MESSAGE

I congratulate the Institute of Company Secretaries of India (ICSI) for beginning its Amaravati Chapter on 13th January, 2016.

I would also like to thank you for your relentless support in building our Sunrise Andhra Pradesh. With the vision of skill, scale and speed at hand, we need to strive harder to build a better future for ourselves, our society and our country at large.

The essence of the new age company secretary role is one of trusted advisor, communications and liaison officer, and overall governance professional. The role has become multi-faceted and global, with Company Secretaries adding value through commercial solutions designed to protect boards and maximise shareholder engagement.

With the advent of technology, Company Secretaries must focus to enhance their service delivery capabilities and thereby focusing on speed. Company Secretaries will also have to scale up by identifying opportunities in their area of work and simultaneously explore different avenues for growth.

You as Company Secretaries need to be pre-emptive enough to capitalize on the prospects provided under the Competition Law and contribute to lay a strong foundation for a mature culture.

My best wishes to the Amaravati Chapter of ICSI.
