MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT OF ICSI

CS NARASIMHAN B
PRESIDENT, THE ICSI

" Great things in business are never done by one person. They are done by a team of people "
Steve Jobs

I am happy to learn that Salem Chapter of SIRC of the ICSI is coming out with first edition of its E-newsletter on the occasion of One Day Conference being organised on 29th March, 2024. I convey my sincere appreciation to CS N S Poornima, Chairperson and Members of the Management Committee of Salem Chapter for their continuous efforts towards development of the profession of Company Secretaries in the Southern parts of the country.

In today's rapidly changing world, it is more important than ever to keep pace with the latest advancements and trends.

One of the best ways to do this is by staying updated regularly, a process known as updation. Updation helps individuals to learn new things, stay updated with current affairs, and expand their horizons. It is essential for growth in life both professionally and personally.

E-Newsletter is the best and fastest way to keep our members and students updated with latest changes in the corporate world. This format of communication is not just a vessel to share information but also a strategy designed to keep updated, informed, and connected with the outside world. The efficacy of e-newsletters lies in their ability to deliver content directly to individuals.

MESSAGE FROM PRESIDENT OF ICSI

CS NARASIMHAN B
PRESIDENT, THE ICSI

" Great things in business are never done by one person. They are done by a team of people "
Steve Jobs

I am sure that latest updates and important topics of professional interest would be forming part of this and future editions of e-Newsletter and intended stakeholders shall reap maximum benefit by connecting through this mode of communication.

I once again convey my best wishes to the entire Managing Committee of Salem Chapter for this initiative.

With best wishes,
CS B Narasimhan
President, The ICSI

MESSAGE FROM VICE-PRESIDENT OF ICSI

CS DHANANJAY SHUKLA
VICE-PRESIDENT, THE ICSI

" A team is not a group of people who work together. A team is a group of people who trust each other. "

Simon Sinek

It gives me immense pleasure to note that Salem Chapter of SIRC of the ICSI is releasing its first edition of E-newsletter on 29th March, 2024.

I convey my best wishes to the Members of the Management Committee of Salem Chapter for organising various professional development programmes and to take new initiatives for the development of the profession of Company Secretaries.

Corporate world is advancing at an unprecedented pace, with new developments and innovations happening every day. Whether you're an individual or a business, staying up-to-date on the latest advancements is crucial. It can help you stay competitive, make better decisions, and even identify new opportunities. To ensure future career success, professionals will need to be proactive and adaptable to stay relevant and thrive in their careers.

MESSAGE FROM VICE-PRESIDENT OF ICSI

CS DHANANJAY SHUKLA
VICE-PRESIDENT, THE ICSI

" A team is not a group of people who work together. A team is a group of people who trust each other. "

Simon Sinek

Professionals and leaders alike should embrace a growth mindset, a commitment to upskilling by acquiring or improving technical skills and to update themselves with latest developments in the corporate world.

I am sure that e-Newsletter would play an important role in communicating the activities and latest updates to our members and students.

With best wishes.

With best wishes,

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN SIRC OF ICSI

CS PRADEEP B. KULKARNI
CHAIRMAN
SIRC - ICSI

Dear Esteemed Members and Students,

I would like to extend my heartfelt congratulations to the Salem Chapter for taking the initiative to launch the monthly E-Newsletter, an admirable effort aimed at enriching the experience of both students and esteemed members of our Institute. I commend the entire Managing Committee of the Salem Chapter, led by the capable CS Poornima N S as Chairperson and supported by dedicated members such as CS Saranya G as Vice-Chairperson, CS Harish M as Secretary, CS Akilan B as Treasurer, CS Thulasi Raman T, CS Santhanam N, and CS Asifa J as members of Managing Committee, each contributing their expertise and dedication to the cause. This initiative reflects your collective commitment to fostering knowledge-sharing and community engagement within our Institute.

I am delighted to highlight that the Salem Chapter boasts a remarkable 43% representation of women Company Secretaries, with three out of seven committee members being women, alongside the Chairperson and Vice-Chairperson positions being held by women for the year 2024-25. This stands as a proud testament to the growing presence and leadership of women within our Institute's chapters, showcasing their invaluable contributions not only to the corporate world but also to the leadership and governance of our esteemed institution.

Furthermore, it fills me with pride to note that the release of the newsletter coincides with the month of March, a time when the entire world celebrates International Women's Day on the 8th March every year.

This synchronicity underscores our commitment to acknowledging and honouring the significant role that women play in shaping our societies and institutions.

I am thrilled to provide my message to the very first E-Newsletter being released by Salem Chapter of the SIRC of the ICSI! This monthly publication is designed with many purposes and one of the purposes is to enrich and empower our valued students and members with insightful articles, updates, and resources tailored to the professional growth and development.

