Dear Professional Colleagues,

I am very happy to inform you that Goa Chapter has successfully organized Two days Goa Conclave 2011 on 16th & 17th September, 2011. Majority of the members from Goa attended the programme and participated in the deliberations. I am pleased with the efforts put in by Goa Team and I congratulate them for its success.

MCA has recently implemented all tools for XBRL filing and notified rules and new forms for the same. XBRL process of filing has open up new avenue for company secretaries. WIRC so far arranged several XBRL training programmes for the members and I am sure our members are well trained to do the filing in XBRL mode for applicable companies. Gradually this filing process will be made applicable to all the companies.

I have been invited to make a presentation on Joint Ventures and Foreign Collaborations at Andheri Study Circle of WIRC. Around 120 members attended the study circle in spite of Sunday Morning and mega block. Co-ordinators of the study circle claimed that this was all time high attendance for any session. I am delighted with the activities of study circle and appreciate the efforts put in by Shri Kaushik Jhaveri and Shri Rajkumar Tiwari, co-ordinators for development and betterment of the members.

Kolhapur Chapter has successfully arranged the Regional Students conference on 4th October, 2011. More than 150 students participated and enjoyed the deliberations. On 8th October one more Regional Students Conference was organized by ICSI-WIRC at Goregaon, Mumbai and on 9th October Aurangabad Chapter has arranged such a conference. I compliment all the chapters and organizing teams for their efforts in making these conferences a grand success. With this WIRC has so far completed 11 Chain Conferences and looking forward to have few more before students starts preparing for their exams. Students are very happy and expressed their satisfaction about initiative taken by WIRC to reach to them and making them forum available for interaction. So far around 2,000 students participated in these conferences.

WIRC organizes half day programme on 20th October, 2011 on XBRL jointly with Confederation of Indian Industry (CII) at Sunville Worli, Mumbai. On 22nd October, 2011 Shri Santosh Kumar, Registrar of LLP, MCA will be visiting Mumbai. On this occasion WIRC has organized half day programme on LLP for the benefit of the members at M. C. Ghia Hall, Fort, Mumbai. I appeal all the members and students to participate in these programmes.

WIRC has commenced two simultaneous batches of MSOP for the students at CCGRT campus. We are in process of announcing batches for SIP and EDP training. We target to extend the benefit of these training to maximum number of students. We are also planning to do some campus placements for creating employment and training opportunities for young members and students.

Friends, everyone seeks to explore new possibilities and opportunities in professional life. For achieving this it is important to know our own limitations and need to push our limits and operate outside the boundaries. Always remain aware of where you have come from and where you have reached today.

On the occasion of Diwali, I extend my best wishes to you and your family. May this Diwali bring lot of Joy, Happiness, Health & Wealth for you.

With luminous wishes,

Makarand Lele

1. RESTORATION OF STRUCK OFF BY REGISTRAR COMPANY

Petitioner had purchased a residential site from Respondent No. 1 Company. It was found that land on which those sites were formed had been acquired by City Improvement Trust Board i.e. BDA, and same had not been disclosed by Respondent No. 1 to Petitioner. Letter, BDA demolished construction and petitioner claimed that he was entitled to recover loan due to him by fraudulent act of company and its directors. Respondent No. 1. VELU B. PETHI vs. KAYESS CONSTRUCTIONS (P.) LTD. [2011] 107 SCL 491/11 214 (KAR.)

2. OPPRESSION AND MISMANAGEMENT

Respondents/Applicants were minority shareholders in appellant-company. They had filed application under sections 397 and 398 before CLB alleging wrongful control of company by majority shareholders causing loss to it and being prejudicial and oppressive to its members. Applicants filed an interlocutory application seeking an order of injunction restraining company from selling their shares in a company DPSC. CLB prima facie justified sale of those shares but passed a restraint order upon company forbidding it from utilizing sale proceeds. Order of CLB putting an absolute embargo on company from utilizing major source of its funds from sale of those DPSC shares not only interfered with functioning of company but it tended to throttle its functioning to very substantial extent. Therefore, CLB was to be directed to decide main company petition and till such decision appellant was given liberty to utilize sale proceeds of DPSC shares.

