We are all witnessing a new confidence and aggressiveness in India Inc in not only garnering resources from the stock and other markets but also in annexing foreign entities and giants within its fold. The globalization phenomenon is thus acquiring unimagined dimensions. Various new skills, international class knowledge and confidence par excellence will be required on the part of corporate professionals to lend value added support to the newly developing corporate ethos in Indian business on various aspects of corporate compliances and due diligence.

Due diligence process includes examining all aspects of a company including manufacturing, financial, legal, tax, IT systems, labour issues, checking for regulatory issues as well as understanding issues related to IPR, the environment and other matters such as contractual documentation, litigation, ownership of movable, fixed and intangible assets. While preparing the study material, all these aspects of the due diligence process have been kept in mind. It is therefore imperative for corporate professionals like Company Secretaries to acquire and refine the required skills in due diligence exercise so that they are equipped to protect and add value for corporates going in for initial public issues, restructuring, alliances, mergers or takeovers for their inorganic growth.

The paper on Due Diligence and Corporate Compliance Management has been introduced to provide the students thorough understanding and appreciation of composite legal due diligence regarding corporate activities as well as the expert knowledge about Corporate Compliance Management.

This paper warrants continuous updation in terms of legislative changes made to laws from time to time. Students are advised to keep themselves abreast of latest developments by regularly resorting to reading of various regulatory websites/economic dailies and additional source materials concerning corporate world. Students are also advised to read regularly the ‘Student Company Secretary’/‘Chartered Secretary’ wherein all important regulatory amendments are reported regularly.

Although care has been taken in publishing this study material, yet the possibility of errors, omissions and/or discrepancies cannot be ruled out. This publication is released with an understanding that the Institute shall not be responsible for any errors, omissions and/or discrepancies or any action taken in that behalf. In the event of any doubt, students may write to the Directorate of Academics and professional Development in the Institute for clarification.

This study material is updated upto December 31, 2011. Should there be any discrepancy, error or omission in the study material, the Institute shall be obliged if the same is brought to its notice for issue of corrigendum in the Student Company Secretary.

I. INTRODUCTION

Due Diligence is the process by which confidential legal, financial and other material information is exchanged, reviewed and appraised by the parties to a business transaction, which is done prior to the transaction.

“Due diligence” is an analysis and risk assessment of an impending business transaction. It is the careful and methodological investigation of a business or persons, or the performance of an act with a certain standard of care to ensure that information is accurate, and to uncover information that may affect the outcome of the transaction.

It is basically a “background check” to make sure that the parties to the transaction have the required information they need, to proceed with the transaction.

Due diligence is used to investigate and evaluate a business opportunity. The term due diligence describes a general duty to exercise care in any transaction. As such, it spans investigation into all relevant aspects of the past, present, and predictable future of the business of a target company.
Due diligence report should provide information and insight on aspects such as the risks of a transaction, the value at which a transaction should be undertaken, the warranties and indemnities that need be obtained from the vendor etc.

Due Diligence

- is a Risk assessment tool with respect to a business transaction.
- is a Evaluation Mechanism with respect to a business opportunity.
- is a Tool that provides insight into hidden facts.
- Takes care of present, past and future aspects that affects the business transaction.

My God!!!!! There are so many issues.....Multiple financial statements, Regulatory files, labour files, bundles of agreements..........I am confused whether I have to proceed with the acquisition deal!!!!

Don't Worry. Carry out a Due diligence Exercise. You will find hidden risks, future prospects, cultural and employees issues etc from the outcome of due diligence. This will help to arrive at a conclusion and to do the right negotiations on the deal.

NEED FOR DUE DILIGENCE AND ITS ‘SIGNIFICANCE’

Misrepresentations and fraudulent dealings are not always obvious or straight. These are to be uncovered, especially in a major business transaction, as it would create a major impact on the business. Proper due diligence services explore and assess the details behind the same and to become fully informed about the financials, business, internal systems, profitability, key operational aspects, management team, promoters and other material factors that will help in making an informed decision about an investment. Due diligence is designed to protect the interests of the Company by providing objective and reliable information on the target company before making any written commitments.

Due diligence is an investigative process for providing, the desired comfort level about the potential investment and to minimize the risks such as hidden uncovered liabilities, poor growth prospects, price claimed for proposed investment being on higher side etc. Due diligence is also necessary to ensure that there are no onerous contracts or other agreements that could affect the acquirer’s return on investment.

The procedures and analyses ultimately represent a window into the target Company’s success and potential, including what opportunities exist to grow the business further to meet your goals and objectives. Due diligence exercise is needed to confirm that the nature and genuineness of a business, identify defects/weakness in the target company and to avoid a bad business transaction, to gather information that is required for valuation of assets, and to negotiate in a better manner. In nutshell due diligence is a SWOT analysis of an investment which is essentially required to make an informed decision about a potential investment.

Due diligence is necessary to allow the investigating party to find out everything that one needs to know about the subject of the diligence. The objective is to allow the investigator to consider the following options, considering the facts found in the course of due diligence.

(i) Withdrawal of deal – if the due diligence uncovers information that disclosed the investments, loan or participation, a risky or undesirable one and which cannot be adequately resolved then the investigator may withdraw from the deal.

(ii) Adjusting the valuation of the investment – the investigator may revise his valuation of the company or reassess the price at which it will provide services. More often, the information will be adverse and therefore the valuation will go down or the price will go up.

(iii) Solving of problems uncovered – it may be possible for a problem uncovered by the due diligence to be solved before the deal goes ahead. For example, unpaid stamp duty could be paid, company filings could be put in order or, if negative information is uncovered on a principal of the target company, the investor may put pressure on the target is put into a state that the investigator is happier with before it deals with it.

The Due Diligence is required to arrive at the conclusions which may result in

- Withdrawal of business deal.
- Adjusting the valuation of the investment.
- Solving of problems uncovered.

OBJECTIVES OF DUE DILIGENCE

The objective of due diligence is to verify the strategic identification or attractiveness of the target company, valuation, risk associated etc.
The objective of due diligence may be to—

1. Collect material of information from the target company.
2. Conduct a SWOT analysis to identify the strength and to uncover threats and weaknesses.
3. For improving the bargaining position depending on SWOT analysis.
4. To take an informed decision about an investment.
5. Identification of areas where representations and warranties are required.
6. To provide a desired comfort level in a transaction.
7. To ensure complete and accurate disclosure.
8. Bridge the gap between the existing and expected.
9. To take smooth/accurate action/decision.
10. To enhance the confidence of stake holders.

The SWOT analysis of the target business carried out as a part of due diligence has to reveal the strengths and weaknesses of not only the financials but also intangibles. To do this effectively, the potential buyer needs to be clear about the goals and motives for acquiring the target company, as well as the value the buyer is attempting to create with the purchase. For example, if there is a legal risk, such as an outstanding lawsuit, that will not only jeopardize the financial stability of the company but also the loyalty of existing customers. This will erode the target company’s market of customers by a new and stronger competitor. The target company’s talent is the asset desired, and much of this depends on employee relations and accordingly cultural issues has to be addressed in time.

A thorough due diligence helps to reveal any of the negatives, but the process of due diligence rarely goes smoothly because of one major stumbling block and that is availability of information. The target company is rarely eager to reveal to the other party that it is up for sale and wants to keep this information confidential from its competitors, customers and employees. So getting any information from these sources can be tricky, depending upon what the potential buyer wants to gain from the transaction. The buyer who aims to get new market of customers with the transaction wants to make sure that the target company has a good relationship with existing customers. But, during due diligence, the target company does not want any contact with its existing customers for fear that customers might leave because of the impending sale. As another example, a potential buyer sees the employee talent as the company’s main asset, but the target company is nervous about letting the potential buyer talk to key employees because it does not want to let on that it is going to be sold. Because of the confidential nature of transactions, not all the information that is necessary to make a good decision can be revealed. This is why services of experts are hired in due diligence before beginning the process so the buyer receives reliable guidance. It is also critical to meet with trusted advisors—both inside and outside about what has been discovered and brainstorm the different scenarios of what can go wrong before going ahead with the deal.

Once a purchase price is agreed upon the prospective buyer usually enters into a conditional agreement with a due diligence clause with the target business, in which the buyer has a limited period to conduct due diligence. During this time, the potential buyer requests full access to all relevant materials in the target business, all customer, vendor, financial and other information in order to conduct a thorough investigation. Here it is to be ensured that the potential buyer does not use this information for its own benefit if it decides to back out of the deal, a confidentiality agreement is usually signed to protect the target businesses’ interests. But a possibility of re-negotiation of the purchase price or cancellation of the agreement on the part of buyer is seen if the information found is not acceptable to the potential buyer. Again after due diligence, the goal is to either reaffirm the purchase price or renegotiate, depending on what was discovered. But the ultimate goal is to make a rational decision based on the facts. While it may be hard to overcome the excitement of purchasing a business, here the potential buyer is prepared to cancel the deal as earlier said if something is discovered that runs counter to why the business looked like a good deal in the first place.

V. SCOPE OF DUE DILIGENCE

Scope of due diligence is transaction-based and is depending on the needs of the people who is involved in the potential investments, in addressing key uncovered issues, areas of concern/threat and in identifying additional opportunities.

Due diligence is generally understood by the legal, financial and business communities/potential investors to mean the disclosure and assimilation of public and proprietary information related to the assets and liabilities of the business being acquired. This information includes financial, human resources, tax, environmental, legal matters, intellectual property matters etc.

Due diligence would include thorough understanding of all the obligations of the target company: debts, rights and obligations, pending and potential lawsuits, leases, warranties, all high and impact laden contracts – both inter-corporate and intra-corporate.

Many Indian companies and corporate entities however do not give much importance to the portfolio management of their Intellectual Property Rights (IPR). It involves risk identification and assessment with respect to:
(a) review the environmental setting and history of the site
(b) assessment of the site conditions
(c) operations and management of sites

FACTORS TO BE KEPT IN MIND WHILE CONDUCTING DUE DILIGENCE

Objectives and purpose

A key step in any due diligence exercise is to develop an understanding of the purpose for the transaction. The goal of due diligence is to provide the party proposing the transaction with sufficient information to make a reasoned decision as to whether or not to complete the transaction as proposed. It should provide a basis for determining or validating the appropriate terms and price for the transaction incorporating consideration of the risks inherent in the proposed transaction. The following factors may be kept in mind in this regard:

(i) Be clear about your expectations in terms of revenues, profits and the probability of the target company to provide you the same.
(ii) Consider whether you have resources to make the business succeed and whether you are willing to put in all the hard work, which is required for any new venture.
(iii) Consider whether the business gives you the opportunity to put your skills and experience to good use.
(iv) Learn as much as you can about the industry you are interested in from media reports, journals and people in the industry.

Planning the schedule

Once it is decided for a particular business, make sure of the following things:
—  Steps to be followed in due diligence process
—  Areas to be checked
—  Aspects to be checked in each area
—  Information and other material to be requested from the seller

Negotiation for time

Some times, it may be the case that, sellers want the process to get over as soon as possible and try to hurry the proceedings. When the seller gives a short review period, negotiations can be made for adequate time to have a complete review on crucial financial and legal aspects.

Risk Minimisation

All the information should be double checked—financials, tax returns, patents, copyrights and customer base to ensure that the company does not face a lawsuit or criminal investigation. The financials are very important and one needs to be certain that the target company did not engage in creative accounting. The asset position and profitability of the company are vital.

Since, Due diligence exercise deals with the overall business, it is important to consider aspects such as:
—  background of promoters —  performance of senior management team
—  organizational strategy —  business plans
—  risk management system
— technological advancement — infrastructure adequacy
— optimum utilization of available resources

Information from external sources

The company’s customers and vendors can be quite informative. It may be found from them whether the target company falls in their most favored clients list.

Any flaws that the audit uncovers would help to negotiate down the sale price. Due diligence is “a chance to get a better deal”. But don’t go overboard. Remember that the whole point of buying a company is to add people to your own organization. Even if the seller and staff do not stay on after the deal, they may prove useful as advisers in the future.

Limit the report with only material facts

While preparing the report it is advisable to be precise and only the information that has a material impact on the target company is required to be included.

Structure of information

Once the due diligence process is over, while preparing the report, information has to be structured in an organized manner in order to have a better correlation on related matters.

Important things to remember while carrying out due diligence exercise

- Understand the purpose for the transaction
- Plan the schedule of Due diligence
- Negotiate for adequate time to analyse the facts
- Background check of promoters and senior management
- Infrastructure adequacy
- Information from external sources
- Observation of culture of employees
- Limiting the Report only with material facts

STAGES/PROCESS OF DUE DILIGENCE

A due diligence process can be divided into three stages (i) pre diligence, (ii) diligence, and (iii) post diligence.

(i) Pre diligence

A pre diligence is primarily the activity of management of paper, files and people.

1. Signing the Letter of Intent (LOI) and the Non Disclosure Agreement
(NDA) / Engagement letter. (A sample format is enclosed at Annexure I)

2. Receipt of documents from the company and review of the same with the checklist of documents already supplied to the company.

3. Identifying the issues.

4. Organising the papers required for a diligence.

5. Creating a data room.

The first and foremost in a deal for the management of the target company, is that the investor is to sign a Letter of Intent (LOI) or a term sheet which underlines the various terms on which the proposed deal is to be concluded. Immediately on receipt of the LOI the investors sign an NDA with the various agencies conducting a diligence, be it finance, accounting, legal or a secretarial diligence.

The company, would usually receive a checklist from the agency conducting the diligence. The checklist is invariably exhaustive in nature, and therefore, the company may either collate and compile the documents in-house, or outsource this to an external agency. While the data is being collated care should be taken to ensure that there are no loose ends that may probably arise.

As regards a data room, some of the important things that one should take cognizance of from the corporate viewpoint are the following:

(a) Do not delay deadlines (leads to suspicion).
(b) Mark each module of the checklist provided for separately.
(c) In case some issues are not applicable spell it out as “Not Applicable”.
(d) In case some issues can not be resolved immediately, admit it.
(e) Put a single point contact to oversee the process of diligence.
(f) Keep a register, to track people coming in and going out.
(g) An overview on the placement of files.
(h) Introduction to the point person.

During the diligence, care should be taken to adhere to certain hospitality issues, like:

(a) Be warm and receptive to the professionals who are conducting diligence.
(b) Enquire on the DD team.
(c) Join them for lunch.
(d) Ensure good supply of refreshments.
(e) In case of any corrections – admit and rectify.

As regards the process of diligence, as a professional care should be taken to scrutinize every document that is made available and ask for details and clarifications, though, generally the time provided to conduct the diligence may not be too long and though things have to be wrapped up at the earliest. The company may be provided an opportunity to clear the various issues that may arise out of the diligence.

(ii) Diligence

After the diligence, is conducted, the professionals submit a report, which is common parlance is called the DD report. These reports can be of various kinds, a summary report; a detailed report or the like; and the findings mentioned in the report can be very significant, in as much as the deal is concerned.

There are certain terms used to define the outcome of these reports:

Deal Breakers: In this report the findings can be very glaring and may expose various non-compliance that may arise – any criminal proceedings or known liabilities.

Deal Diluters: The findings arising out a diligence may contain violations which may have an impact in the form of quantifiable penalties and in turn may result in diminishing the value of company.

Deal Cautioners: It covers those findings in a diligence which may not impact the financials, but there exist certain non compliances which though rectifiable, require the investor to tread a cautious path.

Deal Makers: Which are very hard to come by and may not be a reality in the strict sense, are those reports wherein the diligence team have not been able to come across any violations, leading them to submit what is called a ‘clean report’.

Interestingly, only after the reporting formalities are over and various rectifications are carried out, the “shareholders agreement” (which is the most important document) is executed. This agreement contains certain standard clauses like the tag along and drag along rights; representations and warranties; condition precedents, and other clauses that have an impact on the deal.

(iii) Post Diligence

Post diligence sometimes result in rectification of non-compliances found during the course of due diligence. There can be interesting assignments arising out of the diligence made by the team of professionals. It can range from making applications/filing of petition for compounding of various offences or negotiating the shareholders’ agreement, since the investors will be on a strong wicket and may negotiate the price very hard.

This process helps evaluation and plan for the integration of business between the transacting parties. As regards the target company, it is ascertaining the ability of the acquirer to pay or raise funds to complete the transaction, of rights that should be retained by the target company, determination of any obstacles that could delay the closing and aid in the preparation of the target company's disclosure schedules for the definitive and final transactional document.

2. Joint venture and collaborations

However, the list mentioned above is not an exhaustive. The purpose of providing this list is to provide a general idea of documents that are required to be checked in any type of due diligence.

THE CONCEPT OF DATA ROOM IN DUE DILIGENCE

What is data room?

A Data Room provides all important business documents/information which may be on Financial, regulatory, IPR, marketing, Press report or any important material aspect pertaining to a business transaction. Otherwise it provides for a common platform/place where all records of important business information are kept for the review by a potential buyer after signing of a Non Disclosure Agreement (NDA). As data room discloses confidential data which is not available for public and may relate to business process, trade secret, technology information etc, the access to data room is made after signing of Non Disclosure Agreement.

Provisions are also made to mitigate the risks of data destruction or data stealing. For this purpose the restrictive provisions are made for entry, study, noting and exit from the data room. This includes physical checking of the persons conducting such study in the data room. Installing close circuit camera in the data room and monitoring the activity of the persons on time to time basis is a regular activity. It results in adequate expenditure and prior to that make proper budgeting is required.

 Principals are also laid down for copying documents to clearly state about the nature of documents which could be copied in the data room. For this purpose also photocopiers and scanning machines are kept, electronic data similarly also monitored for which copies are required to be made.

Why Data Room?

1. Removes ambiguity in the minds of buyer about the profitability, growth prospectus, and sustainability of business that is proposed to be bought.
2. Provides material information that helps in doing a SWOT analysis.
3. It enables the buyer to do a better bargain through the analysis of the data.
4. May expose the weakness of the seller which is not directly provided to the buyer- For example, a material off balance sheet transaction.
5. Provides data that helps in better Valuation of business for both buyer and seller.

What type of information is provided under a data room?

3. HR information
4. Equipment and information on operational aspects.
5. Information relating to sales, marketing etc
6. Compliance related information
8. IPR details
9. Information on litigation

Some Occasions those require creation of Data Room.

1. Mergers, amalgamations and Acquisitions
2. Strategic Alliances
3. Partnering agreement
4. Business Coalitions
5. Outsourcing agreement
6. Technology or Product Licensing
7. Joint Ventures through technical or financial collaboration
8. Venture Capital investment
9. Public Issue

Data Room – Virtual or Physical

Earlier data room was a physical location where all confidential and other documents are kept in a paper form and were kept under lock and key with custody of a responsible person. Generally the data room was created at vendor’s premises or lawyer’s office and specific time was allotted to the buyer and the authorised representatives of the buyer to enter and exit the premises which were set up as Data Room. Only one prospective buyer was allowed to view the documents at a time. When a prospective bidder demands additional or new documents it was provided to them in physical copy through courier or registered post. It demanded the physical availability of experts from different fields at the place where the due diligence exercise was being carried out.

Under the prevailing globalised economy, using of traditional physical data rooms for due diligence is not only a time-consuming and difficult process but also is very expensive as it demands the prospective buyers to travel from their place to the place where the data room is located.

Technology has enhanced the efficiency of many business processes and activities. New and creative uses of technology are expected to have similar positive effects on existing businesses. Introduction of Virtual Data Room which is an effect of technology has come as a boon for due diligence exercise.

Virtual Data Room is a site where all the required data of the prospective buyer are stored in digitalized or electronic form. Due diligence exercise these days is carried out through creation of virtual data room in the form of internet site where all the confidential/material business information is stored.

In general the following steps are involved in creation of a virtual data room.

1. Demands of the prospective bidders are identified.
2. Identify a trust worthy data room service provider if necessary and enter into necessary agreement with them.
3. Creation of a website where all the required documents are stored with internet security, restriction to access the site etc
4. Signing of Non-Disclosure Agreement with prospective bidders
5. Service agreement with data room service provider and the prospective bidder
6. Prospective bidders, on signing of Non-Disclosure Agreement and the service agreement, are given Use Id and pass word of the virtual data room so that any number of prospective bidders and access to it.

Major Advantages of Virtual Data Room

1. Savings in cost
2. Saving in time
3. More Comfort to buyer and Seller
4. Availability of information at any time of the day
5. Enables multiple prospective bidders to access the Virtual Data Room
6. Easy to Set up
7. More Secured
8. Improved Efficiency
9. Copying/printing of documents may be restricted.
10. Closure of Virtual Data Room may happen at any time

Some Disadvantages of Virtual Data Room

1. Limited interaction with prospective sellers.
2. Lack of clarity of documents loaded on the data-site
3. inability to copy or print information sometimes becomes a hurdle
4. access to sensitive information such as contracts to third parties poses legal challenges relating to confidentiality of information.

XII. DUE DILIGENCE Vs AUDIT
An audit is concerned with historical financial statements only and provides an opinion as to whether the financial statements represent a “true and fair” view of the company’s operations. Due diligence, on the other hand, review not only look the historical financial performance of a business but also consider the forecast financial performance for the company under the current business plan. The following table describes the difference between Due Diligence and Audit.

The due diligence review should provide an overall evaluation of the viability of the target business. The due diligence reports will form a valuable tool for the new owners of the business in providing an overview of the business and identification of areas of weaknesses and threats which will have to be addressed.

Each due diligence review is unique but the overall aim is to provide the investor with sufficient, relevant and timely information in order to assist in the investment decision. The due diligence exercise is not simply a number crunching exercise but involves collation of strategic non financial information which is likely to be crucial in the overall investment decision.

The successful performance of a due diligence investigation is dependent upon the scope, planning, co-ordination and the use of a highly skilled team.

The cost of the preparation of a quality due diligence exercise is insignificant when compared to the cost of a bad acquisition.

- Public issue due diligence under SEBI(ICDR) Regulations, Listing agreement etc and the role of company secretary
- Due diligence of preferential issue by listed and unlisted companies
- Compliances for issue of rights/bonus shares
- Issue of Shares under Employee Stock Option scheme

I. INTRODUCTION AND REGULATORY FRAMEWORK

Introduction*

Primarily, issues can be classified as a Public, Rights or preferential issues (also known as private placements). While public and rights issues involve a detailed procedure, private placements or preferential issues are relatively simpler. The classification of issues is illustrated below:

* Source: sebi.gov.in Public issues can be further classified into Initial Public offerings and further public offerings. In a public offering, the issuer makes an offer for new investors to enter into shareholding family. The issuer company makes detailed disclosures as per the SEBI (Issue of Capital) and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations, 2009 in its offer document and offers it for subscription.

Initial Public Offering (IPO) is when an unlisted company makes either a fresh issue of securities or an offer for sale of its existing securities or both for the first time to the public. This paves way for listing and trading of the issuer’s securities.

A further public offering (FPO) is when an already listed company makes either a fresh issue of securities to the public or an offer for sale to the public, through an offer document. An offer for sale in such scenario is allowed only if it is made to satisfy listing or continuous listing obligations.

Rights Issue (RI) is when a listed company which proposes to issue fresh securities to its existing shareholders as on a record date. The rights are normally offered in a particular ratio to the number of securities held prior to the issue. This route is best suited for companies who would like to raise capital without diluting stake of its existing shareholders unless they do not intend to subscribe to their entitlements.

Bonus issue: When an issuer makes an issue of securities to its existing shareholders as on a record date, without any consideration from them, it is called a bonus issue. The shares are issued out of the Company’s free reserve or share premium account in a particular ratio to the number of securities held on a record date.

A private placement is an issue of shares or of convertible securities by a company to a select group of persons under Section 81 of the Companies Act, 1956 which is neither a rights issue nor a public issue. This is a faster way for a company to raise equity capital.

A private placement of shares or of convertible securities by a listed company is generally known by name of preferential allotment. A listed company going for preferential allotment has to comply with the requirements contained in Chapter VII of SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations 2009.

“Qualified Institutions Placement” means allotment of eligible securities by a listed issuer to qualified institutional buyers on private placement basis in terms of SEBI (Issue of Capital and Disclosure Requirements) Regulations 2009.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE BOARD OF INDIA (ISSUE OF CAPITAL AND DISCLOSURE REQUIREMENTS) REGULATIONS, 2009 [(SEBI(ICDR) Regulations)

The SEBI (ICDR) Regulations, 2009 have been introduced by repealing the SEBI (Disclosure and Investor Protection) Guidelines, 2000.

II. DUE DILIGENCE-Initial Public Offer (IPO)/Further Public Offer (FPO)

When the due diligence is carried out as part of the steps leading to an IPO, the exercise takes on added meaning and encompasses a wider scope, as it identifies the areas or the issues where the company exhibits weaknesses and the due diligence process becomes a tool, which shows the company the way to optimize its potential and thereby increasing its value to potential investors. Pre-IPO due diligence process will result in a gap analysis between the present status of the company and the company that should be floated i.e., a gap is an expectations gap created as a result of how the market expects a listed company to conduct its affairs. In this scenario, once these gaps have been highlighted the due diligence exercise should not stop there but should include advice given by the advisors to the company on the processes and activities which are required to fill the gaps identified. In an IPO the due diligence exercise is a broader, fuller exercise which apart from identifying the weaknesses also looks at resolving them with the purpose of increasing the value of the company.

The due diligence process aspires to achieve the following:

- to assess the reasonableness of historical and projected earnings and cash flows;
- to identify key vulnerabilities, risk and opportunities;
- to gain an intimate understanding of the company and the market in which the company operates such that the company’s management can anticipate and manage change; — to set in motion the planning for the post-IPO operations.

It will result in a critical analysis of the control, accounting and reporting systems of the company and a critical appraisal of key personnel. It will identify the value drivers of the company thus enabling the directors to understand where the value is and to focus their efforts on increasing that value.

Due diligence spans the entire public issue process. The steps involved in due diligence are given broadly below:

The Securities Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 (SEBI Act) was formed, inter alia, to provide for the establishment of a Board (SEBI) to protect the interest of investors in securities and to promote the development of and to regulate the securities market.

SEBI regulates the securities market by prescribing measures to register and regulate the working of Capital Market Intermediaries associated with Securities market. Such intermediaries undertake following major activities relating to securities in addition to other activities:

The main role of these Capital Market Intermediaries is to provide maximum information to the investors by means of disclosures carrying vital information. The intermediaries are necessarily compelled to associate with other professionals to advise the compliance of the Act, rules and regulations, notifications, guidelines, instructions, etc., directly by the Board or the Central Government to point out the non-compliance and ensure the complete compliance. In a capital market issue, the major role in synchronizing these activities of intermediaries lies with a qualified Company Secretary.

E. UNDER SEBI (PUBLIC OFFER AND LISTING OF SECURITISED DEBT INSTRUMENTS) REGULATIONS 2008

Securitisation is the process of conversion of existing assets or future cash flows into marketable securities. In other words, securitisation deals with the conversion of assets which are not marketable into marketable ones.
Securitised Debt Instrument means any certificate or instrument by whatever name called, of the nature referred to in sub-clause (ie) of clause (h) of Section 2 of SCRA.

Section 2(h)(ie) of SCRA reads as follows:

‘Any certificate or instrument(by whatever name called), issued to an investor by any issuer being a special purpose distinct entity which possesses any debt or receivable, including mortgage debt, assigned to such entity, and acknowledging beneficial interest of such investor in such debt or receivable, including mortgage debt, as the case may be.’

Special Purpose Distinct Entity means a trust which acquires debt or receivables not out of funds mobilized by it by issuances of securitized debt instruments through one or more schemes and includes any trust set up by the National Housing Bank under National Housing Bank Act 1987 or by the National Bank for Agricultural and Rural Development Act, 1981.

The amendments in SCRA has enabled SEBI to provide for disclosure based regulation (SEBI (Public Offer And Listing Of Securitised Debt Instruments) Regulations 2008) for public issue of or listing of securitized debt instruments on the recognized stock exchanges.

These regulations are principle based and have been made taking into account the market needs, cost of the transactions, competition policy, the professional expertise of credit rating agencies, disclosures and obligations of the parties involved in the transaction.

The main features of the regulations are as follows:

(a) The special purpose distinct entity (the issuer) will be a trust and the trustees thereof will require registration from SEBI. The instrument issued by the issuer to the investor shall acknowledge the beneficial interest of such investor in underlying debt or receivables assigned to the issuer. The issuer can undertake only the activities permitted by the regulations.

(b) The regulations permit securitization of both existing as well as future receivables.

(c) The regulations provide flexibility in terms of pay through / pass through structures.

(d) In case of public issuances listing will be mandatory. The instruments issued on private placement basis may also be listed subject to the compliance of simplified provisions of the regulations.

(e) Regulations require strict segregation of assets of each scheme.

Some Major Compliances

— Ensure that special purpose distinct entity files draft offer document with SEBI atleast 15 days before proposed opening of the issue.
— Ensure that special purpose distinct entity has made arrangements with Registered Depositories for dematerialization of the securitized debt instruments.

— Ensure that special purpose distinct entity has made an application for listing to one or more recognized exchanges in terms of 17A(2) of SCRA — Ensure that credit rating is obtained from atleast two registered credit rating agencies and the same is disclosed in the offer document.

— Ensure that the contents of offer document has the required details and does not contain any misleading statements.

— Ensure to file necessary information/reports, post issue as directed by SEBI from time to time.

— Ensure that the special purpose distinct entity complies with its obligation relating to Minimum public offering for listing, continuous listing conditions etc.

CORPORATE RESTRUCTURING THROUGH MERGERS ACQUISITIONS AND TAKEOVERS – AN OVER VIEW

Introduction

Takeovers, mergers and acquisition activities continue to accelerate. From banking to oil exploration and telecommunication to power generation, companies are coming together as never before. Not only this new industries like e-commerce and biotechnology have been exploding and old industries are being transformed. Corporate Restructuring through acquisitions, mergers, amalgamations, arrangements and takeovers has become integral to corporate strategy today.

Mergers

A merger has been defined as ‘the fusion or absorption of one thing or right into another’. A merger has also been defined as an arrangement whereby the assets of two (or more) companies become vested in, or under the control of one company (which may or may not be one of the original two Companies), which has as its shareholders all or substantially all, the shareholders of the two companies.
In a merger, one of the two existing companies merges its identity into another existing company or one of more existing companies may form a new company and merge their identities into the new company by transferring their businesses and undertakings including all other assets and liabilities to the new company (hereinafter referred to as the merged company). The shareholders of the company or companies, whose identity/ies has/have been merged (hereinafter referred to as the merging company or companies, as the case may be) will have substantial shareholding in the merged company. They will be allotted shares in the merged company in exchange for the shares held by them in the merging company or companies, as the case may be, according to the shares exchange ratio incorporated in the scheme of merger as approved by all or the prescribed majority of the shareholders of the merging company or companies and the merged company in their separate general meetings and sanctioned by the court.

CATEGORIES OF MERGERS

Mergers may be broadly classified as follows:

(i) Cogeneric — within same industries and taking place at the same level of economic activity — exploration, production or manufacturing wholesale distribution or retail distribution to the ultimate consumer.

(ii) Conglomerate – between unrelated businesses

Cogeneric Mergers

Cogeneric mergers are of two types:

Horizontal Merger

This class of merger is a merger between business competitors who are manufacturers or distributors of the same type of products or who render similar or same type of services for profit. It involves joining together of two or more companies which are producing essentially the same products or rendering same or similar services or their products and services directly to compete in the market with each other. Horizontal mergers result into a reduction in the number of competing companies in an industry and increase the scope for economies of scale and elimination of duplicate facilities. However, their main drawback is that they promote monopolistic trend in the industrial sector. The acquisition in 1999 of Mobil by Exxon represented a horizontal merger.

Vertical Merger

In a vertical merger two or more companies are complementary to each other e.g. one of the companies is engaged in the manufacture of a particular product, the other is established and expert in the marketing of that product. In this merger the two companies merge and control the production and marketing of the same product.
A vertical merger may result into smooth and efficient flow of production and distribution of a particular product and reduction in handling and stockholding costs. It also poses a risk of monopolistic trend in the industry.

Conglomerate Merger

A conglomerate merger involves coming together of two companies in different industries i.e., the businesses of the two companies are not related to each other, neither horizontally nor vertically. They lack any commonality either in their end product, or in the rendering of any specific type of service to the society. This is the type of merger of companies which are neither competitors, nor complementaries nor suppliers of a particular raw material nor consumers of a particular product or consumable. A conglomerate merger is one which is neither horizontal nor vertical. In this the merging companies operate in unrelated markets having no functional economic relationship.

Mergers may further be categorised as:

Cash Merger

A merger in which certain shareholders are required to accept cash for their shares while other shareholders receive shares in the continuing enterprise.

Defacto Merger

Defacto merger has been defined as a transaction that has the economic effect of a statutory merger but is cast in the form of an acquisition of assets.

Down Stream Merger

The merger of parent company into its subsidiary is called down stream merger.

Up stream Merger

The merger of subsidiary company into its parent company is called an up stream merger.

Short-form Merger

A number of statutes provide special company rules for the merger of a subsidiary into its parent where the parent owns substantially all of the shares of the subsidiary. This is known as a short form merger. Short form mergers generally may be effected by adoption of a resolution of merger by the parent company, and mailing a copy of plan of merger to all shareholders of subsidiary and filing the executed documents with the prescribed authority under the statute. This type of merger is less expensive and time consuming than the normal type of merger.

Triangular Merger
Triangular merger means the amalgamation of two companies by which the disappearing company is merged into subsidiary of surviving company and shareholders of the disappearing company receive shares of the surviving company.

Reverse Merger

Reverse merger takes place when a healthy company amalgamates with a financially weak company. In the context of the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956, there is no difference between regular merger and reverse merger. It is like any other amalgamation. [For a detailed analysis of the concept of reverse merger, refer to Gujrat High Court judgment in Bihari Mills Ltd. case (1985) 58 Comp Cas 6].