The inaugural edition of this E-Newsletter will be launched during March 2024. The release of our E-Newsletter will undoubtedly add to the excitement and value for the Salem Chapter.

In this premier issue, you can expect:

Thought-provoking articles penned by industry experts, covering a range of topics relevant to the field of Company Secretaries.

Updates on upcoming events, workshops, and seminars organized by Salem Chapter, aimed at enhancing your knowledge and skills.

Insights into recent developments in corporate governance, compliance, and regulatory changes affecting the profession.

Success stories and experiences shared by fellow members, offering inspiration and guidance on your professional journey.

MESSAGE FROM CHAIRMAN SIRC OF ICSI

CS PRADEEP B. KULKARNI
CHAIRMAN
SIRC - ICSI

I personally believe that this E-Newsletter will serve as a valuable resource for staying informed, connected, and inspired within our vibrant community of Company Secretaries. Whether you are a seasoned practitioner or a budding professional, there will be something for everyone in each edition.

As Salem Chapter prepare to embark on this exciting new venture, I encourage all our members and students to mark their calendars for the release of E-Newsletter every month. Be sure to join your hands in making this E-Newsletter a source of information and knowledge by providing your articles at regular intervals.

Together, let us embrace this opportunity to learn, grow, and thrive in our profession.

Warm regards,

WOMEN AS PRACTICING PROFESSIONALS

Women in Practice: Professionalism, Challenges and Success

CS ADV. SAVITHA G
PRACTISING CORPORATE LAWYER,
CHENNAI

Women entrepreneurs including women who are professionals face many challenges in their day-to-day business/ professional life. In addition to the challenges that every business face in its normal course, women face additional challenges based on some gender-based stereotypes which every successful women entrepreneur or practicing professional sail through and survive. As a practicing lawyer who started my own practice at the age of 27 and surviving till now, I can relate myself more to the day to the challenges that women face in scaling up their practice / profession.

Legal profession especially practice was always considered as a profession that is not suitable for women. Right from convincing my parents to join law college, till this day, I face challenges to survive in this profession. Completing every single day at work, despite seeing multiple gender-based reasons, excuses , conditions, and representations, itself is a success in my opinion.

After 2020, when I started employing many women in my firm, I realized that I am not alone.

When I started my practice at my later twenties, at least 3 out of 5 people with whom I wanted to have a long-term professional association asked me this question – “Will you be able to continuously support us without taking a break?”

Today, many people including women are made to believe that women often take breaks at work/ profession based on their priorities.

The main challenge that we women as practicing professionals face is building a trust in such a way that it should break the gender-based barriers.

Acceptance and support from the family is the biggest challenge. Even today, people consider that women are designed to do jobs that have fixed work timings and limited scope of work. Legal profession, especially practice will never promise both. Sometimes practicing professionals like us, win the confidence by our words. But many times, we may have to do that only after we establish the confidence by way of living our words.

Many women, even today are raised with a restricted mindset that we are unable to perform few tasks and withstand in few places that are dominated by men. So, both at the time of making their decision to start private practice and at the time of surviving in profession during the initial days, they need to face tough challenges. Things will be tough till we realize that we can also equally perform in the profession breaking all the barriers.

WOMEN AS PRACTICING PROFESSIONALS

Women in Practice: Professionalism, Challenges and Success

CS ADV. SAVITHA G
PRACTISING CORPORATE LAWYER,
CHENNAI

I have noticed two common issues among women who either practice their profession and women entrepreneurs, that influence their decision to choose practice/business.

1) Lack of financial stability, Lack of defined working hours and risks involved in profession are some popular reasons that both men and women face. In addition to this, many women are forced to quit work and have career breaks for planning family and taking care of children. Taking breaks in corporate jobs can also be covered. But if you take a break in practice, that will become very difficult, as one need to start from the scratch. These are the reasons that make women rethink many times before they practice.

2) Considering practice as a "Free time job." I have seen this attitude with some women who choose practice just to cover the left-out time that they have after meeting their other priorities. If one start practice thinking that as an option to do after other priorities, then they may excel as a freelancer but not as a successful practitioner in long run.

I wish to share few things that helped me to successfully shape my law practice are,

1) I took practice as serious as a proper job and dedicated sufficient time at office right from day 1 irrespective of whether I have sufficient work or not. This not only helped me to have a proper routine since the beginning but also helped me to have time for myself to think and explore new avenues to build my practice. Devoting time to work need not be the time you allot to do work. It is dedicating time for work, learning, networking, branding, and everything that you do. Investing time in a proper way helps in healthy growth.

2) I broke the barriers that are still prevailing in the society for women. I devoted sufficient time for networking, meeting new people, socializing etc. In addition to this, I built my personal profile by boldly voicing my opinion by way of writings. Building a personal profile especially by women helps people to gain more trust and gradually it brings more opportunities.

