any company limited by shares.
2. Indian National Press (Indore) Ltd., In re.* (1989) 66 Com Cases 387, 392 (MP) The need for reducing capital may arise in various circumstances for example trading losses, heavy capital expenses and assets of reduced or doubtful value. As a result, the original capital may either have become lost or a capital may find that it has more resources than it can profitably employ. In either case, the need may arise to adjust the relation between capital and assets.
3. Elpro International Ltd., In re* [(2009) 149 Com Cases 646 (Bom.)], a company proposed to extinguish and cancel 8,89,169 shares held by shareholders constituting 25 per cent, of the issued and paid up share capital and return capital to such shareholders at `183 per equity share of `10 each so cancelled and extinguished in accordance with Section 100 of the Act (corresponds to section 66 of the Companies Act, 2013). According to the scheme as approved by the shareholders, the reducing of 25 percent, of the issued and paid up capital was to take place from amongst 3,835 share holders which included 112 shareholders who voted for the resolution, and 3,723 shareholders who did not object to the resolution. It was held that a selective reduction of share capital is legally permissible. The shareholders who did not cast their votes were those who had abstained from voting at the meeting. Moreover, there was no objection from any of the shareholders to the proposed reduction.
4. British and American Trustee and Finance Corpn. v. Couper*, (1894) AC 399, 403: (1991-4) All ER Rep 667. The Act does not prescribe the manner in which the reduction of capital is to be effected. Nor is there any limitation of the power of the Court to confirm the reduction except that it must first be satisfied that all the creditors entitled to object to the reduction have either consented or been paid or secured.
5. British and American Trustee Corpn. v. Couper*, (1894) (ibid) When exercising its discretion, the Court must ensure that the reduction is fair and equitable. In short the Court shall consider the following, while sanctioning the reduction:
 - (i) The interests of creditors must be safeguarded;

- (ii) The interests of shareholders must be considered; and
- (iii) Lastly, the public interest must be considered as well.

6. Borough Commercial and Bldg. Society, (1893) 2 Ch 242. Reduction in shares capital of an unlimited company : An unlimited company to which Section 100 (corresponds to section 66 of the Companies Act, 2013) does not apply, can reduce its capital in any manner that its Memorandum and Articles of Association allow. It is not governed by Sections 61 and 66 of the Act. Section 13 (corresponds to section 4 of the Companies Act, 2013) does not provide that its capital shall be stated in the Memorandum. However, even if its capital is stated in the Memorandum, the Companies Act impliedly gives power to the member to alter it.
7. Great Universal Stores Ltd., Re (1960) 1 All ER 252: (1960) Reduction of capital when company is defunct: The Registrar of Companies has been empowered under Section 560 (corresponds to section 248 of the Companies Act, 2013) to strike off the name of the company from register on the ground of non-working. Therefore, where the company has ceased to trade, and Registrar exercises his power under Section 560 (corresponds to section 248 of the Companies Act, 2013) a reduction of capital cannot be prevented.
8. Marwari Stores Ltd. v. Gouri Shanker Goenka, (1936) 6 Com Cases 285. Equal Reduction of Shares of One Class: Where there is only one class of shares, prima facie, the same percentage should be paid off or cancelled or reduced in respect of each share, but where different amounts are paid-up on shares of the same class, the reduction can be effected by equalising the amount so paid-up. The same principle is to be followed where there are different classes of shares [Bannatyne v. Direct Spanish Telegraph Co., (1886) 34 Ch D 287].
9. Asian Investments Ltd. Re, (1992) 73 Com Cases 517, 523 (Mad). It is, however, not necessary that extinguishment of shares in all cases should necessarily result in reduction of share capital. Accordingly where reduction is not involved Section 100 (corresponds to section 66 of the Companies Act, 2013) would not be attracted.

REDUCTION OF SHARE CAPITAL WITHOUT SANCTION OF THE COURT

The following are cases which amount to reduction of share capital and where no confirmation by the Tribunal is necessary:

- (a) Surrender of shares — “Surrender of shares” means the surrender to the company on the part of the registered holder of shares already issued. Where shares are surrendered to the company, whether by way of settlement of a dispute or for any other reason, it will have the same effect as a transfer in favour of the company and amount to a reduction of capital. But if, under any arrangement, such shares, instead of being surrendered to the company, are transferred to a nominee of the company then there will be no reduction of capital [Collector of Moradabad v. Equity Insurance Co. Ltd., (1948) 18 Com Cases 309: AIR 1948 Oudh 197]. Surrender may be accepted by the company under the same circumstances where forfeiture is justified. It has the effect of releasing the shareholder whose surrender is accepted from further liability on shares.

The Companies Act contains no provision for surrender of shares. Thus, surrender of shares is valid only when Articles of Association provide for the same and:

- (i) Where forfeiture of such shares is justified; or
- (ii) When shares are surrendered in exchange for new shares of same nominal value.

Both forfeiture and surrender lead to termination of membership. But in the former case, it is at the initiative of company and in the latter case at the initiative of member or shareholder.

- (b) Forfeiture of shares — A company may if authorised by its articles, forfeit shares for non-payment of calls and the same will not require confirmation of the Tribunal.

Where power is given in the articles, it must be exercised strictly in accordance with the regulations regarding notice, procedure and manner stated therein, otherwise the forfeiture will be void. Forfeiture will be effected by means of Board resolution. The power of forfeiture must be exercised bona fide and in the interest of the company.

Conclusiveness of certificate for reduction of capital

Where the Registrar had issued his certificate confirming the reduction, the same was held to be conclusive although it was discovered later that the company had no authority under its articles to reduce capital [Re Walkar & Smith Ltd., (1903) 88 LT 792 (Ch D)]. Similarly, in a case the special resolution for reduction was an invalid one, but the company had gone through with the reduction. It was held that the reduction was not allowed to be upset [Ladies's Dress Assn. v. Pulbrook, (1900) 2 QB 376].

BUY BACK OF SECURITIES (SECTION 68)

Sources

According to Section 68(1) of the Companies Act, 2013, a company may purchase its own shares or other specified securities (hereinafter referred to as “buy-back”) out of:

- (i) its free reserves; or
- (ii) the securities premium account; or
- (iii) the proceeds of any shares or other specified securities.

However, no buy-back of any kind of shares or other specified securities can be made out of the proceeds of an earlier issue of the same kind of shares or same kind of other specified securities.

Thus, the company must have at the time of buy-back, sufficient balance in any one or more of these accounts to accommodate the total value of the buy-back.

Explanation: As per Section 2(43) of the Act, “free reserves” means such reserves which, as per the latest audited balance sheet of a company, are available for distribution as dividend: Provided that— (i) any amount representing unrealised gains, notional gains or revaluation of assets, whether shown as a reserve or otherwise, or (ii) any change in carrying amount of an asset or of a liability recognised in equity, including surplus in profit and loss account on measurement of the asset or the liability at fair value, shall not be treated as free reserves.

Authorisation [Section 68(2)]

The primary requirement is that the articles of association of the company should authorise buyback. In case, such a provision is not available, it would be necessary to alter the articles of association to authorise buy-back. Buy-back can be made with the approval of the Board of directors at a board meeting and/or by a special resolution passed by shareholders in a general meeting, depending on the quantum of buy back. In case of a listed company, approval of shareholders shall be obtained only by postal ballot.

Quantum [Section 68(2)]

- (a) Board of directors can approve buy-back up to 10% of the total paid-up equity capital and free reserves of the company and such buy back has to be authorized by the board by means of a resolution passed at the meeting.
- (b) Shareholders by a special resolution can approve buy-back up to 25% of the total paid-up capital and free reserves of the company. In respect of any financial year, the shareholders can approve by special resolution upto 25% of total equity capital in that year.

Let us remember

- Board can authorise buy back upto 10% equity capital and free reserves in a resolution passed at the Board Meeting
- Shareholders can authorize buy back by special resolution upto 25% of the total paid-up capital and free reserves of the company and in a financial year, upto 25% of total equity capital in that year.

Special Resolution to be accompanied by Explanatory Statement [Section 68(3)]

The notice of the meeting at which the special resolution is proposed to be passed shall be accompanied by an explanatory statement stating—

- (a) a full and complete disclosure of all material facts;
- (b) the necessity for the buy-back;
- (c) the class of shares or securities intended to be purchased under the buy-back;
- (d) the amount to be invested under the buy-back; and
- (e) the time-limit for completion of buy-back.

Rule 17(1) Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 states that Explanatory statement to contain certain disclosures

Explanatory statement to the special resolution authorising buy-back, to be annexed to the notice of the general meeting pursuant to section 102 shall contain the following disclosures:

- (i) the time-limit for the completion of buy-back;

- (j) (i) the aggregate shareholding of the promoters and of the directors of the promoter, where the promoter is a company and of the directors and key managerial personnel as on the date of the notice convening the general meeting;

LESSON OUTLINE

- Meaning and definition of prospectus.
- Private placement
- Public offer
- Matters to be disclosed in the prospectus.
- Reports to be set out in the prospectus
- Shelf Prospectus and Red-herring prospectus.
- Liability for untrue statement.
- Remedies for misrepresentation in prospectus.
- Penalty for fraudulently inducing to invest money.
- Prohibition of personation for acquisition of securities.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Prospectus is a disclosure document inviting public, to subscribe for the securities of the company, to enable the investors to take rational investment decisions and to protect their rights, by giving various material facts and prospects about the company.

Chapter III of Companies Act, 2013 covers procedural aspects as to private placement, which are dealt in Part II of Chapter III and Part I covers and procedural aspects relating to public offer which include registration of prospectus, its' format, disclosures, remedy against misstatement in prospectus, civil/criminal liabilities of directors, penalty for fraudulent inducement to purchase securities etc. The Companies (Prospectus and Allotment of Securities) Rules, 2014 cover the procedural aspects.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the meaning of prospectus, shelf prospectus information memorandum and red-herring prospectus along with relevant provisions under the Companies Act including disclosures, approval, penalties etc.

MEANING AND DEFINITION OF PROSPECTUS

Section 2(70) of the Companies Act, 2013 defines a prospectus as “any document described or issued as a prospectus and includes a red herring prospectus referred to in section 32 or shelf prospectus referred to in section 31 or any notice, circular, advertisement or other document inviting offers from the public for the subscription or purchase of any securities of a body corporate.”

On the basis of aforesaid definition, it may be said that a document should have following ingredients to constitute a prospectus:

- (a) There must be an invitation to the public;
- (b) The invitation must be made “by or on behalf of the company or in relation to an intended company”;
- (c) The invitation must be “to subscribe or purchase”;
- (d) The invitation must relate to any securities of the company.

INVITATION TO PUBLIC

In essence, it means that a prospectus is an invitation issued to the public to offer for purchase/subscribe any securities of the company. A document is deemed to be issued to the public, if the invitation to subscribe for share capital is such as to be open to any one who brings his money and applies in prescribed form, whether the prospectus was addressed to him or not. The test is not who receives the document, but who can apply for the securities in response to the invitation contained in it.

However, an issue will not be “Public” if-

- (i) It is directed to a specified person or a group of persons, and
- (ii) It is not calculated to result in the securities becoming available to other persons.

CASE LAWS

Some important judicial pronouncement about an invitation to be termed as an invitation to public

- (A) Advertisement in news paper to invite application for purchase of remaining shares of a company is prospectus (Pramatha Nath Sanyal v. Kali Kumar Dutt, A.I.R. 1925 Cal. 714). In this case directors were penalized for not complying with the requirements of filing a copy thereof with Registrar of Companies.
- (B) A single private communication does not satisfy the term “issue” [Nash v. Lynde (1929) A.C. 158]. In this case, several copies of a document marked “strictly confidential” and containing particulars of a proposed issue of shares, were sent accompanied with application form by the managing director who, in turn, gave it to a client who passed it on to a relation. Thus, the document was passed on privately through a small circle of friends of the directors. The House of Lords held that there had been no issue to the public and any action for compensation by the allottee for loss sustained by reason of an omission in the document, failed.
- (C) In Rattan Singh v. Managing Director, Moga Transport Co. Ltd. (1959) 29 Com Cases 165 it was held that offer to buy one’s kith and kin cannot be considered to be an invitation to public. Offer to buy shares made to an individual as such is not within the definition of the word public as used in Section 67 (Corresponds to section 23 and 42 of the Companies Act, 2013).
- (D) In the case of Govt. Stock and Other Securities Investment Co. Ltd. v. Christopher, (1956) I.W.L.R. 237 it was held that a circular issued by a company to the shareholders of other companies to acquire their shares held in those companies and issue its own shares in exchange of those shares did not amount to be a prospectus, as there is no public issue. It was pointed out that the circular did not involve an offer for the purchase of any shares. The shares in question were unissued shares of new company, so that they could not be the subject of an offer for purchase. Thus, the circular was not a prospectus, but only the communication of an offer to exchange shares in the new company for shares in the other existing companies.

- (E) In Re. South of England Natural Gas and Petroleum Co. Ltd., (1911) 1 Ch. 573 it was held that "Public" is a general word, and includes any section of the public. If a document inviting persons to buy shares is issued, for example, to all advocates, or to all doctors, or to all foreigners living in India, or to all Indian citizens, or to all shareholders in a particular company, it will still be deemed to be issued to the public within the meaning of the Act. In the aforesaid case, 3,000 copies of a document in the form of a prospectus were sent out and distributed among the members of certain gas companies only. It was held that the document so sent and distributed was a prospectus issued to the public.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

The prospectus can contain statements of experts who are interested in the formation and management of the company, as long as the consent of the expert is taken in this regard.

- True
- False

Correct answer: True

SHELF PROSPECTUS

"Shelf Prospectus" means a prospectus in respect of which the securities or class of securities included therein are issued for subscription in one or more issues over a certain period without the issue of a further prospectus. Accordingly as per Section 31—

1. Any class of companies, as prescribed by the Securities and Exchange Board may file a shelf prospectus with the Registrar at the stage of the first offer of securities included therein which shall indicate a period not exceeding one year as the period of validity of such prospectus which shall commence from the date of opening of the first offer of securities under such prospectus. Further, in respect of a second or subsequent offer issued during the period of validity of shelf prospectus, no further prospectus is required.

2. A company filing a shelf prospectus shall be required to file an information memorandum containing all material facts relating to new charges created, changes in the financial position of the company as have occurred between the first offer of securities or the previous offer of securities and the succeeding offer and other prescribed changes, with the Registrar within the prescribed time, prior to the issue of a second or subsequent offer of securities under such prospectus.

Where a company or any other person has received applications for the allotment of securities along with advance payments of subscription before the making of any such change, they shall intimate the changes to such applicants. If the applicants express a desire to withdraw their application, the company or other person shall refund all the monies received as subscription within fifteen days.

3. Where an information memorandum is filed, every time an offer of securities is made as aforesaid, such memorandum together with the shelf prospectus shall be deemed to be a prospectus.

The concept of shelf prospectus will save expenditure and time of the companies in issuing a new prospectus every time they wish to issue securities to the public within a period of one year.

Information Memorandum to be filed before the issue of a second or subsequent offer of securities under the shelf prospectus

Rule 10 of Companies (Prospectus and Allotment of Securities) Rules, 2014 states that the information memorandum shall be prepared in Form PAS-2 and filed with the Registrar along with the fee as provided in the Companies (Registration Offices and Fees) Rules, 2014 within one month prior to the issue of a second or subsequent offer of securities under the shelf prospectus.

Red-Herring Prospectus

"Red Herring Prospectus" means a prospectus which does not include complete particulars of the quantum or price of the securities included therein.

Section 32 of the Act deals with Red Herring Prospectus. It provides that—

1. As per this section, a company proposing to make an offer of securities may issue a red herring prospectus prior to the issue of a prospectus.
2. A company proposing to issue a red herring prospectus shall file it with the Registrar at least three days prior to the opening of the subscription list and the offer.
3. A red herring prospectus shall carry the same obligations as are applicable to a prospectus. Any variation between the red herring prospectus and a prospectus shall be highlighted as variations in the prospectus.
4. Upon the closing of the offer of securities, the prospectus stating therein the total capital raised, whether by way of debt or share capital, and the closing price of the securities and any other details as are not included in the red herring prospectus shall be filed with the Registrar and the Securities and Exchange Board.

Red herring prospectus is issued during book building process. Red herring prospectus contains either the floor price of securities offered or a price band along with the range within which the Bids can move. The applicants bid for the shares quoting the price and the quantity that they would like to bid at. SEBI (ICDR) Regulations prescribe certain disclosures to be made in the red-herring prospectus.

Once the offer for securities is closed, a final prospectus stating therein the total capital raised whether by way of debt or share capital, the closing price of the securities and any other details which are not complete in the red-herring prospectus shall be filed with SEBI in the case of listed public company and in any other case with the Registrar of companies only.

The compliances under SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations 2009 relating to shelf prospectus and red-herring prospectus is covered under chapter 'Issue of Securities' in paper Capital Markets and Securities Laws of Executive programme.

Application to be accompanied by abridged prospectus

“Abridged Prospectus” means a memorandum containing such salient features of a prospectus as may be specified by the Securities and Exchange Board by making regulations in this behalf. [Section 2(1)]

Section 33 states that no form of application can be issued for the purchase of any securities of a company unless it is accompanied by an abridged prospectus. There are, however, four exceptions to this rule:

- (a) where the offer is made in connection with the bona fide invitation to a person to enter into an underwriting agreement with respect to such securities;
- (b) where the securities are not offered to the public;
- (c) where the offer is made only to the existing members or debenture holders of the company with or without a right to renounce;
- (d) where the shares or debentures offered are in all respects uniform with shares or debentures already issued and quoted on a recognised stock exchange.

A copy of the prospectus shall be furnished to a person on a request being made by him before the closing of the subscription list and the offer.

If a company makes any default in complying with the provisions of this section, it shall be liable to a penalty of fifty thousand rupees for each default.

The Golden Rule Or Golden Legacy

It is the duty of those who issue the prospectus to be truthful in all respects. This Golden Rule was pronounced by Kinderseley, V.C. in New Brunswick, etc., Co. v. Muggeridge, (1860) 3 LT 651, and has come to be known as the “golden legacy”. “Those who issue a prospectus hold out to the public great advantages which will accrue to the persons who will take shares in the proposed undertaking. Public is invited to take shares on the faith of the representation contained in the prospectus. The public is at the mercy of company promoters. Everything must, therefore, be stated with strict and scrupulous accuracy. Nothing should be stated as a fact which is not so and no fact should be omitted, the existence of which might in any degree affect the nature or quality of the privileges and advantages which the prospectus holds out as inducement to take shares. In short, the true nature of the company’s venture should be ‘disclosed’. If concealment of any material fact has prevented an adequate appreciation of what was stated, it would amount to misrepresentation. Thus, even if every specific statement is literally true, the prospectus may be false if by reason of the suppression of other material facts, it conveys a false impression”.

In R.V. Kylsant (1932) K.B. 442, all statements in the prospectus were literally true but it failed to disclose that the dividends stated in it as paid, were not paid out of trading profits, but out of realized capital profits (secret reserves). The statement that the company had paid dividends for a number of years was true. But the company has incurred losses for all those years (1921-27) and no disclosure was made of this fact. The prospectus was held to be false in material particulars and the managing director and chairman, who knew that it was false, were held guilty of fraud.

Liability for Untrue Statement in Prospectus

It is now clear that a prospectus must be complete and perfect in all details or in other words nothing should be omitted and nothing must be untrue in a prospectus.

Where an untrue statement occurs in a prospectus, there may arise (i) civil liability (ii) criminal liability. Every person who is a director of the company at the time of the issue of the prospectus, every promoter of the company and every person, including an expert, who has authorised the issue of a prospectus, shall be liable. Since the liability of these persons is to the allottee of securities, we may discuss this matter under the heading remedies for mis-statements in a prospectus.

What is an Untrue Statement?

It is essential to know as to what constitutes an untrue statement. To protect the interests of prospective investors in the securities of a company, the law prescribes a wider meaning to this term. Whether a statement is untrue or not is to be judged by the context in which it appears and the totality of impression it would create. A statement included in a prospectus shall be deemed to be untrue, if the statement is misleading in the form and context in which it is included.

Further, where any inclusion or omission of any matter in a prospectus is likely to mislead, the prospectus shall be deemed, in respect of such omission, to be a prospectus in which an untrue statement is included.

The expression “Included” with reference to a prospectus means included in the prospectus itself or contained in any report or memorandum appearing on the face thereof or by reference incorporated therein or issued therewith. Even if every word included in the prospectus is true, the suppression of material facts may cause the prospectus to be fraudulent.

Onus for Proof of Mis-statement

The burden of proof in a suit by an allottee that he has been misled by the mis-statement in the prospectus lies on the allottee. He must prove the following:

- (i) The misrepresentation was of a fact;
- (ii) It was in respect of a material fact. What is a material statement of fact will depend upon the circumstances of each case.
- (iii) He acted on the misrepresentation; and
- (iv) He suffered damages in consequence.

Remedies for Misrepresentation in Prospectus

A company is responsible for a statement in prospectus only if it is shown that the prospectus was issued by the company or by some one with the authority of the company, e.g., the Board of directors. The company is also liable for misstatement in prospectus even though the prospectus is issued by the promoters & the Board ratifies and adopts the issue of prospectus.

The first remedy against the company is to rescind the contract. A person who takes securities on the faith of a prospectus containing false statements, may apply to the Court for setting contract aside, and striking off his name from the register of members. He may also claim his money back. But the allottee must act within a reasonable time, before any proceedings to wind up the company have been commenced, and before he does anything after notice of misrepresentation which is inconsistent with the right to rescind.

The second remedy against the company is to sue for damages for deceit. This suit is founded on the tort of deceit, and is not a case of fraud on the part of directors or promoters. The allottee may recover damages from the company for any loss he may have suffered if the invitation to take securities is emanating from the company and the persons making it on behalf of the company have fraudulently mis-represented material facts. The allottee cannot both retain the securities and get damages against the company. In actual practice, however, suits for damages against the company are rarely filed. Damages are generally claimed from the directors, promoters and other persons who authorised the issue of the prospectus.

Remedies against Directors or Promoters

A person who subscribed for shares on the faith of a false prospectus may claim from directors or promoters:

- (i) damages for fraudulent misrepresentation,
- (ii) Compensation under Section 35 of the Act,
- (iii) Damages for non-compliance with the requirements of Section 26 of the Act.

(i) Damages for fraudulent misrepresentation

An allottee may sue the director for damages for deceit, if there are fraudulent misrepresentations in the prospectus. But the directors will not be liable for damages for mis-statement if they believed them to be true [Derry v. Peek, (1889) 14 AC 337].

(ii) Compensation for untrue Statement

An allottee is also entitled to claim compensation from directors, promoters and any other persons who authorised the issue of the false prospectus, for damages sustained by reason of any untrue statement in it. As per section 35(1), where a person has subscribed for securities of a company acting on any statement included, or the inclusion or omission of any matter, in the prospectus which is misleading and has sustained any loss or damage as a consequence thereof, the company, then, the following persons are liable to pay compensation to every person who has sustained loss or damage by reason of untrue statement included in a prospectus:

- (a) every person who is a director of the company at the time of the issue of the prospectus;
- (b) every person who has authorised himself to be named and is named in the prospectus as a director of the company, or has agreed to become such director, either immediately or after an interval of time;
- (c) every person who is a promoter of the company;
- (d) every person who has authorised the issue of the prospectus; and
- (e) is an expert referred to in sub-section (5) of section 26

The above stated liability shall be without prejudice to any punishment to which any person may be liable under section 36.

When civil liability can be avoided [Section 35(2)]

No person referred above shall be liable for civil action if he proves:

- (i) that having consented to become a director of the company, he withdrew his consent before the issue of the prospectus, and that it was issued without his authority or consent; or
- (ii) that the prospectus was issued without his knowledge or consent, and that on becoming aware of its issue, he forthwith gave reasonable public notice that it was issued without his knowledge or consent
- (iii) that, as regards every misleading statement purported to be made by an expert or contained in what purports to be a copy of or an extract from a report or valuation of an expert, it was a correct and fair representation of the statement, or a correct copy of, or a correct and fair extract from, the report or valuation; and he had reasonable ground to believe and did up to the time of the issue of the prospectus believe, that the person making the statement was competent to make it and that the said person had given the consent required by sub-section (5) of section 26 to the issue of the prospectus and had not withdrawn that consent before delivery of a copy of the prospectus for registration or, to the defendant's knowledge, before allotment thereunder.

Further an expert may also escape the liability, if he proves that having given his consent under Section 26 to the issue of the prospectus, he withdrew it in writing before delivery of a copy of the prospectus for registration to the Registrar.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

Choose the correct answer

A person who acted upon the false prospectus, may claim the following damages:

- (a) Damages for fraudulent misrepresentation
- (b) Compensation for untrue statement.
- (c) Damages for non-compliance with the requirements of section 26 of the Act.
- (d) All of the above

Criminal Liability for Mis-statements in Prospectus

According to Section 34 of the Companies Act, 2013, where a prospectus, issued, circulated or distributed includes any statement which is untrue or misleading in form or context in which it is included or where any inclusion or omission of any matter is likely to mislead, every person who authorizes the issue of such prospectus shall be liable under section 447. Section 447 provides that any person who is found to be guilty of fraud 1[involving an amount of at least ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower] shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to ten years and shall also be liable to fine which shall not be less than the amount involved in the fraud, but which may extend to three times the amount involved in the fraud:

However, where the fraud in question involves public interest, the term of imprisonment shall not be less than three years

Further it is provided that where the fraud involves an amount less than ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower, and does not involve public interest, any person guilty of such fraud shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine which may extend to fifty lakh rupees or with both.

However, where a person who has authorised the issue of prospectus proves, either that such statement or omission was immaterial or that he had reasonable grounds to believe, and did up to the time of issue of the prospectus believe, that the statement was true or the inclusion or omission was necessary may be relieved from the criminal liability.

Action by affected persons

Section 37 states that a suit may be filed or any other action may be taken under section 34 or section 35 or section 36 by any person, group of persons or any association of persons affected by any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus.

This above provision provides for filing class action suits by a persons or group of persons or association of persons affected by misleading statements.

Who is entitled to remedies?

The right to claim compensation for any loss or damage sustained by reason of any untrue statement in a prospectus is available only to a person who has “subscribed” for securities on the faith of the prospectus containing untrue statement. The word ‘subscribed’ denotes that the shares were acquired directly from the company by allotment. A subsequent purchaser of shares in the open market has no remedy against the company or the directors or promoters. Also, a subscriber to the memorandum cannot seek relief, as the company cannot be said to be in existence when he signed the memorandum, and he cannot be said to have been influenced by any statement, in the prospectus. Again, liability under a prospectus can only arise when the prospectus has been issued, and only in favour of persons who subscribe for securities in response to it and relied upon the statement made therein.

If, however, a prospectus is issued with the object of inducing persons to buy securities in the open market, any person who buys on the strength of the false representation made in it, has a right of action for fraudulent misrepresentation against the company. But the purchaser must have been directly induced by the false statement in the prospectus and nothing else. Two cases may be noted:

CASE LAWS

- (i) In Peek v. Gurney (1873) 43 L.J. Ch. 19, a deceitful prospectus was issued by the directors on behalf of the company. P received a copy of it but did not take any shares originally in the company. The allotment of shares to applicants was completed, and several months afterwards he bought 2,000 shares on the stock exchange. His action against the directors for deceit was rejected. It was observed by the Court that the office of a prospectus is to invite persons to become allottees, and, allotment having been completed, such office is exhausted and liability to allottees does not follow the shares into the hands of subsequent transferees.
- (ii) In Andrews v. Mockford (1869) I.Q.B. 372, the directors sent to A, a prospectus of the company which they knew would be a sham in order to induce A to purchase shares therein. A did not subscribe for the shares at that time. The prospectus, having produced but a scanty subscription for shares, the directors thereupon fraudulently published a telegram in newspaper. A believing in the truth of the telegram was induced to purchase shares in the open market. The directors were held liable for the systematic fraud. “The function of the prospectus was not exhausted, and the false telegram was brought into play by defendants to reflect back upon and countenance the false statements in the prospectus.”

Further, by reason of the decision of the House of Lords in Hedley Byrne Co. v. Hellers & Partners, (1964) A.C. 465, a person may become liable for holding out a false statement to any one whom he knew or ought to have known would act in reliance upon the statement.

BORROWING

In order to run a business effectively/successfully, adequate amount of capital is necessary. In some cases capital arranged through internal resources i.e. by way of issuing equity share capital or using accumulated profit is not adequate and the organisation is resorted to external resources of arranging capital i.e. External Commercial borrowing (ECB), Debentures, Bank Loan, Public Fixed Deposits etc. Thus, borrowing is a mechanism used whereby the money is arranged through external resources with an implied or expressed intention of returning money.

Power of Company to Borrow

The power of the company to borrow is exercised by its directors, who cannot borrow more than the sum authorized. The powers to borrow money and to issue debentures whether in or outside India can only be exercised by the Directors at a duly convened meeting. Pursuant to Section 179(3) (c) & (d) directors have to pass resolution at a duly convened Board Meeting to borrow moneys. The power to issue debentures cannot be delegated by the Board of directors. However, the power to borrow monies can, be delegated by a resolution passed at a duly convened meeting of the directors to a committee of directors, managing director, manager or any other principal officer of the company. The resolution must specify the total amount up to which the moneys may be borrowed by the delegates. Often the power of the company to borrow is unrestricted, but the authority of the directors acting as its agents is limited to a certain extent. For example, Section 180(1)(c) of the Act prohibits the Board of directors of a company from borrowing a sum which together with the monies already borrowed exceeds the aggregate of the paid-up share capital of the company and its free reserves apart from temporary loans obtained from the company's bankers in the ordinary course of business unless they have received the prior sanction of the company by a special resolution in general meeting.

Explanation to section 180(1)(c) provides that the expression "temporary loans" means loans repayable on demand or within six months from the date of the loan such as short-term, cash credit arrangements, the discounting of bills and the issue of other short-term loans of a seasonal character, but does not include loans raised for the purpose of financial expenditure of a capital nature.

It is further provided in proviso to Section 180(1)(c) that the acceptance by a banking company, in the ordinary course of its business, of deposits of money from the public, repayable on demand or otherwise, and withdrawable by cheque, draft, order or otherwise, shall not be deemed to be borrowing of monies by the banking company within the meaning of clause (c) of Sub-section (1) of Section 180. It is important at this stage to distinguish between, borrowing which is ultra vires the company and borrowing which is intra vires the company but outside the scope of the director's authority.

The provisions of Sub-section (5) of Section 180 clearly lay down that debts incurred in excess of the limit fixed by clause (c) of Sub-section (1) shall not be valid unless the lender proves that he lent his money in good faith and without knowledge of the limit imposed by Sub-section (1) being exceeded.

With recent exemption notification no 464(E) Private Companies have been exempted to comply the entire provisions of Section 180 of the Companies Act 2013, resultantly special resolution is not required to exercise powers under section 180.

Unauthorized or Ultra Vires Borrowing

Where a company borrows without the authority conferred on it by the articles or beyond the amount set out in the Articles, it is an ultra vires borrowing. Any act which is ultra vires the company is void. In such a case the contract is void and the lender cannot sue the company for the return of the loan. The securities given for such ultra-vires borrowing are also void and inoperative. Ultra vires borrowings cannot even be ratified by a resolution passed by the company in general meeting. However, equity assists the lender where the common law fails to do so. If the lender has parted with his money to the company under an ultra vires borrowing, and is, therefore, unable to sue for its return, or enforce any security granted to him, he nevertheless has, in equity, the following remedies:

- (A) Injunction and Recovery: Under the equitable doctrine of restitution he can obtain an injunction provided he can trace and identify the money lent, and any property which the company has bought with it. Even if the monies advanced by the lender cannot be traced, the lender can claim repayment if it can be proved that the company has been benefited thereby.
- (B) Subrogation: Where the money of an ultra vires borrowing has been used to pay off lawful debts of the company, he would be subrogated to the position of the creditor paid off and to that extent would have the right to recover his loan from the company. Subrogation is allowed for the simple reason that when a lawful debt has been paid off with an ultra vires loan, the total indebtedness of the company remains the same. By subrogating the ultra vires lender, the Court is able to protect him from loss, while debt burden of the company is in no way increased.
- (C) Suit against Directors: In case of ultra vires borrowing, the lender may be able to sue the directors for breach of warranty of authority, especially if the directors deliberately misrepresented their authority [Executors v. Himphreys (1866) QBD 64].

Intra vires Borrowing but outside the Scope of Agents' Authority

A distinction should always be made between a company's borrowing powers and the authority of the directors to borrow. Where the directors borrowed money beyond their authority and the borrowing is not ultra vires the company, such borrowing is called Intra vires borrowing but outside the Scope of Agents' Authority. The company will be liable to such borrowing if the borrowing is within the directors' ostensible authority and the lender acted in good faith or if the transaction was ratified by the company.

Where the borrowing is intra vires the company but outside the authority of the directors e.g. where the articles provide that the directors shall have the power only up to Rs. 100 lacs and prior approval of the shareholders would be required to borrow beyond Rs. 100 lacs; any borrowing beyond Rs.100 lacs without shareholders approval i.e. intra vires borrowing by the company but outside authority of directors can be ratified by the company and become binding on the company. The company would be liable, particularly if the money has been used for the benefit of the company. Here the legal position is quite clear. The company has power or capacity to borrow, but the authority of the directors is restricted either by the articles of the company or by the statute, and they have exceeded it. The company may, if it wishes, ratify the agent's act in which case the loan binds the company and the lender as if it had been made with company's authority in the first place.

On the other hand, the company may refuse to ratify the agent's act. Here the normal principles of agency apply. The doctrine of Indoor Management (also known as rule in Royal British Bank v. Turquand (1856) 11 & B 327) shall protect the lender, provided he can establish that he advanced the money in good faith. A third-party who deals with an agent knowing that the agent is exceeding his authority has no right of action against the principal. Bearing in mind that the memorandum and articles are public documents, the contents of which the third-party is deemed to know, he will obviously have no right of action against the company if the agent's lack of authority is obvious from reading them. But a third-party is not effected by secret restrictions on the agent's authority, as the lack of authority is not clear from the public documents and the lender can not be aware of it from some other source. Therefore, the company will be liable.

CASE LAWS

Judicial Pronouncement relating to borrowing power of a company

- (A) 'Borrowing' necessarily implies repayment at some time and under some circumstances [Re. Southern Brazilian Rio (1905) 2 Ch. 78].
- (B) Where the directors mortgaged the company's property exceeding the limits of their authority, it was held that the lending bank was entitled to retain possession and to claim institution before it could be compelled to surrender possession [Deonarayan Prasad Bhadani v. Bank of Baroda Ltd. (1957) 27 Com Cases 223, 239 (Bom.)].
- (C) The behaviour of the directors, as the company's agents, can have no effect whatsoever on the validity of the loan for no agent can have more capacity than his principal. No agent can have a power which is not with the principal. If, therefore, the borrowing is ultra vires the company so that the company has no capacity to undertake it, the lender can have no rights at common law. No debt is created and any security which may have been created in respect of the borrowing is also void. The lender cannot sue the company for the repayment of the loan. [Sinclair v. Brougham (1914) 88 LJ Ch 465].
- (D) The power of a company to borrow money is implied in the case of all trading companies. [General Auction Estate Co. v. Swith (1891) Ch 432].
- (E) A power to borrow money cannot be implied [Baroness Wenlock v. River Dee (1885) 10 App Cas 354].
- (F) If the borrowing by the directors is ultra vires their powers, the directors may, in certain circumstances, be personally liable for damages to the lender, on the ground of the implied warranty given by them, that they had power to borrow [Firbank's Executors v. Humphreys, (1886) 18 QBD 54; Garrard v. James, 1925 Ch. 616].
- (G) Sometimes it happens that a power to borrow exists but is restricted to a stated amount, in such a case if by a single transaction an amount in excess is borrowed, only the excess would be ultra vires and not the whole transaction [Deonarayan Prasad Bhadani v. Bank of Baroda, (1957) 27 Com Cases 223 (Bom.)].
- (H) The acquiescence of all shareholders in excess loans contracted by directors beyond their powers but not ultra vires the powers of the company would be sufficient to validate such excess debts. [Sri Balasaraswathi Ltd. v. Parameswara Aiyar, (1956) 26 Com Cases 298, 308: AIR 1957 Mad 122].
- (I) If the borrowing is unauthorized, the company will be liable to repay, if it is shown that the money had gone into the company's coffers [Lakshmi Ratan Cotton Mills Co. Ltd. v. J.K. Jute Mills Co. Ltd., (1957) 27 Com Cases 660: AIR 1957 All 311].
- (J) In V.K.R.S.T Firm v. Oriental Investment Trust Ltd., AIR 1944 Mad 532 under the authority of the company, its managing director borrowed large sums of money and misappropriated it. The company was held liable stating that where the borrowing is within the powers of the company, the lender will not be prejudiced simply because its officer have applied the loan to unauthorised activities provided the lender had no knowledge of the intended misuse.
- (K) In T.R. Pratt. (Bom) Ltd. v. E.D. Sassoon and Co. Ltd., (1936) 6 Com Cases 90, there was no limit on the borrowing for business in the memorandum of the company. But the directors could not borrow beyond the limit of the issued share capital of the company without the sanction of the general meeting. The directors borrowed money from the plaintiff beyond their powers. It was held that the money having been borrowed and used for the benefit of the principal either in paying its debts, or for its debts, or for its legitimate business, the company cannot repudiate its liability on the ground that the agent had no authority from the company to borrow. When these facts are established a claim on the footing of money had been received would be maintainable. It was also held that under the general principle of law when an agent borrows money for a principal without the authority of the principal, but if the principal takes benefit of the money so borrowed or when the money so borrowed have gone into the coffers of the principal, the law implies a promise to repay. In that connection it was observed that there appears to be nothing in law which makes this principle inapplicable to the case of a joint stock company and even in cases where the directors or the managing agent had borrowed money without there being authorization for the company, if it has been used for the benefit of the company, the company cannot repudiate its liability to pay.

- (L) In Equity Insurance Co. Ltd. v. Dinshaw & Co., AIR 1940 Oudh 202, it was held that “where the managing agent of a company who is not authorised to borrow, has borrowed money which is not necessary, neither bona fide, nor for the benefit of the company, the company is not liable for the amount borrowed”.
- (M) In Suraj Babu v. Jaitly & Co. AIR 1946 All 372, P & Co., were the managing agents of L & Co., which was in liquidation. P the manager borrowed a sum of money from J in his own name. In one letter to J he indicated that the loan was for a requirement of L & Co. and that company had actually benefited. It was held that there was no intention to bind the company. “The mere fact that the company had benefited was not in itself sufficient to bind the company”.
- (N) In Krishnan Kumar Rohatgi and Others v. State Bank of India and Others, (1980) 50 Com Cases 722, the company borrowed an amount of Rs. 5 lakhs from the Bank under a Promissory Note. The repayment was guaranteed by a person by executing a guarantee in favour of the company. The company used to make payments towards loan and the promissory note used to be renewed from time to time. In the suit for recovery, the company contended that the pro-note was executed by the Chairman without there being a resolution of the Board of directors authorizing the Chairman to execute the pro-note as required under Section 292(1)(c) of the Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 179(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 2013]. Rejecting these contentions the Patna High Court held that in cases where the directors borrow funds without their having authorization from the company and if the money has been used for the benefit of the company, the company cannot repudiate its liability to repay. Under the general principles of law, when an agent borrows money for a principal without the authority of the principal but the principal takes the benefit of the money so borrowed or when the money so borrowed has gone into the coffers of the principal, the law implies a promise to be paid by the principal.

Ultra vires borrowings cannot even be ratified by a resolution passed by the company in a general meeting.

TYPES OF BORROWINGS

A company uses various kinds of borrowing to finance its operations. The various types of borrowings can generally be categorized into: 1) Long term/short term borrowing, 2) Secured/unsecured borrowing, 3) Syndicated/ Bilateral borrowing, 4) Private/Public borrowing.

- 1A. Long Terms Borrowings - Funds borrowed for a period ranging for five years or more are termed as long-term borrowings. A long term borrowing is made for getting a new project financed or for making big capital investment etc. Generally Long term borrowing is made against charge on fixed Assets of the company.

- 1B. Short Term Borrowings - Funds needed to be borrowed for a short period say for a period up to one year or so are termed as short term borrowings. This is made to meet the working capital need of the company. Short term borrowing is generally made on hypothecation of stock and debtors.
- 1C. Medium Term Borrowings - Where the funds to be borrowed are for a period ranging from two to five years, such borrowings are termed as medium term borrowings. The commercial banks normally finance purchase of land, machinery, vehicles etc.
- 2A Secured/unsecured borrowing – A debt obligation is considered secured, if creditors have recourse to the assets of the company on a proprietary basis or otherwise ahead of general claims against the company.
- 2B Unsecured debts comprise financial obligations, where creditors do not have recourse to the assets of the company to satisfy their claims.
- 3A Syndicated borrowing – if a borrower requires a large or sophisticated borrowing facility this is commonly provided by a group of lenders known as a syndicate under a syndicated loan agreement. The borrower uses one agreement covering the whole group of banks and different types of facility rather than entering into a series of separate loans, each with different terms and conditions.
- 3B Bilateral borrowing refers to a borrowing made by a company from a particular bank/financial institution. In this type of borrowing, there is a single contract between the company and the borrower.
- 4A Private borrowing comprises bank-loan type obligations whereby the company takes loan from a bank/financial Institution.
- 4B Public borrowing is a general definition covering all financial instruments that are freely tradable on a public exchange or over the counter, with few if any restrictions i.e. Debentures, Bonds etc.

Borrowing on Security of Property

The power to borrow includes the power to give security, which may take the form of a mortgage, a charge, hypothecation, lien, guarantee, pledge etc. The creditor's position becomes safer when security is given, for he will not only be able to sue the company for the amount of money which he has lent to it, but he will also be able to enforce his security, i.e., claim that the property charged belongs to him to the extent of the total amount due to him.

A loan taken by a company may be secured by any of the following:

- (a) A legal mortgage of specific part of its property;
- (b) An equitable mortgage by deposit of title deeds;
- (c) A mortgage of movable property;
- (d) Issuing Bonds;
- (e) Issuing Promissory notes and bills of exchange;
- (f) A charge on uncalled capital;
- (g) A charge on calls made but not paid;
- (h) A floating charge on the assets of the company;

- (i) Issuing debentures or debenture stock;
- (j) A mortgage of book debts (but not of book);
- (k) A charge on a ship or any share in a ship;
- (l) A charge on goodwill or a patent or a license under a patent, or a trade mark, or on a copyright;
- (m) A pledge of goods.

Charge on Uncalled Capital

A company does not have implied power of charging its uncalled share capital and a company may charge its uncalled capital if its articles or memorandum authorise it to charge it. The memorandum may give an express power to charge uncalled capital, or the power may be so wide that it can be inferred by implication. For example, in Newton v. Debenture holders of Anglo-Australian Investment Co., (1895) A.C. 224, the memorandum authorised the company to borrow “upon any security of the company”. It was held that the power was wide enough to include a charge on uncalled capital. However, a company cannot mortgage or charge any part of its “reserve capital”, i.e., such portion (if any) of its uncalled share capital as is incapable of being called up except in the event of winding up of the company.

Correct Answer: False

3. DEBENTURES

According to Section 2(30) of Companies Act 2013 “debenture” includes debenture stock, bonds or any other instrument of a company evidencing a debt, whether constituting a charge on the assets of the company or not; It is evident from the definition that the term debentures covers both secured and unsecured debentures.

Kinds of Debentures

Debentures are generally classified into different categories on the basis of: (1) Convertibility of the Instrument (2) Security of the Instrument (3) Redemption ability (4) Registration of Instrument

1. On the basis of convertibility, Debentures may be classified into following categories:

(A) Non Convertible Debentures (NCD): These instruments retain the debt character and can not be converted into equity shares.

(B) Partly Convertible Debentures (PCD): A part of these instruments are converted into Equity shares in the future at notice of the issuer. The issuer decides the ratio for conversion. This is normally decided at the time of subscription.

(C) Fully convertible Debentures (FCD): These are fully convertible into Equity shares at the issuer's notice. The ratio of conversion is decided by the issuer. Upon conversion the investors enjoy the same status as ordinary shareholders of the company.

(D)Optionally Convertible Debentures (OCD): The investor has the option to either convert these debentures into shares at price decided by the issuer/agreed upon at the time of issue.

2. On the basis of Security, debentures are classified into:

(A)Secured Debentures: These instruments are secured by a charge on the fixed assets of the issuer company. So if the issuer fails on payment of either the principal or interest amount, his assets can be sold to repay the liability to the investors. Section 71(3) of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that secured debentures may be issued by a company subject to such terms and conditions as may be prescribed by the Central Government through rules.

(B)Unsecured Debentures: These instrument are unsecured in the sense that if the issuer defaults on payment of the interest or principal amount, the investor has to be along with other unsecured creditors of the company, they are also said to be naked debentures.

3. On the basis of Redeemability, debentures are classified into:

(A)Redeemable Debentures: It refers to the debentures which are issued with a condition that the debentures will be redeemed at a fixed date or upon demand, or after notice, or under a system of periodical drawings. Debentures are generally redeemable and on redemption these can be reissued or cancelled. The person who has been re-issued the debentures shall have the same rights and priorities as if the debentures had never been redeemed.

(B)Perpetual or Irredeemable Debentures: A Debenture, in which no time is fixed for the company to pay back the money, is an irredeemable debenture. The debenture holder cannot demand payment as long as the company is a going concern and does not make default in making payment of the interest. But all debentures, whether redeemable or irredeemable become payable on the company going into liquidation. However, after the commencement of the Companies Act, 2013, now a company cannot issue perpetual or irredeemable debentures.

4. On the basis of Registration, debentures may be classified as (A)A Registered Debentures: Registered debentures are made out in the name of a particular person, whose name appears on the debenture certificate and who is registered by the company as holder on the Register of debenture holders. Such debentures are transferable in the same manner as shares by means of a proper instrument of transfer duly stamped and executed and satisfying the other requirements specified in Section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013.

(B)Bearer debentures: Bearer debentures on the other hand, are made out to bearer, and are negotiable instruments, and so transferable by mere delivery like share warrants. The person to whom a bearer debenture is transferred become a "holder in due course" and unless contrary is shown, is entitled to receive and recover the principal and the interest accrued thereon. [Calcutta Safe Deposit Co. Ltd. v. Ranjit Mathuradas Sampat (1971) 41 Com Cases 1063].

Pari Passu Clause in case of Debentures

Debentures are usually issued in a series with a pari passu clause and it follows that they would be on an equal footing as to security and should the security be enforced, the amount realised shall be divided pro-rata, i.e. they are be discharged rateably. In the event of deficiency of assets, they will abate proportionately. The expression 'pari passu' implies with equal step, equally treated, at the same rate, or at par with. When it is said that existing debentures shall be issued pari passu clause, it implies that no difference will be made between the old and new debentures.

If the words pari passu are not used, the debentures will be payable according to the date of issue, and if they are all issued on the same day, they will be payable accordingly to their numerical order. However, a company cannot issue a new series of debentures so as to rank pari passu with prior series, unless the power to do so is expressly reserved and contained in the debentures of the previous series.

Debenture Stock

A company, instead of issuing debentures, each in respect of separate and distinct debt, may raise one aggregate loan fund or composite stock known as 'debenture stock'. Accordingly, a debenture stock is a borrowed capital consolidated into one mass for the sake of convenience. Instead of each lender having a separate bond or mortgage, he has a certificate entitling him to a certain sum being a portion of one large loan. It is generally secured by a trust deed. As in the case of shares, a person may subscribe for, or transfer any amount even a fraction amount. Debenture stock is the indebtedness itself, and the debenture stock certificate furnishes evidence of the title or interest of the holder in the indebtedness. Debenture is the document which furnishes evidence of the debt. Debenture stock must be fully paid, while debenture may or may not be fully paid.

Difference between Debenture and Debenture Stock – Debenture is the description of an instrument, while 'debenture stock' is the description of a debt or sum secured by an instrument. In the words of LORD LINDLEY, it is "borrowed capital consolidated into one mass for the sake of convenience".

Distinction between Debenture and Loan – A debenture means a document which creates or acknowledges a debt. A loan creates a right in the creditor to demand repayment, and the substance of a debt is a liability upon the debtor to repay the money [Ram Ratan Karmarkar v. Amulya Charan Karmarkar, 56 CWN 728 at p. 729].

Distinction Between Debentures and Shares

S. No	Debentures	Shares
1	Debentures constitute a loan.	Shares are part of the capital of a company.
2	Debenture holders are creditors.	Shareholders are members/owners of the company.
3	Debentures holder gets fixed Interest which carries a priorities over dividend.	Shareholder gets dividends with a varying rate.
4	Debentures generally have a charge on the assets of the company.	Shares do not carry any such charge.
5	Debentures can be issued at a discount without restrictions.	Shares cannot be issued at a discount.
6	The rate of interest is fixed in the case of debentures.	Whereas on equity shares the dividend varies from year to year depending upon the profit of the company and the Board of directors decision to declare dividends or not.
7	Debentureholders do not have any voting right.	Shareholders enjoy voting right.
8	Interest on debenture is payable even if	Dividend can be paid to shareholders only out of there are no profits i.e. even out of capital.	the profits of the company and not otherwise.

9	Interest paid on debenture is a business expenditure and allowable deduction from profits.	Dividend is not allowable deduction as business expenditure.
10	Return of allotment is not required for allotment of debentures.	Return of allotment in e-Form No. 2 is to be filed for allotment of shares.

BROAD REGULATORY FRAMEWORK FOR DEBT SECURITIES

(a) SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2009

Under SEBI (ICDR) Regulations 2009, “specified securities” means equity shares and convertible securities. The “convertible security” has been defined to mean a security which is convertible into or exchangeable with equity shares of the issuer at a later date, with or without the option of the holder of the security and includes convertible debt instrument and convertible preference shares. Thus, the conditions specified under these regulations for Equity shares are equally applicable to public issue of convertible debt instruments also.

Additionally, the issuer of convertible debt instruments has to comply with the following.