Reverse merger can be carried out through the High Court route, but where one of the merging companies is a sick industrial company under SICA, such merger must take place through BIFR. On the amalgamation becoming effective, the sick company's name may be changed to that of the healthy company.

Reverse merger automatically makes the transferor-company entitled for the benefit of carry forward and set-off of loss and unabsorbed depreciation of the transferee-company. There is no need to comply with Section 72A of Income Tax Act.

Amalgamation

Amalgamation is an ‘arrangement’ or ‘reconstruction’. Amalgamation is a legal process by which two or more companies are joined together to form a new entity or one or more companies are to be absorbed or blended with another and as a consequence the amalgamating company loses its existence and its shareholders become the shareholders of new company or the amalgamated company. In case of amalgamation a new company may come into existence or an old company may survive while amalgamating company may lose its existence.

Takeover

Takeover means acquisition by one company of control over another, usually by buying all or a majority of its shares. A transaction or a series of transactions by which a person acquires control over the assets of a company is generally known as takeover of the company. On the other hand an arrangement whereby the assets of two companies vest in one is known as merger.

TAKEOVERS

Takeover has been defined as a business transaction whereby an individual or a group of individuals or a company acquires control over the assets of a company, either directly by becoming owner of those assets or indirectly by obtaining control of the management of the company. In the ordinary case, the company taken over is smaller but in a ‘reverse takeover’ a smaller company gains control over the larger company. This is different from ‘merger’ wherein the shareholding in the combined enterprise will be spread between the shareholders of the two companies. Normally the company which wants to takeover the other company acquires the shares of the target company either in a single transaction or a series of transactions. In case of amalgamation under Section 391-394 of the Companies Act, 1956 the amalgamating as well as amalgamated company have to apply to the High Court(s) for making order of amalgamation. However, the regulatory framework for controlling the takeover activities of a company consists of the Companies Act, 1956, Listing Agreement with Stock Exchanges and SEBI's Takeover Code.

Takeover Bid

In simple language a takeover is acquisition of shares, voting rights in a company with a view to gaining control over the management of the company.

A “takeover bid” is an offer addressed to each shareholder of a company, whose shares are not closely held, to buy his shares in the company at the offered price within the stipulated period of time. It is addressed to the shareholders with a view to acquiring sufficient number of shares to give the offeror company, voting control of the target company. It is usually expressed to be conditional upon a specified percentage of shares being the subject-matter of acceptance by or before a stipulated date.

A takeover bid is a technique, which is adopted by a company for taking over control of the management and affairs of another company by acquiring its controlling shares.

KINDS OF TAKEOVERS

(1) Friendly takeover;
(2) Hostile takeover.

Friendly Takeover

A friendly takeover is with the consent of taken over company. There is an agreement between the management of two companies through negotiations and the takeover bid may be with the consent of majority or all shareholders of the target company, which is referred to as friendly takeover bid.

Hostile Takeover

When an acquirer company does not offer the target company the proposal to acquire its undertaking but silently and unilaterally pursues efforts to gain control against the wishes of existing management such acts of acquirer are known as ‘takeover raids’ or hostile ‘takeover bids’. The main distinction between a friendly takeover and hostile takeover is whether there is a mutual understanding between the acquirer and the taken over company. When there is a mutual understanding, it is friendly takeover otherwise it is termed as hostile takeover.

In a takeover, the taking over company has two options, viz., (I) to merge both companies into one and operate both the undertakings as a single entity, and (ii) to keep the takenover company a separate and independent company, with changed management, changed policies or even with a changed name.

Takeover may be of different types depending upon the intention of the management of the taking over company.

1. A takeover may be a straight takeover which is accomplished by the management of the taking over company by acquisition of shares of another company with an intention to maintain and operate the takeover company as an independent legal entity.

2. Another type of takeover may be with an intention of capturing the ownership of the takeover company in order to merge both companies into one and operate business and undertakings of both the companies as a single legal entity.

3. A third type of take over is the takeover of a sick industrial company for the purpose of revival of its business. This is accomplished by an order of the Board for Industrial and Financial reconstruction (BIFR) under the provisions of the Sick Industrial Companies (Special Provisions) Act, 1985

4. Bail out takeover is substantial acquisition of shares in a financially weak company not being a sick industrial company, in pursuance to a scheme of rehabilitation approved by a public financial institution or a scheduled bank (hereinafter referred to as the lead institution). The lead institution is responsible for ensuring compliance with the provisions of the SEBI (Substantial Acquisition and Takeovers) Regulations, 1997, which regulate the bail out takeovers.

CULTURAL ISSUES ON MERGERS, ACQUISITIONS AND TAKE OVERS

Accenture and the Economist Intelligence Unit in the first half of 2006, surveyed senior executives in North America, Europe and Asia on their mergers and acquisitions (M&A) activities and their experience in integrating companies. Similar survey was also administered to 156 executives based in India during the fourth quarter of 2006.

Of the total respondents in India, 40% were senior-level. About 64% were from companies that had global annual revenues of US$100m or more and 36% had revenues of US$1bn or more. 45% executive mainly played roles in strategy and business development and 42% in general management. Their companies were from a wide range of industries, including financial services (25%), IT and technology (21%) and professional services (13%).

Following are the key findings of the survey on human and cultural factors.

Human and Cultural Factors

Accenture Survey points out that for integrating a cross border company, 43%, respondents found addressing cultural issues as critical. The real challenge, after an acquisition is, therefore, the integration of the two companies. That is why the integration should be given a focused attention. There should be a focus on aligning the acquired company’s processes through the business excellence model.
Human Factor

Studies on post-acquisition performance have primarily been a centre of interest of researchers in strategy, economics and finance. The identified factors of performance variations have usually ranged from the industry match (complementary of assets, similarities of markets and products, synergies in production, strategic orientation, etc.), pricing policy, financing and size of the operation and type of the transaction, bidding conditions, etc.

By contrast to quantitative measurements from finance and economics, the research, which has focused on the organizational and human side of M&As, has mostly dealt with identifying factors that might have played a role in the integration process of the merging entities and led to successful outcomes. Despite the absence of a direct causal correlation, several dimensions have been identified as having an important impact on M&A performance, these include psychological, cultural and managerial factors, knowing that the human factor covers at the same time employees and managers of the companies.

Psychological Factors

A large part of the existing research has looked at the psychological effects of M&A on employees. Scholars have pointed out that strong impact that the operations could have on employees, in particular the resulting increase in stress and anxiety due to changes in work practices and tasks, managerial routines, colleagues environment, the hierarchy, etc. Further, merger and acquisitions often introduce an environment of uncertainty among employees about job losses and future career development. It has been pointed out that stress and insecurity may lead to employee resistance to change, absenteeism and lack of commitment to work and the organisation. Employee resistance prevents the building up of a well functioning organisation and constructive cooperative environment. Lack of work commitments have a negative impact on individual and organizational performance measured in terms of productivity, quality, and service. Moreover, a relationship between organizational and financial performance has also been identified which may have consequences for the market value of company.

On the other hand, it has been argued that satisfied employees are presumed to work harder, better, and longer with higher productivity records. Even though a direct relationship between job satisfaction and corporate performance remains to be established with certainty, it appears that lower job satisfaction is a cause of higher absenteeism, which, in turn is shown to have a negative influence on organizational performance.

Cultural factors

Cultural differences look like playing both ways. Although distant cultural environments make the integration process harder, the lack of culture-fit or cultural compatibility has often been used to explain M&A failure. Cultural differences have also been considered a source of lower commitment to work, making co-operation more difficult, particularly from employees of the acquired company. In this regard, scholars have largely given account of the lack of co-operation momentum stemming from a “we” versus “them” attitude, resulting in hostility among employees.

It is, therefore, no surprise that strong cultural differences are usually associated with a negative impact on M&A performance, since the integration process is less easy and deals with higher employee resistance, communication problems, and lower interest in co-operation. Noticeably, cultural clashes are likely to be more prominent in cross-national than domestic acquisitions, since such mergers bring together not only two companies that have different organizational cultures but also organizational cultures rooted in national diversity. The scholars have identified building up of a common culture as essential for the success of merger and acquisitions. Researchers have found that high levels of employees’ social identification with the organization’s identity results in increased work effort, higher performance, reduced staff turnover and more frequent involvement in positive organizational citizenship.

TAKE OVER DEFENSES

Hostile takeovers directly made to the shareholders of target company has resulted in a multiple defensive strategies by corporate from being taken over by the company.

Few of the defensive strategies are as follows.

1. Pac-man Defense

   Under this strategy target company attempts to purchase the shares of acquirer company provided it has substantial cash flow or liquidable asset.

2. White Knight

   This is seeking another company (called white knight company) seeking merger, for rescuing the target company.

3. Green Mail

   This is repurchase of the stock by target company at a higher premium to avoid hostile takeovers.
4. Poison pills

Creation of securities (which is also called poison pills) which provide their holders with special rights exercisable only after a period of time following the occurrences of triggering event.

5. Refusal by the Board to register a transfer is also being adopted as a defensive strategy.

LESSON ROUND UP

- A friendly takeover is with the consent of taken over company. There is an agreement between the management of two companies through negotiations and the takeover bid may be with the consent of majority or all shareholders of the target company, which is referred to as friendly takeover bid.

- When an acquirer company does not offer the target company the proposal to acquire its undertaking but silently and unilaterally pursues efforts to gain control against the wishes of existing management such acts of acquirer are known as ‘takeover raids’ or hostile ‘takeover bids’.
SEBI (SAST) Regulations, 2011 requires the acquirer to make a public announcement and a public offer on acquisition of a certain percentage of shares or voting rights in a company. However, certain circumstances have been provided in regulation 10, subject to which if an acquirer acquires the specified percentage of shares or voting rights, he would be exempted from the requirement of making an open offer to the existing shareholders of the company.

Any acquirer, who acquires shares or voting rights which (taken together with shares or voting rights, if any, held by him) would entitle him to more than specified percentage of shares or voting rights, shall disclose at every stage the aggregate of his shareholding or voting rights in that company to the company and to the stock exchanges where shares of the target company are listed.

Trigger point is a point where provisions of SEBI (SAST) Regulations, 2011 i.e. takeover code gets triggered and the acquirer is required to follow public announcement and other requirements as mentioned in the regulations in respect of further acquisition.

An acquirer who intends to acquire shares which along with his existing shareholding would entitle him to exercise 25% or more voting rights, can acquire such additional shares only after making a public announcement (PA) to acquire at least additional 26% of the voting capital of Target Company from the shareholders through an open offer.

An acquirer who holds 25% or more but less than maximum permissible non-public shareholdings can acquire such additional shares as would entitle him to exercise more than 5% of the voting rights in any financial year ending March 31 only after making a public announcement to acquire at least additional 20% shares of target company from the shareholders through an open offer.

There are several obligations/compliances to be fulfilled by the acquirer, target company and merchant banker at the time of taking over a company.

STUDY VI
INTERNAL AUDIT OF DEPOSITION PARTICIPANTS

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

The objective of this study lesson is to enable the students to understand
- An overview of Depository System
- Legal framework for Depository Participants
- Role of Depository Participants
- Objective and scope of Internal Audit of Depository Participants
- Check list on Internal Audit of Depository Participants

DEPOSITORY SYSTEM - AN OVERVIEW

The Depository System functions very much like the banking system. A bank holds funds in accounts whereas a Depository holds securities in accounts for its clients. A Bank transfers funds between accounts whereas a Depository transfers securities between accounts. In both systems, the transfer of funds or securities happens without the actual handling of funds or securities. Both the Banks and the Depository are accountable for the safe keeping of funds and securities respectively.

In the depository system, share certificates belonging to the investors are to be dematerialised and their names are required to be entered in the records of depository as beneficial owners. Consequent to these changes, the investors’ names in the companies’ register are replaced by the name of depository as the registered owner of the securities. The depository, however, does not have any voting rights or other economic rights in respect of the shares as a registered owner. The beneficial owner continues to enjoy all the rights and benefits and is subject to all the liabilities in respect of the securities held by a depository. Shares in the depository mode are fungible and cease to have distinctive numbers. The transfer of ownership changes in the depository is done automatically on the basis of delivery v. payment.

In the Depository mode, corporate actions such as IPOs, rights, conversions, bonus, mergers/amalgamations, subdivisions & consolidations are carried out without the movement of papers, saving both cost & time. Information of beneficiary owners is readily available. The issuer gets information on changes in shareholding pattern on a regular basis, which enables the issuer to efficiently monitor the changes in shareholdings.

The Depository system links the issuing corporates, Depository Participants (DPs), the Depositories and clearing corporation/clearing house of stock exchanges. This network facilitates holding of securities in the soft form and effects transfers by means of account transfers.

Depository Participant

Just as a brokers act an agent of the investor at the Stock Exchange; a Depository Participant (DP) is the representative (agent) of the investor in the depository system providing the link between the Company and investor through the Depository. The Depository Participant maintains securities account balances and intimate the status of holding to the account holder from time to time. According to SEBI guidelines, Financial Institutions like banks, custodians, stockbrokers etc. can become participants in the depository. A DP is one with whom an investor needs to open an account to deal in shares in electronic form. While the Depository can be compared to a Bank, DP is like a branch of that bank with which an account can be opened. The main characteristics of a depository participant are as under:

- Acts as an Agent of Depository
- Customer interface of Depository
- Functions like Securities Bank
- Account opening
- Facilitates dematerialisation
- Instant transfer on pay-out
- Credits to investor in IPO, rights, bonus
- Settles trades in electronic segment

LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR DEPOSITORY PARTICIPANTS

The legal framework for a depository system has been laid down by the Depositories Act, 1996 and is regulated by SEBI. The depository business in India is regulated by –

- The Depositories Act, 1996
- The SEBI (Depositories and Participants) Regulations, 1996
- Bye-laws of Depository

Apart from the above, Depositories and Depository participants are also governed by certain provisions of:

- The Companies Act, 1956
- The Indian Stamp Act, 1899
- Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992
- Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956
- Benami Transaction (Prohibition) Act, 1988
- Income Tax Act, 1961
- Bankers’ Books Evidence Act, 1891

The legal framework for depository system as envisaged in the Depositories Act, 1996 provides for the establishment of single or multiple depositories. Any body to be eligible for providing depository services must be formed and registered as a company under the Companies Act, 1956 and seek registration with SEBI and obtain a Certificate of Commencement of Business from SEBI on fulfillment of the prescribed conditions. The investors opting to join depository mode are required to enter into an agreement with depository through a participant who acts as an agent of depository. The agencies such as custodians, banks, financial institutions, large corporate brokerage firms, non-banking financial companies etc. act as participants of depositories. The companies issuing securities are also required to enter into an agreement with the Depository.

Under the Depositories Act, 1996:

(i) Section 2(1)(g) of the Depositories Act, 1996 defines a participant to mean a person registered under Sub-section (1A) of section 12 of the SEBI Act, 1992. Section 12(1A) of the SEBI Act, 1992 provides that no DP shall buy or sell or deal in securities except under and in accordance with the conditions of a certificate of registration granted by SEBI in accordance with the regulations made by SEBI.

(ii) Section 4 provides that a Depository shall enter into an agreement with one or more DPs as its agents and such an agreement shall be in such form as specified by the bye-laws of the Depository.

(iii) Section 5 provides that any person may avail of Depository services by executing an agreement through a DP with the Depository.

(iv) Section 7(1) provides that every Depository shall on receipt of intimation from a DP, register the transfer of security in the name of transferee.

(v) Section 16 provides that in event of any loss being caused to the beneficial owner by the negligence of the Depository or the DP, the Depository shall in the first place indemnify the beneficial owner and where the loss has been caused by the DP, the Depository shall recover the loss from it.

(vi) Section 18 – The DP can be called upon by the SEBI to furnish such information relating to the securities held in a depository as may be required.
Also its affairs can be inspected by any person so authorized by SEBI.

(vii) Section 19A to 19G – Under these sections a DP is liable to penalty for failure to furnish information/return; enter into agreements; redress Investors’ grievances; make delay in dematerialisation or issue of certificates of securities; failure in reconciliation of records; and failure to comply with directions issued by SEBI etc.

Under the SEBI (Depositories and Participants) Regulations, 1996

Understanding of certain concepts

(a) Dematerialisation;
(b) Rematerialisation;
(c) Corporate Actions/Benefits; and
(d) Pledge/Hypothecation.

Dematerialisation

Dematerialisation is a process of conversion of physical certificates into electronic balances. Before the process of dematerialisation is set in motion some essential prerequisites need to be considered as under:

(a) An investor must open an Account with a DP.
(b) Only the securities eligible for demat can be dematerialised.
(c) The securities must be in the name of the account holder and owned by him.
(d) A separate demat requisition form (DRF) is required for each issuer.
(e) A separate DRF is required for lock-in and lockfree securities.
(f) The DRF form must be signed by all the joint holders.

Rematerialisation

Rematerialisation means the conversion of dematerialised holdings back into the physical certificates.

In a simplified form the process of Rematerialisation could be explained hereunder:

(a) Investor to submit the Rematerialisation Request Form (RRF) to the DP.
(b) DP to electronically intimate the Depository.
(c) DP to submit RRF to the Registrar/Issuer Company.
(d) Depository confirms rematerialisation request to the Registrar/Issuer Company.
(e) Registrar/Issuer Company verifies particulars, prints certificates and intimates the Depository.
(f) Depository updates Accounts and downloads details to DP.
(g) Registrar/Issuer despatches certificates to the investor.
Corporate Actions

Corporate actions are benefits given by a company to its members. Corporate benefits/actions would include rights issues/bonus issues, dividend payments, interest payments etc. [i.e. both monetary and non-monetary benefits].

Whenever a corporate action is announced, the issuer or its registrar and transfer agent, should inform its depository just after the day of communication of the same to the relevant stock exchange(s). The depository should then inform the participants, through a circular about the relevant action, the no-delivery period, the cut-off date and the procedure to be followed by the participants. The participants, upon receiving such information, should ensure that:

(i) the changes in tax status, bank details, change of address etc in the beneficial owner’s accounts are updated in advance of the book closure record date.

(ii) all positions in the transitory accounts e.g. Clearing accounts and intermediary accounts are cleared and balances lying therein are transferred to the relevant beneficiary accounts in advance of the book closure/relevant dates.

(iii) while transferring securities to the clearing accounts, only the settlement number in which the securities will ultimately be settled is mentioned, rather than the settlement number in respect of which there is no-delivery.

(iv) it remains connected till end-of-day processing on the record date or the business date immediately prior to book closure.

On the basis of the particulars of the holding of beneficial owners received from the depository as of the cut-off date, the issuer or its registrar and transfer agent would distribute dividend, interest and other monetary benefits directly to the beneficial owners.

Pledge/Hypothecation

Securities held in a depository account can be pledged or hypothecated against a loan, credit, guarantee etc, availed by the beneficial owner of such securities. For this, it is imperative that both the parties to the agreement, have a beneficiary account with a depository. It is however not necessary that both of them have their depository account with the same participant or same depository. If a beneficial owner intends to create a pledge on a security, owned by him Regulation 58 of SEBI (Depositories and Participants) Regulations, 1998 have to be borne in mind. We here analyse the respective byelaws and Business Rules of NSDL in this context:-

If a Client intends to create a pledge on a security owned by him, he shall make an application in this regard in the form specified in the Business Rules to the Depository through the Participant, who has his account in respect of such securities.

The pledgor and the pledgee must have an account in the Depository to create a pledge. However, the pledgor and the pledgee may hold an account with two different Participants.

The Participant after satisfaction that the securities are available for pledge shall

The two Depository service provides in India, viz.,
(1) National Securities Depository Ltd. (NSDL) and
(2) Central Depository Services (India) Limited (CDSL)

These Depositories have allowed Company Secretaries in whole-time Practice to undertake internal audit of the operations of Depository Participants (DPs).

INTERNAL AND CONCURRENT AUDIT - NSDL

As per Bye Law 10.3, every Participant shall ensure that an internal audit in respect of its depository operations is conducted at intervals of not more than six months by a qualified Chartered Accountant or a Company Secretary holding a Certificate of Practice and a copy of the internal audit report shall be furnished to the Depository.”

As prescribed vide Circular no. NSDL/POLICY/2006/0021 dated June 24, 2006, activities related to account opening, control and verification of Delivery Instruction Slips (DIS) are subject to concurrent audit which must be completed by the next working day. If such audit cannot be completed by next working day due to large volume, it must be completed within a week.

The Chartered Accountants, Company Secretaries or Cost and Management Accountants who are engaged in Internal Audit or Inspection of the Participant in respect of its depository operations, should not have any conflict of interest with the said Participant.

Objective of audit as per NSDL Circular No. NSDL/policy/2009/O/05 dated Nov. 10, 2009

Following are the broad objectives of internal audit of depository operations:

1. (i) To assure the management that the operations of the Participants are in compliance with the requirements of The Depositories Act, 1996, SEBI (Depositories and Participants) Regulations, 1996, NSDL Bye Laws and Business Rules, its agreement with the Client and NSDL and various circulars issued by NSDL from time to time.

(ii) To assure management that the DPM is managed and maintained in a manner that there is no threat to business continuity, integrity of data processing system is maintained at all times and methods are put in place to ensure that records are not lost, destroyed or tampered with or in the event of loss or destruction of data, sufficient backup of records is available at all times.

(iii) To assure management that the capacity of computer system, staff strength and internal procedures are commensurate with the level of business activity.

(iv) To assure management that the business operations of the Participants are conducted in a manner that the foreseeable risks are addressed with appropriate internal control mechanism.

(v) To assure management that the business operations of the Participants are conducted as per the operations manual and in strict adherence with NSDL prescribed procedures.
2. Audit program should cover all facets of the depository operations. Auditor may expand the scope of audit/add more audit points to achieve the objectives listed above. Participants are advised to extend full co-operation to their auditors to enable them to perform an effective audit. All circulars/guidelines issued by NSDL/SEBI from time to time and other information/records desired by the auditors should be made available to them within reasonable time.

3. Participants should submit the audit report to NSDL as per schedule given below.

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Audit Period</th>
<th>Due date for submission of report to NSDL</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>April 1 to September 30</td>
<td>November 15</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>October 1 to March 31</td>
<td>May 15</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

4. New Participants which are operational for less than three months in an audit period can submit audit report for that audit period with the audit report for next audit period. For example, if a Participant is made operational by NSDL on July 2, 2009, then it can submit single audit report for the period July 2, 2009 – March 31, 2010.

5. As prescribed vide Circular no. NSDL/POLICY/2006/0021 dated June 24, 2006, activities related to account opening, control and verification of Delivery Instruction Slips (DIS) are subject to concurrent audit which must be completed by the next working day. If such audit cannot be completed by the next working day due to large volume, it must be completed within a week. The guidelines provided in Annexure 1 in respect of these activities are applicable for concurrent audit as well.

6. Participants can appoint same auditor for concurrent and internal audit. If both are performed by the same auditor, then consolidated report must be submitted instead of two separate reports. If two audits are being performed by different auditors, then two separate reports should be submitted.

7. The guidelines provided in this circular are applicable for audit period October 1, 2009 to March 31, 2010 and onwards. Audit report for period April 1, 2009 to September 30, 2009 may be submitted as per existing guidelines (i.e. guidelines provided in Circular no. NSDL/POLICY/20008/0077 dated November 3, 2008) or as per the new guidelines provided in this circular.

8. Internal and/or concurrent audit reports which are not as per guidelines will be treated as non submission of the report. NSDL reserves the right to advise a Participant to change its auditor if quality of the report is not satisfactory or if the audit is not carried out as per the guidelines.

9. A training program will be conducted for internal/concurrent auditors by NSDL shortly. Schedule and details of the program will be communicated to the Participants. Participants may request their auditors to take benefit of the training program.

10. Participants may encourage their auditors to acquire certification under NCFAAM – NSDL Depository Operations module.

Internal and Concurrent Audit-CDSL

Internal Audit

The DP should ensure that an internal audit is conducted for the period ending 31st March and 30th September in respect of its operations relating to CDSL by an independent qualified Chartered Accountant or a Company Secretary in practice. A copy of the Internal Audit report should be furnished to CDSL by 15th May for half year ended 31st March and 15th November for half year ended 30th September.

Concurrent Audit

The DPs are required to conduct the concurrent audit of risk prone areas (as specified by CDSL from time to time) of their CDSL operations. The concurrent audit should be conducted by an independent firm of qualified Chartered Accountants or Company Secretaries holding a Certificate of Practice.

The internal and/or concurrent audit of risk prone areas of the DP should be conducted by an independent qualified Chartered Accountant or Company Secretary in practice. At least one person conducting the internal and/or concurrent audit of risk prone areas should be either BCCD(BSE Certificate on Central Depository) certified or should have participated in the training programme conducted by CDSL. The report should contain a declaration to that effect.

Consolidated Report of Internal and Concurrent Audit

The DP shall submit only one report covering the ‘Concurrent Audit of Risk Prone Areas’ and ‘Internal Audit Report’. If the Internal and Concurrent Auditor is the same for a DP, the internal auditor would specifically confirm 100% checking of areas to be covered under concurrent audit of risk prone areas.

If the Internal and Concurrent Auditor is different for a DP, the consolidated concurrent audit report for the six months should be attached along with the internal audit report.

Audit of Reconciliation of capital

Regulation 55A as inserted by SEBI (Depositories and Participants) (Second Amendment) Regulations, 2003 provides that every issuer shall submit an audit report on quarterly basis to the concerned stock exchanges audited by a qualified Chartered Accountant or practising company secretary, for the purposes of reconciliation of total issued capital, listed capital and capital held by depositories in dematerialized form, the details of changes in share capital during the quarter and the in-principle approval obtained by the issuer from all the stock exchanges where it is listed in respect of such further issued capital.

STUDY VII
ISSUE OF DEPOSITARY RECEIPTS

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

The objective of this study lesson is to enable the students to understand
- Concept and types of Depositary Receipts
- Sponsored Global Depositary Receipts/Global Depositary Receipts through Fresh issue of shares
- Regulatory framework in and outside India in respect of issue of GDRs
- Parties, documents, approvals and process involved in the issue of GDRs
- Check list for issue of Global Depositary Receipts/American Depositary Receipts

I. INTRODUCTION

The Government has taken a number of policy initiatives to allow Indian companies to raise resources from the International markets. Consequently raising funds through Euro Issues has become popular with Indian companies and investors both. Indian companies found this route very attractive and today more and more companies are trying this avenue to raise funds. International offering made by companies for tapping the international capital markets can be through the following modes.
Foreign Currency Convertible Bond, is an Equity-linked convertible security that can be converted/exchanged for a specific number of shares of the issuer company.

Depositary Receipts (DRs) are negotiable securities issued outside India by a Depositary Bank, on behalf of an Indian company, which represent the local Rupee denominated equity shares of the company held as deposit by a Custodian Bank in India. DRs are traded in Stock Exchanges in the US, Singapore, Luxembourg etc. DRs listed and traded in the US markets are known as American Depositary Receipts (ADR)s and those listed and traded elsewhere are known as Global Depositary Receipts (GDRs). In the Indian context, DRs are treated as FDI. Indian companies can raise foreign currency resources abroad through the issue of ADRs/GDRs, in accordance with the Scheme for issue of Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds and Ordinary Shares (Through Depositary Receipt Mechanism) Scheme, 1993 and guidelines issued by the Central Government there under from time to time.

Exchange traded depository receipts from India have been relatively recent phenomenon (i.e. late 90’s) though few companies have issued GDRs through private placement in early 90’s. At present these are several active depository receipts such as Satyam, Infosys, ITC, Dr. Reddys, L&T etc. that are listed either on American exchanges like the Newyork Stock Exchange or NASDAQ or on European/Asian exchanges such as London, Dubai, Singapore exchanges. Reliance Industries was the first Indian company to be listed on NYSE and Infosys was the first Indian company to be listed on NASDAQ.

II. TYPES OF DEPOSITARY RECEIPTS

1. American Depositary Receipts (ADRs)

An American Depositary Receipt (“ADR”) is a dollar denominated form of equity ownership in the form of depositary receipts in a non-US company. It represents the foreign shares of the company held on deposit by a custodian bank in the company’s home country and carries the corporate and economic rights of the foreign shares.

Following are the types of ADRs

(a) Level I ADR (unlisted, OTC traded/Pink Sheets)
This is the least expensive level to provide for issuance of shares in ADR form in the US. The company issuing ADRs has to comply with the SEC registration requirements but can be exempted from full SEC reporting requirements under certain circumstances. It can only be traded over-the-counter and cannot be listed on a national exchange in the US. The electronic OTC markets are also called pink sheets which is a centralized quotation service that collects and publishes market maker quotes for OTC securities in real time.

(b) Level II ADRs (US Listed, Non-capital Raising Transaction (i.e. without going for public issue)
This programme gives more liquidity and marketability as it enables listing of ADRs in one or more of the US exchanges. Under this programme the company has to comply with the registration requirements, reporting requirements of SEC.

(c) Level III ADRs (US listed Capital Raising Transaction i.e., through fresh issue of shares) – This type of ADRs which are to comply with SECA Registration, Reporting requirement and after document filing.

(d) Rule 144A Depositary Receipts (Privately placed for QIBs and cannot be bought on the public exchanges or over the counter.)
2. Global Depositary Receipts

GDRs have access usually to Euro market and US market.

GDRs are often launched for capital raising purposes, so the US element is generally either through Rule 144(a) ADR or a Level III ADR, depending on whether the issuer aims to tap the private placement or public US markets.

The US portion of GDRs to be listed on US exchanges to comply with SEC requirements and the European portion are to be complied with EU directive.

(a) Listing of Global Depositary Receipts

Listing of GDR may take place in international stock exchanges such as London Stock Exchange, New York Stock Exchange, American Stock Exchange, NASDAQ, Luxemburg Stock Exchange etc.

International investors are interested in diversifying their portfolio across their national borders either through direct investment or through investment in depositary receipts from the exchanges of their home country. Investment in depositary receipts is an easier route for a small/medium investor. Through listing of depositary receipts in foreign exchanges, foreign investors gain benefits of diversification of portfolio while trading in their market under their own settlement and clearance process.
(b) Sponsored GDRs Vs GDRs through fresh issue of shares

GDR issue can be through sponsored GDR programme or through fresh issue of shares.

Through Sponsored GDRs the existing holders of shares in Indian Companies can sell their shares in the overseas market. It is a process of disinvestment by Indian shareholders of their holding in overseas market. The concerned Company sponsors the GDRs against the shares offered for disinvestment. These shares are converted into GDRs and sold to foreign investors. The proceeds realized are distributed to the shareholders in proportion to the shares sold by them.

For the benefit of Indian shareholders, RBI has amended Issue of Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds and Ordinary Shares (Through Depository Receipt Mechanism) Scheme, 1993 (‘the Scheme’), to enable such shareholders to sell their shares in overseas markets, by way of Sponsored ADRs/GDRs.

Scheme of Sponsored ADRs/GDRs

Paragraph 4B of the Scheme provides that—

(i) An Indian company may sponsor an issue of ADRs/GDRs with an overseas depository against shares held by its shareholders at a price to be determined by the Lead Manager.

(ii) The proceeds of the issue shall be repatriated to India within a period of one month.

(iii) The sponsoring company shall comply with the provisions of the Scheme and guidelines issued in this regard by the Central Government from time to time.

(iv) The sponsoring company shall furnish full details of such issue, in the form specified under Annexure C to the Scheme, to the Foreign Investment Division, Exchange Control Department, Reserve Bank of India, Central Office, Mumbai within 30 days from the date of closure of the issue.

In a layman’s language, the Scheme of Sponsored ADRs/GDRs is a process of disinvestments by the Indian shareholders of their holdings in overseas markets. The concerned company sponsors the ADRs/GDRs against the shares offered for disinvestments. Such shares are converted into ADRs/GDRs according to a pre-fixed ratio and sold to overseas investors. The proceeds realized are distributed to the shareholders in proportion to the shares sold by them.

Example

Say, a company sponsors 1 million equity shares to be converted into 2 million GDRs (ratio of course depends on the existing market price of shares and GDRs). Shareholders, as on the record date fixed for the purpose, tender their shares in the offering. If the shares offered for sale are more than the prespecified number, in our example it is 1 million shares would be accepted pro-rata. The accepted shares are then converted into GDRs and sold to overseas investors. The sale proceeds, after meeting with the issue expenses, are distributed to the shareholders proportionately.

(c) Two-way Fungibility of GDRs

A limited Two-way Fungibility scheme has been put in place by the Government of India for ADRs/GDRs. Under this scheme, a stock broker in India, registered with SEBI, can purchase shares of an Indian company from the market for conversion into ADRs/GDRs based on instructions received from overseas investors. Re-issuance of ADRs/GDRs would be permitted to the extent of ADRs/GDRs which have been redeemed into underlying shares and sold in the Indian market.

I. FOREIGN INVESTMENTS IN INDIA

Introduction

A series of ambitious economic reforms aimed at deregulating the economy and stimulating foreign investment has moved India firmly into the front runners of the rapidly growing Asia Pacific Region and unleashed the latent strength of a complex and rapidly changing nation. Today India is one of the most exciting emerging markets in the world. Skilled managerial and technical manpower that matches the best available in the world and a middle class whose size exceeds the population of the USA or the European Union, provide India with a distinct cutting edge in global competition. India’s time tested institutions offer foreign investors a transparent environment that guarantees the security of their long term investments. These include a free and vibrant press, a well established judiciary, a sophisticated legal and accounting system and a user friendly intellectual infrastructure. India’s dynamic and highly competitive private sector has long been the backbone of its economic activity and offers considerable scope for foreign direct investment, joint ventures and collaborations.