By surrendering possession of assets to provisional liquidator, the secured creditor does not become unsecured creditor, because merely such surrendering of possession does not tantamount to relinquishment of security, without any conscious action on the part of the secured creditor to relinquish his security. VIDYA PRIMLANI vs. I. T. C. LTD. [2011] 100 CLA 564 (CLB)
The Ministry of Corporate Affairs permitted Straight Through Process (STP) for availing name u/s. 20 of the Companies Act, 1956 with a view to expedite the process of incorporation of companies. However, it has been observed that the STP process has not been properly utilized in many instances. The professionals who availed names under STP process, in many cases, have not taken adequate care to ensure that the names availed are as per Section 20 of the Companies Act, 1956 and the guidelines issued thereunder. Therefore, Back Office had to withdraw the names availed under STP due to non-compliance of the said provisions of the Companies Act.

It has been observed that breach of new guidelines has been taking place in the sphere of similar names and generic names. During the last couple of months several names were withdrawn on the above grounds. The guidelines issued u/s. 20 of the Companies Act provides that no person shall avail a name which is generic. The guideline itself gives several examples of generic names. The principle embodied in the guideline is that a name shall be construed as generic if it contains only the activity. For e.g. Cotton Textile Mills Limited is shown as generic name in the guideline as it indicates only the activity. The same would apply to coined words which reflect only activity, such as, Buildcon, Finserve, etc., In such cases, the activity prescribed in the name should be prefixed with the key word. For e.g. the name can be Kolkata Textile Mills Limited, Vikram Buildcon Limited etc., Therefore, it should be ensured that the name availed should have a key word as a prefix to the activity mentioned in the name.

The other major reason for withdrawal of name is availing of closely resembling names. There were instances when stakeholders have availed names which are identical to existing company or closely resembling to the existing company. This problem arises because the applicants/stakeholders do not apply proper key word for verification of similar names in the MCA-21 Portal. If an applicant desirous to avail the name “Lakshmi Mills Limited”, he should apply the following key words while searching for similar names i.e. “Srila”, “Shreela”, “Shrila”, “Srela” etc., with the activity “Mills”. In other words, applicant should generate the search results of similar names using different combination of key words and activity so that search results throw several possible similar names. This exercise needs to be diligently carried out by the applicant/stakeholders so as to avoid availing names which closely resembles to existing names already registered under the Companies Act.

This office has also come across instances where brand names have been availed by applicants, such as, “Essar” etc., which had to be withdrawn by this office. The applicant can visit the website of the Registrar of Trade Marks to ascertain whether the Brand has been registered or application is pending for registration to avoid availing of such names.

The laudable objective of the Ministry is to expedite the process of Incorporation of Companies through STP Process which can be achieved only if the stakeholders/applicants/professionals pay due attention and diligence in complying with all the applicable Rules and Provisions contained in Section 20 of the Companies Act. This would abundantly reward the confidence reposed in the professionals by the MCA.
Basics of Labour laws Compliances for Employer
by CS Sandeep M. Nagarkar [B.Com, FCS, LLM], Pune.

This article is a conversation between Employer and the Company Secretary. Employer would like to understand the compliances under various labour laws applicable to his establishment / factory and Company Secretary gives orientation to him on basic legal compliances under the labour laws.

Mr. E is an employer and Mr. C is a Company Secretary.

E: Good Morning Mr. C.

C: Very good morning.

E: As discussed over the phone, please explain me nature and focus of compliances under labour laws applicable in the State of Maharashtra..

C: Mr. E basically there are two types of labour laws Collective Labour laws and Individual Labour laws. Under Collective Labour laws, we are having laws relating to Employer, Employee and Union, Trade Union, Strikes, Workplace Involvement etc and laws relating to Employer and Employee( Employment Contract ), Minimum Wage, Working Hours, Health, Safety, Unfair dismissal, Child Labour etc covered under Individual Labour laws. The focus of all the labour laws is Health, Safety and welfare of the employees.

E: OK. How many labour laws are there? You please guide me on the applicability of the labour laws.

C: Right Mr. E. The number of labour laws roughly more than 15. Please note that applicability of labour laws is mainly depending upon two factors: 1. Number of employees and 2. Wage / Salary limit. For example, Payment of Gratuity Act is applicable to establishment where 10 or more persons are employed. Every employee who is drawing a salary or wage upto Rs. 10,000/- per month and who has worked for minimum period of 30 days in a year is entitled to bonus under the Payment of Bonus Act.

E: What the basics steps in labour law compliances?

C: Very good question. There are broadly seven steps in labour law compliances.

1. Registrations, Licenses, Consents, Renewals and Intimations.
2. Display of certificates, Notices, Act & Rules
3. Minimum Infrastructure and Security requirements
4. Social security, Employee welfare, Insurance & Compensation
5. Maintenance of Registers & Records
6. Periodic filing of Returns
7. Intimation to Labour Departments

E: Oh Great !!! I know little about PF and ESI. Is there any penalty if for late payments?