- (a) obtain credit rating from one or more credit rating agencies;
- (b) appoint one or more debenture trustees in accordance with the provisions of 71(5) of the Companies Act, 2013 and Securities and Exchange Board of India (Debenture Trustees) Regulations, 1993;
- (c) create debenture redemption reserve in accordance with the provisions of 71(4) of the Companies Act, 2013;
- (d) if the issuer proposes to create a charge or security on its assets in respect of secured convertible debt instruments, it shall ensure that:
 - such assets are sufficient to discharge the principal amount at all times;

- such assets are free from any encumbrance;
- where security is already created on such assets in favour of financial institutions or banks or the issue of convertible debt instruments is proposed to be secured by creation of security on a leasehold land, the consent of such financial institution, bank or lessor for a second or pari passu charge has been obtained and submitted to the debenture trustee before the opening of the issue;
- the security/asset cover shall be arrived at after reduction of the liabilities having a first/prior charge, in case the convertible debt instruments are secured by a second or subsequent charge.

The issuer shall redeem the convertible debt instruments in terms of the offer document. These regulations also deal with rollover of non convertible portion of partly convertible debt instruments.

(b) SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015

These regulations cover aspects of disclosure mechanism to stock exchanges which are routine and non-routine and other listing compliances including corporate governance aspects.

(c) SEBI (Issue and Listing of Debt Securities) Regulations, 2008

These regulations deals with compliances with respect to non-convertible debt instruments and are applicable to (a) Public issue of debt securities and (b) listing of debt securities issued through public issue or on private placement basis on a recognized stock exchange. It deals with aspects which include filing of offer documents, disclosures, price discovery mechanism through book building and other routine public issue aspects.

(d) SEBI (Public Offer and Listing of Securitized Debt Instruments) Regulations, 2008

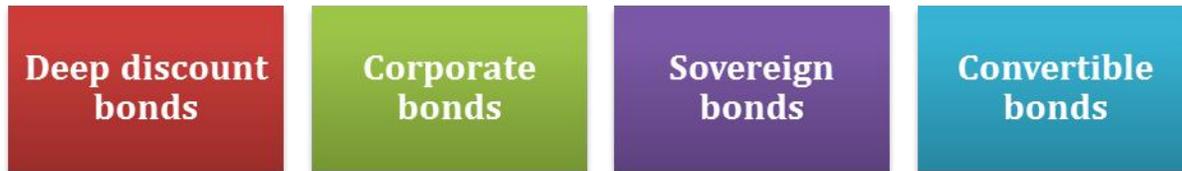

Securitisation is the process of conversion of existing assets or future cash flows into marketable securities. In other words, securitisation deals with the conversion of assets which are not marketable into marketable ones.

'Securitized Debt Instrument' means any certificate or instrument by whatever name called, of the nature referred to in sub-clause (ie) of clause (h) of Section 2 of Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956.

These regulations are principle based and have been made taking into account the market needs, cost of the transactions, competition policy, the professional expertise of credit rating agencies, disclosures and obligations of the parties involved in the transaction.

Types of Bonds

Some of the types of bonds issued in the Indian markets are given below:

- ❖ Deep discount bonds, also known as zero-coupon bonds, are bonds wherein there is no interest or coupon payment and the interest amount is factored in the maturity value.
- ❖ Corporate bonds are issued by companies and offer interest rates higher than bonds issued by public sector units and other financial institutions. The interest rate on these bonds is governed by their credit rating and higher the rating, lower is the interest rate offered by them.
- ❖ Sovereign bonds are issued by the Reserve Bank of India. These can be referred to as low-risk or even risk free bonds.
- ❖ Convertible bonds are another category wherein the bond holder has an option to convert the bonds into equity after a fixed tenor. These may be fully or partially convertible where only a part is converted and the other part matures.

CREATION OF SECURITY – Role of Debenture Trustee

Creation of security means mortgaging the property in favour of Debenture Trustee for the benefit of debenture holders. This is an incidence of ownership of property and creation of security has to be done by the owner of the property. However, the debenture holders are beneficiaries and they have no access to mortgaged property. The Debenture Trustee holds the secured property on behalf of issuer of security and for benefit of debenture holders. In the event of default by the issuer of security, the Debenture Trustee will have the power and authority to bring the secured property to sale following the procedure in the Transfer of Property Act and the proceeds of sale will have to be applied to redeem the debentures

Debenture Trust deed

Debenture Trust deed is a written instrument legally conveying property to a trustee often for the purpose of securing a loan or mortgage. It is the document creating and setting out the terms of a trust. It will usually contain the names of the trustees, the identity of the beneficiaries and the nature of the trust property, as well as the powers and duties of the trustees. It constitutes trustees charged with the duty of looking after the rights and interests of the debenture holders. As per section 71 (7), any provision contained in a trust deed for securing the issue of debentures, or in any contract with the debenture-holders secured by a trust deed, shall be void in so far as it would have the effect of exempting a trustee thereof from, or indemnifying him against, any liability for breach of trust, where he fails to show the degree of care and due diligence required of him as a trustee, having regard to the provisions of the trust deed conferring on him any power, authority or discretion: Provided that the liability of the debenture trustee shall be subject to such exemptions as may be agreed upon by a majority of debenture-holders holding not less than three-fourths in value of the total debentures at a meeting held for the purpose.

A trust deed for securing any issue of debentures shall be open for inspection to any member or debenture holder of the company, in the same manner, to the same extent and on the payment of the same fees, as if it were the register of members of the company; and a copy of the trust deed shall be forwarded to any member or debenture holder of the company, at his request, within seven days of the making thereof, on payment of fee.

As per section 71 and sub-rule (1) of Rule 18 of the Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 a trust deed in Form No. SH.12 or as near thereto as possible shall be executed by the company issuing debentures in favour of the debenture trustees within three months of closure of the issue or offer. [Rule 18(5)]

Rule 18(8) states that a trust deed for securing any issue of debentures shall be open for inspection to any member or debenture holder of the company, in the same manner, to the same extent and on the payment of the same fees, as if it were the register of members of the company. Further, a copy of the trust deed shall be forwarded to any member or debenture holder of the company, at his request, within seven days of the making thereof, on payment of fee.

Exemptions clauses in the trust deed

Section 71(7) states that any provision contained in a trust deed for securing the issue of debentures, or in any contract with the debenture-holders secured by a trust deed, shall be void in so far as it would have the effect of exempting a trustee thereof from, or indemnifying him against, any liability for breach of trust, where he fails to show the degree of care and due diligence required of him as a trustee, having regard to the provisions of the trust deed conferring on him any power, authority or discretion. The liability of the debenture trustee shall be subject to such exemptions as may be agreed upon by a majority of debenture-holders holding not less than three-fourths in value of the total debentures at a meeting held for the purpose.

Section 71(12) states that a contract with the company to take up and pay for any debentures of the company may be enforced by a decree for specific performance.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

A debenture is necessarily secured by a charge.

- True
- False

Correct Answer: False

REGISTER OF DEBENTUREHOLDERS

Section 88(1)(b) of the Companies Act, 2013 requires every company to keep a register of debenture-holders. The register of debenture-holders shall also include an index of the names included therein. The register shall be in the form prescribed by the Central Government and contain the prescribed particulars. Further the Central Government may prescribe separate registers for each type of debentures. The register can be closed by the company after giving at least 7 days previous notice by advertisement for a period not exceeding 45 days in a year but not exceeding 30 days at a time. However, the Securities and Exchange Board may prescribe lesser notice period for listed companies or companies which intend to get their securities listed in the prescribed manner. This remedy is made available to the holders of debentures whether they are secured or unsecured. Any debentureholder can apply to the Tribunal for passing an order of payment the company which has defaulted. The Tribunal shall, while issuing order to the company, take into account the circumstances under which it has failed to redeem the debentures and the order of the Tribunal shall mention about the ways and means for redemption of the debentures by the company.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- All companies are given power to borrow by their articles which fix the maximum limit of borrowings.
- The power to borrow monies and to issue debentures (whether in or outside India) can only be exercised by the Directors at a duly convened meeting.
- Where the company borrows without the authority conferred on it by the Articles or beyond the amount set out in the Articles, it is an ultra vires borrowing and hence void. Ultra vires borrowings cannot even be ratified by a resolution passed by the company in general meeting. In case of ultra vires borrowings the lender has the following remedies: (a) Injunction and Recovery, (b) Subrogation, (c) Suit against Directors.
- A debenture is a document given by a company under its seal as an evidence of a debt to the holder usually arising out of a loan and most commonly secured by a charge.
- Debentures may be of different kinds, viz. redeemable debentures, registered and bearer debentures, secured and unsecured or naked debentures, convertible debentures.
- A loan creates a right in the creditor to demand repayment, and the substance of a debt is a liability upon the debtor to repay the money.
- A debenture trust deed is one of the several instruments required to be executed to secure redemption of debentures and payment of interest on due dates.
- Section 71(4) of the Act required every company to create a debenture redemption reserve account to which adequate amount shall be credited out of its profits available for payment of dividend until such debentures are redeemed and shall utilize the same exclusively for redemption of a particular set or series of debentures only.
- Certificate of deposit is a document of title to a time deposit.
- Commercial paper refers to unsecured promissory notes issued by credit worthy companies to borrow funds on a short term basis.
- The convertible debentures are regulated by SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2009.
- The non-convertible debentures are regulated by SEBI (Issue and Listing of Debt Securities) Regulations, 2008.

GLOSSARY

Ultra Vires	Beyond the powers
Intra vires	Within the powers
Pari passu	On equal footing or proportionately
Bonds	A bond is an instrument of indebtedness of the bond issuer to the holders. It is a debt security, under which the issuer owes the holders a debt and, depending on the terms of the bond, is obliged to pay them interest (the coupon) and/or to repay the principal at a later date, termed the maturity. Interest is usually payable at fixed intervals (semiannual, annual, sometimes monthly). Very often the bond is negotiable, i.e. the ownership of the instrument can be transferred in the secondary market.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Borrowings by companies are often backed by securities on the strength of which loans are given by the banks or FIs. A charge is created when security is given for securing loans or debentures by way of a mortgage on the assets of the company. The charge may be fixed or floating. The Companies Act covers the provisions relating to registration, modification, satisfaction of charges, consequences of failure in Registration, delay if any in this regard etc.

The purpose of registration of a charge is to give notice to the Registrar of Companies ("RoC") and to people who intend to advance money to the company about the encumbrance created on the assets of the company. The lender may inspect the RoC files in the MCA Portal. Non registration of charges does not make the transaction invalid, but such charge shall not be taken into account by the liquidators and any other creditors of the company. Section 77-87 read with Companies (Registration of Charges) Rules 2014 deals with Regulatory and Procedural aspects covering registration of charges, condonation of delay by Central Government/ Registrar etc. Maintenance of Register of Charges etc.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the procedure of creation of charges, their registration, modification, satisfaction etc., and their registration aspects.

DEFINITION OF A CHARGE

A charge is a security given for securing loans or debentures by way of a mortgage on the assets of the company. A company, like a natural person, can offer security for its borrowings. Normally, the debentures and other borrowings of the company are secured by a charge on the assets of the company. Where property, both existing and future, is agreed to be made available as a security for the repayment of debt and creditors have a present right to have it made available, there is a charge created. The legal right of the creditor can only be enforced at some future date if certain conditions governing the loan are not met. The creditor gets no legal right either absolute or special to the property charged. He only gets the right to have the security made available/enforced by an order of the Court.

According to Section 2(16) of the Act, “charge” means an interest or lien created on the property or assets of a company or any of its undertakings or both as security and includes a mortgage.

Charge also includes a lien and an equitable charge whether created by an instrument in writing or by the deposit of title deed (Dublin City Distillery Co. v. Deherty, 1914 AC 823).

Kinds of Charges

A charge on the property of the company as security for debts may be of the following kinds, namely:

- (i) Fixed or specific charge;
- (ii) Floating charge.

Fixed or Specific Charge

A charge is called fixed or specific when it is created to cover assets which are ascertained and definite or are capable of being ascertained and defined, at the time of creating the charge e.g., land, building, or plant and machinery. A fixed charge, therefore, is a security in terms of certain specific property, and the company gives up its right to dispose off that property until the charge is satisfied. In other words, the company can deal with such property, subject to the charge so that the charge holder’s interest in the property is not affected and the charge holder gets priority over all subsequent transferees except a bona fide transferee for consideration without notice of the earlier charge. In the winding-up of the company, a debenture holder secured by a specific charge will be placed in the highest ranking class of creditors.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

A charge secured against stock-in-trade is called a fixed charge

- True
- False

Correct Answer: False. It is a floating charge as stock keeps varying.

Floating Charge

A floating charge, as a type of security, is peculiar to companies as borrowers. A floating charge is not attached to any definite property but covers property of a fluctuating type e.g., stock-in-trade and is thus necessarily equitable. A floating charge is a charge on a class of assets present and future which in the ordinary course of business is changing from time to time and leaves the company free to deal with the property as it sees fit until the holders of charge take steps to enforce their security. “The essence of a floating charge is that the security remains dormant until it is fixed or crystallised". But a floating security is not a future security. It is a present security, which presently affects all the assets of the company expressed to be included in it. On the other hand, it is not a specific security; the holder of such charge cannot affirm that the assets are specifically mortgaged to him. The assets are mortgaged in such a way that the mortgagor i.e. the company can deal with them without the concurrence of the mortgagee.

The advantage of a floating charge is that the company may continue to deal in any way with the property which has been charged. The company may sell, mortgage or lease such property in the ordinary course of its business if it is authorised by its memorandum of association.

CASE LAWS

Some Judicial pronouncements about different types of charges

1. Official Liquidator v. Sri Krishna Deo, (1959) 29 Com Cases 476: AIR 1959 All 247 and Roy & Bros. v. Ramnath Das, (1945) 15 Com Cases 69, 75 (Cal)]. The plant and machinery of a company embedded in the earth or permanently fastened to things attached to the earth became a part of the company's immovable property and therefore apart from the registration under the Companies Act, registration under the Indian Registration Act would also be necessary to make the charge valid and effective.
3. Cosslett (Contractors) Ltd., Re, (1996) 1 BCLC 407 (Ch D) A construction company's washing machine which was in use at the site was declared under the terms of the contract to be the employer's property during the period of construction. This was held to have created a fixed charge and not a floating charge on the machine because the machine was only one fixed item and was not likely to change.
4. A "floating security", observed Lord Macnaghten in Government Stock Investment Company Ltd. v. Manila Rly. Company Ltd., (1897) A.C. 81, "is an equitable charge on the assets for the time being of a going concern. It attaches to the subject charged in the varying condition in which it happens to be from time to time. It is the essence of such a charge that it remains dormant until the undertaking charged ceases to be a going concern, or until the person in whose favour the charge is created intervenes".
5. Illingworth & Another v. Holdsworth & Another, (ibid). "A floating charge is ambulatory and shifting in its nature hovering over and so to speak floating with the property which it is intended to affect until some event occurs or act is done which causes it to settle and fasten on the subject of the charge within its reach and grasp.
6. Maturi U. Rao v. Pendyala A.I.R. 1970 A.P. 225 When the floating charge crystallizes it becomes fixed and the assets comprised therein are subject to the same restrictions as the fixed charge.
7. Wheatly v. Silkstone & High Moor Coal Co. Ltd., (1885) 54 L.J. Ch 78. Unless specifically precluded, the company can create fixed charge subsequent to floating charges over the same property.
8. [In Smith v. Bridgend County Borough Council (2002) 1 BCLC 77 (HC), the agreement was held to constitute a floating charge, in so far as it allowed the employer, in various situations of default by the contractor, to sell the contractor's plant and equipment and apply the proceeds in discharge of its obligations. A right to sell an asset belonging to a debtor and appropriate the proceeds to payment of the debt could not be anything other than a charge. It was a floating charge because the property in question was a fluctuating body of assets which could be consumed or removed from the site in the ordinary course of the contractor's business.

9. An assignment of book debts as scrutiny is a mortgage requiring registration. (Ranjit Ray v. David (1935) 5 Comp. Cas 281 (cal)
10. Absolute assignment of future debt is not a charge. (Ashby Warner & Co. v. Simmons (1938) 8 Com Cases 111 (CA)

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

1. The security remains dormant in case of a floating charge until it is crystallized.
2. The owner of a property secured against a floating charge can not deal with the property.
 - True
 - False

Correct Answer: 1. True 2. False

The advantage of a floating charge is that the company may continue to deal in any way with the property which has been charged.

Crystallisation of Floating Charge

A floating charge attaches to the company's property generally and remains dormant till it crystallizes or becomes fixed. The company has a right to carry on its business with the help of assets over which a floating charge has been created till the happening of some event which determines this right. A floating charge crystallises and the security becomes fixed in the following cases:

- (a) when the company goes into liquidation;
- (b) when the company ceases to carry on its business;
- (c) when the creditors or the debenture holders take steps to enforce their security e.g. by appointing receiver to take possession of the property charged;
- (d) on the happening of the event specified in the deed.

In the aforesaid circumstances, the floating charge is said to become fixed or to have crystallised. Until the charge crystallises or attaches or becomes fixed, the company can deal with the property so charged in any manner it likes.

Although a floating charge is a present security, yet it leaves the company free to create a specific mortgage on its property having priority over the floating charge. In Government Stock Investment Co. Ltd. v. Manila Railway Co. Ltd., (1897) A.C. 81, the debentures were secured by a floating charge. Three months' interest became due but the debenture holders took no steps and so the charge did not crystallize but remained floating. The company then made a mortgage of a specific part of its property. Held, the mortgagee had priority. The security for the debentures remained merely a floating security as the debenture holders had taken no steps to enforce their security.

Effect of Crystallisation of a Floating Charge

On crystallization, the floating charge converts itself into a fixed charge on the property of the company. It has priority over any subsequent equitable charge and other unsecured creditors. But preferential creditors who have priority for payment over secured creditors in the winding-up get priority over the claims of the debenture holders having floating charge.

Postponement of a Floating Charge

The creation of a floating charge leaves the company free to create a legal and equitable mortgage on the same property until the floating charge crystallises. Where such a mortgage is created it has priority over the floating charge which gets postponed. The floating charge is postponed in favour of the following persons if they act before the crystallization of the security:

- (a) a landlord who distrains for rent;
- (b) a creditor who obtains a garnishee order absolute²;
- (c) a judgement creditor who attaches goods of the company and gets them sold (But if the goods are not sold and the debenture holders take action in the meantime, the floating charge has priority);
- (d) the employees of the company, as well as other preferential creditors in the event of winding-up of the company;
- (e) the supplier of goods to the company under a hire-purchase agreement on terms that goods are to remain the property of the seller until they are paid for in full, has priority over the floating charge, whether such hire-purchase agreement is made before or after the issue of the debentures with a floating charge.

Debenture-holders with a floating charge do not, therefore, enjoy the same rights as the secured creditors, for claims against the company. The deed creating the floating charge may, however, contain a clause restricting the power of the company to create charges in priority to or pari passu with it. But even in such a case a person who takes mortgage without notice of floating charge gets priority. But such a contingency can be safeguarded by registering the charge. In terms of Section 80 of the Act, where a mortgage or charge on any property or assets of a company or any of its undertakings required to be registered under Section 77 of the Act has been so registered, any person acquiring such property, assets, undertakings or any part thereof or any interest or share therein shall be deemed to have notice of the charge as from the date of such registration.

Restraint on the Power to Create Charges with Priority to a Floating Charge

As the floating charge allows wide powers to the company to deal with its property subject to the floating charge, it is common to insert a clause restricting the powers of the company to create charge with priority to or pari passu with it. Thus, if the company creates a mortgage in favour of any person who has notice of the floating charge and restriction, such person ranks after the floating charge. But a person who obtains a valid mortgage, and can show either (i) that he was not aware of the existence of the floating charge; (ii) that though he was aware of the charge, he was not aware of the restriction, is entitled to priority by virtue of the legal estate. Furthermore, where a specific charge is created expressly subject to a floating charge, the specific charge is postponed as from the date when the floating charge crystallises by the appointment of a receiver.

Invalidity of Floating Charge

A floating charge remains afloat until a winding up commences, unless it has already crystallised through the intervention of the debenture holders or the creditors. Also, a floating charge is valid only against the unsecured creditors, whether in a winding- up or otherwise. But the Act prevents an unsecured creditor to get priority over the other creditors by obtaining a floating charge when he learns that the company's liquidation is imminent.

Accordingly, Section 332 of the Companies Act, 2013, provides that a floating charge on the undertakings or property of the company, which is created within 12 months immediately preceding the commencement of the winding up proceedings of a company, shall be invalid, unless it is proved that the company was solvent immediately after the creation of the charge. But the charge will be valid to the extent of the amount of any cash paid to the company at the time of or after the creation of, and in consideration for the charge, together with interest on that amount at 5 per cent per annum or such other rate as may be notified by the Central Government.

Difference between Mortgage and Charge

S.No	Mortgage	Charge
1	A mortgage is created by the act of the parties.	A charge may be created either through the act of parties or by operation of law.
2	A mortgage requires registration under the Transfer of Property Act, 1882.	A charge created by operation of law does not require registration. But a charge created by act of parties requires registration.
3	A mortgage is for a fixed term.	The charge may be in perpetuity.
4	A mortgage is a transfer of an interest in specific immovable property.	A charge only gives a right to receive payment out of a particular property.
5	A mortgage is good against subsequent transferees.	A charge is good against subsequent transferees with notice.
6	A simple mortgage carries personal liability unless excluded by express contract.	In case of charge, no personal liability is created. But where a charge is the result of a contract, there may be a personal remedy.
7	A mortgage is a transfer of an interest in a specific immovable property.	There is no such transfer of interest in the case of a charge. Charge does not operate as transfer of an interest in the property and a transferee of the property gets the property free from the charge provided he

- When floating charge crystallizes, it becomes fixed.
- The floating charge allows wide powers to the company to deal with its property until such charge crystallizes.
- If the company fails to register particulars of charges within 300 days of its creation, it should make an application to Central Government for condonation of delay.

Allotment of Securities and Issue of Certificates

LESSON OUTLINE

- Allotment of securities
- General principles regarding allotment
- Judicial pronouncements relating to allotment of shares
- Statutory provisions regarding allotment
- Return of allotment
- Share certificate
- Issue of duplicate share certificate
- Calls and forfeiture
- Requisite of a valid call
- Reissue of forfeited shares
- Surrender of shares

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Allotment is an act of appropriation of certain number of securities to those persons who have applied for it. The Certificate conveys the title to the security and is issued subsequent to allotment. The Companies Act, 2013, SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements), Regulations, 2009 (“SEBI ICDR Regulations”), Securities (Contracts) Regulations, etc. provide for procedural aspects as to allotment and issue of Certificates for securities.

In fact, in the present era of compulsory Dematerialization, physical share certificate is a rare phenomenon especially for listed companies which are also governed by Securities and Exchange Board of India (“SEBI”) Regulations, SEBI (Listing Obligations and Requirements) Regulations, 2015 etc. Companies Act 2013(the Act) also mandates public offer of companies and such class of companies as may be prescribed should issue securities only in dematerialized form.

After reading this lesson, you will be able to understand the concepts, regulatory and procedural aspects relating to allotment and issue of certificates in the light of Companies Act 2013 read with Companies (Prospectus and Allotment of Securities) Rules, 2014 and Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014.

SECURITIES

According to 2(81) of Companies Act, 2013 “securities” means the securities as defined in clause (h) of section 2 of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956.

According to 2(84) of the Act, “share” means a share in the share capital of a company and includes stock.

As per Section 2(h) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 “securities” include—

(i) shares, scrips, stocks, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other marketable securities of a like nature in or of any incorporated company or other body corporate;

(ia) derivative;

(ib) units or any other instrument issued by any collective investment scheme to the investors in such schemes;

(ic) security receipt as defined in clause (zg) of section 2 of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002;

(id) units or any other such instrument issued to the investors under any mutual fund scheme;

[Explanation.-- For the removal of doubts, it is hereby declared that "securities" shall not include any unit linked insurance policy or scrips or any such instrument or unit, by whatever name called, which provides a combined benefit risk on the life of the persons and investment by such persons and issued by an insurer referred to in clause (9) of section 2 of the Insurance Act, 1938(4 of 1938).]

(ie) any certificate or instrument (by whatever name called), issued to an investor by any issuer being a special purpose distinct entity which possesses any debt or receivable, including mortgage debt, assigned to such entity, and acknowledging beneficial interest of such investor in such debt or receiveable including mortgage debt, as the case may be;

(ii) Government securities;

(iia) such other instruments as may be declared by the Central Government to be securities; and

(iii) rights or interests in securities;

Thus, the word “securities” includes shares and other instruments.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES REGARDING ALLOTMENT

“Allotment” of shares means the act of appropriation by the Board of directors of the company out of the previously un-appropriated capital of a company of a certain number of shares to persons who have made applications for shares (In Re Calcutta Stock Exchange Association, AIR 1957 Cal. 438). It is on allotment that shares come into existence.

The following general principles should be observed with regard to allotment of securities:

(1) The allotment should be made by proper authority, i.e. the Board Directors of the company, or a committee authorised to allot securities on behalf of the Board.

(2) Allotment of securities must be made within a reasonable time (As per Section 6 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, an offer must be accepted within a reasonable time). What is a reasonable time is a question of fact in each case. An applicant may refuse to take securities if the allotment is made after a long time. (As per Section 56 within a period of two months from the date of allotment in the case of allotment of any of its shares.)

- (3) The allotment should be absolute and unconditional. Securities must be allotted on same terms on which they were applied for and as they are stated in the application for securities. Allotment of securities subject to certain conditions is also not valid. Similarly, if the number of securities allotted is less than those applied for, it cannot be termed as absolute allotment.
- (4) The allotment must be communicated. As mentioned earlier posting of letter of allotment or allotment advice will be taken as a valid communication even if the letter is lost in transit.
- (5) Allotment against application only — Section 2(55) of the Act requires that a person should agree in writing to become a member.
- (6) Allotment should not be in contravention of any other law — If securities are allotted on an application of a minor, the allotment will be void.

CASE LAWS

- (B) It is necessary that the Board should be duly constituted and should pass a valid resolution of allotment at a valid meeting [Homes District Consolidated Gold Mines Re (1888) 39 Ch D 546 (CA)].
- (C) An allotment may be valid even if some defect was there in the appointment of directors but which was subsequently discovered. (Section 290 and the Rule in Royal British Bank v. Turquand (1856) 6 E & B 327 : (1843-60) All ER Rep 435)
- (D) An allotment by a Board irregularly constituted may be subsequently ratified by a regular Board [Portugese Consolidated Copper Mines, (1889) 42 Ch. D 160 (CA)].
- (E) A director who has joined in an allotment to himself will be estopped from alleging the invalidity of the allotment [Yark Tramways Co. v. Willows, (1882) 8 QBD 685 (CA)].

- (H) The mere entry of a shareholder's name in the company's register is insufficient to establish that an allotment was in fact made [Official Liquidator, Bellary Electric Supply Co. v. Kanni Ram Ramwoothmal (1933) 3 Com Cases 45; AIR 1933 Mad 320].
- (I) There can be no proper allotment of shares unless the applicant has been informed of the allotment [British and American Steam Navigation Co. Re. (1870) LR 10 Eq 659].
- (J) A formal allotment is not necessary. It is enough if the applicant is made aware of the allotment. [Universal Banking Corpn. Re. Gunn's Case (1867) 3 Ch App 40].

Judicial Pronouncement about return of Allotment

1. In Sri Gopal Jalan & Co. v. Calcutta Stock Exchange Association Ltd. 1963-(033)-Com Cases-0862-SC, the Supreme Court held that the exchange was not liable to file any return of the forfeited shares under Section 75(1) of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 39 of the Companies Act, 2013] when the same were re-issued. The Court observed that when a share is forfeited and re-issued, there is no allotment, in the sense of appropriation of shares out of the authorised and unappropriated capital and approved the observations of Harries C.J. in S.M. Nandy's case that: "On such forfeiture all that happened was that the right of the particular shareholder disappeared but the shares considered as a unit of issued capital continued to exist and was kept in suspense until another shareholder was found for it".
2. Alote Estate v. R.B. Seth Hiralal Kalyanmal Kasliwal [1970] 40 Com Cases 1116 (SC), In case of inadequacy of consideration, the shares will be treated as not fully paid and the shareholder will be liable to pay for them in full, unless the contract is fraudulent.
3. Harmony and Montage Tin and Copper Mining Company; Spargo's case (1873) 8 Ch. App. 407. Any payment which is presently enforceable against the company such as consideration payable for property purchased, will constitute payment in cash.
4. Chokkalingam v. Official Liquidator AIR 1944 Mad. 87. Allotment of shares against promissory notes shall not be valid.

In terms of Section 46(1) of the Act, a certificate under the common seal, if any, of the company or signed by two directors or by a director and the company secretary, wherever, the company has appointed a company secretary, is prima facie evidence of the title of the person to the shares specified therein. [Section 56(6)]

Significance of Share Certificate

A certificate of shares is evidence to the effect that the allottee is holding a certain number of shares of the company showing their nominal and paid-up value and distinctive numbers. This certificate is a prime facie evidence of title to the shares in the possession of shareholders. [Society Generale De Paris v. Walker, (1885) 11A AC 20, 29].

Moreover, when the company issues a certificate, it holds that the facts contained therein are true. Any person acting on the faith of the share certificate of the company, can compel the company to pay compensation for any damage caused by reason of any misstatement in the share certificate as the company is bound by any statements made in the certificate.

Share certificate is the only documentary evidence of title and that the share certificate is a declaration by the company that the person in whose name the certificate is issued is a shareholder in the company. [Ghanshyam Chhaturbhuj v. Industrial Ceramics (Pvt.) Ltd. (1995) 4 Com LJ 51].

Also the company cannot dispute the amount mentioned on the certificate as already paid. [Bloomenthal v. Ford (1897) AC 156 (HL)].

Damages against Company and Directors for wrong certificates

As already mentioned, a person acting on the share certificate issued by the company may recover compensation for the damages suffered by him. The measure of damage is the value of the shares at the time of the refusal by the company to recognise him as a shareholder together with interest from that date. [Bahla and San Francisco Rly. Co., (1868) LR 3 QB 584].

Where directors issue a certificate of title of shares which the company has no power to issue, they may be held personally liable to damages on an implied warranty of authority to any person who acts on such certificate.

Split Certificate

A split certificate means a separate certificate claimed by a shareholder for a portion of his holding. The advantages of a split certificate are that the shareholder may benefit in case of a transfer by way of sale or mortgage in small lots and the right to multiply the certificates into as many shares held by the shareholder.

Purpose and Form of Share Certificate

With the help of a share certificate a member of a company may deal with his shares in the market whether it is one of sale, mortgage or pledge by showing a good prima facie marketable title to the shares. A share certificate is a documentary evidence of title to shares in the possession of the shareholder. It is a prima facie evidence of his title to the shares.

Section 46(4) provides that where a share is held in depository form, the record of the depository is the prima facie evidence of the interest of the beneficial owner.

Let us Remember !

Every certificate of share or shares shall be in Form No. SH.1 or as near thereto as possible.

The particulars of every share certificate issued shall be entered forthwith in a Register of Renewed and Duplicate Share Certificates maintained in Form No.SH.2

Whether Share Certificate an Official Publication

The question whether a share certificate is an official publication within the meaning of Section 12(3)(c) was considered by the Department of Company Affairs (Now, Ministry of Corporate Affairs) and the Department has clarified vide Circular No. 3/73[8/10(47)]/72-CL-V dated 3.2.1973 as follows:

“It will be seen that in terms of Section 82 [Corresponds to section 44 of the Companies Act, 2013], the shares in a company are movable property transferable in the manner provided in the articles of the company.

Section 84 [Corresponds to section 46 of the Companies Act, 2013] provides that a certificate under the common seal of the company specifying any share held by any member shall be prima facie evidence of the title of the member to such share.(with the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2015 coming into force the common seal is no more mandatory, The implications and signatories have been discussed earlier)

Thus, shares are movable property transferable in the manner provided in the articles of the company and that the share certificates are certificates of title and are movable property but are not publications in the nature of prospectus, balance sheet, profit and loss account, notice or advertisement.

The conclusion reached, therefore, is that the share certificate is not an official publication within the meaning of Section 12(3)(c) of Companies Act, 2013.

Legal Effect of Share Certificate

We have already stated that a share certificate is prima facie evidence to the title of the person whose name is entered on it. It means that the share certificate is a statement by the company that the moment when it was issued, the person named in it was the legal owner of the shares specified in it, and those shares were paid-up to the extent stated. It does not constitute title but it is merely evidence of title. It is, however a statement of considerable importance, for it is made with the knowledge that other persons may act upon it in the belief that it is true and this fact brings into operation the doctrine of estoppel. As a result, a share certificate once issued by the company binds it in two ways, namely:

- (a) by estoppel as to title, and
- (b) by estoppel as to payment.

Estoppel as to Title: A share certificate once issued binds the company in two ways. In the first place, it is a declaration by the company to the entire world that the person in whose name the certificate is made out and to whom it is given is a shareholder in the company. In other words the company is estopped from denying his title to the shares.

Estoppel as to Payment: If the certificate states that on each of the shares full amount has been paid, the company is estopped as against a bona fide purchaser of the shares, from alleging that they are not fully paid.

If a person knows that the statements in a certificate are not true, he cannot claim an estoppel against the company Barrow case (1880) 14 Ch D 432: 42LT 891CA.

Despite everything, a certificate must be issued by someone who has the authority. For example, where the secretary forged the signature of two directors in a company, the company had refused to register the holder of shares as a member. Further a certificate is not evidence as to the equitable interest in shares. Also, where an individual is aware of the false statements in a certificate, he will not be entitled to claim an estoppel.

Personation of Shareholder

Section 57 of the Companies Act provides that if any person deceitfully personates as an owner of any security or interest in a company, or of any share warrant or coupon issued in pursuance of this Act, and thereby obtains or attempts to obtain any such security or interest or any such share warrant or coupon, or receives or attempts to receive any money due to any such owner, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than one year but which may extend to three years and with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees.

CALLS AND FORFEITURE

Calls

A company issuing shares to its members may call the money due on shares at intervals depending upon the requirements for funds for implementing the project and the shareholders also prefer to pay the nominal value on their shares in installments as and when demanded by the company.

A call is a demand, by the company in pursuance of a Board resolution and in accordance with the articles of the company, upon its shareholders to pay the whole or part of the balance still due on each class of shares allotted or held by them made at any time during the life of the company. A call may also be made by the liquidator in the course of winding up of the company. The amount payable in application on each share shall not be less than five per cent of the nominal amount of the share. The balance may be payable as and when called for in one or more calls. The prospectus and the articles of a company generally specify the amount payable at different times, as call(s).

Under Section 10(2) of the Act all moneys payable by any member to the company on the shares held by him under the memorandum or articles is a debt due from him to the company. In the event of default in payment of a valid call, the company can enforce payment of such moneys by legal process and forfeit the shares in case the call is not paid. The liability of members is enforceable only after a proper notice which is called 'call letter' or call notice as 1st, 2nd and final or so on, is given to him in accordance with the articles.

Requisites of a Valid Call

1. Board of Directors to make call(s) on shares

The power to make calls is exercised by the Board in its meeting by means of a resolution [Section 179(3)(a)]. The Board, in making a call, must observe the provisions of the articles, otherwise the call will be invalid, and the shareholder is not bound to pay. A proper notice must be given, and the notice must specify the amount called up and manner i.e. the date for payment and place and to whom it is to be paid. It may be emphasised that the time and place at which the call is to be paid are essential ingredients of a valid call.

Apart from this rule, "in making call, care must be taken that the directors making it are duly appointed and qualified; the meeting of the directors has been duly convened; proper quorum was present, and that the resolution making the call was duly passed and specifies the amount of the call, the time and place of payment.

2. Call(s) to be made bonafide in the interest of the company

The power to make call is in the nature of trust and must be exercised only for the benefit of the company, and not for the private ends of the directors. If the call is made for the personal benefit of directors, the call will be invalid. In Alexander v. Automatic Telephone Co., (1900) 2 Ch. 56, the directors of the company paid nothing on their shares but did not disclose this fact to the shareholders and called on them to pay certain amount partly as allotment money and partly as call money. The directors were held guilty of breach of trust and the call was held invalid.

3. Call(s) must be made on uniform basis

According to Section 49 of the Act, calls on same class of shares must be made on a uniform basis. Hence a call cannot be made only on some of the members unless they constitute a separate class. In other words, there cannot be any discrimination between shareholders of the same class as regards amount and time of payment of call.

4. Notice of call(s)

The notice of call must specify the exact amount and time of payment. In Shackleyford & Co. Dangerfield (1868) (R3 CP 407) the notice had specified the time and amount to be paid as a call, it will be a valid call inspite of the fact that the form of notice was an inaccurate one. A call must be made by serving upon member formal notice in accordance with the provisions of Section 53 of Companies Act, 1956 (Corresponding to Section 20 of Companies Act, 2013).

5. Time limitations for receiving the call money

If the issuer proposes to receive subscription monies in calls, it shall ensure that the outstanding subscription money is called within twelve months from the date of allotment of the issue.

Usually Articles of association of companies provide for the manner in which calls should be made. They follow the pattern set out in Regulations 13 to 18 of Table-F of Schedule-I appended to the Companies Act, 2013:-.

310EP-CL

- (a) For each call at least 14 days notice must be given to members.
- (b) An interval of one month is required between two successive calls and not more than one-fourth of the nominal value of shares can be called at one time. However, companies may have their own articles and raise the limit.
- (c) The Board of directors has the power to revoke or postpone a call after it is made.
- (d) Joint shareholders are jointly and severally liable for payment of calls.
- (e) If a member fails to pay call money he is liable to pay interest not exceeding the rate specified in the articles or terms of issue or such lower rate, as the Board may determine. The directors are free to waive the payment of interest wholly or in part.
- (f) If any member desires to pay the call money in advance, the directors may at their discretion accept and pay interest not exceeding the rate specified in the articles.
- (g) A defaulting member will not have any voting right till call money is paid by him.

Interest on calls due but not paid — A member is generally made liable to pay interest on the calls made but not paid. The rate of interest to be charged is as specified in the Articles. Regulation 16 of Table F, in this regard provides:

- "16(i) If a sum called in respect of a share is not paid before or on the day appointed for payment thereof, the person from whom the sum is due shall pay interest thereon from the day appointed for payment thereof to the time of actual payment at 10% per annum or at such lower rate, if any, as the Board may determine.
- (ii) The Board shall be at liberty to waive payment of any such interest wholly or in part."

Acceptance of uncalled capital

Section 50(1) states that if authorized by its articles, a company may accept from any member the whole or part of the amount remaining unpaid on any shares held by him, even if no part of that amount has been called up.

Where section 50(2) provides that a member who has paid the whole or part of the amount remaining unpaid on the shares held by him even though the company has not made a call for it is not entitled for any voting right at a general meeting on the amount so paid until that amount has been called up

Quantum and Interval between two calls

Proviso to Regulation 13(i) to the Table 'F' of Schedule I of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that no call shall exceed 25% of the nominal value of the share or be payable at less than one month from the date fixed for the payment of the last proceeding call.

If the issuer proposes to receive subscription monies in calls, it shall ensure that the outstanding subscription money is called within twelve months from the date of allotment of the issue and if any applicant fails to pay the call money within the said twelve months, the equity shares on which there are calls in arrear along with the subscription money already paid on such shares shall be forfeited. However, it shall not be necessary to call the outstanding subscription money within twelve months, if the issuer has appointed a monitoring agency in terms of regulation 16 of SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2009.

Regulation 16 of ICDR provides that if the issue size exceeds five hundred crore rupees, the issuer shall make arrangements for the use of proceeds of the issue to be monitored by a public financial institution or by one of the scheduled commercial banks named in the offer document as bankers of the issuer. However, nothing contained in this clause shall apply to an offer for sale or an issue of specified securities made by a bank or public financial institution or an insurance company.

Forfeiture of Shares

Forfeiture may be termed as penalty for violation of terms of contract. Forfeiture of shares means taking back of shares by the company from the shareholders. If the shareholder makes default in payment of calls on shares, then the company can use the option of forfeiting the shares. For a valid forfeiture, satisfaction of following conditions is necessary: -

1. Articles of Association must authorise the forfeiture of shares. Where power is given in the articles, it must be exercised in accordance with the regulation regarding notice, procedure and manner stated therein; otherwise the forfeiture will be void. The power of forfeiture must be exercised bona fide and in the interest of the company. It should not be collusive or fraudulent. If Articles authorise, the forfeiture shall include forfeiture of all dividends declared in respect of the forfeited shares and such dividend is not actually paid before the forfeiture of the shares.
2. Resolution for Forfeiture - Article 30 of the Table F provides that if the defaulting shareholder does not pay the amount within the specified time as required by the notice, the directors may pass a resolution forfeiting the shares.
3. Proper Notice - Before the shares of a member are forfeited, a proper notice to that effect must have been served. Regulation 29 of Table F provides that a notice shall name a further day (not less than 14 days from the date of service of the notice) on or before which the payment is to be made. The notice must also mention that in the event of non payment, the shares will be liable to be forfeited.
4. Power of forfeiture must be exercised bona fide and for the benefit of the company - The power to forfeit be exercised bona fide and for the benefit of the company. The power must be used in order to coerce reluctant shareholders into paying their calls. The power of forfeiture cannot be exercised to relieve unwilling shareholders from the liability of making the payment. Such a shareholder continues to be responsible for the unpaid part of the shares.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

Articles of Association must authorize forfeiture of shares.

- True
- False

Correct Answer: True

When forfeiture of shares takes place, shareholder ceases to be a member and the forfeited shares become the property of the company. Regulation 32(ii) of Table F further provides that the liability of a person whose shares have been forfeited ceases if and when the company receives payment in full of all such monies in respect of the shares forfeited. If liquidation takes place, the original holder shall remain liable as a past member to pay calls within one year of forfeiture. However, a company cannot recover from him more than the difference between the amount payable and the amount received on forfeited shares.

In case, the defaulting shareholder approaches the Board to cancel the forfeiture, the Board is empowered to cancel such forfeiture and claim the due amount with interest.

CASE LAWS

Some Legal Pronouncement about forfeiture of shares

1. Shah J. in Naresh Chandra Sanyal v. Calcutta Stock Exchange Assn. Ltd. AIR 1971 SC 422, As per Regulation 29 of Table A [Corresponds to Regulation 28 of Table F of Schedule I to the Companies Act, 2013], shares can be forfeited only against non-payment of any call, or instalments of a call. The Articles of a company may, however, lawfully incorporate any other grounds of forfeiture.
2. Linkmen Services (P.) Ltd. v. Tapas Sinha (2008) 83 SCL 143 (CAL), a company amended its articles of association for the purpose of (i) forfeiting the shares of any defaulting member and (ii) expelling member who desert the company by not doing business with it. The respondents challenged the above amendments on the grounds of oppression. The CLB (Replaced by the Tribunal under the Companies Act, 2013) held that the articles of company could not empower to forfeit the shares on account of dues other than unpaid calls. The appellant company appealed to the High Court. Allowing the appeal the Court held that forfeiture on grounds as mentioned in the articles of company is not alien to corporate jurisprudence as the CLB found in the impugned judgment. It is a power that the articles can confer.
3. Hope v. International Finance Society (1876) 4 Ch. D 598. Where the articles authorise the directors to forfeit the shares of a shareholder, who commences an action against the company or the directors, by making a payment of the full market value of his shares, it was held that such a clause was invalid as it was against the rights of a shareholder.
4. Re Exparto Trading Co. [1879] 12 Ch. D 191 Where two directors were allotted qualification shares, without any payment, and these shares were forfeited by a Board resolution passed at the request of those two directors, the forfeiture was held to be invalid and the directors were held liable to pay the nominal value of the shares.
5. Public Passenger Services Ltd. v. M.A. Khader 1966 1 Comp LJ 1: A proper notice is a condition precedent to the forfeiture, and even the slightest defect in the notice will invalidate the forfeiture.
6. Johnson v. Lyttle's Iron Agency 1877 Ch D 687. The notice should mention that the payment of interest should be made from the date of the call.
7. Sparks v. Liverpool Water Works Co., 1807 13 Ves 428. Accidental non receipt of notice of forfeiture by the defaulter is not a ground for relief against forfeiture regularly effected.
8. Sha Mulchand & Co. v. Jawahar Mills Ltd. 1953 23 Com Cases 1 (SC). Even a slight irregularity in effecting a forfeiture would be fatal and render the forfeiture null and void. The aggrieved shareholder may bring an action for setting aside the forfeiture as well as for damages. Mere waiver or acquiescence would not deprive him of his rights against an invalid forfeiture of his shares.
9. Sha Mulchand & Co. v. Jawahar Mills (supra). After shares have been forfeited, no further notice intimating forfeiture is required.

Re-issue of Forfeited Shares

Shares forfeited by a company may either be cancelled or re-issued to another person at the discretion of the Board. This is done by a Board resolution. After the money due is received from the new member(s), the company executes a transfer deed and issues a share certificate, and if the original holder has already surrendered the share certificate, it is duly transferred, otherwise after a public notice in a newspaper, a new share certificate is issued.

If the shares are re-issued at a price more than the face value, the excess of the proceeds of sale is not payable to the former owner, if the articles provide otherwise (Calcutta Stock Exchange Assn. Ltd Re AIR 1957 Cal 438). The excess of the proceeds so retained shall constitute a premium and must therefore be transferred to the securities premium account. However, in the case of Naresh Chandra Sanyal v. Calcutta Stock Exchange Ass. Ltd., AIR 1971 SC 422, Supreme Court held that, where the articles are silent with regard to such surplus, the right of a company upon the forfeiture and sale of forfeited shares is to use the proceeds for discharging the liability for which the forfeiture was effected and if there is any balance, it belongs to the defaulter and cannot be appropriated by the company.

Where the forfeited shares are re-issued, the new shareholders will not only be liable for the balance amount remaining on the shares but he will also not be entitled to voting rights so long as calls payable by the original shareholder remain unpaid, if the company's articles so provide, as stated in Section 106.

A listed company for reissuing forfeited shares should comply with the relevant clause of the listing agreement and due approval of the regional stock exchange and others as well.

Surrender of shares

A company cannot accept a surrender of its shares "as every surrender of shares, whether fully paid-up or not involves a reduction of capital which is unlawful...forfeiture is a statutory exception and is the only exception". [Bellerby v. Rowland and Marwood's S.S. Co. Ltd., (1902) 2 Ch 14]. But a surrender may be dealt with in the manner indicated in Re Castiglione's Willtrusts, Hunter v. Mackenzie, (1958) 1 All ER 480 viz., directing that the shares be held in the name of a nominee as trustee for the company. However, a surrender can be accepted in circumstances absolutely parallel to the requirements of a forfeiture, the only difference being that instead of going to the length of the formalities of a forfeiture, the company accepts in good faith in its own interest the shares which the shareholder is voluntarily surrendering. The other advantage to the company is that the shareholder becomes estopped from questioning the validity. [Collector of Moradabad v. Equity Insurance Co. Ltd., AIR 1948 Oudh 197].

LESSON ROUND-UP

- Allotment means the act of appropriation by the Board of directors of the company of a certain number of securities to persons who have made applications for securities.
- The allotment should be made by proper authority, within a reasonable time, should be absolute and unconditional, must be communicated, should be against application only and should not be in contravention of any other law.
- The Companies Act lays down certain conditions under various sections to be fulfilled before a company can proceed to allot securities such as making an application for getting the securities listed u/s 40, filing prospectus before allotment, minimum subscription,
- If the allotment is made without complying with the conditions as discussed above, allotment is said to be irregular and it will result to the consequences depending upon the nature of irregularity.
- After allotment of securities, a return of allotment in the Form PAS-3 is required to be filed with Registrar of Companies within 30 days of allotment of securities.
- Share certificate is not an official publication within the meaning of Section 12(3)(c) of the Act.
- A call is a demand by the company upon its shareholders to pay the whole or part of the balance still due on each class of shares allotted, made at any time during the life of the company.
- If a member fails to pay a valid call within the stipulated time, the company may exercise the power to forfeit the shares.

- Shares forfeited by a company may either be cancelled or re-issued to another person at the discretion of the Board.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The membership in a company is obtained through subscribing to the memorandum, through allotment/transfer/transmission etc. The membership rights enable the member to participate into the affairs of the company through general meeting.

The Companies Act 2013 prescribes aspects as to the mode of acquisition of membership, eligibility criteria, minimum number of members, rights and liabilities of members.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the status of members, membership rights, modes of acquisition of membership, register and records to be maintained, consequences of Regulatory non-compliances etc.

WHO ARE MEMBERS?

A company is composed of members, though it has its own separate legal entity. The members of a company are the persons who, for the time being, constitute the company, as a corporate entity.

In the case of a company limited by shares, the shareholders are the members. The terms “members” and “shareholders” are usually used interchangeably, being synonymous, as there can be no membership except through the medium of shareholding. Thus, generally speaking every shareholder is a member and every member is a shareholder. However, there may be exceptions to this statement, e.g., a person may be a holder of share(s) by transfer but will not become its member until the transfer is registered in the books of the company in his favour and his name is entered in the register of members. Similarly, a member who has transferred his shares, though he does not hold any shares yet he continues to be member of the company until the transfer is registered and his name is removed from the register of members maintained by the company under Section 88 of the Companies Act, 2013.

In Herdilia Unimers Ltd. v. Renu Jain [1995] 4 Comp. LJ. 45 (Raj.), it was held that the moment the shares were allotted and share certificate signed and the name entered in the register of members, the allottee became the shareholder, irrespective of whether the allottee received the shares or not.

In a company limited by guarantee, the persons who are liable under the guarantee clause in its Memorandum of Association are members of the company.

In an unlimited company, the members are the persons who are liable to the company, each in proportion to the extent of their interests in the company, to contribute the sums necessary to discharge in full, the debts and liabilities of the company, in the event of its being wound-up.

Definition of ‘Member’

According to Section 2(55) of the Companies Act, 2013, member, in relation to a company, means,

- (1) The subscribers to the memorandum of a company who shall be deemed to have agreed to become members of the company, and on its registration, shall be entered as members in its register of members;
- (2) Every other person who agrees in writing to become a member of a company and whose name is entered in its register of members shall, be a member of the company;
- (3) Every person holding shares of a company and whose name is entered as a beneficial owner in the records of a depository shall be deemed to be a member of the concerned company.