Before setting up a business entity, the foreign investor has to consider the factors such as the eligibility, fund raising avenues, special concessions, tax implications, different options in terms of form of business such as company, branch office etc, incentives and exemptions available, industry specific requirement, specific area requirements (State laws) etc.

Statutory Basis

Foreign Direct Investment by non-resident in resident entities through transfer or issue of security to person resident outside India is a ‘Capital account transaction’ and is regulated under FEMA, 1999 and its regulations. Keeping in view the current requirements, the Government from time to time comes up with new regulations and amendments/changes in the existing ones through order/allied rules, Press Notes, etc. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), Ministry of Commerce & Industry, Government of India makes policy pronouncements on FDI through Press Notes/Press Releases which are notified by the Reserve Bank of India as amendment to notification No.FEMA 20/2000-RB dated May 3, 2000. These notifications take effect from the date of issue of Press Notes/Press Releases, unless specified otherwise therein. The procedural instructions are issued by the Reserve Bank of India vide A.P.Dir. (series) Circulars. The regulatory framework over a period of time thus consists of Acts, Regulations, Press Notes, Press Releases, Clarifications, etc. The Circular 1 of 2010 issued by this Department on 31st March 2010 and consolidated into one document all the prior policies/regulations on FDI which are contained in FEMA, 1999, RBI Regulations under FEMA, 1999 and Press Notes/Press Releases/Clarifications issued by DIPP and reflected the current policy framework on FDI.. The present consolidation subsumes and supersedes all Press Notes/Press Releases/Clarifications/Circulars issued by DIPP, which were in force as on September 30th, 2010, and reflects the FDI Policy as on October 1st, 2010. This Circular accordingly has taken effect from October 1, 2010. While this circular consolidates FDI Policy Framework, the legal edifice is built on notifications issued by RBI under FEMA. Therefore, any changes notified by RBI from time to time would have to be complied with and where there is a need / scope of interpretation, the relevant FEMA notification will prevail.

Entry Options

A foreign company planning to set up business operations in India has the following entry options:
WHO CAN INVEST IN INDIA?

A non-resident entity can invest in India, subject to the FDI Policy.

A citizen of Pakistan or an entity incorporated in Pakistan

What about citizens of Bangladesh, Nepal and Bhutan?

A citizen of Bangladesh or an entity incorporated in Bangladesh can invest in India under the FDI Policy, only under the Government route. NRIs resident in Nepal and Bhutan as well as citizens of Nepal and Bhutan are permitted to invest in the capital of Indian companies on repatriation basis, subject to the condition that the amount of consideration for such investment shall be paid only by way of inward remittance in free foreign exchange through normal banking channels.

What about OCBs and FIIs?

OCBs have been derecognized as a class of Investors in India with effect from September 16, 2003. Erstwhile OCBs which are incorporated outside India and are not under the adverse notice of RBI can make fresh investments under FDI Policy as incorporated non-resident entities, with the prior approval of Government of India if the investment is through Government route; and with the prior approval of RBI if the investment is through Automatic route.

An FII may invest in the capital of an Indian company either under the FDI Scheme/Policy or the Portfolio Investment Scheme. 10% individual limit and 24% aggregate limit for FII investment would still be applicable even when FIIs invest under the FDI scheme/policy.

Foreign Direct Investment Policy in India

Taking journey from 1991-2010, The Government policy on Foreign Direct Investment now freely allows FDI in all sectors including the services sector, except a few sectors where the existing and notified sectoral policy does not permit FDI beyond a ceiling. FDI for virtually all items/activities can be brought in through the Automatic Route under powers delegated to the Reserve Bank of India (RBI), and for the remaining items/activities through Government approval. Government approvals are accorded on the recommendation of the Foreign Investment Promotion Board (FIPB).
Foreign Direct Investment by non-resident in resident entities through transfer or issue of security to person resident outside India is a ‘Capital account transaction’ and Government of India and Reserve Bank of India regulate this under the FEMA, 1999 and its various regulations. Keeping in view the current requirements, the Government from time to time comes up with new regulations and amendments/changes in the existing ones through order/allied rules, Press Notes, etc. The Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion (DIPP), Ministry of Commerce & Industry, Government of India makes policy pronouncements on FDI through Press Notes/ Press Releases which are notified by the Reserve Bank of India as amendment to notification No.FEMA 20/2000-RB dated May 3, 2000. The Government has issued FDI policy consolidating all the press notes, rules notifications etc., which is effective from April 01, 2010. This consolidated policy got updated through press note 2 dated September 30, 2010 by Department of Industrial Policy and Promotion

Definition of FDI under Consolidated Policy of Government Of India

Under the consolidated FDI policy issued by Government of India, ‘FDI’ means investment by non-resident entity/person resident outside India in the capital of the Indian company under Schedule 1 of FEM (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations 2000.

Definition of FDI across countries is not comparable

OECD

As per OECD, the main financial instrument components of FDI are equity and debt instruments. Equity includes common and preferred shares (exclusive of non-participating preference shares which should be included under debt), reserves, capital contributions and reinvestment of earnings.

Dividends, distributed branch earnings, reinvested earnings and undistributed branch earnings are components of FDI income on equity.

Debt instruments include marketable securities such as bonds, debentures, commercial paper, promissory notes, non-participating preference shares and other tradable non-equity securities as well as loans, deposits, trade credit and other accounts payable/receivable.

All cross-border positions and transactions related to these instruments, between enterprises covered by an FDI relationship other than between related financial intermediaries are included in FDI.

The interest returns on the above instruments are included in FDI income on debt. Positions and transactions in financial derivatives between entities in a direct investment relationship should be excluded from direct investment

UNCTAD

As per UNCTAD, the components of FDI are equity capital, reinvested earnings and other capital (mainly intra-company loans). Other than having an equity stake in an enterprise, there are many other ways in which foreign investors may acquire an effective voice. Those include subcontracting, management contracts, turnkey arrangements, franchising, leasing, licensing and production-sharing.

Foreign Direct Investment – A restricted Definition in India!!!

Under FDI policy of India ‘FDI’ includes

- investment by non-resident entity/person resident outside India in the capital of the Indian company under Schedule 1 of FEM (Transfer or Issue of Security by a Person Resident Outside India) Regulations 2000.
- GDRs and ADRs.

FDI does not include

- reinvested earnings dividend etc.
- Partly paid shares, warrants (Issue of these instruments requires government approval irrespective of sectoral cap)

Prohibited sectors for Foreign Investment

FDI is prohibited in the following activities/sectors:

(a) Retail Trading (except single brand product retailing)
(b) Lottery Business including Government/private lottery, online lotteries, etc.
(c) Gambling and Betting including casinos etc.
(d) Business of chit fund
(e) Nidhi company
(f) Trading in Transferable Development Rights (TDRs)
(g) Real Estate Business or Construction of Farm Houses
(h) Manufacturing of Cigars, cheroots, cigarillos and cigarettes, of tobacco or of tobacco substitutes
(i) activities/sectors not opened to private sector investment including Atomic Energy and Railway Transport (other than Mass Rapid Transport Systems).

Besides foreign investment in any form, foreign technology collaboration in any form including licensing for franchise, trademark, brand name, management contract is also completely prohibited for Lottery Business and Gambling and Betting activities.

CALCULATION OF TOTAL FOREIGN INVESTMENT

Foreign Direct and Indirect Investment

Investment in Indian companies can be made both by non-resident as well as resident Indian entities. Any non-resident investment in an Indian company is direct foreign investment. Investment by resident Indian entities could again comprise of both resident and non-resident investment. Thus, such an Indian company would have indirect foreign investment if the Indian investing company has foreign investment in it. The indirect investment can be a cascading investment i.e. through multi-layered structure also.

For the purpose of computation of indirect Foreign investment, Foreign Investment in Indian company shall include all types of foreign investments i.e. FDI; investment by FIIs(holding as on March 31); NRIs; ADRs; GDRs; Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds (FCCB); fully, compulsorily and mandatorily convertible preference shares and fully, compulsorily and mandatorily convertible Debentures regardless of whether the said investments have been made under Schedule 1, 2, 3 and 6 of FEMA (Transfer or Issue of Security by Persons Resident Outside India) Regulations. All investment directly by a non-resident entity into the Indian company would be counted towards foreign investment.

Calculation of Total Foreign Investment.

(i) Counting the Direct Foreign Investment:

All investment directly by a non-resident entity into the Indian company would be counted towards foreign investment.

(ii) Counting of indirect Foreign Investment:

It is not foreign indirect investment if ‘owned and controlled’ by resident Indian citizens and/or Indian Companies

The foreign investment through the investing Indian company would not be considered for calculation of the indirect foreign investment in case of Indian companies which are ‘owned and controlled’ by resident Indian citizens and/or Indian Companies which are owned and controlled by resident Indian citizens.

It is foreign indirect investment if it is owned and controlled by non-resident Entities

If the investing company is owned or controlled by ‘non resident entities’, the entire investment by the investing company into the subject Indian Company would be considered as indirect foreign investment,

Exception

Provided that, as an exception, the indirect foreign investment in only the 100% owned subsidiaries of operating-cum-investing/investing companies, will be limited to the foreign investment in the operating-cum-investing/investing company. This exception is made since the downstream investment of a 100% owned subsidiary of the holding company is akin to investment made by the holding company and the downstream investment should be a mirror image of the holding company. This exception, however, is strictly for those cases where the entire capital of the downstream subsidy is owned by the holding company.(Refer to illustration for clarity)

What is owned or controlled?

A company is considered as ‘Owned’ by resident Indian citizens if more than 50% of the capital in it is beneficially owned by resident Indian citizens and / or Indian companies, which are ultimately owned and controlled by resident Indian citizens;

An entity is considered as ‘Owned’ by ‘non resident entities’, if more than 50% of the capital in it is beneficially owned by non-residents.

A company is considered as “Controlled” by resident Indian citizens if the resident Indian citizens and Indian companies, which are owned and controlled by resident Indian citizens, have the power to appoint a majority of its directors in that company.

An entity is considered as ‘Controlled’ by ‘non resident entities’, if non residents have the power to appoint a majority of its directors

Illustration on calculation of foreign investment

To illustrate, if the indirect foreign investment is being calculated for Company X which has investment through an investing Company Y having foreign investment, the following would be the method of calculation:

(A) where Company Y has foreign investment less than 50%- Company X would not be taken as having any indirect foreign investment through Company Y.

(B) where Company Y has foreign investment of say 75% and:
(i) invests 26% in Company X, the entire 26% investment by Company Y would be treated as indirect foreign investment in Company X;
(ii) Invests 80% in Company X, the indirect foreign investment in Company X would be taken as 80%
(iii) where Company X is a wholly owned subsidiary of Company Y (i.e. Company Y owns 100% shares of Company X), then only 75% would be treated as indirect foreign equity and the balance 25% would be treated as resident held equity. The indirect foreign equity in Company X would be computed in the ratio of 75: 25 in the total investment of Company Y in Company X.

Calculation of total foreign investment

Total foreign investment = Foreign Direct investment+ Foreign indirect investment

Foreign Direct Investment = All investment directly by a nonresident entity into the Indian company

Foreign Indirect Investment = All investment by Indian Company which are owned and controlled by non-residents.
FOREIGN INVESTMENT UNDER AUTOMATIC/APPROVAL ROUTES

Foreign Investment may be made under
- Automatic Route (Reporting of FDI to RBI)
- Approval route (with approval of Foreign Investment Promotion Board)

Under the Automatic Route, the foreign investor or the Indian company does not require any approval from the Reserve Bank or Foreign Investment Promotion Board for the investment.

Under the Government Route, prior approval Foreign Investment Promotion Board (FIPB) is required.

Foreign Direct Investment in India is allowed under automatic route except under the following circumstances.
(i) Proposals that require an industrial licence
(ii) Proposals in which the foreign collaborator has a previous venture/tie-up in India.
(iii) Proposals relating to acquisition of shares in an existing Indian Company in favour of Foreign/NRI/OCB investor.
(iv) Proposals falling outside notified sectoral caps
(v) Sectors where FDI is not permitted.
(vi) Investor chooses not to avail automatic route.

It may be noted that the capital instruments should be issued within 180 days from the date of receipt of the inward remittance or by debit to the NRE/FCNR (B) account of the non-resident investor. In case, the capital instruments are not issued within 180 days from the date of receipt of the inward remittance or date of debit to the NRE/FCNR (B) account, the amount of consideration so received should be refunded immediately to the non-resident investor by outward remittance through normal banking channels or by credit to the NRE/FCNR (B) account, as the case may be. Non-compliance with the above provision would be reckoned as a contravention under FEMA and would attract penal provisions. In exceptional cases, refund of the amount of consideration outstanding beyond a period of 180 days from the date of receipt may be considered by the RBI, on the merits of the case.

Reserve Bank of India (RBI) in order to capture the statistics relating to Foreign Direct Investment (FDI) and Overseas Direct Investment (ODI) outside India in a more comprehensive manner and to align with international best practices, introduced the concept of Annual Return which will replaces Part B of the Form – FC GPR which was required to be filed by the companies annually.

FOREIGN INVESTMENT UNDER APPROVAL ROUTE

Guidelines for consideration of FDI proposals by FIPB:

The following guidelines have been laid down to enable the FIPB to consider the proposals for FDI and formulate its recommendations.

- All applications should be put up before the FIPB by its Secretariat within 15 days and it should be ensured that comments of the administrative ministries are placed before the Board either prior to/or in the meeting of the Board.
- Proposals should be considered by the Board keeping in view the time frame of thirty (30) days for communicating Government decision.
- In cases in which either the proposal is not cleared or further information is required in order to obviate delays presentation by applicant in the meeting of the FIPB should be resorted to.
- While considering cases and making recommendations, FIPB should keep in mind the sectoral requirements and the sectoral policies vis-à-vis the proposal (s).
- FIPB would consider each proposal in its totality
- The Board should examine the following while considering proposals submitted to it for consideration.
  1. whether the items of activity involve industrial licence or not and if so the considerations for grant of industrial licence must be gone into;
  2. whether the proposal involves any export projection and if so the items of export and the projected destinations.
  3. Whether the proposal has any strategic or defence related considerations.
- While considering proposals the following may be prioritised.
  1. Items falling in infrastructure sector.
  2. Items which have an export potential.
  3. Items which have large scale employment potential and especially for rural people.

(iv) Items which have a direct or backward linkage with agro business/farm sector.

(v) Items which have greater social relevance such as hospitals, human resource development, life saving drugs and equipment.

(vi) Proposals which result in induction of technology or infusion of capital.

• The following should be especially considered during the scrutiny and consideration of proposals.

(i) The extent of foreign equity proposed to be held (keeping in view sectoral caps if any

(ii) Extent of equity from the point of view whether the proposed project would amount to a holding company/wholly owned subsidiary/a company with dominant foreign investment (i.e. 76% or more) joint venture.

(iii) Whether the proposed foreign equity is for setting up a new project (joint venture or otherwise) or whether it is for enlargement of foreign/NRI equity or whether it is for fresh induction of foreign equity/NRI equity in an existing Indian company.

(iv) In the case of fresh induction offerings/NRI equity and/or in cases of enlargement of foreign/NRI equity, in existing Indian companies whether there is a resolution of the Board of Directors supporting the said induction/enlargement of foreign/NRI equity and whether there is a shareholders agreement or not.

(v) In the case of induction of fresh equity in the existing Indian companies and/or enlargement of foreign equity in existing Indian companies, the reason why the proposal has been made and the modality for induction/enhancement (i.e. whether by increase of paid up capital/authorized capital, transfer of shares (hostile or otherwise) whether by rights issue, or by what modality.

(vi) Issue/transfer/pricing of shares will be as per SEBI/RBI guidelines.

(vii) Whether the activity is an industrial or a service activity or a combination of both.

(viii) Whether the items of activity involves any restriction by way of reservation for the Micro & Small Enterprises sector.

(ix) Whether there are any sectoral restrictions on the activity

(x) Whether the proposal involves import of items which are either hazardous, banned or detrimental to environment (e.g. import of plastic scrap or recycled plastics).

It may be noted that the Companies may not require fresh prior approval of the Government for bringing in additional foreign investment into the same entity, in the following cases:

(i) Cases of entities whose activities had earlier obtained prior approval for their initial foreign investment but subsequently such activities/sectors have been placed under automatic route;

(ii) Cases of entities whose activities had sectoral caps earlier and who had, accordingly, earlier obtained prior approval for their initial foreign investment but subsequently such caps were removed/increased and the activities placed under the automatic route; provided that such additional investment alongwith the initial/original investment does not exceed the sectoral caps; and

(iii) The cases of additional foreign investment into the same entity where prior approval had been obtained earlier for the initial/original foreign investment due to requirements of Press Note 18/1998 or Press Note 1 of 2005 and prior approval of the Government under the FDI policy is not required for any other reason/purpose.

It may be noted that the FDI policy aims at protecting the interests of joint venture partners of agreements entered into, prior to January 12, 2005. Where a non-resident investor has an existing joint venture/technology transfer/trademark agreement, as on January 12, 2005, new proposals in the same field for investment/technology transfer/technology collaboration/trademark agreement would have to be under the Government approval route through FIPB/Project Approval Board. The onus to provide requisite justification that the new proposal would not jeopardize the existing joint venture or technology transfer/trademark partner, would lie equally on the non-resident investor/technology supplier and the Indian partner.

Foreign collaboration agreements, both financial and technical, entered into after January 12, 2005, have been exempted from this stipulation. This is because such joint venture agreements are expected to include a ‘conflict of interest’ clause, so as to safeguard the interests of joint venture partners, in the event of one of the partners desiring to set up another joint venture or a wholly owned subsidiary in the same field of economic activity.

JOINT VENTURES IN INDIA

Joint Ventures and Foreign Collaborations are important business models which become more popular with the opening up of the economies in the context of liberalization, competition and globalization.

A joint venture is a partnership through which two or more firms create a separate entity to carry out a particular economic activity in which each partner takes an active role in decision making. The essential features of joint ventures may be classified as:

(a) an agreement between the parties on common long term objectives such as production, sales, financing etc.

(b) pooling of assets, IPRs and other facilities for achievement of agreed objectives

(c) sharing of profits.

Joint ventures are considered appropriate when complementary needs exist between companies and there is compatibility with the strategies.
Joint Venture (JV) and Wholly Owned Subsidiary have been defined in the Foreign Exchange Management (Transfer and Issue of Foreign Security) Regulations, 2000 as under:

Joint Venture (JV) means a foreign entity formed, registered or incorporated in accordance with the laws and regulations of the host country in which the Indian party makes a direct investment.

In recent years, the term "joint venture" has also been used interchangeably with a newer business vehicle called the "strategic alliance".

A strategic alliance is a specific form of collaboration between two or more companies. Strategic alliances with stronger overseas partners can provide a means of overcoming the problems of small size and lack of resources faced by some companies.

Features of a joint venture

Besides the requirement that a joint venture must have a contractual basis, there are certain additional requisites for the successful existence of a joint venture. Although its existence depends on the facts and circumstances of each particular case, generally the following factors must be present:

(a) Contribution by the parties in the form of money, property, effort, knowledge, skill and other assets to a common understanding;
(b) a joint property interest in the subject matter of the venture;
(c) a right of mutual control or management of the enterprise;
(d) expectation of profit;
(e) a right to participate in the profits;
(f) most usually, limitation of the objective to a single undertaking; and
(g) clear understanding of formation, performance and exit mechanism between joint venture parties.

How Does a Joint Venture Work?

— A successful joint venture is one where each partner contributes complementary skills and resources in an ongoing relationship offering mutual benefits.

— Much depends on what the two parties have to offer each other, and how these assets can be put together in a workable business structure.

— While there is no set formula for putting together a joint venture, a typical arrangement might be as follows:

1. One of the partners contributes, manufacturing technology, product know-how, patents (if any), business expertise, technical training and management.
2. The partner in the market may contribute an existing plant and facilities, local management and staff, knowledge of the local market (including distribution and sales resources), and relationships with the government, financial institutions and other groups.
3. Both partners contribute capital to establish the venture, ongoing financial support, responsibility for marketing key management decisions.

This would be particularly appropriate for joint ventures in developing countries where technology transfer is the major benefit sought by the local economy. The export of finished goods or materials may or may not be part of this package. By building a structure that reinforces each other’s respective strengths, and creating synergy, a better overall result is obtained than could be achieved by each partner independently.

Preliminary considerations

— Selection: Selection of an appropriate co-venturer can have long lasting implications for the operation and success of the venture as the ability of the co-managing parties to co-exist and make unanimous decisions is essential to the success of a joint venture. The potential parties should identify their mutual interest and establish a common objective.

— Setting out the objectives and expectations: Setting out the objectives and expectations of the venture is pre-requisite. It is essential that the nature, scope and duration of the joint venture be identified.

— Employ competent professionals: Competent professional like CS, Legal experts experienced in drafting joint venture and strategic alliance agreements should be retained as consultants, to structure the deal with proper legal advice. Professionals can assist the parties to structure a legal agreement which reflects the deal and properly addresses the subject matter and should be able to assist the parties in understanding their strengths, intentions and problems and in ensuring that the parties' goals are compatible. They can also structure an agreement which can assist the parties in terminating the relationship with minimal disruption.

— Negotiation: It is appropriate that negotiations be conducted at the level of more senior management. It is desirable to have negotiating teams consisting of senior management together with management responsible for implementing the alliance. This will assist in establishing the requisite internal consensus.

— Attitude: Negotiations for alliances should not be entered into with an adverse approach to the opposing party. This is never productive or efficient in the negotiation of any normal commercial arrangement. Adversarial negotiations when entering into strategic alliance and joint venture agreements is always' disruptive and counterproductive.

— MOU: The next step is to prepare memorandum of understanding, setting out the objectives of the joint venture prior to finalising the joint venture agreement. The MOU may set out the key features of the proposed joint venture arrangements and can represent a broad outline of the definitive agreement. In addition to prescribing fundamental business terms, the MOU often provides for at least two other binding commitments, namely, for the exclusivity of negotiations for a stated period of time and confidentiality.
Due Diligence: After the parties have agreed on the basic terms of the joint venture arrangement a fixed period of time is often set in which to conduct a detailed and comprehensive review of all information pertinent to the proposed business venture prior to the execution of the joint venture agreement. This process is referred to as "due diligence". In technology-driven industries and other industries where intellectual property is an important element of the joint venture due diligence plays an essential role in evaluating the technology and intellectual property assets and assessing their validity.

Reasons for entering into a joint venture

Parties looking for an appropriate business vehicle often seek out a joint venture arrangement because of the benefits it affords with respect to the limitation of liability of the parties to the venture. The reasons for creating a joint venture could be stated as the ability to combine the strengths, expertise, technology, and know-how of separate businesses with a sharing of investment costs and risks.

The following list is a summary of other motivations for entering into a joint venture:

- A company may want to enter into a foreign market with which it is not familiar.
- The joint venture allows the parties to the venture to undertake a potentially speculative and high-risk endeavour without exposing assets to unlimited liability.
- The joint venturing parties can define at the outset of the project, the extent to which each shall be liable for costs and how the risks associated with the venture shall be allocated.
- A joint venture can offer flexibility in distributing operational responsibilities authority and facilitate use of the strengths of each party to the venture.
- A joint venture may be entered into for competitive considerations for example a joint venture with a potential competitor may reduce or eliminate competition.

Benefits of Joint Venture

- Sharing of risks;
- Access to technology/ R &D/markets;
- Access to foreign capital;
- Reduction of manufacturing costs and other overheads including expenditure on R & D;
- Complimentary skills/resources;
- New technology or products or capital.
- To kill competition.

Risk involved

A joint venture involves co-ownership and co-management. This may result in disturbance in consultative decision-making. This is particularly true with respect to joint ventures where there is 50/50 ownership and/or control. This type of ownership or management structure lends itself to an increasing risk of deadlock amongst decision-makers. However, it is possible for parties contemplating entering into a joint venture to anticipate these decision-making hurdles and to provide safeguards or procedures to be followed to ensure that conflict amongst the participants in the venture does not paralyse the operation of the joint venture.

Critical Success Factors

- Rapport between the two partners - get to know each other and fully recognise, understand and accept the other's requirements in advance.
- Communication channels must be kept open and agreed reporting timetables and format adhered to.
- Positive results for both partners with a reasonable and agreed timeframe.

One of the key attractions of joint ventures is their flexibility. They can be moulded and shaped in a variety of ways to suit the specific needs of the partners and of the markets. It is common to enter into a joint venture after tried other options such as on consortium arrangement etc., or many a casts, successful joint ventures are formed with known suppliers and subcontractors.

Disadvantages of a Joint Venture

- Potentially high capital cost plus ongoing financial support are required
- Profitable returns may take some time to achieve
- High level of commitment of staff and management takes time
- Time consuming (especially where a new venture is involved)
- Potential for conflict between joint venture partners
- Cultural differences and communications difficulties
- A minority equity position may work against partner
- Difficult to get out of it quickly, if desired
- Working in a different legal and commercial system
- Political risks in the country where the joint venture is based

Laws Applicable

- Companies Act, 1956;
- Partnership Act;
- Policy for Foreign Investment (FEMA Regulations); MRTP,
- Industrial Policy and procedures; SEBI Guidelines; contract Act etc.
- Competition Act, 2002
- Foreign Trade (Development and Regulation) Act, 1992

Structuring of JV

- Identify Strategic & Operational issues,
Execution of MOU/ Principle terms,
Due-diligence (legal & financial),
Documentation

1. Strategic issues
   — To define objectives (whether the JV would be manufacturing, or simply marketing);
   — Key support from the Partners, on what terms?
   — Key decisions how to be taken and implemented.

2. Operational Issues
   — Day-to-day management rights,
   — Internal policy systems including reporting requirements,
   — Audit and information rights.
   — Deliberate and agree upon all strategic and operational issues;

3. Execute a formal Memorandum of Understanding/Principle terms of agreement, to cover at least,
   — Objective of the JV,
   — Broad form of partnership;
   — Identify a way forward in the event of disagreement on any issue before closing.

4. Carry out due-diligence on the following:
   — Company’s background and history,
   — Financial, Tax and Accounting,
   — Manufacturing, Marketing & Distribution,
   — Major contracts, licenses and approvals,
   — Corporate compliance,
   — Litigations by or against the company,
   — Ownership of assets including intellectual property.
   — Borrowings/loan documents.
   — IPR

Steps to a Joint Venture
1. Recognise your options - Identify different methods that can be adopted for entering into the venture
2. Determine the resources you can commit — Time — Money
   — People
3. Select and understand your market
   — Consumer research to pinpoint the opportunities
4. Determine a joint venture strategy
   — What type of joint venture
   — Where
   — With whom — What time-frame
   — How much will it cost

5. Determine the objectives of the joint venture — What do you hope to gain from the joint venture?
   — What does your partner hope to gain?
   — What will the joint venture actually do?

6. Select a Partner — Identify USP (Unique selling points) of both the parties — Compatibility is crucial — Take time to get to know each other — Understand each other’s expectations

7. Exchange letters

8. Feasibility study:
   (a) Establish a business structure
       — What legal structure will the joint venture have - incorporated, unincorporated?
       — How will it work?
       — What is the equity basis?
       — Who is responsible for what?
       — What needs to be put in place?
   (b) Resolve investment and legal issues - often a time consuming process — What rules and approvals must the joint venture comply with?
       — What tax implications are there?
       — How will the profits be remitted back.

Joint Venture agreements and the Competition Act, 2002

(i) Licensing agreements

The provisions relating to anti-competitive agreements under the Competition Act, 2002 do not restrict the right of any person, to restrain any infringement of intellectual property rights or to impose such reasonable conditions as may be necessary for the purposes of protecting any of his rights which have been or may be conferred upon him under the following legislations relating to intellectual property right—

— the Copyright Act, 1957;
— the Patents Act, 1970;
— the Trade and Merchandise Marks Act, 1958 or the Trade Marks Act, 1999;
— the Geographical Indications of Goods (Registration and Protection) Act, 1999;
— the Designs Act, 2000;

These, intellectual property legislations confer exclusive rights on holders of patents, copyright, design rights, registered trademarks and other related rights protected by law. A holder of intellectual property rights is authorised to prevent any unauthorized used of its intellectual property and to exploit such property, in particular by licensing it to third parties. Thus, the technology transfer agreements which involves licensing of technology are outside the purview of Section 3 prohibition. It is presumed that such agreements usually improve economic efficiency and are pro-competitive as they can reduce duplication of research and development, strengthen the incentive for the initial research and development, spur incremental innovation, facilitate diffusion and generate product market competition.

However, licensing agreements may also be used for anti-competitive purposes, e.g. where two competitors use a licensing agreement to share out markets between themselves or where an important licence holder excludes competing technologies from the market.

(ii) Joint Venture Agreements

It has been clarified that any agreement entered into by way of joint ventures shall not be prohibited by Section 3(1) of Competition Act, 2002 if such agreements increase efficiency in production, supply, distribution, storage, acquisition or control of goods or provisions of services.

(Form FC-IL has been prescribed for this purpose. However, a plain paper application is also accepted). If the unit is located in any of the Export Processing Zones, applications should be made to the Development Commissioner of the Export Processing Zone concerned.

2. Check whether Board resolution under section 292 as well as authorizing the Board to enter into Agreement and obtaining approvals from RBI/FIPB, as applicable has been passed

   3. Check the Confirmation of inward remittance of the body corporate's shareholding amount
   4. Check the incorporation and other procedural matters.

6. In case the investment to be made in India is in an existing company:
   1. Check the Board resolution of the body corporate established abroad.
   2. Check the Constitution of the body corporate
   3. Check the Confirmation of inward remittance of the body corporate's shareholding amount
   4. In case fresh allotment of shares is being made, applicable Companies Act provisions and related SEBI guidelines as applicable FEMA regulations, are required to be complied with.

Obtain certificate from the Authorised Dealer in Form FC-TRS and record the details in the company's register of transfers.
   6. If there is a substantial acquisition of shares by the body corporate abroad in the Indian company, the SEBI takeover code also needs to be complied with.
   7. Check whether the Indian Company has reported the particulars of foreign inward remittance within 30 days of its receipt.
   8. Check whether the allotment is made within 180 days of in word remittance.

Branch Offices established with the approval of RBI, may remit outside India profit of the branch, net of applicable Indian taxes and subject to RBI guidelines, permission for setting up branch offices is granted by the Reserve Bank of India (RBI).

No approval shall be necessary from RBI for a company to establish a branch/unit in SEZs to undertake manufacturing and service activities subject to specified conditions.

Such Branch Offices would be isolated and restricted to the Special Economic Zone (SEZ) alone and no business activity/transaction will be allowed outside the SEZs in India, which include branches/subsidiaries of its parent office in India.

I. INTRODUCTION

A compliance management system is the method by which corporate manage the entire compliance process. It includes the compliance program, compliance audit, compliance report etc. and in other words it is called compliance solution.

The compliance program consists of the policies and procedures which guide in adherence of laws and regulations. The compliance audit is independent testing of level of compliance with various laws and regulations applicable.

Compliance with law and regulation must be managed as an integral part of any corporate strategy. The board of directors and management must recognize the scope and implications of laws and regulations that apply to the company. They must establish a compliance management system as a supporting system of risk management system as it reduces compliance risk to a great extent. To ensure an effective approach to compliance, the participation of senior management in the development and maintenance of a compliance program is necessary. They should review the effectiveness of its compliance management system at periodic intervals, so as to ensure that it remains updated and relevant in terms of modifications/changes in regulatory regime including acts, rules, regulations etc. and business environment.

Corporate compliance management involves a full process of research and analysis as well as investigation and evaluation. Such an exercise is undertaken in order to determine the potential issues and get a realistic view about how the entity is performing and how it is likely to perform in the future. Company Secretaries with core competence in compliance and corporate governance play a crucial role in the corporate compliance management.
II. NEED FOR COMPLIANCE

Corporate accountability is on everyone’s mind today. Business executive face significant pressure to comply with a steady steam of complex regulations. Many companies are adopting comprehensive compliance plans to address emerging regulatory paradigm and those that fail to address the new regulations risk losing business, paying hefty fines or incurring punitive restrictions on their operations.

As the organizations face mounting pressures that are driving them towards a structured approach to enterprise-wise compliance management, the key drivers of compliance management encompass the complexity of today’s business, dependency on IT and hitech processes, growth in business partner relationships. Increased liability and regulatory oversight has amplified risk to a point where it demands continuous evaluation of compliance management systems. Furthermore, the multiplication of compliance requirements that organizations face increases the risk of non-compliance, which may have potential civil and criminal penalties.

This focused attention on compliances with spirit and details of laws casts upon Company Secretaries an onerous responsibility to guide the corporates adapting with compliance regimes, so as to ensure extended protection to investors, shareholders and other stakeholders. They have to advise companies in totality to provide full, timely and intelligible information. To enable companies to put in place an effective Compliance Management System, company secretaries should ensure that companies:

— adhere to necessary industry and government regulations,
— Change business processes according to legislative change,
— Realign resources to meet compliance deadlines, — React quickly and cost-effectively if regulations change.

Risk of Non-compliance

The risks of non-compliance of the law are many:

1. Cessation of business activities
2. Civil action by the authorities
3. Punitive action resulting in fines against the company/officials
4. Imprisonment of the errant officials
5. Public embarrassment
6. Damage to the reputation of the company and its employees
7. Plummeting stock price and threat of de-listing of shares (in case of listed companies)
8. Attachment of bank accounts.

III. SIGNIFICANCE OF CORPORATE COMPLIANCE MANAGEMENT

1. Better compliance of the law
2. Real time status of legal/statutory compliances
3. Safety valve against unintended non compliances/ prosecutions, etc.