C: Late payments under PF, ESI Acts by employer may attract penal actions of fine and imprisonment and levy of damages to the tune of 100% of dues. It is advisable to pay all the legal dues within the time prescribed under various acts. As you are aware, employer has to submit the return within 15 days of close of each month under Provident Fund Act. Similarly, the contribution under ESI is to be paid within 21 days of the last day of calendar month. We can keep one register from which we can find out the dates of submissions of periodical returns, forms etc, monthly, quarterly, half yearly and yearly returns. We can also maintain due date calendar for renewal of licensers, consent, registration etc.

E: Please explain me the benefits or facilities that I should provide to my employees.

C: One should provide all the basic facilities like tools, clothing, transport, uniform, drinking water etc which are essential to carry out the work. However, as per the laws, one has to provide canteen, if 250 or more workers are employed and crèches to be provided if more than 30 female workers are employed. Shelters, rest room, lunch room to be provided if 150 or more workers are employed. Qualified Welfare office to be appointed if 500 or more workers are employed. Similarly, Safety officer to be appointed if 1000 or more workers are employed.

E: Whether I need to display any certificate of registration?

C: Yes. You need to display the registration certificate under Shop & Establishment Act and also notices on working hours, weekly holiday etc. Further, you are also need to display abstracts of various acts like Factories Act, Payment of Gratuity Act, and Maternity Benefit Act etc.
E: What are the registers and returns that I need to maintain?

C: See that all registers under various Acts are properly maintained in the prescribed forms. One can also maintain the register in e-form with the prior permission of Labour Commissioner. It is advisable and preferable to preserve the records like muster-rolls, wage/salary registers, leave register, bonus register, accident register, payment challans etc for at least a period of eight years. You may destroy the records with prior permission of labour authorities.

E: What actions I can take in case of accident and fire in the premises?

C: In case of accidents and fire in the premises inform the Labour authorities and fill in all required forms. To avoid such accidents install fire fighting equipments as required under Factory Act and any other relevant laws. Provide Personal Protective Equipments like goggles, tight clothing, helmet etc to all the concerned workers. Observe strictly the safety rules, keep the cleanliness, install protective guards etc as required under the Acts.

E: Whether I need to take signature of employee on any particular register or return?

C: This point is very important. Do not omit to take signature of the workers in the wages' register. Under the Bonus Act, obtain the signature of the employees in Form C.

E: Similarly which details like nomination etc should be obtained from the employee?

C: Obtain the nomination in the prescribed form under PF and Gratuity Act. It is advisable to obtain other details such as name, father's name, surname, age, present address, permanent address, whether married or not, the name of nominee in case of death etc. and in case of newly appointed whether he is covered under PF/ESI. It is advisable to maintain nomination register of members under the PF and Gratuity so as monitor changes in nomination and to ensure hassle-free payments.

E: Is there any specific or legal procedure to terminate an employee?

C: Yes. Do not terminate the services or dismiss a person without observing the procedure. For example, do not retrench or terminate, if an employee is on ESI Sick leave or maternity leave. The procedure is based on principle of natural justice. The procedure involves: 1) Framing of Charge-sheet, 2) Holding of domestic enquiry according to principles of natural justice, 3) Report of the enquiry officer, 4) Show cause notice, 5) Order of Punishment.

E: What are the penalties under the labour laws?

C: When we view the various provisions of Labour Law especially that of EPF, ESI, Factory Act, Minimum wages, Contract Labour etc one cannot ignore criminal side of the matter where imposition of the punishment of imprisonment or fine or both are prescribed under the labour laws for default or contravention of various sections of the Act and Rules made there under. For example, if the employer fails to make payment of maternity benefit under the Act, he is liable to imprisonment upto one year and fine upto Rs. 5000/-. For the offence of contravening the Act or rules made thereunder, the employer is liable for imprisonment upto six months or fine upto Rs. 1000/- or both.

E: Last question, what the benefits of these labour law compliances?

C: The benefits are as follows

- To Employer: Higher productivity, lower penalty and increased belongingness.
- To Employees: Increased social security, lower absenteeism and congenial atmosphere.
- To Government: Reduction in Industrial disputes.

E: Thanks Mr. C. I got fair idea about the various compliances under labour laws. I need your support in implementation of all the applicable labour laws.

C: Yes Mr. E. I will assure best of my services to you. Thank You.

E: Good bye Mr. C

C: Good bye.

Note: Any views expressed in the article are personal views. Readers shall refer to relevant legislation, rules on the subject and shall not consider this article as a legal opinion/ advice.