Accordingly, there are two important elements which must be present before a person can acquire membership of a company viz., (i) agreement to become a member; and (ii) entry of the name of the person so agreeing, in the register of members of the company. Both these conditions are cumulative. [Balkrishan Gupta v. Swadeshi Polytex Ltd. (1985) 58 Com Cases 563].

The person desirous of becoming a member of a company must have the legal capacity of entering into an agreement in accordance with the provisions of the Indian Contract Act, 1972. Section 11 of the Indian Contract Act lays down that Every person is competent to contract who:-

- (i) is of the age of majority according to the law to which he is subject.
- (ii) is of sound mind.
- (iii) is not disqualified from contracting by any law to which he is subject.

MODES OF ACQUIRING MEMBERSHIP

As per Section 2(55) of the Companies Act, 2013, a person may acquire the membership of a company:

- (a) by subscribing to the Memorandum of Association (deemed agreement); or
- (b) by agreeing in writing to become a member:
 - (i) by making an application to the company for allotment of shares; or
 - (ii) by executing an instrument of transfer of shares as transferee; or
 - (iii) by consenting to the transfer of share of a deceased member in his name; or
 - (iv) by acquiescence or estoppel.
- (c) by holding shares of a company and whose name is entered as beneficial owner in the records of a depository (Under the Depositories Act, 1996) and on his name being entered in the register of members of company. Also every such person holding shares of the company and whose name is entered as beneficial owner in the records of the depository shall be deemed to be the member of the concerned company.

LET US REMEMBER!

The holder of shares of the company whose name has been entered as beneficial owner in the records of a depository shall be deemed to be a member of the concerned company.

(a) Subscribers to the Memorandum

In the case of a subscriber, no application or allotment is necessary to become a member. By virtue of his subscribing to the memorandum, he is deemed to have agreed to become a member and he becomes ipso facto member on the incorporation of the company and is liable for the shares he has subscribed.

A subscriber to the memorandum cannot rescind the contract for the purchase of shares even on the ground of fraud by the promoters. In Re. Metal Constituents Co., (1902) 1.Ch. 707.

In accordance with the provisions of Section 10(2) of the Companies Act, 2013, all monies payable by any member to the company under the memorandum or articles shall be debt due from him to the company. Further, a subscriber to the memorandum must pay for his shares in cash even if the promoters have promised him the shares for services rendered in connection with the promotion of the company. Again, he must take the shares directly from the company, and not through transfer from other member(s). When a person signs a memorandum for any number of shares he becomes absolutely bound to take those shares and no delay will relieve him from that liability unless he fulfills the obligation. His liability remains right up to the time when the company goes into liquidation and he is bound to bring the money for which he is liable to pay to the creditors of the company.

(b) Agreement in Writing

(i) By an application and allotment

A person who applies for shares becomes a member when shares are allotted to him, a notice of allotment is issued to him and his name is entered on the register of members. The general law of contract applies to this transaction. There is an offer to take shares and acceptance of this offer when the shares are allotted. An application for shares may be absolute or conditional. If it is absolute, an allotment and its notice to the applicant will be sufficient acceptance. On the other hand, if the offer is conditional, the allotment must be made according to be condition as contained in the application. If there is conditional application and unconditional allotment, there is no contract.

(ii) By transfer of shares

Shares in a company are movable property as provided in Section 44 of the Companies Act, 2013 and are transferable in the manner as provided in the articles of the company and as provided in Section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013. A person can become a member by acquiring shares from an existing member and by having the transfer of shares registered in the books of the company, i.e. by getting his name entered in the register of members of the company.

(iii) By transmission of shares

A person may become a member of a company by operation of law i.e. if he succeeds to the estate of a deceased member. Membership by this method is a legal consequence. On the death of a member, his executor or the person who is entitled under the law to succeed to his estate, gets the right to have the shares transmitted and registered in his name in the company's register of members. No instrument of transfer is necessary in this case. If the legal representative of deceased member desires to be registered as a member in place of the deceased member, the company shall do so or in the alternative he may request the company to transfer the shares in the name of another person of his choice. The Official Assignee or Official Receiver is likewise entitled to be a member in place of the shareholder, who has been adjudged insolvent.

(iv) By acquiescence or estoppels

A person is deemed to be a member of a company if he allows his name, without sufficient cause, to be on the register of members of the company or otherwise holds himself out or allows himself to be held out as a member. In such a case, he is estopped from denying his membership. He can, however, escape his liability by taking prompt action for having his name removed from the register of members on permissible grounds.

(c) Holding Shares as Beneficial Owner in the Records of Depository.

Every person holding shares of the company and whose name is entered as a beneficial owner in the records of the depository shall be deemed to be a member of the concerned company.

WHO MAY BECOME A MEMBER

Subject to the Memorandum and Articles, any sui juris (a person who is competent to contract) except the company itself, can become a member of a company. However, it is important to note the following points in relation to certain organizations and persons:

(a) Company as a member of another company: A company is a legal person and so is competent to contract. Therefore, it can become a member of any other company. However, it must be authorised by its Memorandum of Association to invest in the shares of that company or any other company. Also a company cannot become a member of itself. As per section 19 of the Companies Act, 2013, a subsidiary company cannot become a member of its holding company. However, a subsidiary can hold shares in its holding company only under the following exceptional circumstances—

- (i) where the subsidiary company holds such shares as the legal representative of a deceased member of the holding company; or

- (ii) where the subsidiary company holds such shares as a trustee; or
- (iii) where the subsidiary company is a shareholder even before it became a subsidiary company of the holding company.

(b) Partnership firm as a member: A partnership firm is not a legal person and as such it cannot, in its own name, become a member of a company except in company registered u/s 8 of Companies Act, 2013.

(c) Limited Liability Partnership, being an incorporated body under the statute, can become a member of a company.

(d) Section 8 Company: A non-profit making company licensed under Section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013 can become a member of another company if it is authorised by its Memorandum of Association to invest into shares of the other company.

(e) Foreigners as members: A foreigner may take shares in an Indian company and become a member subject to the provisions of the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999, but in the event of war with his country, he becomes an alien enemy and his power of voting and his rights to receive notices are suspended.

(f) Minor as member: A member who is not a sui juris e.g., a minor, is wholly incompetent to enter into a contract and as such cannot become a member of a company. Consequently, an agreement by a minor to take shares is void ab-initio.

It has been held by the Company Law Board (replaced by the Tribunal under the Companies Act, 2013) that an agreement in writing for a minor to become a member may be signed on behalf of the minor by his lawful guardian and the registration of transfer of shares in the name of the minor, acting through his or her guardian, especially where the shares are fully paid cannot be refused on the ground of the transferee being a minor [Miss Nandita Jain v. Bennett Coleman and Co. Ltd., Appeal No. 27 of 1972 dated 17.2.78].

After attaining majority, the minor, if he does not want to be a member, must repudiate his liability on the shares on ground of minority, and if he does so, the company can not plead estoppel on the ground of his having received dividends during his minority or that he had fraudulently misrepresented his age in his application for shares [Sadiq Ali v. Jai Kishori, (1928) 30 Bom. L.R. 1346].

If shares are transferred to a minor, the transferor will remain liable for all future calls on such shares so long as they are held by the minor even if the transferor was ignorant of his minority. If the company knows of his minority it may refuse to register the transfer, unless the transfer was made through the guardian.

(g) Insolvent as member: An insolvent may be a member of a company as long as he is on the register of members. He is entitled to vote, but he loses all beneficial interest in the shares and company will pay dividend on his shares to the Official Assignee or Receiver [Morgan v. Gray, (1953) All E.R. 213].

(h) Pawnee: A pawnee has no right of foreclosure since he never had the absolute ownership at law and his equitable title cannot exceed what is specifically granted by law. In this sense, a pledge differs from a mortgage. In view of the above, a pawnee cannot be treated as the holder of the shares pledged in his favour, and the pawner continues to be a member and can exercise the rights of a member [Balakrishna Gupta v. Swadeshi Polytex Ltd., (1985) 58 Com Cases 563 (S.C.)].

(i) Receiver: A receiver whose name is not entered in the register of members cannot exercise any of the membership rights attached to a share unless in a proceeding to which company is a party and an order is made therein. Mere appointment of a receiver in respect of certain shares of a company without more rights cannot, deprive the holder of the shares whose name is entered in the register of members of the company, the right to vote at the meeting of the company [Balakrishna Gupta v. Swadeshi Polytex Ltd., (1985) 58 Com Cases 563 (S.C.)].

(j) Persons taking shares in fictitious names: A person who takes shares in the name of a fictitious person, becomes liable as a member besides incurring criminal liability under Section 38 of the Act, wherein punishment is provided for commission of fraud. As per section 447, any person who is found guilty of fraud, is punishable with imprisonment which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to ten years and also liable to pay fine which shall not be less than the amount involved in the fraud, but which may extend to three times the amount involved in the fraud. However, where the fraud in question involves public interest, the term of imprisonment shall not be less than three years.

(k) Trade Union as member: A trade union registered under the Trade Union Act, can be registered as a member and can hold shares in a company in its own corporate name [All India Bank Officers Confederation v. Dhanlakshmi Bank Ltd., (1997) 90 Com Cases 225].

LET US REMEMBER!

Partnership cannot become a member of a company, whereas Limited Liability Partnership, being an incorporated body can become member of a company.

Clarification regarding status of a holder of Global Depository Receipts (GDRs):

It is clarified by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, vide Circular No.1/2009 No.17/67/2009 CL-V dated 16/6/2009 that:

(a) As per section 41(1) and (2) of the Companies Act, 1956, [Corresponds to section 2(55) (i) & (ii) of the Companies Act, 2013] a person is a member of the company, (i) who is a subscriber to the Memorandum or (ii) whose name has been entered in the register of members. Since, holder of Global Depository Receipts is neither the subscriber to the Memorandum nor a holder of the shares, his name cannot be entered in the Register of Members. Therefore, a holder of Global Depository Receipts cannot be called a member of the company.

(b) As per Section 41(3) of the Companies Act, 1956, [Corresponds to section 2(55) (i) & (ii) of the Companies Act, 2013] a person holding a share capital of the company and whose name is entered as beneficial owner in the records of the depository, is deemed to be a member of the company. Since the Overseas Depository Bank as referred in the 'Scheme' is neither the Depository as defined in the Companies Act, 1956 and the Depository Act, 1996 nor holding the share capital, therefore, it cannot be deemed to be a member of the company.

(c) A holder of Global Depository Receipts may become a member of the company only on transfer/redemption of the GDR into underlying equity shares after following the procedure provided in the "Scheme"/ provisions of the Companies Act.

(d) Since the underlying shares are allotted in the name of Overseas Depository Bank, the name of such Overseas Depository Bank is to be entered in the Register of Members of the issuing company. However, until transfer/redemption of such GDR's into underlying shares, Overseas Depository Bank cannot be considered a nominee of the holder of GDR for the purpose of Section 42 read with Section 41 of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 19 read with section 2(55) of the Companies Act, 2013].

LET US REMEMBER!

When the holder of GDR redeems the same into underlying shares, he/she becomes the member.

Joint Members

If more than one person apply for shares in a company and shares are allotted to them, each one of such applicant becomes a member (Narandas v. India Mfg. Co., A.I.R. 1953 Bom. 433]. Unless the Articles of the company otherwise provide, joint members can insist on having their names registered in any order they may require. They may also have their holding split into several joint holdings with their names in different orders so that all of them may have a right to vote as first named holding in one or the other joint holdings. Burns v. Siemens Brothers Dynamo Works Ltd. (1919) 1 Ch. 225.

Registration of Shares in the name of Public Office

The Companies Act, 2013 contains no provisions with regard to the registration of shares in the name of a public office. Shares cannot, therefore, be registered in the names of public offices like the Collector of Central Excise or the Commissioner of Income-tax etc. Similar observations apply to the holder of any other public office which is not a corporation sole constituted by statute, e.g., the Administrators General Act, 1963) (Clarification issued by the Department of Company Affairs now Ministry of Corporate Affairs).

Section 2(55)(ii) provides that a 'person' (other than a subscriber of the memorandum) can become a member. The term 'person' has been held to include, among others, a corporation sole.

A "corporation sole" is a corporation constituted in a single person who in the right of some office or function and has corporate status. The object of corporation sole is to make it possible to distinguish the holder of an office or function in his official and in his private capacity. By this fiction of law, it is possible to attach rights and duties to the holder, for the time being, of the office or functions to convey real or personal property to him in his official name and style. In short, a corporation sole has the same characteristics of perpetual succession and separation of rights and duties of the corporate body from those of the corporate as all corporations possess.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

A public company does not have any restriction regarding the maximum number of members.

- True

Correct answer: True

5. CESSATION OF MEMBERSHIP

A person ceases to be a member of a company when his name is removed from its register of members, which may occur in any of the following situations:

- (a) He transfers his shares to another person, the transfer is registered by the company and his name is removed from the register of members;
- (b) His shares are forfeited;
- (c) His shares are sold by the company to enforce a lien;
- (d) He dies; (his estate, however, remains liable for calls);
- (e) He is adjudged insolvent and the Official Assignee disclaims his shares;
- (f) His redeemable preference shares are redeemed;
- (g) He rescinds the contract of membership on the ground of fraud or misrepresentation or a genuine mistake;
- (h) His shares are purchased either by another member or by the company itself under an order of the Tribunal under Section 242 of the Companies Act, 2013;
- (i) The member is a company which is being wound-up in India, and the liquidator disclaims the shares;
- (j) The company is wound up; or

Though one ceases to be a member, he remains liable as a contributory and is also entitled to share in the surplus, if any.

Expulsion of a Member

A controversy had arisen as to whether a public limited company had powers to insert an article in its Articles of Association relating to expulsion of a member by the Board of Directors of the company where the directors were of the view that the activities or conduct of such a member was detrimental to the interests of the company.

The Department of Company Affairs (now, Ministry of Corporate Affairs) clarified that an article for expulsion of a member is opposed to the fundamental principles of the Company Jurisprudence and is ultra vires the company, the reason being that such a provision against the provisions of the Companies Act relating to the rights of a member in a company, the powers of the Central Government as an appellate authority under Section 111 of the Act and the powers of the Court under Sections 107, 395 and 397 of the Companies Act, 1956. [These sections correspond to sections 58, 48, 235 and 241 of the Companies Act, 2013 respectively.]

According to Section 6 of the Companies Act, 2013, the Act overrides the Memorandum and Articles of Association and any provision contained in these documents repugnant to the provisions of the Companies Act, is void.

The Department of Company Affairs (now MCA) has, therefore, clarified that any assumption of the powers by the Board of Directors to expel a member by alteration of Articles of Association shall be illegal and void.

The Supreme Court in the case of Bajaj Auto Ltd. v. N.K. Firodia [1971] 41 Com Cases 1 has laid down the law as to the conditions on the basis of which directors could refuse a person to be admitted as a member of the company. The principles laid down by the Supreme Court in this case, even though pertain to the refusal by a company to the admission of a person as a member of the company, are applicable even with greater force to a case of expulsion of an existing member. As, under Article 141 of the Constitution, the law declared by the Supreme Court is binding on all courts within the territory of India, any provision pertaining to the expulsion of a member by the management of a company which is against the law as laid down by the Supreme Court will be illegal and ultra vires. In the light of the aforesaid position, it is clarified that assumption by the Board of directors of a company of any power to expel a member by amending its articles of association is illegal and void [Circular: Letter No. 32/75, dated 1.11.1975].

PERSONATION AND PENALTY

Section 57 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides for penalty for personation of a shareholder. The section reads:

“If any person deceitfully personates as an owner of any security or interest in a company, or of any share warrant or coupon issued in pursuance of this Act, and thereby obtains or attempts to obtain any such security or interest or any such share warrant or coupon, or receives or attempts to receive any money due to any such owner, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than one year but which may extend to three years and with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees..”

The punishment provided by Section 57 is for obtaining or attempting to obtain or receiving or attempting to receive a security, interest in a company, share warrant, coupon due to the rightful owner. According to the criminal law, personation is one of the means of cheating.

The offence is committed whether the individual personated is a real or imaginary person”.

REGISTER OF MEMBERS ETC.

Section 88 of the Companies Act, 2013 lays down:

(1) Every company shall keep and maintain the following registers namely:—

LET US REMEMBER!

To keep the Register of Members at any other place (instead of the registered office of the company) in India in which more than one-tenth of the total number of members entered in the register of members reside:-

- (i) Special Resolution is required, and
- (ii) Registrar has to be given advance copy of the proposed Special Resolution atleast one day before in MGT-14.

Register prima facie evidence

Section 95 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that the registers, their indices and copies of annual returns maintained under sections 88 and 94 shall be prima facie evidence of any matter directed or authorised to be inserted therein by or under this Act.

A register of members is prima facie evidence of the truth of its contents. Accordingly, if a person's name, to his knowledge, is there in the register of members of a company, he shall be deemed to be a member and onus lies on him to prove that he is not a member. He must promptly appeal to the Tribunal or a competent court outside India specified by the Central Government by notification, in respect of foreign members or debenture holder residing outside India for rectification of the register under Section 59 of the Act to take his name off the register, failing which the doctrine of holding out will apply.

CASE LAW

In Re. M.F.R.D. Cruz, A.I.R. 1939 Madras 803, the plaintiff applied for 4,000 shares in a company but no allotment was made to him. Subsequently 4,000 shares were transferred to him without his request and his name was entered in the register of members. The plaintiff knew it but took no steps for rectification of the register of members. The company went into liquidation and he was held liable as a contributory. The Court held “when a person knows that his name is included in the register of shareholders and he stands by and allows his name to remain, he is holding out to the public that he is a shareholder and thereby he loses his right to have his name removed”.

Rectification of a Register of Members

The register of members of a company contains names, addresses, occupations, if any etc. only of members of the company. Any person, whose name is entered in the register of members of a company, considered to be its member, although he may not own the shares which are shown in his name in the register of members. On the contrary, a person, whose name is not entered in the register of members is not considered as member of the company even though he may have done everything to entitle him to be put on the register of members. Injustice may, therefore, result from such omission or commission.

Section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013 confers powers on the Tribunal or a competent court outside India specified by the Central Government by notification in respect of foreign members or debenture-holders residing outside India to order rectification of register of members of a company if an appeal is made by the aggrieved person or by any member of the company or the company on any of the following grounds:

- (a) where the name of a person is without sufficient cause, entered in the register of members of a company;
- (b) where his name, after having been entered in the register, is omitted without sufficient cause; or
- (c) where default is made or unnecessary delay takes place in entering in the register of members the fact of any person having become, or ceased to be, a member of company.

This may happen where a person has transferred his shares according to law and the company either refuses or delays registration of transfer in the transferee's name.

The Tribunal may, after hearing the parties to the appeal for rectification of register of members either dismiss the appeal or direct that the transfer or transmission shall be registered by the company within ten days or direct for rectification of records of the depository or the register and in the latter case also direct the company to pay damages if any, sustained by the party aggrieved.

It is pertinent to note that though the time limit for filing an application for rectification of register of members has not been specified in the Act, the provisions of Article 137 of the Limitation Act would apply and in consequence, the application for rectification must be made within three years from the date on which the right occurs [Ref. Anil Gupta v. Delhi Cloth & General Mills Co. Ltd., (1983) 54 Com Cases 301 (Delhi)].

The provisions of this section shall not restrict the right of a holder of securities, to transfer such securities and any person acquiring such securities shall be entitled to voting rights unless the voting rights have been suspended by an order of the Tribunal. [Section 59(3)]

Where the transfer of securities is in contravention of any of the provisions of the Securities Contracts

(Regulation) Act, 1956, the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 or this Act or any other law for the time being in force, the Tribunal may, on an application made by the depository, company, depository participant, the holder of the securities or the Securities and Exchange Board, direct any company or a depository to set right the contravention and rectify its register or records concerned. [Section 59(4)]

If any default is made in complying with the order of the Tribunal under this section, the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to three lakh rupees, or with both. [Section 59(5)]

Foreign Register

Section 88(4) of the Companies Act, 2013 empowers companies to keep foreign registers of members or debenture-holders, other security holders or beneficial owners residing outside India. It states:

“A company may, if so authorised by its articles, keep in any country outside India, in such manner as may be prescribed, a part of the register referred to in sub-section (1), called “foreign register” containing the names and particulars of the members, debentureholders, other security holders or beneficial owners residing outside India.”

If a company does not maintain foreign register of members or debenture-holders or other security holders or fails to maintain them in accordance with the provisions of section 88(1) or section 88(2), the company and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than fifty thousand rupees but which may extend to three lakh rupees and where the failure is a continuing one, with a further fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for every day, after the first during which the failure continues. [Section 88(5)]

A foreign register is deemed to be a part of the company's principal register and it should be kept in the same manner as the principal register and be likewise open to inspection.

A duplicate of such register should be maintained at the registered office in India and all entries made in the foreign register should be made in the duplicate register at the registered office as soon as possible.

A company may discontinue a foreign register at any time but all the entries made in it must be transferred to the principal register.

The decision of a competent Court in the State or Country in which a foreign register is kept, with regard to its rectification, shall be as effective as if it were a decision of a competent Court in India, if the Central Government, by notification in the Official Gazette, so directs.

Rule 7 of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014

(1) A company which has share capital or which has issued debentures or any other security may, if so authorised by its articles, keep in any country outside India, a part of the register of members or as the case may be, of debenture holders or of any other security holders or of beneficial owners, resident in that country (hereafter in this rule referred to as the "foreign register").

(2) The company shall, within thirty days from the date of the opening of any foreign register, file with the Registrar notice of the situation of the office in Form No.MGT-3 along with the fee where such register is kept; and in the event of any change in the situation of such office or of its discontinuance, shall, within thirty days from the date of such change or discontinuance, as the case may be, file notice in Form No.MGT-3 with the Registrar of such change or discontinuance.

(3) A foreign register shall be deemed to be part of the company's register (hereafter in this rule referred to as the "principal register") of members or of debenture holders or of any other security holders or beneficial owners, as the case may be.

(4) The foreign register shall be maintained in the same format as the principal register.

(5) A foreign register shall be open to inspection and may be closed, and extracts may be taken there from and copies thereof may be required, in the same manner, mutatis mutandis, as is applicable to the principal register, except that the advertisement before closing the register shall be inserted in at least two newspapers circulating in the place wherein the foreign register is kept.

(6) If a foreign register is kept by a company in any country outside India, the decision of the appropriate competent authority in regard to the rectification of the register shall be binding.

(7) Entries in the foreign register maintained under sub-section (4) of section 88 shall be made simultaneously after the Board of Directors or its duly constituted committee approves the allotment or transfer of shares, debentures or any other securities, as the case may be.

(8) The company shall—

- (a) transmit to its registered office in India a copy of every entry in any foreign register within fifteen days after the entry is made; and
- (b) keep at such office a duplicate register of every foreign register duly entered up from time to time.

(9) Every such duplicate register shall, for all the purposes of this Act, be deemed to be part of the principal register.

(10) Subject to the provisions of section 88 and the rules made thereunder, with respect to duplicate registers, the shares or as the case may be, debentures or any other security, registered in any foreign register shall be distinguished from the shares or as the case may be, debentures or any other security, registered in the principal register and in every other foreign register; and no transaction with respect to any shares or as the case may be, debentures or any other security, registered in a foreign register shall, during the continuance of that registration, be registered in any other register.

(11) The company may discontinue the keeping of any foreign register; and thereupon all entries in that register shall be transferred to some other foreign register kept by the company outside India or to the principal register.

Closing of Register of Members

Section 91 of the Companies Act, 2013 contains guidelines for closing the register of members. It lays down:

- “(1) A company may close the register of members or the register of debenture-holders or the register of other security holders for any period or periods not exceeding in the aggregate forty-five days in each year, but not exceeding thirty days at any one time, subject to giving of previous notice of at least 7 days or such lesser period as may be specified by Securities and Exchange Board for listed companies or the companies which intend to get their securities listed, in the prescribed manner.
- (2) If the register of members or of debenture-holders or of other security holders is closed without giving the notice as provided above, or after giving shorter notice than that so provided, or for a continuous or an aggregate period in excess of the limits specified in that sub-section, the company and every officer of the company who is in default shall be liable to a penalty of 5000 rupees for every day subject to a maximum of one lakh rupees during which the register is kept closed..”

The provisions contained in Section 154 (Corresponds to section 91 of the Companies Act, 2013) are permissive and not mandatory. The section has application only when a company desires to close its register of members and in such a situation, the requirements of the section are to be complied with. Talyar Tea Co. v. Union of India, (1991) 71 Com Cases 95

The power in this section is intended for the convenience of the company in order to enable the register of members to be brought up to date for the purpose of calculating dividend and bonus, etc. However, even if the register of members is closed, the company is obliged to make certain entries during the period of closure, such as entries relating to registration and probates and letters of administration, notices of change of name and address and court orders, such as changing orders, etc. [Killick Nixon Ltd. v. Dhanraj Mill Pvt. Ltd., (1983) 54 Com Cases 432 (DB) (Bom)].

The closure of the register is cloaked with the right to refuse the transfer of shares/debentures. Record date is an alternate for closing the registers. The purpose of closing the registers is to get the registers updated and to fix a cut-off date for the purpose of payment of dividend or issue of rights and bonus shares. This purpose can also be achieved by fixing a record date for a day.

Rule 10 of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014

Closure of register of members or debenture holders or other security holders.-

(1) A company closing the register of members or the register of debenture holders or the register of other security holders shall give at least seven days previous notice and in such manner, as may be specified by Securities and Exchange Board of India, if such company is a listed company or intends to get its securities listed, by advertisement at least once in a vernacular newspaper in the principal vernacular language of the district and having a wide circulation in the place where the registered office of the company is situated, and at least once in English language in an English newspaper circulating in that district and having wide circulation in the place where the registered office of the company is situated and publish the notice on the website as may be notified by the Central Government and on the website, if any, of the Company.

(2) The provisions contained in sub-rule (1) shall not be applicable to a private company provided that the notice has been served on all members of the private company not less than seven days prior to closure of the register of members or debenture holders or other security holders.

Rule 15 of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014

(3) Copies of all annual returns prepared under section 92 and copies of all certificates and documents required to be annexed thereto shall be preserved for a period of eight years from the date of filing with the Registrar.

(4) The foreign register of members shall be preserved permanently, unless it is discontinued and all the entries are transferred to any other foreign register or to the principal register. Foreign register of debenture holders or any other security holders shall be preserved for a period of eight years from the date of redemption of such debentures or securities.

(5) The foreign register shall be kept in the custody of the company secretary or person authorised by the Board.

Power of the Central Government to Investigate into the Ownership of Company

Sometimes, the registered holder of shares in a company may be a nominee for some other person, who really owns the shares. This enables persons, who in fact control a company, to conceal their real status from the shareholders and from the public and practice fraud with regard to the management of the company. To check such a practice, Sections 216 empowers the Central Government to appoint an inspector to investigate into and report on the ownership of a company.

Declaration by Persons not holding Beneficial Interest in any Share

The main purpose of Sections 216 which empowers the Central Government to investigate the ownership of the shares of the companies is to know the benami shareholding. However, this section may not be effective every time. Therefore, Section 89 of the Companies Act, 2013 makes it obligatory on the part of a person, whose name is entered in the register of members of a company as the holder of a shares in that company but who does not hold beneficial interest in such shares to make a declaration to the company specifying the name and other particulars of the person who holds the beneficial interest in such shares [Sub-section (1)].

Sub-section (2) of the Section 89 makes it obligatory for any person who, holds or acquires beneficial interest in a share of a company to make a declaration to the company specifying the nature of his interest, the particulars of the person in whose name the shares stand registered in the books of the company and such other particulars as may be prescribed.

Where any change occurs in the beneficial interest in such shares, the person referred in sub-section (1), and the beneficial owner specified under sub-section (2) shall make a declaration within thirty days, from the date of such change to the company in the prescribed Form containing the prescribed particulars. [Sub-section (3)]

The Central Government may make rules to provide for the manner of holding and disclosing beneficial interest and beneficial ownership under this section. [Sub-section (4)]

Sub-section (5) provides that if any person fails, to make a declaration as required under sub-section (1) or sub-section (2) or sub-section (3), without any reasonable cause, he shall be punishable with fine which may extend to fifty thousand rupees and where the failure is a continuing one, with a further fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for every day after the first during which the failure continues.

Sub-section (6) makes it obligatory on the part of the company to make a note of such a declaration in the register concerned and to file within thirty days with the Registrar of Companies a return in the prescribed form with regard to such a declaration.

If a company, required to file a return under sub-section (6), fails to do so before the expiry of the time specified under the first proviso to sub-section (1) of section 403, the company and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than five hundred rupees but which may extend to one thousand rupees and where the failure is a continuing one, with a further fine which may extend to one thousand rupees for every day after the first during which the failure continues. [Sub-

section (7)]

No right in relation to any share in respect of which a declaration is required to be made under this section but not made by the beneficial owner, shall be enforceable by him or by any person claiming through him. [Sub-section (8)]

Nothing in this section shall be deemed to prejudice the obligation of a company to pay dividend to its members under this Act and the said obligation shall, on such payment, stand discharged. [Sub-section (9)]

Rule 9 of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014

Declaration in respect of beneficial interest in any shares.-

(1) A person whose name is entered in the register of members of a company as the holder of shares in that company but who does not hold the beneficial interest in such shares (hereinafter referred to as “the registered owner”), shall file with the company, a declaration to that effect in Form No.MGT-4, within a period of thirty days from the date on which his name is entered in the register of members of such company:

When any change occurs in the beneficial interest in such shares, the registered owner shall, within a period of thirty days from the date of such change, make a declaration of such change to the company in Form No.MGT-4.

(2) Every person holding and exempted from furnishing declaration or acquiring a beneficial interest in shares of a company not registered in his name (hereinafter referred to as “the beneficial owner”) shall file with the company, a declaration disclosing such interest in Form No. MGT-5, within thirty days after acquiring such beneficial interest in the shares of the company:

Provided that where any change occurs in the beneficial interest in such shares, the beneficial owner shall, within a period of thirty days from the date of such change, make a declaration of such change to the company in Form No.MGT-5.

(3) Where any declaration under section 89 is received by the company, the company shall make a note of such declaration in the register of members and shall file, within a period of thirty days from the date of receipt of declaration by it, a return in Form No.MGT-6 with the Registrar in respect of such declaration with fee.

8. RIGHTS OF MEMBERS

When once a person becomes a member he is entitled to exercise all the rights of a member until he ceases to be a member in accordance with the provisions of the Act. The appointment of a receiver, the attachment of the shares, the pledge of the shares or taking over of the management of a company which is holding shares in another company under Section 18A of the Industries (Development & Regulation) Act, 1951 will not alter the position. So long a person's name stands registered in the books as a member, even if he has sold the share and has given the share certificates and the blank transfer deed duly signed, he alone is entitled to exercise the rights of membership [Balakrishna Gupta & Others v. Swadeshi Polytex Ltd. and Others (1985) 58 Com Cases 563 (S.C.); and Life Insurance Corporation of India v. Escorts Ltd. & Others (1986) 59 Com Cases 548 (S.C.)]. These rights are derived by virtue of the membership contract between the company and the member and the general law. Some of these rights can be exercised by him individually and others alongwith other members unless member himself holds shares equivalent to the minimum holding prescribed under the various provisions of the Companies Act, 2013.

Individual Rights

Members of a company enjoy certain rights in their individual capacity, which they can enforce individually. These rights are contractual rights and cannot be taken away except with the written consent of the member concerned. These rights can be categorised as under:

- (1) Right to receive copies of the following documents from the company:
 - (i) Abridged financial statement and auditor's report in the case of a listed company (Section 136).
 - (ii) Report of the Cost Auditor, if so directed by the Government.

 - (4) Other rights.

Over and above the rights enumerated at Item Nos. 1 to 3 above, the members have the following rights:

- (i) To transfer shares (Sections 44 and 56 and Articles of Association of the company).
- (iii) To resist and safeguard against increase in his liability without his written consent.
- (iv) To receive dividend when declared.
- (v) To have rights shares (Section 62).
- (vi) To appoint directors (Section 152).
- (vii) To share the surplus assets on winding up (Section 320).
- (viii) Right of dissentient shareholders to apply to Tribunal (Section 48).
- (ix) Right to be exercised collectively by passing a special resolution and intimating the same to the Central Government for investigation of the affairs of the company (Section 210).
- (x) Right to make application collectively to the Tribunal for relief in cases of oppression and mismanagement (Sections 241).
- (xi) Right to file class action suits before the Tribunal (Section 245)
- (xi) Right of Nomination. (Section 72)
- (xii) Right to file a suit or take any other action in case of any misleading statement or the inclusion or omission of any matter in the prospectus. (Section 37)

Collective Membership Rights

Members of a company have certain rights which can be exercised by members collectively by means of democratic process, i.e. by majority of members usually unless otherwise prescribed. This involves the principle of submission by all members to the will of the majority, provided that the will is exercised in accordance with the law and the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company. Thus, the shareholders in majority determine the policy of the company and exercise control over the management of the company.

However, if and when the majority becomes oppressive or is accused of mismanagement of the affairs of the company, Section 241 read with section 244 confers right, to not less than one hundred members of a company or not less than one-tenth of the total number of its members whichever is less or any member or members holding not less than one-tenth of the issued share capital of the company (but they must have paid all calls and others sums due on their shares) and in the case of a company not having a share capital, not less than one-fifth of the total number of its members, to apply to Board under Section 241 for relief in cases of oppression or for relief in cases of mismanagement respectively.

Section 100 of the Companies Act, 2013 confers on members, holding not less than one-tenth of the paid-up share capital of a company, right to make a requisition to the Board of directors to call an extraordinary general meeting of the company. The section also confers on members having not less than one-tenth of the total voting power in a company not having a share capital, to make a requisition to the Board to call an extraordinary general meeting of the company. If the Board of directors of the company does not, within twenty-one days from the date of the deposit of a valid requisition in regard to any matter, proceed to call a meeting for the consideration of those matters on a day not later than forty-five days from the date of deposit of the requisition, the meeting may be called and held by the requisitionists themselves within a period of 3 months from the date of the requisition.

Voting Rights of Members

The right of attending shareholders' meetings and voting thereat is the most important right of a member of a company, as shareholders' meetings play a very important role in the company's life. Directors are appointed by the shareholders, who direct the affairs of the company, formulate short-term plans and long-term policies of the company, appoint management personnel to constitute organisation to implement their plans and policies in order to achieve the objects of the company.

In view of the importance of the general meetings of a company, the Companies Act has not left the members to the will of the directors to call general meetings. If the members feel that the affairs of the company are not being properly managed by the directors and the directors are avoiding to call a general meeting of the company, Section 100 of the Companies Act confers right on members specified therein to deposit a requisition setting out the matters for the consideration of which the meeting is to be called and if the Board of directors does not proceed within twenty-one days of the requisition to call a meeting within forty-five days of the requisition, the requisitionists may themselves call the meeting.

Section 47 provides that every member of a company limited by shares and holding equity share capital therein, shall have right to vote on every resolution placed before the company and his voting right on a poll shall be in proportion to his share in the paid up equity share capital of the company.

Section 43 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that a company limited by shares shall be entitled to issue (i) equity share capital with voting rights or (ii) with differential rights as to dividend, voting or otherwise in accordance with such rules as may be prescribed by the Central Government.

Preference shareholders ordinarily vote only on matters directly affecting the rights attached to preference share capital and on any resolution for winding up of the company or for the repayment or reduction of the equity or preference share capital. The voting right of a preference shareholder on poll shall be in proportion to his share in the paid-up preference share capital of the company. In respect of a resolution on a matter affecting both equity shareholders and preference shareholders, the proportion of the voting rights of equity shareholders to the voting rights of the preference shareholders shall be in the same proportion as the paid-up capital in respect of the equity shares bears to the paid-up capital in respect of the preference shares. However, where the dividend in respect of a class of preference shares has not been paid for a period of two years or more, such class of preference shareholders shall have a right to vote on all the resolutions placed before the company (Section 47).

Section 50 of the Act lays down that a company may, if authorised by its articles, accept from any member the whole or a part of the amount remaining unpaid on any shares held by him although no part of that amount has been called up. Such advance payment, however, shall not confer on the member concerned any voting rights.

Shareholders' Pre-emptive Rights with regard to further issue of share capital (Right Shares)

To preserve the shareholders' proportionate dividend, liquidation and voting rights, pre-emptive rights are often recognised, but their existence and scope can be effected by provisions in the articles. However, Section 62 of the Companies Act, 2013 secures shareholders' pre-emptive rights with regard to the further issue of share capital by the company. The Section lays down:

“(1) Where at any time, a company having a share capital proposes to increase its subscribed capital by the issue of further shares, such shares shall be offered to persons who, at the date of the offer, are holders of equity shares of the company in proportion, as nearly as circumstances admit, to the paid-up share capital on those shares by sending a letter of offer subject to the condition that unless the articles of the company otherwise provide, the offer aforesaid shall be deemed to include a right exercisable by the person concerned to renounce the shares offered to him or any of them in favour of any other person and the notice of offer shall contain a statement of this right [Sub-clause (a)].

Variation of Member's Rights

Member's rights are determined by the Companies Act, Memorandum of association, Articles of association of the company and the terms of issue of shares. Rights attached to a class of shares are known as “class rights”.

Member's rights relate to dividend, voting at members' meetings and return of capital. Preference shareholders may have rights to a fixed amount or a fixed rate of dividend or to cumulative dividend. Where the ordinary shareholders are conferred the right to participate in the surplus assets on winding up of a company, it is not deemed to be a class right as it is implied even in the absence of any express provision in the articles.

Section 48 (1) of the Companies Act, 2013 lays down that the rights attached to the shares of any class may be varied with the consent in writing of the holders of not less than three-fourths of the issued shares of that class or by means of a special resolution passed at a separate meeting of the holders of the issued shares of that class. Further, the variation of rights of shareholders can be effected only:

- (i) if provision with respect to such variation is contained in the Memorandum or Articles of association of the company; or
- (ii) in the absence of any such provision in a Memorandum or Articles of association of the company, if such a variation is not prohibited by the terms of issue of the shares of that class.

However, if variation by one class of shareholders affects the rights of any other class of shareholders, the consent of three-fourths of such other class of shareholders shall also be obtained and the provisions of this section shall apply to such variation.

Rights of Dissenting Members

Section 48(2) of the Companies Act, 2013 confers certain rights upon the dissenting shareholders. According to section 48(2), where the holders of not less than ten per cent of the issued shares of a class did not consent to such variation or vote in favour of the special resolution for the variation, they may apply to the Tribunal to have the variation cancelled; the variation shall not have effect unless and until it is confirmed by the Tribunal.

The above application shall be made within twenty-one days after the date on which the consent was given or the resolution was passed, as the case may be, and may be made on behalf of the shareholders entitled to make the application by such one or more of their number as they may appoint in writing for the purpose.

Nomination by Security holders (including members) (Section 72)

Section 72(1) states that every holder of securities of a company may, at any time, nominate, in the prescribed manner, any person to whom his securities shall vest in the event of his death.

Section 72(2) states that when the securities of a company are held by more than one person jointly, the joint holders may together nominate, in the prescribed manner, any person to whom all the rights in the securities shall vest in the event of death of all the joint holders.

Section 72(3) states that notwithstanding anything contained in any other law for the time being in force or in any disposition, whether testamentary or otherwise, in respect of the securities of a company, where a nomination made in the prescribed manner purports to confer on any person the right to vest the securities of the company, the nominee shall, on the death of the holder of securities or, as the case may be, on the death of the joint holders, become entitled to all the rights in the securities, of the holder or, as the case may be, of all the joint holders, in relation to such securities, to the exclusion of all other persons, unless the nomination is varied or cancelled in the prescribed manner.

Section 72 (4) states that when the nominee is a minor, it shall be lawful for the holder of the securities, making the nomination to appoint, in the prescribed manner, any person to become entitled to the securities of the company, in the event of the death of the nominee during his minority.

What is prescribed under Rule 19 of Companies (Share Capital and Debentures) Rules, 2014 with respect to nomination?

Nomination by securities holders:-

(1) Any holder of securities of a company may, at any time, nominate, in Form No. SH.13, any person as his nominee in whom the securities shall vest in the event of his death.

(2) On the receipt of the nomination form, a corresponding entry shall forthwith be made in the relevant register of securities holders, maintained under section 88.

(3) Where the nomination is made in respect of the securities held by more than one person jointly, all joint holders shall together nominate in Form No.SH.13 any person as nominee.

(4) The request for nomination should be recorded by the Company within a period of two months from the date of receipt of the duly filled and signed nomination form.

(5) In the event of death of the holder of securities or where the securities are held by more than one person jointly, in the event of death of all the joint holders, the person nominated as the nominee may upon the production of such evidence as may be required by the Board, elect, either-

- (a) to register himself as holder of the securities ; or

(b) to transfer the securities, as the deceased holder could have done.

(6) If the person being a nominee, so becoming entitled, elects to be registered as holder of the securities himself, he shall deliver or send to the company a notice in writing signed by him stating that he so elects and such notice shall be accompanied with the death certificate of the deceased share or debenture holder(s).

(7) All the limitations, restrictions and provisions of the Act relating to the right to transfer and the registration of transfers of securities shall be applicable to any such notice or transfer as aforesaid as if the death of the share or debenture holder had not occurred and the notice or transfer were a transfer signed by that shareholder or debenture holder, as the case may be.

(8) A person, being a nominee, becoming entitled to any securities by reason of the death of the holder shall be entitled to the same dividends or interests and other advantages to which he would have been entitled to if he were the registered holder of the securities except that he shall not, before being registered as a holder in respect of such securities, be entitled in respect of these securities to exercise any right conferred by the membership in relation to meetings of the company.

The Board may, at any time, give notice requiring any such person to elect either to be registered himself or to transfer the securities, and if the notice is not complied with within ninety days, the Board may thereafter withhold payment of all dividends or interests, bonuses or other moneys payable in respect of the securities, as the case may be, until the requirements of the notice have been complied with.

(9) A nomination may be cancelled, or varied by nominating any other person in place of the present nominee, by the holder of securities who has made the nomination, by giving a notice of such cancellation or variation, to the company in Form No. SH.14.

(10) The cancellation or variation shall take effect from the date on which the notice of such variation or cancellation is received by the company.

(11) When the nominee is a minor, the holder of the securities, making the nomination, may appoint a person in Form No. SH.13 specified under sub-rule (1), who shall become entitled to the securities of the company, in the event of death of the nominee during his minority.

Let us Remember!

Any holder of securities of a company may at any time nominate in Form No. SH.13 any person as his nominee in whom the securities shall vest in the event of his death.

LIABILITY OF MEMBERS

The liability of a member depends on the nature of the company. If the company is registered with unlimited liability, every member is liable in full for all the debts of the company contracted during the period of his membership. Where the company is limited by guarantee, each member will be bound to contribute in the event of winding up a sum specified in the liability clause of the memorandum of association. In case of company limited by shares, each member is bound to contribute the full nominal value of shares and his liability ends there. If before the full nominal value of the shares is paid, the company goes into liquidation, the member becomes liable as contributory to pay the balance when called upon to pay, by the liquidator of the company.

Where a company has been incorporated by furnishing any false or incorrect information or representation or by suppressing any material fact or information in any of the documents or declaration filed or made for incorporating such company or by any fraudulent action, the Tribunal may, on an application made to it, on being satisfied that the situation so warrants, direct that liability of the members shall be unlimited. [Section 7(7)]

If a member ceased to be member of a company within one year prior to the commencement of the winding up of the company he is liable to pay on the shares which he held to the extent of the amount unpaid thereon, if:

- (i) on the winding up, debts exist which were incurred while he was a member, and
- (ii) it appears to the Tribunal that the present members are not able to satisfy the contribution required from them in respect of their shares.

A person is liable as member in spite of a valid transfer of shares by him, if the name of the transferee is not placed on the register of members, in place of the transferors' name. If a person applies for shares in the name of a fictitious person or a person not in existence or uses another person's name for himself, or uses an alias, and shares are allotted in that name or alias, he will be liable as a member.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Transferability feature of securities enables the company, to get permanent capital, the shareholder, to get liquid investments.

Securities of a Public Company are freely transferable. However, a Private Company is required to restrict the right to transfer its securities by its articles.

Earlier, the securities were transferred only through physical mode, but, now after the advent of depository system, the securities are transferred in dematerialized form, to a large extent.

Section 56-59 of Companies Act, 2013 deals with the transfer/transmission of shares. After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the concept of transfer of securities in a company, various provisions of company law regulating transfer of securities, powers of Board to refuse registration, transfer during winding up, transmission of securities, transfers under depository system, etc.

TRANSFERABILITY- A BRIEF ON PROVISIONS OF COMPANIES ACT 2013

One of the most important characteristics of a company is that its shares are transferable. Section 44 of the Companies Act, 2013 states that the shares or debentures or other interest of any member in a company shall be movable property, transferable in the manner provided by the articles of the company.

As per section 58(2), the securities or other interest of any member in a public company shall be freely transferable. Proviso to section 58(2) provides that any contract or arrangement between two or more persons in respect of transfer of securities shall be enforceable as a contract. In terms of Section 2(68), a private company is required to restrict the right to transfer its shares by its articles. Section 56 of the Companies Act deals with transfer and transmission of securities.

TRANSFER OR TRANSMISSION OF SECURITIES

Free transferability of securities

As per section 58(2), the securities or other interest of any member in a public company shall be freely transferable. The Board of directors of a Company or the concerned depository has no discretion to refuse or withhold transfer of any security. The transfer has to be effected by the company/depository automatically and immediately.

However, proviso to section 58(2) provides that any contract or arrangement between two or more persons in respect of transfer of securities shall be enforceable as a contract. It is now possible to contractually agree on terms such as right of first refusal, right of first offer, tag along, call option, put option, etc in the shareholder agreements/ investment agreements, in the case of a public company as well. These terms would now be binding on the investors. Therefore, private arrangements or contracts between two or more persons would be enforceable contracts.

Instruments of transfer to be presented to the company

A company, shall not register a transfer of securities of, the company, unless a proper instrument of transfer with the date of execution specified thereon duly stamped, dated and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and the transferee has been delivered to the company by the transferor or transferee within a period of sixty days (irrespective of the nature of the company, whether listed or unlisted) from the date of execution along with the certificate relating to the securities, or if no such certificate is in existence, then along with the related letter of allotment of securities. In case of loss of the instrument, the company may register the transfer in terms of indemnity.

Such instrument of transfer of securities held in physical form shall be in Form No. SH.4. Where a company not having share capital, as the instrument of transfer should also be in SH.4 and other conditions be complied where the references therein to securities were references instead to the interest of the member in the company.

However, nothing in section 56(1) shall prejudice any power of the company to register, on receipt of an intimation of transmission of any right to securities by operation of law from any person to whom such right has been transmitted. [Section 56(2)].

Test yourself !!

Within what time a duly executed instrument of transfer(i.e. Form no SH. 4) is to be presented/delivered to the company by a transferor or transferee?

Ans: within 60 days

Registration of partly paid up shares – Notice to the transferee

According to section 56(3), where an application is made by the transferor alone and relates to partly paid shares, the transfer shall not be registered, unless the company gives the notice in form SH. 5 to the transferee and the transferee gives 'no objection' to the transfer within two weeks from the receipt of the notice.

Time Limit for Delivery of certificates

Section 56(4) states that every company, unless prohibited by any provision of law or any order of court, tribunal or other authority, deliver the certificates of all securities allotted, transferred or transmitted

- (i) Within a period of two months from the date of incorporation, in the case of subscribers to the memorandum;
- (ii) Within a period of two months from the date of allotment, in the case of any allotment of any of its shares;
- (iii) Within a period of one month in case of transfer or transmission of securities.
- (iv) Within a period of six months from the date of allotment in the case of any allotment of debentures.

Intimation to depository

- Proviso to Section 56(4) states that where the securities are dealt with in a depository, the company shall intimate the details of allotment of securities to depository immediately on allotment of such securities. No transfer deed is required for transfer of shares, where the shares are held in dematerialized form.

Transfer of securities by legal representative

Section 56(5) of the Act provides that in case of death of holder of any security, the transfer of such security by the legal representative of the deceased shall be valid-

- Even though the legal representative is not the holder of such security;
- As if the legal representative were the holder of such security.

Penalties

According to 56(6), when any default is made in complying with the provisions of sub-sections (1) to (5), the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than ten thousand rupees but which may extend to one lakh rupees.

Transfer of shares by depository with an intent to defraud, is liable under Section 447 for fraud

As per section 56(7), without prejudice to any liability under the Depositories Act, 1996, where any depository or depository participant, with an intention to defraud a person, has transferred shares, it shall be liable under section 447 for fraud which is a severe punishment.

Transmission of securities

Where any person acquires any right to securities by operation of any law, the company may register the transmission of shares in favor of such person if the company receives intimation of transmission from such person, and in such a case no transfer deed shall be necessary.

According to Section 56(2), a company shall have power to register on receipt of an intimation of transmission of any right to securities by operation of law from any person to whom such right has been transmitted.

Let us remember!

A company shall not register a transfer of partly paid shares, unless the company has given a notice in Form No. SH.5 to the transferee and the transferee has given no objection to the transfer within two weeks from the date of receipt of notice.

Punishment for Personation of Shareholders [Section 57]

Where any person deceitfully personates as an owner of any share or interest in a company, or of any share warrant or coupon issued in pursuance of this Act. and

- (i) thereby obtains or attempts to obtain any such share or interest or any such share warrant or coupon, or
- (ii) receives or attempt to receive any money due to any such owner.

He shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than one year but which may extend to 3 years and with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to 5 lakh rupees.

To 'personate' means to pretend to be someone else, especially for fraudulent purpose such as casting a vote in another person's name. Personation and impersonation imply the same thing.

REFUSAL OF REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER AND TRANSMISSION AND APPEAL AGAINST REFUSAL (SECTION 58)

Section 58 of the Companies Act, 2013, deals with process of the company to be followed by on refusal to register the transfer of securities.