4. Real time status on the progress of pending litigation before the judicial/quasi-judicial fora

5. Cost savings by avoiding penalties/fines and minimizing litigation

6. Better brand image and positioning of the company in the market

7. Enhanced credibility/creditworthiness that only a law abiding company can command

8. Goodwill among the shareholders, investors, and stakeholders.

9. Recognition as Good corporate citizen.

Compliance with the requirements of law through a compliance management programme can produce positive results at several levels:

— Companies that go the extra mile with their compliance programs lay the foundation for the control environment.

— Companies with effective compliance management programme are more likely to avoid stiff personal penalties, both monetary and imprisonment.

— Companies that embed positive ethics and effective compliance management programme deep within their culture often enjoy healthy returns through employee and customer loyalty and public respect for their brand, both of which can translate into stronger market capitalization and shareholder returns.

Clearly, the benefits of implementing and maintaining an effective ethics and compliance program far outweigh its costs. Not only does the compliance management protect investors wealth but also helps the business in running successfully with any potential risk being addressed in a timely and accurate manner.

Since 1991, in USA, the companies that create, communicate, enforce, and promote effective compliance programs, as defined by the U.S. Federal Sentencing Guidelines for Organizations, have been given favorable treatment by the Department of Justice, even when misconduct by employees in their organizations has been proven. The resultant savings, in terms of mitigated fines, has totalled hundreds of millions of dollars.

V. ROLE OF KNOWLEDGE MANAGEMENT IN COMPLIANCE MANAGEMENT

Knowledge Management is the process of identifying, capturing, organising, retrieving, compiling sharing and evaluating the information for strengthening the knowledge base. Knowledge Management is an effective tool for establishing effective corporate compliance management systems and practices in the organization as it helps in updating the regulatory compliance.

A Structured Knowledge Management supports the corporate compliance management in ensuring its effective implementation and maintenance through compliance checklists, emerging laws and its impact, backup support etc.

VI. ROLE OF INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY IN COMPLIANCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEMS THROUGH WEB BASED COMPLIANCE SYSTEMS

A critical component of an effective compliance program is the ability to monitor and audit compliance in a “real time manner.” Yet, as companies cross geographical and industry boundaries, it is becoming harder to perform this role in the traditional manner. As a result, companies are increasingly seeking technology solutions.

Information Technology can play an effective role in implementation of a Corporate Compliance Management Programme across various departments of an organization in terms of real-time compliance reminders, generation of reports, sending warning signals, generation of compliance calendar etc.

Many companies are introducing comprehensive web-based compliance systems that links various offices/units for better co-ordination and continued compliance. Companies prefer to introduce full-fledged compliance management systems for smooth compliance of multiple laws. Web-based compliance software are available industry-wise and tailor made compliance software can also be made according to company specifications which has to be updated on continuous basis.

Let us learn from Mitsibishi electric compliance programme

Chaired by an executive officer responsible for legal affairs, the Corporate Compliance Committee formulates across-the-board policies and action codes for the employees regarding corporate ethics and compliance activities in the Mitsubishi Electric Group worldwide. Established in 1991, the same year in which Nippon Keidanren created its Corporate Conduct Charter, the Corporate Compliance Committee hold regular meetings two times a year and extraordinary meetings as needed.

In April 2007, Missubishi Electric has further clarified the inextricable link between compliance and business promotion, reinforcing its primary compliance promotion systems in each division and the organizations that support them.

In each division and at each operational site, they have established a compliance promotion committee that determines specific measures regarding compliance in its own department. At the same time, at all organization levels in each business division and at each operational site, they have appointed group compliance managers, and compliance leaders, to regularly hold compliance coordinating meetings.

In April 2007, the title of “legal manager” was changed to “compliance manager” in order to promote compliance in a broader sense that includes corporate ethics as well as legal compliance.

In international operations, Mitsubishi Electric Group companies formulate their own corporate ethics codes based upon the Corporate Ethics and Compliance Code of Conduct, taking into account local laws, culture and customs. In addition, compliance meetings are held in an effort to thoroughly entrench compliance concepts.

Mitsubishi Electric has set up an ethics and legal compliance hotline to prevent improper conduct before it occurs. The information communicated through the hotline is investigated by the Legal Division’s Legal Compliance Office, and if improper conduct is discovered, the investigation division is requested to punish the perpetrator or institute corrective measures. Anonymity and other protections for the whistleblower are prescribed in internal rules along with a prohibition against unfair treatment of whistleblower.

In April 2006, an external communication channel was set up at the offices of legal counsel in conjunction with enforcement of the Whistleblower Protection Act. These communication channels are open to affiliate companies in Japan as well.

The ethics and legal compliance hotline is explained in the Code of Conduct for Corporate Ethics and Compliance, which is distributed to each employee. As well as posters displayed in each department, the employees are acquainted with the communication channels through the Legal Division’s intranet site and other information outlets.

Compliance Audits

The Auditing Division leads audits of corporate ethics and legal compliance at the business divisions of Mitsubishi Electric and affiliated companies in Japan and overseas. Following the auditing of Mitsubishi Electric and its affiliated companies in Japan and overseas, divisions are requested to make improvements if found in need of corrective actions.

Compliance Education Using Manifold Methods

Mitsubishi Electric conducts on-demand education regarding compliance through e-learning methods, group classes, and correspondence classes. They also hold compliance seminars accordingly. Managers in each division also distribute materials containing commonplace examples, practice lessons, and other information in an effort to prevent the occurrence of improper conduct.

Mitsubishi Electric's Legal Division and Associated Companies Division provide support for education at domestic Group companies to hold compliance seminars as necessary. Overseas, the companies run compliance training while taking into account local laws, regulations, culture and customs.

VIII. SECRETARIAL AUDITOR AND COMPLIANCE MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

The compliance system and processes in a company are dependent mainly on the following factors:

(a) Nature of business(es).
(b) Geographical domain of its area of operation(s).
(c) Size of the company both in terms of operations as well as investments, technology, multiplicity of business activities and manpower employed.
(d) Jurisdictions in which it operates.
(e) Whether the company is a listed company or not.
(f) Regulatory authority(ies) in respect of its business operations.
(g) Nature of the company viz., private, public, government company, etc.

Based on the above the Secretarial Auditor can constitute a broad idea about the desired system and process to be adopted by a company. For example, a multi product / multi operation company is supposed to comply all the applicable corporate laws in addition to regulatory framework applicable at products/operations.
At corporate level, monitoring of such complex web of compliances are generally made on a back-to-back mechanism. In such cases Boards’ reporting on compliances are made on the basis of reports/certification provided by field level management. As a better compliance structure in such cases it is desired to have an internal checking mechanism about the quality of such report either on regular basis or sample basis.

Now-a-days most of the large companies have adopted Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) Systems to cater to their complex operations. In many a cases, compliance system becomes a part of these modules. Auditing in such systems requires the Auditor to enter and to have access within the system. While taking up the audit assignment, the Auditor needs to ensure that access would be given so that assessment of proper system and process of compliance is made.

Auditing of compliance system and process is not a fault finding exercise, rather a device to scale up compliance mechanism of a company commensurate to its size and operations. It is desired that the Secretarial Auditor as an expert in corporate compliance would advice the companies to build up strong corporate compliance system in case the system appears to be insufficient during the audit process.

IX. THE SYSTEMS APPROACH

A well-designed compliance management programme has abilities to perform the following key functions across the enterprise:

— Compliance Dashboard: The compliance programme must provide a single enterprise-wide dashboard for all users to track and trend compliance events. All compliance events should be easily viewed interactively through the enterprise compliance dashboard. External auditors, internal auditors, compliance officers can use the dashboards to make decisions on the compliance status of the organization.

— Policy and Procedure Management: A well-designed document management system forms the basis of managing the entire lifecycle of policies and procedures within an enterprise. Ensuring that these policies and procedures are in conformity with the ever-changing rules and regulations is a critical requirement. The creation, review, approval and release process of the policy documents and SOPs (Standard Operating Procedures) should be driven by collaborative tools that provide core document management functionality.

— Event Management: The compliance management system must have ability to capture and track events, cases and incidents across the extended enterprise. Compliance officers, call center personnel, IT departments, QA personnel, ethics hotline should be able to log in any adverse event across the enterprise, upon which the necessary corrective and preventive actions are initiated.

— Rules and Regulations: A well-designed compliance management solution must offer capabilities for organization to continuously stay in sync with changing rules and regulations. As soon as there are regulatory changes, the various departments should be notified proactively through “email based” collaboration. This process critically enables the organization to dynamically change their policies and procedures in adherence to the rules and regulations. While tracking a single regulation may be manually feasible, it becomes an error-prone task to track all local, state, and central regulations including those taking place across the globe. A well-designed Compliance management programme offers up-to-date regulatory alerts across the enterprise.

— Audit Management: Audits have now become part of the enterprise core infrastructure. Internal audits, financial audits, external audits, vendor audits must be facilitated through a real-time system. Audits are no more an annual activity and corporations offer appropriate audit capabilities. Appropriate evidence of internal audits becomes critical in defending compliance to regulations.

— Quality Management: Most organizations have internal operational, plant-level or departmental quality initiatives to industry mandates like Six-sigma or ISO 9000. A well-designed compliance management program incorporates and supports ongoing quality initiatives. Most quality practitioners agree that compliance and quality are two sides of the same coin. Therefore, it is critical to ensure that compliance management solution offers support for enterprise-wide quality initiatives.

— Training Management: Most compliance programs often require evidence of employee training. Regulations like Clause 49 of Listing Agreement and Sarbanes-Oxley Act, stress on employee training. In USA, lack of documented training can lead to fines and penalties. Often the compliance office has to work closely with the HR organization to facilitate employee training. Well-designed compliance program requires a well-integrated approach to training management.

— Compliance Task Management: Organizations must plan, manage and report status of all compliance related activities from a centralized solution. Automated updates from the various compliance modules should provide for up-to-the-minute status reporting that could be viewed by the Board, corporate compliance officer, entity compliance coordinators, quality offices and others as designated.

Compliance solutions

In this age of information technology and outsourcing, where corporate solutions are available at every step and in respect of every matter, there are several companies offering ‘compliance solutions’.

Approach to Compliance Solutions

Compliance solution providers adopts following approaches for creating or enhancing an ethics and compliance program for companies—

Risk/Cultural Assessment: Through employee surveys, interviews, and document reviews, a company’s culture of ethics and compliance at all levels of the organization is validated. Our Reports and recommendations with detail observations identify gaps between company’s current practices and benchmarks with international practices.
Program Design/Update: In this phase, compliance solution providers help company in creating guideline documents that outline the reporting structure, communications methods, and other key components of the code of ethics and compliance program. This encompasses all aspects of the program, from grass roots policies to structuring board committees that oversee the program; from establishing the mandatory anonymous complaint reporting mechanism—i.e., compliance and ethics help line or whistleblower hot line—to spelling out the specifics of the code of ethics in a way that is easily understood by everyone at all levels of organization.

Policies and Procedures: In this phase compliance solution providers help company to develop or enhance the detailed policies of the program, including issues of financial reporting, antitrust, conflicts of interest, gifts and entertainment, records accuracy and retention, employment, the environment, global business, fraud, political activities, securities, and sexual harassment, among others.

Communication, Training, and Implementation: Even the best policies and procedures are useless if they are not institutionalized—they must become part of the fabric of the organization. Compliance solution providers help company to clearly articulate, communicate, and reinforce not only the specifics of the program, but also the philosophy behind it, and the day-to-day realities of it. In this way, key stakeholders and other personnel are more likely to embrace the program and incorporate it into their attitudes and behaviours.

Ongoing self-Assessment, Monitoring, and Reporting: The true test of a company’s ethics and compliance program comes over time. How do one know in one year or five that both the intent and letter of the law are still being observed throughout organization? How does the program and the organization adapt to changing legislation and business conditions? As the organization evolves for example, through mergers and acquisitions will the program remain relevant? The cultural assessment, mechanisms, and processes put in place including employee surveys, internal controls, and monitoring and auditing programs, help organisations achieve sustained success.

X. COMPLIANCE WITH SPIRIT OF LAW (ETHICS)

In the context of corporate governance, compliance means obeying the law. Ethics is the intent to observe the spirit of law in other words, it is the expressed intent to do what is right. In the wake of recent corporate scandals, a program that strongly emphasizes both ethics and compliance is good business.

The Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002, along with related mandates by the Securities and Exchange Commission and new listing rules instituted by the major stock exchanges including India, raise the ante for ethical behavior and effective corporate compliance programs. Public companies and their senior executives and board members may be held accountable personally accountable in the case of the executives and board members not only for the financial reporting provisions of the legislations, but also for the aspects pertaining to ethics and corporate compliance. Companies and their leadership that adhere both to the letter and the spirit of the law can achieve substantial benefits.

An ethical compliance management programme ensures that the mechanisms are in place to provide early warning of deviations from guidelines and regulations. It is essential to create or expand a culture of trust, enthusiasm, and integrity - critical attributes that can produce measurable results in terms of productivity, employee satisfaction, customer satisfaction, and, ultimately, brand equity.

XI. ROLE OF COMPANY SECRETARIES

Corporate Compliance Management can add substantial business value only if compliance is done with due diligence. A Company Secretary is the ‘Compliance Manager’ of the company. It is he who ensures that the company is in total compliance with all regulatory provisions. Corporate disclosures, which play a vital role in enhancing corporate valuation, is the forte of a Company Secretary. These disclosures can be classified into statutory disclosures, non-statutory disclosures, specifies disclosures and continuous disclosures. Clause 49 of Listing Agreement spells out elaborately on various aspects of disclosures which are to be made by the company such as contingent liabilities, related party transactions, proceeds from initial public offerings, remuneration of directors and various details giving the threats, risks and opportunities under management discussion and analysis in the corporate governance report which is published in the annual accounts duly certified by the professional like company secretaries. A Company Secretary has to ensure that these disclosures are made to shareholders and other stakeholders in true letter and spirit.

In nutshell, the Company Secretary is the professional who guides the Board and the company in all matters, renders advice in terms of compliance and ensures that the Board procedures are duly followed, best global practices are brought in and the organisation is taken forward towards good corporate citizenship.

Illustration

An illustrative study on compliance management programme with hypothetical figures, is given below for better understanding.

Compliance with the regulatory acts not only protect investors wealth but also helps the business in running successfully with any potential risk being addressed in a timely and accurate manner. A well drafted compliance management programme will function as a compliance solution that monitors the effectiveness of various controls applied to mitigate risks.

For example XYZ Ltd., a listed broking company may have compliance management programme covering the following aspects. It may be noted that this may not be a very comprehensive one.

Compliance Management Programme for XYZ Ltd.

I. Background of the company

XYZ Ltd. (herein after called ‘the company’) is a leading broking firm incorporated on 10th February, 1991, having its registered and corporate office located at Delhi and having 120 employees. The company was promoted by Mr. X, Mr. Y and Mrs. Z who are having experience in financial services sector for more than 25 years, 19 years, and 20 years respectively. The networth of the company as on March 31, 2008 was Rs................... crores and the market capitalization as on September 03, 2008 was Rs................... crores.
The company is handling sizeable portion of equities and derivatives being traded on NSE and BSE. The major activities and offerings of the company today are Equity Broking and Depository Participant Services. The company is a member of the National Stock Exchange of India, Bombay Stock Exchange of India and is a Depository Participant with National Securities Depository Limited and Central Depository Services (I) Limited. The company is a listed company with BSE and NSE. The company has also issued shares under FDI scheme.

II. Identification of applicable laws

The role of information technology in identifying the applicable laws is really vital. The company can identify the applicable laws just by click of a button through software, which has to be updated from time to time. It may be possible that some of the legislations might be missed out while listing the applicable laws manually and thus Compliance management through system would help in

(i) Identifying risk attributes (i.e. identifying the applicable laws)
(ii) Application of control to mitigate the risk (control check list under various legislations (both time based and event based)
(iii) Generation of reports for identifying the non compliances
(iv) Reminder before the due date for compliance
(v) Having internal control on compliance.

In respect of the said XYZ limited, the following sample check list on applicable laws would give an idea on the same.

(It may be noted that the laws listed out here is general about drafting a compliance programme and may not be too comprehensive.)

(a) General applicability

(i) The Companies Act, 1956
(ii) Income Tax Act, 1961
(iii) Contract Act, 1872
(iv) Stamp Act
(v) Negotiable Instruments Act, 1881

(b) Company-specific applicability (i.e. a listed broking company)

(i) SEBI Act, 1992
(ii) Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956
(iii) Securities Contracts (Regulation) Rules, 1957
(iv) Depositories Act, 1996
(v) Prevention of Money Laundering Act, 2002
(vi) SEBI (Intermediaries) Regulations, 2008
(vii) SEBI (Stock Brokers and Sub-brokers) Regulations, 1992

(v) The Payment of Bonus Act, 1965
(vi) The Payment of Gratuity Act, 1972
(vii) The Child Labour (Prohibition and Regulation) Act, 1986
(viii) Payment of Wages Act, 1936
(ix) The Workmens Compensation Act, 1923

d) Applicable State Laws

(e) Transaction based application
(i) FEMA 1999
(ii) FDI scheme

Individual checklists (time based and event based) may be prepared as a control system.

III. Individual responsibilities on compliances to be clearly defined

Responsible with respect of compliances has to be clearly defined in the compliance management programme, which will enable the compliance officer to co-ordinate with the respective officials in respect of deviations if any. For example, person responsible for PF returns from HR department, person responsible for reports to be sent to NSE in respect of terminals etc. may be given clearly.

IV. Evaluation

Compliance management system should have a proper evaluation methodology through questionnaires to departmental heads etc. at regular intervals.

V. Bridging the gap between compliance in letter and compliance in letter and spirit

As we discussed compliance has to be carried out in letter and spirit. The compliance management system has to be made in such a manner that the compliance is made in letter and spirit.

VI. Updation

Updation of compliance management programme is very essential as and when there is any change in any of the applicable law.
A compliance management system is the method by which corporate manage the entire compliance process. It includes the compliance program, compliance audit, compliance report etc.

A tool, which helps companies comply with provisions of various governing legislations as well as rules, regulations and guidelines issued thereunder, is a Compliance Solution.

In the context of corporate governance, ethics is the intent to observe the spirit of law—in other words, it is the expressed intent to do what is right.

Corporate Compliance Management can add substantial business value only if compliance is done with due diligence.

The Company Secretary is the professional who guides the Board and the company in all matters, renders advice in terms of compliance and ensures that the Board procedures are duly followed, best global practices are brought in and the organisation is taken forward towards good corporate citizenship.

STUDY XIII
SECRETARIAL AUDIT

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

The objective of this study lesson is to enable the students to understand

- Meaning, Need, Objectives, scope and process of secretarial audit
- Format of Secretarial Audit Report
- Checklists under Corporate, Industrial, SEBI, Foreign Exchange laws etc.

1. Introduction

The Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Government of India released CORPORATE GOVERNANCE VOLUNTARY GUIDELINES 2009 on December 21, 2009. The preamble to Guidelines states that “These guidelines provide for a set of good practices which may be voluntarily adopted by the Public companies. Private companies, particularly the bigger ones, may also like to adopt these guidelines.”

The Guidelines, amongst other things, recommend the introduction of Secretarial Audit. Para V of the Guidelines states that:

“Since the Board has the overarching responsibility of ensuring transparent, ethical and responsible governance of the company, it is important that the Board processes and compliance mechanisms of the company are robust. To ensure this, the companies may get the Secretarial Audit conducted by a competent professional. The Board should give its comments on the Secretarial Audit in its report to the shareholders.”

Companies, which do not adopt these guidelines, either fully or partially, are expected to inform their shareholders about the reasons for not adopting these Guidelines. This is in consonance with the popular doctrine of “Comply or Explain”. The Board should give its comments on the Secretarial Audit in Directors’ Report as provided in Para V of the Guidelines.

2. Need for Secretarial Audit

Secretarial Audit is a compliance audit and it is a part of total compliance management in an organisation. The Secretarial Audit is an effective tool for corporate compliance management. It helps to detect non-compliance and to take corrective measures.

The multiplicity of laws, rules, regulations, etc. has necessitated introduction of a compliance management system to ensure compliances of laws applicable to a company. This has a two-fold objective:

(a) Firstly, to protect the interests of all the stakeholders;
(b) Secondly, to avoid any legal action against the company and its management.

Under most laws, the persons responsible for compliance and liable for punishment are directors, Company Secretary and the officers who have been designated for specific compliances. From amongst the directors, the responsibility of managing and whole-time directors is greater. Under the Companies Act, a managing and/or whole-time director (besides Company Secretary) is an officer who is in default liable for penal consequences of defaults and thus responsible for compliances, while under most other laws they are the persons in charge of, and responsible to, the company for the conduct of the business of the company.

In India, a number of statutes contain under the heading “Offences by Companies” an identical provision regarding vicarious liability of directors and other company officers for company’s offences. In Girdhari Lal Gupta v. D.N. Mehta AIR 1971 SC 2162, the Supreme Court has construed the expression ‘a person in charge and responsible for the conduct of the business of the company’ as to mean the person in overall control of the day-to-day business of the company. This ruling has been followed in a number of subsequent decisions.

Sub-clause I(C)(iii) of Clause 49 of the Listing Agreement provides “The Board should periodically review compliance reports of all laws applicable to the company, prepared by the company as well as steps taken by the company to rectify instances of non-compliances.” Accordingly, all listed companies should introduce a system for reporting to the Board, on compliances with laws applicable to them. Hence, a Legal Compliance Reporting System is necessary to comply with sub-clause I(C)(iii) of Clause 49 of the Listing Agreement.

3. Secretarial Audit & Company Secretary in Practice (PCS)

A significant area of competence of PCS is “Corporate laws” (comprising statutes, rules, regulations, notifications, circulars and clarifications, forms, guidelines and bye-laws) owing to intensive and rigorous coaching, examinations, training and continuing education programmes. PCS is a highly specialized professional in matters of statutory, procedural and practical aspects involved in proper compliances under corporate laws. Strong knowledge base makes PCS a competent professional to conduct Secretarial Audit.

A Company Secretary in Practice has been assigned the role of Secretarial Auditor under section 2(2)(c)(v) of the Company Secretaries Act, 1980.

In order to guide its members with the process of Secretarial Audit, the Institute of Company Secretaries of India has issued this Referencer.

4. Secretarial Audit Process

Secretarial Audit is a process to check compliance with the provisions of various laws and rules/regulations/procedures, maintenance of books, records etc., by an independent professional to ensure that the company has complied with the legal and procedural requirements and also followed the due process. It is essentially a mechanism to monitor compliance with the requirements of stated laws.

Benefits of Secretarial Audit are manifold. Ever-increasing complexities of laws and responsibilities of directors (especially non-executive directors) make it imperative that a PCS reports whether or not there exists proper compliance mechanism and systems in the corporate structure. PCS has also to verify whether diverse requirements under applicable laws have been duly complied with or not and if there is a need for any corrective measures or improvement in the system.

5. Beneficiaries of Secretarial Audit

The major beneficiaries of Secretarial Audit include:

(a) Promoters

Secretarial Audit will assure the Promoters of a company that those in-charge of its management are conducting its affairs in accordance with requirements of laws.

(b) Management

Secretarial Audit will assure the Management of a company that those who are entrusted with the duty and responsibility of compliance are performing their role effectively and efficiently. This also helps the management to establish benchmarks for the compliance mechanism, review and improve the compliances on a continuing basis.

(c) Non-executive directors

Secretarial Audit will provide comfort to the Non-executive Directors that appropriate mechanisms and processes are in place to ensure compliance with laws applicable to the company, thus mitigating any risk from a regulatory or governance perspective; so that the Directors not in-charge of the day-to-day management of the company are not likely exposed to penal or other liability on account of non-compliance with law.

(d) Government Authorities/Regulators

Being a pro-active measure, Secretarial Audit facilitates reducing the burden of the law-enforcement authorities and promotes governance and the level of compliance.

(e) Investors

Secretarial Audit will inform the investors whether the company is conducting its affairs within the applicable legal framework.

(f) Other Stakeholders

Financial Institutions, Banks, Creditors and Consumers are enabled to measure the law abiding nature of Company management.

Corporate conduct manifesting good Governance is vital for the healthy, vibrant and ever growing corporate sector in global economy. In developing economies, inclusive growth is more than imperative. Adopting effective management tools like Secretarial Audit can go a long way in fulfilling these objectives.

Secretarial Audit Report should be signed by the Practicing Company Secretary, who acts as the Secretarial Auditor by mentioning his CP Number issued by The Institute of Company Secretaries of India.

7. Secretarial Audit-Periodicity

Secretarial Audit on a continuous basis would help the company in initiating corrective measures and strengthening its compliance mechanism and processes. It is recommended that the Secretarial Audit be carried out periodically (quarterly/half yearly) and adverse findings if any, be communicated to the Board for corrective action.
08. Reporting with Qualification

The qualification, reservation or adverse remarks, if any, should be stated by the PCS at the relevant places in his report. The qualifications, reservations or adverse remarks of Secretarial Auditor, if any, should be mentioned in bold type or in italics in the Secretarial Audit Report.

If the PCS is unable to form an opinion on any matter, he should mention that he is unable to form an opinion on that matter and the reasons therefor. If the scope of work required to be performed, is restricted on account of limitations imposed by the company or on account of circumstantial limitations (like certain books or papers being in custody of another person or Government Authority) the Report should indicate such limitations. If such limitations are so material as to render the PCS incapable of expressing any opinion, the PCS should state that:

“In the absence of necessary information and records, he is unable to report compliance(s) by the Company”.

09. Professional Responsibility and Penalty for Incorrect Audit Report

While the Voluntary Guidelines on Corporate Governance have opened up a significant area of practice for Company Secretaries, it casts immense responsibility on Company Secretaries, and poses a great challenge to justify fully, the faith and confidence reposed in them. Company Secretaries must take adequate care while conducting Secretarial Audit.

Any failure or lapse on the part of PCS in issuing a Secretarial Audit Report may attract penalty for incorrect report and disciplinary action for professional or other misconduct under the provisions of the Company Secretaries Act, 1980. It, therefore, becomes imperative for the PCS that he exercises great care and caution while issuing the Secretarial Audit report and also adheres to the highest standards of professional ethics and excellence in providing his services.

MAJOR AREAS OF COMPLIANCES UNDER THE COMPANIES ACT, 1956

INTRODUCTION

The purpose of a company, formed as a commercial enterprise, is mainly to make profits by carrying on its business and maximize its wealth. While doing so, a company is directed by the Board of Directors, which is assisted by officers and professionals. In its pursuit for achieving its objectives and making profits the most important for requirement of a company is to adhere to the legislative environment in relation to such objectives and pursuits and strive, at all times, to deliver whatever has been promised, whether it is to shareholders or stakeholders or customers or vendors or service providers or suppliers or regulators, whether such promises are made in any contract or agreement, or demanded by a provision of law, or merely due to moral covenants only. In other words the company is expected to aim always to deliver whatever has been promised to different sections of the society including its stakeholders and regulators. A company would have failed in its commitment to be a responsible corporate citizen, if it doesn’t comply with the provisions of law. This proposition is based on the premise that every provision of law the statute book is only in the interests of the public.

GENERAL COMPLIANCE REQUIREMENTS

1. Whether the company has kept and maintained all the statutory registers, filed all forms, returns and notices to the prescribed authorities as per the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956 and mention the name of each register, return, form or notice together with date of filing of the return, form or notice?

2. "Whether the company has followed all the requirements of the Act and the Articles of Association in respect of notices, proxies, quorum and minutes of all general meetings (including annual general meeting and requisitioned extra-ordinary general meeting) and board and committee meetings and mention the date and type of each meeting?"

At present a company with a paid-up capital of Rs.10 Lakhs or more, but not more than Rs. 5 Crores is required to obtain a Secretarial Compliance Certificate, from the practising Company Secretary. This certificate covers 33 points and can be considered to be a reasonably comprehensive one. However, it does not apply to big companies, if paid-up capital were to be considered as the yardstick for measuring the size of a company. In order to make it comprehensive and useful to both the corporate sector and regulators, it is necessary to introduce the statutory need for a comprehensive audit encompassing not only the provisions of the Act but also other important legislations.

A perusal of the scheme of the Act makes it clear that compliances under this Act happen on two counts. Compliances of the first type are non-event based and they are the filing of the annual return, annual report including the secretarial compliance certificate wherever applicable. The compliances of the second category are those, which are necessary on the happening of certain events. These events require compliance-of-various provisions of the Act and in certain cases provisions of other legislations also.
To illustrate an issue of securities or buy back of securities would require not only the compliance of the Act but also the provisions of the applicable Guidelines/Regulations of Securities and Exchange Board of India (SEBI). For all these event based compliances, it is possible to, (in certain cases it is already there), make it necessary for a certification by a Company Secretary in practice or a Company Secretary in employment stating that the company has complied with all the provisions of the Act and other applicable legislations in so far as they apply to the event in question.

The existing certification requirements are not comprehensive. The Laws that apply in respect of the transaction in question are administered by different Departments and no comprehensive certification takes place covering all the regulations/laws. To illustrate, if one takes the issue of securities under the Employee Stock Option Scheme by a listed company, one would find that there are the provisions of the Companies Act, the Listing Agreement, the Foreign Exchange Management Act and the Regulations thereunder, SEBI Guidelines and Regulations, the Stamp Act and the Income Tax Act.

An analysis of the Companies Act brings out the following:

– The Act has 658 sections, though there are many sections which have become inapplicable or which have been omitted altogether.

– The Act has been divided into XIII parts. For the time being, Part VIA brought into the Act by the Companies (Second Amendment) Act, 2002 has not yet come into force.

– Part I and Part IA to Part IC of the Act relate to certain preliminary matters including provisions for the establishment and empowerment of National Company Law Tribunal and Appellate Tribunal. For the time being, it is necessary to note that the provisions of the Act with regard to administration of justice through Company Law Board in certain matters continue and the National Company Law Tribunal has not yet been constituted.

Analysis of Part II of the Companies Act

Part II of the Act contains provisions relating to incorporation of a company, its memorandum and articles of association. Part II also deals with membership, contracts, deeds, investments, seal, service of documents and authentication of proceedings.

Alteration of Memorandum of Association

The three subjects viz., the name change, alteration of objects clause and shifting of registered office from one state to another are covered under it. Of all the sections that pertain to alteration of memorandum, the most important seems to be Section 16, where it is clearly provided that alteration of conditions of memorandum shall not be carried out except in the cases, in the manner and to the extent specifically provided in the Act. As per Section 16 of the Act it will be very interesting to see that the name clause, situation clause, objects clause, liability clause, capital clause are the main clauses that could be deemed to be conditions contained in a memorandum of association. The basic point should be what is stated in Section 16 of the Act. Section 16 of the Act provides that the conditions contained in the memorandum of association are those conditions that are governed by Section 13 of the Act. And such conditions have to be altered only in the manner and to the extent expressly provided in the Act.

However, where the share capital of the company has to be altered for earmarking a portion of the capital for issue of preference shares without any increase in capital, it could be seen that no specific provision touching upon this issue is contained in the Act. But share capital is a condition contained in Section 13 of the Act and therefore, it should be scrupulously ensured that the alteration of any condition contained in the memorandum should be done only to the extent and in the manner expressly provided in the Act.

Therefore all the questions relating to alteration of conditions contained in the memorandum could be clubbed into one question whether the company has complied with Section 16 of the Act. This would cover alterations of not only the conditions contained in a memorandum falling under sub-sections (1) and (2) but also other provisions contained in the memorandum falling under sub-sections (3) and (4) of Section 16 of the Act.

The reclassification of share capital could be considered as a matter falling under sub-section (3) and (4) of Section 16 of the Act, particularly in view of the following facts:

- That the term “shares” include both preference and equity shares.
- That the company can issue preference shares if so authorised by articles of association;
- That Section 13, in sub-section (4) requires the mentioning of only the amount of share capital and the division thereof into shares of fixed amount.
- It does not state the kind of share composition and the nature of share capital.
- Thus classification of shares into its kinds cannot constitute a condition governing the memorandum.

Let us consider the position with regard to the alteration of the liability clause. Under Section 13 of the Act the liability clause is one of the conditions specified in the memorandum. A company with unlimited liability may like to alter its liability clause. In such a situation, Section 32 of the Act will come into play. As per Section 32 of the Act, a company registered as unlimited may re-register under this Section as a limited company and a company already registered as a limited company may re-register under this Act. Obviously, the section does not provide for registration of a limited company into an unlimited company. Altering the liability clause of the memorandum for converting the limited liability into unlimited liability would appear to be void as there is no express provision provided in the Act. However for alteration of the liability clause from limited liability to unlimited liability, it is necessary to keep in mind that under Section 38 of the Act, it has been clearly provided that if the alteration in any way increases the liability of a member, it shall not be binding upon the members unless the member agrees in writing before or after the particular alteration is made. Thus, a reading of Section 38 of the Act would make it clear that increasing the liability of members is not, per se, void. Only thing it requires the consent of all the members in writing. This also makes it clear that such an alteration cannot be considered an alteration falling under sub-section (3) and (4) of Section 16 of the Act. Thus practically, all the members of the company have to agree in writing for undertaking unlimited liability. It is in this context, one has to look at Section 32(1)(b) of the Act and understand that if a company with limited liability were to apply for re-registration, with unlimited liability, the Registrar cannot do so unless he is convinced that all the members have agreed in writing for undertaking unlimited liability.

Thus the question whether the company has complied with Section 16 of the Act assumes greater significance and this will be a crucial question in Part II of the Act. This question will also include within its ambit the position that may arise out of any failure to register an alteration to the situation clause. As per Section 19 of the Act, an alteration referred to in Section 17 should be registered within 3 months from the date of the order of the Company Law Board. If the alteration is not so registered, all proceedings connected therewith including the order will become void and inoperative on the expiry of the period of 3 months or the extended period.

