- (b) SP Silk House had imported certain goods and kept them in warehouse. However, the goods were not removed from the warehouse at the expiration of the statutory time period during which such goods were permitted under section 61 of the Customs Act, 1962 to remain in a warehouse.

The assessee sought to relinquish the title to such goods under the proviso to section 68. However, the department contended that since the goods were deemed to be improperly removed from the warehouse under section 72(1) (b) considering the overstay of such goods in the warehouse, the case would not fall under section 68 and thus proviso to section 68 could not be invoked; and the assessee was liable to pay full amount of duty.

Discuss, in light of a decided case law, if any, whether contention of the department is tenable in law.