(i) If a private company limited by shares refuses (whether in pursuance of any power of the company under its articles or otherwise), to register the transfer of, or the transmission of the right to any securities or interest of a member in the company, then the company shall send notice of the refusal to the transferor and the transferee or to the person giving intimation of such transmission, within a period of thirty days from the date on which the instrument of transfer, or the intimation of such transmission, was delivered to the company. Notice shall contain the reasons for refusal to register the transfer or transmission.

(ii) The transferee may appeal to the Tribunal against the refusal within a period of thirty days from the date of receipt of the notice or in case no notice has been sent by the company, within a period of sixty days from the date on which the instrument of transfer or the intimation of transmission, was delivered to the company.

(iii) If a public company without sufficient cause refuses to register the transfer of securities within a period of thirty days from the date on which the instrument of transfer or the intimation of transmission, is delivered to the company, the transferee may, within a period of sixty days of such refusal or where no intimation has been received from the company, within ninety days of the delivery of the instrument of transfer or intimation of transmission, appeal to the Tribunal.

(iv) The Tribunal, while dealing with an appeal may, after hearing the parties, either dismiss the appeal, or by order—

- (a) direct that the transfer or transmission shall be registered by the company and the company shall comply with such order within a period of ten days of the receipt of the order; or

- (b) direct rectification of the register and also direct the company to pay damages, if any, sustained by any party aggrieved.

(v) If a person contravenes the order of the Tribunal he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term not less than one year but may extend to three years and with fine not less than one lakh rupees which may extend to five lakh rupees.

Case Laws- Refusal to transfer

Refusal to register share transfer on suspicion that the employee if admitted as a member will attend general meetings of the company and may create nuisance by raising irrelevant issues and also obtain access to the records to the company as a shareholder is not a valid reason. (Appeal to the CLB No. 27, of 1975 dated 17th August, 1976, Shri Nirmal Kumar v. Jaipur Metal and Electrical Limited).

The mere attempts of a person to wind up a company more than once cannot be a ground for refusing to register transfer by the directors [Rangpur Tea Association Ltd. v. Makkan Lal Samaddar (1979), 43 Com Cases 58].

The power to refuse registration of shares which is conferred on the directors by the articles, is a discretionary power and must be exercised reasonably, and in good faith for the benefit of the company. Unless the contrary is proved, the power is deemed to have been exercised properly (Berry & Stewart v. Tottenham Hostpur Football and Athletic Co. Ltd., 1936, 3 A11 E.R. 554).

Where the articles of association of a company confers a discretion on the directors with regard to acceptance of transfers, this discretion is a fiduciary one to be exercised bona fide in what the Board considers to be in the interest of the company. If on a true construction of the articles, the directors are only given the powers to reject on certain prescribed grounds and it is proved that on these grounds the request for transfer was rejected, the Court cannot substitute the opinion of the Board. If the articles of association give an unfettered discretion, the court would interfere with it only on proof of bad faith. [M.J. Amrithalingam v. Gudiyatham Textiles Pvt. Ltd., (1972) 42 Com Cases 350].

The Supreme Court, in Bajaj Auto Limited v. N.K. Firodia, AIR 1971, S.C. 321, observed, "discretion implies just and proper consideration of the proposal under the facts and circumstances of the case. In the exercise of that discretion, the directors will act in the paramount interest of the company and in the general interest of the shareholders because the directors are in a fiduciary position both towards the company and towards every shareholder. The directors are, therefore, required to act bona fide and not arbitrarily and not for any collateral motive". It was observed further that where the articles permitted the directors to decline to register transfer of shares without stating reasons, the Court would not draw unfavourable inferences against the directors because they did not give reasons. The Court would assume that the directors acted reasonably and bona fide and those who allege to the contrary would have to prove and establish the same by evidence. However, if the directors gave reasons, the Court would consider whether they were legitimate and whether the directors proceeded on right or wrong principle. The Court has also laid down three tests to determine the proper exercise of power by the Board of directors. The tests are:

1. Whether the directors acted in the interest of the company;
2. Whether they acted on a wrong principle; and
3. Whether they acted on oblique motive or for a collateral purpose.

If the directors have uncontrolled and absolute discretion in regard to declining registration of transfer of shares, the Court would consider whether the reasons were legitimate or the directors acted on a wrong principle, or from corrupt motive. If the reasons for refusal given by the directors were legitimate, the Court would not over-rule that decision merely on the ground that the court would not have come to the same conclusion. The discretion of the directors was to be tested as the opinion of any fair and sensible man in the interest of the company.

Where the appellant transferee and respondent company were in the same line of business and were rivals, the refusal on the ground of rivalry will be justified in terms of the decision rendered by the Supreme Court in the Bajaj Auto Case. Under these circumstances, the investment cannot be considered to have been made bona fide with the intention of making profits. The respondent company is entitled to refuse the registration even in the absence of an enabling provision in articles in view of the provisions of Section 111(2) [Corresponds to section 58(3) and 58(4) of the Companies 2013] [Modi Carpets Ltd. v. Trans-Asia Carpets Ltd., Appeal No. 2 of 1980 decided on 26.12.1981 (CLB)].

In Shri T.N. Kuriakos v. Premier Tyres Ltd., decided on 13.6.1983 (CLB), the appeal against the refusal by the respondent company to register transfer of shares was allowed by the Company Law Board (Now Tribunal) on the ground that the refusal of the respondent to register transfer of shares in favour of the appellant was based on the decision of the Transfer Committee, a sub-committee of the Board of directors and not that of the Board of directors as such, and, therefore, the said decision was not a valid and legal decision.

RECTIFICATION OF REGISTER OF MEMBERS (SECTION 59)

Section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides the procedure for the rectification of register of members after the transfer of securities. The provision states that-

(1) Remedy to the aggrieved for not carrying the changes in the register of members:

Grounds of appeal: If, without sufficient cause-

- (i) The name of any person is entered in the register of members; or
- (ii) The name of any person is omitted from the register of members; or
- (iii) Default or unnecessary delay is being made in entering in the register, the fact of any person having become a member
- (iv) Default or unnecessary delay is being made in entering in the register, the fact of any person having ceased to be a member the person aggrieved, or any member of the company, or the company may appeal in such form as may be prescribed, to the Tribunal. In case of foreign members or debenture holders residing outside India, the appeal shall be filed in a competent court outside India as may be specified by the Central Government by notification.

(2) Order of the Tribunal: The Tribunal may, after hearing the parties to the appeal by order, either dismiss the appeal or direct that the transfer or transmission shall be registered by the company within a period of ten days of the receipt of the order, or direct rectification of the records of the depository or the register and in the latter case, direct the company to pay damages, if any, sustained by the party aggrieved.

(3) Right to transfer not restricted: Section 58 of the Act shall not restrict the right of a holder of securities, to transfer such securities. Any person acquiring such securities shall be entitled to voting rights unless the voting rights have been suspended by an order of the Tribunal.

(4) Where the transfer of securities is in contravention of any of the provisions of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 or this Act or any other law for the time being in force, the Tribunal may, on an application made by the depository, company, depository participant, the holder of the securities or the Securities and Exchange Board, direct any company or a depository to set right the contravention and rectify its register or records concerned.

(5) Default in complying with the order: If any default is made in complying with the order of the Tribunal under this section, the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to three lakh rupees, or with both.

(6) Specific instances of rectification:

Rectification has been held to be permissible in the following cases.

- (a) Applicant induced to take shares by misrepresentation.
- (b) Shareholders' name removed under unlawful surrender of his shares;
- (c) Irregular allotment;
- (d) Name of nominee entered in register without his knowledge or consent;
- (e) Allotment of shares to a non-resident without taking necessary permission for foreign exchange.
- (f) Allotment in violation of memorandum of association of the company.

(7) Mutation of name in other Company's register of members: The Company which has changed its name would be entitled to ask those companies in which it is holding shares to substitute a company's new name in their register of members in the place of old name. Sulphur Dyes v. Hickson & Dadajee Ltd. (1995) 83 Com Cases 533 (Bom).

STAMP DUTY PAYABLE AND AFFIXATION/ CANCELLATION OF STAMPS

Before the transfer is lodged with the company, it should be duly stamped. The transfer of securities attracts stamp duty under the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 (Act 2 of 1899). Only the Central Government can levy stamp duty on share transfers. Stamps at the rate of twenty five paise for consideration of Rs. 100 or part thereof is payable. The duty chargeable shall, wherever necessary, be rounded off to the next five paise. [S.O. 130(E) dated 28.1.2004 issued by Department of Revenue].

The stamp duty payable on transfer of debentures is, however, governed by Article 62(b) of Schedule I to the Indian Stamp Act, 1899, and also varies from State to State. In this case, the duty would be:

- (i) The duty applicable where the deed is executed, or
- (ii) The duty applicable where the registered office of the company is situated, whichever is higher.

The amount of consideration is required to be mentioned in the share transfer deed as otherwise the companies cannot verify whether share transfer stamp duty has been correctly charged thereby attracting the penal provisions of the Stamp Act in case of a default. Thus, in case where question of consideration does not arise like in the case of a gift of shares, stamp duty will be paid on the basis of the market value of shares and in case of unquoted shares or where quotations are not available at the face value of the shares.

Under Section 56(1), a company cannot register the transfer of securities unless a proper instrument of transfer duly stamped, dated and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and the transferee has been delivered to the company along with the certificate relating to the securities in question. The expression 'duly stamped' has not been defined in the Companies Act. Under Section 2(11) of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 'duly stamped' as applied to an instrument, means that the instrument bears an adhesive or impressed stamp of not less than the proper amount and that such stamp has been affixed or used in accordance with the law for the time being in force in India. Under Section 12(1) of the Stamp Act, whoever affixes an adhesive stamp to an instrument which has been executed by any person shall, when affixing such stamp, cancel the same so that it cannot be used again. Sub-section (2) thereof makes it clear that any instrument bearing an adhesive stamp which has not been cancelled so that it cannot be used again, shall, so far as such stamp is concerned, be deemed to be unstamped. Sub-section (3) thereof provides the manner in which the adhesive stamp can be cancelled and provides that the stamp be cancelled by writing on or across the stamp his name or initials or the name or initials of his firm. Section 17 of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 makes it clear that all instruments chargeable with duty and executed shall be stamped before, or at the time of execution. Therefore, the legal requirement is that the stamp must be cancelled either before or at the time of execution [Babulal Choukhani v. Western Indian Theatres Ltd. (1958) 28 Com Cases 565; Canara Bank v. Ballarpur Paper and Strawboard Mills Ltd., CLB decision, p.137].

It is necessary that the value of the consideration paid for a transfer must be determined as a part of the agreement because in the absence of such valuation it would not be possible to know whether stamp duty has been paid according to the value or not. A transfer form which does not indicate the value of the shares for the purposes of transfer would be void and not capable of being accepted.

The "value of the shares" means the price which the shares would fetch at the time of the transfer and not the face value of the shares. The consideration actually paid or agreed to be paid is the value of the shares. So long as there is nothing to indicate that the consideration was not truly stated in the transfer, the one mentioned therein should be accepted as the consideration that was paid. Union of India v. Kulu Valley Transport Ltd. (1958) 28 Com Cases 29 at 36 (P&H)

Case Laws

A company cannot register transfer of shares unless the instrument of transfer is duly stamped and is delivered to the company. The expression "duly stamped" has to be construed with reference to the provisions of Section 2(11) of the Indian Stamp Act, 1899 and the document in question would be an invalid one if the stamp affixed thereon has not been cancelled. Under Section 108(1) of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 56(1) of the Companies Act, 2013] it is mandatory that the company shall not register the transfer of shares unless a properly executed instrument of transfer duly stamped has been delivered to the company [Shri Parveen Sharda v. Chopsani Ice Aerated Water and Oils Mills Ltd., Appeal No. 1 of 1982 decided on 10.1.1983 (CLB)].

In Vardhaman Publishers Ltd. v. Mathrubhumi Printing & Publishing Co. Ltd. (1990), the Kerala High Court held that affixing stamps on a separate sheet of paper and attaching it to the transfer application or cancellation of stamps by drawing a line across the stamp was not improper and would not invalidate the said application. On the question of whether a newly added Article empowering the Board to reject transfer of shares would affect transactions of sale of shares entered into before the insertion of the Article, the Court held that the property in the shares passes on the date of transfer and the right to have the shares registered in the transferee's name becomes crystallised on that day itself. Any alteration of articles will not affect concluded transactions and in respect of such transactions, the existing articles would prevail. So, if the original (unaltered) Articles as on the date of transfer permit free transfer of shares, the Board cannot refuse registration of the transfer.

LOST TRANSFER DEEDS

It is sometimes found that the transfer documents sent to companies are lost, say, in transit. In such a case, the proviso to section 56(1) of the Act provides that where the instrument of transfer has been lost or the instrument of transfer has not been delivered within the prescribed period (within 60 days from the date of execution of the instrument of transfer), the company may register the transfer on such terms as to indemnity as the Board may think fit.

The Board of directors of the company should be satisfied that the instrument of transfer signed by or on behalf of the transferor and by or on behalf of the transferee has been lost. The proof may be in the form of an affidavit from the transferor or the transferee and supported by the purchase or sale note of the broker and the registration receipt issued by the postal authorities.

In addition, the Board can take an indemnity on such terms as it may think fit to safeguard its position and after that company may register the transfer.

DELEGATION OF POWERS FOR TRANSFER

It is the articles of the company which authorise the Board of directors to accept or refuse transfer of securities, at their discretion. The Board further have the power to delegate all or any of their powers to any of the directors of the company or any person even not in the employment of the company. Therefore, the articles of association should authorise the Board of directors to delegate the powers suitably. Only in the case of refusal to register a transfer, the directors are required to exercise their discretion.

TRANSFER OF DEBENTURES

In case of transfer of debentures, a proper instrument of transfer duly stamped, dated and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and the transferee should be delivered to the company by the transferor or transferee within a period of sixty days from the date of execution along with the certificate relating to the debentures or if no such certificate is in existence with the letter of allotment of debentures.

Stamp duty is payable for transfer of debentures and the duty varies from State to State, as explained above.

After registering the transfer, the particulars thereof have to be recorded in the Debenture Transfer Register and should be initialed by the appropriate authority. After making appropriate endorsements, the debenture certificate may be sent to the party concerned.

TRANSFER OF SHARES TO A MINOR

In India, a minor is not competent to enter into any contract, as under Section 11 of the Indian Contract Act, 1872, a person who has attained the age of majority is only competent to contract. Since a minor cannot enter into a contract or agreement except through a guardian, and since as per Section 153, no notice can be taken of the fact that the guardian holds a share in trust for a minor, it follows that his name cannot be entered in the Register of Members and therefore, he cannot become a member of a company. There is, however, no objection in law to the guardian of a minor entering into a contract on behalf of a minor, by virtue of the statutory right conferred on the guardian of a minor under Section 8 read with Section 4 to 6 of the Hindu Minority and Guardianship Act, 1956. Since Section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013 enables execution of transfer deed by or on behalf of the transferor or the transferee, the transfer deed can be executed by a minor through his natural guardian as transferee, and the contract so entered into by a minor through his natural guardian is a binding and valid contract under Section 8 of the Hindu Minority and Guardianship Act, 1956.

The articles of association of a company cannot impose a blanket ban prohibiting transfer of shares in favour of a minor, as such a restriction is unreasonable and not sustainable. Section 44 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that shares in a company are movable property and are transferable in the manner provided by the Articles. The expression 'in the manner provided by the articles of association of the company' can only be interpreted to mean the procedure to be adopted for transfer and impose restrictions, which are meaningful and reasonable. In case, the restriction imposed on transfer to a minor is accepted, it would mean that the shares of a deceased member can never be inherited by the legal heir who might be a minor. This would lead to a highly unjust situation and cannot be accepted as tenable. Accordingly, if the shares can be transmitted in favour of a minor, there is no reason why the shares which are fully paid-up and in respect of which no financial liability devolves on the minor are to be held as not transferable merely because of the ban imposed in the articles of association [Saroj v. Britannia Industries Ltd., Appeal No. 5/80 decided on 14.12.81 by CLB].

TRANSFER OF SHARES TO PARTNERSHIP FIRM

A firm is not a person and as such is not entitled to apply for membership. The Department of Company Affairs (Now, Ministry of Corporate Affairs) has in its Circular No. 4/72 dated 9.2.1972 stated that a firm not being a person cannot be registered as a member of a company except where the company is licensed under Section 25 (Corresponds to section 8 of the Companies Act, 2013).

TRANSFER OF SECURITIES TO A BODY CORPORATE

An incorporated body being a legal person can acquire securities in its own name. Where a company is a transferee, the following documents are required to be submitted to the company:

- (a) A certified true copy of the Board resolution and/or power of attorney authorizing the signatory of the instrument of transfer to execute the instruments;
- (b) A certified true copy of a Board resolution passed under Section 179(3)(e) of the Companies Act; and
- (c) A certified true copy of Memorandum and Articles of Association of a company.

TRANSFER WITHOUT THE AUTHORITY OF THE OWNER

Shares in a company can be transferred either by registered owner or by anyone else with his authority. A sale by any unauthorized person will be void. Accordingly, the Supreme Court held that, transfer of shares by the husband of a lady owner without her authority was void and the transferee obtained no rights. John Tinson & Co. P. Ltd. v. Surjeet Malhan (Mrs.) (1997) 88 Com Cases 750: AIR 1997 SC 1411.

POSITION OF TRANSFEROR

When a transferor makes a transfer, he makes an implied representation that the transfer will be registered by the company in the name of the transferee in the place of transferor. If the company refuses to register the transfer for no fault or default of the transferee, the transferor, by reason of the shares continuing to stand in his name, will, in cases where he has received consideration for the transfer, be treated as trustee for the transferee and bound to act in accordance with his direction and for his benefit in respect of the shares, unless the transferee rescinds the contract and seeks to recover his money on consideration which has failed.

However, after the transfer form has been executed the transferor cannot be compelled to undertake any financial burden in respect of the shares at the instance of transferee where, after the transfer of shares, but before the company had registered the transfer, the company offered rights shares to its members. The transferor could not be compelled by the transferee to take up on his behalf the rights shares offered to the transferor.

TRANSFER IN VIOLATION OF ARTICLES

Where the article of a private company requires that transfers of the company shares should be made with the previous sanction of the company's Board of Directors, the Supreme Court held that any transfer without such approval would be invalid. Jogn Tinson & co. P. Ltd. v. Surjeet Malhan (Mrs.) (1997) 88 Com Cases 750: AIR 1997 SC 1411.

Where a transfer was made in violation of a private company's articles requiring that shares must be first offered to existing members, it was held that the transferor was not the proper person to object. Prafull Kumar Rout v. Orient Engineering Works (P.) Ltd., (1986) 60 Com Cases 65 (Ori).

TRANSMISSION OF SECURITIES

Transmission of securities has not been defined by the Companies Act. 'Transmission by operation of law' is not a transfer. It refers to those cases where a person acquires an interest in property by operation of any provision of law, such as by right of inheritance or succession or by reason of the insolvency or lunacy of the holder of securities or by purchase in a Court-sale.

Thus, transmission of securities takes place when the registered holder of securities dies or is adjudicated as an insolvent, or if the holder of securities is a company, it goes into liquidation. Because a deceased person cannot own anything, the ownership of all his property passes, after his death, to those who legally represent him. Similarly, when a person is declared insolvent, his entire property vests in the Official Assignee or Official Receiver. Upon the death of a sole registered holder of securities, so far as the company is concerned, the legal representatives of the deceased holder of securities are the only persons having title to the securities unless securities-holder had appointed a nominee, in which case he would be entitled to the exclusion of all others.

TRANSMISSION IN CASE OF SOLE OWNER

On the death of a sole owner of shares, vesting of rights and liabilities goes in favor of the legal heirs. They are entitled to be registered as the holders of shares. Scott v. Scott (London) Ltd., (1940) Ch. 794; safeguard Industrial Investments Ltd. v. National Westminster Bank Ltd., (1980) 3 All ER 849. But the legal heirs do not by itself become members of the company. The company cannot register them as members without their consent. Re, Cheshire Banking Co. Duff's Executor's case, (1886) 32 Ch D 301. A company cannot compel them to become member nor it is a duty to do so. State of Kerala v. West Coast Planters Agencies Ltd., (1958) 28 Com Cases 13 (Ker). The company can justifiably register them as members when they apply for it.

Transmission of shares to widow

If a widow applies for transmission of the shares standing in the name of her deceased husband without producing a succession certificate and if the articles of association of the company so authorises, the directors may dispense with the production of succession certificate, probate or letter of administration upon such terms as to indemnity as the directors may consider necessary, and transmit the shares to the widow of the deceased by obtaining an indemnity bond.

Transmission of joint holdings

In case some shares are registered in joint names and the articles of the company provide that the survivor shall be the only person to be recognised by the company as having any title to the shares, the company is justified in refusing to register the transmission of title by operation of law in favour of the son of the deceased holder even though he may obtain succession certificate from the Court.

Section 56(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 states that the transfer of securities must be effected by a proper instrument of transfer and that a provision in the articles of an automatic transfer of securities of a deceased securities-holder is illegal and void. Such transfer does not amount to transmission which takes place by operation of law. In case of Government company - In Sub-section (1) of Section 56, after the proviso, the following provisos shall be inserted, -

Provided further that the provisions of this sub-section, in so far as it requires a proper instrument of transfer, to be duly stamped and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and by or on behalf of the transferee, shall not apply with respect to bonds issued by a Government company, provided that an intimation by the transferee specifying his name, address and occupation, if any, has been delivered to the company along with the certificate relating to the bond; and if no such certificate is in existence, along with the letter of allotment of the bond:

Provided also that the provisions of this sub-section shall not apply to a Government Company in respect of securities held by nominees of the Government. - Inserted by notification dated 5th June, 2015.

Section 56(2) of the Act provides that nothing in the sub-section(1) shall prejudice the powers of the company to register, on receipt of an intimation of transmission of any right to securities by operation of law from any person to whom such right has been transmitted. It follows that, for such transmission, instrument of transfer is not required, and, merely an application addressed to the company by the legal representative is sufficient.

Articles of companies generally provide for formalities to be observed for transmission of shares. In the absence of such provision in the articles of the company, Regulations 23 to 27 of Table F of Schedule I to the Act will govern the procedure for transmission. According to these regulations, the legal representatives are entitled to the shares held by deceased member and the company must accept the evidence of succession e.g., a succession certificate or letter of administrations or probate or any other evidence properly required by the Board of directors. He is, however, not a member of the company by reason only of being the legal owner of the shares. But he may apply to be registered as a member. On the contrary, instead of being registered himself as a member, he may make such transfer of the shares as the deceased or insolvent member could have made. The Board of directors also have the same right to decline registration as they would have had in the case of transfer of shares before death. But if the company unduly refuses to accept a transmission, the same remedies are available to the legal representative as in the case of a transfer namely, an appeal to the Tribunal under Section 58.

DISTINCTION BETWEEN TRANSFER AND TRANSMISSION

S.No.	Transfer of Securities	Transmission of securities
1.	Transfer takes place by a voluntary or deliberate act of the parties by way of a contract.	Transmission is the result of the operation of law e.g. due to death, insolvency or lunacy of a member.
2.	An instrument of transfer is required in case of transfer.	No instrument of transfer is required in case of transmission.
3.	Transfer is a normal course of transferring property.	Transmission takes place on death or insolvency of a holder of securities.

4.	Transfer of securities is generally made for some consideration.	Transmission of securities is generally made without any consideration.
5.	Stamp duty is payable on transfer of securities by a holder of securities.	No stamp duty is payable on transmission of securities.
6	As soon as transfer is complete, the liability of the transferor ceases.	Shares continue to be subject to the original liabilities.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

The Board of Directors of a company or the concerned depository has discretion to refuse or withhold transfer of any security.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

The Board of Directors of a company or the concerned depository has no discretion to refuse or withhold transfer of any security.

Rejected Documents

Documents which are not duly stamped or where stamps are not cancelled should be returned to the person lodging them pointing out the errors so as to enable them to rectify the error. In Federal Bank Ltd. v. Smt. Sarla Devi Rathi (1997) CLA 183 (Raj.), the company had not registered 100 shares that Smt. Sarla Devi Rathi, the respondent, had purchased and neither they returned the share certificates to her. The company urged that since the respondent had not become a shareholder of the company, no cognizance of the complaint could be taken. The High Court held that there was a prima-facie case against the company.

The CLB had pointed out that the company on not registering the transfer should have returned the documents to the party who lodged them (the transferee in this case) and not the transferor as the transferor loses his right in the shares as soon as he executes the transfer in blank.

Time for pointing out insufficiency of stamps

Where a company by mistake or otherwise registers a transfer which should have been refused because of insufficient or uncanceled stamps, or because of the instrument being unstamped, it should point out the error to the transferee within such time (within one year from the date of execution) that the transferee can have the matters rectified through the orders of the Collector. Afterwards it would be too late. [Kothari Industrial Corpn. Ltd. v. Lazor Detergents P. Ltd. (1994) 1 Comp LJ 178 (CLB – Mad)].

Impounding of Documents Relating to Share Transfer

The Board of directors are not persons to impound or regularise an instrument of transfer which is not duly stamped, Mathrubhumi Co. Ltd. v. Vardhaman Publishers Ltd., (1992) 73 Com Cases 80 93 (Ker) as they have no authority under Sections 33 and 42 of the Stamp Act.

JUDICIAL PRONOUNCEMENT ABOUT TRANSFER OF SHARES

(A) In Dove Investments P. Ltd. v. Gujarat Industrial Investment Corpn. Ltd. [(2005) 60 SCL 604 (MAD)], the respondent company lodged with the appellant company shares pledged with it for effecting transfer of the same in its name. The appellant registered some of the shares and refused to register the balance on the ground that the respondent had failed to comply with the provisions of Section 108(1A) and 108(1C) [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013]. The respondent was successful before the CLB which held that provisions of Section 108(1C) [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013] are directory and directed the appellant to register the shares. The appellant challenged the order of the CLB (Now Tribunal) before the High Court. The Appeal was dismissed. According to the High Court, in so far as Sub-section (1C) is concerned, if the transfer of shares falls within any one of the exempted cases mentioned in that Sub-section, the requirements as to presentation of the instrument of transfer in favour of the prescribed authority and delivery thereof to the company within the prescribed time limit, as contemplated in Sub-section (1A) are not applicable, provided the conditions stipulated in Sub-section (1C) are satisfied. In view of the same, if any bank or financial institution or the Central Government or a State Government or any corporation owned or controlled by the Central Government or a State Government, or a corporation granting a loan against the security of shares, intends to get such shares registered in its own name, in the event of failure on the part of the borrower to repay the amount of loan, it shall complete the instrument of transfer and lodge it with the company for registration of the transfer in its own name. In such a circumstance, they will have to stamp or otherwise endorse on the instrument of transfer the date on which the bank or financial institution decides to get such share registered in its own name and the instrument so stamped or endorsed will have to be delivered to the company, together with the share certificate, for registration of the transfer within two months from the date so stamped or endorsed. It was not in dispute that the instruments of transfer were neither stamped nor endorsed by the petitioner, as required under Sub-section (1C) however, stamped by the prescribed authority contemplated under Sub-section (1A).

(B) Mukundlal Manchanda v. Prakash Raodlines Ltd. (1971) Com Cases 575, it was held that the requirement of Sub-section 1A(b)(ii) has to be read reasonably, so as to enable its smooth functioning; a delivery of instrument of transfer within a reasonable time should be held as a proper delivery. Further, where the company opines that the instrument of transfer has become stale and that it is improper to act upon it, the instrument of transfer has to be held as liable to be ignored. Further, even the belated delivery can be acted upon under certain circumstances while moving the Central Government under Sub-section (1) of Section 108(1A) [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013]. In the light of the said provision, even though the discretion lies in the company either to recognize the transfer or not to recognize it depending upon the staleness of the instrument, the affected person can very well move the Central Government under Sub-section (1D) by explaining the circumstances under which the delay occurred and the hardship that resulted by the non-recognition of the transfer. It was rightly concluded that in the light of the scheme of Section 108 [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013], particularly after the insertion of Sub-section (1A), (1B), (1C) and (1D), the Court have to bear in mind that the trivialities would not render an act futile and technical formalities required to be complied with for a valid transaction cannot outweigh the importance to be given to the substance of the transaction. Though the matter was taken up by way of appeal before the Divisional Bench of the Karnataka High Court, the Division Bench had not gone into the said aspect, namely, whether mandatory or directory, however, confirmed the judgment of the Single Judge in Mukundlal Manchanda's case was to be upheld and accordingly it was held that except Section 108(1) [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013] other provisions namely Sub-sections (1A) and (1C) are directory and not mandatory in nature.

- (J) Re. Wahib Bus and Mails Transport Co., (1947) 17 Com Cases 182 The onus of proving bad faith on the part of directors rests on the plaintiff. However, the directors cannot refuse to register transfer of shares effected by a Court sale, in spite of powers given by the articles.
- (K) Vallur Mohammad Saheb v. Golden Agro-Tech Industries Ltd. (2008) 83 SCL 391(CLB-CHENNAI), the transferee purchased 2700 shares of the company and lodged the transfer deed along with the original share certificates to the Registrar and Share Transfer Agent (RSTA) of the company. The company did not register the shares in the name of the transferee inspite of the transferor taking up the matter with the company. The transferee, therefore, filed petition under section 111/111A [Corresponds to section 58 & 59 of the Companies Act, 2013] to direct the company as well as its RSTA to pay damages with future interest from the date of filing the petition till the date of realization, or to issue duplicate share certificates to the petitioner. Allowing the petition, it was held that the bar embodied in section 22 of the SICA does not extend to any direction which may be issued by the CLB (Tribunal) under section 111/111A [Corresponds to section 58 & 59 of the Companies Act, 2013] for rectification of the register of members of the company. In view of this legal position, the resistance of the company for not registering the transfer of shares constituting miniscule 2700 shares only in favour of the transferee was not tenable.

- (L) Hindustan Mercantile Bank Ltd. v. D.N.Choudhury Cotton Mills Ltd. (2008) 83 SCL 399 (CLB–KOL.), the legal opinion on which the transferor company had relied upon was on the basis that the transferee company along with a few other companies was acting in concert to acquire shares in violation of the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 1997 [Replaced by SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 2011]. To come to the conclusion that the transferee along with others was acting in concert, reliance had been placed on commonality of directors both in the transferee-company and other companies. Since the company was not a listed company, the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 1997, were not applicable. Further, it was found that neither the transferee company nor other companies had acquired shares of the transferor company. Accordingly, the company was to be directed to register the transfer of shares in favour of the transferee.

- (P) Transferor Holds Bonus Shares Only as a Trustee for the Transferee. Charanjiv Lal v. ITC Ltd. and Another (2005) 5 COMP LJ 138 (CLB), the petitioner-transferee purchased 100 equity shares of ITC limited of bearing and lodged the same through post, which were received by the company on 10th December, 1991. However, the company did not take any action to register the shares in the name of the petitioner and informed him that it had not received the share certificates and the transfer instrument. To prevent any unauthorized transfer of the shares, he obtained a status quo order from Senior Civil Judge, Delhi. In the meanwhile, the company declared 60 bonus shares on two occasions against the impugned 100 shares of which the certificate relating to first 60 bonus shares had been sent to the transferor. The suit filed by the transferee-petitioner was dismissed for want of jurisdiction and hence the petitioner-transferee approached the Company Law Board. The Petition was allowed. The view expressed by the Judge was that the bonus shares always go with the original shares and the transferor holds bonus shares only as a trustee for the transferee. Considering that the original shares have been sold before the record date, in the absence of denial by the transferor nearly a month before the record date, it is the petitioner transferee who is entitled to the bonus shares and not the transferor.

TRANSFER OF SECURITIES REGISTERED WITH A DEPOSITORY

As stated earlier, in terms of Section 56 of the Act, the transfer of securities of, a company (other than the transfer between persons both of whose names are entered as holders of beneficial interest in the records of a depository), cannot be registered unless a proper instrument of transfer duly stamped, dated and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and transferee along with the certificate relating to the securities has been delivered to the company. Therefore, the requirements of section 56 are not applicable in respect of transfer of securities where both the transferor and transferee are entered as beneficial owners in the records of a depository. Besides, no stamp duty is payable for registration of transfer of shares in depository form. However, transaction charges are payable to depository participants.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

A transfer is said to be completed only after all the formalities such as execution of the transfer deed and handing over the share certificates are completed.

- True
- False

Correct answer: True

COMPLIANCE WITH SECTION 56 – A MANDATORY PROVISION

The Allahabad High Court had held that the provisions of Sub-section (1) are not mandatory but only directory and, therefore, the registration of a transfer of shares without an instrument of transfer is not void. Maheshwari Khetan Sugar Mills v. Ishwari Khetan Sugar Mills, (1963) 2 Comp LJ 74 : (1963) 33 Com Cases 1142 (DB) (All). But Section 108 [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013] mentions the words ‘shall not register’ which have the effect of forbidding the act of transfer except on the fulfilment of certain conditions precedent.

The above decision of the Allahabad High Court has since been reversed by the Supreme Court in Mannalal Khetan v. Kedar Nath Khetan (1977) 47 Com Cases 185: AIR 1977 SC 536 where the mandatory nature of the provisions of Sub-section (1) of Section 108 [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013] has been elaborately discussed and emphasised. The result is that without production of the share certificate along with the application for transfer, the transfer cannot be registered and if registered, the registration will be void.

In Vasant Investment Corporation Ltd. v. Company Law Board (1999) 19 SLL 502 (Bom), it was held that it is for the party making an appeal to the CLB (Now Tribunal) to prove that the decision of the Board of directors is initiated by an ulterior motive in case of a refusal by the Board to register a transfer.

The Section 59 assimilates in its fold the provisions for rectification of register of members empowering the Tribunal to order rectification of register of members. Sub-section (1) of Section 59 provides that if the name of any person is without sufficient cause entered in the register of members of a company, or after having been entered in the register is without sufficient cause omitted therefrom, or if a default is made or unnecessary delay takes place in entering in the register, the fact of any person having become or ceased to be a member, the person aggrieved or any member of the company, or the company may appeal to the Tribunal or to a competent court outside India specified by the Central Government by notification in respect of foreign members or debenture-holders residing outside India, for rectification of the register.

The Tribunal may, after hearing the parties to the appeal, by order, either dismiss the appeal or direct that the transfer or transmission shall be registered by the company within 10 days of the receipt of the order or direct rectification of the records of the depository or the register and in the latter case, direct the company to pay damages, if any, sustained by the party aggrieved. [Sub-section (2) of section 59].

CASE LAW

In Ratnesh H. Bagga v. Central Circuit Cine Association [(2005) 128 Com Cases 370 (CLB)], decided on 10.9.2004, respondent was a Section 25 company [Section 8 company under the new Companies Act, 2013]. The petitioner applied for membership of the respondent and his application was rejected. The petitioner filed a petition under Section 111 of the Companies Act, 1956 [Corresponds to section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013] seeking rectification of the register of members by putting his name in the register of members of the respondent company.

The petition was dismissed.

The reason stated was that Sub-sections (1), (2) and (3) of Section 111 [Corresponds to section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013] apply only to transfer or transmission of shares and has no application in the present case. Sub-section (4) [Corresponds to section 59(1) of the Companies Act, 2013] would apply only in a case of rectification of something in the register which should not be there or something omitted from the register which should rightly be there. The complaint of the petitioner is that the association had rejected his application for membership and thereby refused to put his name in the register of members. The two conditions prescribed in Section 41 of the Act [Corresponds to section 2(55) of the Companies Act, 2013] are cumulative in nature in the sense that there should not only be an agreement in writing but the name should also be entered in the register of members to become a member of a company. Merely agreeing to become a member of a company and on that basis to claim that the refusal of the company to enter his name in the register would entitle a petitioner to file a petition under Section 111 [Corresponds to section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013] is not sustainable. Whether the refusal by the association was mala fide or whether the articles giving power to the association to reject an application of membership are valid etc. are beyond the scope of Section 111 [Corresponds to section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013].

It is, however, pertinent to note that though time limits for filing of an appeal in circumstances stated in sub-section (3) & (4) of section 58 the Companies Act, 2013 have been specified, however no limit has been laid down for preferring an appeal for rectification of the register of members in Sub-section (1) of section 59 of the Companies Act, 2013]. But in regard to rectification to register of members provisions of Article 137 of the Limitation Act would apply and in consequence the application for rectification of register of members must be preferred within three years from the date on which the right occurs. [Anil Gupta v. Delhi Cloth & General Mills Co. Ltd. (1983) 54 Com Cases 301 (Delhi)].

The provisions stated above regarding rectification of the register of members shall apply in relation to the rectification of the register of debentureholder as they apply in relation to the rectification of the register of members.

If a person contravenes the order of the Tribunal under section 58, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than 1 year but which may extend to 3 years and with fine which shall not be less than 1 lakh rupees but which may extend to 5 lakh rupees. In addition, where any default is made in complying with the order of the Tribunal under section 59, the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to one year or with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to three lakh rupees, or with both.

BLANK TRANSFER

Meaning: When a shareholder signs the transfer form without filling in the name of the transferee and the date of execution and hands it over with the share certificate to the transferee thereby enabling the transferee to deal with the shares, he is said to have made a transfer 'in blank' or a 'blank transfer'.

Purpose of Blank transfer:

- (a) The 'blank transfer' enables a buyer to sell the shares contained in 'blank transfer deed' to some other person by delivering the share certificate and blank transfer deed without becoming an owner of such shares.
- (b) The process of buying and selling of shares through a blank transfer may continue any number of times.
- (c) Any buyer buying the shares by way of a 'blank transfer' may become the owner of such share, by filling his own name and other particulars in the blank transfer deed as a transferee and depositing with the company the transfer deed so filled up along with the share certificate. Such a buyer becomes the transferee of shares and no intervening buyer of shares shall be regarded as transferee.
- (d) Until some buyer is registered by the company as shareholder, the original shareholder (i.e. the transferor) shall continue to be the owner of the shares.
- (e) When the name of the buyer is registered as a shareholder by the company, he shall acquire good title to the shares notwithstanding the fact that the shares were transferred to him under a 'blank transfer'

Although one buyer may sell the shares to another buyer by way of 'blank transfer, yet a 'blank transfer deed' is not a negotiable instrument. Accordingly, the title of the transferee acquiring shares through a blank transfer shall invariably be subject to the title of the transferor. Thus, the bona fide transferee from a person who has acquired a blank transfer deed by fraud does not acquire good title to the shares included in the deed.

Evils Connected with 'blank transfer':

Following are the evil intentions behind 'blank transfer'

- (1) Avoidance of transfer stamps;
- (2) concealment of the identity of the real beneficial owners behind their nominees;
- (3) evasion of tax by suppression of 'secret' profit invested in holdings on blank transfers.

Shares are usually transferred in blank when a shareholder borrows money on its security, e.g., by pledging the shares; the pledger make default in payment of the amount due at the time appointed for repayment, the pledgee or the holder of the share certificate and the blank transfer instrument has implied power to fill up the blanks in the instrument by inserting the date and his own name as transferee and to get himself registered as a member of the company. The pledger is under an implied obligation not to prevent or delay such registration. This right to get himself registered as a member is available to the transferee even after the death of the transferor [In Re. Bengal Silk Mills Co. Ltd., (1942) Com Cases 206].

A blank transfer accompanied by the delivery of the share certificates vests in the transferee both equitable as well as legal rights in the shares. But until the registration of his name in the register of members, the transferee does not acquire a title and thus he cannot exercise any right as shareholder in respect of those shares.

In all cases only a bona fide holder will have the right to fill in his name or the name of a person for whom he is acting under an authority and apply for registration of the transfer. [Colonial Bank v. Hepworth, (1887) 36 ChD 26]. Where share scrips accompanied by duly executed transfer forms came into the hands of a bona fide purchaser, it was held that the original owner who signed in blank was estopped from questioning the validity of the title of the bona fide purchaser. [Sumitra Debi Jalan v. Satya Narayan Prahladka, AIR 1965 Cal 355].

In Howrah Trading Co. Ltd. v. C.I.T. (1959) 29 Com Cases 282 : AIR 1959 SC 775, the Supreme Court recognised the validity of “blank transfers” viz., where the name of transferor is entered and the transferor signs the transfer with the share scrip annexed, and hands it over to the transferee who, if he chooses, may complete the transfer by entering his name and then apply to the company to register his name in the place of that of the transferor.

FORGED TRANSFER

It may happen that a forged instrument of transfer is presented to the company for registration. In order to avoid the consequences which will follow a forged transfer, companies normally write to the transferor about the lodgement of the transfer instrument so that he can object if he wishes. The company informs him that if no objection is made by him before a day specified in the notice, it would register the transfer. The consequences of a forged transfer are detailed hereunder:

- (a) A forged transfer is a nullity and, therefore, the original owner of the shares continues to be the shareholder and the company is bound to restore his name on the register of members [People's Ins. Co. v. Wood and Co., 1961 (31) Com Cases 61]. A forged document never has any legal effect. It can never move ownership from one person to another, however, genuine it may appear. Thus, a forged instrument of transfer leaves the ownership of the shares exactly where it always was in the so-called transferor. It follows that if a company registers a forged transfer, the true owner can apply so as to be replaced on the register and his name will be restored. But the company does not incur any liability in damages by putting the name on the register.
- (b) However, if the company issues a share certificate to the transferee and he sells the shares to an innocent purchaser, the company is liable to compensate such a purchaser, if it refuses to register him as a member, or if his name has to be removed on the application of the true owner.
- (c) If the company is put to loss by reason of the forged transfer, as it may have paid damages to an innocent purchaser, it may recover the same independently from the person who lodged the forged transfer.

EXAMPLE

Let us take an example to illustrate the consequences of forged transfer. Suppose, 'A' is a registered shareholder and his name is entered on the register of members in respect of certain number of shares. By fraud or theft, B obtains possession of 'A' share certificate and having forged a document purporting to be a transfer of shares to himself from A, succeeds in getting himself registered as a member and obtains from the company a new shares certificate made out in his name. In spite of this, A does not cease to be the owner of the shares and a member of the company, as a forged document, being a nullity, does not move ownership from him to B or any other person. Producing the new certificate as evidence of his title, B purports to sell the shares to C, an innocent purchaser, who in reliance upon B's certificate, buys the shares in good faith and without notice of B's fraud. The company then registers C as a member and issues the share certificate to him in respect of the shares purchased by him. When A discovers the fraud, he being entitled for the rectification of register, has C's name struck off the register of members and has his own name restored as the registered holder of the shares. A never ceased to be the owner of the shares, although the company issued successive certificates to B and C. The company will be liable in damages to C and for other incidental loss. But it would be entitled to indemnity as against B, and if the forged transfer were lodged by a broker acting for B, against the broker also, even though the broker was innocent to the fraud for a person who brings a transfer to the registering authority and requests him to register it, impliedly warrants that it is a genuine document.

A forged transfer can pass no title and is a nullity. In Simm v. Anglo-American Telegraph Co., (1879) 5 QBD 188, CA; France v. Clark, (1884) 26 ChD 257 CA; when shares transferred under a forged signature and the transferee received a share certificate, the title does not pass to him.

The fact that the transferee was a bona fide purchaser for value did not make any difference and the transferee was bound to return the scrips to the person to whom the same rightfully belong. [Kaushalya Devi v. National Insulated Cable Company of India 1977 Tax LR 1928 (Del)]

In case of joint shareholdings, a transfer to be effective must be executed by all and if the signature of any one be forged, the transfer will be void. Nicol's case, case (1885) 9 Ch D 421.

A person acting in good faith, sends in and procures registration of the transfer and the issue of a fresh certificate on the basis of a forged deed is bound to indemnify the company against the untoward consequences. [See Welch v. Bank of England, (1955) Ch 508 : (1955) 1 All ER 811]. This happens when a stock broker, trusting his clients innocently forwards forged document to the company. [Yeung v. Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corpn., (1980) 2 All ER 599].

Further Section 57 states that if any person deceitfully personates as an owner of any security or interest in a company, or of any share warrant or coupon issued in pursuance of this Act, and thereby obtains or attempts to obtain any such security or interest or any such share warrant or coupon, or receives or attempts to receive any money due to any such owner, he shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than one year but which may extend to three years and with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to five lakh rupees.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

A forged transfer can pass title.

- True
- False

Correct answer: False

A forged transfer cannot pass any title and is a nullity.

DEATH OF A JOINT SHAREHOLDER

Where shares are held in joint names, and one of the joint shareholder dies the survivor alone will be recognized as the holder of the said shares. It would be sufficient for the company to delete the name of the deceased shareholder after obtaining satisfactory evidence of his death. This of course does not prevent a third person from calling on the company to register his name as holder of the shares after obtaining evidence such as probate of a will for the purpose of proving his title to the shares as against the surviving joint holders.

TRANSPOSITION OF NAME

In the case of joint-shareholders, one or more of them may require the company to alter or rearrange the serial order of their names in the register of members of the company. In this process, there will be need for effecting consequential changes in the share certificates issued to them. If the company provides in its articles that the senior-most among the joint-holders will be recognised for all purposes like service of notice, a copy of balance sheet, profit and loss account, voting at a meeting etc., the request of transposition may be duly considered and approved by the Board or other authorised officer of the company. Since no transfer of any interest in the shares take place on such transposition, the question of insisting on filling transfer deed with the company, may not arise. Transposition does not also require stamp duty.

The Stock Exchange Division of the Department of Economic Affairs has clarified that there is no need of execution of transfer deed for transposition of names if the request for change in the order of names was made in writing, by all the joint-holders. If transposition is required in respect of a part of the holding, execution of transfer deed will be required.

DEATH OF TRANSFEROR OR TRANSFEREE BEFORE REGISTRATION OF TRANSFER

Where the transferor dies and the company has no notice of his death the company would obviously register the transfer. But if the company has notice of his death, the proper course is not to register until the legal representative of the transferor has been referred to.

Where the transferee dies and company has notice of his death, a transfer of shares cannot be registered in the name of the deceased. With the consent of the transferor and the legal representatives of the transferee, the transfer may be registered in the names of the later. But if there is a dispute, an order of Court will have to be insisted upon.

In Killick Nixon Ltd. v. Dhanraj Mills Ltd., it was held that the company is not bound to enquire into the capability of the transferee to enter into a contract. The company has to act on the basis of what is presented in the transfer deed.

Proof in a transfer by representative

Where a transfer is executed by a person in a representative capacity such as an officer of a body corporate or by an attorney, proof of the authority, must be produced, before the transfer can be registered.

Relationship between Transferor and Transferee

Pending registration, the transferee has only an equitable right to the shares transferred to him. He does not become the legal owner until his name is entered on the Register of Members in respect of the shares. But as between the transferor and the transferee, immediately after the transfer is made, the contract of transfer will subsist and the transferee becomes the beneficial owner of the shares so transferred to him. A relation of trustee (transferor) and beneficiary (transferee) is thereby established between them. The transferor is under obligation to comply with all reasonable directions of the transferee. The transferee should, however, take prompt steps to get himself registered as a member.

Section 126 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that where the transferor gives a mandate to pay the dividend to the transferee pending registration of transfer, the same should be paid to the transferee, otherwise the dividend in relation to such shares should be transferred to the Unpaid Dividend Account mentioned in Section 124. It is further provided that in the case of offer of rights shares or fully paid bonus shares, the same should be kept in abeyance till the title to the shares is decided.

RIGHTS OF TRANSFEROR

In JRRT (Investments) Ltd. v. Haycraft, (1993) BCLC 401 (Ch.D) it was held that, the transferor is not deprived off his valuable rights, the right to dividend and the right to vote even where the purchaser has failed to make payment. An unpaid vendor has the right to exercise voting rights in respect of shares registered in his name. He is not obliged to comply with the directions of the purchaser in respect of the shares taken by him.

But on the other hand, the company refuses to register the transfer for no fault or default of the transferee, the transferor, by reason of the shares continuing to stand in his name, will, in cases where he has received consideration for the transfer, be treated as trustee for the transferee and bound to act in accordance with his directions and for his benefit in respect of the shares, unless the transferee rescinds the contract and seeks to recover his money on a consideration which has failed. However, after the transfer form has been executed the transferor cannot be compelled to undertake any additional financial burden in respect of the shares at the instance of the transferee where, after the transfer of shares, but before the company had registered the transfer, the company offered rights shares to its members, the Supreme Court held that the transferor could not be compelled by the transferee to take up on his behalf the rights shares offered to the transferor. [Mathalone (R) v. Bombay Life Assurance Co. Ltd. AIR 1953 SC 385 : (1954) 24 Com Cases 1 See also Life Insurance Corporation of India v. Escorts Ltd. (1986) 59 Com Cases 548 : AIR 1986 SC 1370]. But where, due to the transferee's own default, the transfer of shares is not registered the transferor cannot be held to be a trustee for the defaulting transferee simply because the share continues to remain in the transferor's name in the books of the company.

The seller's duty is complete when he hands over to the transferee a duly executed transfer form. [Skinner v. City of London Marine Insurance Corpn., (1885) 14 QBD 882].

Where a transferor transfers his share for consideration and delivers along with the share certificate the transfer form duly signed by him, but the transferee, instead of completing the transfer by signing his own name as transferee and presenting it for registration to the company, chooses to keep the transfer in blank and passes it on to others along with the share certificate, it cannot be said that the transferor, simply because the share continues to stand in his name, should be treated as a trustee for a series of unknown holders of the blank transfer.

When he sold his share to the original transferee he could not be deemed to have represented to the transferee anything more than that the share was transferable nor to have agreed to the transferee keeping or passing on the transfer in blank from hand to hand for an indefinite duration, without its being presented to the company for registration.

Where a shareholder executes a blank transfer to enable another to deal with the shares, he is bound not to do anything to obstruct registration of the transfer and if he improperly intervenes he is liable in damages, Hooper v. Herts, (1906) 1 Ch 549: (1904-7) ALL ER Rep 849 (CA).

Transferor's right to indemnity for calls - Where a transferor has paid for calls to the company after the shares are transferred, there arises an implied promise by the transferee to indemnify the transferor. Such a promise to indemnify can be implied even in the case of blank transfers [Ashworth Partington & Co., (1925) 1 K].

Transferee's right to Dividends, Bonus and Rights Shares - Where the transferor, by reason of the shares standing in his name, has received after the transfer, any dividend on shares, bonus or other benefit accruing in respect thereof, the transferee being the person lawfully entitled thereto, can recover the same from the transferor, provided that he has not allowed his claim to become time barred under the provisions of the Limitation Act. [Chunnihal Khushaldas Patel v. H.K. Adhyaru, (1956) 26 Com Cases 168 : AIR 1956 SC 655].