Section 25 of the Act

The provisions contained in Section 25 of the Act are intended to serve a laudable objective. In order to enable companies formed under Section 25 to carry on their objectives without much hassles, the Companies Act has thought it fit to relieve such companies from various provisions of the Act. Section 25 companies enjoy a lot of exemptions and they also enjoy concession in payment of filing fees and registration fees. Under the Income Tax Act, these companies are also eligible to enjoy exemption from Income Tax liability.

ALTERATION OF ARTICLES OF ASSOCIATION (Section 31)

Though there is a requirement for registration of the Alteration of Articles of Association. Where a public company chooses to alter its Articles of Association to change its status to that of a private company, such alteration would require not only the approval of the Central Government (delegated to Registrar of Companies) but also the filing of a copy of the altered Articles of Association within one month from the date of receipt of order of approval.

In the case of a Listed company, such an alteration would also require the passing of the special resolution by postal ballot as per the Companies (Passing of Resolution by Postal Ballot) Rules, 2001. Section 192 of the Act deals with registration of resolutions and as per the said section all special resolutions have to be filed at the office of the Registrar of Companies and the title of the said section is “Registration of Certain Resolutions and Agreements”.

COPY OF MEMORANDUM AND ARTICLES TO BE GIVEN TO THE MEMBERS (Section 39)

Section 39 of the Act confers upon every member a statutory right to obtain from the company an up to date copy each of following documents:

– The memorandum,
- The articles,
- Every agreement, and
- Every resolution

This being an important right, and Section 39 of the Act contains a specific provision clause in this regard. This section confers a statutory right and it should be attended to with utmost respect. In the era of Corporate Governance, the Company Secretary and the directors of a company are under an obligation to be answerable not only to the members but also to the stakeholders.

NOTING OF ALTERATION TO MEMORANDUM OR ARTICLES IN EVERY COPY (Section 40)

The provisions contained in Section 40 of the Act are very important and companies generally do not keep their memorandum and articles duly updated. It becomes the first duty of every person dealing with the company, auditing/inspecting the records of the company to go through the memorandum and articles without fail. As per Section 40 where an alteration is made in a memorandum or articles or any resolution referred to in Section 192 of the Act is passed, every copy of the memorandum or articles or agreement or resolution shall be in accordance with the alteration. This section also provides a specific penalty for non-compliances of this section. As per the doctrine of constructive notice, a third party is deemed to have notice of the contents of memorandum and articles. If the memorandum and articles does not reflect the alteration made, then it defeats the very purpose of Section 40 of the Act.

CONSEQUENCES OF DEFAULT IN COMPLYING WITH CONDITIONS CONSTITUTING A PRIVATE COMPANY (Section 43)

Section 43 is also a very important section. A company in order to be a private company should necessarily include the provisions of clause (iii) of sub-section (1) of Section (3) of the Act in its articles of association. If a private company defaults in complying with any such provision, it shall cease to be entitled to the privileges and exemptions conferred on private companies and this Act shall apply as if it were not a private company.

CONVERSION INTO PUBLIC COMPANY (Section 44)

This is another case where there is a certification by the Registrar of Companies that follows such conversion. But the certification is not issued by the Registrar by virtue of any requirement under Section 44 of the Act. It is be noted that the Registrar issues the certificate, a fresh certificate of incorporation, consequent upon the deletion of the word “private” from the name of the company. Moreover the effect of a resolution under Section 44 of the Act deleting the specific conditions constituting a company, a private company, is immediate and the change in status happens no sooner than the resolution is passed. Hence the company forthwith on the passing of the resolution becomes a public company. Filing of the said resolution under Section 192 of the Act or the filing the statement of lieu of prospectus under Section 44 of the Act or the registration of the change of name arising out of the need for deleting the word “private” from the name of the company are all matters that may happen subsequent to the change in status. They have to be distinguished from the certificate issued by the Registrar under section 18 of the Act whether for alteration of objects or for shifting of registered office. Further, the moment a private company becomes a public company under this section, it has to comply with various other requirements contained in the Act with regard to a public company.

REDUCTION OF NUMBER OF MEMBERS (Section 45)

Where the number of members falls below the statutory minimum, whether the company is a private company or public company, the members become severally liable as per Section 45 of the Act.

INVESTMENTS OF COMPANY TO BE HELD IN ITS OWN NAME (Section 49)

Under certain circumstances a company is entitled to hold investments which may not be registered in its own name. Subsections (2), (3), (4) and (5) of Section 49 of the Act describe such situations. It is to be noted that these situations are exceptional in nature and they have to be scrupulously followed with the framework of Section 49 of the Act. And where a company has investments which are not held by it in its own name, sub-section 7 of Section 49 of the Act requires a company to maintain a register of investments which is open for inspection as provided in sub-section (8) of Section 49 of the Act. Any default is liable to be punished in accordance with sub-section (9) of Section 49 of the Act.

ANALYSIS OF PART III OF THE COMPANIES ACT

Part III of the Act contains Sections 55 to 81 and this part deals extensively with issue and allotment of securities.

It is essential to distinguish between issue of securities by a listed company whether the proposed issue is to the public or not, from issue of securities by any other company. Where the securities are proposed to be issued to public, the unlisted company would be regarded as a company that purports to issue shares to the public. In both the cases, while there are very important provisions under the Companies Act, pursuant to the enactment to the SEBI Act and constitution of SEBI, and further pursuant to introduction of Section 55A in the Act by the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2000, all these matters have seen a necessary shift in focus from the provisions of Companies Act to the Guidelines of SEBI. This aspect must be borne in mind while considering the compliances with regard to issue of securities.

It should be borne in mind, for a listed company, every issue has to be in accordance with the SEBI Guidelines and the Listing Agreement also. Whereas these Guidelines will apply to an unlisted company only when there is an issue to public. Any issue of shares or debentures to 50 or more persons would be deemed to be an issue to public pursuant to Section 67 of the Act. In the case of listed companies compliance programme needs to cover anything falling under SEBI Guidelines or Listing Agreement.

ACCEPTANCE OF PUBLIC DEPOSITS AND PROVISIONS RELATING TO SMALL DEPOSITORS (Section 58A and Section 58AA)

In complying the provisions of Section 58A and 58AA of the Act and also the Companies (Acceptance of Deposits) Rules, 1975, under Companies (Auditors’ Report) Order 2003, the statutory auditor of the company has to report in the case of a company which has accepted deposits from public whether the provisions of Section 58A, 58AA of the Act and the relevant rules have been complied with.

Under CARO, 2003, the auditor is supposed to state positively whether the public company (the scope is restricted to public deposits) has complied the provisions of Section 58A and 58AA of the Act and give his opinion whether the company has violated those provisions. The auditor should also state whether the company has complied with orders of Company Law Board, if any under Section 58AA of the Act. The most important aspect of Section 58A or Section 58AA of the Act is whether the deposit has been repaid on time with interest due thereon as per the terms of acceptance. In this regard, the Company Law Board in one of its decisions observed and held that unsecured loans that do not have the features of public deposits are not deposits at all.

In determining the extent of compliance of the provisions of the Act under Section 58A, 58AA and 58B following are important:

- Under Section 58AA of the Act, sub-section (7) provides that if a company had accepted deposits from small depositors and subsequent to such acceptance obtains working capital loans, it should first use the funds for repayment of such deposits.
- Under Section 372A of the Act, if the company had defaulted in complying with Section 58A, the company cannot invest or lend or provide guarantee or security as long as the deposit is subsisting.
- As per Section 77B of the Act, the company is prohibited from buying back, if any default committed by the company in repayment of deposit or interest payable thereon.
- There are also other provisions that protect the interests of depositors.
- Under Section 274 (1) (g) of the Act, if the default continues for one year or more, the directors of the company incur the inevitable disqualification.
- Under Section 58AAA, the default in repayment of deposits has been made a cognizable offence.

In the case of Non-Banking Financial Companies, they have to comply with the directions of the Reserve Bank of India also.

PRIVATE PLACEMENT (SECTION 67)

Section 67 of the Act contained a very clear expression of what amounts to an issue of shares to public as distinguished from a private placement. Section 67 makes it clear that the offer or invitation to subscribe for shares/debentures shall be treated as an offer to the public, if the offer or invitation is made to 50 persons or more. Virtually, neither there should be an offer nor any invitation to subscribe for shares/debentures to 50 persons or more otherwise than by way of a public issue.

This is interesting and it is possible in unlisted public companies. In listed companies a resolution under Section 81(1A) is usually passed and the Disclosure and Investor Protection Guidelines are followed as per Chapter XIII. Even in such cases, it is quite possible that Section 67 of the Act is violated. A violation of Section 67 of the Act is a major violation and it creates a major offence. It cannot be said that Section 629A of the Act will apply and the offence is treated as though it is an offence for which specific penalty is provided elsewhere in the Act. A violation of Section 67 of the Act should be construed in the proper perspective and it should be said that all the provisions of Act and the SEBI Guidelines that apply to issue of shares or as the case may be, debentures to public have been violated.

The question involved is a question of fact and for the purpose of attracting Section 67 of the Act, it is not necessary that there should be an allotment of shares/debentures though the filing of a Form No.2 evidencing allotment on a particular date to 50 persons or more will prove to be a clinching evidence of the contravention of Section 67 of the Act. Inspite of the amendment brought about by the Amendment Act 2000, questions like whether issue of shares to 50 persons or more in different tranches not happening in a single lot or originating at a particular point of time would attract Section 67 of the Act, often come up. The underlying principle that there should not be an offer or invitation to 50 persons or more ‘is the guiding principle and whenever there is an offer or invitation to 50 persons or more otherwise than by way of a public issue, in accordance with the Act and the Guidelines, there will be a violation of Section 67 of the Act.

MINIMUM SUBSCRIPTION (SECTION 69)

The law is clear that there should be a minimum subscription and this applies for rights issues also under the SEBI (Disclosure and Protection) Guidelines, 2000. All these are very important requirements and have been in place for protecting the investors. Only in respect of debt instruments privately placed by listed companies, there is a relaxation from this requirement. Where the minimum subscription has not been received, Section 69 demands returning of the moneys to the investors.

STATEMENT IN LIEU OF PROSPECTUS (SECTION 70)

Section 70 of the Act contains an important provision. Whenever a company wants to issue shares, without issuing a prospectus, it is mandatory to deliver to the Registrar a statement in lieu of prospectus atleast 3 days before allotment of shares/debentures.

LISTING PERMISSION (SECTION 73)

As per the listing agreement and Paragraph 2.1.4 of the SEBI (Disclosure and Investor Protection) Guidelines, 2000 and in view of the subsequent circular issued by SEBI, companies issuing securities to public have to necessarily get ‘in principle’ permission for listing the securities. However, the effect of Section 73 of the Act is very serious in that it makes the allotment totally void. Hence it is necessary to take care of that while complying Section 73.

BUYBACK OF SECURITIES (SECTION 77A, 77AA, 77B)

The requirements to be complied with by listed companies under the above sections read with relevant regulations of SEBI which covers all matters that apply to listed companies/companies purporting to be listed.
Even in respect of unlisted companies, it is necessary to note that under Section 77A read with Section 77AA and Section 77B, there are certain specific compliance requirements, restrictions and prohibitions. Besides these substantive provisions of law contained in the above sections, the company that intends to make a buyback should comply with the Private Limited Company and Unlisted Public Limited Company (Buyback of Securities) Rules, 1999. In order to appreciate the depth of the subject, it becomes necessary to go through the important requirements, restrictions and prohibitions.

Under Section 77A, the following are the major requirements:

- The buyback should be from out of specified sources of funds such as the free reserves, the securities premium account or the proceeds of issue of shares or other specified securities.
- The buyback requires an enabling clause in the articles of association.
- The buyback requires a specific board resolution or a special resolution with an explanatory statement containing specified particulars. The buyback should be equal to or less than 25% of the total paid-up capital of the company and its free reserves.
- There should be a specified debt equity ratio.
- The shares or other securities, which are proposed to be bought back, have to be fully paid up.
- The buyback must be in any one of the modes prescribed under the said rules.
- The company should file with the Registrar of Companies, the draft letter of offer containing the particulars specified in the said rules before the buyback.
- The Company should file the declaration of solvency with the Registrar of Companies.
- The company should follow the prescribed procedure for making the offer and the payments.
- The company should obtain a certificate from a Company Secretary in Whole time Practice with regard to compliance of the entire rules.
- The company should also maintain a record of the destroyed share certificates.
- The company should extinguish the certificates or other securities bought back.
- As per the rules, the company should obtain a certificate from a Company Secretary in Whole time Practice with regard to extinguishment and physical share certificates.
- The company is required to maintain a register containing the prescribed particulars.
- The company should file a return in the prescribed form with the Registrar of Companies.
- The company is prohibited from making any further issue of the same kind of shares or other securities for a period of 6 months.
- As per Section 77AA of the Act, it is necessary to create Capital Redemption Reserve Account for a sum equal to the nominal value of the shares purchased.

- As per Section 77B of the Act, a company is prohibited from buying back its own shares or other specified securities if it has not complied with Section 159, 207 and 211 of the Act.

- As per Section 77B of the Act, the company is prohibited from buying back through any subsidiary or any investment company or group of investment companies.

- As per Section 77B of the Act, the company is prohibited from buying back, if any default committed by the company in repayment of deposit or interest payable thereon, redemption of debentures or preference shares or payment of dividend to any shareholder or repayment of any term loan or interest payable thereon to any financial institution or bank, is subsisting.

It is necessary to look at the important prohibitions contained in Section 77B of the Act. There should not be a buy back through any back door arrangement. This calls for a detailed look at the people who agree to the offer made by the company for buyback. There should not have been certain subsisting defaults when the proposal for buyback is under consideration. There should not be a default in compliance of Sections 159, 207 and 211 of the Act. A perusal of Section 207 would reveal that it is basically a section levying a fine or penalty upon companies that have defaulted in payment of declared dividend except in certain exceptional circumstances. Sub-section (2) of Section 77B should be understood to mean whether the company has defaulted to comply with any order of any court awarding punishment as per Section 207 of the Act.

Section 211 of the Act would pose very complicated questions and finding an answer whether the company had defaulted the provisions of Section 211 of the Act would require close monitoring. Most of the requirements such as the following pertain to accounts and financial statements of the company:

- Whether the financial statements show a true and fair view?
- Whether the company has complied with the accounting standards?
- Whether the company has drawn up its financial statements in accordance with Schedule VI of the Act?

While complying one has to ascertain whether the private/unlisted public company has complied with the provisions of the Sections 77A, 77AA and 77B of the Act and the Rules thereunder with regard to buyback of shares and other specified securities? Therefore, one has to ensure that—

(a) the company has ensured buyback within the ceiling in relation to percentage of paid up capital and free reserves?
(b) the company has followed the prescribed offer procedure and has paid all the persons for the bought back shares or other specified securities?
(c) the company has filed with the Registrar of Companies the letter offer declaration of solvency, certificate from a company secretary in practice of compliance of the Rules including extinguishment and destroying of certificates of shares or other specified securities bought back, the return of buyback?
(d) the company has maintained the register of buyback and Register of securities destroyed/cancelled?
(e) the company has complied with the provisions of Section 77AA of the Act with regard to creation of Capital Redemption Reserve Fund?

SECURITIES PREMIUM ACCOUNT (SECTION 78)

Under this section, there are certain restrictions with regard to using the moneys lying to the credit of the securities premium account of the company. Of late, this provision read with Section 100 of the Act has been frequently resorted to for various purposes. It is necessary to note that even though there will be adoption of the procedure prescribed under Section 100 of the Act relating to reduction of capital, companies resorting to this procedure normally obtain from the High Court concerned exemption from the need to mention the words “and reduced” alongwith its capital. Companies do not make a mention of this material matter having financial implication in the Directors’ Report as required under Section 217 of the Act. Many a times, companies might have utilized the securities premium account even without compliance of Section 78 or Section 78 read with Section 100 of the Act.

It should be ensured that the company has applied the moneys, if any, lying to its securities premium account in the manner and for the purposes stipulated under Section 78 of the Act.

REDEMPTION OF REDEEMABLE PREFERENCE SHARES (SECTION 80A)

Section 80A contains a major provision of law highlighting the significance attached to redemption of preference shares. The provisions of this section add the protection available to preference shareholders in addition to the voting rights conferred upon them in Section 87 of the Act. The penal provisions contained in this Section are very serious and the section creates a non-compoundable offence. CLB has no power to condone generally any delay in redemption of preference shares. The power vested in CLB applies only to preference shares which have become liable to be redeemed in pursuance of the requirement of the law imposed under this section and company cannot take for granted and delay the redemption. The only way in which company may postpone the redemption without being hit by the penal clauses of Section 80A appears to be a further issue of redeemable preference shares.

FURTHER ISSUE OF SHARES (SECTION 81)

Section 81 is mainly deals with three requirements:
– Issue of shares on rights basis.
– Further issue of shares to persons who may or may not include existing members.
– Conversion of loans into equity.

All the above things may apply to an unlisted company or a listed company, though the provisions of this Section will not apply to private companies. Taking up one by one, it will be possible to analyse the important requirements of this section.
With regard to issue of shares on rights basis, several questions normally arise. They are explained below:

Question: Whether a resolution of the general meeting of the company is required?

Answer: As per Section 81(1) of the Companies Act, 1956, (the Act), if a company contemplates further issue of shares after certain time (i.e, within 1 year after first allotment etc.) such issue must first be offered to the existing members only. As per Section 81(1 A) of the Act if the shares were to be offered to persons other than (whether including existing members or not) in any manner without complying with the requirement of Section 81(1) of the Act, then only there is a requirement for obtaining a special resolution from the members of the company. Hence for a mere rights offer failing under Section 81(1) of the Act, no resolution of the company is required. However, it is needless to say that even in respect of listed companies, Clause 23 of the Listing Agreement provides the need for consent of the company in general meeting only if the issue were to be otherwise than on a rights basis.

Question: Whether, in a rights issue, the Board can permit the right to apply for additional shares even to the renouncees?

Answer: The Board has an unfettered right in the matter of disposal of shares that have not been subscribed. Therefore such shares can very well be offered to members to whom the offer of rights has been made or to any other person to whom such members choose to renounce the rights in accordance with Section 81(1)(c) of the Act.

Granting an option to subscribe for additional shares to the members or to their renouncees is very well within the statutory powers conferred upon the Board of Directors by Section 81(1)(d) of the Act. As long as such a right to apply for additional shares is restricted to shares remaining unsubscribed out of the total number of shares offered and as long as such right to apply for additional shares is part and parcel of the rights offer itself and the details of such a right have been spelt out clearly in the Letter of Offer itself, there is no problem.

Question: Will such offer of additional shares would be tantamount to a preferential issue within the meaning of Chapter XIII of the SEBI guidelines?

Answer: A resolution of the company in a general meeting is not required for the offer of rights shares and there is no change in the position even if there be included the right to apply for additional shares.

As per Clause 13.0 under Chapter XIII relating to Guidelines for Preferential Issues, the Preferential Issue of Equity shares/Fully convertible Debentures (FCDs)/Partly Convertible Debentures (PCDs) or any other financial instruments which would be converted into or exchanged with equity shares at a later date, by listed Companies whose equity share capital is listed on any stock exchange, to any select group of persons under Section 81(1 A) of the Act, on Private Placement basis, shall be governed by those Guidelines.

The term ‘Preferential Allotment’ means an issue of capital made by a body corporate in pursuance of a resolution passed under sub section (1A) of Section 81 of the Companies Act, 1956.

As the Guidelines specifically refer to (a) issue of shares etc., to any select group of persons (b) an issue under Section 81(1A) of the Act and (c) to such issue on a Private Placement basis, any issue on a rights basis will not fall under the specific conditions laid down under Chapter XIII of the Guidelines relating to preferential issues.

As per definition given in sub-Clause (xxv) of Clause 1.2.1 in Chapter I of SEBI Guidelines, “Rights Issue means an issue of capital under sub-section (1) of the Section 81 of the Act, to be offered to the existing shareholders of the Company through a letter of offer. An issue of shares including granting an option to apply for additional shares to eligible members or their renouncees covered by sub-section (1) of Section 81 of the Act cannot attract the provisions of Chapter XIII of the Guidelines.

It is interesting to note certain provisions of the SEBI takeover code also. Under Takeover Regulation 3 (1) (b), any allotment pursuant to an application made by a shareholder for rights issue to the extent of his entitlement and up to the percentage specified in Regulation 11 of the said Regulations is outside the said code. As per Regulation 11 of the said Regulations, an acquirer acquiring 15% or more but less than 75% of shares or voting rights is required to make a public announcement as per the said code. However the limit mentioned in Regulation 11 of the Regulations will not apply to the acquisition by any person presently in control of the company and who has disclosed in the letter of offer that he intends to apply for additional shares beyond his entitlement if the issue goes undersubscribed. Provided further in the said Regulations that the above exemption from the code is not available to any acquisition that results in change in control of management of the Company.

Therefore offer of additional shares as part and parcel of the rights shares would not tantamount to a preferential issue within the meaning of Chapter XIII of the SEBI Guidelines.

It can be seen that further issue of shares would fall under the expression preferential allotment of shares. Preferential allotment of shares in the case of a listed company is governed by the SEBI (Disclosure and Investor Protection), Guidelines, 2000. Similarly, preferential allotment of shares of unlisted public companies is governed by Unlisted Public Companies (Preferential Allotment) Rules, 2003.

Compliance of guidelines of SEBI in the case of listed companies are regulated by SEBI. With regard to the Unlisted Public Companies (Preferential Allotment) Rules, 2003, it is necessary to note that the following are the basic requirements of the said Rules:

– It must be noted that there has to be an enabling clause in the Articles of Association of the Company that intends to make the preferential allotment of shares.

– There has to be a special resolution, which is duly passed in a general meeting and which is valid only for a period of 12 months from the date of passing. In other words, the preferential allotment should be completed within the said 12 months.
The explanatory statement should contain certain specific disclosure requirement.

It is necessary to obtain a certificate from a Company Secretary in practice and place before the general meeting in which the proposal with regard to preferential allotment would be considered and the certificate should state that the said allotment is being made in accordance with the said Rules.

In respect of conversion of loans into shares, there are certain important conditions subject to which these conversions will fall within the exceptions contained in this section. There is also need to comply with the Public Companies (Terms of Issue of Debentures and Raising of Loans with Option to Convert such Debentures or Loans to Shares), Rules 1977.

ISSUE OF DUPLICATE SHARE CERTIFICATES (SECTION 84)

The company has to comply with the provisions of the Companies (Issue of Share Certificates) Rules, 1960 with regard to issue of duplicate/fresh share certificates.

ISSUE OF SHARES WITH DIFFERENTIAL RIGHTS (SECTION 86)

Under this section, it is necessary to comply with the Companies (Issue of Shares with Differential Voting Rights) Rules, 2001. In respect of listed companies, the Rules require the passing of necessary resolution through a postal ballot. In respect of all companies, the Rules also require a detailed explanatory statement containing certain specific disclosures.

ALTERATION OF CERTAIN MATTERS RELATING TO SHARE CAPITAL (SECTION 94)

Section 94 of the Act requires the passing an ordinary resolution in general meeting for altering the conditions contained in its memorandum in relation to the share capital of a company. This Section rightly applies only to limited companies with share capital. Section 16 of the Act provides that a company cannot alter the conditions contained in its memorandum except in the cases, in the mode, and to the extent, for which express provision has been made in the Act. Section 94 of the Act is an illustration with regard to alteration of the capital clause of a limited company in relation to the following:

- Increase the share capital.
- Consolidate and divide all or any of its share capital into shares of larger amount than its existing shares.
- Convert all or any of its fully paid shares into stock, and reconvert that stock into fully paid up shares of any denomination.
- Sub-division of shares.
- Cancellation of unissued shares.

REDUCTION OF SHARE CAPITAL (SECTIONS 100 TO 105)

Under these sections, the prerequisites, procedures and penalties in relation to reduction of share capital have been provided. Interestingly any action under this section is verified by the court before which the application for reduction of share capital has been made. However in view of the significance of the subject matter, it is necessary to be careful about reduction of capital and necessarily the procedural aspects thereof. In this context, it is necessary to ensure that the following requirements have been complied with.

VARIATION OF SHAREHOLDERS RIGHTS (SECTIONS 106 AND 107)

The company has varied the rights of holders of special classes of shares and the variation of rights has taken place in accordance with the provisions of the Act. It is duty of Company Secretary to confirm that.

TRANSFER OF SHARES (SECTION 108)

In the case of listed companies, transfers undergo a lot of process and in the demat era, there may not really be any need or control over transfers. In respect of private companies, it is necessary to remember the absolute need for compliance of provisions of the Articles of Association, because the Articles could contain certain restrictions. Most of the cases under Section 111 and some of the cases under Section 397 and 398 arise out of non-compliance of the provisions of the Articles of Association.

In respect of public companies, the shares are freely transferable and there cannot be restriction in the Articles of Association. A perusal of Section 111A of the Act would reveal that there are only a few options available to the Board of Directors for refusing to register the transfer of shares.

APPOINTMENT OF NOMINEES BY SHAREHOLDERS AND DEBENTURE HOLDERS (SECTION 109A)

A company has to record particulars of appointment/revocation of appointment of nominees of its shareholders/debenture holders.

LIMITATION OF TIME FOR ISSUE OF CERTIFICATES (SECTION 113)

It is to be ensured that the company has delivered all the certificates within the time limit specified or within such extended time in respect of debentures after allotment/registration of transfer.

SPECIAL PROVISIONS RELATING TO DEBENTURES (SECTION 117 TO 122)

Section 117A

- The debenture trust deed should be in the prescribed form and it should be executed within the prescribed time. However, it is necessary to note that the Act has not yet prescribed anything so far.

- The copy of the trust deed should be made available for inspection for debenture holder and he shall also be entitled to have a copy thereof.

- Failure to permit inspection or give copy, invites the penal clause contained in sub-section (3) of Section 117A of the Act.

The mischief addressed by this section is applicable only when the company had issued debentures and if it had refused an inspection of the debenture trust deed or to give a copy of the same.
Section 117B

- The provisions of this section apply when the company issues debentures to public.

- Unless, the company appoints one or more persons who are eligible to be appointed as debenture trustees after obtaining the consent of such persons, it is not possible to issue a prospectus or letter of offer to the public for subscription of its debentures.

- The debenture trustee has certain functions to be carried out as stated in sub-section 3 of Section 117B of the Act.

- The debenture trustee may file a petition before the Company Law Board at any time when the assets are insufficient or likely to become insufficient to discharge the principal amount as and when becomes due.

Section 117C

- It is necessary to create a debenture redemption reserve out of the profits every year until debentures are redeemed.

- The amounts credited to debenture redemption reserve (DRR) except for the purpose of redemption of debentures.

- The Ministry of Company Affairs has clarified that quantum of reserve created should be adequate to meet the amount required for redemption including the interest payable thereon.

- Section 117C of the Act will apply to debentures issued and pending to be redeemed and DRR is must for debentures issued before the inserting of Section 117C. Section 117C came into force from 13/12/2000.

- Section 117C of the Act will apply to non-convertible portion of debentures issued.

- Where the company fails to redeem the debentures, the debenture holders may seek necessary directions from Company Law Board and any default in complying with the order of the Company Law Board would be a punishable offence.

Section 118

- Under this section it is necessary to forward a copy of any trust deed to any debenture holder or member within 7 days of receipt of a request together with payment of prescribed fee.

- Where a company refuses to forward a copy of the debenture trust deed as requested, the default is a punishable offence and the aggrieved debenture holder or member may approach Company Law Board for necessary directions.

- The debenture trust deed is open for inspection in the same manner as if it were the register of members.

From the above position of law, it is possible to come to the conclusion that the legislature would take a serious view of any default in delivery of copy of debenture trust deed. However this situation might arise rarely.
Section 122

This section makes a contract with a company to take up and pay for any debentures of the company could be enforced by a decree for specific performance.

ANALYSIS OF PART V OF THE COMPANIES ACT

Part V of the Act contains Sections 124 to 145 and this part deals extensively with the issue of registration of charges. In the matter of filing of particulars of charges, there have been many cases of failure to file particulars of charges and resultant hardship to creditors who are mostly banks and financial institutions. The laudable objective with which the legislature has made it mandatory to register particulars of charges should be taken into account in order to understand the importance of this part of the Act. A charge becomes void if its particulars are not filed against the liquidator and other creditors is another important factor which reveals the position of law concerning charges.

Considering, the number of petitions that are filed before Company Law Board, one would be able to appreciate the extent of understanding/compliance of these provisions. Banks and financial institutions raise their money from public and the entire Part V has been designed to protect public interest.

The objective of any legislation has been to protect the interest of public. The objective of this analysis is to explore the possibility of enhancing the effectiveness of the provisions of law in protecting public interest. The concept of Corporate Social Responsibility underlines the need for devising ways and means to strengthen the hands of the regulators so that there is effective enforcement of the provisions of law without much intervention into the day-to-day affairs of the company. When the legislature declares a charge as void under certain circumstances, there should be valid reason for the same and every attempt should be made to ensure that the unwary creditor does not lose his capacity to enforce the charge merely because he did not ensure the filing of the same or the proper filing of the same.

Section 127 requires companies to file particulars of properties acquired subject to charge. Section 143 requires companies to maintain a register of charges, while filing of forms under Sections 125, 127, 128, 129, 135 and 138. Maintenance of register of charges under Section 143 of the Act would be covered by a general question with regard to filing of forms and returns and maintenance of registers. Section 136 of the Act requires the company to maintain a copy of every instrument creating/modify charges.

ANALYSIS OF PART VI OF THE COMPANIES ACT

REGISTERED OFFICE OF COMPANY (SECTION 146)

Registered office of a company is one of the most important provisions from the regulators point of view and public interest point of view. In these days of virtual offices, naturally there will be question whether it is necessary to have a particular place as the registered office of a company. A perusal of the provisions of the Act and other legislations will show the importance accorded to the registered office by the legislature. There are three most important matters, viz., (i) service of notice upon the company, (ii) jurisdiction of courts, Registrar of Companies, Regional Director, Company Law Board and officers of other regulators and (iii) place of keeping books of account, statutory registers, returns and other documents and common seal. Further even in respect of other legislations, registered office of a company determines various things. It is therefore necessary to view with seriousness any omission to notify any change in the registered office of a company.

With regard to shifting of registered office of a company, the following requirements have to be noted:

- For shifting within the village or town limits, a board resolution will be sufficient.
- For shifting outside the city, village and town limits, a special resolution in general meeting is necessary.
- For shifting outside the city, village and town limits, though within the State, if the shifting removes the registered office from the jurisdiction of one Registrar of Companies to that of another Registrar, a special resolution in general meeting is necessary and the approval of the Regional Director is also required.
- For shifting the registered office from one State to another, a special resolution in general meeting and confirmation of the Company Law Board is necessary.

RESTRICTIONS ON COMMENCEMENT OF BUSINESS (SECTION 149)

Under Section 149 of the Act, there are two important aspects. A company is neither entitled to exercise its borrowing powers nor entitled to commence its business unless it has obtained a certificate from the Registrar of Companies that the company is entitled to commence business. Section 149 contemplates a passing of a special resolution, if a company were to commence a new business not germane to its existing business. Section 149(2B) of the Act empowers the Board of Directors to seek approval of Central Government where the Board was able to obtain the approval of the members by an ordinary resolution only instead of a special resolution as required by Section 149(2A) of the Act.

POWER TO CLOSE REGISTER OF MEMBERS OR DEBENTURE HOLDERS (SECTION 154)

For listed companies the listing agreement operates in addition to the requirements of Section 154 of the Act. Unlisted companies do not resort to book closure as it is not mandatory. But where they close their books, there is hardly any compliance of this section. There are many unlisted public companies with large shareholder base and therefore it cannot be said that this section has out lived its purpose.

FOREIGN REGISTERS (SECTION 157 & 158)

If the company maintains a foreign register in any state or country outside India it has to comply with the provisions relating to maintaining a copy of the same in accordance with Section 158 of the Act.
PLACE OF KEEPING AND INSPECTION OF REGISTERS AND RETURNS (SECTION 163)

Read with Section 164 of the Act the evidentiary value of the statutory registers and the right of members and others to inspect the registers and take extracts thereof are enshrined in Section 163 of the Act. It is a very important section and it speaks sufficiently about the intention of the legislature in this regard. The legislature had rightly created a machinery for remedying any mischief arising out of refusal of the company to permit inspection of registers or giving extracts thereof. Any refusal by the company to permit taking extracts of the Register of Members or giving a copy of the same would show the extent of transparency and disclosure policy of the company, whatsoever be the motive of the person requiring the extract or copy.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING AND REQUISITIONED EXTRA ORDINARY GENERAL MEETINGS (SECTIONS 166 TO 169)

Sections 166 to 169 portray a very important statutory right conferred upon the shareholders of a company. If a company fails to conduct its annual general meeting, the Company Law Board, on the application of any member of the company direct the company to call annual general meeting. Such directions may include a direction that one member of the company present in person or by proxy shall be deemed to constitute a quorum of the meeting. Similarly under Section 169 of the Act, the shareholders enjoy the right to request the Board of Directors to convene an extra-ordinary general meeting and the Board is liable to proceed to call a meeting within the prescribed time, failing which the requisitionists may themselves proceed to conduct the meeting.

