CIRCULAR RESOLUTION

Composed by: Pracheta (ACS -Inter)

The functions of a Company are regulated through the Board of Directors. The members of the Board will meet to discuss various matters relating to the Company, the decision taken in the Board are called as "Resolution".

In certain occasion the member may be unable to meet together to discuss those which matter, are verv imperative. In such occasion a resolution may be passed by circulation of such proposal among the members. It is called as Resolution".

"Circular

Section 289 of the Companies Act, 1956 deals with Circular resolution. It indicates that the following points have to be observed to make the circular resolution effective:

- A draft resolution along with necessary papers (if any), should be sent to all Directors or the members of the Committee who are then present in India and to all other Directors or members of the Committee at their usual addresses in India.
- 2) It should be approved by Directors who are then present in India and it should be approved by majority of such of them as are entitled to vote on the resolution.
- The number of Directors to whom draft resolution 3) is sent should not be less than quorum fixed for the Board Meeting or Committee meeting.

As per Secretarial Standard-1 of The Institute of Company Secretaries of India, a circular resolution can be sent by hand, post, fax, e-mail or any other electronic mode. It shall be deemed to have been passed on the date on which it is signed, dated and approved by all Directors who are then present in India or approved by a majority of Directors entitled to vote on the resolution whichever is earlier.

The Circular resolution is generally, noted at the next Board meeting and recorded in the Minutes of such meeting.

Resolutions that cannot be passed by Circular resolution:

In certain cases, the Board can exercise its powers by passing the resolution in the Board meeting itself. Circular resolution cannot be made on such matters. Some of them are:

- 1. Acceptance or invitation of deposits
- 2. Filling of casual vacancy in the Board
- 3. Make calls on shareholders in respect of money unpaid on their shares
- 4. Issue of debentures and borrowing money otherwise than on debentures
- 5. Making Investment in other companies or giving loan, guarantee, security to other companies
- Appointing a person as Managing Director who 6. is already Managing Director of another company.

As per Secretarial Standard-1 of the Institute of Company Secretaries of India, Annual accounts should be dealt only at the Board meeting. In case of listed company, if there is more than 20% variance between un-audited and audited results, or half-yearly report and the limited review report of auditors, reasons are required to be given to stock exchange. This should be discussed at the Board meeting and cannot be approved by circular resolution.

Hence before wrapping up this article we can say the Circular Resolution is a best tool provided by statute to handle day-to-day administration of the company.

Labour Law Update

The appellant/workman had been transferred to different places, however he kept on applying for leave, as a result he hardly had any accumulated leave. Even the medical leave had been exhausted. Since appellant did not report for duty after expiry of leave, action was taken against him as per a bi partite agreement, arrived at between the management and the workers. He was dismissed from service. Labour Court directed reinstatement of the appellant but without back wages. Workman and the management filed separate writs against the order, which were dismissed. Cross appeals were preferred before the Apex Court.

The Apex Court allowed the Managements appeal, it was observed that action had been taken against the workman only after giving a reasonable opportunity of being heard, as such there was no infirmity in the order.

Export of Services

Composed By: Krishna Jois LLB (ACS inter)

The notification no. 9/2005 (Export of Services Rules) has clarified the definition of Export of service, which shall come into force from 15th March 2005 and the notification no. 10/2005 has withdrawn the exemption on service tax on taxable services for which payments are received in convertible foreign exchange. Earlier taxable services for which payments were received in convertible foreign exchange were fully exempt from service tax (notification no 21/2003).

The Central Government in Budget 2004 empowered itself to make rules for defining export of services, providing exemption from service tax to such exports and rebate of tax paid on input services or duty paid on the inputs used.

Acknowledging that export of services cannot be defined in the same way as export of goods, since services are not tangible, the Government has held that services are treated as exports if a person outside the country ordered them and such services were delivered outside the country. In other words, the recipient of service who is the principal beneficiary of the service should be outside the country.

In case of recipient of service has any commercial or industrial establishment or any office relating thereto, in India, such taxable services provided shall be treated as export of services only if-

 (a) Order for provision of such service is made by any office located outside India;

- (b) Service so ordered is delivered outside India and used in business outside India; and
- (c) Payment for such service provided is received by the service provider in convertible foreign exchange;

Taxable services provided to a recipient and used other than in industry or commerce would be treated as exports only if the recipient is outside India at the time when such services are received.

As per the export of services rules, real estate consultancy, architecture, interior decoration and construction services (provided in relation to an immoveable property) are treated as exports, if the said immoveable property is located outside India. General insurance service provided in relation to an immoveable property located outside India would also be covered under this category.

Services such as air transport of goods and other services, which involve physical performance, are treated as exports if such services are partly or wholly performed outside India.

As per the export of services rules, the rebate on service tax paid on such taxable services would be available (notification no. 11/2005), if services were exported after the payment of service tax. The rebate will also be available on exported service, for which service tax on input services and excise duty thereon were paid (notification no. 12/2005).

Environment Laws

The petitioner, a company, manufacturer of Diesel General Sets, filed a writ petition before the High Court, seeking quashing of a notification amending the Environment (Protection) Second Rules, 2002. By the said notification, the permissible noise limit fixed for Diesel Generator Sets was changed. According to the amendments, noise from diesel generator set must be controlled by providing an acoustic enclosure or by treating acoustically at the manufacturing stage.

The notification was assailed on the ground that, rules are violative of the provisions contained in Articles 14, 19 and 21 of the Constitution of India in so far as they fix standard noise limit of 75 dB(A) for all diesel generator sets up to 1000 KVA irrespective of location for use and capacity

The petition was dismissed with the observations that the state was authorized to make provisions for reducing the noise level at the manufacturing stage itself.