Dividend to transferee after transfer - In one case the transfer was registered and dividends paid to the transferee. Later, the register was rectified by removing the transferee's name from the register on the ground of a technical nature, like inadequacy of stamps, it was held that the transferee was not bound to handover the dividend amount to the transferor. [Kothari Industrial Corpn. Ltd. v. Lazor Detergents P. Ltd., (1994) 1 Comp LJ 178 (CLB-Mad)]. However the Madras High Court held that the company should not be allowed to rectify the register on a technical ground after transferring the shares.

Position under the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 - As regards the position of a transferor after transfer, Section 27 of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 (42 of 1956) may also be noted. It provides as follows:

Title to dividends - (1) It shall be lawful for the holder of any security whose name appears on the books of the company issuing the said security to receive and retain any dividend declared by the company in respect thereof for any year, notwithstanding that the said security has already been transferred by him for consideration, unless the transferee, who claims the dividend from the transferor has lodged the security and all other documents relating to the transfer which may be required by the company with the company for being registered in his name within fifteen days of the date on which the dividend became due.

Explanation: The period specified in this section shall be extended -

- (i) in case of death of the transferee, by the actual period taken by his legal representative to establish his claim to the dividend;
- (ii) in case of loss of transfer deed by theft or any other cause beyond the control of the transferee, by the actual period taken for the replacement thereof; and
- (iii) in case of delay in the lodging of any security and other documents relating to the transfer due to causes connected with the post, by the actual period of the delay.

(2) Nothing contained in Sub-section (1) shall affect -

- (a) the right of a company to pay any dividend which has become due to any person whose name is for the time being registered in the books of the company as the holder of the security in respect of which the dividend has become due; or
- (b) the right of the transferee of any security to enforce against the transferor or any other person his rights, if any, in relation to the transfer in any case where the company has refused to register the transfer of the security in the name of the transferee.

EFFECTS OF TRANSFER

Once a transfer form has been executed, the transfer is complete as between the transferor and the transferee and the transferee acquires the right to have his name entered in the register of members. No further application is necessary for having the name of the transferee entered in the register of members and the transferee perfects his title to the share after the entry in the Register of Members. Once the transferee becomes a member of the company, a contractual relationship arises with the company, [Killick Nixon Ltd. v. Dhanraj Mills Pvt. Ltd., (1983) 54 Com Cases 432 (DB) (Bom)].

A company cannot refuse to register a transfer on the ground that the transfer was without consideration or that there was a collusion and connivance between the transferor and transferee. Any objection about inadequate consideration can be raised only by the transferor himself and not by the company particularly where the shares are fully paid. Where the transfer is in a spot delivery contract, Section 108 [Corresponds to section 56 of the Companies Act, 2013] is not applicable. [Sanatan Investment Co. Pvt. Ltd. v. Prem Chand Jute Mills Ltd. (1983) 54 Com Cases 186 (Cal)].

Priority among Transferees

It was held in Society General De Paris v. Jonet Walker and other (1886) 11 Ac 20 that where a shareholder has fraudulently sold his shares to two different transferees, the first purchaser will, on the ground of time alone, be entitled to the shares in priority to the second.

For example, a person assigned his property, including some shares, for the benefit of his creditor. The assignee failed to get the share certificates registered in his name, but gave notice of assignment to the company. The assignor sold the shares to another who applied for registration. It was held that the assignee's claim was prior in time and therefore, entitled to registration. [Peat v. Clayton, (1906) 1 Ch. 659].

Pledging of Shares

Shares of a company can be a subject matter of a valid pledge. Section 2(7) of the Sale of Goods Act, 1930, defines the term 'goods' as meaning every kind of moveable property other than actionable claim and money and includes stocks and shares. Shares are goods under the Sale of Goods Act, 1930 and therefore can be a subject matter of pledge under the Indian Contract Act, 1872. In Kanhaiyalal Jhanwar vs Pandit Shirali And Co. And Ors [AIR 1953 Cal 526], the Calcutta High Court held that the deposit of share certificates themselves is sufficient to create a pledge thereon.

On the death of a sole owner of shares, the rights and liabilities goes in favour of the legal heirs. They are entitled to be registered as the holder of the shares. But the company can register them as members with only their consent and when they apply for it. Re Cheshire Banking Co., Duff's Executor's case (1886) 32 Ch D 301.

COMPANY'S LIEN ON SHARES

Articles 9 to 12 of Table F of Schedule I to the Act carry the rules as to lien. These articles are not compulsory. A company may adopt its own articles regarding the subject matter of lien as also regarding any money due to it from the shareholder either originally or subsequently by a special resolution. The fact to be noted is that unless the articles provide for a lien, a company has no inherent or prima facie right of lien on the shares of members. [Canara Bank Ltd. v. Tribhuvandas Jetha Bhai, AIR 1957 Trav. C. 183 : (1957) 27 Com Cases 647]. But in the case of listed company, one of the requirements is that the articles of the company shall provide that the fully paid shares will be free from all lien, while in the case of partly paid shares, the company's lien, if any, will be restricted to monies called or payable at a fixed time in respect of such shares [Rule 19(2)(ii) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957]. In a lien the company shall have first and paramount lien on the shares of each member for his debts and liabilities to the company. Such a provision is fully effective for private as well as public companies. [Allen v. Gold Reefs of West Africa Ltd., (1900) 1 Ch 656: (1900-3) All ER 746 (CA)]

Where lien is acquired by a subsequent amendment of the articles, it will not allow the company to upset any rights which might have been acquired. But otherwise the right of a lien subsequently brought in, shall be binding on all the members even if they became shareholders before the alteration [Allen v. Gold Reefs of West Africa Ltd., (1900) 1 Ch 656 : (1900-3) All ER 746 (CA)].

Extent and waiver of lien

The right of lien extends to any monies receivable by the shareholder in respect of the shares even in the winding up of the company. A lien on the proceeds of sale of shares is a lien on the shares.

Where the articles of association of a private limited company gave the company a first and paramount lien over the shares of any shareholder indebted to it, and the shareholder created an equitable charge on the shares in favour of a third party, the company's lien was held to have priority over the equitable charge. [Champagne Perrier-Janet S.A. v. H.H. Finch Ltd., (1982) 3 All ER 713].

The company can waive the lien either expressly or by doing anything which has the effect of waiving the right.

Where a company registers a transfer of shares over which it has a lien, the registration will operate as a waiver of the lien. [See Turner Morrison & Co. Ltd. v. Hungerford Investment Trust Ltd., (1972) 42 Com Cases 512 : AIR 1972 SC 1311].

Enforcement and postponement of lien

The usual method of enforcing a lien is a refusal by the company to register a transfer of shares until the dues of the company in respect of those shares are first paid.

An article merely giving a right of lien is not enough to confer a right to bring the property to sale in exercise of such right. [See Bank of India Ltd. v. Rustom Fakirji, AIR 1955 Bom 419].

In the absence of a provision in the articles giving power to the company to enforce a lien by sale, the lien cannot be enforced except through Court. [New London & Brazilian Bank v. Brockle Bank, (1882) 21 Ch D 302].

A lien cannot be enforced by forfeiture, even if the articles provide that it may be so enforced. For, a lien is in the nature of an equitable mortgage and a clause for forfeiture in a mortgage is invalid as a clog on the equity of redemption.

In a case, certain shares which were subject to a first and paramount lien were given to bank as security for an overdraft and the bank gave notice to the company, the Court held that the bank's claim was prior to that of the company which arose subsequently. Notice to the company means notice to any director or officer who is authorised in the matter. [United India Sugar Mills Ltd., Re AIR 1933 ALL 607].

TRANSFER OF SHARES IN DEPOSITORY MODE

Depository system maintains the ownership records of securities in the book entry form while in physical mode every share transfer is required to be accomplished by physical movement of share certificates to, and registration with the company concerned. The process of physical movement of share certificates often involves long delays and a significant portion of transactions end up as bad deliveries due to the faulty completion of paperwork, or signature differences with the specimens on record with the companies, or for other procedural lapses. Investors also face problems on account of loss of share certificates, forgery and mutilation. The significant time involved in effecting ownership changes also impounds a substantial volume of shares at any given time leading to lower trading volumes.

As part of capital market reform, the Government promulgated on September 20, 1995, the Depositories

Ordinance, 1995 to provide for legal framework for setting up of depositories to record the ownership details in book entry form. Later, on November 28, 1995, the Government introduced in Parliament the Depositories Bill, 1995 to replace the said Ordinance. The Bill was enacted as the Depositories Act, 1996.

Legal Framework for Depository Systems

The legal framework for depository system in the Depositories Act provides for the establishment of single or multiple depositories. Anybody to be eligible for providing depository services must be formed and registered as a company under the Companies Act, 2013 and seek registration with SEBI and obtain a Certificate of Commencement of Business from SEBI on fulfilment of the prescribed conditions. The investors opting to join depository mode are required to enter into an agreement with depository through a participant who acts as an agent of depository. The agencies such as custodians, banks, financial institutions, large corporate brokerage firms, non-banking financial companies etc. act as participants of depositories. The companies issuing securities are also required to enter into an agreement with the Depository.

In the depository system, share certificates belonging to the investors are dematerialised and their names are entered in the records of depository as beneficial owners. Consequent to these changes, the investors' names in the companies register are replaced by the name of depository as the registered owner of the securities. The depository however, does not have any voting rights or other economic rights in respect of the shares as a registered owner. The beneficial owner continues to enjoy all the rights and benefits and be subject to all the liabilities in respect of the securities held by a depository. Shares in the depository mode are fungible and do not have distinctive numbers. The ownership changes in the depository are done automatically on the basis of delivery payment.

The companies which enter into an agreement with the depository will give an option to the holders of eligible securities to avail the services of the depository through participants. The investors desiring to join the depository are required to surrender the certificates of securities to the issuer company in the specified manner and on receipt of information about dematerialisation of securities by the issuer company, the depository enters in its records the names of the investors as beneficial owners. Similarly, the beneficial owner has right to opt out of a depository in respect of any security and claim the share certificates and get his name substituted in the register of members as the registered owner in place of the depository.

There has to be regular, mandatory flow of information about the details of ownership in the depository record to the company concerned. In case of any reservation about the acquisition of securities on the ground that the transfer of securities is in contravention of any of the provisions of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, SEBI Act, 1992 or Companies Act, 2013 or any other law for the time being in force, the depository, company, depository participants, the holder of securities or SEBI shall have a right to make an application to the Tribunal for rectification of register or records concerned. Pending decision of the Tribunal, the holder of securities can transfer such securities and the transferee concerned shall be entitled to voting rights unless the voting rights have been suspended by an order of the Tribunal.

The Act provides for detailed regulations to be framed by SEBI and detailed bye-laws to be framed by depositories with the approval of SEBI. The bye-laws provide for rights and obligations of participants, beneficial owners and procedure for ensuring adequate safeguards to protect the interests of investors. The Act requires the depository to indemnify for loss caused to beneficial owner due to negligence of depository or its participants.

How does an investor avail services of a depository?

(a) In the case of existing securities:

An investor before availing the services of a depository, shall enter into an agreement with the depository through a participant and then shall surrender security certificates to the issuer. The issuer on receipt of security certificate shall cancel them and substitute in its records the name of the depository as the registered owner in respect of that security and inform the depository accordingly. The depository shall thereafter enter the name of the investor in its records as beneficial owner.

(b) In the case of fresh issue:

At the time of initial offer the investor would indicate his choice in the application form. If the investor opts to hold a security in the depository mode, the issuer shall intimate the concerned depository about the details of allotment of a security made in the favour of investors and records the depository as registered owner of the securities. On receipt of such information, the depository shall enter in its records the names of allottees as the beneficial owners. In such case a prior agreement by the investor with the depository as well as an agreement between the issuer company and depository may be necessary.

(c) In the case of exit from the depository:

If a beneficial owner or a transferee of a security desires to take away a security from depository, he shall inform the depository of his intention. The depository in turn shall make appropriate entries in its records and inform the issuer. The issuer shall make arrangements for the issue of certificate of securities to the investor within 30 days of the receipt of intimation from the depository.

(d) In the case of transfer within the depository:

The depository shall record all transfers of securities made among the beneficial owners on receipt of suitable intimation to the effect that a genuine purchase transaction has been settled.

(e) In the case of pledge:

Before creation of any pledge or hypothecation in respect of a security, the beneficial owner is required to obtain prior approval of the depository and on creation of pledge or hypothecation, the beneficial owner shall give intimation of such pledge or hypothecation to the depository. The depository shall make appropriate entries in its records which will be admissible as evidence.

What is free transferability of securities?

It refers to a situation where on receipt of intimation regarding settlement of purchase transaction, the transfer of a security is effected immediately and the transferee enjoys all the rights and obligations associated with the securities. Once a genuine purchase transaction is settled, nobody including the issuer, depository, participant, any intermediary or regulatory authority can withhold the transfer of security.

Types of securities freely transferable

Only securities i.e. the shares, debentures, any other securities and any interest therein of a public limited company (listed as well as unlisted companies) have been made freely transferable. The Board of directors of such a company or the concerned depository shall not have any discretion to refuse or withhold a transfer of such security. Any other security, for example, shares or debentures of a private company or any unit of a mutual fund, or any security issued by any issuer other than a public limited company are not freely transferable and would be subject to the restrictions contained in the articles of association or the bye-laws of the concerned issuer and terms of issue.

Safeguards to address the concerns of the Investors on Transfer of Securities in Dematerialized Mode

The concerns arising out of transfer of securities from the Beneficial Owner (BO) Accounts without proper authorization by the concerned investor have been brought to the notice of SEBI by some Investors' Associations. Accordingly SEBI has decided to put in place the following safeguards to address the concerns of the Investors on electronic transfer.

- (a) The depositories shall give more emphasis on investor education particularly with regard to careful preservation of Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS) by the BOs. The Depositories may advise the BOs not to leave "blank or signed" DIS with the Depository Participants (DPs) or any other person/entity.
- (b) The DPs shall not accept pre-signed DIS with blank columns from the BO(s).
- (c) The DPs shall issue only one DIS booklet containing not more than 20 slips for individual account holders and not more than 100 slips for non-individual account holders, at a time.
- (d) If the DIS booklet is lost/stolen/not traceable by the BO, the same must be intimated to the DP immediately by the BO in writing. On receipt of such intimation, the DP shall cancel the unused DIS of the said booklet.
- (e) The DPs can issue subsequent DIS booklet to BO only after the BO has used not less than 75 per cent of the slips contained in the previous DIS booklet. The DP shall also ensure that a new DIS booklet is issued only on the strength of the DIS instruction request slip (contained in the previous booklet) duly complete in all respects, unless the request for fresh booklet is due to loss, etc., as referred to in clause (d) above.
- (f) The DPs shall not issue more than 10 loose DIS to one account-holder in financial year (April to March). The loose DIS can be issued only if the BO(s) come in person and sign the loose DIS in the presence of an authorized DP official.
- (g) The DPs shall put in place appropriate checks and balances with regard to verification of signatures of the BOs while processing the DIS.
- (h) The DPs shall cross check with the BOs under exceptional circumstances before acting upon the DIS.
- (i) The DPs shall mandatorily verify with a BO before acting upon the DIS, in case of an account which remained inactive i.e., where no debit transaction had taken place for a continuous period of 6 months, whenever all the ISIN balances in that account (irrespective of the number of ISINs) are transferred at a time. However, in case of active accounts, such verification may be made mandatory only if the BO account has 5 or more ISINs and all such ISIN balances are transferred at a time. The authorized official of the DP verifying such transactions with the BO, shall record the details of the process, date, time, etc., of the verification on the instruction slip under his signature.

GLOSSARY

Fungibility	A good or asset's interchangeability with other individual goods/assets of the same type. Assets possessing this property simplify the exchange/trade process, as interchangeability assumes that everyone values all goods of that class as the same.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The company is an artificial person and is managed by the human beings. The human who runs it are known as Board of Directors. Directors acting collectively are known as Board. The directors play a very important role in the day to day functioning of the company. It is the board, who is responsible of the company's overall performance.

To attain the objectives prescribed in Memorandum of Association of the company, company depends on Board of Directors (collectively) and directors (individually). Directors of a Company are its eyes, ears, brain, hands and other essential limbs.

Chapter XI of Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Appointment and Qualification of Directors) Rules, 2014 specifies regulatory prescriptions relating to appointment of directors, directors identification number, disqualification, vacation, removal etc., The Act has brought in many new provisions such as appointment of women director, resident director, independent director by certain class of companies. After reading this lesson, you will be able to understand the legal concept of director, their qualifications, appointment, vacation, removal, etc.

"Effective leadership is putting first things first. Effective management is discipline, carrying it out." – Stephen Covey

INTRODUCTION

On incorporation, a company becomes an artificial person in the eyes of law, it has a perpetual succession, its members may come and may go but the company lives till its death as aforementioned. It is empowered to hold all properties in its own name and in its own right. It can sue others and can be sued by others in its own name.

In order to enable a company to achieve its objects as enshrined in the objects clause of its Memorandum of Association, it has necessarily to depend upon some agency, known as Board of directors.

The Board of directors of a company is a nucleus, selected according to the procedure prescribed in the Act and the Articles of Association. Members of the Board of directors are known as directors, who unless especially authorised by the Board of directors of the Company, do not possess any power of management of the affairs of the company. Acting collectively as a Board of directors, they can exercise all the powers of the company except those, which are prescribed by the Act to be specifically exercised by the company in general meeting.

The directors formulate policies and establish organisational set up for implementing those policies and to achieve the objectives as contained in the Memorandum, muster resources for achieving the company objectives and control, guide, direct and manage the affairs of the company.

The Companies Act 2013 does not contain an exhaustive definition of the term "director". Section 2(34) of the Act prescribed that "director" means a director appointed to the Board of a company.

Section 2(10) of the Companies Act, 2013 defined that "Board of Directors" or "Board", in relation to a company, means the collective body of the directors of the company.

The term 'Board of Directors' means a body duly constituted to direct, control and supervise the affairs of a company.

As per Section 149 of the Companies Act, 2013, the Board of Directors of every company shall consist of individual only. Thus, no body corporate, association or firm shall be appointed as director.

Again Section 166 of Companies Act, 2013, prohibits assignment of office of director to any other person. Any assignment of office made by a director shall be void.

Minimum/Maximum Number of Directors in a Company [Section 149(1)]

Section 149(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 requires that every company shall have a minimum number of 3 directors in the case of a public company, two directors in the case of a private company, and one director in the case of a One Person Company. A company can appoint maximum 15 fifteen directors. A company may appoint more than fifteen directors after passing a special resolution in general meeting and approval of Central Government is not required.

The restriction of maximum number of directors shall not apply to section 8 companies.

LET US REMEMBER!!

Minimum number of directors

Public Company	-	3 Directors
----------------	---	-------------

Private Company	-	2 directors
One Person Company (OPC)	-	1 Director

Maximum Number of Director is 15, which can be increased by passing a special Resolution. Section 8 companies can have more than 15 directors.

Number of directorships [Section 165]

Maximum number of directorships, including any alternate directorship, a person can hold is 20. It has come with a rider that number of directorships in public companies/ private companies that are either holding or subsidiary company of a public company shall be limited to 10 i.e., a person cannot be a director of more than 10 public companies. For the purpose of counting such directorship in public company, directorship in private companies that are either holding or subsidiary of a public company shall be included. Alternate directorship shall also be included while calculating the directorship of 20 companies. Section 8 company will not be counted for the purpose of maximum number of Directorship. Further the members of a company may restrict abovementioned limit by passing a special resolution.

If a person accepts an appointment as a director in contravention of above mentioned provisions, he shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than five thousand rupees but which may extend to twenty five thousand rupees for every day after the first day during which the contravention continues.

REMEMBER THAT!

- Maximum limit on total number of directorship has been fixed at 20 companies and the maximum number of public companies in which a person can be appointed as a director shall not exceed ten.
- The members of a company may, by special resolution, specify any lesser number of companies in which a director of the company may act as director.

Indian Resident Director

- The provision relating to appointment of Indian resident director are contained in section 149 (3) of the Companies Act, 2013. i.e. every company shall have at least one director who stays in India for a total period of not less than one hundred and eighty-two days during the financial year. In case of a newly incorporated company the requirement under this sub-section shall apply proportionately at the end of the financial year in which it is incorporated.

Woman Director

Second Proviso to section 149(1) read with

Rule 3 of Companies (Appointment and Qualification of Directors) Rules, 2014, prescribes the following class of companies shall appoint at least one woman director-

However any intermittent vacancy of a woman director shall be filled-up by the Board at the earliest but not later than immediate next Board Meeting or three months from the date of such vacancy whichever is later.

The paid up share capital or turnover, as the case may be, as on the last date of latest audited financial statements shall be taken into account.

Independent Directors

The details of definition, declaration, qualification etc. are dealt in Lesson No. 15

Director elected by Small Shareholders [Section 151]

“Small shareholder” means a shareholder holding shares of nominal value of not more than twenty thousand rupees or such other sum as may be prescribed.

Here, the ‘nominal value’ of shares is relevant. It does not matter how much is the ‘paid up value’ or ‘market value’ of shares. However, a small shareholder may be a holder of equity shares or preference shares or both.

For example: Mr. A holds 5000 equity shares of Rs. 10 each (Rs. 5 paid up) in XYZ Ltd. However, Mr. A cannot be considered as small shareholder since the nominal value of shares held by him (i.e. Rs. 50,000) exceeds Rs. 20,000.

 - (c) the office of the director becomes vacant in pursuance of section 167;
 - (d) he ceases to meet the criteria of independence as provided section 149 (6).
- (viii) Number of small shareholders' Directorship: A person shall not hold the office of small shareholders' director in more than two companies. If second company is in competitive business or is in conflict with business of the first company, he shall not be appointed in second company.
- (ix) No association with the company for next 3 years: He shall directly or indirectly not be appointed or associated in any other capacity with the company either directly or indirectly for a period of 3 years from the date of cessation as a small shareholder's director.

Important points to note:

- (i) A small shareholders' director may be removed by passing an ordinary resolution in the general meeting in accordance with the provisions of section 169 of the Act. At the time of voting on such resolution, every equity shareholders shall have a right to vote irrespective of the fact as to whether he is a small shareholder or not.

- (iv) They provide independent judgment and wider perspective.

Independent directors are meant to serve the company's shareholders. They should not be representative of any regulator or financial institution. The Companies Act 2013, has introduced new provisions relating to independent directors, eligibility criteria, tenure, appointment, qualification, code etc., Securities and Exchange Board of India (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 (LODR) contains provisions relating to Independent Director in tune with Companies Act, 2013.

1. INTRODUCTION

The Cadbury Committee in 1992, which itself was set up following the corporate scandals involving BCCI, Poly Peck and Maxwell, provided respectability to the concept of independent directors, by focusing on independent directors as a part of the new practices for better governance. Independent directors function as an oversight body in monitoring the performance and should raise red flags whenever suspicion occurs. They are expected to be more aware and question the company on relevant issues in their position as trustees of stakeholders.

The institution of independent directors is a critical instrument for ensuring good corporate governance and it is necessary that the functioning of the institution is critically analysed and proper safeguards are made to ensure efficacy.

Companies Act 2013 mandates appointment of independent directors by listed companies and other class of companies. It also prescribes other aspects such as maximum tenure of independent directors, separate meeting of independent directors, tenure, their qualifications, liability, appointment, remuneration etc. The Central Government has exempted section 8 companies from the requirement of appointment of Independent Director.

6. Tenure of Independent Director

Section 149(10) provides that subject to the provisions of section 152 (Appointment of Directors),

- (a) an independent director shall hold office for a term up to five consecutive years on the Board of a company.
- (b) He shall be eligible for reappointment on passing of a special resolution by the company and disclosure of such appointment in the Board's report.
- (c) No independent director shall hold office for more than two consecutive terms.

- (d) An independent director shall be eligible for appointment after the expiration of three years of ceasing to become an independent director. During the said period of three years, an independent director shall not be appointed in or be associated with the company in any other capacity, either directly or indirectly.

Explanation to section 149(10) & (11) prescribes that, any tenure of an independent director on the date of commencement of this Act shall not be counted as a term under those sub-sections.

Clarifications on Rules prescribed under the Companies Act 2013 - Matters relating to appointment and qualifications of directors and Independent Directors

- Section 149: Appointment of 'IDs'

Clarification has been sought if 'IDs' appointed prior to April 1, 2014, may continue and complete their remaining tenure, under the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 or they should demit office and be re-appointed (should the company so decide) in accordance with the provisions of the new Act.

The matter was examined in the light of the relevant provisions of the Act, particularly section 149(5) and 149(10) & (11). Explanation to section 149(11) clearly provides that any tenure of an "ID" on the date of commencement of the Act shall not be counted for his appointment/ holding office of director under the Act. In view of the transitional period of one year provided under section 149(5), it is hereby clarified that it would be necessary that if it is intended to appoint existing 'IDs' under the new Act, such appointment shall be made expressly under section 149(10)/(11) read with Schedule IV of the Act within one year from 1st April, 2014, subject to compliance with eligibility and other prescribed conditions.

- Section 149(10)/(11) - Appointment of 'IDs' for less than 5 years

Clarification has been sought as to whether it would be possible to appoint an individual as an ID for a period less than five years.

It has been clarified that section 149(10) of the Act provides a term of "upto five consecutive years" for an 'ID'. As such while appointment of an 'ID' for a term of less than five years would be permissible, appointment for any term (whether for five years or less) is to be treated as a one term under section 149(10) of the Act. Further, under section 149(11) of the Act, no person can hold office of 'ID' for more than 'two consecutive terms'. Such a person shall have to demit office after two consecutive terms even if the total number of years of his appointment in such two consecutive terms is less than 10 years. In such a case the person completing 'consecutive terms of less than ten years' shall be eligible for appointment only after the expiry of the requisite cooling-off period of three years.

- Appointment of 'IDs' through letter of appointment:-

With reference to Para IV (4) of Schedule IV of the Act (Code for IDs) which requires appointment of 'IDs' to be formalized through a letter of appointment, clarification has been sought if such requirement would also be applicable for appointment of existing 'IDs'? The matter has been examined. In view of the specific provisions of Schedule IV, appointment of 'IDs' under the new Act would need to be formalized through a letter of appointment.

LET US REMEMBER:-

Independent Director shall hold office for a term upto 5 consecutive years, but shall be eligible for re-appointment on passing of a special resolution.

He shall not hold office for more than 2 consecutive terms, but such independent director shall be eligible for appointment after the expiration of 3 years of ceasing to become an independent director.

7. Liability of Independent Director

Section 149(12) provides that, notwithstanding anything contained in this Act, an independent director; a non-executive director not being promoter or key managerial personnel, shall be held liable, only in respect of such acts of omission or commission by a company which had occurred with his knowledge, attributable through Board processes, and with his consent or connivance or where he had not acted diligently.

8. Retirement by rotation not applicable to independent directors

Section 149(13) states that the provisions of sections 152(6) & (7) in respect of retirement of directors by rotation shall not be applicable to independent directors.

9. Remuneration of Independent Director

Section 149(9) provides that notwithstanding anything contained in any other provision of this Act, but subject to the provisions of sections 197 and 198, an independent director shall not be entitled to any stock option and may receive remuneration by way of fee provided under sub-section (5) of section 197, reimbursement of expenses for participation in the Board and other meetings and profit related commission as may be approved by the members .

10. Requirement of explanatory statement [Section 152(6)]

In the case of appointment of an independent director in the general meeting, an explanatory statement for such appointment, annexed to the notice of the general meeting, shall include a statement that in the opinion of the Board, he fulfils the conditions specified in this Act for such an appointment.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

In the previous chapter, we had learnt about the concept of directors, their appointment, removal, remuneration etc. Now let us learn about the powers and duties of directors. Directors acting collectively i.e. Board of Directors are authorized to do what the company is authorized to do unless barred by restrictions on their powers by the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, the Memorandum or Articles of the company. Except where express provisions are made that the powers of a company in respect of any matter are to be exercised by the company in general meeting, in all other cases the Board is entitled to exercise all its powers. The directors acting together are the authority for conducting the affairs of the company. They are authorised to do what the company is authorised to do, unless barred by restrictions on their powers by the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act), the Memorandum or Articles of the company.

DISTRIBUTION OF POWERS OF A COMPANY

The directors shall exercise their powers bona fide and in interest of the company. The directors while exercising their powers do not act as agents for the majority or even all the members and so the members cannot by resolution passed by a majority or even unanimously supercede the director's powers, or instruct them how they shall exercise their powers. This sovereignty of the directors within the limits of the powers conferred on them by the articles, and within limit laid down by the Act was clearly expressed by Greer L.J. in John Shaw & Sons (Salford) Ltd. v. Shaw (1935) 2 K.B. 113 in the following words:

“A company is an entity distinct alike from its shareholders and its directors. Some of its powers may, according to its articles, be exercised by directors, certain other powers may be reserved for the shareholders in general meeting. The powers of management are vested in the directors. They and they alone can exercise these powers. The only way in which the general body of the shareholders can control the exercise of the powers vested by the articles, in the directors, is by altering the articles, or if opportunity arises under the articles, by refusing to re-elect the directors whose action they disapprove. They cannot themselves usurp the powers which by the articles are vested in the directors any more than the directors can usurp the powers vested by the articles in the general body of shareholders”.

In Milan Senv. Guardian Plastics Ltd. (1998) 2 Comp L J 320, the directors passed a resolution for rights issue which was questioned by certain shareholders. The Calcutta High Court held that the question whether the company needed additional capital was a question which should primarily be decided by the directors of the company and if they were of the view that further capital in the form of rights issue was required the Court would be slow to disturb the same unless there were extreme circumstances of malafides or breach of trust.

Thus, from the provisions of Section 179 and the exposition of the law stated above, it is clear that subject to the restrictions contained in the Act, Memorandum and articles, the powers of directors are co-extensive with those of the company itself.

The relationship of the Board of directors with the shareholders is more of federation than one of subordinates and superior. Some powers are specially reserved for the Board e.g. appointing directors in casual vacancies, the power to issue debentures, etc. On the other hand, some powers are exclusively reserved for the members in general meeting e.g. borrowing in excess of the paid-up capital and free reserves, selling or disposing off the whole or substantially the whole of the undertaking etc.

However, in the following exceptional cases, the general body of shareholders is competent to act even in matters delegated to the Board:

- (a) Directors Acting Mala Fide: The general body of shareholders can intervene when it is proved that the directors have acted for improper motive or arbitrarily or capriciously. In Satya Charan Lal v. Romeshwar Prasad Bajoria (1950) SCR 394, it was stated that ordinarily the directors of a company are the only persons who can conduct litigation in the name of company, but when they are themselves the wrong doers, and have acted malafide and their personal interest is in conflict with their duty in such a way that they cannot or will not take steps to seek redress for the wrong done to the company, the majority of the shareholders may take steps for redressal of the wrong.

In Marshall's Valve Gear Co. Ltd. v. Manning Wardle & Co. Ltd. (1909) 1 Ch. 267, A and three other persons were four directors of M. Co. and they held almost the whole of the subscribed capital of the company. A was the majority shareholder, but held less than three-fourth of the share capital. Another company, known as N. Co. was committing infringement of M. Co.'s trademark and other three directors were interested in that company. The result was that at a meeting of the Board they declined to sanction any proceeding against N. Co. A, at a general meeting of the shareholders, resolved and commenced an action to restrain the alleged infringement.

- (b) Incompetent Board: The general body of shareholders may exercise the powers vested in the Board when the Board is incompetent to act, for instance, where all the directors are interested in the transaction or the Board is unwilling to act, or when there are no validly appointed directors functioning.

In Vishwanathan v. Tiffins B.A. and P. Ltd., AIR 1953 Mad. 520, a clause in the articles of the company authorised the directors to fill casual vacancies and also to increase the number of directors within the maximum number fixed in the articles. Some casual vacancies occurred, and they were promptly filled at a general meeting of the shareholders. This was challenged on the ground that once the power to appoint was delegated to the Board, it could not have been exercised at a general meeting. The Court upheld the appointments by the company in the general meeting, as it found that at the time of the general meeting there was no director in office and, therefore, the members had the right to elect. Venkatarma Iyer, J. observed: "A company has inherent power to take all steps to ensure its proper working and that, of course, included the power to appoint directors. It can delegate these powers to the Board and such delegation will be binding upon it, but if there is no legally constituted Board which could function or if there is a Board that is unable or unwilling to function then the authority delegated to the Board lapses and the members can exercise the right inherent in them of appointing directors."

- (c) Deadlock in the Board: If the directors are unable or unwilling to act, on account of deadlock, the shareholders have the inherent power to act.

For instance, in the Barron v. Potter (1914) 1 Ch. 895, there were only two directors on the Board of the Company and one refused to act with the other. There was no provision in the articles enabling the general meeting of the shareholders to increase or reduce the number of directors. Held, that as there was a deadlock in the administration resulting from the fact that the power to take necessary steps to ensure the working of the company and to appoint additional director for the purpose.

From the above, it is clear that the residuary powers can be pressed into service by the shareholders in general meeting.

State whether the following statement is "True" or "False"

The powers of directors are co-extensive with those of the company itself.

True

False

Correct answer: True

The board of directors of a company is primarily an oversight board. It oversees the management of the company to ensure that the interest of non-controlling shareholders is protected. It also functions as advisory board. Independent directors bring diverse knowledge and expertise in the board room and the CEO uses the knowledge pool in addressing issues being faced by the company. The most important function of a monitoring board is to provide direction to the company.

Another very important function of a monitoring board is to set the 'tone at the top'. It is expected to create the right culture within the company.

Section 173 of the Act deals with Meetings of the Board and Section 174 deals with quorum.

Compliance with Secretarial Standards relating to Board Meetings

For the first time in the history of Company Law in India, the Companies Act, 2013 has given statutory recognition to the Secretarial Standards issued by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India.

Section 118(10) of the Act reads as under:

Every company shall observe secretarial standards with respect to general and Board meetings specified by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India constituted under section 3 of the Company Secretaries Act, 1980, and approved as such by the Central Government.

In the context of this provision, observance of Secretarial Standards issued by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India on 23rd April, 2015 assumes special relevance and companies will have to ensure that there is compliance with these standards on their part. The ICSI has already issued the Secretarial Standard related to Board and General Meeting, which are effective from 1st July, 2015, revised version of standards is effective from October 1st, 2017.

Quorum for Board Meetings : Section 174

If due to resignations or removal of director(s), the number of directors of the company is reduced below the quorum as fixed by the Articles of Association of the company, then, the continuing Directors may act for the purpose of increasing the number of Directors to that required for the quorum or for summoning a general

If at any time the number of interested directors exceeds or is equal to two-thirds of the total strength of the Board of directors, the number of directors who are not interested and present at the meeting, being not less than two shall be the quorum during such time.

The meeting shall be adjourned due to want of quorum, unless the articles provide shall be held to the same day at the same time and place in the next week or if the day is National Holiday, the next working day at the same time and place.

It can thus be observed that the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013, relating to board meetings have been made more realistic and in line with the current expectations of the corporate sector.

Quorum shall be present not only at the time of commencement of the Meeting but also while transacting business.

After exemption notification dated 05.06.2015, In case of Section 8 Company

(b) the following proviso has been inserted, namely:-

"Provided that the quorum shall not be less than two members"

But this section doesn't give validity to any act done by directors whose appointment has been notices to be invalid or to have terminated.

BOARD COMMITTEES

A board committee is a small working group identified by the board, consisting of board members, for the purpose of supporting the board's work. Committees are generally formed to perform some expertise work. Members of the committee are expected to have expertise in the specified field.

Committees are usually formed as a means of improving board effectiveness and efficiency, in areas where more focused, specialized and technical discussions are required. These committees prepare the groundwork for decision-making and report at the subsequent board meeting. Committees enable better management of full board's time and allow in-depth scrutiny and focused attention.

However, the Board of Directors are ultimately responsible for the acts of the committee. Board is responsible for defining the committee role and structure.

Mandatory Committees of the Board are prescribed under Companies Act, 2013 (for certain class of companies) and SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015 for listed companies.

Mandatory Committees under the Companies Act 2013 are:

- Audit Committee
- Nomination and Remuneration Committee
- Stakeholders Relationship Committee
- Corporate Social Responsibility Committee

Audit Committee is one of the main pillars of the corporate governance mechanism in any company. The Committee is charged with the principal oversight of financial reporting and disclosure and aims to enhance the confidence in the integrity of the company's financial reporting, the internal control processes and procedures and the risk management systems.

The constitution of Audit Committee is mandated under the Companies Act, 2013 and SEBI (Listing Obligations and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2015.

Non-Executive Director

- Executive Director

Correct Answer : Non-Executive Director

The requirement for a Stakeholders Relationship Committee is an interesting one. Relationships with stakeholders can be critical, and balancing the contending interests of different stakeholder groups and building mutually beneficial relationships with stakeholders are hallmarks of the effective board.

Again minimum compliance would be to establish a committee and hope it does not get in the way or prove a distraction. More benefit might be derived from using such a provision as a catalyst to identify and/or reassess the nature, interests and priorities of different stakeholder groups, the current state of relationships with them and how these might be improved.

Direction should be seen as a separate but complementary activity to management, rather than as a route to elevated status and higher earnings. Directors need to look beyond functional considerations and work for the best interests of the company and its stakeholders. Their perspective should be strategic rather than departmental.

Directors must reconcile the concerns of various stakeholder groups, and respect views of colleagues who may have a different perspective. Non-financial considerations need to be taken into account.

Corporate Social Responsibility Committee

India has one of the richest traditions of CSR. Much has been done in recent years to make Indian entrepreneurs aware of social responsibility as an important segment of their business activity but CSR in India has yet to receive widespread recognition. If this goal has to be realised then the CSR approach of corporates has to be in line with their attitudes towards mainstream business- companies setting clear objectives, undertaking potential investments, measuring and reporting performance publicly.

One of the key changes in the Companies Act, 2013 is the introduction of a Corporate Social Responsibility section making India the first country to mandate CSR through a statutory provision. While CSR is not mandatory for companies, the rules are in line with the 'Comply or Explain' principle with penalties applicable only if an explanation is not offered. The provisions of the Section 135 of the Act may be summarized as under:

1. The Section applies to the following classes of companies during the immediately preceding financial year:
 - (i) Companies having Net Worth of rupees five hundred crore or more;
 - (ii) Companies having turnover of rupees one thousand crore or more;
 - (iii) Companies having Net Profit of rupees five crore or more

Where a company is not required to appoint an independent director under sub-section (4) of section 149, it shall have in its Corporate Social Responsibility Committee two or more directors

2. The companies specified above shall constitute a Corporate Social Responsibility Committee (CSR Committee) of the Board.

A Company which ceases to be a company covered under the above three threshold requirement to constitute CSR Committee for three consecutive financial years shall not be required to constitute CSR Committee till such time it meets the threshold as specified above. [Rule 3(2)]

3. The CSR Committee shall consist of three or more Directors, out of which at least one Director shall be an Independent Director.
4. After taking into account the recommendations of the CSR Committee, the Board shall approve the CSR Policy for the company.
5. The contents of the Policy shall be disclosed in the Board's report.
6. It shall also be placed on the Company's website, if any, in a manner to be prescribed by the Central Government.

7. The Board shall ensure that the activities as are included in the CSR Policy (from the activities as specified in Schedule VII) are undertaken by the Company.

The following additional features of the Section are relevant:

1. While spending the amount earmarked for CSR activities, the company shall give preference to the local area and areas around it where it operates;
2. If the Company fails to spend the amount, the Board shall specify the reasons for not spending the amount in the Board's Report.
3. The eligible companies are required to spend in every financial year, at least two per cent of the Average Net Profits of the Company made during the three immediately preceding financial years in pursuance of its CSR Policy. For this purpose, "Net profit" shall not include such sums as may be prescribed, and shall be calculated in accordance with the provisions of section 198. Other Board Committees in addition to the Committees of the Board mandated by the Companies Act, 2013 viz, Audit Committee, Nomination and Remuneration Committee, Stakeholders Relationship Committee and the CSR Committee, Board of Directors may also constitute other Committees to oversee a specific objective or project. The nomenclature, composition and role of such Committees will vary, depending upon the specific objectives of the company.

A few examples of such Committees prevalent in the corporate sector in India and abroad are given below:

1. Corporate Governance Committee
2. Science, Technology & Sustainability Committee
3. Regulatory, Compliance & Government Affairs Committee

INTRODUCTION

The executive management of a company is responsible for the day to day management of a company. The Companies Act, 2013, has used the term key management personnel to define the executive management. The key management personnel are the point of first contact between the company and its stakeholders. While the Board of Directors are responsible for providing the oversight, it is the key management personnel who are responsible for not just laying down the strategies as well as its implementation.

Chapter XIII of the Companies Act, 2013 read with Companies (Appointment and Remuneration of Managerial Personnel) Rules, 2014 deal with the legal and procedural aspects of appointment of Key Managerial Personnel including Managing Director, Whole-time Director or Manager, managerial remuneration, secretarial audit etc.

Let us understand certain definitions.

Key Managerial Personnel

The Companies Act, 2013 has for the first time recognized the concept of Key Managerial Personnel. As per section 2(51) “key managerial personnel”, in relation to a company, means—

- (i) the Chief Executive Officer or the managing director or the manager;
- (ii) the company secretary;
- (iii) the whole-time director;
- (iv) the Chief Financial Officer;
- (v) such other officer, not more than one level below the directors who is in whole-time employment, designated as key managerial personnel by the Board; and
- (v) such other officer as may be prescribed.

Managing Director

Section 2(54) of the Companies Act, 2013, defines ‘managing director’. It stipulates that a “managing director” means a director who, by virtue of the articles of a company or an agreement with the company or a resolution passed in its general meeting, or by its Board of Directors, is entrusted with substantial powers of management of the affairs of the company and includes a director occupying the position of managing director, by whatever name called.

CASE LAW

The managing director of a company filed a suit on behalf of the company against the tenants and the trial court granted decree directing the tenants to vacate and deliver possession of the tenanted premises. The court also directed payment of damages and, in default, to pay interest. The tenants filed an application and contended that in the instant case, the managing director, who had filed suit, had no proper authorization from the board of directors. The Court dismissed the application of the tenants and held that the words 'substantial powers of management' specifically excludes certain acts from its purview. Therefore, except the excluded acts, the managing director has power and privilege of conducting the business of the company in accordance with the memorandum and articles of association of the company. The institution of the suit on behalf of the company by the managing director is deemed to be within the meaning of 'substantial powers of management', since such a power is necessary and incidental to manage the day-to day affairs and business of the company. Therefore, by virtue of provisions of section 2(26) [Corresponds to section 2(54) of the Companies Act, 2013], the suit instituted by the managing director is deemed to be within his power and authority. The suit was obviously filed for the benefit of the company. In that view of the matter, the contention that the managing director had no authority to file a suit is untenable and the same is rejected. [Wasava Tyres v. Printers (Mysore) Ltd. (2008) 86 SCL 171 (Kar)].

In G. Subba Rao v. Rasmi Die-Casting Ltd. [1998] 93 Com. Cases. 797, the Andhra Pradesh High Court held that from the definition of 'managing director' as per Section 2(26) [Corresponds to section 2(54) of the Companies Act, 2013], it is clear that the managing director has to act under the superintendence, control and direction of the Board of directors. Moreover, powers of routine administrative nature like the power to affix the common seal, to draw and endorse any negotiable instrument do not fall within the substantial powers conferred upon the managing director. What is to be seen is whether the managing director making any representation for and on behalf of a company had in fact, 'actual authority' either in terms of the provisions of the constitution of that company or by virtue of the delegation by the Board of directors.

A managing director must hold and continue to hold the office of director. A managing director is first a director and then a managing director with certain additional powers [Shanta Shamsher Jung Bahadur v. Kamani Brothers P. Ltd. (1959) 29 Com Cases 501 (Bom.)]. A managing director is an ordinary director entrusted with special powers. If a company wants to appoint a person as managing director, who is not a director of the company, he has first to be appointed as an additional director in accordance with the provisions of Section 260 [Corresponds to section 161 of the Companies Act, 2013] of the Act.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Members of a company or the directors of a company can exercise their powers and can bind the company only when they act as a body at a validly convened and held meeting. An individual member or shareholder, irrespective of his shareholding cannot bind a company by his individual act. In Companies Act, 2013, a new concept of e-voting is introduced. This is a method of voting via electronic means. The Central Government has been empowered to prescribe the class or classes of companies and the manner in which a member may exercise his rights to vote by the electronic means given under Rule 20 Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014. It is to be noted that every gathering or assembly does not constitute a meeting. The meetings must be convened and held in perfect compliance with the various provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and rules framed thereunder.

INTRODUCTION

A meeting may be generally defined as a gathering or assembly or getting together of a number of persons for transacting any lawful business. There must be atleast two persons to constitute a meeting. Therefore, one shareholder usually cannot constitute a company meeting even if he holds proxies for other shareholders. However, in certain exceptional circumstances, even one person may constitute a meeting.

It is to be noted that every gathering or assembly does not constitute a meeting. Company meetings must be convened and held in perfect compliance with the various provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 and the rules framed thereunder.

A company is composed of members, though it has its own entity distinct from members. The members of a company are the persons who, for the time being, constitute the company, as a corporate entity. However, a company, being an artificial person, cannot act on its own. It, therefore, expresses its will or takes its decisions through resolutions passed at validly held Meetings. The primary purpose of a Meeting is to ensure that a company gives reasonable and fair opportunity to those entitled to participate in the Meeting to take decisions as per the prescribed procedures.

The decision making powers of a company are vested in the Members and the Directors and they exercise their respective powers through Resolutions passed by them. General Meetings of the Members provide a platform to express their will in regard to the management of the affairs of the company.

Convening of one such meeting every year is compulsory. Holding of more general meetings is left to the choice of the management or to a given percentage of shareholders to exercise their power to compel the company to convene a meeting. Shareholder Democracy, Class Action Suits and Protection of interest of investors are the essence and attributes of the Companies Act, 2013.

Secretarial Standard on General Meetings of companies: Secretarial Standard 2 (SS-2) on General Meeting issued by the Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) and approved by central government is to be mandatorily adhered by all companies as per the provision of Section 118(10) of Companies Act, 2013. The objective of secretarial standard is to promote good corporate governance. The standards are basically compilation of good secretarial practices with a view to ensure proper corporate governance. This Standard is applicable to all types of General Meetings of all companies incorporated under the Act except One Person Company (OPC) and class or classes of companies which are exempted by the Central Government through notification.

Scope of Secretarial Standard: Secretarial Standard is in conformity with the provisions of the Act. The term "Act" has been defined in SS-2 to mean the Companies Act, 2013 (Act No. 18 of 2013) or any previous enactment thereof, or any statutory modification thereto or re-enactment thereof and includes any Rules and Regulations framed thereunder. However, if due to subsequent changes in the Act or Rules, a particular Standard or any part thereof becomes inconsistent with the Act or Rules, the provisions of the Act or Rules shall prevail."

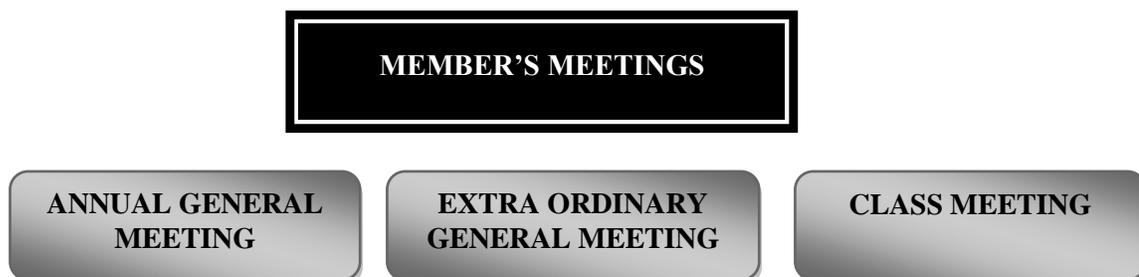

Applicability: Secretarial Standards were issued on 23rd April 2015 and are effective from 1st July 2015. The revised version has been made applicable from 1st October, 2017. SS-2 shall only apply to general meetings in respect of which notices are issued on or after 1st July, 2015.

Members' Meetings

A company is required to hold meetings of the members to take approval of certain business items, as prescribed in the Act.

The meetings to be held for seeking approval to ordinary business and special business are called annual general meeting and extraordinary general meeting. In certain cases, a company may have to hold a meeting of the members of a particular class of members.

Annual General Meeting (section 96)

Annual general meeting (AGM) is an important annual event where members get an opportunity to discuss the activities of the company. Section 96 provides that every company, other than a one person company is required to hold an annual general meeting every year. SS-2 provides that the Board shall, every year, convene or authorize convening of a meeting of its members called the Annual General Meeting to transact items of ordinary business specifically required to be transacted at an annual general meeting as well as special business, if any. If the Board fails to convene its Annual General Meeting in any year, any Member of the company may approach the prescribed authority, which may then direct the calling of the Annual General Meeting of the company. Following are the key provisions regarding the holding of an annual general meeting:

Holding of annual general meeting

1. Annual general meeting should be held once in each calender year.
2. First annual general meeting of the company should be held within 9 months from the closing of the first financial year. Hence it shall not be necessary for the company to hold any annual general meeting in the year of its incorporation.
3. Subsequent annual general meeting of the company should be held within 6 months from the date of closing of the relevant financial year.
4. The gap between two annual general meetings shall not exceed 15 months.

A one person company is exempt from holding an AGM.

Para 2.1 of SS-2 provides similar provisions in respect of frequency of annual general meeting and interval between two annual general meeting.

Last date for holding AGM other than the first AGM i.e. subsequent AGM:

1. AGM is to be held within 6 months of the close of relevant financial year.
2. Not more than 15 months shall elapse between the date of one AGM and that of the next. In other words, AGM is to be held within 15 months of last AGM.
3. AGM is to be held in each calendar year.

The three time limits given above are separate and cumulative. Non-compliance of any of them would constitute an offence. Therefore, the last date for holding AGM shall be the earliest of the above three limits.