PROVISIONS APPLICABLE TO GENERAL MEETINGS (SECTION 170 TO 186)

EXPLANATORY STATEMENT (SECTION 173)

Section 173(2) of the Act contains a very laudable provision for explaining the members in respect of specified business before the general meeting, a brief account of the nature of business, the reasons therefor together with a memorandum of interest or concern of directors. While explaining the nature of interest or concern, the interest of persons holding controlling interest in the company are not revealed if such persons do not hold directorships in the company. Barring this lacuna Section 173(2) of the Act is an exceptional provision of law taking care of the interest of the members advising them duly to exercise their voting rights after understanding the real reason behind a particular motion. In addition to the requirements of Section 173(2) of the Act there are various recent rules that require explanations to be furnished with regard to certain specific matters. To illustrate, one may look at the provisions of the following Rules:

- The Private Limited Company and Unlisted Public Limited Company (Buyback of Securities) Rules, 1999. [Rule (4) read with Schedule I]
- Companies (Issue of Share Capital with Differential Voting Rights) Rules, 2001. [Rule 3(9)]

GENERAL MEETING UNDER THE DIRECTION OF COMPANY LAW BOARD (SECTION 186)

Where a general meeting has been called, held and conducted pursuant to an order of the Company Law Board on the application of any director or member, it is necessary to bring it to the notice of the members in order to keep them informed of the impracticable situation that has led to the holding of such general meeting.

CIRCULATION OF MEMBERS’ RESOLUTIONS (SECTION 188)

Under this section one can find another opportunity conferred upon members for making their representations and moving motions for being passed as resolutions. In order to ensure that there is no misuse, this section incorporates adequate checks and balances.

FILING OF RESOLUTIONS AND AGREEMENTS (SECTION 192)

Section 192 of the Act is a special provision requiring the filing of Form No.23 duly accompanied by resolutions, agreements and explanatory statements. It is necessary to emphasize that there has to be a specific application of mind with regard to compliance of Section 192 of the Act.

In order to appreciate the significance of Section 192 of the Act, the following ingredients of the same should be noted:

Sub-section (2) provides that every resolution or agreement which has the effect of altering the Articles of Association shall be embodied in or annexed to every copy of the Articles of Association issued after such alteration. Sub-section (2) applies to cases where the Articles of Association of the company has been registered.

Sub-section (3) provides that every resolution or agreement which has the effect of altering the Articles of Association shall be sent to any member at his request. Sub-section (3) applies to cases where the Articles of Association of the company has not been registered.

Sub-section (5) and (6) deal with cases of default in compliance of provisions of sub-section (1), (2) and (3).

Sub-section (7) of Section 192 of the Act, specifically states that the liquidator of the company should be deemed to be an officer of a company.

APPOINTMENT OF MANAGERIAL PERSONS (SECTIONS 198, 269, 309, 316, 317, 386, 387, 388 AND SCHEDULE XIII)

Section 198 provides that the total managerial remuneration shall not exceed 11% of the net profits of the company. Sub-section (3) of Section 198 of the Act states that within the said ceiling, a company may pay a monthly remuneration to its managing or whole-time directors as per Section 309 of the Act or to its manager as per Section 387 of the Act. Sub-section (4) of Section 198 underlines the need for government approval, if the remuneration were to be not in accordance with Schedule XIII, if a company has no profits or when its profits are inadequate.

Section 309 of the Act provides that the total remuneration payable to a director who is in the whole-time employment in the company or a managing director shall not exceed 5% where there is one such director or 10% if there is more than one such director for all of them together.

Section 269 of the Act provides that the appointment of managerial person is compulsory and if the appointment is made in accordance with Schedule XIII, approval of Central Government is not required.

Schedule XIII to the Act contains two parts. Part I contains ceiling on remuneration where the profits are adequate. Part II contains ceiling on remuneration if profits are not adequate or there is no profit. Interestingly, the concept of adequate profit is not defined in the Act.

Section 316 of the Act provides the ceiling on number of companies of which one person may be appointed managing director and ceiling on tenure of office of managing director. Similarly, Section 386 of the Act provides the ceiling on number of companies of which one person may be appointed manager.

In the light of what has been above, the following questions have to be addressed:

1. Procedural aspects relating to appointment of managing director or whole-time director or manager including the filing of the necessary return and approval requirements if necessary.

2. Total remuneration payable to directors/whole-time directors/managing directors/managers.

In the process the company has to ensure that the provisions of Sections 198, 269, 309, 316, 317, 386, 387, 388 and Schedule XIII to the Act in the appointment of/ remuneration to its managing director/whole-time director/manager have been complied with.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO DECLARATION AND PAYMENT OF DIVIDEND (SECTIONS 205, 205A, 205B, 205C, 206, 206A AND 207 OF THE ACT)

Briefly stated, Section 205 of the Act provides as follows:

– Dividend shall be declared out of profits, after providing for depreciation and losses, if any, to the extent necessary.

– Board may declare interim dividend.

– Within 5 days of declaration of dividend, amount should be transferred to a separate bank account.

– Companies (Transfer of Profits to Reserves) Rules, 1975 should be complied with.

– If a company has failed to redeem preference shares, it should not declare dividend on equity shares.
Section 205A of the Act provides as follows:

– Where any dividend declared by the company remains unpaid or unclaimed, the total amount which remains unpaid or unclaimed, should be transferred, within 7 days from the expiry of 30 days, to a special account called ‘Unpaid Dividend Account’ of the company in any scheduled bank.

– If a company proposes to declare dividend out of accumulated profits, even when in a particular financial year, there is inadequacy or absence of profits, the company has to comply with the provisions of the Companies (Declaration of Dividend Out of Reserves) Rules, 1975. Where such declaration is not in accordance with the said Rules, it requires previous approval of Central Government.

Section 205B of the Act has lost its relevance after the coming into force of Section 205C, though Section 205B is still in the statute book and it could be invoked in certain old cases.

Section 205C of the Act provides for transfer to Investor Education and Protection Fund (IEPF) certain moneys remaining unpaid/unclaimed with the company after certain period of time. The transfer of moneys falling under this section should be carried out in accordance with the Investor Education and Protection Fund (Awareness and Protection of Investors) Rules, 2001. As far as dividend is concerned, the Rules requires the transfer of all unpaid and unclaimed dividend within thirty days after the expiry of seven years from the due date within which the company should have paid the dividend. The importance of this requirement would be understood by referring to the disclosure requirement incorporated in this respect in the Schedule VI (format of Balance Sheet) and in Schedule V (format of annual return).

Section 206 of the Act provides that the dividend shall be paid only to registered shareholders or to their order or to their bankers.

Section 206A of the Act requires keeping in abeyance of dividends, rights shares and bonus shares pending registration of transfer of shares. However it should be noted that though it is a statutory requirement to keep these benefits in abeyance, such occasions do not arise frequently and with dematerialisation of shares, the opportunities for keeping in abeyance have got further reduced.

When the instrument which was originally tendered to the company was returned to the shareholder and a new transfer instrument was tendered instead of the returned one, the Company Law Board held that Section 206A will not apply to such cases because the registration of transfer was not kept pending at the time of issue of rights and bonus shares.

Section 207 of the Act provide for certain penalties and payment of interest in the event of any failure on the part of the company to pay declared dividend.

Thus under compliance process, the following questions may be incorporated:

(a) “Where a company has declared any dividend or interim dividend, whether the company has complied with the provisions of Section 205 and 205A of the Act with regard to payment of dividend within the prescribed 30 days as required under Section 205A (1) of the Act?"

(b) "Whether the company has complied with the Companies (Transfer of Profits to Reserves) Rules, 1975 and Companies (Declaration of Dividend Out of Reserves) Rules, 1975, if applicable?"

(c) "Whether the company has complied with the provisions of Section 205C of the Act read with the Investor Education and Protection Fund (Awareness and Protection of Investors) Rules, 2001?"

BOOKS OF ACCOUNT (SECTION 209)

The major requirements of this section are keeping proper books of account and keeping them at the registered office of the company and if the Board wants to keep them elsewhere, the relevant Form No.23AA should be filed at the office of the Registrar of Companies. The question of filing the prescribed form would be covered by the general question relating to returns and registers. If the company does not keep proper books of account, in such a case there is supposed to be a show cause notice served upon the company and its directors from the Registrar.

INSPECTION OF BOOKS OF ACCOUNT (SECTION 209A)

Section 209A of the Act provides for inspection of books of account by the Registrar of Companies, other authorised officers of the Central Government or the SEBI. If an inspection were to be ordered, it is the duty of every director, officer, other employees of the company to provide all the books of account and such other explanations and assistance as may be necessary. If the books of account are not produced or if the officers of the company do not cooperate, the inspecting officer has been empowered to notify the Ministry of Company Affairs, which is empowered to take such action as may be necessary. Similarly, if the books of account reveal contraventions of provisions of law, commissions and omissions, it is again for the inspecting officials to take appropriate action against the company, directors and other officers who are liable for the same.

FINANCIAL YEAR (SECTION 210)

The major requirement under Section 210 of the Act relates to the period of financial year. This section also provides for an approval by the Registrar of Companies, if the accounting period should be extended beyond the prescribed maximum period of 15 months.

TRUE AND FAIR VIEW AND DISCLOSURE OF PARTICULARS (SECTION 211)

The major requirements under this section are compliance of accounting standards, disclosure of particulars in accordance with the requirements of Schedule VI, the need to obtain specific exemption from Central Government for abstaining from disclosure of quantitative particulars, the need to ensure a true and fair view in so far as it pertains to the balance sheet and profit and loss account of the company. The entire requirements are supposed to be an audit questions from the point of view of audit of accounts to be carried out by a chartered accountant in pursuance of the audit related provisions of the Act.
FURNISHING OF PARTICULARS OF SUBSIDIARY COMPANIES (SECTION 212 READ WITH SECTION 213)

Under these sections, it is necessary to attach with the balance sheet of the holding-company, the balance sheet, profit and loss account, the directors’ report, auditor’s report and certain other statements and reports of subsidiary company. The holding company may obtain exemption from complying with the provisions of this section, by making an application to the Central Government. The statutory right of the representatives and members of the holding company to inspect the books of account of its subsidiaries as enshrined in Section 214 of the Act, is basically an important provision contained in the Act aimed at disclosing to the shareholders of the holding company certain basic details in relation to its subsidiaries.

BOARD’S REPORT (SECTION 217)

Directors’ Report acts as the communication bridge between the directors and the members of a company. With the requirement relating to specific disclosures, with the need for necessary explanation to qualifications of statutory auditors, with the introduction of directors’ responsibility statement, the report serves a very important purpose. Section 621 of the Act enables every member to file a complaint against a company and its directors for any offence under the Act. If a member feels aggrieved due to failure of the Board of Directors to disclose in Board’s report any material information, the member may choose to file a complaint directly. In addition to the requirements contained in Section 217 of the Act, there are other Rules and Regulations such as the ESOP Guidelines of SEBI, Directions of RBI concerning non-banking financial companies, Schedule XIII to the Act also requires the board to make certain disclosures in the Board’s report.

There is another important aspect of the disclosure requirements in the Directors’ Report. While there are various agencies for scrutinising the prospectus thoroughly, there is no agency for verifying the implementation of the project as stated in the offer document. It is necessary “to check-the utilisation of proceeds and report whether there are any serious deviation or irregularities. Such a disclosure should be defined as a material information falling within the purview of Section 217 of the Act. The Company Law Board observed as follows:

“It is clear that regulatory authorities which have authorised public issues did not monitor the utilization of the funds raised from the public. The CLB observed that the absence of such monitoring system was perhaps one of the reasons for this Company’s position of being what it was. The CLB further held that in the larger interests of the public shareholders, and in the interest of the Company, certain suitable remedial steps had to be ordered, as it was clear that the management was guilty of commission and omission”.

Though Section 217 of the Act requires the Board of Directors of a company to report all material information to the shareholders and more particularly all matters having financial implication and those that would cast an impact on the profits of the company, there is hardly any compliance in letter and spirit.

Therefore it is necessary to include the following questions within the scope of the compliance:

(a) “Whether the Board has disclosed in its report all material particulars in compliance of Section 217 and other provisions of the Act and the Rules and Regulations thereunder and the SEBI Guidelines and regulations and the directions of Reserve Bank of India, as the case may be?"

(b) “Whether the company has utilized the proceeds received from the issue for the purposes and in the manner stated in the offer document and where there has been deviation, has the management explained the reasons thereof in the Directors Report?”

RIGHT OF MEMBER TO RECEIVE COPIES OF BALANCE SHEET, ETC. (SECTION 219)

This is a very important statutory right conferred upon every member to get from the company a copy of duly approved/authenticated balance sheet, profit and loss account, the report of the directors and auditors in respect of every accounting year. The company should also send all the above to every trustee of debenture holders and all other persons who are entitled to receive notices of general meetings of companies.

One has to ensure that the company has despatched, to every member, debenture trustee and every other person who is entitled to receive notices of general meeting, a copy of balance sheet, profit and loss account, auditors report and all other documents that are required to be annexed/attached to every balance sheet in accordance with Section 219 of the Act.

FILING OF BALANCE SHEETS WITH REGISTRAR (SECTION 220)

The following are the two important provisions of this section:

– Filing of 3 copies of the balance sheet, etc. whether or not they have been laid/adopted at the annual general meeting or not.
– Filing a statement to the Registrar of Companies containing the reasons if the balance sheet has not been adopted or if the annual general meeting has not been held.

However the Companies (Amendment) Act, 2006 has made significant change in the process by introducing e-filing mechanism.

PROVISIONS RELATING TO APPOINTMENT OF DIRECTOR (SECTIONS 252 TO 266)

The following are the major requirements of these provisions:

– Minimum and maximum number of directors of a company and the requirement for approval of Central Government for increasing the maximum number of directors (Sections 252 and 259) Determination of office of directors by retirement by rotation (Sections 255 and 256).
– Automatic appointment of directors who are liable to retire by rotation in certain cases (Section 256).
– Eligibility to stand as a candidate for election to the office of a director (Section 257).
– Power to increase or reduce the number of directors (Section 258).
- Appointment of additional director (Section 260).
- Filling up of casual vacancies (Section 262).
- Appointment of directors to be voted individually (Section 263).
- Consent to act as directors (Section 264).
- Proportional representation for the appointment of directors (Section 265).
- Restrictions with regard to appointment/advertisement of director in any prospectus/statement in lieu of prospectus (Section 266).
- Disqualification of Directors (Section 274).
- Maximum number of Directorship (Section 275).
- Automatic vacation of office (Section 283).
- Removal of directors (Section 284).

Though a company is created as an artificial person with contribution to its capital coming from “several members”, the directors are the persons who run the day-to-day affairs of the company and manage the business of the company. Section 290 of the Act contains a laudable provision. It provides that if subsequent to the appointment of a person as a director, any defect is discovered, such discovery will not affect the validity of acts of such a person in whose appointment a defect was discovered.

For illustration, in the case of banking companies, the Banking Regulation Act, 1949 provides that the director of a bank cannot continue in office for more than 8 years continuously [Section 10A(2-A)]. This implies that if a person is appointed as a director of a banking company on a particular day, he has to vacate the office on the expiry of 8 years from the date of his appointment. If he were to resign a few days before the expiry of the 8th year and if the banking company were to appoint another person in his place under Section 262 of the Act, can such person who filled the vacancy continue beyond the date on which the original director would have vacated his office by operation of law. Assuming a person who fills up the casual vacancy caused in such a manner, he cannot continue in office beyond the period upto which the original director would have continued in office. Disregarding the above position of law, if the person appointed under Section 262 continues in office, it could be said that there is a fundamental flaw in such continuance. However, the validity of all acts of such director is saved by Section 290 of the Act.

Therefore, the question whether the Board of Directors of the company is properly constituted or not, encompasses within its ambit a lot of questions of fact and law. Several such illustrations can be given in this regard. It goes without saying that answers to the above question would require a thorough examination of the provisions of not only Sections 252 to 266 of the Act, but also several other sections of the Act such as Sections 274, 269, 283, 284, 295, 397, 398 and many other laws going beyond the barriers of the Companies Act.

PASSING OF RESOLUTIONS BY CIRCULATION (SECTION 289)

- Circulation of the draft resolution together with necessary papers to all the directors or to all the members of the committee, then in India.
- It is necessary to ensure that the number of persons in India to whom the resolutions and the papers have been circulated is not less than the quorum.
fixed for a meeting of the Board or committee as the case may be.

- The resolution and the necessary papers should also be circulated to all other directors or members of committee at their usual address in India.
- The resolution should have been approved by the directors as are then in India or by a majority of them who are entitled to vote on the resolution.
- By necessary implication, it should be understood that an interested director who cannot be counted for quorum purposes in a physical meeting, cannot vote when a draft resolution is circulated.

Again by implication, it should be understood that at least a majority of directors who are then in India and who are entitled to vote should have voted in favour. It means a director may be a person resident outside India. But if he was in India at the time of circulation of resolution, the draft resolution and other papers should be sent to him and his presence would be counted for the purpose of quorum and also for the purpose of determining the passing of the resolution. It is needless to say that the resolution can be deemed to have been passed only after it receives the consent of a majority of the directors who are then in India and who are entitled to vote.

Considering the fact that the law contained in Section 289 of the Act requires a thorough compliance so that no defect is noticed in any resolution that is passed by circulation.

POWERS OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS (SECTIONS 291, 292 AND 293)

The Board derives general powers under Section 291 of the Act. Section 292 of the Act requires certain powers to be exercised only by means of resolutions passed at meetings of Board. Section 293 of the Act places certain restrictions on the powers of Board. Under Section 293 of the Act in order to exercise certain powers, the Board of a public company would require the consent of the company in general meeting. While it is possible to look at compliance of these provisions on a stand alone basis in respect of select transactions, it is advisable to ensure the compliance of Section 292 and Section 293 of the Act thoroughly so that the legislative intention is taken care with a focus towards it. There are many occasions when non-compliance of these sections has been pressed into service in order to question the validity of a transaction. While the doctrine of indoor management would protect third parties from such threats, it can always cause a lot of nuisance and thereby result in loss of valuable time, energy and money.

AUDIT COMMITTEE (SECTION 292A)

This section offers a corporate governance tool and provides the need for constitution of audit committees for unlisted companies also. In respect of listed companies, the clauses of the listing agreement are also to be complied with.

SOLE SELLING AGENTS (SECTION 294 & 294AA)

The following question would be adequate to capture the important compliances of the above sections.

“Whether the company has obtained the approval of its members and if necessary, also the approval of Central Government as per Sections 294 and 294AA of the Act in respect of sole selling agents, if any, appointed during the year?”
LOANS TO DIRECTORS (SECTION 295)

Section 295 of the Act creates a very important requirement. Prior approval of Central Government should be obtained before a public company lends or gives guarantee or provides security to or for the benefit of any specified person or firm or company. Sub-section (1) of Section 295 of the Act contains 5 clauses and each clause contains a description of a specified person or firm or company. If a company intends to give any loan or provide any security or give any guarantee as security for the repayment of any loan given by any person to any person or firm or company specified in the said clauses, prior approval is necessary. In the era of independent directors would such transactions require prior approval of Central Government is a different question altogether. If a company contravenes the requirements of Section 295, the directors responsible for the contravention are not only liable to be punished for such contravention but also they might fall prey to the operation of law relating to automatic vacation of office contained in Section 283 of the Act. By a circular, the Ministry of Company Affairs has issued a checklist for being followed in respect of matters falling under Section 295.

CONTRACTS REQUIRING CERTAIN APPROVALS (SECTION 297)

Under this section, if a contract or arrangement involves sale / purchase or supply of any goods, materials or services or for providing underwriting services (specified transactions) were to be entered into by a company with a specified person, firm or company, the contract or arrangement requires the approval of the Board of Directors and in the case of companies having a paid up share capital of not less than Rs.1 Crore, prior approval of the Central Government also. The following parties require such approvals for entering into any contract or arrangement with a company for specified transactions.

- Director of the company.
- Any relative of the Director of the company.
- A firm in which such a director or relative is a partner.
- Any other partner in such a firm.
- A private company of which the director is a member or director.

Thus, in respect of specified transactions when specified parties propose to enter into any contract or arrangement with a company, the company should have the approval of the Board of Directors and, wherever necessary, approval of Central Government also.

DISCLOSURE OF INTERESTS BY DIRECTORS (SECTION 299)

As a stand-alone section, Section 299 is only a procedural formality. Read with Section 300, 287, 299, 295 and such other similar sections, the disclosure ought to be made by directors as a general requirement under Section 299 of the Act is very useful. Sub-section (6) of Section 299 of the Act states that if the interest of a director of one company in another company arises solely for the reason that he holds less than 2% of the paid up capital of other company, he need not be considered as interested in the other company. However if the director of a company is also a director of another company or if any one of his relative is a director of another company, irrespective of whether such director holds any share in the other company or not, he should be deemed to be interested in the other company. Any failure to disclose interest results in automatic vacation of office under Section 283 of the Act. Therefore the Act envisages this provision as an important provision and in the era of Corporate Governance, these objectives are laudable. Under Section 305, every director is required to disclose particulars of other offices held/relinquished/vacated by him in other companies within 21 days of appointment/relinquishment.

HOLDING OF OFFICE OR PLACE OF PROFIT BY DIRECTORS AND/OR THEIR RELATIVES (SECTION 314)

Section 314 of the Act read with, the Director’s Relatives (Office or Place of Profit) Rules, 2003, contains two major requirements with respect to appointment of director or any relative of a director to an office or place of profit or a relative of a director who is holding an office or place of profit in a company. The twin requirements of this section are the special resolution and the approval of Central Governments provided the remuneration is beyond a certain ceiling as per the section and/or the said Rules. This section ensures that the directors of companies do not take undue advantage of the position held by them by taking up offices or places of profits in the company, or by appointing their relatives to any office or place of profit in the company.

It is to be checked, “whether the company has complied with Section 314 of the Act and The Director’s Relatives (Office or Place of Profit) Rules, 2003 in relation to appointment of a director or any relative of a director to any office or place of profit or appointment of any relative of a director who is already holding an office or place of profit to any office or place of profit?”

INTER-CORPORATE LOANS AND INVESTMENTS (SECTION 372A)

Section 372A requires companies having proposals for inter-corporate loans, investments, guarantees, securities to limit the total inter corporate exposure, whether by way of loans or investments or securities or guarantees to certain level. The following compliance requirements are noteworthy:

- As per Section 372A the total inter-corporate exposure should not exceed 60% of the aggregate of the paid up capital and free reserves or 100% percentage of the free reserves.
- The proviso under sub-section (1) states that with a special resolution passed in a general meeting the said ceiling can be exceeded.
- Sub-section (8) contains certain cases of loans, investments, guarantees and securities in respect of which the entire Section 372A will not apply.
- Sub-section (3) provides a ceiling on the interest rate applicable for loans.
- Sub-section (2) provides that the resolution sanctioning inter corporate loans/investments/guarantees/securities should be passed at a meeting of a board with the consent of all the directors present at the meeting.
- Sub-section (2) also requires prior approval of public financial institution referred to under Section 4A of the Act if any term loan is subsisting.
- Sub-section (4) provides that if a company has defaulted under Section 58A, it cannot make any inter corporate loans/investments/guarantees/securities.
– Sub-section (5) and (6) provide for the need to keep and maintain a register of investments and at the registered office of the company and states that the said register can be permitted for inspection in the same manner as if it were the register of members.
– Under sub-section (7) the Central Government is empowered to issue necessary guidelines.
– By a circular, the Department of Company Affairs has issued a checklist for being followed in respect of matters falling under Section 372A.

As seen above, Section 372A is one of the most important sections of the Companies Act and therefore, it is essential that compliance of Section 372A needs close monitoring.

APPOINTMENT OF COMPANY SECRETARY AND ISSUE OF COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE (SECTION 383A)

Whether a company has appointed a whole time company secretary is a question, which is seldom asked. Many a times, statutory auditors used to have a doubt, whether to make a statement in their report about the vacancy. However, as per the present requirement, auditors are not under any duty to report whether the company has appointed a company secretary or not.

Given the fact that Section 383A is in statute book to ensure that the company carries out all its statutory obligations not only under the Companies Act but also under other legislations, it is necessary to ensure that “whether the company has appointed a whole time company secretary as per Section 383A of the Act?”

SCHEME OF COMPROMISE, ARRANGEMENT, ETC (SECTION 390 TO 394A)

Registration of every sanctioned scheme or arrangement is mandatory as per Section 394(3) of the Act. Though all other formalities concerning schemes or arrangements undergo a thorough scrutiny leading to sanction or otherwise, the registration part goes unchecked. It is necessary to check “Whether the company has registered the order of the court, if any, with RoC as required under Section 394(3) of the Act?”

ACQUISITION OF SHARES OF ANOTHER COMPANY (SECTION 395)

Under Section 395 of the Act, the following are the salient features:
 – Facility for acquisition of minority stake.
 – The trigger for the operation of the compulsory acquisition of the stake of the minority is the notice to be issued to them by the Transferee Company within 2 months of the expiry of the period of 4 months envisaged under Section 395 of the Act. But even without going through the grind, if an acquirer is confident of acquiring the entire control, there is no need to go through Section 395 of the Act. It is purely an option recognized by the statute.
 – While acquisition through a route otherwise than the one stipulated under Section 395 of the Act is possible, there is no possibility of acquiring the minority stake as a matter of statutory requirement in a case where the dissenting shareholders hold less than 10% in value of the share capital of the Company.

If a company acquires the shares of another company through Section 395, the circular should be registered in the prescribed form/manner and the company is liable to acquire the minority holdings within the prescribed time. If the company fails to register the circulars/if the company fails to buy the shares held by dissentient/minority shareholders, such defaults on the part of the acquiring company might go unnoticed.

OPPRESSION AND MISMANAGEMENT (SECTION 397 TO 407)

The provisions relating to oppression and mismanagement are considered to be very effective in resolving disputes between shareholders/directors representing different shareholder groups. So much so that these disputes are often referred to as battle for corporate management, control and ownership. At the same time, in such situations, the underlying truth is that there are under currents and it signals the need for abundant caution to be exercised by minority shareholders, creditors and other shareholders.

One has to check “Whether any petition/application has been filed against the company or its directors under Section 397/398 of the Act and whether the company/directors have complied with the order of the Company Law Board, if any, under Section 402/403 of the Act?”

EMPLOYEES SECURITY DEPOSITS AND PROVIDENT FUNDS (SECTIONS 417 TO 420)

It is necessary to note that the Act requires security deposits collected from employees to be preserved separately and the contributions to the provident fund constituted by the company to be made without any delay. In this context, it is necessary to underline the importance of these provisions from the point of view of the interests of the employees. Particularly, in times of financial crunch, the directors might utilise these monies for day-to-day purposes and therefore there must be an effective mechanism, which prevents the management from doing so.

APPOINTMENT OF RECEIVERS AND MANAGERS (SECTIONS 421 TO 424)

Under Section 421 of the Act, appointment of receivers, managers require the filing of abstract in the prescribed form with the Registrar of Companies under Section 422 of the Act, it must be noted that an invoices should bear the information that a receiver has been appointed.

COMPOUNDING OF OFFENCES (SECTION 621A)

This is an important provision which relieves the company and its directors from prosecutions and this section is very frequently utilised. But there is no requirement relating to reporting to the shareholders and stakeholders about the compounding fee paid, though there must be a provision for such a disclosure. The compounding fee paid by the company and its directors is not considered as a fine or penalty and the proceedings before the compounding authority are not criminal proceedings.

STUDY XIV
SHARE TRANSFER AUDIT

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

The objective of this study lesson is to enable the students to understand

- Meaning, Need, scope of Share Transfer audit
- Appraisal of share transfer work
- Salient features of listing agreement pertaining to share transfers
- Audit for reconciliation of the total admitted capital with both the depositories and the total issued and listed capital etc.
- Safeguards on transfer of securities in dematerialised mode.

INTRODUCTION

Registration of transfer of shares, debentures and other securities is one of the area which has to be constantly monitored by the Company Secretary in a company. This is one area where the investors have interaction with the company and also judge its functioning. By not caring or not paying proper attention to the work connected with registration of transfers the company whether manual or electronic transfer, will have disgruntled shareholders. Naturally this will create a bad impression on them and consequently the image of the company would suffer.

Under Section 108 of the Companies Act, 1956 a company cannot register a transfer unless proper instrument of transfer duly stamped and executed by or on behalf of the transferor and by and on behalf of the transferee and specifying the name, address and occupation, if any, of the transferee is delivered to the Company with the certificate relating to the security involved in transfer or where no certificate is in existence, along with the letter of allotment of the security concerned.

Format of Transfer Deed

The transfer deed will have to be in Form 7B appended to the Companies (Central Government’s) General Rules and Forms, 1956. If the transfer deed relates to transfer of shares it should be stamped with date by the Registrar of Companies or other officials authorised in this behalf by the Central Government before anything is written on it.

Validity of Transfer Deed

The transfer deed so stamped is valid for lodgement in the case of a listed company within 12 months of the date so stamped or first closure of the register of members after it is so dated-stamped, whichever is later.
In the case of an unlisted company it is valid for lodgement within two months of the date so stamped.

Where the validity period of an instrument of transfer has expired namely, the instrument is beyond 12 months from the date of presentation to the prescribed authority or from the date of book closure whichever is later in case of shares of a listed company, and in other case 2 months from the date of presentation, the holder may make an application in Form 7C to the Registrar of companies requesting for extension in validity, alongwith requisite fee based on the nominal value of shares.

The transfer deed so stamped is valid for lodgement in the case of a listed company within 12 months of the date so stamped or first closure of the register of members after it is so dated-stamped, whichever is later. In the case of an unlisted company it is valid for lodgement within two months of the date so stamped.

When date of stamping requirements on transfer deed is not applicable?

The date-stamping requirement is not applicable in relation to transfer deed executed for transfer of debentures or other securities in a company.

Registration of Transfer of Shares

Transfer Deed duly executed for the registration of a transfer of the shares or other interest of a member in a company may be submitted either by the transferor or by ‘transferee’, together with the relevant share certificates.

Under Section 113 of the Companies Act, a company is required to deliver the certificate within three months after the allotment of any of its securities and within two months after the application for registration of transfer of any such securities. However, this period for issue of certificates for debentures may be extended by the Company Law Board*, on an application being made to it in this behalf by the company to a further period of not exceeding nine months where it is satisfied that it is not possible for the company to deliver such certificates within the said periods. Generally, the practice is to send the certificate to the person who lodged the transfer in question with the company or as per the instructions at the time of lodgement of the transfer deed for registration. Also see Jagatjit Industries Ltd. and others v. Mohan Meakin Ltd. and others (1991) 6 CLA 22 (CLB). While the period of two months will generally be applicable to companies for return of certificates relating to a security after registration of transfer of the security, in the case of listed company this period has been curtailed to one month by virtue of a provision in the listing agreement whereunder companies have agreed to return the certificates within one month of the date of lodgement for transfer [vide Clause 3(c) of the listing agreement].

Where the securities are dealt within a depository, the company is required to intimate the details of allotment of securities to depository immediately on allotment of such securities and every depository shall on receipt of intimation from a participant, register the transfer of securities in the name of the transferee. In case

the beneficial owner or a transferee of any securities seeks to have custody of such securities, the depository shall inform the issuer accordingly.

Along with the Depositories Act, 1996 a new Sub-section (14) was added to Section 111 of the Companies Act, 1956 by which Section 111 was made applicable only to a private company. At the same time Section 22A of Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 was repealed. Instead a new Section 111A was inserted in the Companies Act, 1956, which provided that:

1. The said section is applicable to a company other than a private company.
2. If a transfer of shares has been made wrongly, the Company Law Board may order rectification of the register of members and debentureholders.
3. The shares and debentures of a public company are freely transferable. Where a company refuses to register a transfer within two months of deposit of the instrument of transfer, the transferee may appeal to the Company Law Board for directing the Company to register the transfer.

AUDIT OF SHARE TRANSFERS

The auditor is required to check the following aspects while conducting share transfer audit.

— Proper instrument should have been submitted to the company. Execution and delivery of share transfer form is an essential pre-requisite without which a company cannot register a transfer. The prescribed Form 7B should be duly endorsed by the ROC.

— The share transfer form may be lodged either by transferor or by transferee. Verify whether the transfer falls within the purview of the following cases:
  i. share transferred by a director or nominee on behalf of another body corporate under Section 49(2) and (3);
  ii. shares transferred by a director or nominee on behalf of a corporation owned or controlled by the Central or State Government;
  iii. shares transferred by way of deposit as a security for repayment of any loan or advance if they are made with any of these: (a) State Bank of India or (b) any scheduled bank or (c) any banking company or (d) financial institution or (e) Central Government or (f) State Government (g) any corporation owned or controlled by the Central or State Government; or
  iv. trustees who have filed the declarations;
  v. transfer of debentures.

In the aforesaid, the instrument of transfer may not be in the prescribed form.

— Check whether transfer deed is duly stamped and executed both by transferor and transferee.
In the case of transfer of shares the stamp duty is uniform throughout the country. On every share transfer form, there shall be paid requisite Stamp Duty as per Indian Stamp Act, 1899 and the stamp duty payable on a share transfer is to be paid by affixing to transfer form special adhesive stamps bearing the words ‘Share Transfer’.

In the absence of proof of payment of such consideration companies generally assume the market value of the shares on the date of execution of the transfer deed for the purpose of calculation of stamp duty. It should be noted that share transfer stamps of the value equivalent to the duty payable is to be affixed on the transfer deed and the stamps should be cancelled also before the transfer deed is lodged with the company. Strictly speaking, a company cannot accept a transfer deed for registration unless share transfer stamps are affixed and the same are cancelled.

In the case of transfer of debentures or other securities the stamp duty payable on transfer thereof vary from State to State. The duty has to be paid at the time of execution. The duty so paid at the time of execution should, however, be not less than the duty payable in the State in which the Registered Office of the company is situate if the deed had been executed there. Please refer to the relevant provisions of the various State Stamp Acts.