3) Always never hesitated any work just because it demanded more time, travel and tedious. Every new work is a new learning and we need to have confidence that our skills and hard work can make anything possible.

WOMEN AS PRACTICING PROFESSIONALS

Women in Practice: Professionalism, Challenges and Success

CS ADV. SAVITHA G
PRACTISING CORPORATE LAWYER,
CHENNAI

4) Always had my business/ practice at the top of my priority list irrespective everything that happened in my life. Even during times, I had personal setbacks, family commitments and health issues, never decided to quit or disturb my ongoing work at any cost. Top in priority list does not mean placing work at the first place always. It can also be second or third comparing to our life situations. But not more than that for sure. This is a major challenge for many women. But if we can make this, then nothing like it.

5) Having financial goals and financial independence are very important. We need to have our targets and goals set, irrespective of the fact whether we need to contribute to the family or not. Society unfortunately thinks that we women may not have individual financial commitments and sometimes we may be taken for granted. At any cost we women should not compromise on the value of our time and skills.

6) Lastly influencing other women is very important. Not every woman may be aware. Not all women have an access. Some need a starting point and some may need an initial push. Once we fairly perform in practice, it is our duty to influence other women by way of writing our views, sharing our experiences, and collaborating with women who are denied opportunities in greater platform. As a regular practice I do this in 2 ways – 1. By hiring more women at my work place and groom them to break gender-based bias and 2. Influencing more women by way of sharing my experience in social media and telling them that if it is possible for me then it can easily possible for other women.

There is always a disparity between the number of women who pursue professional qualifications and the number of women who enter practice. Similarly, there is also a disparity in number of women who commence practice and continue to successfully survive. Let us work towards breaking these barriers and ensure that practicing platform for professionals become more is gender neutral in future.

Women Empowerment that builds Confidence on their abilities to lead a meaningful and purposeful life. It gives them a distinct Identity and also helps to gain positions of Respects in Society. Empowerment of Women is not only Necessary, it has now become an Imperative. Women Empowerment indicates the ability in Women to take decisions with regards to their life and Work and also giving equal rights to them in all aspects that includes Personal, Financial, Political, Legal and so on.

The way a woman handles and balance her life between their Commitment to their Profession, Passion, Family, Children are inequivalent.

With equal opportunities in work, they are functioning with a spirit of team work to render all possible Co-operation with their male counterparts in meeting the deadlines and targets in their respective professions. A Woman is a multi-Tasker.

Women Empowerment is enhanced not only in Urban areas. In ancient times, Women in rural areas proceeded their life more effectively and efficiently than men in all aspects like raising children, taking care of elderly parents, in-laws and also working in farm lands to increase their family financial status. As we could see many examples as well,

Marie Curie (1867- 1934), who was a physicist and chemist conducted critical research on radioactivity.

Katherine Johnson (1918-2020) who was a Black Mathematician.

Kalpana Chawla (1962- 2003) was the first Indian-Born Woman and second Indian person to fly in space.

Throughout history, Women have faced Systemic barriers and gender discriminations. Despite all these challenges they all played a key role in all areas.

SMT. DROUPADI MURMU

At Present a Well- Known example an Empowered Women, First Citizen of India, Our Honourable President, SMT. DROUPADI MURMU, born in a Santhali tribal family on 20 June, 1958 at Uparbeda village, Mayurbhanj, Odisha, Smt. Murmu's early life was marked by hardships and struggle. On completion of primary education from the village school, she went to Bhubaneswar on her own initiative to continue her studies. She earned the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Ramadevi Women's College, Bhubaneswar and became the first woman from her village to receive college education.

A Women who always have a big Vision with maximum utilisation of all available resources in a productive and creative way in both professional and personal life. A Women cannot empower their abilities unless another Women Supports her, either it could be her mother, Sister or Mother-in-laws.

Encouraging successful Women to serve as role Models and Mentors can inspire younger generations and provide guidance, support to women aiming to achieve their goals. Empowering the Women is not just the right thing to do, it's crucial for making society better and more successful for everyone.

By Identifying and recognising the need of every woman, a women can create and shape their own world with all the betterment of Society. A Woman who identifies their talents and pursue their passion will become an Achiever.

SWAMI VIVEKANANDA ON WOMEN EMPOWERMENT:

Empowering Women in Social and Political Spheres: Swami Vivekananda recognized the unique qualities and perspectives that women bring to society. He encouraged women to actively participate in social and political spheres, advocating for their rights and empowerment. Swami Vivekananda believed that women's active involvement in public life and leadership roles would contribute to social reforms and the overall progress of society. He envisioned a society where men and women work together as equal partners, utilizing their respective strengths for the betterment of the nation.

I conclude my article by saying Empowered Women are not just beneficiaries but they are active drivers of positive change, providing way for a brighter and more equitable future for all.