Extension of validity period of AGM

In case, it is not possible for a company to hold an annual general meeting within the prescribed time, the Registrar may, for any special reason, extend the time within which any annual general meeting shall be held. Such extension can be for a period not exceeding 3 months. No such extension of time can be granted by the Registrar for the holding of the first annual general meeting.

Test your knowledge:

Question: The gap between two annual general meetings can never exceed 15 months. Comment

Answer: According to section 96(1) of the Companies Act, 2013 gap of not more than 15 months shall elapse between the date of one annual general meeting of the company and that of the next year. According to third proviso to section 96(1), the Registrar may, for any special reason, extend the time within which any annual general meeting, other than the first annual general meeting, shall be held, by a period of not exceeding three months. The company may apply to the Registrar for extension for holding AGM, justifying it as a special reason. The registrar may, after considering it as a special reason, extend the time within which an AGM shall be held which shall be a period not exceeding three months. Accordingly, the gap between the two AGMs shall not elapse a period of 15 months unless the Registrar for special reason has extended the time for holding the AGM. Such extension cannot be more than 3 months.

Date, Time and place for holding an annual general meeting

An annual general meeting can be called during business hours, that is, between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. on any day that is not a National Holiday. It should be held either at the registered office of the company or at some other place within the city, town or village in which the registered office of the company is situated. The Central Government is empowered to exempt any company from these provisions, subject to such conditions as it may impose.

In case of Government company, the Central Government may approve such other place for holding AGM, if the place is other than registered office.

In case of Section 8 company, the time, date and place of each AGM are decided upon before-hand by the Board having regard to the directions, if any, given in this regard by such company in the general meeting (Exemption notification dated 5th June 2015).

Annual general meeting of an unlisted company may be held at any place in India if consent is given in writing or by electronic mode by all the members in advance.

“National Holiday” for this purpose means and includes a day declared as National Holiday by the Central Government.

Penalty for default in holding the annual general meeting [Section 99]

Section 99 provides that if any default is made in complying or holding a meeting of the company, the company and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to one lakh rupees and in case of continuing default, with a further fine which may extend to five thousand rupees for each day during which such default continues.

If any default is made in holding the annual general meeting of a company, any member of the company may make an application to the Tribunal to call or direct the calling of, an annual general meeting of the company and give such ancillary or consequential directions as the Tribunal thinks expedient. Such directions may include a direction that one member of the company present in person or by proxy shall be deemed to constitute a meeting.

In case of non-disclosure or insufficient disclosure in Explanatory statement, any benefit accrues to a promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel or their relatives, such person shall hold such benefit in trust for the company, and shall compensate the company to the extent of benefit derived by him.

Where a notice of general meeting is sent by post, it shall be deemed to be served at the expiration of 48 hours after the letter containing the same is posted (Rule 35(6) of the Companies (Incorporation) Rules, 2014). Each of the 21 days must be full or complete days. The day on which the notice is deemed to be served on the member, and the day of the general meeting have to be in addition to the 21 days.

In case a valid special notice under the Act has been received from Member(s), the company shall give Notice of the Resolution to all its Members at least seven days before the Meeting, exclusive of the day of dispatch of Notice and day of the Meeting, in the same manner as a Notice of any General Meeting is to be given. Where this is not practicable, the Notice shall be published in a vernacular newspaper in the principal vernacular language of the district in which the registered office of the company is situated, and in an English newspaper in English language, both having a wide circulation in that district, at least seven days before the Meeting, exclusive of the day of publication of the Notice and day of the Meeting. In case of companies having a website, such Notice shall also be hosted on the website. (Para 1.2.6 of SS-2)

Question: ABC Ltd. issued a notice on 1st August, 2015 to hold its AGM on 24th August, 2015. Check the validity of the notice referring to the provisions of the relevant act, in case it is sent by post.

Answer: Date of holding AGM: 24th August, 2015

Date of dispatch of notice: 1st August, 2015

Days to be excluded: (a) Day of holding AGM i.e 24th August, 2015

(b) Day of dispatch of notice i.e. 1st August, 2015

(c) 2 days for service of notice i.e 2nd & 3rd August, 2015

Number of days notice given: 20 days

Number of days notice required under section 101 of the Act is 21 days. Therefore it is not a case of valid notice. However, shortfall of 1 day can be condoned if consent is given for such shorter notice by at least 95% of the members entitled to vote at such AGM.

Shorter notice

A general meeting may be called after giving shorter notice than that specified in this sub-section if consent, in writing or by electronic mode, is accorded thereto—

(i) in the case of an annual general meeting, by not less than ninety-five per cent. of the members entitled to vote thereat; and

(ii) in the case of any other general meeting, by members of the company—

(a) holding, if the company has a share capital, majority in number of members entitled to vote and who represent not less than ninety-five per cent. of such part of the paid-up share capital of the company as gives a right to vote at the meeting; or

(b) having, if the company has no share capital, not less than ninety-five per cent. of the total voting power exercisable at that meeting:

Further where any member of a company is entitled to vote only on some resolution or resolutions to be moved at a meeting and not on the others, those members shall be taken into account for the purposes of this sub section in respect of the former resolution or resolutions and not in respect of the latter.

Secretarial Standard on calling of General Meeting on shorter notice:

Para 1.2.7 of SS-2 provides that notice and accompanying documents may be given at a shorter period of time if consent in writing is given thereto, by physical or electronic means, by not less than ninety-five per cent of the Members entitled to vote at such Meeting.

The request for consenting to shorter notice and accompanying documents shall be sent together with the Notice and the Meeting shall be held only if the consent is received prior to the date fixed for the Meeting from not less than ninety five per cent of the Members entitled to vote at such Meeting.

Contents of Notice

Place of meeting (Section 96)

The notice should state the place where the general meeting is scheduled to be held. In case of an annual general meeting, the place of the meeting has to be either the registered office of the company or some other place within the city, town or village in which the registered office of the company is situated. Explanation to Rule 17(2) of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules 2014 states that requisitionists should convene meeting at Registered Office or in the same city or town where the Registered Office is situated and such meeting should be convened on working day.

Para 1.2.4 of SS-2 provides Annual General Meetings shall be held either at the registered office of the company or at some other place within the city, town or village in which the registered office of the company is situated, whereas other General Meetings may be held at any place within India. In case of government company, AGM shall be held either at the registered office of the company or at such other place as the Central Government may approve.

Notice shall contain complete particulars of the venue of the Meeting including route map and prominent land mark for easy location. (SS 1.2.4)

Day of meeting (Section 96)

The day and date of the meeting should be clearly stated in the notice. In case of an annual general meeting, the day should be one that is not a National Holiday. An extraordinary general meeting can however be held on any day. However, as per Para 1.2.4 of SS-2 a Meeting called by the requisitionists shall be convened only on a working day.

Time of meeting (Section 96)

Exact time of holding the meeting should be given in the notice. An annual general meeting can be called during business hours only, i.e. between 9:00 a.m. and 6:00 p.m. There is no restriction of timings in case of an extraordinary general meeting.

In case of Section 8 Company, the time, date and place of each AGM are decided upon before-hand by the directors having regard to directions, if any, given in this regard by the company in its general meeting.

Agenda (Section 102)

A statement of the business to be transacted at the general meeting should be given in the notice. In case, the meeting is to transact a special business, a explanatory statement should be attached about such item.

Proxy clause with reasonable prominence [Section 105(2)]

Every notice calling a meeting of a company which has a share capital, or the articles of which provide for voting by proxy at the meeting, should carry with reasonable prominence, a statement that a member entitled to attend and vote is entitled to appoint a proxy, or, where that is allowed, one or more proxies, to attend and vote instead of himself, and that a proxy need not be a member.

In addition to aforesaid provision, Para 1.2.4 of SS-2 provides that in case of companies where Proxy shall be a Member under the Act, a statement to that effect shall appear in the Notice prominently.

Notice through Electronic Mode (Rule 18 of Companies (Management and Administration) Rules 2014)

According to the Companies (Management and Administration) Rules, 2014, the company may serve the notice in electronic mode in following manner.

- (1) A company may give notice through electronic mode. The expression “electronic mode” shall mean any communication sent by a company through its authorized and secured computer programme which is capable of producing confirmation and keeping record of such communication addressed to the person entitled to receive such communication at the last electronic mail address provided by the member.
- (2) A notice may be sent through e-mail as a text or as an attachment to e-mail or as a notification providing electronic link or Uniform Resource Locator for accessing such notice.
- (3) (i) The e-mail shall be addressed to the person entitled to receive such e-mail as per the records of the company or as provided by the depository:

Provided that the company shall provide an advance opportunity at least once in a financial year, to the member to register his e-mail address and changes therein and such request may be made by only those members who have not got their email ID recorded or to update a fresh email ID and not from the members whose e-mail IDs are already registered.

 - (ii) The subject line in e-mail shall state the name of the company, notice of the type of meeting, place and the date on which the meeting is scheduled.
 - (iii) If notice is sent in the form of a non-editable attachment to e-mail, such attachment shall be in the Portable Document Format or in a non-editable format together with a 'link or instructions' for recipient for downloading relevant version of the software.
 - (iv) When notice or notifications of availability of notice are sent by e-mail, the company should ensure that it uses a system which produces confirmation of the total number of recipients e-mailed and a record of each recipient to whom the notice has been sent and copy of such record and any notices of any failed transmissions and subsequent re-sending shall be retained by or on behalf of the company as “proof of sending”.
 - (v) The company's obligation shall be satisfied when it transmits the e-mail and the company shall not be held responsible for a failure in transmission beyond its control.
 - (vi) If a member entitled to receive notice fails to provide or update relevant e-mail address to the company, or to the depository participant as the case may be, the company shall not be in default for not delivering notice via e-mail.
 - (vii) The company may send e-mail through in-house facility or its registrar and transfer agent or authorise any third party agency providing bulk e-mail facility.
 - (viii) The notice made available on the electronic link or Uniform Resource Locator has to be readable, and the recipient should be able to obtain and retain copies and the company shall give the complete Uniform Resource Locator or address of the website and full details of how to access the document or information.
 - (ix) The notice of the general meeting of the company shall be simultaneously placed on the website of the company if any and on the website as may be notified by the Central Government.

Explanation.- For the purpose of this rule, it is hereby declared that the extra ordinary general meeting shall be held at a place within India.

Secretarial Standard on issuance of notice:

Para 1.2.2 of SS-2 provides that Notice shall be sent by hand or by ordinary post or by speed post or by registered post or by courier or by facsimile or by e-mail or by any other electronic means. 'Electronic means' means any communication sent by a company through its authorized and secured computer programme which is capable of producing confirmation and keeping record of such communication addressed to the person entitled to receive such communication at the last electronic mail address provided by the Member.

Notice shall be sent to Members by registered post or speed post or courier or e-mail and not by ordinary post in the following cases:

- (a) if the company provides the facility of e-voting ;
- (b) if the item of business is being transacted through postal ballot;

If a Member requests for delivery of notice through a particular mode, other than one of those listed above, he shall pay such fees as may be determined by the company in its Annual General Meeting and the Notice shall be sent to him in such mode.

Notice shall be sent to Members by registered post or speed post or email if the Meeting is called by the requisitionists themselves and where the Board had not proceeded to call the Meeting.

Persons entitled to receive Notice

In terms of Section 101(3), notice of every meeting of the company must be given to:

- (a) every member of the company, legal representative of any deceased member or the assignee of an insolvent member;
- (b) the auditor or auditors of the company; and
- (c) every director of the company.

A private company, which is not, a subsidiary of a public company may prescribe, by its Articles, persons to whom the notice should be given.

It does not always follow that all the members of a company are entitled to receive notice of meetings of the company; the Articles frequently provide that preference shareholders shall not be entitled to receive notice of and vote at general meeting of the company, except in certain circumstances. There is a statutory obligation to send notice to preference shareholders when their dividend is in arrears for more than a certain period [Section 47(2)]. This obligation arises from the fact that preference shareholders whose dividends are in arrears are entitled to attend and vote at the meeting.

The non-receipt of notice or accidental omission to give notice to any member shall not invalidate the proceedings in the meeting [Section 101(4)]. However, omission to serve notice of meeting on a member on the mistaken ground that he is not a shareholder cannot be said to be an accidental omission [Musselwhite Vs. C.H. Musselwhite & Sons Ltd.(1962) 32 Comp. Cas 804]. 'Accidental omission' means that the omission must be not only unintended but also not deliberate [Maharaja Export Vs. Apparels Exports Promotion Council (1986) 60 Comp. Cas 353.].

Notice to Directors, Auditors & other specified persons:

Para 1.2.1 of SS-2 provides that notice in writing of every meeting shall be given to every member of the company. Such Notice shall also be given to the Directors and Auditors of the company, to the Secretarial Auditor, to Debenture Trustees, if any, and, wherever applicable or so required, to other specified persons. Court may direct issuance of Notice to some other persons such as Court-appointed Chairman or observers or persons whose entitlement is under challenge. Considering that Preference Shareholders are Members of the company, Notice of general meetings should also be given to them.

In the case of Members, Notice shall be given at the address registered with the Company or depository. In the case of shares or other securities held jointly by two or more persons, the Notice shall be given to the person whose name appears first as per records of the Company or the depository, as the case may be. In the case of any other person who is entitled to receive Notice, the same shall be given to such person at the address provided by him.

Secretarial Standard on entitlement to receive notice:

Para 1.2.1 of SS-2 provides that where the company has received intimation of death of a Member, the Notice of Meeting shall be sent as under:

- (a) where securities are held singly, to the Nominee of the single holder;
- (b) where securities are held by more than one person jointly and any joint holder dies, to the surviving first joint holder;
- (c) where securities are held by more than one person jointly and all the joint holders die, to the Nominee appointed by all the joint holders;
- (i) In the absence of a Nominee, the notice shall be sent to the legal representative of the deceased Member.
- (ii) In case of insolvency of a Member, the Notice shall be sent to the assignee of the insolvent Member.
- (iii) In case the Member is a company or body corporate which is being wound up, Notice shall be sent to the liquidator.

Statement to be annexed to Notice (Section 102)

Secretarial Standard on annexure to notice of General Meeting:

Para 1.2.5 of SS-2 requires that notice shall clearly specify the nature of the Meeting and the business to be transacted thereat. In respect of items of Special Business, each such item shall be in the form of a Resolution and shall be accompanied by an explanatory statement which shall set out all such facts as would enable a Member to understand the meaning, scope and implications of the item of business and to take a decision thereon. In respect of items of Ordinary Business, Resolutions are not required to be stated in the Notice except where the Auditors or Directors to be appointed are other than the retiring Auditors or Directors, as the case may be.

Further, Para 1.2.10 of SS-2 requires that notice shall be accompanied, by an attendance slip and a Proxy form with clear instructions for filling, stamping, signing and/or depositing the Proxy form.

Contents of Explanatory Statement:

In case of special business items to be transacted at a general meeting, a statement setting out the following material facts, shall be annexed to the notice calling the meeting:

- (l) (a) the nature of concern or interest, financial or otherwise, if any, in respect of each item of:
 - every director and the manager, if any;

- every other key managerial personnel; and
- relatives of every director, manager and key managerial person.

(b) any other information and facts that may enable members to understand the meaning, scope and implications of the items of business and to take decision thereon.

Where any item of special business to be transacted at a meeting of the company relates to or affects any other company, the extent of shareholding interest in that other company of every promoter, director, manager, if any, and of every other key managerial personnel of the first mentioned company shall, if the extent of such shareholding is not less than 2% of the paid-up share capital of that company, also be set out in the statement.

(II) Where any item of business refers to any document, which is to be considered at the meeting, the time and place where such document can be inspected shall be specified in the explanatory Statement.

Effect of non-disclosure: Where as a result of the non-disclosure or insufficient disclosure in any statement referred as above, being made by a promoter, director, manager, if any, or other key managerial personnel, any benefit which accrues to such promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel or their relatives, either directly or indirectly, the promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel, as the case may be, shall hold such benefit in trust for the company, and shall, without prejudice to any other action being taken against him under this Act or under any other law for the time being in force, be liable to compensate the company to the extent of the benefit received by him.

If the explanatory statement is vague and tricky, or insufficient and misleading, the resolution passed, is bad in law. [Central Industrial Alliance Ltd. Vs. Pravin Kantilal Vakil (1985) 57 Com. Cases 12 (Bom)].

Further it has been provided that without prejudice to above, if any default is made in complying with the provisions of this section, every promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel of the company who is in default shall be liable to a penalty of fifty thousand rupees or five times the amount of benefit accruing to the promoter, director, manager or other key managerial personnel or any of his relatives, whichever is higher.

Quorum for Meetings [Section-103]

Quorum refers to the minimum number of members required to constitute a valid meeting. Following are the minimum numbers provided in section 103, for various categories of companies. However the Articles of Association of the company may provide for a higher number.

(a) Public company:

- 5 members personally present if the number of members as on the date of meeting is not more than 1000;
- 15 members personally present if the number of members as on the date of meeting is more than 1000 but up to 5000;
- 30 members personally present if the number of members as on the date of the meeting exceeds 5000.

(b) Private company:

- 2 members personally present, shall be the quorum for a meeting of the company.

Secretarial Standard on Quorum:

Para 3.1 of SS-2 provides that where the Quorum provided in the Articles is higher than that provided under the Act, the Quorum shall conform to such higher requirement. Members need to be personally present at a Meeting to constitute the Quorum. Proxies shall be excluded for determining the Quorum.

Para 3.2 of SS-2 provides that a duly authorized representative of a body corporate or the representative of the President of India or the Governor of a State is deemed to be a Member personally present and enjoys all the rights of a Member present in person.

One person can be an authorized representative of more than one body corporate. In such a case, he is treated as more than one Member present in person for the purpose of Quorum. However, to constitute a Meeting, at least two individuals shall be present in person. Thus, in case of a public company having not more than 1000 members with a Quorum requirement of five Members, an authorized representative of five bodies corporate cannot form a Quorum by himself but can do so if at least one more Member is personally present.

Members who have voted by Remote e-voting have the right to attend the General Meeting and accordingly their presence shall be, counted for the purpose of Quorum.

A Member who is not entitled to vote on any particular item of business being a related party, if present, shall be counted for the purpose of Quorum.

The stipulation regarding the presence of a Quorum does not apply with respect to items of business transacted through postal ballot.

Let us remember the concept through a table:

(a) in case of a public company,—

Quorum for the meeting	Number of members
5 members personally present	not more than one thousand
15 members personally present	more than one thousand but up to five thousand
30 members personally present	exceeds five thousand

(b) in the case of a private company, two members personally present, shall be the quorum for a meeting of the company.

Consequences of no quorum- If the quorum is not present within half-an-hour from the time appointed for holding a meeting of the company—

- (a) the meeting shall stand adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place, or to such other date and such other time and place as the Board may determine; or
- (b) the meeting, if called by requisitionists (under section 100), shall stand cancelled:

Notice of an adjourned meeting- Where the meeting stands adjourned to the same day in the next week at the same time and place, or to such other day, not being a National Holiday, or at such other time and place as the Board may determine, there the company shall give at least 3 days notice to the members either individually or by publishing an advertisement in 2 newspapers (one in English and one in vernacular language).

No quorum in an adjourned meeting- If at the adjourned meeting also, a quorum is not present within half-an-hour from the time appointed for holding meeting, the members present, being not less than two in numbers, will constitute the quorum.

If a Meeting is adjourned sine-die or for a period of thirty days or more, a Notice of the adjourned Meeting shall be given in accordance with the provisions contained hereinabove relating to Notice.

If a Meeting is adjourned for a period of less than thirty days, the company shall give not less than three days' Notice specifying the day, date, time and venue of the Meeting, to the Members either individually or by publishing an advertisement in a vernacular newspaper in the principal vernacular language of the district in which the registered office of the company is situated, and in an English newspaper in English language, both having a wide circulation in that district.

If a Meeting, other than a requisitioned Meeting, stands adjourned for want of Quorum, the adjourned Meeting shall be held on the same day, in the next week at the same time and place or on such other day, not being a National Holiday, or at such other time and place as may be determined by the Board.

The words, personally present exclude proxies. However, the representative of a body corporate appointed under Section 113 or the representative of the President or a Governor of a State under Section 112 is a member 'personally present' for purpose of counting a quorum [Re. Kelantan Coconut Estate Ltd., 1920 W.N. 274].

In case two or more corporate bodies who are members of a company are represented by single individual, each of the bodies corporate will be treated as personally present by the individual representing it. If, for instance, he represents three corporate bodies, his presence will be counted as three members being present in person for purposes of quorum.

It has been held in a Scottish case that one individual may count as more than one member if he attends the meeting in more than one capacity, e.g. as a member holding shares in his own right and as a member entitled to vote in person in respect of a trust holding (Neil McLeod & Sons Ltd., Petitioners, 1976 SC 16).

Para 3.1 of SS-2 requires that quorum shall be present not only at the time of commencement of the Meeting but also while transacting business.

Test your knowledge:

Question: The articles of association of XYZ Ltd. having 700 members as on cut off date, prescribe for physical presence of 7 members to constitute quorum of general meetings. Following are the status of persons present in a general meeting of XYZ Ltd to consider the appointment of MD. Check the quorum of the meeting.

(a) Mr. A, the representative of Governor of Maharashtra.

(b) Mr. B & Mr. C are preference shareholders

(c) Mr. D representing ABC Ltd. and SKY Ltd.

(d) Mr. E, Mr. F, Mr. G and Mr. H are proxies of shareholders

Hint: (a) Since Mr. A is the representative of the Governor of Maharashtra, shall be treated as a member personally present (Section 112).

(b) Preference shareholders can vote only in relation to such matters which directly affect their rights. In this case, meeting was called to take decision on appointment of MD, which does not affect their rights. Therefore, Mr. B & Mr. C are not members personally present.

(c) Since Mr. D represents two body corporates, he would be treated as two members personally present. (Section 113)

(d) Since Mr. E, Mr. F, Mr. G and Mr. H are proxies of shareholders and members are not personally present. They are not considered while counting quorum.

From the above analysis, it can be concluded that only 3 members are personally present and they do not constitute proper quorum as fixed by the company.

Note: The quorum required in respect of general meeting of a public company is 5 and the quorum can be increased by the articles of the company.

Secretarial Standard on adjournment of meetings (Para-15 of SS-2):

(1) A duly convened Meeting shall not be adjourned unless circumstances so warrant. The Chairman may adjourn a Meeting with the consent of the Members, at which a Quorum is present, and shall adjourn a Meeting if so directed by the Members.

Meetings shall stand adjourned for want of requisite Quorum. The Chairman may also adjourn a Meeting in the event of disorder or other like causes, when it becomes impossible to conduct the Meeting and complete its business.

(2) At an adjourned Meeting, only the unfinished business of the original meeting shall be considered.

Any Resolution passed at an adjourned Meeting would be deemed to have been passed on the date of the adjourned Meeting and not on any earlier date.

Chairman of Meetings (Section 104)

Unless the articles of the company otherwise provide, the members personally present at the meeting shall elect one of themselves to be the Chairman thereof on a show of hands.

If a poll is demanded on the election of the Chairman, it shall be taken forthwith in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the Chairman elected on a show of hands shall continue to be the Chairman of the meeting until some other person is elected as Chairman as a result of the poll, and such other person shall be the Chairman for the rest of the meeting.

Secretarial Standard on appointment and role of Chairman:

Para 5 of SS-2 provides that the Chairman of the Board shall take the chair and conduct the Meeting. If the Chairman is not present within fifteen minutes after the time appointed for holding the Meeting, or if he is unwilling to act as Chairman of the Meeting, or if no Director has been so designated, the Directors present at the Meeting shall elect one of themselves to be the Chairman of the Meeting. If no Director is present within fifteen Minutes after the time appointed for holding the Meeting, or if no Director is willing to take the chair, the Members present shall elect, on a show of hands, one of themselves to be the Chairman of the Meeting, unless otherwise provided in the Articles.

If a poll is demanded on the election of the Chairman, it shall be taken forthwith in accordance with the provisions of the Act and the Chairman elected on a show of hands shall continue to be the Chairman of the Meeting until some other person is elected as Chairman as a result of the poll, and such other person shall be the Chairman for the rest of the Meeting.

The Chairman shall ensure that the Meeting is duly constituted in accordance with the Act and the Articles or any other applicable laws, before it proceeds to transact business. The Chairman shall then conduct the Meeting in a fair and impartial manner and ensure that only such business as has been set out in the Notice is transacted. The Chairman shall regulate the manner in which voting is conducted at the Meeting keeping in view the provisions of the Act.

Para 5.2 of SS-2 requires that the Chairman shall explain the objective and implications of the Resolutions before they are put to vote at the Meeting.

The Chairman shall provide a fair opportunity to Members who are entitled to vote to seek clarifications and/or offer comments related to any item of business and address the same, as warranted.

Para 5.3 of SS-2 provides that in case of public companies, the Chairman shall not propose any Resolution in which he is deemed to be concerned or interested nor shall he conduct the proceedings for that item of business.

If the Chairman is interested in any item of business, without prejudice to his Voting Rights on Resolutions, he shall entrust the conduct of the proceedings in respect of such item to any Dis-Interested Director or to a Member, with the consent of the Members present, and resume the Chair after that item of business has been transacted.

Para 4.1.1 of SS-2 provides that if any Director is unable to attend the Meeting, the Chairman shall explain such absence at the Meeting.

Para 4.1.2 of SS-2 requires that Directors who attend General Meetings of the company and the Company Secretary shall be seated with the Chairman.

PRESENCE OF STATUTORY AUDITOR AND SECRETARIAL AUDITOR

Section 146 of the Act requires the presence to Auditors in general meetings unless otherwise exempted, either himself or through his authorized representative, who shall also be qualified to be an auditor and shall have right to be heard at such meeting on any part of the business which concerns him as the auditor.

Para 4.2 of SS-2 requires that the Auditors, unless exempted by the company, shall, either by themselves or through their authorised representative, attend the General Meetings of the company and shall have the right to be heard at such Meetings on that part of the business which concerns them as Auditors.

The authorized representative who attends the General Meeting of the company shall also be qualified to be an Auditor.

Similarly, para 4.3 of SS-2 requires the secretarial auditor, unless exempted by the company shall, either by himself or through his authorized representative, attend the Annual General Meeting and shall have the right to be heard at such Meeting on that part of the business which concerns him as Secretarial Auditor.

The authorized representative who attends the General Meeting of the company shall also be qualified to be a secretarial auditor.

Proxies (Section 105)

A person who is appointed by a member to attend and vote at a meeting in the absence of the member at the meeting is termed as proxy. Thus proxy is an agent of the member appointing him. The term 'proxy' is also used to refer to the instrument by which a person is appointed as proxy. Section 105 of the Companies Act, 2013 provides that a member, who is entitled to attend to vote, can appoint another person as a proxy to attend and vote at the meeting on his behalf. This section also provides the manner of appointing proxy. The provisions are as follows.

- (1) Who can appoint a proxy: Any member of a company who is entitled to attend and vote at a meeting of the company shall be entitled to appoint another person as a proxy to attend and vote at the meeting on his behalf.

The SS added that where allowed, one or more proxies, to attend and vote instead of himself and a Proxy need not be a Member.

However, a Proxy shall be a Member in case of companies with charitable objects etc. and not for profit registered under the specified provisions of the Act.

A Proxy can act on behalf of Members not exceeding fifty and holding in the aggregate not more than ten percent of the total share capital of the company carrying Voting Rights.

However, a Member holding more than ten percent of the total share capital of the company carrying Voting Rights may appoint a single person as Proxy for his entire shareholding and such person shall not act as a Proxy for another person or shareholder.

If a Proxy is appointed for more than fifty Members, he shall choose any fifty Members and confirm the same to the company before the commencement of specified period for inspection. In case, the Proxy fails to do so, the company shall consider only the first fifty proxies received as valid.

- (2) Disabilities of proxy: A proxy shall not have the right to speak at the meeting. A proxy cannot vote on a show of hands. A proxy is not counted for the purpose of quorum.
- (3) Rights of proxy: A proxy has the right to attend the meeting. A proxy has the right to vote only on a poll. A proxy, if eligible under section 109, has the right to demand a poll.
- (4) Restriction on proxy: A member of a company registered under section 8 (Not for Profit company) shall not be entitled to appoint any other person as his proxy unless such other person is also a member of such company.

A person appointed as proxy shall not act as proxy on behalf of more than fifty members and members holding in the aggregate more than ten percent of the total share capital of the company carrying voting rights.

A member holding more than 10% of the total share capital of the company carrying voting rights may appoint a single person as proxy, provided that such person shall not act as proxy for any other person or shareholder.

- (5) Time limit for deposit of proxy forms: The instrument appointing the proxy must be deposited with the company, 48 hours before the meeting. Any provision contained in the articles, requiring a longer period than 48 hours shall have effect as if a period of 48 hours had been specified.

Secretarial standard of proxies:

- (1) Deposit of proxies: Para 6.6.1 of SS-2 provides that proxies shall be deposited with the company either in person or through post not later than forty-eight hours before the commencement of the Meeting in relation to which they are deposited and a Proxy shall be accepted even on a holiday if the last date by which it could be accepted is a holiday.
- (2) Records of proxies: Para 6.9.1 of SS-2 requires that all Proxies received by the company shall be recorded chronologically in a register kept for that purpose.

Para 6.9.2 of SS-2 provides that in case any Proxy entered in the register is rejected, the reasons therefor shall be entered in the remarks column.

- (3) The prescribed form for appointing a proxy is Form No. MGT. 11. It needs to be in writing and signed by the appointer or his attorney duly authorised in writing. If the appointer is a body corporate, the instrument should be under its seal or be signed by an officer or an attorney duly authorised by the body corporate. An instrument appointing a proxy, if in MGT-11, shall not be questioned on the ground that it fails to comply with any special requirement specified for such instrument by the article of a company.

Para 6.2.1 requires that an instrument appointing a Proxy shall be either in the Form specified in the Articles or in the Form set out in the Act.

The instrument of Proxy shall be signed by the appointer or his attorney duly authorized in writing, or if the appointer is a body corporate, be under its seal or be signed by an officer or an attorney duly authorized by it.

Para 6.2.2 requires that an instrument of Proxy duly filled, stamped and signed, is valid only for the Meeting to which it relates including any adjournment thereof.

Para 6.3 provides that an instrument of Proxy is valid only if it is properly stamped as per the applicable law. Unstamped or inadequately stamped Proxies or Proxies upon which the stamps have not been cancelled are invalid.

Para 6.4.1 requires that the Proxy-holder shall prove his identity at the time of attending the Meeting.

Para 6.4.2 provides that an authorized representative of a body corporate or of the President of India or of the Governor of a State, holding shares in a company, may appoint a Proxy under his signature.

Para 6.5.1 states that a Proxy form which does not state the name of the Proxy shall not be considered valid.

Para 6.5.2 states that undated proxy shall not be considered valid.

Para 6.5.3 provides that if a company receives multiple proxies for the same holdings of a Member, the Proxy which is dated last shall be considered valid; if they are not dated or bear the same date without specific mention of time, all such multiple Proxies shall be treated as invalid.

Let us Remember:

The prescribed proxy form is Form No. MGT 11

- (4) Inspection of proxy: Every member entitled to vote at a meeting of the company, or on any resolution to be moved thereat, is entitled to inspect the proxies lodged with the company, if at least 3 days notice in writing is given to the company. Such notice shall be received at least three days before the commencement of the Meeting. Such inspection can be taken during the period beginning 24 hours before the time fixed for the commencement of the meeting, during the business hours of the company, and ending with the conclusion of the meeting. Such inspection should be allowed between 9:00 am and 6:00 pm during such period.

A fresh requisition confirming to the above requirements, shall be given for inspection of Proxies in case the Original Meeting is adjourned.

- (5) Revocation of proxy: If after appointment of proxy, the member himself attends the meeting, it amounts to automatic revocation of proxy. But once the proxy has voted, it cannot be revoked.

Para 6.7.1 provides that if a Proxy had been appointed for the original meeting and such meeting is adjourned, any Proxy given for the adjourned Meeting revokes the Proxy given for the original Meeting.

Para 6.7.2 provides that a proxy later in date revokes any Proxy/Proxies dated prior to such Proxy.

Para 6.7.3 provides that a Proxy is valid until written notice of revocation has been received by the company before the commencement of the Meeting or adjourned Meeting, as the case may be.

A Proxy need not be informed of the revocation of the Proxy issued by the Member.

Question: Annual General Meeting of a Public Company was scheduled to be held on 15.12.2015. Mr. A, a shareholder, issued two Proxies in respect of the shares held by him in favor of Mr. 'X' and Mr. 'Y'. The proxy in favor of 'Y' was lodged on 12.12.2015 and the one in favor of Mr. X was lodged on 15.12.2015. The company rejected the proxy in favor of Mr. Y as the proxy in favor of Mr. Y was of dated 12.12.2015 and thus in favor of Mr. X was of dated 15.12.2015. Is the rejection by the company in order?

Hint: As per Section 105 of the Companies Act, 2013 a proxy should be deposited 48 hours before the time of the meeting. In the given case, the proxies should have, therefore, been deposited on or before 13.12.2015 (the date of the meeting being 15.12.2015). X deposited the proxy on 15.12.2015.

Therefore, proxy in favour of Mr. X has become invalid. Thus, rejecting the proxy in favour of Mr. Y is unsustainable. Proxy in favor of Y is valid since it is deposited in time.

Question: The Chairman of the meeting of a public company received a Proxy 54 hours before the time fixed for the start of the meeting. He refused to accept the Proxy on the ground that the Articles of the company provided that a Proxy must be filed 60 hours before the start of the meeting. Decide, under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 whether the Proxy holder can compel the Chairman to admit the Proxy?

Hint: As per Section 105 of the Companies Act, 2013 proxy shall be deposited with the company within 48 hours before the meeting.

Any provisions contained in the Articles of a company that requires a longer period than 48 hours before a meeting of the company for depositing a proxy shall be void. Thus contention of Mr X is valid.

Question: Mr. A, a member of XYZ Limited, appoints Mr. B as his proxy to attend the general meeting of the company. Later he (Mr. A) also attends the meeting. Both Mr. A (the member) and Mr. B (the proxy) voted on a particular resolution in the meeting. Mr. A's vote was declared invalid by the chairman stating that since he has appointed the proxy and Mr. B's vote has been considered as valid. Mr. A objects to the decision of the Chairman. Decide, under the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 whether Mr. A's objection shall be taxable.

Hint: Decision by Chairman is invalid. Since Mr. A i.e. a member himself attended a meeting and voted on resolution, it will amount to revocation of proxy. Thus any vote put by Mr. B i.e. proxy shall be invalid.

Restriction on Voting Rights (Section 106)

The articles of a company may provide that a member shall not exercise any voting right in respect of any shares registered in his name on which any calls or other sums presently payable by him have not been paid or on which company has exercised any right or lien. No member can be prohibited from exercising his voting right on any other ground.

Voting by Show of Hands (Section 107)

At any general meeting, a resolution put to the vote of the meeting shall in the first instance be decided on a show of hands, unless-

- (a) A poll is demanded under section 109 of the Act.
- (b) Voting is carried out electronically under section 108 of the Act.

A declaration by the Chairman of the meeting of the passing of a resolution (that the resolution has been passed or failed, as the case may be) on show of hands and an entry to that effect in the minutes book shall be conclusive evidence of the fact of passing of such resolution. No proof of numbers of votes casts in favor of and against the resolution is required.

Voting through Electronic Means (Section 108)

General meetings of companies are held at their registered offices and it is not possible for every member specially members holding minor shares to travel up to the registered office of the company and participate in the general meetings of the company.

To eliminate this type of difficulty and to enhance the participation of minority members, concept of e-voting has been introduced by the Companies Act 2013. Now a member can cast his vote easily through electronic mode without physically attending the general meeting.

E-voting do not eliminate members right to physically attend and vote at the general meeting. However member can cast his vote through one mode only. A member after casting his vote through e-voting can go and attend the general meeting but cannot cast vote in that general meeting.

The facility of Remote e-voting does not dispose with the requirements of holding a General Meeting by the company.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

As per Section 186 of the Companies Act 2013, a company cannot, unless otherwise prescribed, make investment through more than 2 layers of investment companies except to comply with law and in case of acquisition of a foreign company. Compliance with this requirement may involve significant restructuring in many cases. Besides the section prescribes the limits beyond which special resolution is to be obtained for loans or investments etc.,

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 (the Act) in relation to loans and investments by companies, the conditions wherein such loans and investments can/cannot be made. It also gives provisions for register of loans made, guarantees given, securities provided and investments made as also register of investments not held in company's own name. The lesson further lists the circumstances wherein companies are not required to keep the investments in its own name.

INTRODUCTION

The word 'Investments' in common parlance would include any property or right in which money or capital is invested. However, for the purpose of this study, the term 'Investments' is used in a limited sense to mean the investment of money in shares, stock, debentures, or other securities.

The power to invest the funds of the company is the prerogative of the Board of Directors. This power is derived by the Board under Section 179 of the Act. However, the Companies Act, 2013 contains provisions for restrictions on investments that a company can make and loans it can provide. Moreover, giving corporate guarantee or security is also as good as giving a loan, because the person to whom guarantee or security is given can decide to enforce the guarantee or security in certain conditions and in such a situation, the company will have to pay the amount. Thus apart from loan and investments, restrictions are also placed on the guarantees which the company can give or security it can provide for a loan.

Provisions in respect of giving of loans, making investments, giving guarantee or providing security or acquiring securities of any other body corporate have been considerably modified by the Companies Act, 2013 by inserting Section 186. As of now, an overall limit of 60% of paid-up share capital plus free reserves and securities premium account or 100% of free reserves and securities premium account, whichever is more has been fixed.

Let us understand some terminologies used in Section 186 of the Companies Act 2013

- (ii) any change in carrying amount of an asset or of a liability recognised in equity, including surplus in profit and loss account on measurement of the asset or the liability at fair value, shall not be treated as free reserves.

Paid-up share capital

As per Section 2(64) of the Act, “paid-up share capital” or “share capital paid-up” means such aggregate amount of money credited as paid-up as is equivalent to the amount received as paid up in respect of shares issued and also includes any amount credited as paid-up in respect of shares of the company, but does not include any other amount received in respect of such shares, by whatever name called.

The definition of paid up share capital is exhaustive. Paid up share capital includes both equity and preference share capital.

Correct answer: False

INVESTMENTS TO BE HELD IN COMPANY'S OWN NAME

According to Sub-section (1) of Section 187, all investments made or held by a company in any property, security or other asset shall be made and held by it in its own name.

The requirement that the investment made by the company must be held in its own name is confined to only those investments which are made by it on its own behalf and not on behalf of someone else. In a case where the company is a trustee, the investment is supposed to be made on behalf of the beneficiaries of the trust and not on its own behalf. Therefore, the investments by the company as a trustee and held in the name of the beneficiaries is allowed.

As per proviso to section 187(1), the company may hold any shares in its subsidiary company in the name of any nominee or nominees of the company, if it is necessary to do so, to ensure that the number of members of the subsidiary company is not reduced below the statutory limit.

Case Law

Where the shares of a company were registered in the joint names of the company and one of its directors, it was held that the director was a nominee of the company for that purpose and could only act jointly as he had no rights of his own. [Exchange Travel (Holdings) Ltd. Re, (1991) BCLC 728 (Ch D)].

If company holds shares in dematerialised form, the name of depository is entered in the register of members as member of the company and the name of the investing company as the beneficial owner of the said shares.

Exemptions from applicability of Section 187(1)

1. In terms of the provisions of Section 187(2), Section 187(1) does not prevent a company:
 - (a) from depositing with the bank, being the bankers of the company, any shares or securities for the collection of any dividend or interest payable thereon; or
 - (b) from depositing with or transferring to, or holding in the name of, the State Bank of India or a scheduled bank, being the bankers of the company, shares or securities, in order to facilitate the transfer thereof. However, if within a period of 6 months from the date on which the shares or securities are transferred by the company to, or are first held by the company in the name of, the State Bank of India or a scheduled bank as aforesaid, no transfer of such shares or securities takes place, the company shall, as soon as practicable, after the expiry of that period, have the shares or securities re-transferred to it from the State Bank of India or the scheduled bank or, as the case may be, again hold the shares or securities in its own name; or
 - (c) from depositing with, or transferring to, any person any shares or securities, by way of security for the re-payment of any loan advanced to the company or the performance of any obligation undertaken by it.
 - (d) from holding investments in the name of a depository when such investments are in the form of securities held by the company as a beneficial owner.

Thus, it is not necessary for the company to hold the shares or stocks or debentures in its own name if they are deposited with the bank as aforesaid. A resolution of the Board of directors in this behalf is sufficient. The bank is entitled to have the shares or debentures registered in its own name with the specific purpose of collecting dividend or interest from the company whose shares or debentures are deposited with the bank. The company holding the investment in the name of the bank is only required to enter into a separate agreement with the bank that the latter will collect dividend and interest and credit the company with the amounts so collected. It may be noted that the deposit of shares, stocks and debentures with the bank need not be by way of a pledge but may be made for the specific object of enabling the banker to act as agent of the company to collect dividend and interest.

REGISTER OF INVESTMENTS NOT HELD IN COMPANY'S OWN NAME

According to sub-section (3) of section 187 where in pursuance of clause (d) of sub-section (2), any shares or securities in which investments have been made by a company are not held by it in its own name, the company shall maintain a register which shall contain such particulars as may be prescribed and such register shall be open to inspection by any member or debenture-holder of the company without any charge during business hours subject to such reasonable restrictions as the company may by its articles or in general meeting impose.

Therefore, a company is only required to maintain a register for securities not held in the name of the company, when the investments are held in the name of a depository.

Accordingly when any shares or securities in which investments have been made by a company are not held by it in its own name as a beneficial owner when such investments are held in the name of a depository pursuant to Section 187(2)(d), the company shall forthwith enter in a register maintained by it for the purpose, the prescribed particulars.

Companies (Meetings of Board and its Powers) Rules, 2014

Rule 14 of Companies (Meetings of Board and its Powers) Rules, 2014 states that

(1) Every company shall, from the date of its registration, maintain a register in Form MBP 3 and enter therein, chronologically, the particulars of investments in shares or other securities beneficially held by the company but which are not held in its own name and the company shall also record the reasons for not holding the investments in its own name and the relationship or contract under which the investment is held in the name of any other person.

(2) The company shall also record whether such investments are held in a third party's name for the time being or otherwise.

(3) The register shall be maintained at the registered office of the company. The register shall be preserved permanently and shall be kept in the custody of the company secretary of the company or if there is no company secretary, any director or any other officer authorised by the Board for the purpose.

(4) The entries in the register shall be authenticated by the company secretary of the company or by any other person authorised by the Board for the purpose.

PUNISHMENT

According to section 187(4), if a company contravenes the provisions of section 187, the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand rupees but which may extend to twenty-five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand rupees but which may extend to one lakh rupees, or with both.

Let us Remember

The company has to maintain register of loans, investments in Form MBP-2 and register of Investment beneficially held by the company but not held in the name of the company in MBP-3.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- 'Investments' has been used in a limited sense in the lesson to mean the investing of money in shares, stock, debentures or other securities.
- The power to invest the funds of the company is the prerogative of the Board of Directors. However, the Board must not misuse its powers. The Companies Act, 2013 contains provisions for restrictions on investments that a company can make and loans it can provide. Restrictions are also placed on the guarantees which the company can give or security it can provide for a loan.

- The provisions for restrictions on investments and loans by companies would also apply to Section 8 companies and guarantee companies not having a share capital.
- Approvals for making investments and loans would have to be taken in accordance with the specific provisions of the Companies Act. A blanket approval of the shareholders for the purpose would not suffice.
- The Companies Act provides for the particulars to be provided in the register of loans made, guarantees given, securities provided and investments made and the manner in which it is to be kept.
- Provisions have also been given in relation to inspection of such register and penalties imposable in case of defaults in maintaining the required registers.
- However, there are certain exemptions wherein these provisions would not be applicable.
- As per the Act, all investments made or held by a company in any property, security or other asset shall be made and held by it in its own name. This requirement is confined to only those investments which are made by it on its own behalf and not on behalf of someone else. However, in certain circumstances, the Act exempts the companies from complying with the above provisions.
- When any shares or securities in which investments have been made by a company are not held by it in its own name as a beneficial owner when such investments are held in the name of a depository pursuant to permissible conditions given in the Act, the company shall forthwith enter in a register maintained by it for the purpose, particulars as specified in the Act.
- In case of default, the company is punishable with fine and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment or with fine or with both.

Introduction

Companies aim to secure finance by different cost-effective methods to suit their financial requirements. Companies have always been attracted towards financing through deposits and, at times, problems have arisen in the context of such deposits. - a housing finance company registered with the National Housing Bank established under the National Housing Bank Act, 2013; and

The health of a business is shown by the books of account of the company. The company is maintaining the records through the books as required by statute or as per the need of the hour. But, the maintenance of the books of account is not enough. The verification and checking is also important.

The checking of books of account is known as auditing. The auditing is also known as post mortem of books. It is helpful in the future planning. The auditing is done by the auditor. In India, the statutory audit is conducted by statutory auditor. It is mandatory in nature. Every company is required to audit its books of account. It is not only statutory audit which is in existence; now a days, the cost audit, Secretarial audit, management audit etc. are also conducted by the companies. It is helpful in the formulation of the company's policies.

After reading this lesson, you will be able to understand the provisions about keeping books of account, inspection of books of account and other provisions for balance sheet and profit and loss account under the Companies Act. It also discusses provisions for audit and auditors, their appointment, qualifications, resignation, removal, duties and liabilities.

Accounting does not make corporate earnings or balance sheets more volatile. Accounting just increases the transparency of volatility in earnings.

ACCOUNTS OF COMPANIES

The shareholders provide capital to the company for running the business. They are in a way, the owners of the company. But, all of them cannot take part in managing the affairs of the company as their number is usually much more. But they have every right to know as to how their money has been dealt with by the directors in a particular period. This is why perhaps compulsory disclosure through annual information to the shareholders by the directors about the working and financial position of the company enables them to exercise a more intelligent and purposeful control over the affairs of the company. For preparation of annual accounts the maintenance of proper books of account is a must. Section 128 of the Companies Act, 2013 contains the provisions for books of account etc. to be kept by company.

As per Clarification issued by MCA on 18th June, 2014; following may be noted with regard to provisions mentioned under section 135:

- One-off events such as marathons/ awards/ charitable contribution/ advertisement/sponsorships of TV programmes etc. do not be qualified as part of CSR expenditure.
- Expenses incurred by companies for the fulfillment of any Act/ Statute of regulations (such as Labour Laws, Land Acquisition Act etc.) are not count as CSR expenditure under the Companies Act.

Computation of net profit

The net worth, turnover and net profits are to be computed in terms of Section 198 of the 2013 Act as per the profit and loss statement prepared by the company in terms of Section 381 (1) (a) and Section 198 of the 2013 Act. Every company will have to report its standalone net profit during a financial year for the purpose of determining whether or not it triggers the threshold criteria as prescribed under Section 135(1) of the Companies Act.

- Indian company: The CSR Rules have clarified the manner in which a company's net worth will be computed to determine if it fits into the 'spending' norm. In order to determine the 'net profit', dividend income received from another Indian company or profits made by the company from its overseas branches have been excluded. Moreover, the 2% CSR is computed as 2% of the average net profits made by the company during the preceding three financial years.
- Foreign company: The CSR Rules prescribe that in case of a foreign company that has its branch or a project office in India, CSR provision will be applicable to such offices. CSR Rules further prescribe that the balance sheet and profit and loss account of a foreign company will be prepared in accordance with Section 381(1)(a) and net profit to be computed as per Section 198 of the Companies Act. It is not clear as to how the computation of net worth or turnover would be arrived at in case of a branch or project office of a foreign company

It has been clarified that if net profits are computed under the Companies Act, 1956 they needn't be recomputed under the 2013 Act. Profits from any overseas branch of the company, including those branches that are operated as a separate company would not be included in the computation of net profits of a company. Besides, dividends received from other companies in India which need to comply with the CSR obligations would not be included in the computation of net profits of a company.

Government has no role to play in monitoring implementation of CSR by companies.
19.	Whether government is proposing to establish any mechanism for third parties to monitor the quality and efficacy of CSR expenditure as well as to have an impact assessment of CSR by Companies?
	Government has no role to play in engaging external experts for monitoring the quality and efficacy of CSR expenditure of companies. Boards/CSR Committees are fully competent to engage third parties to have an impact assessment of its CSR programme to validate compliance of the CSR provisions of the law.
20.	Can CSR funds be utilized to fund Government Scheme?
	The objective of this provision is indeed to involve the corporates in discharging their social responsibility with their innovative ideas and management skills and with greater efficiency and better outcomes. Therefore, CSR should not be interpreted as a source of financing the resource gaps in Government Scheme. Use of corporate innovations and management skills in the delivery of 'public goods' is at the core of CSR implementation by the companies. In-principle, CSR fund of companies should not be used as a source of funding Government Schemes. CSR projects should have a larger multiplier effect than that under the Government schemes. However, under CSR provision of the Act and rules made thereunder, the Board of the eligible company is competent to take decision on supplementing any Government Scheme provided the scheme permits corporates participation and all provisions of Section 135 of the Act and rules thereunder are complied by the company.