If shares are held jointly by two or more persons, the instrument of transfer must be executed by all joint holders. Splitting of joint holding into individual shareholding will also require execution of a share transfer deed. In such a case, all joint holders shall sign a transfer deed as transferors and the respective individuals holders in whose favour splitting is to be made, shall sign as transferees.

— The signature of the transferor should tally with the specimen recorded with the company.

Where although the signatures are attested by Notary Public, the same do not tally or the signatures have not been properly attested, the companies are advised to satisfy themselves where there is doubt/apprehension about the genuineness of signatures by making a reference to the transferor. However, a company cannot escape liability where attestation is done negligently. The signatures of the transferor in the share/debenture transfer form must be witnessed by other person, giving his name, signature and address.

— Where the instrument is executed by a person other than transferor or transferees named in instrument, on behalf of transferor or the transferee, the document authorising the executant to execute the instrument of transfer must be obtained by the company. If the transferor is a body corporate, it should be ensured that a Board resolution of the transferor has been passed and proper authority has been given by the Board of directors to the person signing as the transferor on behalf of the company.

— The share transfer form must be complete as regards other particulars i.e. name, address, occupation etc. of transferee.

— Share certificate or if no such certificate is in existence the letter of allotment of shares shall be delivered alongwith the instrument. Every instrument of transfer should be presented to the prescribed authority for dating before anything is filled in or signed by the transferor.

— Share transfer form must be presented in time limit for delivery of instrument, together with related certificates, in compliance with Section 108 of the Companies Act, 1956.

— If the transferee is a company then before registering the transfer it should be seen with reference to the Objects Clause of the Memorandum of Association of the company concerned whether it is one of the objects of the company to make investments in the securities of other companies and the investment is properly authorised by the Board of directors under Section 292 and, if applicable, under Section 372A of the Companies Act, 1956 and appropriate delegation has been given in favour of the person who has signed the transfer deed. In Jagatjit Industries Ltd. and others v. Mohan Meakins Ltd. and others (1991) 6 CLA 22 (CLB) companies need not indicate occupation in the relevant column of the transfer deed.

— Where the application is made by the transferor and relates to partly paid up shares, check whether the company has given due notice of application to the transferee and whether the transferee has raised objection, if any, within two weeks from the date of receipt of the said notice.

— If the signed transfer deed has been lost, the same stamp is affixed on the written application, in which case, the Board may, if it thinks fit, register the transfer on suitable terms of indemnity.

— Check whether any restriction, is/was at any time imposed on the transfer of shares, whether by the Articles or under any other law.

— Check whether the transferor and transferee are both entered as beneficial owners in the records of a depository in which case provisions of Section 108 do not apply.

— Check whether the transfer is in violation of provisions of SEBI (Substantial Acquisition of Shares and Takeovers) Regulations, 1997.

— If the company is a listed company and Shares Transfer Agents are processing the company’s share transfer work, check whether they have followed the guidelines issued by various market intermediaries including general norms for processing of documents, norms for processing of transfers and norms for objection.

— Check whether all the work related to share registry in terms of both physical and electronic form is maintained by the company at a single point i.e. either in house by the company or by a SEBI registered Registrar and Transfer Agent.

— Check whether uniform guidelines prescribed by SEBI are followed by Registrars to an Issue (RTI)/Share Transfer Agents (STA) and companies for handling and processing of transfer documents.
SEBI vide its circular No. 1 (2000-2001) dated May 09, 2001 has issued uniform guidelines to be followed by RTI/STA and companies. These guidelines have been divided into three parts:

(i) General norms for processing of documents.
(ii) Norms for processing of transfers.
(iii) Norms for objection.

Draft of the formats to be used have also been suggested in these guidelines.

All registered RTIs and STAs and companies listed on stock exchanges should mandatorily follow these guidelines and formats. These directions are issued pursuant to powers conferred on SEBI under Section 11B of SEBI Act, 1992.

In addition to the above aspects, the following aspects are to be kept in mind while effecting transfers.

(a) Appraisal of register of members/debenture holders

Check whether a company has properly maintained its register of members and register of debentureholders with respect to the following aspects:

— Whether the registers are maintained in the form prescribed under the Companies (Issue of Share Certificates) Rules, 1960 or as near thereto as circumstances admit.

— Whether the details of the transfers have been posted in the proper folios in the register of members. In case of transferee being a new member whether new folio has been allotted to him. In case after recording the transfer the holding of a member becomes nil whether the folio has been properly closed.

— Whether entries in the register are authenticated by the Secretary or any other person authorised by the Board.

— Whether in case of a company having more than 50 members an index of members is maintained.

— Whether every change in the register of members has been recorded in the index within 14 days.

— Whether the declarations received under Section 187C have been properly entered in the proper folio of the register of members.

(b) Processing of Dividends/Interest Warrants, considering share transfer

The paramount requirement in the processing of dividend/interest warrants is to determine the persons entitled to the dividend/interest as the case may be. For this purpose, under Section 154 of the Companies Act, 1956, companies are empowered to close the register of members/register of debenture holders by giving 7 days’ clear notice by advertisement in some newspaper circulating in the district in which the registered office of the company is situate. In case of listed companies under the listing agreement companies are required to close the transfer books only once in a year with reference to the annual general meeting. For all other purposes the stock exchanges require fixation of record date. Before closing the transfer books or fixing the record date the concerned stock exchange should be given a notice at least 42 days in advance. In view of the above, in the case of listed companies while transfer books can be closed for the payment of dividend/final dividend, for all other purposes they can only fix a record date. Even though Section 154 of the Companies Act, 1956 is silent with regard to giving notice to members in regard to fixation of record date, it is necessary to publish notice in the same manner as is done for closure of register of members so as to enable the members/debentureholders to lodge the transfer deed in time for getting their entitlement.

All valid transfer deeds lodged with the company before the date of commencement of the closure of register of members/register of debentureholders or the record date should be given effect to and list of persons who are entitled for the dividend/interest as the case may be should be prepared.

Separate banking account should be opened for payment of dividend/interest, as the case may be. The dividend warrants/interest warrants should be got printed, prepared and duly signed. It should be kept ready for delivery. As soon as the dividend is declared at the general meeting the dividend warrant should be posted. In the case of interest the same should be posted immediately after it becomes due for payment or even earlier but dating the interest warrant with the date on which the interest becomes due. In any case the dividend warrants should be sent to the persons entitled thereto within 30 days of the declaration of the dividend (Section 207).

Under the listing agreement listed companies are required to intimate the stock exchange at least 21 days in advance of the date on and from which date the dividend will be payable. Listed companies are also required to issue dividend warrants payable at par at such centres as may be agreed to between the stock exchange and the company. Even though listing agreement is silent about the interest warrant, the procedure set out above should equally apply for payment of interest on debentures which are listed on stock exchanges.

A Company Secretary in Practice should while appraising the processing of dividend and interest warrants keep the foregoing aspects in mind and ensure that they are scrupulously followed by companies.

(c) Signature Verification on Transfer Deed

Where it is found that the transferor’s signature on the transfer deed varies, a company is not bound to accept the deed even if it has been attested and the Ministry of Finance, Stock Exchange Division has advised companies that where there is a variation in the signature of the transferor, the company should send a notice to the transferor by registered post informing him of the receipt of the deed purportedly signed by him and that the company shall take action to register the transfer if the company does not receive any objection from the transferor within 21 days of the date of the said notice. This will help companies not to delay action in bona fide cases.

(d) Audit for reconciliation of the total admitted capital with both the depositories and the total issued and listed capital.

While conducting share transfer audit of a company which has both physical and demat shares, the auditor check the following aspects

(i) Whether the work related to share registry in terms of both physical and electronic is maintained at a single point i.e. either in-house by the company or by a SEBI registered R & T Agent.

(ii) Whether the company or the registrars and share transfer agents (RSTA) as the case may be are maintaining records of all the shares dematerialised, rematerialised and details of all securities declared to be eligible for dematerialisation in the depositories and

(iii) Whether dematerialisation of shares are confirmed / created only after an in-principle approval of the stock exchange / s where the shares are listed and the admission of the said share with the depositories have been granted.

(iv) Whether they shall have proper systems and procedures in place to verify that the securities tendered for dematerialisation have not been dematerialised earlier.

(v) whether they ascertain, reconcile daily and confirm to the depositories that the total number of shares held in NSDL, CDSL and in the physical form tally with the admitted, issued and listed capital of the issuer company; and

(vi) Whether they confirm that the dematerialisation requests have been processed within 21 days and shall also state the reasons for shares pending confirmation for more than 21 days from the date of request.

(vii) Whether Audit as specified by SEBI was undertaken by a qualified Chartered Accountant or a Company Secretary, for the purposes of reconciliation of the total admitted capital with both the depositories and the total issued and listed capital, ensuring the following aspects.

The total of the shares held in NSDL, CDSL and in the physical form tally with the issued / paid-up capital.

The Register of Members (RoM) is updated.

The dematerialisation requests have been confirmed within 21 days and state the shares pending confirmation for more than 21 days from the date of requests and reasons for delay.

The details of changes in share capital (due to rights, bonus, preferential issue, IPO, buyback, capital reduction, amalgamation, de-merger etc) during the quarter and certify in case of listed companies.

(viii) Whether in-principle approval for listing from all stock exchanges was obtained in respect of all further issues.

(ix) Whether the company has submitted the audit report on a quarterly basis to the stock exchange/s where they are listed.

(x) Whether there is any difference observed in the admitted, issued and listed capital.

(e) Safeguards to address the concerns of the Investors on Transfer of Securities in Dematerialized Mode
The concerns arising out of transfer of securities from the Beneficial Owner (BO) Accounts without proper authorization by the concerned investor have been brought to the notice of SEBI by some Investors’ Associations. Accordingly SEBI has decided to put in place the following safeguards to address the concerns of the investors on electronic transfer:

(a) The depositories shall give more emphasis on investor education particularly with regard to careful preservation of Delivery Instruction Slip (DIS) by the BOs. The Depositories may advise the BOs not to leave “blank or signed” DIS with the Depository Participants (DPs) or any other person/entity.

(b) The DPs shall not accept pre-signed DIS with blank columns from the BO(s).

(c) The DPs shall issue only one DIS booklet containing not more than 20 slips for individual account holders and not more than 100 slips for non-individual account holders, at a time.

(d) If the DIS booklet is lost/stolen/not traceable by the BO, the same must be intimated to the DP immediately by the BO in writing. On receipt of such intimation, the DP shall cancel the unused DIS of the said booklet.

(e) The DPs can issue subsequent DIS booklet to a BO only after the BO has used not less than 75 per cent of the slips contained in the previous DIS booklet. The DP shall also ensure that a new DIS booklet is issued only on the strength of the DIS instruction request slip (contained in the previous booklet) duly complete in all respects, unless the request for fresh booklet is due to loss, etc., as referred to in clause (d) above.

(f) The DPs shall not issue more than 10 loose DIS to one account-holder in a financial year (April to March). The loose DIS can be issued only if the BO(s) come in person and sign the loose DIS in the presence of an authorised DP official.

(g) The DPs shall put in place appropriate checks and balances with regard to verification of signatures of the BOs while processing the DIS.

(h) The DPs shall cross check with the BOs under exceptional circumstances before acting upon the DIS.

(i) The DPs shall mandatorily verify with a BO before acting upon the DIS, in case of an account which remained inactive i.e., where no debit transaction had taken place for a continuous period of 6 months, whenever all the ISIN balances in that account (irrespective of the number of ISINs) are transferred at a time. However, in case of active accounts, such verification may be made mandatory only if the BO account has 5 or more ISINs and all such ISIN balances are transferred at a time. The authorized official of the DP verifying such transactions with the BO, shall record the details of the process, date, time, etc., of the verification on the instruction slip under his signature.

(f) Annual Return and Share Transfers

Companies are not required to get share transfer audit done but companies whether listed or not are required to file within two months of the holding of the Annual General Meeting a list of members, debentureholders etc. once in six years with the Registrar of Companies alongwith the Annual Return. In the case of listed companies the Annual Return is required to be signed by a secretary in whole-time practice. Therefore, before signing the Annual Return as above Company Secretary in practice is required to examine the transfer records to satisfy himself that the transfers have been properly registered and in case any request for registration of transfer has been refused, the company concerned has complied with the requirements of section 108 and section 111A of the Companies Act. Of course, it will not be practicable to verify each and every transfer lodged with the company in case of medium sized and big companies. Therefore, the Company Secretary in practice can make a test check or a random check of the transfers. He should further invariably go through the agenda papers and minutes of the meeting of the Board of directors or Committee of directors in which matters relating to the registration of transfers or refusal to registration of transfers have been complied with. It may be added that the legal position has been broadly outlined above, but the Company Secretary in Practice is required to keep himself up-to-date on the law relating to share transfer and confirm compliance of the same while examining the transfers.

(g) Company Secretary as compliance officer in monitoring share transfers

In pursuance of Clause 47(a) of the Listing Agreement, a listed company has to appoint a Company Secretary as a compliance officer who will be responsible for monitoring the share transfer process and report to the company's board in each meeting. As a compliance officer, the company secretary is required to directly liaise with the authorities such as SEBI, Stock Exchanges, ROC etc. and investors with respect to implementation of various clauses, rules, regulations and other directives of such authorities and investor service and complaints related matters.

Therefore, it is imperative for company secretaries to be conversant with the legal and procedural aspects of transfer of shares/debentures.

(h) Salient Provisions in the listing agreement with respect to transfer of shares

Clauses 3(c) and 6 of the Listing Agreement mainly deal with the subject matter of the certification.

Under sub-clause (c) of clause 3, a listed company is required to issue certificates within one month of the date of lodgement for transfer, sub-division, consolidation, renewal, exchange or endorsement of calls/allotment monies. Thus, with regard to securities transferred generally, a listed company is required to transfer and issue the relative certificate for securities within a period of one month from the date of lodgement of transfer.

Also clause 6 of listing agreement provides that the issuer will, if so required by the exchange, certify transfers against letters of allotment, certificates and balance receipts and in that event the company will promptly make on transfers an endorsement to the following effects:

"Name of the Issuer___________________
Certificate/Allotment Letter No.____________ for the within mentioned securities is deposited in the Issuer's office against his transfer No.______.

Signature(s) of official(s)____________

Apart from this various other clauses like Clause 7, 8, 10, 11, 12, 12A, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 21, 23, 34, 47 in the Listing Agreement cover the gamut of Share Transfer.

Keeping the aforesaid provisions in the listing agreement in view before certifying that a listed company has complied with these requirements, a Company Secretary should normally be required to verify in respect of each transfer lodged with the company, whether the relative certificate has been despatched after making endorsement of transfers within the stipulated time. While this is the general rule, it may not be always physically possible for a Company Secretary to verify each and every transfer deed, particularly, in the case of a company whose shares are frequently traded and the volume of transfers is large. In such cases, he can, on going through the systems and procedures in place with regard to transfers of securities, consolidation, renewal or exchange of securities and for endorsement of calls assess the extent to which he has to verify the facts for the purpose of this certification, e.g. if a Practising Company Secretary is convinced of the adequacy of the systems and procedures, he may decide to have a random or test check and decide to issue a certificate based on such a check. However, it should be borne in mind at the time of a random or test check if the Practising Company Secretary comes across considerable deficiencies in this regard, he should undertake complete check of all transfers. In any case no hard and fast rule can be laid down as regards the extent to which this check should be conducted. This will depend largely upon the position existing in the company and the judgement of the Practising Company Secretary concerned, even though he is required to certify about the completeness of transfer and despatch of certificates within the stipulated time.

The examination should not be confined only to duly completed transfer deeds lodged with the company but it should also include transfer lodged with the company which are deficient and are retained by the company after making a reference or returned to the lodger for making good the deficiency. Keeping in view the purpose for which the certification has been stipulated, it is but proper that the verification should cover all transfers lodged with the company whether they are fit for transfer or not. Transfer in respect of deficient transfer, return or reference to the lodger should also be done within a period of one month from the date of lodgement of transfer deeds. There should not be any delay in this regard.

All companies listed on stock exchanges are required to do the processing of share transfers and effect transfers in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act, 1956, listing agreement and the guidelines issued by SEBI.

Work related to share registry in terms of both physical and electronic should be maintained at a single point i.e. either in-house by the company or by a SEBI registered R & T Agent.

As per the listing agreement, a listed company should insist on the RTA to produce to it a certificate from a Practicing Company Secretary that all transfers have been completed within the stipulated time.

While effecting electronic transfers, DPs are advised to take safeguards on aspects such as delivery instruction slip etc.

Introduction

The Companies (Amendment) Act, 2000 had inserted a proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 383A of the Companies Act which provides that every company having such paid-up share capital as may be prescribed* shall have a whole-time secretary and where the Board of Directors of such company comprises only two directors, neither of them shall be the secretary of the company.

Every company not required to employ a whole-time secretary under Sub-section (1) and having a paid-up share capital of ten lakh rupees or more shall file with the Registrar a certificate from a secretary in whole-time practice in such form and within such time and subject to such conditions, as may be prescribed, as to whether the company has complied with all the provisions of this Act, and a copy of such certificate shall be attached with Board's report, referred to in Section 217.

When the appointment of whole time Company Secretary is mandatory?

Under Section 383 A(1) of the Companies Act, 1956, every Company having a paid-up share capital of not less than five crore rupees shall have a whole-time Company Secretary.

When Compliance Certificate from Practising Company Secretary is required?

Every Company not required to employ a whole-time secretary under Section 383 A(1) of the Companies Act, 1956 and having a paid up capital of ten lakhs rupees or more shall obtain a certificate from a secretary in whole-time practice.

* at present, Five Crores.
Why Compliance Certificate for Smaller Companies?

It is a well established fact that smaller companies fall prey to violations of the provisions of the Companies Act in the absence of professional support as compared to companies which have employed a qualified Company Secretary. The Ministry of Corporate Affairs institutes every year, a large number of prosecutions against the companies and their officers in default for contravention of various provisions of the Companies Act. Most of the companies against whom prosecutions are instituted are private limited companies or small public limited companies which do not have the benefit of expert professional advice of qualified Company Secretaries.

Accordingly, every company having a paid-up share capital of rupees ten lakh or more but less than rupees two crores is required to file with the Registrar of Companies (ROC), a Compliance Certificate obtained from a secretary in whole-time practice and also attach a copy of this certificate with a report of the Board of Directors of the Company.

Compliance Certificate not only acts as an effective mechanism to ensure that the legal and procedural requirements under the Companies Act are duly complied with but also instills professional discipline in the working of the company besides building up the necessary confidence in the state of affairs of the company. It relieves the company and its directors including the nominee directors from the consequences of unintended non-compliance of the provisions of the Companies Act. It curbs the tendency on the part of the smaller companies to short circuit the procedural requirements which primarily occur due to ignorance or lack of professional support and acts as a pre-emptive check to monitor compliance with the requirements of the Companies Act and the Rules made thereunder.

The Company Secretary, while undertaking the work of issuing Compliance Certificate should act as a friend and guide to the management of companies, instilling professionalism in their management, so that these companies appreciate their contribution. Only a positive and helpful approach can build the necessary confidence. If there have been technical non-compliances, the approach should be to guide and advise the company to make good the deficiencies by maintaining proper records, filing the requisite returns or seeking compounding of offences.

THE COMPANIES (COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE) RULES, 2001

In terms of the newly inserted proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 383A, the Central Government has prescribed the Companies (Compliance Certificate) Rules, 2001 (hereinafter called the rules) for issue of Compliance Certificate by a Practising Company Secretary.

The Rules have come into force w.e.f. February 1, 2001 i.e. the date of their publication in the Official Gazette.

According to Sub-rule (1) of Rule 3, every company not required to employ a whole-time secretary under Sub-section (1) of Section 383A of the Act and having a paid-up share capital of ten lakh rupees or more shall obtain a certificate from a Practising Company Secretary.

SCOPE OF COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE

The scope of Compliance Certificate would comprise of certification of the compliance of various requirements under the Companies Act and the Rules thereunder. The Practising Company Secretary should certify compliance only in respect of matters specified in the Form prescribed under the Rules and where any matter is not applicable, he should specify accordingly.

Sub-rule (2) of Rule 3 specifies that the Compliance Certificate shall be in Form appended to the Rules or as near thereto as circumstances admit. Certain amount of flexibility in the Form has, therefore, been provided which means that if any information required to be given in the certificate does not fit into the format, necessary modifications may be made in the format by the Practising Company Secretary.

At the time of issue of the first Compliance Certificate, the Practising Company Secretary should verify the registers and records maintained by the company from the first day of the financial year except where there are reasons for Practising Company Secretary to verify the records for the earlier years. Such occasions may arise in respect of maintenance of registers, retirement of directors by rotation, issue of share certificate when the allotments were made in the earlier years, payment of managerial remuneration, etc.

Period of Certification

Sub-rule (2) of Rule 3 provides that the Compliance Certificate shall relate to the period pertaining to the financial year of the company. The Companies (Amendment) Act, 2000 has come into force w.e.f. 13th December, 2000 and the Companies (Compliance Certificate) Rules, 2001 have come into force w.e.f. 1st February, 2001. Accordingly every company to which these Rules are applicable is required to obtain a Compliance Certificate from a Practising Company Secretary for the financial year in respect of which Board’s report is signed on or after 1st February, 2001.

Filing of Compliance Certificate

Every company to which these Rules apply is required to file with the ROC the Compliance Certificate within thirty days from the date on which its annual general meeting is held.

Where the annual general meeting of such company for any year has not been held, such certificate is required to be filed with the ROC within thirty days from the latest day on or before which that meeting should have been held in accordance with the provisions of the Companies Act.

In case the annual general meeting is held and adjourned, the Compliance Certificate should be filed with the ROC within thirty days from the date on which such adjourned meeting was held provided such adjourned meeting is held within the statutory limit.

Right of Practising Company Secretary to Access Records

Sub-rule (3) of Rule 3 provides that the Practising Company Secretary for the purpose of issue of Compliance Certificate shall have right to access at all times to the registers, books, papers, documents and records of the company whether kept in pursuance of the Act or any other Act or otherwise and whether kept at the registered office of the company or elsewhere and shall be entitled to require from the officers or agents of the company, such information and explanations as the Practising Company Secretary may think necessary for the purpose of such certificate.

Compliance Certificate to be attached with Board’s Report

Proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 383A of the Act requires that the Compliance Certificate shall be attached with the Board’s report referred to in Section 217. It is, therefore, necessary for the company to attach a copy of the Compliance Certificate with the Board’s report while forwarding the same to members and others under Section 219 of the Act.

Further it would also be desirable for the Board to give full information and explanation in its report to the members under Section 217 of the Act on every reservation, qualification or adverse remarks contained in the Compliance Certificate.

Laying of the Compliance Certificate at the Annual General Meeting

Sub-rule (4) of Rule 3 requires the Compliance Certificate to be laid by the company in its annual general meeting. As a good secretarial practice, the certificate should be read at the meeting and also made available to the members for inspection.

Disqualifications of secretary in whole-time practice—Recommended by the Guidance note on Compliance Certificate published by ICSI

With a view to ensure that Practising Company Secretary shows utmost integrity and independence of judgement in the performance of his duties, it is desirable that, a person referred to in Sub-section (3) or Sub-section (4) of Section 226 of the Act, not to be eligible for appointment or reappointment for giving Compliance Certificate to a company.

Accordingly, the following persons are not to be qualified for appointment as Practising Company Secretary of a company

(a) a body corporate;
(b) an officer or employee of the company;
(c) a person who is a partner, or who is in the employment, an officer or employee of the company;
(d) a person who is indebted to the company for an amount exceeding one thousand rupees, or who has given any guarantee or provided any security in connection with the indebtedness of any third person to the company for an amount exceeding one thousand rupees;
(e) a person holding any security of that company which carries voting rights.

Penalty for non-compliance

Where a company fails to comply with the requirement of filing the Compliance Certificate with the Registrar of Companies or attaching the copy of such certificate with Board’s report, in terms of Sub-section (1A) of Section 383A the company and every officer of the company who is in default shall be punishable with fine which may extend to Rs. 500 for every day during which the default continues.

Methodology for carrying out verification for certification

It would be advisable that the Practising Company Secretary requests the company for access to various documents and books including the Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company, Annual Reports of the last two to three years, various statutory and other registers including the Minutes Books, copies of forms and returns filed with the ROC etc. which he considers essential for the purposes of laying down the certification programme.

Practising Company Secretary should verify all the available records. However, depending on the facts and circumstances he may obtain a letter of representation from the company in respect of matters where verification by Practising Company Secretary may not be practicable, for example matters like—

(i) dis-qualification of directors
(ii) show cause notices received
(iii) persons and concerns in which directors are interested.

Certification with qualification

As specified in the Form, the qualification, reservation or adverse remarks, if any, may be stated by the Practising Company Secretary at the relevant places.

If the scope of work required to be performed, is restricted on account of limitations imposed by the client or on account of circumstantial limitations (like certain books or papers being in custody of another person or Government Authority) the certificate may be qualified as such.

Practising Company Secretary shall have due regard to the circulars and/or clarifications issued by the Ministry of Corporate Affairs from time to time. It is recommended that a specific reference of such circulars at the relevant places in the certificate may be made, wherever necessary.

Penalty for false Compliance Certificate

Section 628 deals with penalty for false statements. According to said Section, if in any return, report, certificate, balance sheet, prospectus, statement or other document, required by or for the purpose of any of the provisions of the Act, any person makes a statement

(a) which is false in any material particular, knowing it to be false, or
(b) which omits any material fact, knowing it to be material;

he shall, except as otherwise expressly provided in the Act, be punishable with imprisonment for a term which may extend to two years and shall also be liable to fine.

In view of this, a Practising Company Secretary will be attracting the penal provisions of Section 628, for any false statement in any material particular or omission of any material fact in the Compliance Certificate. However, a person will be penalised under Section 628 in case he makes a statement, which is false in any material particular, knowing it to be false, or which omits any material fact knowing it to be material.

Professional Responsibility

While the newly inserted provision has opened up the much awaited significant area of practice for company secretaries, it equally casts onerous responsibility on them and poses a greater challenge whereby they have to justify fully the faith and confidence reposed by the Government and trade and industry and measure up to their expectations. Company Secretaries must take adequate care while issuing Compliance Certificate. It is based on this certificate that confidence of the company, Government and trade and industry will build-up vis-a-vis our profession. Any failure or lapse on the part of a Practising Company Secretary in issuing a Compliance Certificate may not only attract penalty for false statement under Section 628 and disciplinary action for professional or other misconduct under the provisions of the Company Secretaries Act, 1980 but also make him liable for any injury caused to any person due to his negligence in issuing the Compliance Certificate. Therefore, it becomes imperative for the Practising Company Secretary that he exercises great care and caution while issuing the Compliance Certificate and also adheres to the highest standards of professional ethics and excellence in providing his services.

CEILING ON NUMBER OF COMPANIES TO WHICH A PCS CAN ISSUE COMPLIANCE CERTIFICATE

In exercise of the powers conferred by Clause (1) of Part II of the Second Schedule to the Company Secretaries Act, 1980 (56 of 1980), as amended by the Company Secretaries (Amendment) Act, 2006, the Council of the Institute of Company Secretaries of India has specified that:

A member of the Institute in practice who is entitled—
(i) to issue compliance certificate to the proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 383A of the Companies Act, 1956 (1 of 1956); and/or
(ii) to sign an Annual Return pursuant to the proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 161 of the Companies Act, 1956 (1 of 1956), shall be deemed to be guilty of professional misconduct if he—— issues compliance certificates; and/or — signs Annual Return for more than eighty companies in aggregate, in a calendar year.

Provided, however, that in the case of a firm of Company Secretaries, the ceiling of eighty companies aforesaid would apply to each partner therein who is entitled to (i) sign the compliance certificate in terms of the proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 383A of the Companies Act, 1956; (ii) sign Annual Return in terms of the proviso to Sub-section (1) of Section 161 of the Companies Act, 1956.

Non Banking Financial Companies

A Non-Banking Financial Company (NBFC) is a company registered under the Companies Act, 1956 and is engaged in the business of loans and advances, acquisition of shares/stock/bonds/debentures/ securities issued by Government or local authority or other securities of like marketable nature, leasing, hire-purchase, insurance business, chit business but does not include any institution whose principal business is that of agriculture activity, industrial activity, sale/purchase/construction of immovable property. A non-banking institution which is a company and which has its principal business of receiving deposits under any scheme or arrangement or any other manner, or lending in any manner is also a non-banking financial company (Residuary non-banking company)

Following are the major compliances by NBFCs

- In terms of Section 45-IA of the RBI Act, 1934, it is mandatory that every NBFC should be registered with RBI to commence or carry on any business of non-banking financial institution as defined in clause (a) of Section 45 I of the RBI Act, 1934. However, to obviate dual regulation, certain categories of NBFCs which are regulated by other regulators are exempted from the requirement of registration with RBI viz. Venture Capital Fund/Merchant Banking companies/Stock broking companies registered with SEBI, Insurance Company holding a valid Certificate of Registration issued by IRDA, Nidhi companies as notified under Section 620A of the Companies Act, 1956, Chit companies as defined in clause (b) of Section 2 of the Chit Funds Act, 1982 or Housing Finance Companies regulated by National Housing Bank.

- A company incorporated under the Companies Act, 1956 and desirous of commencing business of non-banking financial institution as defined under Section 45 I(a) of the RBI Act, 1934 should have a minimum net owned fund of Rs 25 lakh (raised to Rs 200 lakh w.e.f April 21, 1999).
- An NBFC maintaining required Net Owned Funds(NOF)/Capital to Risk Assets Ratio (CRAR) and complying with the prudential norms can accept public deposits as follows:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category of NBFC having minimum NOF of Rs 200 lakhs</th>
<th>Ceiling on public deposit</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AFC* maintaining CRAR of 15% without credit rating</td>
<td>1.5 times of NOF or Rs 10 crore whichever is less</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AFC with CRAR of 12% and having minimum investment grade credit rating</td>
<td>4 times of NOF</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LC/IC with CRAR of 15% and having minimum investment grade credit rating</td>
<td>1.5 times of NOF</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

*AFC = Asset Finance Company   LC/IC = Loan company/Investment Company

As has been notified on June 17, 2008 the ceiling on level of public deposits for NBFCs accepting deposits but not having minimum Net Owned Fund of Rs 200 lakh is revised as under:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category of NBFC having NOF more than Rs 25 lakh but less than Rs 200 lakh</th>
<th>Revised Ceiling on public deposits</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>AFCs maintaining CRAR of 15% without credit rating and</td>
<td>Equal to NOF</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>AFCs with CRAR of 12% and having minimum investment grade credit rating</td>
<td>1.5 times of NOF</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>LCs/ICs with CRAR of 15% and having minimum investment grade credit rating</td>
<td>Equal to NOF</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Presently, the maximum rate of interest an NBFC can offer is 12.5%. The interest may be paid or compounded at not shorter than monthly rests.
The NBFCs are allowed to accept/renew public deposits for a minimum period of 12 months and maximum period of 60 months. They cannot accept deposits repayable on demand.

NBFCs cannot offer interest rates higher than the ceiling rate prescribed by RBI from time to time. The present ceiling is 12.5 per cent per annum. The interest may be paid or compounded at rests not shorter than monthly rests.

NBFCs cannot offer gifts/incentives or any other additional benefit to the depositors.

NBFCs (except certain AFCs) should have minimum investment grade credit rating.

NBFCs cannot accept deposits from NRIs except deposits by debit to NRO account of NRI provided such amount does not represent inward remittance or transfer from NRE/FCNR (B) account.

The NBFCs accepting public deposits should furnish to RBI

1. Audited balance sheet of each financial year and an audited profit and loss account in respect of that year as passed in the annual general meeting together with a copy of the report of the Board of Directors and a copy of the report and the notes on accounts furnished by its Auditors;

INTRODUCTION

Company as a separate entity has a facility of raising capital for earning large-scale profits, which is normally not within the purview of individual efforts and means. In the past, the companies used to raise money by way of issue of equity or preference shares. However, with the increasing pressure of capital requirements, different and alternative modes of financing were explored and the concept of loan capital came into being. The loan requirements of a company to be met, had to be raised frequently and also by a number of individuals as in the case of share capital. This brought to the fore the concept of pari passu ranking.

A charge is created when the security on the property of the company is conferred on another person. Where in a transaction for value, both parties evidence an intention that the property existing or future, shall be made available as security, the charge on the property is created.

The Companies Act, 1956 provides for a comprehensive list of charges which require registration and it also provides for the consequences of non-registration. The Act envisages registration of charges with the Registrar of Companies so that any person acquiring the property of the company has constructive notice of the charge prior to acquisition. Once a certificate of charge is issued by the Registrar of Companies, it is conclusive evidence that the document creating the charge is properly registered.

Banks and various State Financial/Industrial Investment Corporations, while granting loans to companies invariably obtain a status report on the position of borrowings made by the company and the particulars of charges already created by the company on its assets. This is a part of the security aspect of the amount proposed to be lent.
The Report, inter alia, informs the lenders, about the status of charges held by them vis-à-vis charges, if any held by others. The Search and Status Report acts as a tool to confirm and evidence information and contains information on status of charges. It is basically a report furnished based on the information gathered by a search of specific records made available for inspection in a Public Office or in any other convenient form. It is not merely verbatim reporting of the information as made available but also supplemented by observations/comments by the person who furnishes the Report.

The Search and Status Report enables furnishing of information to the lender as to whether the charges created through various documents are in fact registered with Registrar of Companies and whether such particulars reflect the correct position of charges held by Lenders. As the Report provides information on the charges created in favour of other lenders, it enables the lenders to assess the exact position of the company and to foresee where they would stand, if the company would go into liquidation. Normally, practicing Company Secretaries are entrusted with the preparation of status/search reports.

Indian Banks' Association had issued a circular letter, recommending to the Chief Executives of all member banks that the latter may utilise the services of company secretaries for compilation of search/status reports and certification thereof.