21.	Who is the appropriate authority for approving and implementation of the CSR programmes/projects of a Company? What is Government's role in this regard?
	Government has no role to play in this regard. Section 135 of the Act, Schedule VII and Companies CSR Policy Rules, 2014 read with General Circular dated 18.06.2014 issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs, provide the broad contour with which eligible companies are required to formulate their CSR policies including activities to be undertaken and implement the same in the right earnest. Therefore, all CSR programmes/projects should be approved by the Boards on the recommendations of their CSR Committees. Changes, if any, in the programme/project should also be undertaken only with the approval of the committee/Board.
22.	How can companies with small CSR funds take up CSR activities in a project/programme mode?
	A well designed CSR project or programme can be managed with even small fund. Further, there is a provision in the CSR Policy Rules, 2014 that such companies can combine their CSR programs with other similar companies by way of pooling their CSR resources. (refer Rule 4 in Companies (CSR Policy) Rules, 2014).
23.	Whether involvement of employees of the company in CSR project/programmes of a company can be monetized and accounted for under the head of 'CSR expenditure'?
	Contribution and involvement of employees in CSR activities of the company will no doubt generate interest/pride in CSR work and promote transformation from Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) as an obligation to Socially Responsible Corporates (SRC) in all aspects of their functioning. Companies therefore, should be encouraged to involve their employees in CSR activities. However, monetization of pro bono services of employees would not be counted towards CSR expenditure.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- Proper books of accounts shall be deemed to have been kept by a company if such books exhibit and explain the transactions and financial position of the business of the company, including books containing sufficiently detailed entries of daily cash receipts and payments.
- Every company is required to keep books of account at its registered office in respect of specified transactions. However, all or any of the books of accounts may be kept at such other place in India as the Board of directors may decide.
- As per the Act, books of account and other books and papers should be available for inspection by any director on working days during business hours.
- The expression 'annual accounts' embraces both balance sheet and statement of profit and loss.
- The term 'Balance Sheet' means a statement prepared from the books of a concern showing the debit and credit balances after the trading and profit and loss accounts have been prepared – a statement drawn up at the end of each trading or financial period, setting forth the various assets, and liabilities of a concern at a particular date.
- Profit and loss account is a Statement by which the directors disclose to the shareholders of the company the result of the actual working of the company. It serves to give the shareholders an idea of the earning capacity of the company in relation to its capital, and enables them to judge about the administration and management of the affairs of the company.
- The Act provides that every profit and loss account and balance sheet of the company shall comply with the accounting standards.
- The Act requires that at every annual general meeting of the company, the Board of directors must lay before the shareholders of the company a balance sheet and a profit and loss account for the period as specified therein; and in the case of non-profit companies, an income and expenditure account.
- The balance sheet and profit and loss account must be approved by the Board of directors and signed by the directors before they are submitted to the auditors for their report. The Act gives other provisions also for authentication of annual accounts. The Act also requires the company to file such annual accounts with the Registrar of Companies.
- The Act provides that there shall be attached to every balance sheet laid before a company in general meeting (in practice, the annual general meeting) a report by its Board of directors, with respect to items as specified therein. The Board's Report shall also include a Directors' Responsibility Statement as required under the Act.
- The main object of audit is to ensure that the statement of accounts of the relevant financial year truly and fairly reflect the state of affairs of the company. Audit also provides a moral check on those who are entrusted with the task of running business and of keeping and maintaining the books of account of the company. An audit of accounts is conducted with two-fold purpose: (i) detection and prevention of errors; (ii) detection and prevention of fraud.

- The Act provides that every company shall, at each annual general meeting appoint an auditor or auditors to hold office from the conclusion of that meeting until the conclusion of next annual general meeting. The Act also provides for methods of appointment of auditors along with their qualifications and disqualifications.
- The Act provides that the auditor of a Government company shall be appointed or re-appointed by the Comptroller and Auditor General of India within the limits specified.
- The Act provides that the auditors' report shall be signed only by the person appointed as an auditor of the company.
- The Central Government has notified Cost Accounting Records Rules for a number of specified industries with a view to ensuring that the records so maintained highlight the area of inefficiencies or high costs.

“A stock dividend is something tangible — it’s not an earnings projection; it’s something solid, in hand. A stock dividend is a true return on the investment. Everything else is hope and speculation.”

–Richard Russel

MEANING AND DEFINITION OF DIVIDEND

A dividend is a distribution of a portion of a company's earnings, decided by the board of directors, to a class of its shareholders. A share of the after-tax profit of a company, distributed to its shareholders according to the number and class of shares held by them is called dividend. The amount and timing of the dividend is decided by the board of directors, who also determine whether it is paid out of current earnings or the past earnings kept as reserve.

Holders of preference shares receive dividend at a fixed rate and are paid first. However, preference shareholders are not entitled to treat the preference dividend as a debt and sue for its payment. However, if the articles specify that the company's profit shall be applied, by way of payment of the preference dividend, the preference shareholder can sue for it even though it has not been declared [Eving v. Israel & Oppenheimer Ltd. (1918) 1 Ch. 101].

Holders of equity shares are entitled to receive any amount of dividend, based on the level of profit and the company's need for cash for expansion or other purposes.

Dividend defined under section 2(35) of the Companies Act, 2013, includes any interim dividend.

The power to pay dividend is inherent in a company and is not derived from the Companies Act, 2013 or the Memorandum or Articles of Association although the Act and the Articles regulate the manner in which dividends are to be declared.

Right to claim dividend will only arise after a dividend is declared by the company in general meeting and until and unless it is so declared, the shareholder has no claim against the company in respect of it. The observation of the Bombay High Court in Bacha F Guzdar v. CIT (1952) 22 Com Cases 198 (Bom) was improved upon by the Supreme Court saying that the right to participation in the profits exists independent of any declaration by the company with only difference that the enjoyment of profits is postponed until dividends are declared [Bacha F Guzdar (Mrs.) v. CIT (1955) 25 Com Cases 1 at p. 6]

Final dividend

Dividend is said to be a final dividend if it is declared at the annual general meeting of the company. Final dividend once declared becomes a debt enforceable against the company. Final Dividend can be declared only if it is recommended by the Board of Directors of the Company. In accordance with Section 134(3)(k), Board of directors must state in the Directors' Report the amount of dividend, if any, which it recommends to be paid.

SS-3 defines final dividend so as to mean the dividend recommended by the Board of Directors and declared by the Members at an Annual General Meeting.

Interim dividend

Dividend is said to be an interim dividend, if it is declared by the Board of Directors between two annual general meetings of the company. All the provisions relating to the payment of dividend shall be applicable on the interim dividend also.

SS-3 defines interim dividend so as to mean the Dividend declared by the Board of Directors.

Declaration of Dividend (Section 123)

Section 51 of the Act, states that a company may, if so authorized by its articles, pay dividend in proportion to the amount paid up on each share.

According to SS-3 a dividend shall be declared only on the recommendation of the Board, made at a meeting of the Board. As per Regulation 43 of SEBI(LODR) Regulations, 2015 the listed companies are mandated to declare and disclose the dividend on per share basis only.

A. Sources of declaration of dividend: Section 123(1) of Companies Act 2013 provides that no dividend shall be declared or paid by a company for any financial year except—

- (ii) out of the profits of the company for any previous financial year or years arrived at after providing for depreciation in accordance with the provisions of that sub-section and remaining undistributed, or
- (iii) out of both; or

In computing profits any amount representing unrealised gains, notional gains or revaluation of assets and any changes in carrying amount of an asset or of a liability on measurement of the asset or the liability at fair values shall be excluded; and";

- (b) out of money provided by the Central Government or a State Government for the payment of dividend by the company in pursuance of a guarantee given by that Government.

In accordance with SS-3, a company shall not declare Dividend on its equity shares in case of noncompliance of provisions relating to the acceptance of deposits under the Act, till such time the deposits accepted have been repaid with interest in accordance with the terms and conditions of the agreement entered with the depositors.

A company shall also not declare any Dividend, if it has defaulted in –

- (a) Redemption of debentures or payment of interest thereon or creation of debenture redemption reserve,
- (b) Redemption of preference shares or creation of capital redemption reserve,
- (c) Payment of Dividend declared in the current or previous financial year(s), or
- (d) Repayment of any term loan to a bank or financial institution or interest thereon.

Till such time the default is subsisting.

No Dividend shall be declared by the company during the extended time, if any, granted by the Tribunal/Court for repayment of above liabilities.

B. Transfer of profits to reserves: A company may, before the declaration of any dividend in any financial year, transfer such percentage of its profits for that financial year as it may consider appropriate to the reserves of the company.

C. LEARNING OBJECTIVES

A check on the performance and compliance of various applicable laws are generally exercised by the scrutiny of any document filed by the company with the Registrar of Companies or any other regulatory authority, who is empowered to call for information and explanation with respect to any matter to which such documents or any information purports to relate. The object of inspection is not only to keep a watch on the performance of companies but also to evaluate the level of efficiency in the conduct of the companies.

The Companies Act, 2013 empowers the registrar of Companies to call for information, to order an enquiry, to enter and search the place or places where the books are kept. Further the act also empowers central government to order an investigation into the affairs of the company. The act also mandates constitution of Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO) and assigns certain offenses to be investigated by SFIO, which has power to arrest in respect of certain offences. After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the provisions relating to inspection, investigation, powers of regulatory authorities including registrars, central government, SFIO etc relating to inspection and investigation into the affairs of the company.

INTRODUCTION

Chapter XIV (Section 206 – 229) of the Companies Act 2013 deals with the aspects of inspection, inquiry and investigation. The broad regulatory framework covers various aspects such as powers of registrar/central government to call for information, to inspect books and papers etc. and to conduct enquiry, procedure for inspection, powers of registrar in the course of inspection and the duties of officers in providing the information in the course of inspection, search/seizure, powers the central government to order an investigation into the affairs of the company, constitution of Serious Fraud Investigation Office (SFIO), investigation into the affairs of the company by SFIO and other operational aspects.

INSPECTION

Section 206 of the Companies Act 2013 deals with power to call information, inspection of documents, books and papers of any company and conduct inquiries. The section empowers the Registrar or Inspectors appointed by Central Government to conduct inspection in order to ascertain that all the transactions have been validly entered into and recorded in appropriate books and those all applicable laws, rules and procedures have been complied by the company. The section provides some penal provisions for the every defaulting officer of the company if it is clear from the inspection that the affairs of the company is being or has been carried on for a fraudulent or unlawful purpose.

Purpose of conducting Inspection

Section 206 does not specify the circumstances or pre conditions which must be satisfied to invoke these provisions. Some of the objectives of conducting such inspections may be thus:

1. To detect concealment of income by falsification of accounts.
2. To secure knowledge about the mismanagement of the business of a company and transactions entered into with an intent to defraud creditors, shareholders or otherwise for fraudulent or unlawful purposes.
3. To ascertain whether the statutory auditors have discharged their functions and duties in certifying the true and fair view of a company's accounts and their proper maintenance.
4. To enable the Government to ascertain the quantum of profits accrued but not adequately accounted for.
5. To detect misapplication of funds leading a company to a state of perpetual financial crisis.
6. To keep a watch on performance of a company.
7. To detect misuse of fiduciary responsibilities by the company's management for personal aggrandizement.

Inspection is intended to be a routine and not ad hoc or special affair. However, if sufficient evidence suggests that ~~of~~ the company's affairs are being mismanaged and/or managed in fraudulent ~~way~~ manner, then inspection can lead to orders for investigation into the affairs of the company.

Meaning of "The affairs of Company":- The expression "the affairs of the company" as occurring in section 213 (b) of the Companies Act, 2013 is wide enough to include contravention of any law for the time being in force. [Jiyajeerao Cotton Mills Ltd. v. Company Law Board (1969) 39 Comp. Cas. 856 (MP).]

Powers of registrar to call for information

- (a) to furnish the information or explanation in writing; or
- (b) to produce such document, within the reasonable time as may be specified in notice.

In accordance with section 206(2) of the Act, it is the duty of the company and of its officer concerned to furnish such information or explanation to the best of their knowledge and power to produce the documents as required by the registrar within the specified time mentioned in the notice under section 206(1) or the time extended by the Registrar.

he may, by another written notice, call on the company to produce for his inspection such further books of account, books, papers, and explanations as he may require at such place and at such time as he may specify in the notice.

The Proviso to section 206(3) states that before sending any such notice as mentioned in sub section 3, the Registrar shall record his reasons in writing for issuing such notice.

Powers of Registrar to call for information/explanation after informing the company of the allegations made against it

According to Section 206(4) the registrar, on the basis of information available or furnished to him or on a representation made to him by any person, is of the opinion that

INVESTIGATIONS

MEANING AND OBJECT

Shareholders have been vested with various rights including the right to elect directors under the Companies Act, 2013. However, shareholders are often ill-equipped to exercise effective control over the affairs of companies, and, particularly in companies whose shareholders are widely scattered and the affairs of such companies are managed to all intents and purposes, by its Board of directors to the exclusion of a predominant majority of shareholders. Such a situation leads to abuse of power by persons in control of the affairs of company. It became, therefore, imperative for the Central Government to assume certain powers to investigate the affairs of the company in appropriate cases particularly where there was reason to believe that the business of the company was being conducted with the intent to defraud its creditors or members or for a fraudulent or unlawful purpose, or in any manner oppressive of any of its members. Sections 210 to 229 of the Companies Act, 2013, contain provisions relating to investigation of the affairs of company.

Investigation is a fact finding exercise. The main object of investigation is to collect evidence and to see if any illegal acts or offences are disclosed and then decide the action to be taken. The said expression also includes investigation of all its business affairs—profits and losses, assets including goodwill, contracts and transactions, investments and other property interests and control of subsidiary companies too [R. v. Board of Trade, Ex parte St. Martin Preserving Co. Ltd., (1964) 2 All. E.R. 561 (Q.B.D.)].

KINDS OF INVESTIGATION

2. Investigation of the affairs of related companies (Section 219);
3. Investigation about the ownership of a Company (Section 216)
4. Investigation of foreign companies (Section 228)
5. Investigation by Serious Fraud Investigation Office directed by Central government under (section 212)
6. Investigation on the order of Tribunal. (Section 213)

LESSON ROUND-UP

- The Act provides exhaustive powers to the Registrar or inspectors or Serious Fraud Investigation Officer authorized by the Central Government or as the case may be, to conduct inspection in order to ascertain that all transactions have been validly entered into and recorded in appropriate books and that applicable laws, rules and procedures have been complied with by the company.
- Also, the books of account and other books and papers shall be open to inspection by any director during business hours. The Companies Act does not give any statutory right of inspection of books of account to a shareholder. However, articles of a company may give such a right to the shareholders.
- The Act empowers the person making the inspection to make or cause to be made copies of books of account and other books and papers or place or cause to be placed any marks of identification thereon in token of inspection having been made.
- The person making an inspection is required to make a report to the Central Government after inspection of books of account and other books and papers of the company.
- If a default is made in complying with the provisions of inspection, every officer of the company, who is in default, shall be punishable with fine and imprisonment.
- In respect of inspection, the Company Secretary should take all possible steps to comply with the provisions of the Act and other laws. When inspection of books (by the Registrar or an officer of the Central Government or SFIO) is anticipated, he/she should make sure that the prescribed statutory registers and records are being maintained up to date by the company.
- Investigation within the meaning of the relevant provisions of the Act is a form of probe; a deeper probe; into the affairs of a company. It is a fact finding exercise. The main object of investigation is to collect evidence and see if any illegal acts or offences are disclosed and then decide the action to be taken.
- The Companies Act provides for carrying out investigation of the affairs of the company whose business is being conducted in fraudulent or unlawful manner or in a manner oppressive of any member or of the affairs of related companies or of ownership of the company for the purpose of determining the true persons who are or have been able to control or materially influence the policy of the company or who are or have been financially interested in the success or failure, whether real or apparent of the company.
- The Central Government has been empowered to conduct investigation into the affairs of the company in circumstances specified under the Act.
- Only an individual or individuals may be appointed as Inspector(s) to conduct the investigation into the affairs of the company and to report thereon in the prescribed manner. Inspectors have been given wide powers under the Companies Act.
- The inspector may, and if so directed by the Central Government, shall make interim reports to that Government and on the conclusion of the investigation, shall make a final report to the Central Government.
- On receipt of the report of the Inspector appointed to investigate the affairs of the Company, the Central Government may undertake prosecution for criminal offence, winding up of company or relief by the court, recovery of damages or property.
- Before an inspector commences investigation into the affairs of the company, it is advisable for the Secretary to prepare a report touching upon various aspects of the activities of his company particularly those transactions in respect of which fraud or misfeasance or mismanagement is alleged.
- In the public interest it may become necessary for the Central Government to know the persons who are financially

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Democracy is always a better governance structure as compared to any other set up. It preserves the rights of everyone whether majority or minority. Most of the set ups are always preserving the rights of the section to whom it is presenting.

The greed for money is the reason as to why the companies are mismanaged for personal gains. This greed lies with the majority holders. The best set up for a company is that in which the minority rights are protected and also in which mismanagement is avoided.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the Principle of Non-interference, Majority Rule and Minority Rights under Companies Act, 2013 and provisions for prevention of Oppression and Mismanagement including Class Action Suits.

The oppression of minority is a normal thing everywhere either in economics or politics or in the companies. However, the subjection of minorities to oppression has been witnessed in all spheres of human activity, be it economics, politics or even corporate.

"In a democracy the poor will have more power than the rich, because there are more of them, and the will of the majority is supreme."

– Aristotle

INTRODUCTION

A company being an artificial person with no physical existence, functions through the instrumentality of the Board of directors who is guided by the wishes of the majority, subject, of course, to the welfare of the company as a whole. It is, therefore, a cardinal rule of company law that prima facie a majority of members of a company are entitled to exercise the powers of the company and generally to control its affairs. According to Section 47 of the Companies Act, 2013, every member of a company, which is limited by shares, holding any equity shares shall have a right to vote in respect of such capital on every resolution placed before the company. Member's right to vote is recognised as right of property and the shareholder may exercise it as he thinks fit according to his choice and interest. A special resolution, for instance, requires a majority of 3/4ths of those voting at the meeting and therefore, where the Act or the articles require a special resolution for any purpose, a three-fourth majority is necessary and a simple majority is not enough [Edwards v. Halliwell, (1950) 2 All. E.R. 1064]. The resolution of a majority of shareholders, passed at a duly convened and held general meeting, upon any question with which the company is legally competent to deal, is binding upon the minority and consequently upon the company [North-West Transportation Co. v. Beatty (1887) L.R. 12 A.C. 589].

Thus, the majority of the members enjoy the supreme authority to exercise the powers of the company and generally to control its affairs. But this is subject to two very important limitations. Firstly, the powers of the majority of members is subject to the provisions of the Company's memorandum and articles of association. A company cannot legally authorise or ratify any act which being outside the ambit of the memorandum, is ultra vires of the company [Ashbury Rly. Carriage and Iron Co. v. Riche, (1875) L.R. 7 H.L. 653]. Also, where the articles authorise the directors to deal with any matters except those which are outside the scope of the authority of the directors; or with which the directors, having power, are unable or unwilling to deal. Secondly, the resolution of a majority must not be inconsistent with the provisions of the Act or any other statute, or constitute a fraud on minority depriving it of its legitimate rights.

The Principle of Non-interference (Rule in Foss v. Harbottle)

The general principle of company law is that every member holds equal rights with other members of the company in the same class. The scale of rights of members of the same class must be held evenly for smooth functioning of the company. In case of difference(s) amongst the members the issue is decided by a vote of the majority. Since the majority of the members are in an advantageous position to run the company according to their command, the minorities of shareholders are often oppressed. The company law provides for adequate protection for the minority shareholders when their rights are trampled by the majority. But the protection of the minority is not generally available when the majority does anything in the exercise of the powers for internal administration of a company. The court will not usually intervene at the instance of shareholders in matters of internal administration, and will not interfere with the management of a company by its directors so long they are acting within the powers conferred on them under the articles of the company. In other words, the articles are the protective shield for the majority of shareholders who compose the Board of directors for carrying out their object at the cost of minority of shareholders. The basic principle of non-interference with the internal management of company by the court is laid down in a celebrated case of Foss v. Harbottle 67 E.R. 189; (1843) 2 Hare 461 that no action can be brought by a member against the directors in respect of a wrong alleged to be committed to a company. The company itself is the proper party of such an action.

CASE LAW

In Foss v. Harbottle, two shareholders, Foss and Turton brought an action on behalf of themselves and all other shareholders against the directors and solicitor of the company alleging that by their concerted and illegal transactions they had caused the company's property to be lost to the company. It was also alleged that there was no qualified Board. Foss and Turton claimed damages to be paid by the defendants to the company. It was held by the court that the action could not be brought by the minority shareholders although there was nothing to prevent the company itself, acting through the majority of its shareholders, bringing action. The wrong done to the company was not which could be ratified by the majority of members. The company (i.e. the majority) is the proper plaintiff for wrong done to the company, so the majority of members are competent to decide whether to commence proceedings against the directors. The reasons for rule were nicely stated by Melish L.J. in MacDougall v. Gardiner, (1875) 1 Ch. D. 13 (C.A.) at p. 25 in the following words:

“If the thing complained of is a thing which in substance the majority of company are entitled to do, or if something has been done irregularly which the majority of the company are entitled to do regularly, or if something has been done illegally which the majority of the company are entitled to do legally, there can be no use in having litigation about it, the ultimate end of which is only that a meeting has to be called, and then ultimately the majority gets its wishes.”

In Rajahmundry Electric Supply Co. v. Nageshwara Rao AIR 1956 SC 213, the Supreme Court observed that:

“The courts will not, in general, intervene at the instance of shareholders in matters of internal administration, and will not interfere with the management of the company by its directors so long as they are acting within the powers conferred on them under articles of the company. Moreover, if the directors are supported by the majority shareholders in what they do, the minority shareholders can, in general do nothing about it.”

From the above it follows then that a company being a separate legal person from the members who compose it, the company is the proper person to bring an action.

In Pavrides v. Jensen (1956) Ch. 565, a minority shareholder brought an action for damages against three directors and against the company itself on the ground that they have been negligent in selling a mine owned by the company for £ 82,000, whereas its real value was about £ 10,00,000. It was held that the action was not maintainable. The judge observed, “It was open to the company, on the resolution of a majority of the shareholders to sell the mine at a price decided by the company in that manner, and it was open to the company by a vote of majority to decide that if the directors by their negligence or error of judgement has sold the company's mine at an undervalue, proceedings should not be taken against the directors”.

In Edwards v. Halliwell (1950) 2 All. E.R. 1064, Jenkins, L.J. restated the rule in the following terms: “The rule in Foss v. Harbottle comes to no more than this. First, the proper plaintiff in respect of wrong alleged to be done to company is prima facie the company itself. Secondly, where the alleged wrong is a transaction which might be made binding on the company by a simple majority of members, no individual member is allowed to maintain an action in respect of that matter for the simple reason that, if a mere majority of the members of the company is in favour of what has been done, then cadit quaestio... (cannot be questioned). If on the other hand, a simple majority of members of the company or association is against what has been done, then there is no valid reason why the company itself should not sue”.

Justification and Advantages of the Rule in Foss v. Harbottle

The justification for the rule laid down in Foss v. Harbottle is that the will of the majority prevails. On becoming a member of a company, a shareholder agrees to submit to the will of the majority. The rule really preserves the right of the majority to decide how the company's affairs shall be conducted. If any wrong is done to the company, it is only the company itself, acting, as it must always act, through its majority, that can seek to redress and not an individual shareholder.

Moreover, a company is a person at law, the action is vested in it and cannot be brought by a single shareholder. Where there is a corporate body capable of filing a suit for itself to recover property either from its directors or officers or from any other person then that corporate body is the proper plaintiff and the only proper plaintiff [Gray v. Lewis, (1873) 8 Ch. Appl. 1035].

The main advantages that flow from the Rule in Foss v. Harbottle are of a purely practical nature and are as follows:

1. Recognition of the separate legal personality of company: If a company has suffered some injury, and not the individual members, it is the company itself that should seek to redress.
2. Need to preserve right of majority to decide: The principle in Foss v. Harbottle preserves the right of majority to decide how the affairs of the company shall be conducted. It is fair that the wishes of the majority should prevail.
3. Multiplicity of futile suits avoided: Clearly, if every individual member were permitted to sue anyone who had injured the company through a breach of duty, there could be as many suits as there are shareholders. Legal proceedings would never cease, and there would be enormous wastage of time and money.
4. Litigation at suit of a minority futile if majority does not wish it: If the irregularity complained of is one which can be subsequently ratified by the majority it is futile to have litigation about it except with the consent of the majority in a general meeting. In Mac Dougall v. Gardiner, (1875) 1 Ch. 13 (C.A.), the articles empowered the chairman, with the consent of the meeting, to adjourn a meeting and also provided for taking a poll if demanded by the shareholders. The adjournment was moved, and declared by the chairman to be carried; a poll was then demanded and refused by the chairman. A shareholder brought an action for a declaration that the chairman's conduct was illegal. Held, the action could not be brought by the shareholder; if the chairman was wrong, the company alone could sue.

Application of Foss v. Harbottle Rule in Indian context — The Delhi High Court in ICICI v. Parasrampuriah Synthetic Ltd. SSL, July 5, 1998 has held that an automatic application of Foss v. Harbottle Rule to the Indian corporate realities would be improper. Here the Indian corporate sector does not involve a large number of small individual investors but predominantly financial institutions funding at least 80% of the finance. It is these financial institutions which provide entire funds for the continuous existence and corporate activities. Though they hold only a small percentage of shares, it is these financial institutions which have really provided the finance for the company's existence and, therefore, to exclude them or to render them voiceless on an application of the principles of Foss v. Harbottle Rule would be unjust and unfair.

EXCEPTIONS TO THE RULE IN FOSS V. HARBOTTLE

The rule in Foss v. Harbottle is not absolute but is subject to certain exceptions. In other words, the rule of supremacy of the majority is subject to certain exceptions and thus, minority shareholders are not left helpless, but they are protected by:

- (a) the common law; and
- (b) the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956.

The cases in which the majority rule does not prevail are commonly known as exceptions to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle and are available to the minority. In all these cases an individual member may sue for declaration that the resolution complained of is void, or for an injunction to restrain the company from passing it. The said rule will not apply in the following cases:

(1) Ultra Vires Acts

Where the directors representing the majority of shareholders perform an illegal or ultra vires act for the company, an individual shareholder has right to bring an action. The majority of shareholders have no right to confirm an illegal or ultra vires transaction of the company. In such case a shareholder has the right to restrain the company by an order or injunction of the court from carrying out an ultra vires act.

In Bharat Insurance Ltd. v. Kanhya Lal, A.I.R. 1935 Lah. 792, the plaintiff was a shareholder of the Bharat Insurance Company. One of the objects of the company was : "To advance money at interest on the security of land, houses, machinery and other property situated in India..." The plaintiff complained that "several investments had been made by the company without adequate security and contrary to the provisions of the memorandum and therefore, prayed for perpetual injunction to restrain it from making such investments". The Court observed:

"In all matters of internal management, the company itself is the best judge of its affairs and the Court should not interfere. But application of assets of a company is not a matter of internal management. As directors are acting ultra vires in the application of the funds of the company, a single member can maintain a suit".

It means that the rule in Foss v. Harbottle will operate in full force only when the majority of shareholders through their chosen directors act within the extent of the powers of the company.

(2) Fraud on Minority

Where an act done by the majority amounts to a fraud on the minority; an action can be brought by an individual shareholder. This principle was laid down as an exception to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle in a number of cases. In Menier v. Hooper's Telegraph Works, (1874) L.R. 9 Ch. App. 350, it was observed that it would be a shocking thing if the majority of shareholders are allowed to put something into their pockets at the expenses of the minority. In this case, the majority of members of company 'A' were also members of company 'B', and at a meeting of company 'A' they passed a resolution to compromise an action against company 'B', in a manner alleged to be favourable to company 'B', but unfavourable to company 'A'. Held, the minority shareholders of company 'A' could bring an action to have the compromise set aside.

Though there is no clear definition of the expression "fraud on the minority", but the court decides a particular case according to the surrounding facts. The general test which is applied to decide whether a case falls in the category of fraud on the minority or not is whether a resolution passed by the majority is "bona fide for benefit of the company as a whole" [Allen v. Gold Reefs of West Africa, (1900) 1 Ch. 656]. As regards the meaning of the expression "bona fide for the benefit of the company as a whole" Evershed M.R. in Greenhalgh Ardeme Cinemas Ltd. (1950) 2 All E.R. 1120 has observed thus : "It mean that the shareholder must proceed on what, in his honest opinion, is for the benefit, of the company as a whole. Secondly, the phrase 'the company as a whole' does not... mean the company as a commercial entity as distinct from the corporators. It means the corporators as a general body." In other words, it can be said that the court ought not to interfere with decision of the majority in a general meeting if that decision is arrived at fairly and honestly [In Re. Transval Gold Exploration and Land Co. Ltd. (1885) 1 T.L.R. 604]. and is not an act of fraud on the minority.

(3) Wrongdoers in Control

If the wrongdoers are in control of the company, the minority shareholders' representative action for fraud on the minority will be entertained by the court [Cf. Birch v. Sullivan, (1957) 1 W.L.R. 1274]. The reason for it is that if the minority shareholders are denied the right of action, their grievances in such case would never reach the court, for the wrongdoers themselves, being in control, will never allow the company to sue [Par Jenkins L.J. in Edwards v. Halliwell, (1950) 2 All E.R. 1064, 1067].

In Glass v. Atkin (1967) 65 D.L.R. (2d) 501, a company was controlled equally by the two defendants and the two plaintiff. The plaintiff brought an action against defendants alleging that they had fraudulently converted the assets of the company for their own private use. The Court allowed the action and observed: "While the general principle was for the company itself to bring an action, where it had an interest, since the two defendants controlled the company in the sense that they would prevent the company from taking action."

(4) Resolution requiring Special Majority but is passed by a simple majority

A shareholder can sue if an act requires a special majority but is passed by a simple majority. Simple or rigid, formalities are to be observed if the majority wants to give validity to an act which purports to impede the interest of minority. An individual shareholder has the right of action to restrain the company from acting on a special resolution to which the insufficient notice is served [Baillie v. Oriental Telephone and Electric Co. Ltd., (1915) 1 Ch. 503 (C.A.); refer also Nagappa Chettiar v. Madras Race Club, 1 M.L.J. 662].

(5) Personal Actions

Individual membership rights cannot be invaded by the majority of shareholders. He is entitled to all the rights and privileges appertaining to his status as a member. An individual shareholder can insist on the strict compliance with the legal rules, statutory provisions. Provisions in the memorandum and the articles are mandatory in nature and cannot be waived by a bare majority of shareholders [Salmon v. Quin and Axtens, (1909) A.C. 442]. In Nagappa Chettiar v. Madras Race Club, (1949) 1 M.L.J. 662 at 667, it was observed by the Court that "An individual shareholder is entitled to enforce his individual rights against the company, such as, his right to vote, the right to have his vote recorded, or his right to stand as a director of a company at an election.

Where the candidature of a shareholder for directorship is rejected by the Chairman, it is an individual wrong in respect of which a suit is maintainable [Joseph v. Jos, (1964) 1 Comp LJ 105].

(6) Breach of Duty

The minority shareholder may bring an action against the company, where although there is no fraud, there is a breach of duty by directors and majority shareholders to the detriment of the company.

In Daniels v. Daniels, (1978) 2 W.L.R. 73, the plaintiff, who were minority shareholders of a company, brought an action against the two directors of the company and the company itself. In their statement of the claim they alleged that the company, on the instruction of the two directors who were majority shareholders, sold the company's land to one of the directors (who was the wife of the other) for £ 4,250 and the directors knew or ought to have known that the sale was at an under value. Four years after the sale, she sold the same land for £ 1,20,000. The directors applied for the statement of claim to be disclosed on reasonable cause of action or otherwise as an abuse of the process of the Court.

Held, by the Chancery Division, Templeman, J, the application of director should be dismissed. The exception to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle enabling a minority of shareholders to bring an action against a company for fraud where no other remedy was available should include cases where, although there was no fraud alleged, there was a breach of duty by directors and majority shareholders to the detriment of the company and the benefit to the directors; accordingly, on the facts alleged, the minority shareholders had a cause of action.

(7) Prevention of Oppression and Mismanagement

The minority shareholders are empowered to bring action with a view to preventing the majority from oppression and mismanagement. These are the statutory rights of the minority shareholders and find detailed discussion later in the study.

In Bennet Coleman & Co. and Ors. v. Union of India & Ors., (1977) 47 Com Cases 92 (Bom), the Division Bench of the Bombay High Court held that Sections 397 and 398 of the Companies Act, 1956 are intended to avoid winding up of the company if possible and keep it going while at the same time relieving the minority shareholders from acts of oppression and mismanagement or preventing its affairs from being conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest. Thus, the Court has wide powers to supplant the entire corporate management by resorting to non-corporate management which may take the form of appointing an administrator or a special officer or a committee of advisers etc., who will be in charge of the affairs of the company.

The exceptions to the rule in Foss v. Harbottle are not limited to those covered above. Further exceptions may be admitted where the rules of justice require that an exception to the rule should be made.

It should be noted that the ordinary civil courts are not deprived of the jurisdiction to decide the matters except where the Companies Act expressly excludes it such as matters relating to winding up [Panipat Woollen & General Mills Co.Ltd. v. R.L. Kaushik, (1969) 39 Com Cases 249 (Punj & Har)].

“Majority Rule and Minority Rights” under Companies Act

In India, the Companies Act attempts to maintain a balance between the rights of majority and minority shareholders by admitting in the rule of the majority but limiting it at the same time by a number of well-defined minority rights, and thus protecting the minority shareholders.

Companies Act, 1956 provided for protection of the minority shareholders from oppression and mismanagement by the majority under Section 397 (Application to Company Law Board for relief in cases of oppression) and 398 (Application to Company Law Board for relief in cases of mismanagement).

Oppression as per Section 397(1) of Companies Act, 1956 was defined as 'when affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest or in a manner oppressive to any member or members' while the term mismanagement was defined under Section 398(1) as 'conducting the affairs of the company in a manner prejudicial to public interest or in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the company or there has been a material change in the management and control of the company, and by reason of such change it is likely that affairs of the company will be conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest or interest of the company'.

Right to apply to the Company Law Board in case of oppression and/or mismanagement was provided under Section 399 to the minority shareholders meeting the ten percent shareholding or hundred members or one-fifth members limit, as the case may be. However, the Central Government was also provided with the discretionary power to allow any number of shareholders and/or members to apply for relief under Section 397 and 398 in case the limit provided under Section 399 was not met.

Chapter XVI of the Companies Act, 2013 deals with the provisions relating to prevention of oppression and mismanagement of a company. Oppression and mismanagement of a company mean that the affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner that is oppressive and biased against the minority shareholders or any member or members of the company. To prevent the same, there are provisions for the prevention and mismanagement of a company.

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs vide its Notification S.O.1934 (E) dated 1st June 2016 notified section 241 to 245 of the Companies Act, 2013. Section 246 was notified vide Notification S.O.2912 (E) dated 9th September, 2016. These provisions are discussed in detail hereunder.

Meaning of Oppression

The words “oppression” and “mismanagement” are not defined in the Act. The meaning of these words for the purpose of Company Law should be used in a broad generic sense and not in any strict literal sense.

The meaning of the term “oppression” as explained by Lord Cooper in the Scottish case of Elder v. Elder & Western Ltd., (1952) Scottish Cases 49, which has been cited with approval by Wanchoo, J (afterwards C.J.) of the Supreme Court in Shanti Prasad v. Kalinga Tubes, (1965) 1 Comp. L.J. 193 at 204 is as under :

“The essence of the matter seems to be that the conduct complained of should at the lowest, involve a visible departure from the standards of fair dealing, on which every shareholder who entrusts his money to the company is entitled to rely.”

CASE LAW

An attempt to force new and more risky objects upon an unwilling minority may in circumstances amount to oppression. This was held in Re. Hindustan Co-operative Insurance Society Ltd., AIR. 1961 Cal. 443 wherein the life insurance business of a company was acquired in 1956 by the Life Insurance Corporation of India on payment of compensation. The directors, who had the majority voting power, refused to distribute this amount among shareholders, rather they passed a special resolution changing the objects of the company to utilise the compensation money for the new objects. This was held to be an “Oppression”. The court observed: “The majority exercised their authority wrongfully, in a manner burdensome, harsh and wrongful. They attempted to force the minority shareholders to invest their money in different kind of business against their will. The minority had invested their money in a life insurance business with all its safeguards and statutory protections. But they were being forced to invest where there would be no such protections or safeguards”.

A similar relief was allowed by the House of Lord in Scottish Co-operative Wholesale Society v. Mayer (1959) AC 324. In this case, the society created a subsidiary company to enable it to enter in the rayon industry. Subsequently when the need for the subsidiary ceased to exist, the society adopted a policy of running down its business which depressed the value of its shares. The two petitioners who were managing directors and minority shareholders in the company successfully pleaded “oppression”. The court ordered the society to purchase the minority shares at the value at which they stood before the oppressive policy started [This decision has also been followed in Re. H.R. Harmer Ltd., (1959) 1 WLR 62].

Minor acts of mismanagement, however, are not to be regarded as oppression. As far as possible, shareholders should try to resolve their differences by mutual readjustment. Moreover, the courts will not allow these special remedies to become a vexatious source of litigation. For example, in Lalita Rajya Lakshmi v. Indian Motor Co. A.I.R. 1962 Cal 127, the petitioner alleged that the Board of directors were guilty of certain acts detrimental to the minority of the shareholders. The allegations were that the income of the company was deliberately shown less by excessive expenditure; that passengers travelling without ticket on the company’s buses were not checked; that petrol consumption was not properly checked; that second hand buses of the company had been disposed of at low price, that dividends were being declared at too low a figure. It was held that even if each of these allegations were proved to the satisfaction of the court, there would have been no oppression.

A member can complain of oppression only in his capacity as a member and not in his capacity as director or creditor [In Re. Bellador Silk Ltd., (1965) 1 All ER 667].

The legal representatives of a deceased member whose name is still on the register of members are entitled to file a petition under Sections 397 and 398 of the Companies Act, 1956, for relief against oppression or mismanagement, Worldwide Agencies Pvt. Ltd. and Another v. Mrs. Margaret T. Desor and Others, Com Cases Vol. 67 (1990), 807 (S.C.).

The legal heirs to be registered on probate or will are also entitled to apply. [K.S. Mothilal v. K.S. Kasimaris Ceranique (P) Ltd., (2007) 135 Com Cases 609 CLB].

A shareholder dies and his heirs apply for transmission of shares while their application for succession certificate was pending before the Civil Court. The legal heirs alleged illegal allotment of shares by respondent to themselves, reducing the legal heirs to minority. It has held that the legal heirs are entitled to file a petition alleging oppression and mismanagement. [Rajkumar Devraj & Aur. v. Jai Mahal Hotels Pvt. Ltd. & Others (CLB) CA. No. 133 of 2006 in C.P. No. 30 of 2006.

In Re Five Minute Car Wash Service Ltd. (1966) 1 All ER 242, a petition founded on the ground that the managing director has been unwise, inefficient and careless in the performance of his duties could not succeed.

It should not, however, be supposed that these special remedies against oppression or mismanagement are available only to minorities. "In an appropriate case, if the court is satisfied about the act of oppression or mismanagement, relief can be granted even if the application is made by a majority, who have been rendered completely ineffective by the wrongful acts of a minority group. "Accordingly, a relief under the section was allowed to a majority group by Mitra, J., of the Calcutta High Court in In Re. Sindhri Iron Foundry (P) Ltd. (1963) 68 CWN 118. His Lordship observed that "if the court finds that the company's interest is being seriously prejudiced by the activities of one or the other group of shareholders, that two different registered offices at two different addresses have been set up, that two rival Boards are holding meetings, that the company's business, property and assets have passed to the hands of unauthorised persons who have taken wrongful possession and who claim to be the shareholders and directors there is no reason why the court should not make appropriate order to put an end to such matters.

Referring to the argument that the majority could always call a meeting and put things in order by passing resolutions, his Lordship said:

"The facts in this case show very clearly, that there is no chance of redress in the domestic forum of the company. If a Board meeting was to be called, one group would contend that there were five directors, whereas the other group would urge that there were seven. If a meeting of the shareholders was to be convened, according to one group there would be only sixteen shareholders, while according to the other the number would exceed twenty-five ... There would be complete chaos and confusion ... " (Ibid., p. 335).

"This ingenious remedy has not only permitted redressal of many abuses, but its mere availability has had a deterrent effect upon management." [George H. Hornstein: The Future of Corporate Control, (1950) 63 HLR 476].

It was held in the case of Ajit Singh Ahuja v. Sapphire (India) (P) Ltd. [(2009) 1 Comp LJ 313 (CLB)] that in a case of oppression, a member has to specifically plead on five facts – (a) what is the alleged act of oppression; (b) who committed the act of oppression; (c) how it is oppressive; (d) whether it is in the affairs of the company; and (e) whether the company is party to the commission of the act of oppression.

Oppression must be a continuous process. This is suggested by the words, 'are being conducted in a manner...' used in Section 397. Hence isolated acts of oppression or mismanagement will not give rise to an action under Section 397 of the Act. In Shanti Pd. Jain's Case, the court said:... "events have to be considered not in isolation but as a part of a consecutive story. There must be continuous acts on the part of the majority shareholders, continuing up-to-date of petition".

However in Tea Brokers P. Ltd. v. Hemendra Prosad Barooah (1998) 5 Comp LJ 963 (Cal.) the Division Bench of Calcutta High Court observed that:

'This is undoubtedly, a right and privilege which a member enjoys in his capacity as a member of the company... such an act may be even a single act done on one particular occasion if the effect of such an act will be of a continuing nature and the member concerned is deprived of his rights and privilege for all time to come in future'.

In Ramshankar Prasad v. Sindu Iron Foundry (P) Ltd., AIR 1966 Cal 512, it was held that a petition under Section 397, would be maintainable even if the oppression was of a short duration and of a singular conduct if its effects persisted indefinitely [followed in Maharashtra Power Development Corporation. Ltd. v. Dabhol Power Co. Ltd. (2003) 56 CLA 263 (Bom.)].

In Bhagirath Agarwala v. Tara Properties P. Ltd. (2003) 51 CLA 57 (Cal.), also the removal of a director and allotment of shares were set aside as they were done at a meeting which was covered without complying with the requirements of Section 286 and also reflected an oppressive policy. The allotment was made only to one member without simultaneous offer to others on pro rata basis. A single act of issue of additional shares can have a continuous effect. It can constitute oppression. A relief can be had against it. There is no bar of limitation in such a case. [Ashok Kumar Oswal v. Panchsher Textile Mfg. & Trading Co. Ltd. (2002) 110 Com Cases 800 (CLB-PB)].

Past acts of oppression will not entitle a plaintiff to seek the remedy under Section 397. The purpose of this section is not so much to take up the past as to redeem the future. A catalogue of charges of the past alleged misdeeds will not attract the section [Thakur Prem Singh v. Thakur Hotel (Simla) Co. (P) Ltd., AIR 1963 Punj. 63; Raghunath Swarup Mathur v. Har Swarup Mathur, (1970) 40 Com Cases 282 (All)].

- (b) the material change, not being a change brought about by, or in the interests of, any creditors, including debenture holders or any class of shareholders of the company, has taken place in the management or control of the company, whether by an alteration in the Board of Directors, or manager, or in the ownership of the company's shares, or if it has no share capital, in its membership, or in any other manner whatsoever, and that by reason of such change, it is likely that the affairs of the company will be conducted in a manner prejudicial to its interests or its members or any class of members.

(2) Central Government suo moto to apply to the Tribunal: Section 241(2) provides that the Central Government, if it is of the opinion that the affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest, it may itself apply to the Tribunal for an order under this Chapter.

Powers of Tribunal

Section 242(1) provides that on any application made under section 241, the Tribunal may, with a view to bringing to an end the matters complained of, make such order as it thinks fit, if it is of the opinion—

- (a) that the company's affairs have been or are being conducted in a manner prejudicial or oppressive to any member or members or prejudicial to public interest or in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the company; and
- (b) that to wind up the company would unfairly prejudice such member or members, but that otherwise the facts would justify the making of a winding-up order on the ground that it was just and equitable that the company should be wound up.

Section 242(2) provides that without prejudice to the generality of the powers under sub-section (1) an order under that sub-section may provide for—

- (a) the regulation of conduct of affairs of the company in future;

- (f) the termination, setting aside or modification of any agreement between the company and any person other than those referred to in clause (e):

No such agreement shall be terminated, set aside or modified except after due notice and after obtaining the consent of the party concerned;

- (g) the setting aside of any transfer, delivery of goods, payment, execution or other act relating to property made or done by or against the company within three months before the date of the application under this section, which would, if made or done by or against an individual, be deemed in his insolvency to be a fraudulent preference;
- (h) removal of the managing director, manager or any of the directors of the company;
- (i) recovery of undue gains made by any managing director, manager or director during the period of his appointment as such and the manner of utilisation of the recovery including transfer to Investor Education and Protection Fund or repayment to identifiable victims;
- (j) the manner in which the managing director or manager of the company may be appointed subsequent to an order removing the existing managing director or manager of the company made under clause (h);
- (k) appointment of such number of persons as directors, who may be required by the Tribunal to report to the Tribunal on such matters as the Tribunal may direct;
- (l) imposition of costs as may be deemed fit by the Tribunal;
- (m) any other matter for which, in the opinion of the Tribunal, it is just and equitable that provision should be made.

Filing of copy of order of Tribunal

Section 242(3) provides that a certified copy of the order of the Tribunal under Section 242(1) shall be filed by the company with the Registrar within thirty days of the order of the Tribunal.

Interim order

According to Section 242(4), the Tribunal may, on the application of any party to the proceeding, make any interim order which it thinks fit for regulating the conduct of the company's affairs upon such terms and conditions as appear to it to be just and equitable.

The alterations made by the order in the memorandum or articles of a company shall, in all respects, have the same effect as if they had been duly made by the company in accordance with the provisions of this Act and the said provisions shall apply accordingly to the memorandum or articles so altered.

Certified copy of altered order shall be filed with the Registrar

Section 242(7) provides that a certified copy of every order altering, or giving leave to alter, a company's memorandum or articles, shall within thirty days after the making thereof, be filed by the company with the Registrar who shall register the same.

Punishment in case of contravention

Section 242(8) provides that if a company contravenes the provisions of sub-section (5), the company shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than one lakh rupees but which may extend to twenty-five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand rupees but which may extend to one lakh rupees, or with both.

Consequence of termination or modification of certain agreements

Section 243(1) states that where an order made under section 242 terminates, sets aside or modifies an agreement such as is referred to in sub-section (2) of that section,—

- (a) such order shall not give rise to any claims whatever against the company by any person for damages or for compensation for loss of office or in any other respect either in pursuance of the agreement or otherwise;
- (b) no managing director or other director or manager whose agreement is so terminated or set aside shall, for a period of five years from the date of the order terminating or setting aside the agreement, without the leave of the Tribunal, be appointed, or act, as the managing director or other director or manager of the company:

Provided that the Tribunal shall not grant leave under this clause unless notice of the intention to apply for leave has been served on the Central Government and that Government has been given a reasonable opportunity of being heard in the matter.

Further, Section 243(2) provides that any person who knowingly acts as a managing director or other director or manager of a company in contravention of clause (b) of sub-section (1), and every other director of the company who is knowingly a party to such contravention, shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to six months or with fine which may extend to five lakh rupees, or with both.

Class Action Suits

The initiation of class action suits is one of the major changes introduced by the Companies Act, 2013. The major objective behind the provision of class action suits is to safeguard the interests of the minority shareholders. So, class action suits are expected to play an important role to address numerous prejudicial and abusive acts committed by the Board of Directors and other managerial personnel as it has been statutorily recognized under the Companies Act, 2013.

What is a class action suit?

A class action suit is a lawsuit where a group of people representing a common interest may approach the Tribunal to sue or be sued. It is a procedural instrument that enables one or more plaintiffs to file and prosecute litigation on behalf of a larger group or class having common rights and grievances.

Filing of application before the Tribunal on behalf of the members or depositors

Section 245(1) provides that such number of member or members, depositor or depositors or any class of them, as the case may be, as are indicated in sub-section (3) may, if they are of the opinion that the management or conduct of the affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to the interests of the company or its members or depositors, file an application before the Tribunal on behalf of the members or depositors for seeking all or any of the following orders, namely:—

- (a) to restrain the company from committing an act which is ultra vires the articles or memorandum of the company;
- (b) to restrain the company from committing breach of any provision of the company's memorandum or articles;
- (c) to declare a resolution altering the memorandum or articles of the company as void if the resolution was passed by suppression of material facts or obtained by mis-statement to the members or depositors;
- (d) to restrain the company and its directors from acting on such resolution;
- (e) to restrain the company from doing an act which is contrary to the provisions of this Act or any other law for the time being in force;
- (f) to restrain the company from taking action contrary to any resolution passed by the members;
- (g) to claim damages or compensation or demand any other suitable action from or against—
 - (i) the company or its directors for any fraudulent, unlawful or wrongful act or omission or conduct or any likely act or omission or conduct on its or their part;
 - (ii) the auditor including audit firm of the company for any improper or misleading statement of particulars made in his audit report or for any fraudulent, unlawful or wrongful act or conduct; or
 - (iii) any expert or advisor or consultant or any other person for any incorrect or misleading statement made to the company or for any fraudulent, unlawful or wrongful act or conduct or any likely act or conduct on his part;
- (h) to seek any other remedy as the Tribunal may deem fit.

Required number of members to apply

According to Section 245(3)

(i) The requisite number of members provided in sub-section (1) shall be as under:—

- (a) in the case of a company having a share capital, not less than one hundred members of the company or not less than such percentage of the total number of its members as may be prescribed, whichever is less, or any member or members holding not less than such percentage of the issued share capital of the company as may be prescribed, subject to the condition that the applicant or applicants has or have paid all calls and other sums due on his or their shares;
- (b) in the case of a company not having a share capital, not less than one-fifth of the total number of its members.

(ii) The requisite number of depositors provided in sub-section (1) shall not be less than one hundred depositors or not less than such percentage of the total number of depositors as may be prescribed, whichever is less, or any depositor or depositors to whom the company owes such percentage of total deposits of the company as may be prescribed.

Remedy: Section 245(1) provides that where the members or depositors seek any damages or compensation or demand any other suitable action from or against an audit firm, the liability shall be of the firm as well as of each partner who was involved in making any improper or misleading statement of particulars in the audit report or who acted in a fraudulent, unlawful or wrongful manner.

Requirement for consideration of application

Section 245(4) provides that in considering an application under sub-section (1), the Tribunal shall take into account, in particular—

- (a) whether the member or depositor is acting in good faith in making the application for seeking an order;
- (b) any evidence before it as to the involvement of any person other than directors or officers of the company on any of the matters provided in clauses (a) to (f) of sub-section (1);
- (c) whether the cause of action is one which the member or depositor could pursue in his own right rather than through an order under this section;
- (d) any evidence before it as to the views of the members or depositors of the company who have no personal interest, direct or indirect, in the matter being proceeded under this section;
- (e) where the cause of action is an act or omission that is yet to occur, whether the act or omission could be, and in the circumstances would be likely to be—
 - (i) authorised by the company before it occurs; or
 - (ii) ratified by the company after it occurs;
- (f) where the cause of action is an act or omission that has already occurred, whether the act or omission could be, and in the circumstances would be likely to be, ratified by the company.

In case of admission of application

Section 245(5) provides that if an application filed under sub-section (1) is admitted, then the Tribunal shall have regard to the following, namely:—

- (a) public notice shall be served on admission of the application to all the members or depositors of the class in such manner as may be prescribed;
- (b) all similar applications prevalent in any jurisdiction should be consolidated into a single application and the class members or depositors should be allowed to choose the lead applicant and in the event the members or depositors of the class are unable to come to a consensus, the Tribunal shall have the power to appoint a lead applicant, who shall be in charge of the proceedings from the applicant's side;
- (c) two class action applications for the same cause of action shall not be allowed;
- (d) the cost or expenses connected with the application for class action shall be defrayed by the company or any other person responsible for any oppressive act.

Order shall be binding: Section 245(6) provides that any order passed by the Tribunal shall be binding on the company and all its members, depositors and auditor including audit firm or expert or consultant or advisor or any other person associated with the company.

Punishment for non-compliance: According to Section 245(7) any company which fails to comply with an order passed by the Tribunal under this section shall be punishable with fine which shall not be less than five lakh rupees but which may extend to twenty-five lakh rupees and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to three years and with fine which shall not be less than twenty-five thousand rupees but which may extend to one lakh rupees.

Application filed is frivolous/vexatious: Section 245(8) states that where any application filed before the Tribunal is found to be frivolous or vexatious, it shall, for reasons to be recorded in writing, reject the application and make an order that the applicant shall pay to the opposite party such cost, not exceeding one lakh rupees, as may be specified in the order.

Exemption from application of section: According to Section 245(9), nothing contained in this section shall apply to a banking company.

Application may be filed on behalf of affected persons: Section 245(10) provides that subject to the compliance of Section 245, an application may be filed or any other action may be taken under this section by any person, group of persons or any association of persons representing the persons affected by any act or omission, specified in sub-section (1) of 245.

Application of Certain Provisions to Proceedings under Section 241 or Section 245

Section 246 provides that the provisions of sections 337, 338, 339, 340 and 341 (both inclusive) related to winding up, shall apply mutatis mutandis, in relation to an application made to the Tribunal under section 241 or section 245.

LESSON ROUND-UP

- Under the Companies Act, the powers have been divided between two segments; Board of Directors and the shareholders. The directors exercise their powers through meetings of Board of directors and shareholders exercise their power through Annual General Meetings/Extra-ordinary General Meetings.
- The general principle of company law is that every member holds equal rights with other members of the company in the same class. The scale of rights of members of the same class must be held evenly for smooth functioning of the company. In case of difference(s) amongst the members, the issue is decided by a vote of the majority.
- Since the majority of the members are in an advantageous position to run the company according to their command, the minority shareholders are often oppressed. The company law provides for adequate protection for the minority shareholders when their rights are trampled by the majority.
- The court will not usually intervene at the instance of shareholders in matters of internal administration, and will not interfere with the management of a company by its directors so long they are acting within the powers conferred on them under the articles of the company.
- The supremacy of the majority, however, does not prevail in all situations. There are certain acts which the majority of shareholders cannot approve or affirm. In such cases, any shareholder may sue to enforce obligations owed to the company. He brings the action as representative of the corporate interest.
- Any member of a company who complain that the affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest or in a manner oppressive to any member(s) (including any one or more of themselves) may make an application to the National Company Law Tribunal by way of petition for relief.
- Relief under the Act will also be available if the affairs of the company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to public interest. 'Public interest' is a very broad term involving the welfare not only of the individual shareholders but also of the country according to the economic and social policies of the State.
- If the court is so convinced that the affairs of a company are being conducted in a manner prejudicial to the interest

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

There are different forms of business organizations. The company form of business organization is one of them. A producer company is one of the said company form of business organization. These type of companies work like co-operative societies and are mainly registered in rural areas by the producers. These companies are incorporated to develop the rural economies and bridge the gap between industry and agriculture, rural and urban area and industry and labour, etc. These companies are basically for the promotion of rural economies.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the concept of Producer Companies introduced by the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2002. The provisions not only provide an opportunity to the co-operative sector to corporatise itself but also opens up new avenues for them. You will also understand the provisions which enable the conversion of an existing co-operative society into a company as well as the incorporation of a Producer Company and the provisions relating to membership, management, meetings, share capital etc. of Producer Companies.

Proviso to Section 465(1) of Companies Act 2013, states that provisions of Part IX A of the Companies Act, 1956 shall be applicable mutatis mutandis to a Producer Company in a manner as if the Companies Act, 1956 has not been repealed until a special Act is enacted for Producer Companies. The 'Act' under this Chapter refers to Companies Act, 1956, unless specifically mentioned.

1. GENESIS

The Companies (Amendment) Act, 2002 has inserted Part IX-A to the Companies Act, 1956 and introduced the concept of Producer Companies. Rural producers have been at a potential disadvantage given their generally limited assets, resources, education and access to advanced technology. In the present scenario, there is an emerging need of changing the terms of trade between rural and urban, labour and industry, finance and commerce. Therefore, if cooperative enterprises are to continue to serve rural producers, they require an alternative to the institutional form presently available under law.

This provision, by virtue of Companies (Amendment) Act, 2002 not only provides an opportunity to the co-operative sector to corporatise itself but also opens up new avenues for them. The conversion to producer companies will enable them to invite greater investments and modernize themselves. They can take advantage of the provisions to reinvent themselves, and function more efficiently. Accordingly, it is specified that a 'producer' shall mean any person engaged in any activity connected with or relatable to any primary produce. The amendment also seeks to provide a comprehensive meaning to primary produce which shall encompass produce of farmers, arising from agriculture (including animal husbandry, horticulture, etc.) produce of persons engaged in handloom, handicraft, any product resulting from any of the above activities or from an ancillary activity and any activity which is intended to increase the production or quality of anything referred above.

The Amendment Act also includes the insertion of the provisions which enables the conversion of an existing co-operative society into a company as well as the incorporation of a Producer Company. This part contains specific provisions relating to incorporation, management, meetings, share capital etc. of Producer Companies.

Accordingly Part IX of companies Act, 1956 would continue for producer companies.

The expression 'active member' has been defined in Clause (a) of Section 581A to mean a member who fulfils the quantum and period of patronage of the producer company as may be required by the articles of the producer company. LEARNING OBJECTIVES

In order to cope with and conform to the rapid changes taking place in the industry and business, a form of business organization combining the vital aspects of a partnership firm and the advantages of a limited liability company was essential. This need gave birth to the new form of organization called “Limited Liability Partnership”, which is more popularly known as LLP.

LLP is an alternative business vehicle that gives the benefits of limited liability company and the flexibility of a partnership firm. Since, LLP contains elements of both ‘a corporate structure’ as well as ‘a partnership firm structure’; LLP is many a times termed as a hybrid of a company and a partnership. LLP is a separate legal entity which can continue its existence irrespective of changes in its partners.

After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the features of LLP, important requirements for formation, role and responsibility of designated partner and rules regarding winding up of LLP and the difference between LLP and other forms of business.

1. INTRODUCTION

Limited Liability Partnership (LLP) is an incorporated partnership formed and registered under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 ('The Act') with limited liability and perpetual succession. The Act came into force, for most part, on 31st March, 2009 followed by its Rules on 1st April, 2009 and the registration of the first LLP on 2nd April, 2009.

The arrival of the much-desired and long-awaited LLP Act was result of efforts of several expert committees which recommended its introduction starting with the Bhatt Committee of 1972, Naik Committee of 1992, Abid Hussain Committee of 1997, Gupta Committee of 2001, Naresh Chandra Committee of 2003 and the JJ Irani Committee of 2005.

LLP is viewed as an alternative corporate business vehicle that provides the benefits of limited liability but allows its partners the flexibility of organizing their internal structure as a partnership based on a mutually arrived agreement.

The LLP form would enable entrepreneurs, professionals and enterprises providing services of any kind or engaged in scientific and technical disciplines, to form commercially efficient vehicles suited to their requirements. Owing to flexibility in its structure and operation, the LLP would also be a suitable vehicle for small and medium enterprises and for investment by venture capitalists.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

The Indian Partnership Act, 1932 shall be applicable to LLPs.

- True
- False

Correct Answer: False

2. SALIENT FEATURES

The salient features of Limited Liability Partnership are as follows:—

- (i) LLP is a body corporate and a legal entity separate from its partners. Any two or more persons, associated for carrying on a lawful business with a view to profit, may by subscribing their names to an incorporation document and filing the same with the Registrar, form a Limited Liability Partnership. The LLP has a perpetual succession;
- (ii) The mutual rights and duties of partners of an LLP inter se and those of the LLP and its partners shall be governed by an agreement between partners or between the LLP and the partners subject to the provisions of the proposed legislation. There would be flexibility to devise the agreement as per their choice. In the absence of any such agreement, the mutual rights and duties shall be governed by the provisions of the proposed legislation;
- (iii) LLP is a separate legal entity, liable to the full extent of its assets, with the liability of the partners being limited to their agreed contribution in the LLP which may be tangible or intangible in nature or both tangible and intangible in nature. No partner would be liable on account of the independent or unauthorized acts of other partners or their misconduct;

- (iv) Every LLP shall have at least two partners and shall also have at least two individuals as Designated Partners, of whom at least one shall be resident in India.
- (v) An LLP shall maintain annual accounts reflecting true and fair view of its state of affairs. A statement of accounts and solvency shall be filed by every LLP with the Registrar every year. The accounts of LLPs shall also be audited, subject to any class of LLPs being exempted from this requirement by the Central Government;
- (vi) The Central Government has power to investigate the affairs of an LLP, if required, by appointment of competent inspector for the purpose;
- (vii) The Indian Partnership Act, 1932 shall not be applicable to LLPs. A partnership firm, a private company and an unlisted public company may convert themselves to LLP in accordance with provisions of the proposed legislation;
- (viii) The Central Government has made rules for carrying out the provisions of the LLP Act.

REVIEW QUESTIONS

State whether the following statement is “True” or “False”

The Central Government does not have any powers whatsoever to investigate the affairs of an LLP.

- True
- False

Correct Answer: False

The Central Government shall have powers to investigate the affairs of an LLP, if required, by appointment of competent inspector for the purpose.

3. DISTINCTION BETWEEN LLP AND PARTNERSHIP

The principle points of difference between a company and a partnership are as follows:

1. LLP is a separate legal entity and therefore, can be sued or it can sue others without involving the partners. A partnership firm is not distinct from the several persons who compose it.
2. The partners of an LLP would have limited liability i.e., they would not be liable beyond the money contributed by them. Whereas, partners of a firm would have unlimited liability.
3. The retirement or death of a partner would not dissolve the LLP. On the other hand, the death or retirement of a partner would dissolve the partnership firm.
4. In a partnership, the property of the firm is the property of the individuals comprising it. In an LLP, it belongs to the LLP and not to the individuals comprising it.
5. Whereas a partnership can be formed either orally or by a deed of agreement whether registered or not, LLP is formed by an incorporation document and an LLP agreement, thus, giving it a legality.
6. Whereas a registered or unregistered partnership cannot have more than 20 partners, LLP can have more than that number since no upper limit has been laid down by the Act.
7. An LLP has perpetual succession, i.e., the death or insolvency of a shareholder or all of them does not affect the life of the LLP, whereas the death or insolvency of a partner dissolves the firm, unless otherwise provided.

8. Whereas an individual partner would not be able to conduct business transaction with the partnership firm of which he is a partner, a partner of LLP in his separate capacity as a legal person can do business with the LLP since the LLP is a separate legal entity by itself.

4. DISTINCTION BETWEEN LLP AND COMPANY

1. In case of LLP, the need for defining the objects to be pursued and the other matters which are necessary for furtherance of the objects as well as framing the Share Capital clause in the memorandum for incorporating a company is reduced into a simple procedure of filling of the prescribed information in the Incorporation document and statement in Form No. 2.
2. In case of LLP, a 'limited liability partnership agreement' (LLPA) is prepared which is a variant of the 'articles of association' of a company.
3. Whereas the memorandum of a company is required to name the state in which it is required to be incorporated, there is no such obligation in the case of LLP. Consequently, the detailed procedure involved in changing the registered office from the state of incorporation to another state is not required to be followed in case of a LLP.
4. In the LLP Act, there is no such stipulation for meeting of partners either periodically or compulsorily at the year end as stipulated for directors and shareholders meetings in the Companies Act.
5. There is no separation between management of the company and the ownership as is observed in a company since all the partners, unlike all the directors, can take part in the day to day affairs of the LLP.
6. In case of a company, no individual director can conduct the business of the company but in an LLP, each partner has the authority to do so unless expressly prohibited by the partnership terms.
7. Whereas, the Companies Act contemplates regulating the remuneration payable to directors, there are no corresponding provisions in the LLP Act for remuneration payable to designated partners. The same could be as per the LLP Agreement.
8. In the case of LLP, unlike in the case of companies, there are no restrictions on the borrowing powers.
9. The LLP can choose to maintain the accounts on cash basis/accrual basis whereas under the Companies Act, accrual method is compulsory.
10. Audit of a company is compulsory. Conversely, the audit of LLP is not compulsory if the capital contributed does not exceed `25 lakh or if the turnover does not exceed `40 lakhs.
11. Cost audit as contemplated in Section 148 of the Companies Act, 2013 has not been prescribed for LLPs.
12. The appointment of Company Secretaries as required under Section 203 of the Companies Act, 2013 is not provided in the LLP Act. However, the annual return of a LLP in Form 11 is to be certified as 'true and correct' by a Company Secretary in practice.

5. COMPARISON OF LLP WITH PRIVATE LIMITED COMPANY

A comparison of a LLP with a Private Limited Company reveals that such companies have:

- Limited Liability: Similar to LLP.
- Internal flexibility: As opposed to Company Law which requires a formal board structure and decision making at validly constituted meetings, passing of resolutions and maintenance of minutes of meetings.

- Privacy: Similar to LLP.
- Requirement of an LLP agreement: The Memorandum and Articles of Association are the default standard provisions doing away with the need for a separate agreement similar to a LLP agreement.
- Legal uncertainty: Private Limited companies have long been in existence and being tried and tested vehicles of business entities, there is no legal uncertainty which is not true in case of a LLP.

The LLP structure seems most suited for partnership concerns set up by professionals such as company secretaries in practice and others, by offering them the benefits of limited liability on one hand and the flexibility in internal management that is akin to partnerships on the other. Venture capitalists might also be attracted to the LLP structure owing to the ability of the partners to participate in management without the risk of losing limited liability, the absence of capital maintenance rules and the likely advantageous tax position. The laws of U.S.A., U.K., Singapore and Australia permit formation of LLPs.

Subject to prior compliance with the requirements of section 11(1) of the Act, section 12(1) mandates the Registrar to register the incorporation document and issue a certificate of incorporation within 14 days. The certificate of incorporation shall be conclusive evidence that the limited liability partnership is incorporated by the name specified in the incorporation document.

Registered Office of LLP

Every limited liability partnership shall have a registered office to which all communications and notices may be addressed and where they shall be received. [Section 13(1)]

Rule 17 (1) of the Limited Liability Partnership Rules, 2009 provides that the limited liability partnership may change its registered office from one place to another by following the procedure as laid down in the limited liability partnership agreement. Where the limited liability partnership agreement does not provide for such procedure, consent of all partners shall be required for changing the place of registered office of limited liability partnership to another place:

Provided that where the change in place of registered office is from one state to another state, the limited liability partnership having secured creditors shall also obtain consent of such secured creditors.

Name of LLP

According to section 15(1), every limited liability partnership shall have either the words "limited liability partnership" or the acronym "LLP" as the last words of its name. Section 15 (2) prohibits registration of an LLP with a name that is either undesirable in the opinion of the Central Government or that is identical with or that which too nearly resembles to the name of any existing partnership firm or an LLP or a body corporate or a trade mark registered or pending registration under the Trade Marks Act, 1999.

Rule 18 (1) of the LLP Rules, 2009 provides that the name of the limited liability partnership shall not be one prohibited under the Emblems and Names (Prevention of Improper Use) Act, 1950. Further, Rule 20 (1) provides that the limited liability partnership may change its name by following the procedure as laid down in the limited liability partnership agreement. Where the limited liability partnership agreement does not provide such procedure, consent of all partners shall be required for changing the name of the limited liability partnership.

The MCA vide Circular no.2/2014 dated 11th February, 2014 clarified that no company should be allowed to be registered with the word "National" as part of its title unless it is a government company and the Central / State government(s) has a stake in it. Similarly, the word 'Bank' may be allowed in the name of an entity only when such entity produces a 'No Objection Certificate' from the RBI in this regard. By the same analogy the word, "Stock Exchange" or "Exchange" should be allowed in name of a company only where No Objection Certificate from SEBI in this regard is produced by the promoters.

Application of Name availability to MCA By LLP - Every such application shall be made through the web service, RUN-LLP, available at www.mca.gov.in and be accompanied by prescribed fee, which may either be approved or rejected, as the case may be, by the Registrar after allowing a re-submission of such application within fifteen days for rectification of defects.

7. LLP AGREEMENT

No provision has been made for directors or a board structure on the lines of Company Law. The LLP agreement determines the mutual rights and duties of the partners and their rights and duties in relation to limited liability partnership. This LLP agreement is required to be filed with the Registrar.

It has been provided under Section 23 – Save as otherwise provided by this Act, the mutual rights and duties of the partners of a limited liability partnership, and the mutual rights and duties of a limited liability partnership and its partners, shall be governed by the limited liability partnership agreement between the partners, or between the limited liability partnership and its partners.

Limited liability partnership agreement should be filed with the Registrar within 30 days of incorporation in Form 3. A person becomes a Partner by virtue of LLP agreement. This means that the LLP agreement is a must and it serves as a basic document and, to a certain extent, takes the place of MOA and AOA applicable in the case of a company registered under the Companies Act, 1956. Any change in the LLP agreement is also required to be notified to the Registrar of Companies. The importance of the said document lies in the fact that it is a public document and it is open to public inspection being on the records of the Registrar.

In the absence of agreement as to any matter, the mutual rights and duties of the partners and the mutual rights and duties of the limited liability partnership and the partners shall be determined by the provisions relating to that matter as are set out in the First Schedule.

Vide Circular No. 2/2016 dated 15th January 2016, it has been clarified by Ministry of Corporate Affairs that a HUF or its Karta cannot become partner or designated partner in LLP.

Every designated partner of a limited liability partnership shall obtain a Designated Partner Identification Number (DPIN) from the Central Government and the provisions of Companies Act, 2013 shall apply mutatis mutandis for the said purpose.

Every individual, who intends to be appointed as a designated partner of an existing limited liability partnership, shall make an application electronically in Form DIR-3 under the Companies (Appointment and Qualifications of Directors) Rules, 2014 for obtaining DPIN under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008 and such DIN shall be sufficient for being appointed as designated partner under the Limited Liability Partnership Act, 2008

The designated partner would be liable to all penalties imposed on the LLP for the contravention of the provisions of the Act and as such the designated partner would be required to pay all the monetary fines imposed on the LLP. There is no provision in the Act providing for the reimbursement of such monetary penalties to him by the LLP. Further in the following instances apart from the LLP, the designated partner would also be imposed monetary penalties under the Act:-

- For non-compliance with the directions of the Central Government for change of name under Section 17 of the Act,
- For non-maintenance of books of accounts, non-filing of accounts, duly audited where such an audit is mandatory under Section 34 of the Act,

IFSC Companies and exemptions provided to them

International Financial Service Centre (IFSC) is a hub of financial services within a country, which has laws and regulations different from the rest of the country. Usually these centres have low tax rates and flexible regulations for securities and currency trading, banking and insurance, which makes them attractive for foreign investment. It can be said that these centres deal mainly with the flow of money, financial products and services across borders.

An IFSC caters to customers outside the jurisdiction of the domestic economy. Such centres deal with flows of finance, financial products and services across borders. London, New York and Singapore can be counted as global financial centres. Many emerging IFSCs around the world, such as Shanghai and Dubai, are aspiring to play a global role in the years to come.

India announced in budget 2015 that the first IFSC centre in India shall be set up in Gujarat International Finance Tec-City (GIFT City), near Ahmedabad. It will be set up under Section 18(1) of Special Economic Zones Act, 2005. Establishment of an IFSC in SEZ means that separate regulations shall be formed for an IFSC which shall be different from the rest of India.

The Special Court may try in a summary way any offence under this Act which is punishable with imprisonment for a term not exceeding three years. In case of summary trial, a sentence of imprisonment for a term exceeding one year shall not be passed. Where the Special Court think it is undesirable to try the case summarily, the Special Court shall record an order to that effect and thereafter recall any witness who may have been examined and proceed to hear or rehear in regular trial.

All offences under the Companies Act shall be triable only by the Special Court for the area in which the registered office of the company in relation to which the offence is committed. any act, omission, concealment of any fact or abuse of position committed by any person or any other person with the connivance in any manner, with intent to deceive, to gain undue advantage from, or to injure the interests of, the company or its shareholders or its creditors or any other person, whether or not there is any wrongful gain or wrongful loss;
- (ii) "wrongful gain" means the gain by unlawful means of property to which the person gaining is not legally entitled;
- (iii) "wrongful loss" means the loss by unlawful means of property to which the person losing is legally entitled.

Any person who is found to be guilty of fraud involving an amount of at least ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which shall not be less than six months but which may extend to ten years and shall also be liable to fine which shall not be less than the amount involved in the fraud, but which may extend to three times the amount involved in the fraud:

Where the fraud in question involves public interest, the term of imprisonment shall not be less than three years.

Where the fraud involves an amount less than ten lakh rupees or one per cent. of the turnover of the company, whichever is lower, and does not involve public interest, any person guilty of such fraud shall be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to five years or with fine which may extend to fifty lakh rupees or with both.

The court trying an offence may also order restoration of property and in default thereof, the person is punishable with imprisonment for a period of two years.

- The expression 'wrongfully' used in section 452(1)(a) of the Companies Act, 2013 would mean that a person continues to remain in possession or hold the property otherwise than in due course of law. [B. R. Herman & Mohatta India Ltd. v. Ashok Rai (1948) 55 Comp. Cas. 61 (Delhi)].
- The expression 'withholding' used in section 452(1)(b) of the Companies Act, 2013 would mean wrongful withholding of property of the company or knowingly applying it for the purpose other than those expressed or directed in the articles and authorised by the Act. The dictionary meaning of the word 'withholding' is to hold back; to keep back; to restrain or decline to grant. The holding back or keeping back is not an isolated act but is a continuous process by which the property is not returned or restored to the company which is deprived of its possession, if the officer or employee of the company does any such act by which the property given to him is wrongfully withheld and is not restored back to the company, it will clearly amount to an offence within the meaning of section 452 of the Companies Act, 2013. [corresponding to section 630 of the 1956 Act.]. The object of this section is that the property of the company is preserved and is not used for purposes other than those expressed or directed in the Articles of the company or as authorised by the Act. [Lalit Jalan v. Bombay Gas Co. Ltd. (2003) 44 SCL 130/114 Comp. Cas. 515 (SC).]

Where a company or an officer of a company or any other person having already been subjected to penalty for default under any provisions of this Act, again commits such default within a period of three years from the date of order imposing such penalty passed by the adjudicating officer or the Regional Director, as the case may be, it or he shall be liable for the second or subsequent defaults for an amount equal to twice the amount of penalty provided for such default under the relevant provisions of this Act.

Companies (Adjudication of Penalties) Rules, 2014

- A written notice to the company and to every officer of the company who is in default, to show cause, within such period as may be specified in the notice (not being less than fifteen days and more than forty five days from the date of service thereon), why the inquiry should not be held against him. Every notice issued under this sub-rule, shall clearly indicate the nature of non-compliance or default under the Act alleged to have been committed or made by such company and officer in default, as the case may be:
- Provided further that the adjudicating officer may, for reasons to be recorded in writing, extend the period referred to above by a further period not exceeding fifteen days, if the company or officer (as applicable) satisfies the said officer that it has sufficient cause for not responding to the notice within the stipulated period.
- While adjudging quantum of penalty, the adjudicating officer shall have due regard to the following factors, namely:-

- (a) the amount of disproportionate gain or unfair advantage, wherever quantifiable, made as a result of the default;
- (b) the amount of loss caused to an investor or group of investors or creditors as a result of the default;
- (c) the repetitive nature of the default.

Every appeal against the order of the adjudicating officer shall be filed in writing with the Regional Director having jurisdiction in the matter within a period of sixty days from the date of receipt of the order of adjudicating officer by the aggrieved party, in Form ADJ setting forth the grounds of appeal and shall be accompanied by a certified copy of the order against which the appeal is sought.

The detailed procedural aspects are prescribed in Companies (Adjudication of Penalties) Rules, 2014.

- Provisions applicable to every mode of winding up

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

Corporate Collapse implies business failure of the company, which may occur due to inadequate capital, fraudulent business practices, management inexperience and incompetence, failure to respond to change, recession, obsolescence, excessive gearing etc.

In the words of Prof. L.C.B. Gower, Winding-up of a company is the process whereby its life is ended and its property administered for the benefit of its creditors and members. A liquidator is appointed and he takes control of the company, collects its debts and finally distributes any surplus among the members in accordance with their rights. The main purpose of winding up of a company is to realize the assets and pay the debts of the company expeditiously and fairly in accordance with the law. The Companies Act, 2013 provides for effective time bound winding up process.

INTRODUCTION

Winding up of a company is defined as a process by which the life of a company is brought to an end and its property administered for the benefit of its members and creditors. In words of Professor Gower, "Winding up of a company is the process whereby its life is ended and its Property is administered for the benefit of its members & creditors. An Administrator, called a liquidator is appointed and he takes control of the company, collects its assets, pays its debts and finally distributes any surplus among the members in accordance with their rights."

According to Halsbury's Laws of England, "Winding up is a proceeding by means of which the dissolution of a company is brought about & in the course of which its assets are collected and realised; and applied in payment of its debts; and when these are satisfied, the remaining amount is applied for returning to its members the sums which they have contributed to the company in accordance with Articles of the Company." Winding up is a legal process.

Under the process, the life of the company is ended & its property is administered for the benefits of the members & creditors. A liquidator is appointed to realise the assets & properties of the company. After payments of the debts, if any surplus of assets is left out they will be distributed among the members according to their rights. Winding up does not necessarily mean that the company is insolvent. A perfectly solvent company may be wound up by the approval of members in a general meeting.

There are differences between winding up and dissolution. At the end of winding up, the company will have no assets or liabilities. When the affairs of a company are completely wound up, the dissolution of the company takes place. On dissolution, the company's name is struck off the register of the companies and its legal personality as a corporation comes to an end.

Introduction

Governance refers to the exercise of political, economic and administrative authority in the management of a country's affairs, including citizens' articulation of their interests and exercise of their legal rights and obligations. E-Governance is the performance of this governance via the electronic medium in order to facilitate an efficient, speedy and transparent process of disseminating information to the public, and other agencies, and for performing government administration activities. E-governance refers to the use of information technologies in improving citizen-government interactions, cost-cutting and generation of revenue and transparency.

In the year 2006, MCA-21, India's largest e-governance initiative by the Ministry of Company Affairs and a mission project under Govt of India's national e-Governance plan, was launched with a comprehensive online portal to enable e-Filing under the MCA-21 project. With the start of MCA-21, corporations, professionals and the public at large were no longer required to visit the Registrar of Company offices and they were able to interact with the Ministry using the MCA-21 portal from their offices or home or the facilitation centres. The project also facilitated electronic submission of forms, which require a unique Digital Signature Certificate (DSC). Since then MCA has taken several steps for providing improved client oriented services and facilitating ease of doing business in India.

The project marked a new era of responsive, customer oriented, transparent and efficient governance.

Important features of the e-Governance project of MCA

All the transactions status can be tracked by entering SRN.

Pre-fill is functionality in an e-Form that is used for filling automatically, the requisite data from the system without repeatedly entering the same. For example, by entering the CIN of the company, the name and registered office address of the company shall automatically be pre-filled by the system without any fresh entry.

Attachment

An attachment refers to a document that is sent as an enclosure with an e-Form by means of an attached file. The objective of the attachment is to provide details relevant to the e-Form for processing. While some attachments are optional some are mandatory in nature.

The attachments to an e-Form will be only in Adobe PDF format. MCA portal shall not accept attachment file of more than 2.5MB and the user is advised to keep the attachment size to minimum.

Check Form

By clicking “Check Form”, the user will be in a position to find out whether the mandatory fields in an e-Form are duly filled-in. For example, if the user enters alphabets in “Date of Appointment of Director” field, he/she will be asked to correct the entered information.

If the size of attachment is much bigger then the details may be submitted in a floppy or compact disc at the ROC office. For example, In the case of Annual Return filed by the companies having large shareholders base, the list of shareholders may be submitted separately in a CD at the concerned ROC office indicating SRN No. of e-form filed

Modify

Once the user has done ‘Check Form’, the form gets locked and it cannot be edited. If the user wishes to make any alterations, the form can be overwritten by clicking “Modify” button.

Pre-Scrutiny

Pre-scrutiny is a functionality that is used for checking whether certain core aspects are properly filled in the e-Form. The user has to login on MCA portal to perform the pre-scrutiny of e-form. The necessary attachments and digital signatures should be affixed before submitting the e-Form for pre-scrutiny. The difference between check form and pre-scrutiny is that the Check form is done by internal features of the form which ensure that all the mandatory and required field are filled up and attachment are made to the e-form, while Pre-Scrutiny is a complete legal and technical scrutiny of an e-form done by the MCA portal before accepting the form.

Features of e-form and e-filing process

An e-Form contains certain standardized features. Each e-Form contains the form reference and the description as well as the particular section of the Companies Act or the relevant rules or regulations under which it is required to be submitted. It starts with the Corporate Identity Number (CIN), which works as a unique identifier of an Indian Company and the Foreign Company Registration Number in the case of a Foreign Company that is required to be filled up. By entering the CIN, the company details to the extent these are available in static form in the database, are automatically filled in by using the pre-fill functionality.

- The e-Form contains a number of mandatory fields which are required to be filled-in. Certain other fields are non-mandatory in nature which may be filled-in as may be relevant in any particular case.
- An instruction kit is available for each e-Form, which contains details of the instructions for properly filling the e-Form.
- An e-Form may be filled in either online or offline. Online filling implies that the e-Form is filled while being still connected to MCA portal through the Internet. Offline filling denotes that the e-Form is downloaded into the user’s computer and filled later without being connected to the Internet.

- An e-Form may require certain mandatory attachments to be filed along with it. Optional attachments may also be filed with an e-Form. The list of such attachments is displayed in the e-Form.
- Next to attachment, there is a declaration that is sought from the person filing the e-Form to the effect that the information given in the e-Form and the attachments is correct and complete.
- Most of the e-Forms require the digital signature of the Managing Director or Director, Manager or Secretary of the company for successful filing/ submission.
- Further, the digital signature of a third party may also be required in certain cases. In the case of an e-Form for creation or modification of charges, such digital signature is also required from the Bank or Financial Institution.
- In certain cases, certification from the Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant or Company Secretary in whole-time practice is also required to authenticate the particulars contained in the e-Form. For example, this requirement is mandatory in the case of an e-Form for creation or modification of charges.
- There are built-in facilities to check the filled-in e-Form for requisite validations, to do pre-scrutiny and to modify the e-Form when the same is required to be re-submitted.
- When the “Submitted” button is pressed, the e-Form gets uploaded into the MCA central document repository.
- Thereafter, the requisite fees as applicable for the e-Form should be paid either on-line or off-line.
- Once the e-Form has been accepted and payment of fees has been acknowledged, a work item is created and assigned to the appropriate MCA employee based on pre-defined assignment rules as part of MCA back office workflow automation.
- In the case of an e-Form, the authorized officer affixes his/her digital signature for registering/approving/rejecting the same.
- After the processing of the e-Form is completed, an acknowledgement email is sent to the user regarding its approval/rejection.

XBRL

XBRL stands for eXtensible Business Reporting Language. XBRL is a language for the electronic communication of business and financial data which has revolutionized business reporting around the world. It provides major benefits in the preparation, analysis and communication of business information. It offers cost savings, greater efficiency and improved accuracy and reliability to all those involved in supplying or using financial data.

XBRL is a data-rich dialect of XML (Extensible Markup Language), the universally preferred language for transmitting information via the Internet. It was developed specifically to communicate information between businesses and other users of financial information, such as analysts, investors and regulators. XBRL provides a common, electronic format for business reporting. It does not change what is being reported. It only changes how it is reported.

XBRL is a world-wide standard, developed by an international, non-profit-making consortium - XBRL International Inc. (XII). XII is made up of many hundred members, including government agencies, accounting firms, software companies, large and small corporations, academics and business reporting experts. XII has agreed the basic specifications which define how XBRL works.

XBRL tags

In XBRL, information is not treated as a static block of text or set of numbers.

Instead, information is broken down into unique items of data (e.g. total liabilities = 100). These data items are then assigned mark-up tags that make them computer-readable. For example, the tag <Liabilities>100</Liabilities> enables a computer to understand that the item is liabilities, and it has a value of 100.

Computers can treat information that has been tagged using XBRL 'intelligently'; they can recognize, process, store, exchange and analyse it automatically using software.

Because XBRL tags are formed in a universally-accepted way, they can be read and processed by any computer that has XBRL software. XBRL tags are defined and organized using categorization schemes called taxonomies.

XBRL taxonomies

Different countries use different accounting standards. Reporting under each standard reflects differing definitions. The XBRL language uses different dictionaries, known as 'taxonomies', to define the specific tags used for each standard. Different dictionaries may be defined for different purposes and types of reporting. Taxonomies are the computer-readable 'dictionaries' of XBRL. Taxonomies provide definitions for XBRL tags, they provide information about the tags, and they organize the tags so that they have a meaningful structure.

As a result, taxonomies enable computers with XBRL software to:

- understand what the tag is (e.g. whether it is a monetary item, a percentage or text);
- what characteristics the tag has (e.g. if it has a negative value);
- its relationship to other items (e.g. if it is part of a calculation).

This additional information is called meta-data. When information that has been tagged with XBRL is transmitted, the meta-data contained within the tags is also transmitted.

Taxonomies differ according to reporting purposes, the type of information being reported and reporting presentation requirements. Consequently, a company may use one taxonomy when reporting to a stock exchange, but use a different taxonomy when reporting to a securities regulator. Taxonomies are available for most of the major national accounting standards around the world.

BENEFITS OF XBRL

XBRL offers major benefits at all stages of business reporting and analysis. The benefits are seen in automation, cost saving, faster, more reliable and more accurate handling of data, improved analysis and in better quality of information and decision-making. All types of organisations can use XBRL to save costs and improve efficiency in handling business and financial information. Because XBRL is extensible and flexible, it can be adapted to a wide variety of different requirements. All participants in the financial information supply chain can benefit, whether they are preparers, transmitters or users of business data.

XBRL enables producers and consumers of financial data to switch resources away from costly manual processes, typically involving time-consuming comparison, assembly and re-entry of data. They are able to concentrate effort on analysis, aided by software which can validate and manipulate XBRL information.

Data Collection and Reporting

By using XBRL, companies and other producers of financial data and business reports can automate the processes of data collection. For example, data from different company divisions with different accounting systems can be assembled quickly, cheaply and efficiently if the sources of information have been upgraded to using XBRL. Once data is gathered in XBRL, different types of reports using varying subsets of the data can be produced with minimum effort. A company finance division, for example, could quickly and reliably generate internal management reports, financial statements for publication, tax and other regulatory filings, as well as credit reports for lenders. Not only can data handling be automated, removing time-consuming, error-prone processes, but the data can be checked by software for accuracy.

Data Consumption and Analysis

Users of data which is received electronically in XBRL can automate its handling, cutting out time-consuming and costly collation and re-entry of information. Software can also immediately validate the data, highlighting errors and gaps which can immediately be addressed. It can also help in analysing, selecting, and processing the data for re-use. Human effort can switch to higher, more value-added aspects of analysis, review, reporting and decision-making. In this way, investment analysts can save effort, greatly simplify the selection and comparison of data, and deepen their company analysis. Lenders can save costs and speed up their dealings with borrowers. Regulators and government departments can assemble, validate and review data much more efficiently and usefully than they have hitherto been able to do.

Companies (Filing of Documents and Forms in Extensible Business Reporting Language) Rules, 2015

Rule 3 of the Companies (Filing of Documents and Forms in Extensible Business Reporting Language) Rules, 2015 provides that the following class of companies shall file their financial statement and other documents under section 137 of the Act, with the Registrar in e-form AOC-4 XBRL and the consolidated financial statements, if any, with form AOC-4 CFS.

The following class of companies are:

- (i) all companies listed with any Stock Exchange(s) in India and their Indian subsidiaries; or
- (ii) all companies having paid up capital of rupees five crore or above;
- (iii) all companies having turnover of rupees hundred crore or above; or
- (iv) all companies which are required to prepare their financial statements in accordance with Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015

Provided that the companies preparing their financial statements under the Companies (Accounting Standards) Rules, 2006 shall file the statements using the Taxonomy provided in Annexure-II and companies preparing their financial statements under Companies (Indian Accounting Standards) Rules, 2015, shall file the statements using the Taxonomy provided in Annexure-II A: Provided further that non-banking financial companies, housing finance companies and companies engaged in the business of banking and insurance sector are exempted from filing of financial statements under these rules. LEARNING OBJECTIVES

The era of technology has significantly impacted the world at large. The technological advancement leads to the revolutionary changes in every part of life. The functions under the gamut of companies have also impacted. The advancement in the technology is not static; it is developing day by day.

The concept of physical filing has given way to electronic filing. Now, the filing of forms with the Registrar of Companies is done in electronic manner. The companies submit the returns, forms and other information in electronic mode. The data captured by electronic mode being easier to use and it helps the regulators to take steps immediately.

Further, the development of XBRL is the milestone in the usability of the information. The XBRL is the language which can be used make the information readable. After reading this lesson you will be able to understand the concept of e-governance, e-filing of forms and XBRL.

Introduction

Governance refers to the exercise of political, economic and administrative authority in the management of a country's affairs, including citizens' articulation of their interests and exercise of their legal rights and obligations. E-Governance is the performance of this governance via the electronic medium in order to facilitate an efficient, speedy and transparent process of disseminating information to the public, and other agencies, and for performing government administration activities. E-governance refers to the use of information technologies in improving citizen-government interactions, cost-cutting and generation of revenue and transparency.

In the year 2006, MCA-21, India's largest e-governance initiative by the Ministry of Company Affairs and a mission project under Govt of India's national e-Governance plan, was launched with a comprehensive online portal to enable e-Filing under the MCA-21 project. With the start of MCA-21, corporations, professionals and the public at large were no longer required to visit the Registrar of Company offices and they were able to interact with the Ministry using the MCA-21 portal from their offices or home or the facilitation centres. The project also facilitated electronic submission of forms, which require a unique Digital Signature Certificate (DSC). Since then MCA has taken several steps for providing improved client oriented services and facilitating ease of doing business in India.

The project marked a new era of responsive, customer oriented, transparent and efficient governance.

Important features of the e-Governance project of MCA

- (1) DSC Services: Digital Signature Certificates (DSC) is the digital equivalent of physical or paper certificates. A digital certificate can be presented electronically to prove one's identity, to access information or services on the Internet or to sign certain documents digitally. The Information Technology Act, 2000 has provisions for use of Digital Signatures on the documents submitted in electronic form in order to ensure the security and authenticity of the documents filed electronically. This is secure and authentic way to submit a document electronically.

All filings done by the companies/LLPs under MCA21 e-Governance programme are required to be filed using Digital Signatures by the person authorised to sign the documents. Digital Signature Certificate (DSC) can be obtained by directly approaching Certifying Authorities (CAs) with original supporting documents and self-attested copies or by using Aadhar/eKYC based authentication or through a letter/certificate issued by a Bank containing the DSC applicant's information as retained in the Bank database can be accepted.

Directors, Manager and Secretary of the Company and practicing professionals i.e. CA, CS & CWA have to register their DSC on MCA portal to do filings etc.

- (2) DIN Services: DIN is a unique Identification Number allotted to an individual who is appointed as director of a company, upon making an application in form DIR-3 pursuant to section 153 & 154 of the Companies Act, 2013. Central Government (Office of Regional Director (Northern Region), Ministry of Corporate Affairs) allots the DIN upon processing the form DIR-3 filed by the applicant. Further person who is appointed as a director upon filing form INC-29 will be issued a DIN by the approving authority (Central Registration Centre). Any person intending to apply for DIN shall have to make an application in eForm DIR-3 on the MCA portal. A provisional DIN is approved and provided only after scrutiny of the documents attached with the application.
- (3) Viewing Master Data and Documents of Companies/LLP: A facility has been made available to the general public to view master details or view public documents of any company/LLP registered with Registrar of Companies. This facility may be availed by clicking “View Company Master Data”. A similar facility has also been made available in respect of the 'Register of Charges' for the companies/LLPs by clicking on to the 'View Index of Charges' and for the viewing the details of the signatories of any company/LLP by clicking on 'View Signatory Details'. To view the Master Data - Company/LLP Name or CIN/LLPIN of the Company/LLP is required.

CIN Number or Company CIN No. is a unique identification number assigned by Registrar of Companies (ROC) functioning in various states under Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA), Govt. of India. After formation of a company, concerned ROC issues a certificate containing its unique Corporate Identification Number (CIN No. or CIN Code) along with its approved name. Every company must quote this unique Company CIN No. whenever a correspondence or data forms submitted to MCA, particularly in audits and reports.

- (4) E-filing of forms: An e-form is the electronic equivalent of the paper form. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs provides a platform where all the filing can be done electronically. All the e-forms along with the instructions to file them are available on the website of MCA at the link – <http://www.mca.gov.in/MinistryV2/companyformsdownload.html>. This has envisaged that all company related documents would be filed electronically. The new e-forms have been devised and notified by the Ministry for this purpose.
- (5) Online payment of fees: The MCA provides different modes of payment like Credit card/ Debit Card (Pay online), Net Banking (Pay online), Challan (Generate the Challan online, fill it and deposit it off-line at an authorized bank branch), NEFT etc. Stamp Duty is applicable on filing of certain forms which shall be electronically paid through MCA21 system. A person applying for certified true copy is also required to pay stamp duty through MCA21 portal.
- (6) Central Registration Centre: The Central Registration Centre (CRC) is an initiative of Ministry of Corporate Affairs (MCA) in Government Process Re-engineering (GPR) with the specific objective of providing speedy incorporation related services in line with global best practices. CRC is presently tasked to process applications for name availability (INC-1) and forms related to new companies incorporations. This initiative of MCA is in line with its objective of speedier processing of incorporation related applications and facilitating “Ease of Doing Business” to incorporate.

eBiz Governance Project: MCA has linked three of its objectives incorporation of company, name application and DIN application with eBiz platform. Its focus is also to improve the services to improve the business environment in the country by enabling fast and efficient services through online portal.

- (7) Tracking SRN/ transaction status: Every request submitted on MCA portal is identified by a unique number known as the Service Request Number (SRN). It is a nine character alphanumeric string starting with an alphabet (A-Z) which is printed on the top left hand side of a Receipt or Challan. All the transactions status can be tracked by entering SRN.

Some terms used while e-filing the forms

Pre-fill

Pre-fill is functionality in an e-Form that is used for filling automatically, the requisite data from the system without repeatedly entering the same. For example, by entering the CIN of the company, the name and registered office address of the company shall automatically be pre-filled by the system without any fresh entry.

Attachment

An attachment refers to a document that is sent as an enclosure with an e-Form by means of an attached file. The objective of the attachment is to provide details relevant to the e-Form for processing. While some attachments are optional some are mandatory in nature.

The attachments to an e-Form will be only in Adobe PDF format. MCA portal shall not accept attachment file of more than 2.5MB and the user is advised to keep the attachment size to minimum.

Check Form

By clicking “Check Form”, the user will be in a position to find out whether the mandatory fields in an e-Form are duly filled-in. For example, if the user enters alphabets in “Date of Appointment of Director” field, he/she will be asked to correct the entered information.

If the size of attachment is much bigger then the details may be submitted in a floppy or compact disc at the ROC office. For example, In the case of Annual Return filed by the companies having large shareholders base, the list of shareholders may be submitted separately in a CD at the concerned ROC office indicating SRN No. of e-form filed

Modify

Once the user has done ‘Check Form’, the form gets locked and it cannot be edited. If the user wishes to make any alterations, the form can be overwritten by clicking “Modify” button.

Pre-Scrutiny

Pre-scrutiny is a functionality that is used for checking whether certain core aspects are properly filled in the e-Form. The user has to login on MCA portal to perform the pre-scrutiny of e-form. The necessary attachments and digital signatures should be affixed before submitting the e-Form for pre-scrutiny. The difference between check form and pre-scrutiny is that the Check form is done by internal features of the form which ensure that all the mandatory and required field are filled up and attachment are made to the e-form, while Pre-Scrutiny is a complete legal and technical scrutiny of an e-form done by the MCA portal before accepting the form.

Features of e-form and e-filing process

An e-Form contains certain standardized features. Each e-Form contains the form reference and the description as well as the particular section of the Companies Act or the relevant rules or regulations under which it is required to be submitted. It starts with the Corporate Identity Number (CIN), which works as a unique identifier of an Indian Company and the Foreign Company Registration Number in the case of a Foreign Company that is required to be filled up. By entering the CIN, the company details to the extent these are available in static form in the database, are automatically filled in by using the pre-fill functionality.

- The e-Form contains a number of mandatory fields which are required to be filled-in. Certain other fields are non-mandatory in nature which may be filled-in as may be relevant in any particular case.
- An instruction kit is available for each e-Form, which contains details of the instructions for properly filling the e-Form.
- An e-Form may be filled in either online or offline. Online filling implies that the e-Form is filled while being still connected to MCA portal through the Internet. Offline filling denotes that the e-Form is downloaded into the user’s computer and filled later without being connected to the Internet.

- An e-Form may require certain mandatory attachments to be filed along with it. Optional attachments may also be filed with an e-Form. The list of such attachments is displayed in the e-Form.
- Next to attachment, there is a declaration that is sought from the person filing the e-Form to the effect that the information given in the e-Form and the attachments is correct and complete.
- Most of the e-Forms require the digital signature of the Managing Director or Director, Manager or Secretary of the company for successful filing/ submission.
- Further, the digital signature of a third party may also be required in certain cases. In the case of an e-Form for creation or modification of charges, such digital signature is also required from the Bank or Financial Institution.
- In certain cases, certification from the Chartered Accountant or Cost Accountant or Company Secretary in whole-time practice is also required to authenticate the particulars contained in the e-Form. For example, this requirement is mandatory in the case of an e-Form for creation or modification of charges.
- There are built-in facilities to check the filled-in e-Form for requisite validations, to do pre-scrutiny and to modify the e-Form when the same is required to be re-submitted.
- When the “Submitted” button is pressed, the e-Form gets uploaded into the MCA central document repository.
- Thereafter, the requisite fees as applicable for the e-Form should be paid either on-line or off-line.
- Once the e-Form has been accepted and payment of fees has been acknowledged, a work item is created and assigned to the appropriate MCA employee based on pre-defined assignment rules as part of MCA back office workflow automation.
- In the case of an e-Form, the authorized officer affixes his/her digital signature for registering/approving/rejecting the same.
- After the processing of the e-Form is completed, an acknowledgement email is sent to the user regarding its approval/rejection.

XBRL

XBRL stands for eXtensible Business Reporting Language. XBRL is a language for the electronic communication of business and financial data which has revolutionized business reporting around the world. It provides major benefits in the preparation, analysis and communication of business information. It offers cost savings, greater efficiency and improved accuracy and reliability to all those involved in supplying or using financial data.

XBRL is a data-rich dialect of XML (Extensible Markup Language), the universally preferred language for transmitting information via the Internet. XBRL tags

In XBRL, information is not treated as a static block of text or set of numbers.

Instead, information is broken down into unique items of data (e.g. total liabilities = 100). These data items are then assigned mark-up tags that make them computer-readable. For example, the tag <Liabilities>100</Liabilities> enables a computer to understand that the item is liabilities, and it has a value of 100.

Computers can treat information that has been tagged using XBRL 'intelligently'; they can recognize, process, store, exchange and analyse it automatically using software.

Because XBRL tags are formed in a universally-accepted way, they can be read and processed by any computer that has XBRL software. XBRL tags are defined and organized using categorization schemes called taxonomies.

XBRL taxonomies

Different countries use different accounting standards. Reporting under each standard reflects differing definitions. The XBRL language uses different dictionaries, known as 'taxonomies', to define the specific tags used for each standard. Different dictionaries may be defined for different purposes and types of reporting. Taxonomies are the computer-readable 'dictionaries' of XBRL. Taxonomies provide definitions for XBRL tags, they provide information about the tags, and they organize the tags so that they have a meaningful structure.

As a result, taxonomies enable computers with XBRL software to:

- understand what the tag is (e.g. whether it is a monetary item, a percentage or text);
- what characteristics the tag has (e.g. if it has a negative value);
- its relationship to other items (e.g. if it is part of a calculation).

This additional information is called meta-data. When information that has been tagged with XBRL is transmitted, the meta-data contained within the tags is also transmitted.

Taxonomies differ according to reporting purposes, the type of information being reported and reporting presentation requirements. Consequently, a company may use one taxonomy when reporting to a stock exchange, but use a different taxonomy when reporting to a securities regulator. Taxonomies are available for most of the major national accounting standards around the world.

XBRL offers major benefits at all stages of business reporting and analysis. The benefits are seen in automation, cost saving, faster, more reliable and more accurate handling of data, improved analysis and in better quality of information and decision-making. All types of organisations can use XBRL to save costs and improve efficiency in handling business and financial information. Because XBRL is extensible and flexible, it can be adapted to a wide variety of different requirements. XBRL enables producers and consumers of financial data to switch resources away from costly manual processes, typically involving time-consuming comparison, assembly and re-entry of data.