SCOPE AND IMPORTANCE

The scope of a Search report depends upon the requirements of the Bank or Financial Institution concerned.

A Search report prepared by the Company Secretary in Practice enables the Bank/Financial Institution to evaluate the extent upto which the company has already borrowed moneys and created charges on the security of its movable and/or immovable properties. This information is very vital for considering the company's request for grant of loans and other credit facilities. The Bank/Financial Institution, while assessing the company's needs for funds, can take a conscious decision regarding the quantum of loan/credit facility to be sanctioned, sufficiency of security required and its nature, as also other terms and conditions to be stipulated. The Search report, thus, acts as an important source of information enabling the lending Bank/Institution to take an informed and speedy decision, and also assures it about the credit-worthiness or otherwise of the borrowing company.

SEARCH/STATUS REPORT

A Search and Status Report as is apparent from, its name contains two aspects. The first being 'search' which involves physical inspection of documents and the second activity 'status' which comprises of reporting of the information as made available by the search.

Thus a search and status report de facto acts as a ‘Progress Report’ on the legal aspects and also a ready reckoner of the exact position.

(a) Particulars of Charges

When a charge on the assets of the Company is created or modified or when a property subject to charge is acquired by a company, particulars thereof are filed in Form No. 8 with the Registrar of Companies (ROC). When the charge is satisfied, the fact is intimated in Form No. 17 to the ROC (now e-forms 8 and 17).

Particulars of a series of debentures containing or giving reference to any other instrument any charge to the benefit of which the debentureholders of the said series are entitled, are filed with the ROC in Form No. 10 (now e-form 10).

After the Registrar registers it, a certificate of registration of the charge is then given by the ROC stating the amounts thereby secured. Such certificate is the conclusive evidence that the legal requirements relating thereto have been complied with.

(b) Examination of documents and registration

Prior to the launch of MCA-21 documents filed in the office of the ROC from time to time were taken-up for examination according to the date of filing.

When they were examined in the ROC's office, the documents if found complete and in order in all respects, were registered. Particulars of the registered documents were first entered in a loose-leaf register, an internal record in Registrar's office. Thereafter, they were sent to the Registry Section in Registrar's office for filing.

Only those documents which passed through all the aforesaid stages and had been duly filed in respective Document File of the Company at ROC were made available for inspection. Normally there was a time-lag between the date of filing and the date of availability of the documents for public inspection.

However, with the implementation of e-filing, this time lag will not be material.

MCA-21 offers the facility to view documents and also search and other facilities of public documents. This facility is handy for users and banks and financial institutions while sanctioning loans.

This facility enables viewing of public documents of companies for which payment has been made by user. The document can be viewed only within 7 days after the payment has been confirmed. Also, the documents are available for only 3 hours after the user has started viewing the first document of the company.

(a) User has to access My MCA portal and login to the My MCA portal.
(b) Click on the ‘My Documents’ tab after logging into the system.
(c) List of company names will be displayed, for which user have already paid for public viewing. It also displays
   (i) Date of request i.e. the date, when user made the request to view the company document.
   (ii) Status of the request i.e. whether viewed or to view.
(d) Click on the view link under status field.
(e) The documents are grouped under five categories i.e. user has to click on the desired category under which the document falls.

(f) If more than one document is listed, the user can arrange them name wise or date wise.

(g) On clicking the document name, the document shall be displayed for viewing.

The public documents under this facility are available for viewing by public on payment of requisite fee. Public documents include Incorporation documents, charge documents, annual returns and balance sheet, change in directors and other documents.

The basic record on the basis of which the report was previously submitted to the banks/institutions, was the Register of Charges maintained in the Office of the ROC. With respect to each company, a Register of charges is maintained by the ROC.

Particulars of charges which are registrable with the ROC can be filed by the company or the creditor (Section 125). Particulars of modification of charges have to be filed only by the company concerned (Section 135). The satisfaction of any charge in full has to be informed only by the company concerned under Section 138 except in cases covered under Section 139. Thereafter, the Registrar would make appropriate noting in the Register of Charges in accordance with Sub-section (2) of Section 138.

(c) Inspection

Form 8, Form 10, Form 17 and copies of certificates of registration thereof are available for inspection at the website.

Prior to introduction of e-filing the documents in the Document File at the ROC’s office could be inspected by any person after making an application in writing and paying Rs. 50 towards the fee. Normally, more than two persons were not allowed to carry out jointly the inspection of Document File(s) of one company.

For knowing the volume number(s) and page number(s) in which the particulars are entered in the Register(s) of Charges by the Registrar prior to 17th April, 1989, it was necessary to examine in the Document File, respective Form 8 or Form 17 on which the number of the relevant volume/page were written.

While taking the inspection at Registrar’s office, a verbatim copy of the contents was not allowed. Notes could be made by using pencil. Pen or ballpen could not be used for taking down the notes.

(d) Verification of Documents Relating to Charges

Before proceeding with the inspection it would be advisable for the company secretary in practice to know if the concerned bank/financial institution or the client requires the Search Report, in any specific format and if so, the contents of the format.

Meticulous care will have to be taken in noting down the following particulars from the Register of Charges:

(a) Date of registration (preferably with the serial number) of the document
(b) Date and nature of the document creating the charge
(c) Amount of the charge
(d) Brief particulars of the property charged
(e) Name and address of the person in whose favour the charge is created.

In respect of each of the charges created, it would be essential to identify the modifications effected from time to time by noting down carefully the following particulars:

(a) Date of registration of the document (preferably with the serial number)
(b) Nature and date of the instrument modifying the charge
(c) Effect of Modification.

Each modification should be noted in chronological order and the above particulars should be compiled together for each charge.

If and when the charge is satisfied, fool-proof identification of the exact charge which is satisfied is of paramount necessity. The following particulars can be noted chronologically by way of modification by the Search Report.

(a) Date of registration (preferably with the serial number) of the document
(b) Date of satisfaction.

Non-essential particulars of charges comprise of the gist of terms and conditions with regard to (a) mode of repayment (b) rate of interest and (c) margin; these need not be given in the Search Report unless specifically so required by the client.

If the client requires particulars of the charges pending registration, it is advisable to give a separate report based on the verification of the registers and records maintained by or available with the company.

Some financial institutions require a Report by Company Secretaries in Practice, on certain additional points relevant and important for them. A separate Report can be given after inspecting or verifying the documents and records available with the Registrar and/or the company. The points normally covered under such Report are:

Apart from the above, the master data available at the My MCA portal can be resorted to.

Mere reproduction of the particulars of charges in form of Search and Status Report is not sufficient. It also requires:

— A thorough study of the particulars relating to the amount secured by the charge and the terms and conditions governing the charge.

— An analysis of the security available to a particular lender for its advances.

— A comparison of charges created in favour of a particular lender vis-à-vis other lenders.

In other words, it does not necessary mean verbatim reporting of the information as made available but also supplemented by observations/comments by the person who furnishes the Report.

In nutshell, the following have to be borne in mind:

— The Search and Status Report should give exact details of particulars of charges/ modifications/satisfactions as effected, filed and registered from time to time.

— Identify those charges and modification of charges, which have been created in favour of a particular lender.

— Take the particulars of the documents creating the charge as specified in Form Nos.8 and 10.

— Ascertain as to whether the amount secured by the charge as per the documents executed has been duly mentioned.

— Ascertain as to whether ‘properties’ offered as security are mentioned as per the documents creating the charge and attached with the Forms and verify whether they are as per the terms of Sanction.

— Check whether the terms and conditions governing the charge have been mentioned.

— Ascertain whether the name of the lender is properly mentioned.

— In case of modification of charge ascertain whether the names of documents effecting the modification are mentioned and whether the particulars of modification are clearly mentioned.

— In case of charge, the particulars of documents attached with forms, amount secured by the charge as per the documents and/or sanction ticket, the properties/assets secured by the charge, the terms and conditions governing the charge and the name of the lender is properly mentioned in the relevant columns of Forms Nos.8.

Further, a Search and Status Report should always be supported by expert observations on the charges created by the borrower in respect of the subject lender. It is necessary to peruse the observations/comments offered and the same should be read in conjunction with the Report. The observations/comments of the experts/professional (company secretary in practice) will certainly help to throw additional light on certain points which would have missed the attention of the “lenders” when the Form Nos. 8 was presented before them for signature.

Company Secretary in Practice giving the above information is required to certify that his report has been submitted on the basis of the search carried by him on a particular date, with the Registrar’s office/MCA portal. He is also required to certify that the company has filed all returns/forms within stipulated time with the Registrar’s office up to the date required to be filed in regard to the above matters and also to report, if any notices have been served upon the company for breaches/non-compliance of any provisions of the Companies Act, 1956.

(e) Compilation and Preparation of Search Report

Search Report compiled on the basis of the scrutiny of the above documents is, therefore, related and restricted to only those documents which are available for the inspection on the date(s) when the search is carried out.

An index of the charges is prepared at the website of MCA. This index provides, charge ID, the date of filing of the document charge amount secured, name of chargeholder and its address. In order to view index of charges, it is primarily necessary to quote CIN/FCRN of the company. This number will primarily be available at the website of the ministry.

It is advisable to note down from the index, the short particulars of all Form Nos. 8, 10, and 17 for the purpose of cross-checking and ensuring that no document is missed in the Search Report.

Also, it would be advisable to mention in the Search Report by way of a footnote as to what was the last document which was available for inspection when the scrutiny was taken/completed. This information can be helpful in identifying the forms and based on which the Search Report is given. If a charge which is registered and in respect of which the certificate of registration is issued by the Registrar, but, if the document is not available for inspection, the aforesaid footnote can readily clarify the position.

(f) Format of Search Report and its Preparation

Some of the banks and financial institutions insist that the Search Report be given in their own format. It would, therefore, be advisable to know if any specific format is insisted upon by the client.

In the absence of any specific format, the Search Report may be given in the format given at Annexure 1.

LEGAL PROVISIONS

Sections 124 to 145 in Part V of the Companies Act, 1956 provide for the registration of charges in so far as any security on the company's property or undertaking is conferred, modified or satisfied thereby.

Prescribed particulars of the charge together with the instrument, if any, evidencing, creating or modifying the charge (or a certified copy thereof) are required to be filed with the Registrar of Companies within thirty days after the date of creation or modification of the charges. In case of satisfaction of charge, the intimation is required to be given to the Registrar within thirty days from the date of payment or satisfaction of the charge.

The Registrar has discretionary powers to condone the delays upto thirty days in case of particulars relating to creation or modification of the charge. In the case of satisfaction of charge, the delays can be condoned by Company Law Board Bench of the respective regions upon a petition (application) filed by the company or interested person.

The prescribed particulars in Form 8 or Form 10 together with copy of the instrument creating or modifying the charge and those relating to satisfaction of charge in Form 17 are required to be filed with the Registrar of Companies. All these forms should be in triplicate and should be duly signed on behalf of the concerned company as well as the respective charge holder.

Non-filing of particulars of a charge renders the charge void against the liquidator or against any other creditor of the company. This implies that if particulars of a subsequent charge created on the property are filed and the particulars of the earlier charge particulars are not filed, then the subsequent charge-holder would enjoy precedence over the earlier charge-holder, e.g., in selling the property in order to satisfy his debt. It should be noted that the concerned company cannot, even in the event of non-filing of particulars of charge, repudiate its contractual obligation vis-à-vis the creditor in whose favour charge is created.

REQUIREMENTS OF VARIOUS FINANCIAL INSTITUTIONS AND OTHER CORPORATE LENDERS

The All-India Financial Institutions while granting term loans to companies insist on certain formalities to be completed by a company availing such loan. These include furnishing of certificates by Company Secretaries in Practice in regard to the following:

(a) Necessary power of a company and its directors to enter into an agreement.
(b) Borrowing limits of a company under Section 293(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 1956, including details of share capital – authorised, issued, subscribed and paid-up, and the actual borrowing.
(c) List of members of a company.
(d) Copies of resolutions passed at company meeting to be furnished to financial institutions.

Many State Financial/Industrial Investment/Development Corporations have also agreed to accept the certificates issued by Company Secretaries in Practice, in regard to all/some of the aforesaid matters.

Certification by Company Secretaries in Practice

The certification to be done by Company Secretaries in Practice has to conform to any specific requirement of the Institution/Corporation. It may be stated that the matters to which certification extends can be verified by the Institutions themselves from the Memorandum/Articles of Association of companies, which are submitted to them. However, Institutions, by way of abundant caution insist for stipulation on certificates by independent professionals like Company Secretaries in Practice, in respect of these matters. The various certifications are explained in the following paragraphs.

Necessary Powers of a Company and its Directors to Enter into an Agreement

The Memorandum and Articles of Association of the company has to be examined for this purpose. Particularly the objects clause of the Memorandum of Association has a specified recital pertaining to borrowing powers of the company. The standard clause pertaining to borrowing powers included in the incidental or ancillary objects reads as follows:

“To borrow or raise money or to receive money on deposit for the purposes of the company, in such manner and upon such terms as may seem expedient, and to secure the repayment thereof and of moneys owning or obligations incurred by the company, and to create, issue and allot redeemable or irredeemable bonds, mortgages or other instruments, mortgage debentures (such bonds or debentures being made payable to bearer or otherwise and issuable or payable either at par, premium, discount, or as fully paid), and for any such purposes to charge all or any part of the property and profits of the company both present and future including its uncalled capital”.

A trading or commercial company has implied power to borrow even though there is no express authority in its Memorandum of Association.

Compliance of the provisions of Section 149 of the Companies Act, 1956, in respect of public limited companies has to be ensured. Exercise of borrowing powers in contravention of Section 149 attracts levy of fine.

Resolutions passed at the meeting of the board/general meeting for exercising the power of borrowing have to be checked; in the absence of any provision to the contrary in the articles of association, the borrowing power may be exercised by the Board of directors.

Section 292 of the Companies Act requires inter alia, that the power to borrow moneys otherwise than on debentures can be exercised by the Board of Directors only by means of resolution passed at meetings of the Board. This power of borrowings may also be delegated to any committee of directors, managing director, manager or any other principal officer. The delegation should be only by means of resolution passed at board meeting and not by circulation. Every resolution delegating this power should specify the total amount upto which moneys may be borrowed by the delegate.

The financial institutions require that this certificate will have to refer to the relevant clause(s) of the Memorandum of Association of the company, which gives specific powers to the company, and to secure the repayment of the same by mortgage, charge, lien, etc. the opinion will also have to refer to the relevant article(s) of the Article of Association and the general body resolution, if any, under which the Board of Directors are authorised to borrow or raise moneys, secure the repayment thereof and execute on behalf of the company, bonds, deeds, documents, etc. The opinion should also spell out the limitations and restrictions, if any, on the powers of the Board of directors to borrow or raise money.

Borrowing Limits and Compliance of Section 293(1)(d)

(i) In the case of a public company or a private company which is a subsidiary of a public company, the consent of general meeting is required if the moneys to be borrowed alongwith the moneys already borrowed exceeds the aggregate of paid-up capital and free reserves. If the borrowings exceed this limit check the minutes of the general meeting of members to ensure that the Board is authorised to borrow and also that the proposed borrowing does not exceed the amount specified in the resolution passed by the company in general meeting. Temporary loans repayable on demand or within six months obtained from the company's bankers in the ordinary course of business are excluded from the purview of borrowings under this section.

(ii) Obtain a certified true copy of the resolution passed by the members of the company under Section 293(1)(d) of the Companies Act, 1956.

(iii) Check the resolution passed by the Board to borrow the money.

(iv) Check the latest audited balance sheet of the company for verifying the amount of share capital, free reserves and the total amount of borrowings.

(v) Also check the Register of Charges.

"Free reserve" means, "reserves not set apart for any specific purpose".

Any change in these items after the date of balance sheet should be checked from the accounts of the company, allotment register and agreements entered to borrow the moneys and such other records and documents.

STUDY XVII
SECURITIES MANAGEMENT AND COMPLIANCES

LEARNING OBJECTIVE

The objective of this study lesson is to enable the students to understand
- Meaning need and scope of securities management and compliances
- Securities management as a mechanism for self-regulation
- Advantages of securities management to company, regulator and investor

INTRODUCTION

SEBI was established with the twin objectives of protecting the interest of the investors in securities and also regulating and promoting the development of the securities markets. SEBI, in order to achieve its objectives, has formulated various Rules and Regulations along with guidelines applicable to all the players of capital market both primary and secondary market. However, in spite of existence of a number of Rules, Regulations and Guidelines the markets remained vulnerable to the non-compliances and shareholders grievances.

At present, the transactions in securities are governed, regulated and controlled by
- Companies Act, 1956,
- Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992,
- Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956,
- Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999,
- Depositories Act, 1996, Stamp Act, 1899,
- Information Technology Act, 2000, including rules, regulations made and guidelines and directions issued thereunder and bye-laws of stock exchanges and Listing Agreement, etc. In spite of plethora of statutes, Rules, Regulations and Guidelines, there is no mechanism to ensure proper and comprehensive compliances, monitoring and management of these statutory provisions in relation to securities. In order to provide a mechanism to comprehensively ensure compliance of all provisions relating to securities, to redress the grievances of investors, strengthen the faith of investors in capital market, ensure the growth of capital market, prevent the fraudulent and unfair trade practices, instill professional discipline and to protect the interest of investors, it is necessary to introduce the mechanism of “Securities Management and Compliances”.
- Competition Act, 2002

What are Securities?

The term ‘securities’ has been defined under Securities Contracts (Regulations) Act, 1956; Companies Act, 1956; Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 and Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999.

As per Section 2(1)(i) of the Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 ‘securities’ has the meaning assigned to it in Section 2 of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956.

As per Section 2(aa) of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, Derivative includes –

(a) a security derived form a debt instrument, share, loan, whether secured or unsecured, risk instrument or contract for differences or any other form of security;

(b) a contract which derives its value from the prices or index of prices, of underlying securities.

A derivative is a product whose value is derived from the value of underlying asset, index, etc. The underlying assets can be equity, forex commodity, or any other asset.

As per Section 2(45AA) of the Companies Act, 1956 ‘securities’ means securities as defined in clause (h) of Section 2 of the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, and includes hybrids.

As seen from above the term ‘securities’ as defined in Companies Act, 1956 and Securities Exchange Board of India Act, 1992 is mainly dependent on the definition given in Securities Contract (Regulations) Act, 1956.

As per Section 2(h) of Securities Contract (Regulations) Act, 1956 securities include

(i) shares, scrips, stocks, bonds, debentures, debenture stock or other marketable securities of a like nature in or of any incorporated company or other body corporate;

(ia) derivative;

(ib) units or any other instruments issued by any collective investment scheme to the investors in such schemes;

(ic) security receipt as defined in clause (zg) of Section 2 of the Securitisation and Reconstruction of Financial Assets and Enforcement of Security Interest Act, 2002

(ii) Government securities;

(iia) such other instruments as may be declared by the Central Government to be securities; and

(iii) rights or interests in securities;

Many terms have been used in order to define the term Securities. However, Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956 defines only the terms ‘derivatives’ and ‘government securities’ out of all terms used in defining the term ‘securities’.

As per Section 2(b) of Securities Contract (Regulation) Act, 1956 ‘Government security’ means a security created and issued, whether before or after the commencement of this Act, by the Central Government or a State Government for the purpose of raising a public loan and having one of the forms specified in clause (2) of section 2 of the Public Debt Act, 1944.

As per Section 2(za) of the Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999 ‘security’ means shares, stocks, bonds and debentures, government securities as defined in the Public Debt Act, 1944, savings certificates to which the Government Savings Certificates Act, 1959 applies, deposit receipts in respect of deposits of securities and units of the Unit Trust of India established under Sub-section (1) of Section 3 of the Unit Trust of India Act, 1963 or of any mutual fund and includes certificates of title to securities, but does not include bills of exchange or promissory notes other than government promissory notes or any other instruments which may be notified by the Reserve Bank as security for the purposes of the Act;

As per Section 2(12B) of the Companies Act, 1956 ‘derivative’ has the same meaning as in clause (aa) of Section 2 of the Securities Contracts (Regulations) Act, 1956.

As per Section 2(19A) of the Companies Act, 1956 ‘hybrid’ means any security which has the character of more than one type of security, including their derivatives.

Hybrid securities mean securities which have some of the attributes of both debt securities and equity securities. A type of security which, in the form of a debenture, contains elements of indebtedness and elements of equity stock also is an example of a hybrid.

The terms share and debenture used in the definition of securities have been defined in the Section 2(46) and 2(12) of Companies Act 1956, respectively. Share means share in the share capital of a company, and includes stock except where a distinction between stock and shares is expressed or implied. A share reflects the contribution of a shareholder towards the share capital of the company. As per Section 82 of the Companies Act, 1956 share is a movable property. A share is a right to a specified amount of the share capital of a company, carrying with it certain rights and liabilities, while the company is a going concern and in the winding-up it represents the interest of the holder measured for purposes of a liability and divided by a sum of money. A share is the interest of a shareholder in the company measured by a sum of money, for the purpose of liability in the first place and of the interest in the second, but also consisting of a series of mutual covenants entered into by all the shareholders inter se.

Debenture means a document which either creates or acknowledges a debt. It is also a method of raising loans. As per Section 2(12) of the Companies Act, 1956. Debenture includes debenture stock, bonds and any other securities of a company, whether constituting a charge on the assets of the company or not.

Debenture stock is of the same nature as debentures but instead of each lender having a separate debenture bond; he gets a certificate entitling him to a specified portion of one large loan. Debenture stock is consolidated borrowed capital which may be divided into and is transferable in convenient units of fixed amount.
Considering all the above-mentioned definitions it can be inferred that the term ‘security’ includes shares, debentures, government securities, derivatives, units and rights and interest in securities.

Securities Market

The Securities Market allows people to do more with their savings than they would otherwise could. It also provides financing that enables people to do more with their ideas and talents than would otherwise be possible. The people’s savings are matched with the best ideas and talents in the economy. Stated formally, the Securities Market provides a linkage between the savings and the investment across the entities, time and space. It mobilises savings and channelises them through securities into preferred enterprises.

The Securities Market also provides a market place for purchase and sale of securities and thereby ensures transferability of securities, which is the basis for the joint stock enterprise system. The existence of the Securities Market makes it possible to satisfy simultaneously the needs of the enterprises for capital and the need of investors for liquidity.

The liquidity the market confers and the yield promised or anticipated on security ownership may be sufficiently great to attract net savings of income which would otherwise have been consumed. Net savings may also occur because of other attractive features of security ownership, e.g. the possibility of capital gain or protection of savings against inflation.

The Securities Market allows individuals who can not carry an activity in its entirety within their resources to invest whatever is individually possible and preferred in that activity carried on by an enterprise. Conversely, individuals who can not begin an enterprise, they can attract enough investment from others to make a start. In both cases individuals who contribute to the investment made in the enterprise share the fruits.

The Securities Market, by allowing an individual to diversify risk among many ventures to offset gains and losses, increases the likelihood of long-term, overall success.

Securities Market and Economic Growth

A well functioning securities market is conducive to sustained economic growth. There have been a number of studies, starting from World Bank and IMF to various scholars, which have established robust relationship not only one way, but also the both ways, between the development in the securities market and the economic growth. The securities market fosters economic growth to the extent that it—(a) augments the quantities of real savings and capital formation from any given level of national income, (b) increases net capital inflow from abroad, (c) raises the productivity of investment by improving allocation of investible funds, and (d) reduces the cost of capital.

It is reasonable to expect savings and capital accumulation and formation to respond favourably to developments in securities market. The provision of even simple securities decouples individual acts of saving from those of investment over both time and space and thus allows savings to occur without the need for a concomitant act of investment. If economic units rely entirely on self-finance, investment is constrained in two ways: by the ability and willingness of any unit to save, and by its ability and willingness to invest. The unequal distribution of entrepreneurial talents and risk taking propensities in any economy means that at one extreme there are some whose investment plans may be frustrated for want of enough savings, while at the other end, there are those who do not need to consume all their incomes but who are too inert to save or too cautious to invest the surplus productively. For the economy as a whole, productive investment may thus fall short of its potential level. In these circumstances, the securities market provides a bridge between ultimate savers and ultimate investors and creates the opportunity to put the savings of the cautious at the disposal of the enterprising, thus promising to raise the total level of investment and hence of growth. The indivisibility or lumpiness of many potentially profitable but large investments reinforces this argument. These are commonly beyond the financing capacity of any single economic unit but may be supported if the investor can gather and combine the savings of many. Moreover, the availability of yield bearing securities makes present consumption more expensive relative to future consumption and, therefore, people might be induced to consume less today. The composition of savings may also change with fewer saving being held in the form of idle money or unproductive durable assets, simply because more divisible and liquid assets are available.

International Linkage

The securities market facilitates the internationalisation of an economy by linking it with the rest of the world. This linkage assists through the inflow of capital in the form of portfolio investment. Moreover, a strong domestic stock market performance forms the basis for well performing domestic corporate to raise capital in the international market. This implies that the domestic economy is opened up to international competitive pressures, which help to raise efficiency. It is also very likely that existence of a domestic securities market will deter capital outflow by providing attractive investment opportunities within domestic economy.

Concept And Need Of Securities Management And Compliances

The functions, operation and management of a company are governed by various Acts, Rules and Regulations. The Companies Act, 1956 is one of the major legislations dealing with various activities of a company, and it has to be complied with even before the company comes into existence. Every company needs funds for the smooth functioning of its business, to expand its business, diversify its business etc. The company has to issue various types of securities to meet its requirement of funds. The issuance of any kind of security is again subject to the compliances of various Acts, Rules, Regulations and Guidelines. Once the securities have come into existence, the transactions in the securities are also governed by various Acts, Rules and Regulations. Not only the issuer of the securities but also the holder of the securities are required to comply with the statutory provisions to transact in the securities of the company.

The concept of Securities Management and Compliances thus signifies and includes in its ambit examination, verification or checking of registers, records, forms, returns and documents relating to securities issued by a company and certification of timely and proper compliance of all statutory provisions related to securities applicable to a company.
Thus Securities Management and Compliances, can provide an umbrella mechanism to ensure better compliances of all the statutory provisions relating to securities by the companies.

The Company Secretary of a company, shall ensure the management of securities issued by the company, timely compliance of relevant provisions of law applicable to the securities so issued and maintain all records and documents relating to securities issued by the company.

Scope of Securities Management and Compliances

The four main legislations governing the securities market are: (a) the SEBI Act, 1992 which establishes SEBI to protect investors and develop and regulate securities market; (b) the Companies Act, 1956, which sets out the code of conduct for the corporate sector in relation to issue, allotment and transfer of securities, and disclosures to be made in public issues; (c) the Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956, which provides for regulation of transactions in securities through control over stock exchanges; and (d) the Depositories Act, 1996 which provides for electronic maintenance and transfer of ownership of demat securities.

Legislations

SEBI Act, 1992: The SEBI Act, 1992 establishes SEBI with statutory powers for (a) protecting the interests of investors in securities, (b) promoting the development of the securities market, and (c) regulating the securities market. Its regulatory jurisdiction extends over corporates in the issuance of capital and transfer of securities, in addition to all intermediaries and persons associated with securities market. It can conduct enquiries, audits and inspection of all concerned and adjudicate offences under the Act. It has powers to register and regulate all market intermediaries and also to penalise them in case of violations of the provisions of the Act, Rules and Regulations made there under. SEBI has full autonomy and authority to regulate and develop an orderly securities market. The details have been covered ahead in the chapter.

Securities Contracts (Regulation) Act, 1956: It provides for direct and indirect control of virtually all aspects of securities trading and the running of stock exchanges and aims to prevent undesirable transactions in securities. It gives central government/SEBI regulatory jurisdiction over (a) stock exchanges through a process of recognition and continued supervision, (b) contracts in securities, and (c) listing of securities on stock exchanges. As a condition of recognition, a stock exchange complies with prescribed conditions of Central Government. Organised trading activity in securities takes place on a specified recognised stock exchange. The stock exchanges determine their own listing regulations which have to conform to the minimum listing criteria set out in the Rules. The details have been discussed in the Chapter on Stock Exchanges.

Depositories Act, 1996: The Depositories Act, 1996 provides for the establishment of depositories in securities with the objective of ensuring free transferability of securities with speed, accuracy and security by (a) making securities of public limited companies freely transferable subject to certain exceptions; (b) dematerialising the securities in the depository mode; and (c) providing for maintenance of ownership records in a book entry form. In order to streamline the settlement process, the Act envisages transfer of ownership of securities electronically by book entry without making the securities move from person to person. The Act has made the securities of all public limited companies freely transferable, restricting the company’s right to use discretion in effecting the transfer of securities, and the transfer deed and other procedural requirements under the Companies Act have been dispensed with. The details have been dealt in the chapter on Depositories.

Companies Act, 1956: It deals with issue, allotment and transfer of securities and various aspects relating to company management. It provides for standard of disclosure in public issues of capital, particularly in the fields of company management and projects, information about other listed companies under the same management, and management perception of risk factors. It also regulates underwriting, the use of premium and discounts on issues, rights and bonus issues, payment of interest and dividends, supply of annual report and other information.

Rules and Regulations

The Government has framed rules under the SCRA, SEBI Act and the Depositories Act. SEBI has framed regulations under the SEBI Act and the Depositories Act for registration and regulation of all market intermediaries, and for prevention of unfair trade practices, insider trading, etc. Under these Acts, Government and SEBI issue notifications, guidelines, and circulars which need to be complied with by market participants.

Regulators

The responsibility for regulating the securities market is shared by Department of Economic Affairs (DEA), Ministry of Corporate Affairs, Reserve Bank of India (RBI) and SEBI. The activities of these agencies are coordinated by a High Level Committee on Capital Markets. The orders of SEBI under the securities laws are appealable before a Securities Appellate Tribunal.

Most of the powers under the SCRA are exercisable by DEA while a few others by SEBI. The powers of the DEA under the SCRA are also con-currently exercised by SEBI. The powers in respect of the contracts for sale and purchase of securities, gold related securities, money market securities and securities derived from these securities and carry forward contracts in debt securities are exercised concurrently by RBI. The SEBI Act and the Depositories Act are mostly administered by SEBI. The powers under the Companies Act relating to issue and transfer of securities and non-payment of dividend are administered by SEBI in case of listed public companies.

Self Regulation

As stated earlier, there are plethora of Acts, Rules, Regulations and Guidelines relating to Securities. Inspite of it, serious securities scams have been committed and there has been an increase in investor grievances and litigations. This lays emphasis on implementation of the laws, not only in letter but also in spirit which helps in achieving the objectives of introducing the statutory provisions. Implementing the statutory provisions is not only the responsibility of the Government but also of the corporate world to ensure the proper compliance of statutory provisions. The corporate world should not treat the compliance as burden on it but should be self-motivated to ensure the compliances of statutory provisions in spirit.

Furthermore, in the era of liberalization and globalization, government has accepted the policy of rule by exception. As a consequence, the concept of certification has been introduced in many areas where relaxation has been made. Various procedural requirements have been simplified and greater confidence in relation to compliance has been posed on the corporate world itself. The concept of self-regulation is touching the new heights. The self-regulation in securities related matters can be achieved with a comprehensive mechanism of Securities Audit. Securities audit ensures self-regulation and compliance of statutory provisions governing securities related matters. Securities audit by experienced and knowledgeable company secretary in practice can ensure the path of professional discipline in the corporate world.

Securities Audit is a mechanism relieving the company and its directors from the consequences of unintended non-compliance by timely corrective actions.

There are several penal provisions in the Companies Act, 1956, Securities and Exchange Board of India Act, 1992, Foreign Exchange Management Act, 1999, Securities Contracts (Regulations) Act, 1956 and other securities related laws. As securities audit ensures the timely and proper compliances of all statutory provisions and early detection of errors and frauds, it provides trustworthy mechanism relieving the company and its directors from the consequences of unintended non-compliances of statutory provisions. Securities audit is also a powerful tool for proper compliance of all obligations and also for investors' protection.

It is also a mechanism for self-regulation by companies and relieves the management, directors and officers in default from the consequences of inadvertent non-compliance of various provisions relating to securities by taking timely corrective actions. It further prevents fraudulent and unfair trade practices and helps to achieve an orderly growth of capital market. It also helps the management in improving the corporate image and helps to attain good corporate governance. Securities Audit Mechanism not only protects the interest of investors but also helps companies in proper compliance and helps regulators in regulating the capital market.

The Securities Audit shall be conducted by a company secretary in practice encompassing compliance of all rules, applicable regulations, guidelines in relation to issue of securities, issue of certificates in relation to all transactions of company's securities, physical verification of relevant records and documents and also entering qualification, if any. The company shall be at the option to either take a comprehensive Securities Audit or a transaction specific audit such as Audit under Public Issue, Takeover Code, Insider Trading Regulations or Buy-back of Securities Regulations.

Securities Management & Compliances As A Risk Management Tool

Compliance demands are going to increase and require a holistic view from the organization and ongoing maintenance of compliance processes, technology and outcomes. Non compliances results in hefty penalty, which may shake the working of the organization itself. For example non compliance of listing agreement may result in a penalty which may extend upto 25 crores. Thus management of compliance risk is an essential process.

Compliance risk is the current and prospective risk to earnings or capital arising from violations of, or nonconformance with, laws, rules, regulations, prescribed practices, internal policies, and procedures, or ethical standards. Compliance risk can lead to diminished reputation, reduced customer value, limited business opportunities, reduced expansion potential, and an inability to enforce contracts.

Securities management & compliances helps in complying with various legislations such as SEBI Act, SCRA, Depositories Act, listing agreement, certain important provisions of Companies Act, SEBI rules, Regulations, Guidelines, Rules and regulations of depositories etc. It has a major contribution to risk management as it is the major aspect of managing compliance risk.
